

LAW OF THE REPUBLIC OF INDONESIA
NUMBER 28 OF 2014
ON COPYRIGHTS

BY THE BLESSINGS OF ALMIGHTY GOD

PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF INDONESIA,

- Considering :
- a. that copyright is an intellectual property in the fields of scientific, artistic and literary works that has a strategic role in supporting the development of the nation and promoting general welfare as mandated by the 1945 Constitution of the Republic of Indonesia;
 - b. that the development of scientific, technological, artistic, and literary works has been so rapid that it is necessary to have stronger protection and guarantee legal certainty of Authors, Copyright holders, and Related Rights owners;
 - c. that Indonesia has become a member of various copyright and related right treaties requiring further implementation in the framework of national legal system to enable national authors and creators to compete internationally;
 - d. that Law Number 19 of 2002 on Copyrights is unduly compatible with the legal developments and public needs requiring its change with a new Law;

- e. that based on the considerations as referred to in point a, point b, point c, and point d, it is necessary to make a Law on Copyrights.

Observing : Article 5 section (1), Article 20, Article 28 C section (1), and Article 33 of the 1945 Constitution of the Republic of Indonesia;

of the Republic of Indonesia

DIRECTOR GENERAL OF LEGISLATION,

WIDODO EKATJAHJANA

OF
LAW OF THE REPUBLIC OF INDONESIA
NUMBER 28 OF 2014
ON

I. GENERAL

Copyright is part of intellectual property that has the most extensive scope of protected objects, because it includes scientific, artistic and literary works as well as computer programs. The development of creative economy which has become one of the mainstays of Indonesia and other countries and the rapid growth of information and communication technologies requires an update to the Copyright Law, due to the fact that Copyright has become the most important basis for the national creative economy. Under a Copyright Law that fulfills the elements of protection and development of the creative economy it is expected that the contribution of the Copyrights and Related Rights sector for the country's economy can be more optimal.

The progress of information and communication technology has become one of the variables in this Law on Copyrights, considering that information and communication technologies on the one hand have a strategic role for the development of Copyrights; but have also become a tool for violations against law in this field. Thus, proportional regulation is indispensable, in order to optimize positive functions and minimize the negative impacts.

The step taken by the House of Representatives of the Republic of Indonesia and the Government to change Law Number 19 of 2002 on Copyrights with this Law is an earnest effort by the State to protect the Economic rights and moral rights of Authors and Related Rights owners as an important element in the development of national creativity. The denial of economic rights and moral rights can erode the motivation of Authors and Related Rights owners to be creative. Such loss of motivation will lead to a wide impact of the collapse of the macro creativity of the Indonesian nation. Reflecting on developed countries, one can see that adequate protection of Copyrights has successfully led to a significant growth of the creative economy and provided a real contribution to the economy and welfare of the people.

By taking into account the considerations that it is necessary to change the Copyright Law with a new one, which broadly regulates:

- a. Copyright protections exercised with a longer period in line with the practice in various countries so that the period of Copyright protection in certain fields endures for life of the Author plus 70 (seventy) years after the Author's death.
- b. Better protection of the economic rights of Authors and/or Related Rights owners, including limiting the transfer of economic rights in the form of sold flat (sold flat).
- c. Effective dispute resolution through mediation, arbitration or the courts, as well as the application of a complaint offense for criminal prosecution.
- d. Managers of trading premises who are responsible for the sales venue and/or violations of Copyright and/or Related Rights in the shopping centers that they manage.
- e. Copyrights as a movable intangible objects that may be used as an object collateral of fiducia.
- f. The Minister who is authorized to remove a Work that has been recorded, if the Work violates religious norms, norms of morality, public order, defense and security of the State, as well as provisions of laws and regulations.
- g. Authors, Copyright Holders, Related Rights owners who become members of Collective Management Organization in order to be able to draw remuneration or Royalties.
- h. Authors and/or Related Rights owners who receive Royalties for Works or Related Rights products produced in service relations and used commercially.

- i. Collective Management Organizations that serve to collect and manage the economic rights of Authors and Related Rights owners are required to apply for an operating permit to the Minister.
- j. Use of Copyright and Related Rights in multimedia facilities to respond the developments of information and communication technology.

At the international level, Indonesia has participated as a member of the Agreement Establishing the World Trade Organization that includes Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights, hereinafter referred to as TRIPS, through Law Number 7 of 1994.

In addition, Indonesia has ratified the Berne Convention for the Protection of Artistic and Literary Works through Presidential Decree Number 18 of 1997 and the World Intellectual Property Organization Copyright Treaty, hereinafter referred to as WCT, through Presidential Decree Number 19 of 1997, as well as the World Intellectual Property Organization Performances and Phonograms Treaty, hereinafter referred to as WPPT, through Presidential Decree Number 74 of 2004.

The replacement of Law Number 19 of 2002 on Copyrights with this Law was made to prioritize national interests and the balance between the interests of Authors, Copyright Holders, or Related Rights owners, and the public as well as in consideration of provisions in treaties in the field of Copyrights and Related Rights.
