(2) Where it is required that a fee be paid within a given period of time and the due date falls on a Sunday, a public holiday or a non-working day, the following working day shall be deemed the due date.

(3) In addition to the fees referred to in paragraph (1), above, the Office may, as necessary, institute, amend and levy any fees relating to full or part copies and publications with respect to the various industrial property titles issued by the Office.

(4) The fees referred to in paragraphs (1) to (3), above, shall be payable to the Office.

(2) In order to exercise the functions of industrial property agent or representative, industrial property consultants or other natural or legal persons capable of exercising those functions shall be required to submit a request for approval by the Office and entry in a special register. The conditions for approval of industrial property agents or representatives shall be laid down by an order issued by the Minister responsible for industry.

6. If the filing of an application for an industrial property title or any operation concerning such application or such title is carried out by an agent or representative, powers set out in due form and in accordance with the prescribed form shall be submitted to the Office.

(c) surname and forename or business name, together with the full address, nationality and place of residence of the applicant. Where the applicant is not himself the inventor, the application shall state how his right to obtain a patent or inventor's certificate has been acquired; the Office may require from him proof of his right to obtain such patent or such certificate;

(d) the surname and forename, together with the full address, place of residence and nationality of the inventor;

(e) where appropriate, the surnames and forenames or the business name, together with the full address, of the agent or representative;

(f) where appropriate, the claim or claims to priority;

(g) number, filing date and date of issue of the main patent if the application seeks to protect an improvement in the form of a certificate of addition;

(h) symbol or symbols of the International Patent Classification; the Office may amend the symbols given by the applicant;

(i) identification of the fees paid;

(j) list of the documents transmitted;

(k) applicant's signature.

12. The application shall be accompanied by:

(a) a description of the invention, with the claim or claims, where appropriate, the drawing or drawings referred to in the description and an abstract of the invention intended for publication in accordance with Articles 16 to 28 of this Decree;

(b) where appropriate, the declaration of priority drawn up in accordance with the form prescribed in Annex II, together with other priority documents, under the conditions and within the time limits laid down in Article 22 of the Ordinance;

(c) the voucher evidencing payment of the prescribed fees and enabling a receipt to be drawn up and to be authenticated by the Office in accordance with Article 23(2) of the Ordinance.

13.—(1) The Office shall establish as the filing date the date on which the application is received on condition that the filing fee has been paid at the time of receipt and that the application:

(a) is drawn up in accordance with the prescribed form and contains the elements referred to in Article 11 of this Decree;

(b) is written in Malagasy or in the French language;

(c) comprises at least one copy of the description, of the claim or claims and of any drawings to which the description or the claims refer.

Such copy shall be accompanied by a receipt evidencing payment of the fees and bearing the authenticating stamp of the Office;

(3) Where the Office requires a translation of an application filed in Malagasy into the French language or of an application filed in French into the Malagasy language, the applicant shall continue to enjoy the filing date referred to in paragraph (2), above, if the translation is submitted to the Office within a period of two months as from the date of the request. If that time limit is not complied with, the effective filing date shall be that on which the translation is received.

(4) Notwithstanding paragraph (3), above, and subject to the provisions set out in Article 22 of the Ordinance, where the conditions laid down in paragraph (1) of this Article are not met, the Office shall invite the applicant to regularize his application within a period of two months in the case of applications made on the national territory and of four months in the case of applications originally made abroad, as from notification, with a view to allocating a filing date.

(5) If the time limits referred to in paragraph (4), above, are satisfied by the applicant, the filing date shall be the date on which the application has been effectively regularized.

(6) If the applicant has not complied with the invitation by the Office within the time limits referred to in paragraph (4), above, the application shall be declared inadmissible.

(7) Notwithstanding paragraph (3), above, where the application refers to drawings and such drawings are not included in the application, the Office shall invite the applicant to submit the missing drawings within the time limits referred to in paragraph (4), above; if the applicant complies with such invitation, the Office shall allocate as filing date the date on which the drawings are received; failing that, the Office shall allocate as filing date the date on which the application was received and shall treat any reference to such drawings as inadmissible.

(8) Where the Office ascertains that one or more of the conditions set out in Articles 11 and 12 of this Decree have not been satisfied, it shall invite the applicant to regularize his application within the time limits set out in paragraph (4) of this Article.

(9) If the applicant does not comply with such invitation, the application shall be declared inadmissible by the Office.

14.—(1) Where the filing is made in person, the filing date shall be the date of receipt by the Office.

15.—(1) The application and any declarations or documents accompanying the application shall be filed in three copies; the Office may request the applicant to provide additional copies.

(2) All elements contained in the application shall be presented in a manner enabling them to be reproduced by the Office.

Section II The Description

16.—(1) The description shall comprise:

(a) the title of the invention as given in the application;

(b) reference to the technical field to which the invention relates;

(c) reference to the background art, known to the applicant, which may be considered useful for understanding, searching and examining the invention; the documents that reflect the background art shall be cited wherever possible;

(d) a disclosure of the invention as claimed enabling the technical problem and its solution to be understood; where appropriate, the advantageous effects of the invention with reference to the background art shall be stated;

(e) a brief description of the drawings, if any;

(f) a description of the best way envisaged and known to the applicant for carrying out the invention; the description should normally comprise examples and references to the drawings if any;

(g) a description of the way in which the invention is capable of application in industry, if such application is not obvious from the description or the nature of the invention.

(2) The description shall be presented in the manner and order set out in paragraph (1), above, unless the nature of the invention does not admit of a more understandable and more economic presentation.

17.—(1) Where the understanding of the invention requires the use of the customary units of measure, such units shall be expressed in the following manner:

(a) the units of the metric system shall be given in decimal units;

(b) temperature shall be expressed in degrees Celsius or centigrade;

(c) density shall be reduced to the specific weight;

(d) the values for heat, energy, light, sound, magnetism as also mathematical formulae and electrical units shall comply with the rules generally admitted in international practice;

(e) for chemical formulae, the symbols for elements, atomic weights and molecular formulae in general use shall be employed;

(f) use shall be made alone of the terms, signs and technical symbols generally accepted in the field in question and the terminology and the signs used in the patent application shall be consistent.

(2) Where non-customary units of measure are used they shall be accompanied by a definition or a bibliographic reference.

18. The description may not comprise:

(a) drawings within the text or in the margin, with the exception of developed graphical, chemical or mathematical formulae;

(b) alterations or overwriting;

(c) non-initialled margin references or crossed out words;

(d) pages which do not bear the signature of the applicant or his agent.

19.—(1) The text of the description shall be typewritten or printed on one side only of A4-sized paper (29.7 cm x 21 cm) which shall not be folded.

(2) The pages of the text shall comprise a left-hand margin of between 3 and 4 cm.

(3) The other margins shall be of 2 cm.

(4) A space equivalent to 1.5 lines shall be left between lines of the text of the description; these lines shall be numbered in fives at the beginning of the line.

(5) Writing shall be indelible and of black color.

(6) All sheets shall be numbered in arabic numerals.

(7) All text shall be drawn up in characters in which the capital letters are at least 0.21 cm high.

Section III The Claims

20. The content of the claims shall determine the scope of protection afforded by the patent or the inventor's certificate; however, the description and the drawings shall serve, where appropriate, to interpret the claims.

21. The following rules shall be adopted for the presentation of the claims:

(a) the claims shall be drafted in terms of the technical features of the invention;

(b) they shall be drafted as clearly and concisely as possible on one side of A4-sized paper and shall be entirely supported by the description, in accordance with Article 18(2) of the Ordinance;

(c) they shall be ordered in a systematic, clear and logical manner and shall be numbered continuously in arabic numerals. Where there is only one claim, it shall be designated "sole claim";

(d) they shall not, as a general rule, contain either references to the description or the drawings or, in particular, terms such as, for example, "as described in part ... of the description" or "as illustrated in figure ... of the drawings";

(e) the reference signs referring, in the drawings, to the technical features of the invention shall be included, in brackets, in the claims, if the intelligibility of the claims is thereby increased. They shall not have the effect of limiting the claims.

22. Wherever appropriate, the claims shall contain:

(a) a preamble giving the designation of the subject matter of the invention and the technical features that are necessary for the definition of the claimed elements, but which, in combination, are part of the background art;

(b) a characterizing portion—preceded by the words “characterized in that,” “characterized by,” “wherein the improvement comprises,” or any other words to the same effect, stating concisely the technical features which, in combination with the features stated under item (a), above, it is wished to protect.

23.—(1) Any claim which includes all the features of one or more other claims (claims in dependent form, hereinafter referred to as “dependent claims”) shall do so by a reference, if possible at the beginning, to the other claim or claims and shall then state the additional features claimed. Any dependent claim which refers to more than one other claim (“multiple dependent claim”) shall refer to such claims in the alternative only. Multiple dependent claims shall not serve as a basis for any other multiple dependent claim.

(2) Any dependent claim shall be construed as including all the limitations contained in the claim to which it refers or, if the dependent claim is a multiple dependent claim, all the limitations contained in the particular claim in relation to which it is considered.

(3) All dependent claims referring back to a single previous claim, and all dependent claims referring back to several previous claims, shall be grouped together to the extent and in the most practical way possible.

24. The following may be included in one and the same application within the meaning of Article 21(3) of the Ordinance:

(a) an independent claim for one or more products, an independent claim for the process or processes devised specifically for manufacturing such product or products and an independent claim for applications of such product or products;

(b) an independent claim for one or more processes, an independent claim for means specifically devised for carrying out such process or processes and an independent claim for the product or products resulting from the carrying out of such processes.

Section IV The Drawings

25. In application of Article 19 of the Ordinance, the following rules shall be complied with for drawings:

(1) the original drawing shall be executed on white, smooth and non-shiny A4-sized paper (29.7 cm x 21 cm) and any duplicates shall be reproduced on white paper;

(2) the drawings shall be executed within a useful surface area that is bounded, without drawing frames, by margins of between 3 and 4 cm on all four edges of the sheet, adopting the technique of line drawing executed in indelible dark strokes without colorings, without scratching out or overwriting;

(3) cross sections shall be indicated by hatching which should not prevent the reading of the reference signs and the leading lines;

(4) the scale of the drawings and their graphical execution shall be such that a photographic reproduction enables all details to be distinguished without difficulty. If the scale is given on a drawing, it shall be represented graphically;

(5) the numbers, letters and reference signs appearing on the drawings shall be simple and clear; brackets, circles or inverted commas shall not be used in association with numbers and letters;

(6) the reference signs used in the drawings shall correspond to those used in the description or the claims;

(7) where there is more than one figure for the understanding of the invention, those figures must be clearly separated one from the other by a 1 cm space and numbered independently of the sheet numbering;

(8) where a figure comprises a number of detached parts, those parts shall be joined by a brace;

(9) each page of drawings shall be signed and dated by the applicant after the phrase “certified in compliance with the invention.”

26.—(1) The drawings shall not contain text matter, except, when absolutely indispensable, a single word or words such as “water,” “steam,” “open,” “closed,” “section on AB” and, in the case of electric circuits and block schematic or flowsheet diagrams, a few short catchwords indispensable for understanding.

(2) Each word used shall be placed in such a way that if translated, its translation may be glued over it without covering any line of the drawings.

Section V The Abstract

27. The abstract constitutes a concise summary of the technical content of the invention. It shall identify the technical field to which the invention belongs and shall enable ready understanding of the problem raised, the gist of the technical solution provided by the invention and the principle uses of the invention. It may, where appropriate, state the chemical formula which, among those contained in the application, best characterizes the invention.

28.—(1) The abstract serves exclusively for the purposes of technical information and publication.

(2) The abstract shall be as concise as disclosure permits and, preferably, shall not exceed 20 lines.

(3) It shall be accompanied, where appropriate, by the most significant of the drawings supplied by the applicant.

(4) It shall not constitute a patent document and may not, therefore, be taken into account to claim the rights deriving from the patent.

Section VI Unity of Invention

29.—(1) The Office shall examine whether the application concerns only one invention pursuant to Article 21(1) of the Ordinance.

(2) If the application contains more than one invention, the Office shall invite the applicant, pursuant to Article 21(2) of the Ordinance, by written notification, to divide his application into as many applications as there are separate inventions, within the time limits set out in Article 13(4) of this Decree.

(3) If, on expiry of those time limits, the applicant has not replied satisfactorily to the notifications from the Office, the application shall be deemed inadmissible.

30. Up to the date of issue of a patent or an inventor's certificate, the applicant may, on his own initiative, file applications that divide up his initial application, on payment of the fee laid down in Annex I.

31. Where an application is divided up in accordance with Articles 29 and 30 of this Decree, each divisional application shall comply with the requirements of Articles 11 and 12 of this Decree.

Section VII Claim to Priority

32. The declaration of priority shall state, in addition to the information required by Article 22(1)(i) of the Ordinance, the following particulars:

(a) if the earlier filing is a regional international application, the name of the State or States for which it has been filed;

(b) if the earlier application is a national application, the Office with which it has been filed.

33. Where the priority of several earlier applications is claimed, the particulars of such earlier applications may be given in a single declaration.

34. If the formalities relating to the priority claim have not been satisfied in the prescribed manner and within the prescribed time limits, the claim to priority shall be deemed inadmissible.

Section VIII Disclosure for the Purposes of the State of the Art

35.—(1) An applicant who does not wish account to be taken, for the purposes of the state of the art, of a disclosure of the invention referred to in Article 5(2) and (3) of the Ordinance shall make a relevant statement in the application and shall supply in writing, either with the application or within a period of two months as from filing of the application, all the information relating to such disclosure.

(2) Where disclosure has been made at an officially recognized exhibition within the meaning of Article 5(2) of the Ordinance, the applicant shall supply within the above-mentioned two-month period a duly authenticated certificate issued by the authority responsible for the exhibition and containing information on that exhibition and stating that the invention has effectively been shown there.

Section IX Correction and Withdrawal of Application

36.—(1) If an applicant amends his application prior to issue of a patent or an inventor's certificate, his request for amendment shall be submitted in writing, duly signed by the applicant himself or his agent or representative, and shall comprise the text of the amendments together with proof of payment of the prescribed fee given in Annex I.

(2) The amendments shall not go beyond the description of the invention as filed.

37.—(1) The application for a patent or inventor's certificate may be withdrawn at any time, prior to the date of issue, by means of a written declaration.

(2) The request shall be formulated by the applicant or by his agent or representative. In the latter cases, special powers of withdrawal shall be annexed to the declaration.

(3) If the application for a patent or inventor's certificate has been filed in the name of several legal or natural persons, it may only be withdrawn if requested by all such persons.

(4) If property rights, possessory liens or license rights have been entered in the national patent or inventor's certificate registers, the declaration shall be admissible only if accompanied by the written consent of the holders of such rights.

(5) In all cases of withdrawal of an application, a copy of such application shall be kept by the Office.

(6) The filing fee shall not be refunded in the event of withdrawal of an application.

Chapter II

Examination, Registration and Publication of Patent or Inventor's Certificate

Section I

Administrative Examination

38.—(1) The examination carried out by the Office in accordance with Article 24 of the Ordinance consists in checking that the provisions of Article 2(1) and of Articles 11, 12, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 21, 22, 26, 29, 32, 35 and 36 of this Decree have been complied with by the person or the persons filing an application.

(2) If one or more of those provisions have not been complied with, the Office shall invite the applicant to correct his application within the time limits laid down in Article 13(4) of this Decree and against payment of the fees laid down in Annex I.

(3) If the applicant does not comply with the invitation within the prescribed time limits, the application shall be declared inadmissible, subject to the provisions of Article 34 of this Decree.

Section II

(2)(a) In the case of Malagasy applications for patents or inventors' certificates, the state of the art search report referred to in Article 25(1) of the Ordinance shall be supplied by the applicant.

(b) The search report shall:

- (i) either be replaced by an international-type search in accordance with Article 51 of the Ordinance;
- (ii) or be drawn up by an authority other than the Office;
- (iii) or be replaced by a search report drawn up in respect of an application for a patent or a certificate relating to the same invention.

Section III

40.—(1) In the case of international applications, the Office shall carry out a patentability examination in accordance with Article 25(1) to (3) of the Ordinance, subject to a preliminary international examination having been carried out under Article 33 of the PCT.

(2) For other applications, the patentability examination in accordance with Article 25(1) to (3) of the Ordinance shall be initially limited to checking the compliance of the application with the provisions of Articles 8 and 18 of that Ordinance.

Section IV
Issue and Registration of Patent or Inventor's Certificate
