CHAPTER I GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1 (Purpose)

The purpose of this Act is to maintain orderly trade by preventing acts of unfair competition such as improper use of domestically well-known trademarks and trade names, and by preventing infringement of trade secrets.

Article 2 (Definitions)

The terms used in this Act shall be defined as follows:

1. The term "Acts of unfair competition" means any of the following acts:
 - (a) An act of causing confusion with another person's goods by using signs identical or similar to another person's name, trade name, trademark, container or package of goods or any other sign widely known in the Republic of Korea as an indication of goods, or by selling, distributing, importing or exporting goods with such signs;
 - (b) An act of causing confusion with another person's commercial facilities or activities by using signs identical or similar to another person's name, trade name, emblem or any other sign widely known in the Republic of Korea as an indication of commerce;
 - (c) In addition to the act of causing confusion provided in item (a) or (b), an act of doing damage to distinctiveness or reputation attached to another person's sign by using the sign identical or similar to another person's name, trade name, trademark, container or package of goods; or any other sign widely known in the Republic of Korea as an indication of goods or commerce, or by selling, distributing, importing or exporting goods with such signs, without due cause as prescribed by Presidential Decree for instance noncommercial use;
 - (d) An act of causing confusion about the source of origin by falsely marking the source of origin on goods or in an advertisement, on the trade documents communicated to the public or in communications, or by selling, distributing, importing or exporting goods falsely marked with the source of origin;
 - (e) An act of making a mark on goods, advertisements, trade documents communicated to the public or in communications, or selling, distributing, importing or exporting goods marked with a mark that would mislead the public into believing that the place of production, manufacture or processing is different from the actual place of production, manufacture or processing;

- (f) An act of falsely assuming another person's goods, or an act of advertizing any goods or making a mark in any manner of leading the public to misunderstand their quality, content, manufacturing process, usage, or quantity, in latter goods or advertisement thereof, or selling, distributing, importing or exporting goods using such method or mark;
- (g) An act of using a trademark, without due cause, on goods identical or similar to the designated goods of the trademark, or an act of selling, distributing, exporting, or importing goods with such trademark by an agent or a representative of the owner of the trademark that is identical or similar to a trademark registered in any of the following countries or by a person who was an agent or a representative within one year before such act was conducted:
 - (i) Any party to the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property (hereinafter referred to as the "Paris Convention");
 - (ii) Any member state of the World Trade Organization;
 - (iii) Any signatory state of the Trademark Law Treaty;
- (h) An act of registering, holding, transferring or using a domain name identical or similar to another person's name, tradename, trademark, or other mark, which is widely recognized in the Republic of Korea, by an unlawful holder for any of the following purposes:
 - (i) The purpose of selling or renting a mark, including a trademark, to an lawful holder or a third party;
 - (ii) The purpose of preventing a lawful holder from registering or using a domain name;
 - (iii) Other purpose of obtaining any commercial profits;
- (i) An act of transferring, renting, exhibiting, importing or exporting goods whose shape has been copied (referring to the form, image, color, gloss or any combination of these, including the shape of any test product and the shape in goods brochure; hereinafter the same shall apply) from the goods manufactured by any other person: Provided, That either of the following acts shall be excluded herefrom:

(i) An act of transferring, renting, exhibiting, importing or exporting goods whose shape has been manufactured by counterfeiting the shape of the other goods for which three years elapse from the date on which the shape of the other goods, including when the prototype was produced, was completed;

(ii) An act of transferring, renting, exhibiting, importing or exporting goods whose shape has been manufactured by counterfeiting the common shape of goods that are identical to the goods manufactured by any other person (where the goods of the same kind are nonexistent, referring to other goods whose function or utility is identical or similar to the relevant goods);

2. The term "trade secret" means information, including a production method, sale method, useful technical or business information for business activity, that is not known publicly, is the subject of considerable effort to maintain its secrecy and has independent economic value;

3. The term "Infringement of trade secrets" means any of the following:

(a) Acquiring trade secrets by theft, deception, coercion or other improper means (hereinafter referred to as "act of improper acquisition"), or subsequently using or disclosing the improperly (including informing any specific person of the trade secret while under a duty to maintain secrecy; hereinafter the same shall apply);

(b) Acquiring trade secrets or using or disclosing them with the knowledge that an act of improper acquisition of the trade secrets has occurred or when the lack of such knowledge was caused by gross negligence;

(c) After trade secrets have been acquired, using or disclosing them with knowledge that an act of improper acquisition of the trade secrets has occurred or when the lack of such knowledge was caused by gross negligence;

- (d) Using or disclosing trade secrets to obtain improper benefits or to damage the owner of the trade secrets while under a contractual or other duty to maintain secrecy of the trade secrets;
 - (e) Acquiring trade secrets, or using or disclosing them with the knowledge that the trade secrets have been disclosed in the manner provided in item (d) or when gross negligence was the cause of the disclosure or the lack of such knowledge;
 - (f) After acquiring trade secrets, using or disclosing them with the knowledge that they had been disclosed in a manner provided in item (d), or when gross negligence was the cause of the disclosure or the lack of such knowledge;
4. The term "domain name" means a number, a letter, or a sign, or any combination of these, which falls under an Internet address composed of numbers.

CHAPTER III PROTECTION OF TRADE SECRETS

Article 10 (Injunction against Infringement of Trade Secrets, etc.)

- (1) A person who possesses trade secrets may seek a court prohibition or preventive order against a person who infringes or is likely to infringe trade secrets, if the business interest of the person who possesses the trade secrets is damaged or is likely to be damaged by the infringement.
- (2) If a person who possesses trade secrets files a claim under paragraph (1) of this Article, the person may request the destruction of goods used in the infringement, the removal of facilities used in the infringement or any other measures necessary to prohibit or prevent the infringement.

[This Article Wholly Amended by Act No. 8767, Dec. 21, 2007]

Article 11 (Liability for Damages for Infringement on Trade Secrets)

A person who damages the business interest of a person who possesses trade secrets through an intentional or negligent infringement of trade secrets shall be liable for compensation for such damages.

[This Article Wholly Amended by Act No. 8767, Dec. 21, 2007]

Article 12 (Restoration of Reputation of Person Possessing Trade Secrets)

For a person who damages the business reputation of a person possessing trade secrets through an intentional or negligent infringement of trade secrets, the person possessing the trade secrets may request the court for necessary measures to restore the business reputation in lieu of or in addition to compensation for damages under Article 11.

[This Article Wholly Amended by Act No. 8767, Dec. 21, 2007]

Article 13 (Special Cases on Bona Fide Persons)

- (1) The provisions of Articles 10 through 12 shall not apply to an act by a person who has properly acquired trade secrets through a transaction or uses or discloses the trade secrets within the scope of the rights the person has properly acquired through the transaction.
- (2) "A person who has properly acquired trade secrets" in paragraph (1) means a person who has obtained trade secret without the knowledge and without gross negligence that the trade secrets were improperly disclosed or that an act of improper acquisition or of improper disclosure of the trade secrets occurred when acquired under subparagraph 3 (c) or (f) of Article 2.

[This Article Wholly Amended by Act No. 8767, Dec. 21, 2007]

Article 14 (Prescription)

When an infringement of trade secrets continues, the right to request the prohibition or prevention of the infringement of trade secrets under Article 10 (1) expires unless the right is exercised within three years of the date of actual knowledge that the business interest of the person possessing the trade secrets was damaged or threatened to be damaged by an infringing person and of the actual knowledge of the infringing person's identity. The same shall also apply where ten years have elapsed after the date on which the act of infringement first occurred.

CHAPTER IV SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS

Article 14-2 (Presumption, etc. on the Amount of Damages)

- (1) Where a person whose business interests have been infringed by an act of unfair competition, a violence as referred to in Article 3-2 (1) or (2) or infringement of trade secrets claims compensation for damages under Article 5 or 11, and where the person who has infringed the business interests transfers the goods causing the act of unfair competition, violence as referred to in Article 3-2 (1) or (2) or infringement of trade secrets, the amount obtained by multiplying the transferred amount in subparagraph 1 by the presumed profit per unit in subparagraph 2, may be set as damages for the person whose business interest has been infringed. In such cases, the compensation may not exceed an amount calculated by multiplying the estimated profit per unit by the number of articles that the person whose business interest has been infringed could have produced subtracted by the number of units actually sold: Provided, That where a person whose business interest has been infringed was unable to sell the product for reasons other than the act of unfair competition, violence referred to in Article 3-2 (1) or (2), or infringement of trade secrets, a sum calculated according to the number of articles subject to the reasons shall be deducted: <Amended by Act No. 10810, Jun. 30, 2011>

1. The amount of goods transferred;
 2. Profit per unit quantity of the goods which a person whose business interest has been infringed would have been able to sell, if there had been no such act of unfair competition, violence as referred to in Article 3-2 (1) or (2) or infringement of trade secrets.
- (2) Where a person whose business interests have been infringed by an act of unfair competition, violence as referred to in Article 3-2 (1) or (2) or infringement of trade secrets claims compensation for damages under Article 5 or 11, the profits gained by the infringer through the infringement, if any, are presumed to be the amount of damages suffered by the person whose business interests have been infringed. <Amended by Act No. 10810, Jun. 30, 2011>
- (3) Where a person whose business interests have been infringed by an act of unfair competition, violence as referred to in Article 3-2 (1) or (2) or infringement of trade secrets claims compensation for damages under Article 5 or 11, he/she may claim as damages the amount of money that the person would normally be entitled to receive for using a mark applied to goods if the mark was the object of an act of unfair competition or a violence referred to in Article 3-2 (1) or (2), or for using trade secrets that were the object of the infringement. <Amended by Act No. 10810, Jun. 30, 2011>
- (4) Where the amount of actual damages caused by an act of unfair competition, violence as referred to in Article 3-2 (1) or (2) or infringement of trade secrets exceeds the amount under paragraph (3), the excess amount may also be claimed as compensation for damages. In such cases, when awarding damages, the court may consider whether the person who has infringed the business interest was willful or grossly negligent. <Amended by Act No. 10810, Jun. 30, 2011>
- (5) Where the court recognizes the difficulty of proving the amount of damage that has occurred in litigation related to an act of unfair competition, violence referred to in Article 3-2 (1) or (2) or infringement of trade secrets owing to the nature of the case, the court may determine a reasonable amount after examining the evidence and reviewing all the arguments of damage on the basis of the entire tenor of oral proceedings and the results of evidence investigations, notwithstanding paragraphs (1) through (4). <Amended by Act No. 10810, Jun. 30, 2011>

[This Article Wholly Amended by Act No. 8767, Dec. 21, 2007]

Article 14-3 (Submission of Materials)

In litigation related to the infringement of business interests through an act of unfair competition, violation as referred to in Article 3-2 (1) or (2) or infringement of trade secrets, the court may, upon the request of either party, order the other party to submit materials necessary for the assessment of damages caused by the infringement: Provided, That the same shall not apply where the holder of such materials has a justifiable reason for the refusal of the submission thereof.

[This Article Wholly Amended by Act No. 8767, Dec. 21, 2007]

Article 15 (Relation to other Acts)

(1) If any provision of the Patent Act, the Utility Model Act, the Design Protection Act, the Trademark Act, the Agricultural Products Quality Control Act, or the Quality Control of Fishery Products Act is inconsistent with the provisions of Articles 2 through 6 and 18 (3) of this Act, such provisions of the relevant Acts shall preferentially apply. <Amended by Act No. 10810, Jun. 30, 2011>

(2) If any provision concerning the national flag or emblem referred to in the Monopoly Regulation and Fair Trade Act, the Act on Fair Indication and Advertisement, or the Criminal Act is inconsistent with the provisions of subparagraph 1 (d) through (f) of Article 2 and Articles 3 through 6 and 18 (3) of this Act, such provisions of the relevant Acts shall preferentially apply.
