Brief description of the notified legal text
Section 57 of the Copyright and Related Rights Act 2000 (No. 28 of 2000) provides for limited copyright exceptions, which allow free reprographic copying by educational establishments in certain circumstances. However, this exception does not apply where there is a licensing scheme (certified by the Minister under Section 173) in operation. Section 173 provides for the certification of a licensing scheme for the purposes of Section 57 where the Minister is satisfied that the licensing body in charge of the scheme is representative of a substantial number of rights holders in the category of works to which the scheme is designed to apply, and the scheme sets out clearly the charges payable and the other terms and conditions on which licences are to be granted. Through this Order, the Minister for Enterprise, Trade and Employment has certified the licensing scheme operated by the Irish Copyright Licensing Agency Limited, with effect from 13 January 2003. The Schedule to the Order contains details of the licensing scheme.
