Warrant of commitment on an order where disobedience to the order is punishable by imprisonment

HONG KONG. IN THE MAGISTRATE'S COURT AT

To each and all of the police officers of Hong Kong and to the Commissioner of Correctional Services in Hong Kong.

On the day of 19 , complaint was made before the undersigned (or , Esquire), a magistrate of Hong Kong, for that [etc., as in the order]; and afterwards, to wit, on the day of 19 , at , the said parties appeared before me [or as in the order]; and thereupon, having considered the matter of the said complaint, it was ordered that the defendant should [as in the order]; and it was adjudged that if, upon a copy of the minute of that order being duly served on the defendant, either personally or by leaving the same for him at his last or most usual place of abode, he should refuse or neglect to obey the same, in such case the defendant for such his disobedience should be imprisoned in a prison for the space of , unless the said order should be sooner obeyed; and it now having been proved to me that, after the making of the said order, a copy of the minute thereof was duly served on the defendant, but he then refused (or neglected) to obey the same, and has not as yet obeyed the same:

These are, therefore, to command you, the said police officers, to take the defendant and convey him to a prison, and there to deliver him to the Commissioner of Correctional Services, together with this warrant; and you, the said Commissioner, to receive the defendant into your custody in a prison and there to imprison him for the space of ; and for your so doing this shall be your sufficient warrant.

HONG KONG. IN THE MAGISTRATE'S COURT AT

To each and all of the police officers of Hong Kong and to the Commissioner of Correctional Services in Hong Kong.

[Recite the conviction or order and then proceed thus]-

And whereas afterwards, on the _____ day of 19____, a warrant of distress was issued against the defendant in pursuance of the said conviction (or order); and it having been made to appear to me, as well by the return to the said warrant of distress as otherwise, that diligent search for the defendant's goods and chattels has been made, but that no sufficient distress whereon to levy the sum above mentioned could be found:

These are, therefore, to command you, the said police officers, to take the defendant and convey him to a prison, and there to deliver him to the Commissioner of Correctional Services, together with this warrant; and you, the said Commissioner, to receive the defendant into your custody in a prison and there to imprison him, for the space of _____, unless the said sum, and all costs and charges of the said distress, amounting to the further sum of _____, shall be sooner paid; and for your so doing this shall be your sufficient warrant.

[section 105]

Case stated by a magistrate

IN THE COURT OF FIRST INSTANCE OF HONG KONG

APPELLATE JURISDICTION

Between , Appellant, and , Respondent.

This is a case stated by the undersigned, a magistrate of Hong Kong under the Magistrates Ordinance (Chapter 227), for the purpose of appeal to a judge of the Court of First Instance on questions of law which arose before me as hereinafter stated.

1. At the magistrate's court in Hong Kong, at , on the day of 19 , an information (or a complaint) preferred by (hereinafter called the respondent) against (hereinafter called the appellant) [or as the case may be], under section of the [state the enactment] charging, for that he, the appellant [etc., state the offence or cause of complaint], was heard and determined by me, the said parties respectively being then present; and upon such hearing the appellant was duly convicted before me of the said offence, and it was adjudged that he should pay (or and upon such hearing the appellant was by me ordered to pay) to the respondent the sum of [here state the adjudication of fine, sum, or imprisonment and costs, as in a conviction or an order].

(Or, if dismissed: and upon such hearing the said information (or complaint) was dismissed by me,) (and, if so, the appellant was ordered to pay to the respondent of the sum of for his costs incurred by him in his defence in that behalf, conclude as in an order of dismissal).

2. And whereas the appellant, being dissatisfied with my determination upon the hearing of the said information (or complaint) and alleging himself to be aggrieved by such determination as being erroneous in point of law has, pursuant to section 105 of the Magistrates Ordinance, duly applied to me in writing to state and sign a case setting forth the facts and the grounds of such determination as aforesaid, in order that he may appeal therefrom to a judge of the Court of First Instance, and has duly entered into a recognizance as required by the said Ordinance in that behalf.

(Where the case stated has been refused in the first instance-but I, being of opinion that the application of the appellant was merely frivolous, refused to state and sign such case, and at his request signed and delivered to him a certificate of such refusal; and whereas a judge of the High Court has since ordered me to state such case.)

3. Now therefore I, the said magistrate, in compliance with the said application (or in obedience to the said order of a judge of the Court of First Instance) and the provisions of the said Ordinance (if more facts are introduced than proved and by consent of the said parties), do hereby state and sign the following case.

4. Upon the hearing of the information (or complaint) it was proved on the part of the respondent, and found as a fact, that [here state so much of the evidence given and of the facts as are necessary to raise the point of law in question].

5. It was contended on the part of the appellant that [here state the legal objection or objections to the findings on the facts taken by the defendant or his counsel].

6. I, however, being of opinion that [here state the grounds of the decision], held that [here state the decision and judgment].

If it is desired to refer to a portion of the evidence by consent, insert the following paragraph-

7. The questions of law arising on the above statement for the opinion of this court therefore are, 1st whether, etc., 2nd whether, etc.
