EH 52 Income when refund given on death, and election to allocate amount to later year or years

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) the trustee does not make an election under section EH 51; and
 - (b) the trustee chooses to allocate some or all of the amount that is in the person's adverse event income equalisation account on the date of the person's death to an accounting year or years after that date.

Accounting year or years for purposes of subsection (1)(b)

- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1)(b), the accounting year or years must be within the earlier of—
 - (a) the 3 years after the date of the person's death; and
 - (b) the 5 years after the end of the accounting year for which a deposit or a part of a deposit was made, if the amount that the trustee allocates to a later year or years includes the deposit or part of it.

Amount allocated remains in account

- (3) An amount allocated by the trustee to a later accounting year remains in the person's adverse event income equalisation account until it is refunded to the trustee in the accounting year to which it is allocated.

Different year of income

- (4) An amount allocated by the trustee to a later accounting year is income, under section CB 27 (Income equalisation schemes), derived by the person in the corresponding income year.

How election made

- (5) A trustee makes an election under this section by a notice that—
- (a) specifies—
 - (i) each amount allocated to a later accounting year; and
 - (ii) the accounting year to which each amount is allocated; and
 - (b) is given to the Commissioner within 1 of the following times:
 - (i) the time within which the trustee is required to file a return of the person's income for the period to the date of the person's death:
 - (ii) a further time allowed by the Commissioner in a case or class of cases.

Definitions

EH 61 Meaning of adverse event maximum deposit

Meaning

- (1) Adverse event maximum deposit means the maximum deposit that this section says a person may make to their adverse event income equalisation account for an accounting year.

Maximum deposit

- (2) The maximum deposit a person may make is an amount equal to the net income that the person would have in the tax year corresponding to the accounting year if, because of the self-assessed adverse event,—
- (a) the only income derived by the person in the accounting year were income from their disposing of the livestock; and
 - (b) the only amount for which the person was allowed a deduction in the accounting year were the cost of the livestock disposed of.

Cost of livestock disposed of: matters excluded

- (3) The cost of the livestock disposed of is an amount determined under subsection (4) or (5)—
- (a) without applying any provision allocating income derived or expenditure incurred to an income year other than the income year in which the income was in fact derived or the expenditure was in fact incurred; and
 - (b) applying sections DQ 1 (Main income equalisation scheme), EH 7 to EH 33, and FB 15 to FB 17 (which relate to livestock).

Cost of livestock disposed of: person having livestock of class disposed of at end of previous accounting year

- (4) This subsection applies when, at the end of the accounting year before the accounting year in which the livestock is disposed of, the person had livestock of the class that is disposed of in which the livestock would, if not disposed of, have been included at the end of the accounting year in which it is disposed of. Under this subsection, the cost of livestock disposed of is determined using the previous accounting year's closing value for the class of livestock in which the livestock disposed of would have been included.

Cost of livestock disposed of: other cases

- (5) This subsection applies when subsection (4) does not. Under this subsection, the cost of livestock disposed of is calculated using the formula—

$$\frac{((\text{number at start} \times \text{value}) + (\text{number bought} \times \text{price}))}{\div (\text{number at start} + \text{number bought})}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (6) In the formula,—
- (a) number at start is the number of livestock of the class disposed of that the person has at the start of the accounting year in which the livestock is disposed of;
 - (b) number bought is the number of livestock of the class disposed of that the person acquires in the accounting year in which the livestock is disposed of, before the disposal;
 - (c) price is the average purchase price of the number bought;
 - (d) value is the opening value of the number at the start, determined without applying section EC 16(2) (Valuation under herd scheme).

Defined in this Act: accounting year, adverse event income equalisation account, adverse event maximum deposit, amount, corresponding income year, deduction, deposit, income, net income, person, self-assessed adverse event, tax year

Deposits and accounts

EH 64 Thinning operations deposit

Deposit for thinning operations

- (1) A person may make a payment to the Commissioner for entry in their thinning operations income equalisation account for an accounting year in which they derive income from carrying out thinning operations.

Upper limit of deposit

- (2) A person must not make, for an accounting year, deposits that in total are more than their thinning operations maximum deposit for the accounting year.

Lower limit of deposit

- (3) A person must not make, for an accounting year, a deposit that is less than the lesser of—
- (a) $200; and
 - (b) the difference between the total of all the deposits the person has previously made for the accounting year and their thinning operations maximum deposit for the accounting year.

Time of making deposit

- (4) A person makes a deposit for an accounting year by—
- (a) making the deposit during the accounting year; or
 - (b) doing both the following:
 - (i) making the deposit during the specified period for the accounting year; and
 - (ii) at the time of making it, giving the Commissioner notice that the deposit is for the accounting year; or
 - (c) doing both the following:
 - (i) making the deposit within a time that is after the end of the specified period for the accounting year but that is allowed by the Commissioner in a case or class of cases; and
 - (ii) at the time of making it, giving the Commissioner notice that the deposit is for the accounting year.

Limit on making deposit

- (5) If a refund has been made to a person for an accounting year under section EH 71 or EH 73, the person may later make a deposit for the accounting year only if the Commissioner is satisfied, before the deposit is made, that all the refund has been used to expand or develop the person's business.

Defined in this Act: accounting year, business, Commissioner, deposit, income, notice, pay, person, specified period, thinning operations, thinning operations deposit, thinning operations income equalisation account, thinning operations maximum deposit

Inflation-indexed instrumentsEI 2 Interest from inflation-indexed instrumentsWhen this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when—
- an amount of money lent is outstanding at the end of the lender's current income year; and
 - an amount is payable to the lender for the money lent, in a future income year of the lender; and

- (c) the amount payable is determined by a fixed relationship to 1 or more indices of general price inflation in New Zealand; and
- (d) the amount payable that has accrued at the end of the lender's current income year differs from any amount payable that had accrued—
 - (i) at the time the money was lent, if it was lent during the lender's current income year; or
 - (ii) at the end of the lender's previous income year, if it was lent before the lender's current income year.

Increase treated as credited

- (2) If the difference is an increase, the increase is treated as having been credited in account and capitalised by the borrower for the benefit of the lender on—
 - (a) the day following the day on which the level of the relevant index at the end of the lender's current income year becomes public knowledge; or
 - (b) if the level of the relevant index is not calculated for the end of the lender's current income year, the last date before the end of the income year for which the level is calculated.

This subsection is overridden by subsection (3).

Increase not treated as credited

- (3) An increase is not treated as having been credited to the extent to which—
 - (a) the money lent has been repaid;
 - (b) an amount on account of the increase has already been paid to the lender;
 - (c) the increase represents a recovery of a decrease in the amount payable over an earlier income year of the lender.

Defined in this Act: amount, income year, interest, money lent, New Zealand, pay

Intellectual property

EI 3 Assigning or granting copyright

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person—
 - (a) is the author of a literary, dramatic, musical, or artistic work; and
 - (b) made the work over a period of more than 1 year; and
 - (c) receives consideration from—
 - (i) assigning some or all of the copyright in the work; or
 - (ii) granting an interest in the copyright by licence.

Timing of income: lump sum payment

- (2) If some or all of the consideration is a lump sum payment that would be income in 1 tax year, the person may allocate the income equally between the income year in which they receive it and—
- (a) the income year before that income year, if they made the work over a period of 2 years or less; or
 - (b) the 2 income years before that income year, if they made the work over a period of more than 2 years.

Timing of income: other payments

- (3) If some or all of the consideration is not a lump sum payment, would be income in 1 tax year, and is received by the person within 2 years after the first publication of the work, the person may allocate the income equally between the income year in which they receive it and the previous income year.

Self-publication

- (4) Subsection (3) applies to income that the person derives from being the publisher of their work.

Application

- (5) The following provisions apply to an allocation for the purposes of subsections (2) and (3):
- (a) for an allocation under subsection (2), the person must apply to the Commissioner no later than 6 years after the end of the income year in which they receive the payment; and
 - (b) for an allocation under subsection (3), the person must apply to the Commissioner no later than 8 years after the first publication of the work.

Some definitions

- (6) In this section,—

author includes a joint author

Land

EI 4B Consideration for agreement to grant, renew, extend, or transfer leasehold estate or licence

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person, in an income year, derives an amount that is income under section CC 1B (Consideration for agreement to grant, renew, extend, or transfer leasehold estate or licence), or incurs an amount of expenditure that is allowed as a deduction under section DB 20B (Consideration for agreement to grant, renew, extend, or transfer leasehold estate or licence), and the amount is incurred or derived—
 - (a) in relation to a right (the land right) that is a leasehold estate or a licence to use land; and
 - (b) in relation to a period (the spreading period)—
 - (i) beginning with the commencement, or a renewal or extension, of the land right; and
 - (ii) ending before the earliest following date on which the land right may be terminated, or may expire, if not extended or renewed.

Exception for amount of income under section CC 1 or CG 8

- (2) This section does not apply to an amount that is income under section CC 1 or CG 8 (which relate to income from land or capital contributions).

Timing of income and deductions for land right with spreading period

- (3) If the amount is incurred or derived—
 - (a) before the end of the spreading period, the amount is allocated in equal portions to each month that—
 - (i) includes part of the spreading period; and
 - (ii) ends after the amount is incurred or derived; and

- (iii) is included in an income year ending within 50 years from the beginning of the spreading period; and
- (b) at or after the end of the spreading period, the amount is allocated to the income year in which it is incurred or derived.

Effect for income of person ceasing to have estate in land

- (4) If an amount of income would be allocated to a spreading period of a land right under subsection (3) for a person in the absence of this subsection, the amount is allocated to an income year (the balance year) ending before the end of the spreading period, if—
- (a) at the beginning of the balance year, the person holds the land right, or the estate in land from which the land right is granted; and
 - (b) in the balance year, the person ceases to hold the land right, or the estate in land from which the land right is granted; and
 - (c) the amount would be allocated under subsection (3) to an income year—
 - (i) ending before, or including, the end of the spreading period; and
 - (ii) after the balance year.

Effect for deduction of person ceasing to have leasehold estate or licence

- (5) If an amount of a deduction would be allocated to a spreading period of a land right under subsection (3) for a person (the affected person) in the absence of this subsection, the amount is allocated to an income year (the balance year) ending before the end of the spreading period, if—
- (a) at the beginning of the balance year, either or both of the land right and the estate in land from which the land right is granted are held by the affected person or a person associated with the affected person; and
 - (b) at the end of the balance year, neither of the land right and the estate in land from which the land right is granted are held by the affected person or a person associated with the affected person; and
 - (c) the amount would be allocated under subsection (3) to an income year—
 - (i) ending before, or including, the end of the spreading period; and
 - (ii) after the balance year.

Effect for deduction of early termination of leasehold estate or licence

- (5B) If an amount of a deduction would be allocated to a spreading period of a land right under subsection (3) for a person (the affected person) in the absence of this subsection, the amount is allocated to an income year (the balance year) ending before the end of the spreading period, if—
- (a) the affected person holds the estate in land from which the land right is granted; and
 - (b) the land right is surrendered or terminated in the balance year.

Relationship between subsections

- (6) Subsections (4), (5), and (5B) override subsection (3).

Defined in this Act: amount, associated, deduction, estate, income, income year, land, leasehold estate, own

Timing of income: if election made

- (2) The lessor may choose to allocate the income between the income year in which they receive the amount and any 1 or more of the following 4 income years.

Timing of income: if election not made

- (3) Any part of the amount that the lessor does not allocate as described in subsection (2) is allocated to the fourth income year following the income year in which they receive the amount.

Notice

- (4) The following provisions apply to an allocation for the purposes of subsection (2):
- (a) the lessor must give a notice to the Commissioner that specifies how the income has been allocated; and
 - (b) the lessor must give the notice within the time required to file a return of income for the income year to which the income is allocated or within a longer time if the Commissioner agrees; and
 - (c) the lessor must not revoke the election.

Relationship with sections CC 2 and EI 6

- (5) This section overrides section CC 2(2) and is overridden by section EI 6.

Defined in this Act: amount, Commissioner, income, income year, notice, return of income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EI 4

EI 6 Amount paid for non-compliance: when lessor ceases to own land*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a lessor—
- (a) allocates income under section EI 5 to more than 1 income year; and
 - (b) ceases to own the land to which the income relates before the end of the third tax year following the tax year in which they receive the income.

Timing of income

- (2) If the lessor has not allocated a part of the income, the part is allocated to the income year in which the lessor ceases to own the land.

Ownership of part of land ceasing

- (3) If the lessor ceases to own part of the land to which the income relates,—
- (a) this section applies to the part of the land that the lessor ceases to own; and
 - (b) section EI 5 applies to the part of the land that the lessor continues to own.

Defined in this Act: amount, income, income year, own, tax year

EI 7 Leases: income derived in anticipation*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a person derives, in a tax year, income in anticipation from fines, premiums, a payment of goodwill on the grant of a lease, or in another similar way.

Timing of income

- (2) The person may choose to—
- (a) divide the income into 6 equal portions; and
 - (b) allocate a portion to the income year in which they derive the amount; and
 - (c) similarly allocate a portion to each of the next 5 income years.

Notice

- (3) The following provisions apply to an allocation for the purposes of subsection (2):
- (a) the person must notify the Commissioner of their election:

- (b) the person must give the notice in the tax year following the tax year to which the income year of derivation corresponds:
- (c) the Commissioner may cancel the allocation at any time.

Cancellation of allocation

- (4) If the Commissioner cancels the allocation, the income allocated to the income year in which the cancellation occurs and to future income years is allocated to the income year before the income year in which the cancellation occurs.

Transitional provision: 2015–16 and later income years

- (5) Despite subsection (2), when a person has derived an amount of income to which this section applies before the 2015–16 income year, and all or part of that amount remains unallocated at the start of that income year, the person must—
 - (a) if the period of 5 income years after the income year of derivation has expired by the start of the 2015–16 income year, allocate the remaining amount to the 2015–16 income year; or
 - (b) if the period of 5 income years after the income year of derivation has not expired before the start of the 2015–16 income year, divide the remaining amount into equal portions based on the number of income years left in the period, and allocate a portion to each of those income years falling after the end of the 2014–15 income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, Commissioner, income, income year, lease, notice, pay, tax year

Section EI 7(2): replaced, on 1 April 2015 (applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), by section 71(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EI 7(3)(a): amended, on 1 April 2015 (applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), by section 71(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EI 7(5) heading: inserted, on 1 April 2015 (applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), by section 71(3) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EI 7(5): inserted, on 1 April 2015 (applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), by section 71(3) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EI 7 list of defined terms amount: inserted, on 1 April 2015 (applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), by section 71(4) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

EI 8 Disposal of land to the Crown

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person derives income from disposing of any of their land to the Crown.

Timing of income

- (2) The person may choose to—
- (a) divide the income into 4 equal portions; and
 - (b) allocate a portion to the income year in which they derive the amount; and
 - (c) similarly allocate a portion to each of the next 3 income years.

Timing of deduction

- (3) If the person allocates income to 2 or more income years, they must allocate part of any deduction allowed for the cost of the land to the same income years. The part must bear the same proportion to the total deduction as the allocated income bears to the total amount of income.

Application

- (4) The following provisions apply to an allocation for the purposes of subsection (2):
- (a) the person, or another person for them, must apply to the Commissioner:
 - (b) the application must be made within 1 year after the end of the tax year in which the person derives the income or within a longer time if the Commissioner agrees:
 - (c) the person must arrange to meet all income tax liabilities relating to the income:
 - (d) the Commissioner may cancel the allocation at any time.

Cancellation of allocation

- (5) If the Commissioner cancels the allocation,—
- (a) the whole of the income or deduction, as applicable, is allocated to the income year before the income year in which the cancellation occurs:
 - (b) the cancellation does not affect income or a deduction that has been allocated to an earlier income year.

Transitional provision: 2015–16 and later income years

- (6) Despite subsection (2), when a person has derived an amount of income to which this section applies before the 2015–16 income year, and all or part of that amount remains unallocated at the start of that income year, the person must—
- (a) if the period of 3 income years after the income year of derivation has expired before the start of the 2015–16 income year, allocate the remaining amount to the 2015–16 income year; or
 - (b) if the period of 3 income years after the income year of derivation has not expired before the start of the 2015–16 income year, divide the remaining amount into equal portions based on the number of income

years left in the period, and allocate a portion to each of those income years falling after the end of the 2014–15 income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, apply, Commissioner, deduction, income, income tax liability, income year, tax year, year

Section EI 8(2): replaced, on 1 April 2015 (applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), by section 72(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EI 8(4)(a): replaced, on 2 June 2016, by section 28(1) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

Section EI 8(6) heading: inserted, on 1 April 2015 (applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), by section 72(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EI 8(6): inserted, on 1 April 2015 (applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), by section 72(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EI 8 list of defined terms apply: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 28(2) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

Shareholder-employees

EI 9 Matching rule for employment income of shareholder-employee

Matching if company allowed deduction

- (1) If a company is allowed a deduction for expenditure on employment income that is paid or is payable to a shareholder-employee under section CE 1 (Amounts derived in connection with employment), the income is allocated in the way set out in subsections (2) and (3).

Allocation to deduction year unless unexpired

- (2) The income is allocated to the income year to which the deduction allowed to the company is allocated, except for an amount equal to any unexpired portion for the income year of the company's expenditure under section EA 4 (Deferred payment of employment income).

Allocation when no longer treated as unexpired

- (3) The remaining income is allocated to the income year or years in which the corresponding amount of the company's expenditure on the income is no longer treated as an unexpired portion.

Farming and forestry

EJ 1 Spreading backward of deductions for costs of timber

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person derives income under section CB 24 (Disposal of timber or right to take timber) or CB 25 (Disposal of land with standing timber).

Timing of deduction

- (2) The person must allocate every amount allowed as a deduction for a cost of timber to the income years to which the income is allocated under section EI 1 (Spreading backward of income from timber), and in the same proportions as it is allocated.

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EJ 1

EJ 2 Spreading forward of deductions for repairs to fishing boats

When this section applies: generally

- (1) This section applies when a person who carries on a fishing business in New Zealand is allowed a deduction for expenditure incurred in making repairs or alterations required by Part 19 or 21 of the Maritime Rules made under the Maritime Transport Act 1994 to the equipment, hull, or machinery of a fishing boat used wholly for the purposes of the business.

When subsection (3) applies

- (2) Subsection (3) applies when the person does not cease to carry on the business before the end of the fourth tax year following the tax year in which the expenditure is incurred.

Business not ceasing within 4 years

- (3) The person may do 1 of the following to the total amount of expenditure allowed as a deduction:
- (a) deduct it in the income year in which the expenditure is incurred; or
 - (b) allocate it to any 1 of the 4 income years following the income year in which the expenditure is incurred, and deduct it in that income year; or
 - (c) allocate parts of it over some or all of the 4 income years following the income year in which the expenditure is incurred, and deduct each part allocated in the income year to which it is allocated; or
 - (d) deduct it, or any part of it that has not already been deducted, in the fourth income year following the income year in which the expenditure is incurred.

When subsection (5) applies

- (4) Subsection (5) applies when the person ceases to carry on the business before the end of the fourth tax year following the tax year in which the expenditure is incurred.

Business ceasing within 4 years

- (5) The person may do 1 of the following to the total amount of expenditure allowed as a deduction:
- (a) deduct it, or any part of it that has not already been deducted, in the income year in which the person ceases to carry on the business; or
 - (b) allocate it, or any part of it that has not already been deducted, equally to the income year in which it is incurred and the following income years in which the person continues to carry on the business.

Some definitions

- (6) In this section,—

fishing boat—

- (a) means a boat registered as a fishing vessel under section 103 of the Fisheries Act 1996; and
- (b) includes a small boat belonging to any boat that is so registered fishing business means a business of catching or taking fish, including crustaceans and shellfish, for the purposes of sale or exchange.

Defined in this Act: amount, business, deduction, fishing boat, fishing business, income year, New Zealand, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EJ 2

Section EJ 2(1): amended (with effect on 1 April 2014), on 30 March 2017, by section 68 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section EJ 2(1): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 2 November 2012 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 39(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

Section EJ 2(6) fishing boat paragraph (a): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 2 November 2012 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 39(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

Section EJ 2(6) fishing business: amended (with effect on 1 April 2015 and applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 242(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EJ 3 Spreading forward of fertiliser expenditure

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a person carries on a farming or agricultural business on land in New Zealand; and
 - (b) the person incurs expenditure in acquiring fertiliser or lime or applying fertiliser or lime to some or all of the land; and
 - (c) the expenditure is expenditure for which the person is allowed a deduction.

Timing of deduction: if election made

- (2) The person may choose to allocate the expenditure by allocating some or all of it, in the proportions they choose, to any 1 or more of the 4 income years following the income year in which they incur the expenditure.

Timing of deduction: if election not made

- (3) The person is allowed a deduction in the fourth income year following the income year in which they incur the expenditure for any part of the expenditure—
 - (a) for which they do not claim a deduction in the income year in which they incur the expenditure; or
 - (b) that they do not allocate under subsection (2).

Timing of deduction: business ceasing within 4 years

- (4) If the person ceases to carry on the business before the end of the fourth income year following the income year in which they incurred the expenditure, they must choose 1 of the following ways to deal with any part of the expenditure that has not so far been deducted:
 - (a) the part is to be deducted in the income year in which the person ceases to carry on the business; or
 - (b) the part is to be allocated equally to the income year in which they incurred the expenditure and the following income years in which the person carried on the business.

Notice

- (5) The following provisions apply to an allocation for the purposes of subsections (2) and (4):
- (a) for subsection (2), the person must give the Commissioner notice of the allocation within the time within which the person is required to file a return of income for the income year to which they allocated the expenditure:
 - (b) for subsection (4), the person must give the Commissioner notice of the allocation within the time within which the person is required to file a return of income for the income year in which the person ceases to carry on the business:
 - (c) for subsection (2) or (4), the Commissioner may allow a longer time in any case or class of cases:
 - (d) for subsection (2), the person must not revoke the allocation.

Personal representative

- (6) An election under subsection (4) may be made by a deceased's personal representative.

Defined in this Act: business, Commissioner, deduction, income year, New Zealand, notice, return of income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EJ 3

Section EJ 3(1)(b): amended (with effect on 1 April 2015 and applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 242(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

FilmsEJ 4 Expenditure incurred in acquiring film rights in feature filmsFeature films*

- (1) A deduction for expenditure that a person incurs in acquiring a film right is allocated under this section if the film is a feature film and—
- (a) the deduction is allowed under section DS 1 (Acquiring film rights):
 - (b) the deduction is allowed under section DS 2 (Film production expenditure) and the film is one for which a large budget film grant is made.

Timing of deduction: retention of film right

- (2) If the person has the film right at the end of an income year, the deduction that is allocated to the income year is the lesser of—
- (a) the greater of—
 - (i) an apportioned amount of the deduction, calculated for the income year under subsection (3); and
 - (ii) the amount of film income derived in the income year; and

(b) the remaining deduction.

Calculation of apportioned amount

- (3) The apportioned amount is calculated for the income year using the formula—(completed months ÷ non-completed months) × deduction.

Definition of items in formula

- (4) In the formula,—
- (a) completed months is the number of months in the income year, including a part of a month, for which the film is completed:
- (b) non-completed months is 24, reduced by the number of complete months in the period that—
- (i) starts on the first day of the month in which the film is completed; and
- (ii) ends on the last day of the income year before the income year referred to in subsection (2):
- (c) deduction is the remaining deduction.

Timing of deduction: disposal of film right

- (5) If the person disposes of the film right during an income year, and does not have a film right in the film at the end of the income year, the remaining deduction is allocated to the income year.

Meaning of remaining deduction

- (6) In this section, remaining deduction means, for an income year, the amount of the deduction for expenditure incurred before the end of the income year that has not been allocated to an earlier income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, completed, deduction, feature film, film, film income, film right, income year, large budget film grant, remaining deduction

Section EJ 4 list of defined terms large budget film grant: inserted (with effect on 1 January 2010), on 7 September 2010, by section 32(2)(b) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

EJ 5 Expenditure incurred in acquiring film rights in films other than feature films*Films other than feature films*

- (1) A deduction for expenditure that a person incurs in acquiring a film right is allocated under this section if the film is not a feature film and—
- (a) the deduction is allowed under section DS 1 (Acquiring film rights):
 - (b) the deduction is allowed under section DS 2 (Film production expenditure) and the film is one for which a large budget film grant is made.

Timing of deduction: retention of film right

- (2) If the person has the film right at the end of an income year,—
- (a) the deduction that is allocated to the income year in which the film right is acquired or the film is completed, whichever is later, is—
 - (i) 50% of the deduction; or
 - (ii) if the film income derived in the income year is more than 50% of the deduction, the lesser of the amount of film income and the total amount of the deduction; and
 - (b) the deduction that is allocated to the next income year is the remaining deduction.

Timing of deduction: disposal of film right

- (3) If the person disposes of the film right during an income year, and does not have a film right in the film at the end of the income year, the remaining deduction is allocated to the income year.

Meaning of remaining deduction

- (4) In this section, remaining deduction means, for an income year, the amount of the deduction that has not been allocated to an earlier income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, completed, deduction, feature film, film, film income, film right, income year, large budget film grant, remaining deduction

Section EJ 5 list of defined terms large budget film grant: inserted (with effect on 1 January 2010), on 7 September 2010, by section 33(2)(b) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

EJ 6 Certification of New Zealand films

Certification of New Zealand films

- (1) The New Zealand Film Commission may certify that a film is a New Zealand film, if the Commission is satisfied that the film has, or will on completion have, a significant New Zealand content, as determined under section 18 of the New Zealand Film Commission Act 1978.

Final and provisional certificates

- (2) The certificate issued by the New Zealand Film Commission must be—
 - (a) a provisional certificate, if the film is not completed:
 - (b) a final certificate, if the film is completed.

Applications for certification of New Zealand films

- (3) An application to the New Zealand Film Commission for a certificate that a film is a New Zealand film must be in writing and must provide the information that the Commission requires.

Notice of certificate to Commissioner

- (4) The New Zealand Film Commission must send a copy of the provisional certificate or the final certificate to the Commissioner immediately after issuing it.

Revocation of certificate

- (5) The New Zealand Film Commission may revoke a provisional certificate or a final certificate if the Commission is satisfied that the certificate should not remain in force, whether because an incorrect statement was made in the provision of information for the purpose of obtaining a certificate or for any other reason.

Effect of revocation

- (6) A revoked certificate is void from the time the certificate was issued.

Notice of revocation to Commissioner

- (7) The New Zealand Film Commission must give notice to the Commissioner immediately after revoking a provisional certificate or a final certificate.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, completed, film, New Zealand, notice

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EJ 6

EJ 7 Film production expenditure for New Zealand films having no large budget film grant

New Zealand films

- (1) A deduction under section DS 2 (Film production expenditure) for film production expenditure is allocated under this section if—
 - (a) the film is not one for which a large budget film grant is made; and
 - (b) the film has a final certificate under section EJ 6.

Timing of deduction: up to completion of film

- (2) A deduction for film production expenditure incurred in or before the income year in which the film is completed is allocated to the income year in which the film is completed.

Timing of deduction: after completion of film

- (3) A deduction for film production expenditure incurred after the film is completed is allocated to the income year in which it is incurred.

Defined in this Act: completed, deduction, film, film production expenditure, income year, large budget film grant, New Zealand

Section EJ 7(1)(a): amended (with effect on 1 January 2010), on 7 September 2010, by section 34(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

Section EJ 7 list of defined terms government screen production payment: repealed (with effect on 1 January 2010), on 7 September 2010, by section 34(3)(a) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

Section EJ 7 list of defined terms large budget film grant: inserted (with effect on 1 January 2010), on 7 September 2010, by section 34(3)(b) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

EJ 8 Film production expenditure for other films having no large budget film grant

Films other than New Zealand films

- (1) A deduction under section DS 2 (Film production expenditure) for film production expenditure is allocated under this section if—
- (a) the film is not one for which a large budget film grant is made; and
 - (b) the film does not have a final certificate under section EJ 6.

Timing of deduction: up to completion of film

- (2) If the person has a film right at the end of the income year in which the film is completed, the deduction for film production expenditure incurred in or before the income year is allocated as follows:
- (a) to the income year in which the film is completed,—
 - (i) 50% of the deduction; or

- (ii) if the film income derived in the income year is more than 50% of the deduction, the lesser of the amount of film income and the total amount of the deduction; and

- (b) to the next income year, the remaining deduction.

Timing of deduction: after completion of film

- (3) If the person has a film right in an income year after the film is completed, a deduction for film production expenditure incurred after the film is completed is allocated to the income year in which it is incurred.

Timing of deduction: disposal of film right

- (4) If the person disposes of a film right in the income year in which the film is completed, and does not have a film right in the film at the end of the income year, the remaining deduction is allocated to the income year.

Meaning of remaining deduction

- (5) In this section, remaining deduction means, for an income year, the amount of the deduction for film production expenditure that has not been allocated to an earlier income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, completed, deduction, film, film income, film production expenditure, film right, income year, large budget film grant, New Zealand, remaining deduction

Section EJ 8 heading: substituted, on 1 April 2008, by section 363(1) of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

Section EJ 8 heading: amended (with effect on 1 January 2010), on 7 September 2010, by section 35(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

Section EJ 8 heading: amended, on 1 January 2010, by section 126(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EJ 8(1): substituted, on 1 April 2008, by section 363(2) of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

Section EJ 8(1)(a): substituted, on 1 January 2010, by section 126(2) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EJ 8(1)(a): amended (with effect on 1 January 2010), on 7 September 2010, by section 35(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

Section EJ 8 list of defined terms government screen production payment: repealed (with effect on 1 January 2010), on 7 September 2010, by section 35(3)(a) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

Section EJ 8 list of defined terms large budget film grant: inserted (with effect on 1 January 2010), on 7 September 2010, by section 35(3)(b) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

EJ 9 Avoidance arrangements

The allocation of a deduction under any of sections EJ 4, EJ 5, EJ 7, and EJ 8 may be subject to adjustment under—

- (a) section GB 18 (Arrangements to acquire film rights or incur production expenditure):
- (b) section GB 19 (When film production expenditure payments delayed or contingent).

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss GC 11B, GD 12A, GD 12B

Leases

EJ 10 Personal property lease payments

What this section applies to

- (1) This section applies to a lease that—
 - (a) is of a personal property lease asset; and
 - (b) is not a finance lease; and
 - (c) is not a specified lease.

Payments

- (2) Personal property lease payments are treated as being paid for the term of the lease.

Formula

- (3) The expenditure that the lessee incurs is allocated to income years using the formula—

$$(\text{part of term} \div \text{term of the lease}) \times \text{total of payments.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (4) In the formula,—
 - (a) part of term is the part of the term of the lease that falls within the income year:
 - (b) term of the lease has the meaning given in section YA 1 (Definitions):
 - (c) total of payments is the total amount of the personal property lease payments.

Defined in this Act: finance lease, income year, lease, lessee, pay, personal property lease asset, personal property lease payment, specified lease, term of the lease

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EJ 9

EJ 11 Amount paid by lessee for non-compliance with covenant for repair

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a lessee of land is allowed a deduction under section DB 21 (Amounts paid for non-compliance with covenant for repair).

Timing of deduction

- (2) The lessee may choose to allocate some or all of the amount of the deduction to any 1 or more of the 3 income years before the income year in which the amount is paid or recovered. The lessee may make an allocation only to an income year in which they used the land for deriving income.

Effect of allocation

- (3) If the lessee makes an allocation,—
- (a) they are denied a deduction for the allocated amount in the income year in which the amount of the deduction is paid or recovered; and
 - (b) they are allowed a deduction for the allocated amount in the income year to which it is allocated.

Notice

- (4) The following provisions apply to an allocation for the purposes of subsection (2):
- (a) the lessee makes the election by giving a notice to the Commissioner that specifies how the amount of the deduction has been allocated; and
 - (b) the lessee must give the notice within the time required to file a return of income for the tax year in which the amount was paid or recovered or within a longer time if the Commissioner agrees; and
 - (c) the lessee must not revoke the allocation.

Defined in this Act: amount, Commissioner, deduction, income, income year, lessee, notice, return of income, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EJ 10

Petroleum mining

EJ 12 Petroleum development expenditure: default allocation rule

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies to a petroleum miner's petroleum development expenditure that relates to petroleum mining developments in a permit area and that is incurred on or after 1 April 2008, when section EJ 12B does not apply to the expenditure.

Default allocation rule

- (2) For the purposes of section DT 5(2)(a) (Petroleum development expenditure), a deduction for the petroleum development expenditure is allocated in equal amounts over a period of 7 income years. The period of 7 years starts with the income year in which the expenditure is incurred.

Relationship with other petroleum mining provisions

- (3) Sections EJ 13 to EJ 16 override subsection (2). Sections DT 7, DT 8, DT 10, DT 11, DT 16, and IS 5 (which relate to petroleum miners) override this section.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, income year, permit area, petroleum development expenditure, petroleum miner, petroleum mining development

Section EJ 12: substituted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 127(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EJ 12B Petroleum development expenditure: reserve depletion method*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies to a petroleum miner's petroleum development expenditure that relates to petroleum mining developments in a permit area, when the expenditure is incurred—
- (a) on or after 1 April 2008; and
 - (b) an election to apply this section, described in subsection (2), is made for the permit area.

Choice: first year of commercial production and later years

- (2) An election to apply this section may be made by a petroleum miner for a permit area, in a return of income for an income year, only if that income year is the first one in which petroleum is produced in commercial quantities in the permit area. The election is irrevocable, and applies this section to petroleum development expenditure that relates to petroleum mining developments in the relevant permit area for the income year and later income years.

Reserve depletion method expense allocation rule

- (3) For the purposes of section DT 5(2)(b) (Petroleum development expenditure), the deduction allocated to an income year for the petroleum development expenditure that relates to a petroleum mining development in the relevant permit area is the amount calculated using the following formula, if the amount is positive:

$$\begin{aligned} & (\text{reserve expenditure} - \text{previous expenditure}) \\ & \times \text{reserve depletion for the year} \div \text{probable reserves.} \end{aligned}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (4) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (5) to (8).

Reserve expenditure

- (5) Reserve expenditure is the total petroleum development expenditure that relates to the petroleum mining development for the income year or an earlier income year to which this section applied.

Previous expenditure

- (6) Previous expenditure is the total petroleum development expenditure that relates to the petroleum mining development and that has been allocated to an earlier income year to which this section applied.

Reserve depletion for the year

- (7) Reserve depletion for the year is the amount, expressed in barrels of oil equivalent, of petroleum produced from the petroleum mining development for the income year.

Probable reserves

- (8) Probable reserves is the amount, expressed in barrels of oil equivalent, of the reserves of petroleum for the petroleum mining development that are not yet proven but are estimated, at the beginning of the income year, to have a better than 50% chance of being technically and commercially producible.

Relationship with other petroleum mining provisions

- (9) Sections EJ 13 to EJ 16 override subsection (3). Sections DT 7, DT 8, DT 10, DT 11, DT 16, and IS 5 (which relate to petroleum miners) override this section.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, income year, permit area, petroleum development expenditure, petroleum miner, petroleum mining development

Section EJ 12B: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 127(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EJ 13 Relinquishing petroleum mining permit

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a petroleum miner relinquishes a petroleum permit.

Amount of deduction

- (2) The amount of the deduction that the miner is allowed on relinquishing the permit is the difference between—
- (a) the amount of the deduction allowed under section DT 5 (Petroleum development expenditure) and attributable to—
 - (i) the permit; or
 - (ii) an asset of the kind described in section CT 7(1)(b) or (c) (Meaning of petroleum mining asset) held solely in connection with the permit; and
 - (b) any part of the deduction allocated to earlier income years under section EJ 12(2) or EJ 12B(3).

Timing of deduction

- (3) The deduction is allocated to the income year in which the miner relinquishes the permit.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, income year, petroleum miner, petroleum permit

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EJ 12

Section EJ 13(2)(b): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 128(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EJ 13B Dry well drilled*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) the petroleum miner has petroleum development expenditure for a well, the drilling of which stops in an income year, and, from the time of stopping, the well—
 - (i) will never produce petroleum in commercial quantities; and
 - (ii) is abandoned; and
 - (b) part of a deduction under section DT 5 (Petroleum development expenditure) for the petroleum development expenditure described in paragraph (a) has not been allocated under section EJ 12 or EJ 12B.

Allocation

- (2) The part of the deduction described in subsection (1) is allocated to the income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, income year, petroleum development expenditure

Section EJ 13B: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 129(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EJ 13C Well not producing*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) the petroleum miner has petroleum development expenditure for a well that, in an income year—
 - (i) stops producing petroleum in commercial quantities; and
 - (ii) is abandoned; and
 - (b) the petroleum miner has elected to apply section EJ 12B for the petroleum development expenditure described in paragraph (a) before the start of the income year; and
 - (c) part of a deduction under section DT 5 (Petroleum development expenditure) for the petroleum development expenditure described in paragraphs (a) and (b) has not been allocated under section EJ 12B.

Allocation

- (2) The part of the deduction described in subsection (1) is allocated to the income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, income year, petroleum development expenditure

Section EJ 13C: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 129(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EJ 14 Spreading deduction backwards

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a petroleum miner has a deduction whose amount has been reduced under section IS 5 (Petroleum miners' tax losses).

Spreading backwards

- (2) The petroleum miner may allocate the amount of the deduction to the tax year before that in which the net loss arises, or allocate parts of it to earlier tax years.

Amending returns

- (3) The petroleum miner may amend their returns of income for the relevant tax years despite the operation of the time bar.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, petroleum miner, return of income, tax year, time bar

Compare: 2004 No 35 s IH 3(1)

EJ 15 Disposal of petroleum mining asset

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a petroleum miner disposes of a petroleum mining asset.

Amount, and timing, of deduction

- (2) Part of a deduction under section DT 5 (Petroleum development expenditure) is allocated to the income year in which the miner disposes of the asset. The part is that to which both the following apply:
- (a) it is attributable to the asset; and
 - (b) it has not been allocated under section EJ 12 or EJ 12B to the income year in which the miner disposes of the asset or to an earlier income year.

Allocation to more than 1 year

- (3) If the petroleum miner's income from disposing of the asset is derived in 2 or more income years,—
- (a) the amount of the deduction is allocated among the income years in which the miner derives the income; and
 - (b) the amount allocated to each income year bears the same relation to the total amount of the deduction as the income that the miner derives in that income year bears to the total amount of income that the miner derives from the disposal.

Relationship with section EJ 16

- (4) This section is overridden by section EJ 16.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, dispose, income, income year, petroleum miner, petroleum mining asset

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EJ 13

Section EJ 15(2)(b): substituted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 130(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EJ 16 Disposal of petroleum mining asset to associate

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when, in an income year, a petroleum miner disposes of a petroleum mining asset to—
- (a) a person associated with the miner:
 - (b) a person who holds the asset for the miner:
 - (c) a person who holds the asset for a person associated with the miner.

Amount of deduction

- (2) The maximum amount that may be allocated under section EJ 15 to the income year is the amount that would be the net income of the petroleum miner in the income year if their only income were from the disposal.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, dispose, income, income year, net income, petroleum miner, petroleum mining asset

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EJ 14

EJ 17 Partnership interests and disposal of part of asset

In sections EJ 12 to EJ 16, unless the context requires otherwise,—

- (a) a partner is treated as having a share or interest in a petroleum permit or other property of a partnership to the extent of their interest in the income of the partnership:
- (b) references to the disposal of an asset apply equally to the disposal of part of an asset.

Defined in this Act: dispose, income, petroleum permit

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EJ 15

EJ 18 Petroleum mining operations outside New Zealand

Sections EJ 12 to EJ 17, EJ 19, and EJ 20 apply with any necessary modifications to a petroleum miner undertaking petroleum mining operations that are—

- (a) outside New Zealand and undertaken through a branch or a controlled foreign company; and

- (b) substantially the same as the petroleum mining activities governed by sections EJ 12 to EJ 17, EJ 19, and EJ 20.

Defined in this Act: controlled foreign company, New Zealand, petroleum miner, petroleum mining operations

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EJ 16

Definitions

EJ 19 Meaning of offshore development

[Repealed]

Section EJ 19: repealed (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 131(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EJ 20 Meaning of petroleum mining development

Meaning

- (1) In sections EJ 12 and EJ 12B, petroleum mining development means a place where 1 or more of the activities described in subsection (2) is carried out.

Activities: inclusions

- (2) The activities are those carried out in connection with—
- (a) developing a permit area for producing petroleum:
 - (b) producing petroleum:
 - (c) processing, storing, or transmitting petroleum before its dispatch to a buyer, consumer, processor, refinery, or user:
 - (d) removal or restoration operations.

Activities: exclusions

- (3) The activities do not include further treatment to which all the following apply:
- (a) it occurs after the well stream has been separated and stabilised into crude oil, condensate, or natural gas; and
 - (b) it is done—
 - (i) by liquefaction or compression; or
 - (ii) for the extraction of constituent products; or
 - (iii) for the production of derivative products; and
 - (c) it is not treatment at the production facilities.

Defined in this Act: permit area, petroleum, removal or restoration operations

Section EJ 20: substituted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 131(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Mineral mining

Heading: inserted, on 1 April 2014 (applying for the 2014–15 and later income years), by section 50 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

EJ 20B Certain mining expenditure spread over assumed life of mine*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section DU 6 (Deduction for certain mining expenditure spread over assumed life of mine) when a mineral miner—
- (a) incurs an amount of mining development expenditure or mining exploration expenditure as described in that section; and
 - (b) starts to use the mining permit area to derive income; and
 - (c) either does not meet the requirements to allow allocation of the expenditure under section EJ 20E or, if they do, they do not choose to allocate the expenditure under that section.

Spreading rule

- (2) The mineral miner is allowed a deduction for an income year that falls within the spreading period referred to in section EJ 20C calculated using the formula—

$$\text{rate} \times \text{value.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (3) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (4) and (5).

Rate

- (4) Rate is—
- (a) the straight-line rate set out in schedule 12, column 2 (Old banded rates of depreciation) that is nearest to the rate calculated for the expenditure using the formula in section EJ 20D(2), if the mineral miner chooses to use the straight-line method;
 - (b) the diminishing value rate set out in schedule 12, column 1 that corresponds to the straight-line rate under paragraph (a), if the mineral miner chooses to use the diminishing value method.

Value

- (5) Value is—
- (a) the adjusted tax value of the expenditure, if the mineral miner chooses to use the straight-line method;
 - (b) the diminished value of the expenditure for the income year, if the mineral miner chooses to use the diminishing value method.

Allocation to mines

- (6) For the purposes of this section, a mineral miner may allocate expenditure for an income year under this section in relation to a mine rather than in relation to a mining permit area, but only if—
- (a) the mineral miner uses IFRS rules to prepare their financial statements; and

- (b) the allocation is permitted for the purposes of their statements.

Defined in this Act: adjusted tax value, amount, deduction, diminishing value method, diminishing value rate, financial statements, IFRS, mineral miner, mining development expenditure, mining exploration expenditure, permit area, straight-line method, straight-line rate

Section EJ 20B: inserted, on 1 April 2014 (applying for the 2014–15 and later income years), by section 50 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

EJ 20C Length of spreading period

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section EJ 20B(3) to determine the length of the spreading period for certain mining expenditure of a mineral miner related to a mining permit area.

Start and end dates

- (2) The spreading period is the number of income years that represents the assumed life of the mine referred to in section EJ 20D that comprises the mining permit area,—
- (a) starting from the later of—
- (i) the first day of the income year in which the mineral miner’s commercial production of a listed industrial mineral from the mining permit area starts; or
 - (ii) the first day of the income year in which the expenditure is incurred; and
- (b) ending on the last day of the income year in which the expiry of the assumed life of the mine occurs.

Defined in this Act: commercial production, income year, listed industrial mineral, mineral miner, permit area

Section EJ 20C: inserted, on 1 April 2014 (applying for the 2014–15 and later income years), by section 50 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

EJ 20D Measurement of assumed life of mine and application to rate

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section EJ 20B(4)(a) for the item rate in the formula that determines the amount of the deduction a mineral miner is allowed for an income year that falls in the spreading period described in section EJ 20C.

Formula for straight-line rate

- (2) The formula for the straight-line rate is—

$$100\% \div \text{assumed life.}$$

Definition of item in formula

- (3) In the formula, assumed life, for an amount of expenditure and an income year, is the period that is the lesser of the following periods:
- (a) the period that—
 - (i) the mineral miner uses for accounting purposes as the amortisation period for the mining permit area; or
 - (ii) for a mineral miner that is not required to use an amortisation period for their accounts, the mineral miner estimates is a reasonable period for the commercial production of a listed industrial mineral from the mining permit area; and
 - (b) the period that is not more than 25 years from the later of—
 - (i) the date on which commercial production from the mining permit area starts; and
 - (ii) the date on which the mineral miner incurs the expenditure relating to the mining permit area.

Reassessment of life of mine

- (4) A mineral miner must reassess the assumed life of the mine for the purposes of this section and sections DU 11 (Meaning of mining development expenditure) and EJ 20C. A reassessment must be made at the end of each income year that falls within the period, and applies from the start of the next income year for all remaining income years in the period in relation to all outstanding expenditure for which no deduction has yet been allowed.

Defined in this Act: commercial production, deduction, income year, listed industrial mineral, mineral miner, permit area, straight-line rate

Section EJ 20D: inserted, on 1 April 2014 (applying for the 2014–15 and later income years), by section 50 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

Section EJ 20D(3): replaced (with effect on 1 April 2014 and applying for the 2014–15 and later income years), on 30 June 2014, by section 73(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EJ 20D(4): amended (with effect on 1 April 2014 and applying for the 2014–15 and later income years), by section 73(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

EJ 20E Certain mining expenditure spread on basis of units of production*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section DU 7 (Deduction for certain mining expenditure spread on basis of units of production) when a mineral miner—
- (a) incurs expenditure described in section DU 6(1)(a) (Deduction for certain mining expenditure spread over assumed life of mine) on or in relation to their mining operations or associated mining operations in a mining permit area; and

- (b) starts to use the permit area to derive income; and
- (c) either—
 - (i) uses IFRS rules to prepare their financial statements; or
 - (ii) keeps appropriate records that are sufficient to enable the Commissioner to verify the calculations used by the mineral miner; and
- (d) chooses to apply this section in the way described in subsection (2).

Election

- (2) The mineral miner may make an election to apply this section in relation to the permit area in a return of income for an income year that is the first year in which the miner's commercial production of a listed industrial mineral from the mining permit area starts. The election is irrevocable and applies only to expenditure referred to in subsection (1)(a).

Reserve depletion method

- (3) The deduction for the expenditure incurred by the mineral miner and allocated to an income year is calculated using the formula—

Definition of items in formula

- (4) In the formula,—
 - (a) reserve expenditure is the total amount of the mineral miner's expenditure described in section DU 6(1)(a) for the permit area for the income year and earlier income years to which this section applies:
 - (b) previous expenditure is the total expenditure for the permit area that has been allocated to an earlier income year to which this section applied:
 - (c) reserve depletion for the year is the amount of a listed industrial mineral produced from the permit area for the income year:
 - (d) proven and probable reserves is the amount of the proven ore reserves and probable ore reserves of the listed industrial mineral for the permit area as set out in the reserve statement for the area, provided the reserve statement is prepared in accordance with a classification code recognised for the purposes of estimating reserves and resources under the Crown Minerals (Minerals other than Petroleum) Regulations 2007.

Appropriate units of measure

- (5) In subsection (4)(c) and (d), the amount must be expressed in an appropriate unit of measure as set out in the mineral miner's reserve statement, and must be the same measure used in the formula for the items defined in those paragraphs.

Mines and mining permit areas

- (6) For the purposes of this section, a mineral miner may allocate expenditure for an income year under this section in relation to a mine rather than in relation to a mining permit area, but only if—
- (a) the mineral miner uses IFRS rules to prepare their financial statements; and
 - (b) the allocation in relation to the mine is permitted for the purposes of those statements.

Transitional provision for existing mines

- (7) Despite subsection (2), a mineral miner may make an election to apply this section in relation to an existing permit area for the 2014–15 income year. The election is irrevocable and applies to expenditure incurred by the mineral miner in the permit area for the income year and later income years.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated mining operations, commercial production, Commissioner, deduction, financial statements, general permission, IFRS, income, income year, listed industrial mineral, mineral miner, mining operations, permit area, return of income

Section EJ 20E: inserted, on 1 April 2014 (applying for the 2014–15 and later income years), by section 50 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

Section EJ 20E(4)(a): amended (with effect on 1 April 2014 and applying for the 2014–15 and later income years), on 30 June 2014, by section 74(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EJ 20E list of defined terms mining development expenditure: repealed (with effect on 1 April 2014), on 30 June 2014, by section 74(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Superannuation contributionsEJ 21 Contributions to employees' superannuation schemesWhen this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when an employer is allowed a deduction for a superannuation contribution to an employee's superannuation scheme under section DC 7 (Contributions to employees' superannuation schemes).

Timing of deduction

- (2) The employer may choose to allocate the deduction to the income year for which the contribution was required by the superannuation scheme to be made, or for which the amount of the contribution was calculated taking into account the earnings paid to employees who were members of the scheme during the income year, if the employer makes the contribution within 63 days after the end of the income year.

Election

- (3) The employer must make the election before filing a return of income for the income year or within a longer time if the Commissioner agrees.

Defined in this Act: amount, Commissioner, deduction, employee, employer, income year, return of income, superannuation contribution, superannuation scheme

Research, development, and resulting market development

EJ 22 Deductions for market development: product of research, development

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person is allowed a deduction for expenditure under section DB 34 (Research or development) that is not interest and is incurred—
- (a) on market development for a product that has resulted from expenditure incurred by the person on research or development; and
 - (b) before the person begins commercial production or commercial use of the product.

Choice for allocation of deduction

- (2) The person may choose to allocate under section DB 34(7) all or part of the deduction to an income year—
- (a) after the income year in which the person incurs the expenditure; and
 - (b) in the way required by section EJ 23.

Defined in this Act: deduction, development, income year, research

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EJ 20

EJ 23 Allocation of deductions for research, development, and resulting market development

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person has—
- (a) a deduction for expenditure incurred on research or development that the person chooses to allocate under section DB 34(7) (Research or development);
 - (b) a deduction for an amount of depreciation loss for an item used for research or development, that the person chooses to allocate under section EE 1(5) (What this subpart does);
 - (c) a deduction for expenditure incurred on market development for a product that has resulted from expenditure incurred on research or development that the person chooses to allocate under section EJ 22(2).

Timing of deduction

- (2) The person must allocate the deduction to an income year—

- (a) in which the person derives an amount of income that is assessable income that the person would not have derived but for—
 - (i) expenditure that gives rise to a deduction that may be allocated under this section:
 - (ii) the use or disposal of an item for which the person has an amount of depreciation loss that may be allocated under this section:
- (b) to which under Part I (Treatment of tax losses) a loss balance is carried forward for the income year in which the expenditure or depreciation loss was incurred.

Minimum amount of deduction allocated to income year

- (3) The person must not allocate to an income year (the current year) an amount of deductions referred to in subsection (1) that is less than the lesser of—
 - (a) the amount of assessable income referred to in subsection (2)(a) that the person derives in the current year:
 - (b) the amount of the deductions that have not been allocated to an income year before the current year.

Maximum amount of deduction allocated to income year

- (4) The person must not allocate to an income year (the current year) an amount of deductions referred to in subsection (1) that is more than the greater of—
 - (a) the amount of assessable income referred to in subsection (2)(a) that the person derives in the current year:
 - (b) the amount of the deductions that—
 - (i) arise in other income years from which a loss balance may be carried forward under Part I to the current year; and
 - (ii) have not been allocated to income years before the current year.

Defined in this Act: amount, assessable income, deduction, depreciation loss, development, income year, loss balance, research

Aircraft engine overhauls

Heading: inserted, on 1 April 2017 (applying for the 2017–18 and later income years), by section 69(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

EJ 24 Allocation of expenditure on aircraft engine overhauls

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person is allowed a deduction under section DW 5 or DW 6 (which relate to the acquisition, overhaul, and leasing of aircraft engines) for expenditure incurred in acquiring an aircraft engine or in performing an aircraft engine overhaul of an aircraft engine or under a finance lease involving an aircraft engine.

Allocation of deduction: general rule

- (2) A person who does not make an election under section EJ 25 or EJ 26 must allocate a proportion of the deduction for an acquisition or aircraft engine overhaul to each income year that includes a part of the scheduled overhaul period following the acquisition or aircraft engine overhaul, with the proportion for an income year being equal to the proportion of the scheduled overhaul period that occurs in the income year.

Exception: allocation of deduction when early aircraft engine overhaul

- (3) If the person performs in an income year an aircraft engine overhaul during the scheduled overhaul period relating to the preceding acquisition or aircraft engine overhaul of the aircraft engine, the person must allocate to the income year the part of the deduction for the preceding acquisition or aircraft engine overhaul that would otherwise be allocated under subsection (2) to a later income year.

Exception: allocation of deduction when lease ends

- (4) If the person leases an aircraft engine, or an aircraft including an unpriced aircraft engine, under a lease that ends before the end of the scheduled overhaul period relating to the preceding acquisition or aircraft engine overhaul of the aircraft engine, the person must allocate to the income year in which the lease ends the part of the deduction for the preceding acquisition or aircraft engine overhaul that would otherwise be allocated under subsection (2) to a later income year.

Defined in this Act: aircraft engine, aircraft engine overhaul, associated person, business, deduction, income year, lease, scheduled overhaul period, unpriced aircraft engine

Section EJ 24: inserted, on 1 April 2017 (applying for the 2017–18 and later income years), by section 69(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

EJ 25 Allocation of expenditure on aircraft engine overhauls: election by IFRS user

Election

- (1) A person may elect to quantify and allocate under this section the amount of a deduction allowed by section DW 5 or DW 6 (which relate to the acquisition, overhaul, and leasing of aircraft engines) in relation to an aircraft or aircraft engine and an income year if—
- (a) the person is a New Zealand resident or holds a valid certificate of registration for the aircraft from the Director of Civil Aviation under the Civil Aviation Act 1990; and
 - (b) the person uses IFRS rules to prepare financial statements; and
 - (c) the aircraft is treated under the IFRS rules as being owned by the person or is leased by the person under a finance lease.

Adjusted figures from financial statements

- (2) A person who elects to rely on this subsection must quantify and allocate deductions under section DW 5 or DW 6 for an assessment to which the election applies by using the figures relating to aircraft and aircraft engines used in the person's financial statements and using methods and adjustments agreed with the Commissioner.

Currency of election

- (3) An election under this section applies for each assessment that is made by the person—
- (a) after the person—
- (i) reaches any necessary agreement under subsection (2) with the Commissioner; and
 - (ii) notifies the Commissioner of the election when or before making a return based on the elected approach; and
 - (iii) is notified that the Commissioner accepts the election, if the Commissioner has previously notified the person under paragraph (d); and
- (b) before the person's return for an income year for which the person does not meet the requirements of subsection (1); and
- (c) before the person notifies the Commissioner, when or before making a return based on an approach other than the elected approach, that the election is revoked; and
- (d) before the person is notified that the Commissioner will not accept assessments based on the elected approach.

Grounds for Commissioner's refusal

- (4) The Commissioner may give to the person a notice referred to in subsection (3)(d), or may refuse to give to the person a notice referred to in subsection (3)(a)(iii), if the Commissioner considers that the person has, in making an assessment, departed significantly from an agreement with the Commissioner or from the requirements of the IFRS rules.

Defined in this Act: aircraft engine, Commissioner, deduction, finance lease, financial statements, IFRS, income year, lease, New Zealand resident, notice, notify, return

Section EJ 25: inserted, on 1 April 2017 (applying for the 2017–18 and later income years), by section 69(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

EJ 26 Allocation of expenditure on aircraft engine overhauls: election by operator of single aircraft

Election

- (1) A person may elect to quantify and allocate under this section the amount of a deduction allowed by section DW 5 or DW 6 (which relate to the acquisition, overhaul, and leasing of aircraft engines) in relation to an aircraft and an income year if—

- (a) no more than 1 aircraft is operated in business by the person and persons who are associated with the person other than by blood relationship; and
- (b) no more than 1 aircraft is operated in a particular business by the person and a person who is associated with the person by blood relationship.

Expenditure on acquisition and overhaul of aircraft engines

- (2) A person who elects to rely on this subsection to the income year must—
 - (a) allocate a deduction under section DW 5(2) to the income year of the aircraft engine overhaul to which the deduction relates; and
 - (b) treat each aircraft engine as an unpriced aircraft engine for the purposes of section DW 5.

Currency of election

- (3) An election under this section applies for each assessment that is made by the person—
 - (a) after the person notifies the Commissioner of the election, when or before making a return based on the approach required by subsection (2); and
 - (b) before the person's return for the third consecutive income year in which the person does not meet the requirements of subsection (1); and
 - (c) before the person notifies the Commissioner, when or before making a return based on an approach other than the elected approach, that the election is revoked.

Defined in this Act: aircraft engine, associated person, business, deduction, income year, notice, notify, return, unpriced aircraft engine

Section EJ 26: inserted, on 1 April 2017 (applying for the 2017–18 and later income years), by section 69(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

EJ 27 Disposal of aircraft engine or aircraft

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person—
 - (a) is allowed a deduction under section DW 5 or DZ 22 (which relate to deductions for expenditure on aircraft engine maintenance) in relation to an aircraft engine or an aircraft including an unpriced aircraft engine; and
 - (b) disposes of the aircraft engine or aircraft.

Allocation of remaining deductions

- (2) The person must allocate to the income year in which the disposal occurs the part of the deduction under section DW 5 or DZ 22 for the preceding acquisition or aircraft engine overhaul that is not allocated to an earlier income year.

Allocation of consideration

- (3) The person must allocate the consideration derived for the disposal between—
- (a) the aircraft engine or aircraft as an item of depreciable property; and
 - (b) the unexpired portion of the scheduled overhaul period for the aircraft engine.

Allocation of consideration by agreement

- (4) The allocation by the person under subsection (3) must be—
- (a) the apportionment agreed with the purchaser; or
 - (b) a fair and reasonable apportionment, if there is no agreed apportionment under paragraph (a).

Recovery income

- (5) The person derives from the disposal an amount of income equal to—
- (a) the total amount of deductions under section DW 5 or DZ 22 allowed for the aircraft engine or aircraft and the latest scheduled overhaul period beginning before the disposal, if that amount is less than the amount described in paragraph (b); or
 - (b) the amount of consideration allocated under subsection (3) to the unexpired portion of the scheduled overhaul period for the aircraft engine, if paragraph (a) does not apply.

Sections CC 11 and FA 9: consideration paid by lessee for lease asset

- (6) For the purposes of sections CC 11 and FA 9 (which relate to a lessee acquiring a lease asset when a lease ends), the amount of consideration paid by a lessee or an associated person of a lessee to acquire an aircraft engine or aircraft, after the term of a finance lease of the aircraft engine or aircraft, does not include the amount allocated under subsection (3) to the unexpired portion of the scheduled overhaul period for the aircraft engine or aircraft.

Sections CC 12 and FA 10: consideration derived by lessor from disposal of lease asset

- (7) For the purposes of sections CC 12 and FA 10 (which relate to a lessor acquiring a lease asset when a lease ends), the amount of consideration received by the lessor for a disposal of an aircraft engine or aircraft after the term of a finance lease of the aircraft engine or aircraft does not include an amount of consideration allocated under subsection (3) to the unexpired portion of the scheduled overhaul period for the aircraft engine or aircraft.

Defined in this Act: aircraft engine, aircraft engine overhaul, deduction, depreciable year, dispose, finance lease, income, income year, scheduled overhaul period, unpriced aircraft engine

Section EJ 27: inserted, on 1 April 2017 (applying for the 2017–18 and later income years), by section 69(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

EK 1 Environmental Restoration Funds Account

Account

- (1) There is a Crown Bank Account called the Environmental Restoration Funds Account that is operated under the Public Finance Act 1989.

Payments from person paid into account

- (2) Every payment a person makes to the Commissioner under section EK 2—
 - (a) is public money; and

(b) must be paid into the Environmental Restoration Funds Account.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, pay

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 1

EK 2 Persons who may make payment to environmental restoration account

A person may make a payment to the Commissioner for entry in the person's environmental restoration account for an income year if the person—

- (a) carries on a business in New Zealand; and
- (b) expects to incur, for a later income year, expenditure that—
 - (i) is not on revenue account property, other than land to which section CB 8 (Disposal: land used for landfill, if notice of election) applies; and
 - (ii) is of a kind listed in schedule 19, part B (Expenditure in avoiding, remedying, or mitigating detrimental effects of discharge of contaminant); and
 - (iii) is of a kind not listed in schedule 19, part C; and
- (c) makes a provision for such expenditure in financial statements that are—
 - (i) prepared for external reporting purposes; and
 - (ii) audited by an accountant who is a chartered accountant or has equivalent professional qualifications; and
 - (iii) given by the accountant a standard audit opinion, without qualifications on matters relating to the effect of this subpart.

Defined in this Act: business, Commissioner, environmental restoration account, income year, pay, revenue account property

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 2

EK 3 Payments to environmental restoration account

Upper limit of payment

- (1) A person must not make a payment for an income year of more than the person's maximum payment for the income year.

Lower limit of payment

- (2) A person must not make a payment for an income year of less than $1,000.

Time for making payment

- (3) A payment made after the day that is 6 months after the end of an income year is not made for the income year unless—
 - (a) the Commissioner has allowed a longer period for the payment; and
 - (b) the payment is made within the period allowed by the Commissioner.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, income year, maximum payment, pay

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 3

EK 4 Environmental restoration account

Person's account

- (1) The Commissioner must keep an environmental restoration account in the name of every person who makes a payment to the Commissioner under section EK 2.

Payments in account

- (2) Every payment under section EK 2 that a person makes to the Commissioner must be entered in the person's environmental restoration account.

Amounts in account

- (3) The only amounts that may be entered in a person's environmental restoration account are—
 - (a) payments made by the person to the Commissioner under section EK 2;
 - (b) transfers made to the account under subsection (6);
 - (c) interest paid under section EK 6.

Amounts not available to others

- (4) An amount entered in a person's environmental restoration account may not, while in the account,—
 - (a) be assigned or charged in any way;
 - (b) pass by operation of law to, or into the custody or control of, someone else, except when the person is bankrupt or has been put into liquidation;
 - (c) be an asset for the payment of the person's debts or liabilities, except when the person is bankrupt or has been put into liquidation;
 - (d) be an asset for the payment of the debts or liabilities of a dead person's estate.

Amounts not available except for refunds or transfers

- (5) An amount entered in a person's environmental restoration account may not be removed from the environmental restoration account except by a refund under section EK 9 or EK 12 or by a transfer under subsection (6).

Transfers of amounts

- (6) An amount may be transferred from the environmental restoration account of a person—
 - (a) to an environmental restoration account of a person to whom the amount has been transferred under section EK 15 or EK 16(3)(b);
 - (b) to the department that is at the time responsible for administering the Environment Act 1986, if the amount has been transferred under section EK 16(3)(a);
 - (c) to an environmental restoration account of an amalgamated company to which the amount has been transferred under section EK 19.

Commissioner may close empty account

- (7) The Commissioner may close an environmental restoration account of a person if the amount in the environmental restoration account is zero.

Defined in this Act: amalgamating company, amount, Commissioner, environmental restoration account, interest, liquidation, pay

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 4

EK 5 Details to be provided with payment to environmental restoration account*Notice and details required*

- (1) A person making a payment to an environmental restoration account must provide the Commissioner with a notice, in a form prescribed by the Commissioner, giving—
- (a) the name of the person; and
 - (b) the income year for which the payment is made; and
 - (c) a calculation of the maximum payment for the person and the income year; and
 - (d) any additional information that the Commissioner requires.

Time for providing information

- (2) The person must provide the information required by subsection (1) within 2 working days from the day of the payment.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, environmental restoration account, income year, maximum payment, notice, pay, working day

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 5

Section EK 5 list of defined terms notice: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 74 of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

EK 6 Interest on payments to environmental restoration account*Interest payable*

- (1) Interest is payable by the Commissioner on—
- (a) a payment under section EK 2 to an environmental restoration account;
 - (b) an amount that is treated under section EK 15, EK 16, or EK 19 as being a payment to an environmental restoration account.

Period

- (2) Interest is computed with daily rests from the day after the date of the payment until the day before the date on which the payment is included in a refund under section EK 12 or in a transfer under section EK 15, EK 16, or EK 19.

Date to which interest accrues

- (3) Interest that has accrued on a payment is payable to the person who has the environmental restoration account on the earlier of—
- (a) 31 March in each year:

- (b) the day on which the payment is included in a refund under section EK 12 or in a transfer under section EK 15, EK 16, or EK 19.

Rate

- (4) The interest rate is 3% per year.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, environmental restoration account, interest, pay, year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 6

EK 7 Deduction for payment

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person is allowed a deduction under section DQ 4 (Environmental restoration accounts scheme) for a payment to their environmental restoration account under section EK 2.

Amount of deduction

- (2) The amount of the deduction is calculated using the formula—
payment ÷ tax rate.

Definition of items in formula

- (3) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (4) and (5).

Payment

- (4) Payment is the lesser of—
(a) the person's payment to the Commissioner under section EK 2 for the income year; and
(b) the person's maximum payment for the income year.

Tax rate

- (5) Tax rate is the highest rate of income tax on taxable income that—
(a) is set out in schedule 1 (Basic tax rates: income tax, ESCT, RSCT, RWT, and attributed fringe benefits); and
(b) would apply to the person for the tax year if the person had sufficient taxable income.

Timing of deduction

- (6) The person is allowed the deduction for the income year for which the payment is made.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, deduction, environmental restoration account, income tax, income year, maximum payment, pay, tax year, taxable income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 7

Section EK 7(5)(a): amended, on 1 April 2008, by section 562 of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

EK 8 Deduction for transfer*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a person is allowed a deduction under section DQ 4 (Environmental restoration accounts scheme) for a transfer to their environmental restoration account under section EK 15, EK 16, or EK 19.

Amount of deduction

- (2) The amount of the deduction is calculated using the formula—

$$\text{transfer} \div \text{tax rate}.$$

Definition of items in formula

- (3) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (4) and (5).

Transfer

- (4) Transfer is the amount of the transfer to the person's environmental restoration account that is treated as a payment by the person under section EK 15(3), EK 16, or EK 19.

Tax rate

- (5) Tax rate is the highest rate of income tax on taxable income that—
- is set out in schedule 1 (Basic tax rates: income tax, ESCT, RSCT, RWT, and attributed fringe benefits); and
 - would apply to the person for the tax year if the person had sufficient taxable income.

Timing of deduction

- (6) The person is allowed the deduction for the income year for which the transfer is made.

Defined in this Act: deduction, environmental restoration account, income tax, income year, maximum payment, pay, tax year, taxable income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 8

Section EK 8(5)(a): amended, on 1 April 2008, by section 562 of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

EK 9 Refund of payment if excess, lacking details*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a person's payment under section EK 2 for an income year is—
- more than the person's maximum payment for the income year:
 - made without providing the details required by section EK 5.

Refund

- (2) As soon as practicable after the date on which the payment is received, the Commissioner must refund to the person—

- (a) the excess, if the payment is more than the person's maximum payment for the income year:
- (b) the payment, if the payment is described by subsection (1)(b).

No interest payable by Commissioner

- (3) No interest is payable by the Commissioner under section EK 6 on the amount of the payment.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, income year, interest, maximum payment, pay

EK 10 Certain refunds not income

A refund under section EK 9 is excluded income under section CX 52 (Refund from environmental restoration account).

Defined in this Act: excluded income

EK 11 Application for refund

Who may apply

- (1) A person may apply to the Commissioner for a refund under section EK 12 of an amount in the person's environmental restoration account if the refund—
 - (a) corresponds to expenditure incurred by the person of a kind that is listed in schedule 19, part B (Expenditure in avoiding, remedying, or mitigating detrimental effects of discharge of contaminant) and not in schedule 19, part C:
 - (b) represents an excess in the person's environmental restoration account over the maximum account balance for the person's environmental restoration account for the income year.

Application

- (2) An application for a refund must—
 - (a) [Repealed]
 - (b) state the grounds on which the application is made; and
 - (c) provide evidence satisfactory to the Commissioner verifying the existence of the grounds; and
 - (d) state the amount of the refund that the applicant wants.

Defined in this Act: apply, Commissioner, environmental restoration account, income year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 11

Section EK 11(2)(a): repealed, on 2 June 2016, by section 29(1) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

Section EK 11 list of defined terms apply: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 29(2) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

EK 12 Refund if application or excess balance*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a person wants a refund of some or all of the amount in the person's environmental restoration account and none of sections EK 9, EK 15, EK 16, and EK 19 applies;
 - (b) the amount in the person's environmental restoration account is more than the maximum account balance for an income year.

Refund if application made

- (2) The Commissioner must make a refund under this section to a person if—
- (a) the person applies for a refund and has incurred expenditure—
 - (i) of a kind that is listed in schedule 19, part B (Expenditure in avoiding, remedying, or mitigating detrimental effects of discharge of contaminant) and not in schedule 19, part C; and
 - (ii) of an amount equal to or greater than the amount given by subsection (3) for the amount of the refund; and
 - (iii) after the first date on which the person made to the Commissioner a payment under section EK 2 for entry in the person's environmental restoration account or a transfer under section EK 15, EK 16, or EK 19 was made to the person's environmental restoration account;
 - (b) the maximum account balance for the latest complete income year for the person's environmental restoration account is less than the amount in the environmental restoration account at the end of that income year.

Minimum amount of expenditure incurred

- (3) The amount of expenditure incurred that corresponds to the amount of a refund is calculated using the formula—

$$\text{amount} \div \text{tax rate.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (4) In the formula,—
- (a) amount is the amount of the refund;
 - (b) tax rate is the highest rate of income tax on taxable income that—
 - (i) is set out in schedule 1 (Basic tax rates: income tax, ESCT, RSCT, RWT, and attributed fringe benefits); and
 - (ii) would apply to the person for the tax year if the person had sufficient taxable income.

Amount of refund if expenditure incurred

- (5) If a person is entitled to a refund under subsection (2)(a), the amount that the Commissioner must refund to the person is the smallest of—
- (a) the refund for which the person applies:
 - (b) the contents of the person's environmental restoration account at the time of the refund:
 - (c) the refund corresponding to the person's expenditure that meets the requirements of subsection (2)(a)(i) to (iii).

Amount of refund if maximum account balance decreases

- (6) If a person is entitled to a refund under subsection (2)(b), the amount that the Commissioner must refund is the difference at the end of the latest complete income year between—
- (a) the amount in the person's environmental restoration account after any transfer under section EK 15, EK 16, or EK 19 for the income year:
 - (b) the person's maximum account balance for the income year.

Relationship with section EK 17

- (7) Section EK 17 overrides subsections (5) and (6).

Defined in this Act: amount, apply, Commissioner, environmental restoration account, income tax, income year, maximum account balance, pay, tax year, taxable income

EK 13 Income when refund given on application

A refund under section EK 12 is income, of the amount given by section CB 28 (Environmental restoration accounts), derived by the person in the income year in which the person receives the refund.

Defined in this Act: apply, Commissioner, income, income year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 13

Section EK 13 heading: amended, on 2 June 2016, by section 31(1) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

Section EK 13 list of defined terms apply: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 31(2) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

EK 14 Application for transfer*Who may apply*

- (1) A person may apply to the Commissioner for a transfer under section EK 15 from the amount in the person's environmental restoration account.

Application

- (2) An application for a transfer must—
 - (a) [Repealed]
 - (b) state the grounds on which the application is made; and
 - (c) state the amount of the transfer that the applicant wants.

Defined in this Act: apply, Commissioner, environmental restoration account

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 14

Section EK 14(2)(a): repealed, on 2 June 2016, by section 32(1) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

Section EK 14 list of defined terms apply: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 32(2) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

EK 15 Transfer on application*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a person applies under section EK 14 for a transfer of some or all of the amount in their environmental restoration account to a person who is nominated in the application; and
 - (b) the person has transferred to the nominated person the obligations to which the amount relates; and
 - (c) none of sections EK 9, EK 12, EK 16, and EK 19 applies.

Transfer if application made

- (2) The Commissioner must make a transfer under this section to an environmental restoration account of the person nominated in the application.

Transfer treated as payment by nominated person

- (3) A transfer under subsection (2) is treated as being a payment by the nominated person to the nominated person's environmental restoration account if the nominated person satisfies the Commissioner that—
 - (a) the obligations to which the transferred amount relates have been transferred to the nominated person; and
 - (b) in the absence of the transfer, the nominated person would be entitled to make a payment, of the amount of the transfer, to the nominated person's environmental restoration account.

Commissioner to reverse transfer if requirements of subsection (3) not met

- (4) If the nominated person does not meet the requirements of subsection (3) in relation to an amount, the Commissioner must transfer the amount to the environmental restoration account of the person who made the application under subsection (1)(a).

Timing of reversal

- (5) The transfer under subsection (4) is treated as taking place at the time of the original transfer under subsection (2).

Defined in this Act: apply, Commissioner, environmental restoration account, pay

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 15

Section EK 15 heading: amended, on 2 June 2016, by section 33(1) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

Section EK 15(2) heading: amended, on 2 June 2016, by section 33(2) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

Section EK 15 list of defined terms apply: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 33(3) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

EK 16 Transfer on death, bankruptcy, or liquidation

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person—
- (a) has an environmental restoration account; and
 - (b) does 1 of the following:
 - (i) dies;
 - (ii) becomes bankrupt;
 - (iii) is put into liquidation.

Transfer to other person

- (2) Subsection (3) applies if the Commissioner is notified, by the administrator of the person's estate, the Official Assignee, or the person's liquidator, that the obligation to which the balance in the person's environmental restoration account relates has been transferred to another person.

Transfer by Commissioner

- (3) The Commissioner must transfer the amount referred to in subsection (4) to an environmental restoration account of the person to whom the obligation has been transferred.

Amount of transfer

- (4) The Commissioner must transfer under subsection (3) the amount that is in the person's environmental restoration account on the date on which—
- (a) the person dies, if subsection (1)(b)(i) applies;
 - (b) the person becomes bankrupt, if subsection (1)(b)(ii) applies;
 - (c) the person is put into liquidation, if subsection (1)(b)(iii) applies.

Relationship with section EK 17

- (5) Section EK 17 overrides subsection (4).

Transfer treated as payment

- (6) A transfer to the environmental account of a person under subsection (3) is treated as a payment by the person to their environmental account.

Year of income

- (7) The amount of a transfer under this section is income, under section CB 28 (Environmental restoration accounts), derived by the person on the day before the day on which the amount of the transfer is determined under subsection (4).

Defined in this Act: amount, Commissioner, environmental restoration account, income, liquidation, notify, pay

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 16

Section EK 16(2): amended, on 2 June 2016, by section 34(1) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

EK 17 Minimum refund or transfer

The Commissioner must not give a refund or make a transfer under any of sections EK 9, EK 12, EK 15, EK 16, and EK 19 that is less than the lesser of—

- (a) $1,000; and
- (b) the balance in the person's environmental restoration account on the date on which the refund or transfer is made.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, environmental restoration account

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 17

EK 18 Payments from which refunds come

Each refund to a person is treated as coming from the total amount in the person's environmental restoration account in the order in which the person made the payments into the account.

Defined in this Act: amount, environmental restoration account, pay

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 18

EK 19 Environmental restoration account of amalgamating company

If an amalgamating company with an environmental restoration account ends its existence on an amalgamation during an income year,—

- (a) the contents of the environmental restoration account of the amalgamating company are transferred to an environmental restoration account of the amalgamated company on the date of the amalgamation:
- (b) the amalgamated company is treated as having—
 - (i) made to the amalgamated company's environmental restoration account the payments that the amalgamating company made before the amalgamation to the amalgamating company's environmental restoration account; and

- (ii) made from the amalgamated company's environmental restoration account the transfers that the amalgamating company made before the amalgamation from the amalgamating company's environmental restoration account; and
- (iii) received from the amalgamated company's environmental restoration account the refunds that the amalgamating company received before the amalgamation from the amalgamating company's environmental restoration account.

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamating company, amalgamation, environmental restoration account, income year, pay

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 19

EK 20 Environmental restoration account of consolidated group company

Company with environmental restoration account

- (1) A company that is part of a consolidated group may have an environmental restoration account.

Nominated company for group acting on behalf of company

- (2) The nominated company for the consolidated group may act on behalf of the group company under this subpart to—
 - (a) make payments, applications, and transfers:
 - (b) receive refunds and transfers.

Use of consolidated financial statements for group

- (3) In making payments and applications under this subpart, the nominated company may rely on the audited consolidated financial statements for the consolidated group.

Use of consolidated figures for liabilities anticipated and expenditure incurred

- (4) If the nominated company relies on the audited consolidated financial statements for the consolidated group, the consolidated figures for the anticipated liabilities and incurred expenditure of the consolidated group are attributed to the group companies on the basis of the individual obligations of the companies to incur expenditure of a kind listed in schedule 19, part B (Expenditure in avoiding, remedying, or mitigating detrimental effects of discharge of contaminant) and not in schedule 19, part C.

Defined in this Act: apply, consolidated group, environmental restoration account, nominated company, pay

Section EK 20 list of defined terms apply: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 74 of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

EK 21 Notices in electronic format

The Commissioner may require a person to provide a notice under this subpart in an electronic format that the Commissioner prescribes under section 36BC of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, electronic format, notice

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 21

Section EK 21 list of defined terms notice: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 74 of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

EK 22 Meaning of maximum payment*Maximum payment*

- (1) In this subpart, maximum payment means the maximum payment that under subsection (2) a person may make to the person's environmental restoration account for an income year.

Amount of maximum payment

- (2) The maximum payment that a person may make for an income year is the lesser of—
- (a) the amount by which the maximum account balance for the income year for the environmental restoration account is more than the amount in the environmental restoration account at the end of the income year:
 - (b) the amount, if any, calculated under subsection (3) for the person and the income year.

Maximum payment for first 5 years of environmental restoration funds scheme

- (3) If a person has a maximum account balance for the 2005–06 income year that is more than zero, the amount referred to in subsection (2)(b) for the person and for that income year, and for each of the later income years before the 2010–11 income year, is the amount calculated using the formula—

$$\text{level increase} + (\text{year} \times 0.2 \times \text{initial level}) - \text{contents.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (4) In the formula,—
- (a) level increase is the greater of zero and the amount by which the maximum account balance for the income year is more than the maximum account balance for the 2005–06 income year:
 - (b) year is 1 for the 2005–06 income year and increases by 1 for each successive income year to a maximum of 5 for the 2009–10 income year:
 - (c) initial level is the maximum account balance for the 2005–06 income year:

- (d) contents is the amount in the environmental restoration account at the end of the income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, business, environmental restoration account, income year, maximum payment, pay

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 22

EK 23 Other definitions

Meaning of maximum account balance

- (1) In this subpart, maximum account balance for a person and an income year means—
- (a) if the person does not meet the requirements of section EK 2 for the income year, zero;
- (b) if the person meets the requirements of section EK 2 for the income year, the amount calculated using the formula—
- $$\text{provision} \times \text{tax rate.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (2) In the formula,—
- (a) provision is the provision in the person's financial statements for future expenditure that—
- (i) is of a kind listed in schedule 19, part B (Expenditure in avoiding, remedying, or mitigating detrimental effects of discharge of contaminant); and
- (ii) is not of a kind listed in schedule 19, part C:
- (b) tax rate is the highest rate of income tax on taxable income that—
- (i) is set out in schedule 1 (Basic tax rates: income tax, ESCT, RSCT, RWT, and attributed fringe benefits); and
- (ii) would apply to the person for the tax year if the person had sufficient taxable income.

Meaning of environmental restoration account

- (3) In this subpart, environmental restoration account, for a person, means the account that the Commissioner keeps in the person's name under section EK 4.

Defined in this Act: business, Commissioner, environmental restoration account, income tax, income year, taxable income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EK 23

Section EK 23(2)(b)(i): amended, on 1 April 2008, by section 562 of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

EM 1 Australian non-attributing shares and attributing FDR method interests

Application of this subpart

- (1) This subpart applies to determine the income and expenditure for a person's hedges, to the extent to which their hedges have a fair dividend rate hedge portion (see: subsection (2) below, and sections EM 5 to EM 7), and their hedges hedge—
 - (a) Australian non-attributing shares for which—
 - (i) amounts derived from disposal would be either excluded income of the person under section CX 55 (Proceeds from disposal of investment shares), or the person's capital receipt; and
 - (ii) the person determines the market value for each of a number of periods making up the income year:
 - (b) attributing interests in a FIF for which the person—
 - (i) calculates FIF income using the fair dividend rate method; and
 - (ii) uses section EX 53 (Fair dividend rate periodic method).

Specific rules

- (2) In this subpart,—
 - (a) section EM 2 provides rules for who this subpart applies to:
 - (b) section EM 3 provides rules for what hedges this subpart applies to:
 - (c) section EM 4 provides rules for irrevocable elections to choose that eligible hedges are subject to this subpart:
 - (d) section EM 5 provides rules that set maximum fair dividend rate hedge portions for a person's eligible hedges:
 - (e) section EM 6 provides the calculation to determine the income and expenditure for a person's fair dividend rate hedge portions:
 - (f) section EM 7 provides a quarterly test of the person's fair dividend rate hedge portions, and provides rules that apply if the value of hedge portions to eligible hedged assets exceeds 1.05, including a rule to not apply this subpart:

- (g) section EM 8 provides some definitions for this subpart.

Relationship with financial arrangements rules

- (3) This subpart, and not subpart EW (Financial arrangements rules), determines a person's income and expenditure for their fair dividend rate hedge portions.

Defined in this Act: attributing interests, Australian non-attributing shares, eligible hedge, excluded income, fair dividend rate hedge portion, fair dividend rate method, FIF, hedge, income

Section EM 1: inserted, on 17 July 2013, by section 49 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

Section EM 1(1)(b)(ii): replaced, on 1 April 2016, by section 129 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EM 2 Who does this subpart apply to?

Who does this subpart apply to?

- (1) This subpart applies to a person if section EM 1 applies to the person, to the extent to which the person—

- (a) is listed in schedule 29, part A or B (Portfolio investment entities: listed investors), but is not a life insurer:
- (b) is a separate identifiable fund forming part of a life insurer that holds investment subject to life insurance policies under which benefits are directly linked to the value of the investments held in the fund:
- (c) is a fund that is equivalent to an investor class described in section HM 22(1) (Exceptions for certain funds):
- (d) is a group investment fund, superannuation fund, or unit trust in which—
- (i) 20 or more people hold an investor interest, and each person who holds an investor interest has 20% or less of the total investor interests for the fund or trust:
- (ii) a person described in paragraph (a) or (b) (a listed person) or a person whose only income is charitable income (a charitable person) holds an investor interest, and each person who is not a listed person or a charitable person holds an investor interest of 20% or less of the total investor interests for the fund or trust.

Combining people and investor interests

- (2) For the purposes of applying subsection (1)(d)(i) and (ii), if a person is associated with another person, they are treated as 1 person who holds their combined investor interests, if their combined investor interests total 5% or more of the total investor interests for the fund or trust. Subsection (3) overrides this subsection.

Exception to combining people and investor interests

- (3) Subsection (2) does not apply to make 2 associated people into 1 person, or to combine investor interests of 2 associated persons, if 1 of them is a listed person.

Defined in this Act: associated person, exempt income, group investment fund, income, investor class, investor interest, life insurance policies, life insurer, superannuation fund, unit trust

Section EM 2: inserted, on 17 July 2013, by section 49 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

EM 3 What hedges does this subpart apply to?

This subpart applies to a person's hedge (an eligible hedge) if section EM 1 applies to the hedge, and the hedge—

- (a) is a contract to conditionally or unconditionally acquire or dispose of foreign exchange in return for New Zealand currency, or is a swap with one leg denominated in a foreign currency and the other leg denominated in New Zealand currency; and
- (b) is not an option; and
- (c) is not entered into with an associated person; and
- (d) has, under IFRSs, a fair value of zero when it is first entered into; and
- (e) is subject to an election under section EM 4.

Defined in this Act: associated person, eligible hedge, hedge, IFRS

Section EM 3: inserted, on 17 July 2013, by section 49 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

EM 4 Irrevocable elections*Elections*

- (1) This subpart applies to a person's eligible hedge, to the extent of their fair dividend rate hedge portion for the eligible hedge, if the person has made an election to apply this subpart under subsection (2) or (3).

Elections: specific

- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), for each eligible hedge, an election under this subsection must, unless subsection (3) applies, be made—
- (a) when the hedge is first entered into; and
 - (b) when a hedge of the hedge is first entered into.

Election: general

- (3) For the purposes of subsection (1), a general election under this subsection may be made before the eligible hedge or a hedge of the hedge is entered into, and that election will apply automatically to the relevant hedge when it is entered into.

Elections: effect irrevocable

- (4) An election under this section is irrevocable and cannot be amended, except a general election under subsection (3) may be changed before a relevant hedge is entered into. The income and expenditure for the fair dividend rate hedge portion of the relevant hedge must be determined under this subpart.

Elections: effect on some or all

- (5) The portion of a person's eligible hedge that is not a fair dividend rate hedge portion does not give rise to income and expenditure under this subpart, despite an election for the eligible hedge, and subpart EW (Financial arrangements rules) determines a person's income and expenditure for that portion.

Defined in this Act: eligible hedge, fair dividend rate hedge portion, income

Section EM 4: inserted, on 17 July 2013, by section 49 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

EM 5 Fair dividend rate hedge portions

Maximum calculated

- (1) This section calculates the maximum fair dividend rate hedge portion for a person's eligible hedge.

Choice of fair dividend rate hedge portion: cannot be changed

- (2) A person must, subject to the maximum calculated under this section, irrevocably choose the fair dividend rate hedge portion for a person's eligible hedge.

Choice of formulas

- (3) A person may choose to use either subsections (4) and (5), or subsections (6) to (10), to calculate the maximum fair dividend rate hedge portions for all of the person's eligible hedges when the hedge is first entered into. They may not choose to use, for example, subsection (4) for some hedges and subsection (6) for other hedges.

First formula

- (4) The maximum fair dividend rate hedge portion for a person's eligible hedge (the calculation hedge) is the lesser of 100% and the amount, expressed as a percentage, calculated, using the formula in this subsection, when the hedge is first entered into. Subsection (8) overrides this subsection. The formula is—

$$(1.05 \times (\text{eligible currency assets} + \text{proxied currency assets}) \\ - \text{FDR hedges amount}) \div \text{calculation hedge amount.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (5) In the formula in subsection (4), all items are expressed in the calculation currency (see: eligible currency assets), and—
- (a) eligible currency assets is the total market value of a person's assets described in section EM 1(1)(a) and (b) that are denominated in the same currency (the calculation currency) that the calculation hedge hedges:

- (b) proxied currency assets is,—
- (i) unless subparagraph (ii) or (iii) applies, the total market value of a person's assets described in section EM 1(1)(a) and (b) that are denominated in a currency (the proxied currency) other than the calculation currency, if an eligible hedge that is denominated in the calculation currency acts like hedging for the assets due to a relationship between exchange rate movements in the proxied currency and the calculation currency:
 - (ii) zero, if the person has hedges denominated in the proxied currency:
 - (iii) zero, if the person has a hedge, denominated in a currency other than the proxied currency or the calculation currency, that acts like hedging for the assets due to a relationship between exchange rate movements in the proxied currency and that other currency:
- (c) FDR hedges amount is the amount of calculation currency hedged by a person's fair dividend rate hedge portions, but excluding the portion for the calculation hedge:
- (d) calculation hedge amount is the amount of foreign currency that is hedged by the calculation hedge.

Second formula

- (6) The maximum fair dividend rate hedge portion for a person's eligible hedge (the calculation hedge) is the lesser of the amounts, expressed as percentages, calculated using the formula in this subsection and the formula in subsection (9), when the hedge is first entered into. Subsection (8) overrides this subsection. The formula is—

$$1 - (\text{non-eligible currency assets} \div \text{hedges amount}).$$

Definition of items in formula

- (7) In the formula in subsection (6), all items are expressed in New Zealand currency, and—
- (a) non-eligible currency assets is the total market value of a person's assets that:
 - (i) are denominated in a foreign currency; and
 - (ii) are not described in section EM 1(1)(a) and (b):
 - (b) hedges amount is the amount of foreign currency that is hedged by a person's hedges including the calculation hedge.

Exception for more than 100% non-eligible currency asset hedges

- (8) If the maximum fair dividend rate hedge portion for the calculation hedge is less than zero, then the fair dividend rate hedge portion for the hedge is zero.

Formula for purposes of subsection (6)

- (9) The formula for the purposes of subsection (6) is:

$$(1.05 \times \text{eligible currency assets} - \text{FDR hedges amount}) \\ \div \text{calculation hedge amount.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (10) In the formula in subsection (9), all items are expressed in New Zealand currency, and—
- (a) eligible currency assets is the total market value of a person's assets described in section EM 1(1)(a) and (b):
 - (b) FDR hedges amount is the amount of foreign currency hedged by a person's fair dividend rate hedge portions, but excluding the portion for the calculation hedge:
 - (c) current hedge amount is the amount of foreign currency that is hedged by the calculation hedge.

Relationship with subject matter

- (11) Section EM 7 overrides this section.

Defined in this Act: eligible hedge, fair dividend rate hedge portion, hedge, income

Section EM 5: inserted, on 17 July 2013, by section 49 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

EM 6 Income and expenditure for fair dividend rate hedge portions

Using the formula to calculate income and expenditure

- (1) A person uses the formula in subsection (2) for each valuation period described in subsection (3)(b) that this subpart applies to them. A positive amount from the formula is a person's income for their fair dividend rate hedge portions. A negative amount from the formula is a person's expenditure for their fair dividend rate hedge portions.

Formula

- (2) The formula for determining a person's income and expenditure for their fair dividend rate hedge portions is—

$$\text{FDR portions' value} \times 0.05 \times \text{valuation period} \div \text{days in the year.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) FDR portions' value is the market value of a person's fair dividend rate hedge portions at the start of a relevant valuation period in New Zealand currency:
 - (b) valuation period is the number of days in whichever of the following periods is relevant:
 - (i) the period described in section EM 1(1)(a)(ii):

- (ii) the unit valuation period described in section EX 53 (Fair dividend rate periodic method):
- (c) days in the year is the number of days in the income year in which the relevant period falls.

Defined in this Act: amount, fair dividend rate hedge portion, income, income year

Section EM 6: inserted, on 17 July 2013, by section 49 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

Section EM 6(3)(b)(ii): replaced, on 1 April 2016, by section 130 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EM 7 Quarterly test of fair dividend rate hedge portions

Quarterly FDR hedging ratio

- (1) A person must use the first formula, in subsection (2), on the last day of a quarter of an income year, to calculate their quarterly FDR hedging ratio.

First formula

- (2) The formula for calculating the person's quarterly FDR hedging ratio is—
FDR hedges amount ÷ eligible currency assets.

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula in subsection (2), all items are expressed in New Zealand currency, and—
 - (a) FDR hedges amount is the total amount of foreign currency that is hedged by a person's fair dividend rate hedge portions:
 - (b) eligible currency assets is the total market value of a person's assets described in section EM 1(1)(a) and (b).

Second formula

- (4) If a person's quarterly FDR hedging ratio for a quarter is greater than 1.05 and subsection (6) does not apply, then, despite section EM 5, the fair dividend rate hedge portion of each eligible hedge, from 5 working days after the last day of the quarter, is calculated using the formula—

$$(0.85 \div \text{quarterly FDR hedging ratio}) \times \text{FDR hedge portion.}$$

Definition of items in second formula

- (5) In the formula in subsection (4),—
 - (a) FDR hedge portion is the fair dividend rate hedge portion of the relevant eligible hedge:
 - (b) quarterly FDR hedging ratio is the person's quarterly FDR hedging ratio for the relevant quarter.

Subpart not applied for over-hedging

- (6) If a person's quarterly FDR hedging ratio is greater than 1.05 on the last day of 2 consecutive quarters, then this subpart will not apply to the person for the next 2 quarters. Subpart EW (Financial arrangements rules) applies.

Defined in this Act: eligible hedge, fair dividend rate hedge portion, hedge, income year, person, quarterly FDR hedging ratio

Section EM 7: inserted, on 17 July 2013, by section 49 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

EM 8 Some definitions

In this subpart,—

Australian non-attributing shares means a person's rights in a FIF in an income year if the rights—

- (a) are a share in a company resident in Australia at all times in the year when the person holds a right in the company; and
- (b) are not an attributing interest, because of the application of section EX 31 (Exemption for ASX-listed Australian companies)

eligible hedge means a hedge described in section EM 3 fair dividend rate hedge portion means the percentage portion of the hedging of the foreign currency exchange rate movements in the value of a person's assets for an eligible hedge under this subpart hedge—

- (a) means 1 or more related financial arrangements that a person enters into with the sole purpose and net effect of offsetting exposure to foreign currency exchange rate movements in the value of their assets, and hedging is the effect of holding a hedge for that purpose; and
- (b) includes, in a hedge described in paragraph (a), a hedge of that hedge investor interest means—

- (a) if the relevant entity is a company, a shareholding that gives the holder an entitlement to a distribution of the proceeds from the entity's investments; or
- (b) if the relevant entity is not a company, an interest that, under the rules of the entity, gives the holder an entitlement to a proportion of the funds available for distribution of the proceeds from the entity's investments, and that distribution is the same as if the entity were a company and the holder were a shareholder in that company quarterly FDR hedging ratio means the ratio calculated using the formula in section EM 7(2).

Section EM 8: inserted, on 17 July 2013, by section 49 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

Introductory provisions

EW 1 What this subpart does

Financial arrangements rules

- (1) This subpart contains most of the financial arrangements rules.

Meaning of financial arrangements rules

- (2) Financial arrangements rules means—

- (a) the sections in this subpart; and
- (b) sections CC 3 (Financial arrangements), DB 11 to DB 15 (which relate to financial arrangements adjustments), EZ 51 (Transitional adjustment when changing to financial arrangements rules), FB 9 (Financial arrangements rules), GB 21 (Dealing that defeats intention of financial arrangements rules), RA 11 and RA 12 (which relate to adjustments to correct errors); and
- (c) sections 90AA to 90AD of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Purposes of financial arrangements rules

- (3) The purposes of the financial arrangements rules are—
 - (a) to require the parties to a financial arrangement to accrue over the term of the arrangement a fair and reasonable amount of income derived or expenditure incurred under the arrangement, and so to prevent the deferral of income or the advancement of expenditure; and
 - (b) to require the parties to a financial arrangement to disregard any distinction between capital and revenue amounts; and
 - (c) to require a party to a financial arrangement to calculate a base price adjustment when the rights and obligations of the party under the arrangement cease.

Defined in this Act: amount, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, income
Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 1

EW 2 Relationship of financial arrangements rules with other provisions

Financial arrangements rules override other provisions

- (1) The financial arrangements rules prevail over any other provision in relation to the timing and quantifying of income and expenditure under a financial arrangement to which the financial arrangements rules apply, unless the other provision expressly or by necessary implication requires otherwise.

Interest excluded from certain valuations

- (2) Expenditure under a financial arrangement to which the financial arrangements rules apply is not included in—
 - (a) the cost of trading stock for low-turnover traders under subpart EB (Valuation of trading stock (including dealer's livestock));
 - (b) the cost of livestock under subpart EC (Valuation of livestock);
 - (c) the cost of bloodstock under subpart EC;
 - (d) the cost of revenue account property;
 - (e) the cost of timber;
 - (f) the cost of acquiring a film or a film right;
 - (g) film production expenditure;

- (h) petroleum development expenditure:
- (i) petroleum exploration expenditure.

Defined in this Act: bloodstock, film, film production expenditure, film right, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, income, low-turnover trader, petroleum development expenditure, petroleum exploration expenditure, revenue account property, trading stock

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 2

Meaning of financial arrangement and excepted financial arrangement

EW 3 What is a financial arrangement?

Meaning

- (1) Financial arrangement means an arrangement described in any of subsections (2) to (4).

Money received for money provided

- (2) A financial arrangement is an arrangement under which a person receives money in consideration for that person, or another person, providing money to any person—
- (a) at a future time; or
 - (b) on the occurrence or non-occurrence of a future event, whether or not the event occurs because notice is given or not given.

Examples of money received for money provided

- (3) Without limiting subsection (2), each of the following is a financial arrangement:
- (a) a debt, including a debt that arises by law;
 - (b) a debt instrument;
 - (c) the deferral of the payment of some or all of the consideration for an absolute assignment of some or all of a person's rights under another financial arrangement or under an excepted financial arrangement;
 - (d) the deferral of the payment of some or all of the consideration for a legal defeasance releasing a person from some or all of their obligations under another financial arrangement or under an excepted financial arrangement.

Excepted financial arrangement ceasing to be excepted

- (4) For sections EW 7 and EW 8,—
- (a) an excepted financial arrangement that ceases to be an excepted financial arrangement through the operation of section EW 7 is a financial arrangement:

- (b) an excepted financial arrangement that ceases to be an excepted financial arrangement for a party through the operation of section EW 8 is a financial arrangement for the party.

Defined in this Act: consideration, excepted financial arrangement, financial arrangement, legal defeasance, money, notice, pay

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 3

Section EW 3 list of defined terms notice: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 74 of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

EW 4 What is not a financial arrangement?

Absolute assignment

- (1) An absolute assignment of some or all of a person's rights under another financial arrangement or under an excepted financial arrangement is not a financial arrangement, except to the extent described in section EW 3(3)(c).

Legal defeasance

- (2) A legal defeasance releasing a person from some or all of their obligations under another financial arrangement or under an excepted financial arrangement is not a financial arrangement, except to the extent described in section EW 3(3)(d).

Excepted financial arrangement

- (3) An excepted financial arrangement is not a financial arrangement. The relationship between financial arrangements and excepted financial arrangements is dealt with in section EW 6.

Defined in this Act: excepted financial arrangement, financial arrangement, legal defeasance

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 4

EW 5 What is an excepted financial arrangement?

Meaning

- (1) Excepted financial arrangement means an arrangement described in any of subsections (2) to (25). However,—
- (a) an arrangement described in any of subsections (18) to (20) may cease to be an excepted financial arrangement through the operation of section EW 7:
- (b) an arrangement described in any of subsections (21) to (25) may cease to be an excepted financial arrangement for a party who makes an election under section EW 8.

Annuity

- (2) Each of the following is an excepted financial arrangement to the extent to which it is not life financial reinsurance:
- (a) an annuity for a term contingent on human life:

- (b) an annuity for a term not contingent on human life to which section EY 8(2)(c) (Meaning of life insurance) applies.

Bet

- (3) A bet on any of the following is an excepted financial arrangement:
 - (a) a race, as defined in section 5 of the Racing Act 2003;
 - (b) a sporting event under a sports betting system administered under Part 6 of the Racing Act 2003;
 - (c) gambling, including a New Zealand lottery, as those terms are defined in section 4(1) of the Gambling Act 2003.

Emissions unit

- (3B) An emissions unit is an excepted financial arrangement.

Non-Kyoto greenhouse gas unit

- (3C) A non-Kyoto greenhouse gas unit is an excepted financial arrangement.

Research and development agreement

- (3D) An agreement between a person and another person (the provider) that the provider will provide property or services to the person in consideration for a payment to the provider by a public authority under a research and development growth grant for the benefit of the person is an excepted financial arrangement for the person.

Employment contract

- (4) An employment contract is an excepted financial arrangement.

Farm-out arrangement

- (5) A farm-out arrangement is an excepted financial arrangement.

Group investment fund

- (6) An interest in a group investment fund is an excepted financial arrangement.

Hire purchase: livestock or bloodstock

- (7) A hire purchase agreement for livestock or bloodstock is an excepted financial arrangement.

Insurance contract

- (8) An insurance contract to the extent to which it is not life financial reinsurance is an excepted financial arrangement.

Lease not finance lease

- (9) A lease that is not a finance lease is an excepted financial arrangement.

Loan in New Zealand currency

- (10) A loan to which all the following apply is an excepted financial arrangement for the lender:
 - (a) the loan is in New Zealand currency; and

- (b) the loan is interest-free; and
- (c) the loan is repayable on demand.

Partnership or joint venture

- (11) An interest in a partnership or a joint venture is an excepted financial arrangement.

Look-through companies

- (11B) A look-through interest for a look-through company is an excepted financial arrangement.

Share-lending arrangement

- (12) A share-lending arrangement is an excepted financial arrangement.

Share or option

- (13) A share, or an option to acquire or to dispose of shares, is an excepted financial arrangement, if the share is acquired, or the person becomes a party to the option, on or after 20 May 1999. This subsection does not apply to a withdrawable share or to an option to acquire or to dispose of withdrawable shares.

Specified preference share

- (14) A specified preference share to which section FZ 1 (Deduction for dividends paid on certain preference shares) of the Income Tax Act 2004 applies is an excepted financial arrangement.

Superannuation

- (15) A membership of a superannuation scheme is an excepted financial arrangement.

Warranty

- (16) A warranty for goods or services is an excepted financial arrangement.

Certain arrangements to which transitional resident is party

- (17) An arrangement to which a transitional resident is a party is an excepted financial arrangement for the transitional resident if—

- (a) no other party to the arrangement is a New Zealand resident; and
- (b) the arrangement is not for a purpose of a business carried on in New Zealand by a party to the arrangement.

Loan in foreign currency: private or domestic purpose

- (18) A loan to which all the following apply is an excepted financial arrangement for the borrower:

- (a) the loan is in foreign currency; and
- (b) the borrower is a cash basis person; and
- (c) the borrower uses the loan for a private or a domestic purpose.

Option: private or domestic purpose

- (19) An option to acquire or dispose of property, other than an interest in a financial arrangement, is an excepted financial arrangement for a person who becomes a party to the option for a private or a domestic purpose.

Private or domestic agreement for the sale and purchase of property or services

- (20) An agreement for the sale and purchase of property or services entered into by a person, or a specified option granted to or by a person, is an excepted financial arrangement for the person if,—

- (a) first,—
- (i) the agreement is entered into by the person for a private or a domestic purpose; or
 - (ii) the option is granted to or by the person for a private or a domestic purpose; and
- (b) second, the subject matter of the agreement or option is—
- (i) real property whose purchase price is less than $1,000,000; or
 - (ii) any other property whose purchase price is less than $400,000; or
 - (iii) services whose purchase price is less than $400,000; and
- (c) third,—
- (i) the agreement requires settlement of the property, or performance of the services, to take place on or before the 365th day after the date on which the agreement is entered into; or
 - (ii) the option requires settlement of the property, or performance of the services, if an agreement is entered into as a result of the exercise of the option, to take place on or before the 365th day after the date on which the option is granted.

Agreement for the sale and purchase of property or services

- (21) An agreement for the sale and purchase of property or services is an excepted financial arrangement, except for a party who makes an election under section EW 8, if—

- (a) all a party's sales or purchases under the agreement are prepaid; and
- (b) for all the party's agreements under which all sales and purchases are prepaid, the total value of prepayments, on every day in an income year, is $50,000 or less.

Short-term agreement for sale and purchase

- (22) A short-term agreement for sale and purchase is an excepted financial arrangement, except for a party who makes an election under section EW 8.

Short-term option

- (23) A short-term option is an excepted financial arrangement, except for a party who makes an election under section EW 8.

Travellers' cheques

- (24) Travellers' cheques are excepted financial arrangements, except for a party who makes an election under section EW 8.

Variable principal debt instrument

- (25) A variable principal debt instrument is an excepted financial arrangement, except for a party who makes an election under section EW 8, if the total value on every day in an income year of all variable principal debt instruments to which a person is a party is $50,000 or less.

Defined in this Act: agreement for the sale and purchase of property or services, arrangement, blood-stock, cash basis person, emissions unit, excepted financial arrangement, farm-out arrangement, finance lease, group investment fund, hire purchase agreement, income year, insurance contract, lease, life financial reinsurance, look-through company, look-through interest, New Zealand, New Zealand resident, non-Kyoto greenhouse gas unit, non-resident, pay, property, public authority, share, share-lending arrangement, short-term agreement for sale and purchase, short-term option, superannuation scheme, transitional resident, variable principal debt instrument, withdrawable share

EW 6 Relationship between financial arrangements and excepted financial arrangements

Part of financial arrangement

- (1) An excepted financial arrangement may be part of a financial arrangement.

Income or expenditure under specific excepted financial arrangements

- (2) If an excepted financial arrangement described in any of section EW 5(2) to (16) is part of a financial arrangement, an amount solely attributable to the excepted financial arrangement is not an amount taken into account under the financial arrangements rules.

Income or expenditure under remaining excepted financial arrangements

- (3) If an excepted financial arrangement described in any of section EW 5(17) to (25) is part of a financial arrangement, an amount solely attributable to the excepted financial arrangement is an amount taken into account under the financial arrangements rules.

Defined in this Act: amount, excepted financial arrangement, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 6

EW 7 Change from private or domestic purpose

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person who is a party to an excepted financial arrangement described in any of section EW 5(18) to (20) stops using it for a private or a domestic purpose.

Excepted financial arrangement becomes financial arrangement

- (2) On and after the date on which the person stops using the excepted financial arrangement for a private or a domestic purpose,—
- (a) it ceases to be an excepted financial arrangement for the person; and
 - (b) the person becomes a party to a financial arrangement.

Defined in this Act: excepted financial arrangement, financial arrangement

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 7

EW 8 Election to treat certain excepted financial arrangements as financial arrangements

Election

- (1) A person may choose to treat as financial arrangements—
- (a) all the excepted financial arrangements to which the person is a party that are described in any of section EW 5(21) to (25), if the expenditure under the agreements satisfies the general permission and is not denied by the general limitation as a deduction for the person;
 - (b) any excepted financial arrangement to which the person is a party that is described in section EW 5(10).

Election for class of short-term agreements

- (2) A person may choose to treat as financial arrangements a class of short-term agreements for sale and purchase if the expenditure under the agreements satisfies the general permission and is not denied by a general limitation as a deduction for the person. The person must identify the class by—
- (a) the currency that applies to the agreements;
 - (b) the term of the agreements.

How election made

- (3) The person makes an election by returning income derived or expenditure incurred under the chosen arrangements under the financial arrangements rules in their return of income.

How election revoked

- (4) The person revokes the election by giving notice to the Commissioner with their return of income and within the time that the return must be filed under section 37 of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Effect of revocation

- (5) The revocation applies to excepted financial arrangements the person enters into after the income year in which the notice is given.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, excepted financial arrangement, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, income, income year, notice, return of income, short-term agreement for sale and purchase

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 8

Section EW 8 heading: replaced (with effect on 27 September 2012), on 30 June 2014, by section 75(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EW 8(1) heading: replaced (with effect on 27 September 2012 and applying for a person and an excepted financial arrangement on and after that date, except if the person takes a tax position for the excepted financial arrangement, relying on an election made under section EW 8 as amended by section 50 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 and before its amendment by section 75(2) and (4) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014: (i) in a return of income received by the Commissioner before 14 April 2014; (ii) under a determination or binding ruling made by the Commissioner before 14 April 2014; and chooses after 14 April 2014 to continue taking the tax position), on 30 June 2014, by section 75(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Calculation and allocation of income and expenditure over financial arrangement's term

EW 12 When use of spreading method required

A party to a financial arrangement must use 1 of the spreading methods to calculate an amount of income or expenditure under the arrangement for each income year over the arrangement's term, and to allocate it to the income year, unless section EW 13 applies.

Defined in this Act: amount, financial arrangement, income, income year, spreading method

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 12

EW 13 When use of spreading method not required

Base price adjustment year

- (1) A person does not use any of the spreading methods for a financial arrangement in the income year in which section EW 29 requires them to calculate a base price adjustment for it.

Trustee of personal injury compensation trust

- (2) A trustee who holds a financial arrangement in trust to manage compensation paid for personal injury under the Accident Compensation Act 2001, the Accident Insurance Act 1988, any of the former Acts as defined in section 13 of the Accident Insurance Act 1998, the Workers' Compensation Act 1956, or a court order does not use any of the spreading methods for the financial arrangement if the trustee is a cash basis person.

Cash basis person

- (3) A cash basis person is not required to use any of the spreading methods, but may choose to do so under section EW 61.

Defined in this Act: cash basis person, financial arrangement, income year, pay, spreading method, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 13

Section EW 13(2): substituted, on 1 April 2009, by section 6(1) of the Taxation (Business Tax Measures) Act 2009 (2009 No 5).

Section EW 13(2): amended, on 21 December 2010, by section 189 of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

EW 14 What spreading methods do*Description*

- (1) The spreading methods are methods of calculating and allocating income and expenditure under a financial arrangement over the arrangement's term.

Methods

- (2) A spreading method is 1 of the following:
- (aa) a method for IFRS, to which sections EW 15B to EW 15I relate; or
 - (a) the yield to maturity method or an alternative, to which sections EW 16, EW 19, and EW 23 are relevant; or
 - (b) the straight-line method, to which sections EW 17 and EW 19 are relevant; or
 - (c) a market valuation method, to which sections EW 18, EW 19, and EW 23 are relevant; or
 - (d) a determination method or an alternative, to which sections EW 20 and EW 23 are relevant; or
 - (e) a financial reporting method, to which sections EW 21 and EW 23 are relevant; or
 - (f) a default method, to which section EW 22 is relevant.

Result

- (3) The amount calculated for and allocated to the income year under a spreading method is—

- (a) income, under section CC 3 (Financial arrangements), derived by the person in the income year; or
- (b) expenditure incurred by the person in the income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, financial arrangement, income, income year, spreading method

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 14

Section EW 14(2)(e): substituted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 133 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EW 15 What is included when spreading methods used

Consideration and amounts

- (1) A person using a spreading method must include, for the purpose of calculating and allocating income and expenditure under the financial arrangement,—
 - (a) all consideration that has been paid, and all consideration that is or will be payable, to the person for or under the financial arrangement, ignoring—
 - (i) non-contingent fees, if the relevant method is not the IFRS financial reporting method in section EW 15D:
 - (ii) non-integral fees, if the relevant method is the IFRS financial reporting method in section EW 15D or the modified fair value method in section EW 15G; and
 - (b) all consideration that has been paid, and all consideration that is or will be payable, by the person for or under the financial arrangement, ignoring—
 - (i) non-contingent fees, if the relevant method is not the IFRS financial reporting method in section EW 15D:
 - (ii) non-integral fees, if the relevant method is the IFRS financial reporting method in section EW 15D or the modified fair value method in section EW 15G; and
 - (c) all amounts that have been remitted, and all amounts that are to be remitted, by the person under the financial arrangement; and
 - (d) all amounts that would have been payable to the person under the financial arrangement if the amounts had not been remitted by law.

Consideration in particular cases

- (2) If any of sections EW 32 to EW 48 applies, the consideration referred to in subsection (1)(a) and (b) is adjusted under the relevant section.

Defined in this Act: amount, consideration, financial arrangement, IFRS, income, non-contingent fee, non-integral fee, pay, spreading method

EW 15C Preparing and reporting methods

Who this section applies to

- (1) A person who uses IFRSs to prepare financial statements and to report for financial arrangements must use 1 of the following methods for the financial arrangement:
 - (a) the IFRS financial reporting method in section EW 15D:
 - (b) a determination alternative in section EW 15E:
 - (c) the expected value method in section EW 15F:
 - (d) the modified fair value method in section EW 15G.

Exclusions

- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply in the circumstances set out in sections EW 15H and EW 15I.

Defined in this Act: fair value method, financial arrangement, financial statements, IFRS

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 15B(6)

Section EW 15C: inserted, on 1 April 2008, by section 366 of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

EW 15D IFRS financial reporting method

General IFRS rules

- (1) Under the IFRS financial reporting method, a person must allocate an amount to an income year under IFRS rules modified, as applicable, under subsection (2).

Modifications

- (2) The allocation is modified as follows:
 - (a) if the financial arrangement is a financial asset, an amount arising from an impaired credit adjustment under IFRSs is not allocated to an income year. However, when the fair value method is used, adjustments for financial arrangements held by the person are excluded from this paragraph, if the financial arrangements are not derivative instruments and the person's business includes dealing in those financial arrangements:
 - (ab) borrowing costs are not capitalised under NZIAS 23:
 - (ac) if the financial arrangement is an interest-free loan, no amount is allocated to equity, equity reserves, other comprehensive income, or profit or loss when the loan is initially entered into, and no interest is allocated subsequent to the initial entry:

- (ad) if the financial arrangement is a loan with a fair value (the loan initial value) when the loan is initially entered into that, because of the loan's interest rate, is less than the face value (the consideration initial value) at that time, then no amount is allocated to equity, equity reserves, other comprehensive income, or profit or loss, to the extent to which the amount relates solely to the difference, because of interest rates, between the consideration initial value and the loan initial value. Also, no interest is allocated subsequent to the initial entry on account of a movement in the fair value of the loan, to the extent to which the movement relates solely to the difference, because of interest rates, between the consideration initial value and the loan initial value:
- (ae) if the financial arrangement is a foreign ASAP, or is an IFRS designated FX hedge for a foreign ASAP, sections EW 32 and EW 33B apply to value, for IFRS rules, the relevant property or service. Section EW 33B also provides rules for subsequently adjusting the treatment of the relevant hedge:
- (b) even though an amount may be allocated to equity, equity reserves, or other comprehensive income under IFRSs, the amount must be allocated to an income year for tax purposes.

Fair value method not used for certain financial arrangements

- (2B) A person must not use the fair value method for a financial arrangement if—
 - (a) the financial arrangement is treated under IFRSs by the person as a hedge of another financial arrangement; and
 - (b) the person uses for the other financial arrangement a method that is not the IFRS financial reporting method.

Meaning of impaired credit adjustment

- (3) For the purposes of this section, impaired credit adjustment means—
 - (a) for a financial arrangement accounted for under the fair value method, the movement in fair value through the decline in credit quality of the arrangement:
 - (b) for a financial arrangement not accounted for under the fair value method, credit impairment adjustments made under IFRSs.

Defined in this Act: amount, derivative instrument, fair value method, foreign ASAP, FX hedge, IFRS, impaired credit adjustment, income year, NZIAS 23, tax

EW 15E Determination alternatives

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a person chooses in a return of income to use a determination alternative to IFRS for a financial arrangement; and
 - (b) the method is available under its terms for the person to use; and
 - (c) the financial arrangement—
 - (i) is not treated under IFRSs by the person as a hedge; or
 - (ii) is treated under IFRSs by the person as a hedge of other financial arrangements, for each of which the person does not use the fair value method; or
 - (iii) is treated under IFRSs by the person as a hedge of something that is not a financial arrangement.

General IFRS rules

- (2) The person must use 1 of the following methods modified, as applicable, under subsection (3) or (3B):
- (aa) Determination G3: Yield to maturity, but only if the financial arrangement is denominated in New Zealand currency and is not a derivative instrument. When applying Determination G3, Determination G25: Variation in the terms of a financial arrangement must be used:
 - (a) Determination G9C: Financial arrangements that are denominated in a currency other than New Zealand dollars: an expected value approach:
 - (b) Determination G14B: Forward contracts for foreign exchange and commodities: an expected value approach:
 - (c) Determination G27: Swaps:
 - (d) a determination made by the Commissioner under section 90AC(1)(bb) of the Tax Administration Act 1994:
 - (e) a method other than those set out in paragraphs (aa) to (d) if the alternative—
 - (i) has regard to the purposes of the financial arrangements rules under section EW 1(3); and
 - (ii) is for a financial arrangement similar to 1 to which the methods set out in paragraphs (aa) to (d) may apply; and

- (iii) results in the allocation to each income year of amounts that are not materially different from those that would have been allocated using 1 of the methods set out in paragraphs (aa) to (d).

Modifications

- (3) For a determination alternative that is Determination G9C or G14B, the allocation is modified as follows:
 - (a) the term forward contract is treated as including a conditional or unconditional agreement to pay or be paid an amount calculated by reference to the price of property or services, without the property being delivered or the services being performed;
 - (b) a requirement that all companies in a group of companies to which the person belongs choose to use the determination alternative is treated as met if—
 - (i) all companies in the group notify the Commissioner that they choose Determination G9C or G14B on or before the 63rd day after the person entered into the financial arrangement, or a later time as the Commissioner allows; and
 - (ii) the financial arrangement is the first financial arrangement of the group for which Determination G9C or G14B may be used.

Modifications

- (3B) For a determination alternative that is Determination G27, the allocation is modified as follows:
 - (a) method C must be used, and not methods A, B, or D;
 - (b) for method C, if relevant, Determination G9C and not Determination G9A must be used.

Succeeding determinations

- (4) For the purposes of this section, the determinations set out in subsection (2)(a) to (c) include a determination that succeeds the determination.

EW 15F Expected value method

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a person has entered into a financial arrangement in the ordinary course of their business and the person is not in the business of dealing in relation to the financial arrangement; and
 - (b) the financial arrangement is denominated in a currency other than New Zealand dollars or is a derivative instrument; and
 - (bb) the financial arrangement is not a foreign ASAP; and
 - (c) the financial arrangement—
 - (i) is not treated under IFRSs by the person as a hedge; or
 - (ii) is treated under IFRSs by the person as a hedge of other financial arrangements, for each of which the person does not use the fair value method; or

- (iii) is treated under IFRSs by the person as a hedge of something that is not a financial arrangement; and
- (d) the person and all companies in a group of companies to which the person belongs have chosen to use the expected value method and have notified the Commissioner at the time of filing a return of income.

Exception for some group members and financial arrangements

- (1B) A person who is a member of a group of companies and has notified an election under subsection (1)(d) is not required under this section to use the expected value method for a financial arrangement if—
- (a) the person does not have a business of a substantially similar nature to a business of another company in the group; and
 - (b) the financial arrangement is with other parties, of which—
 - (i) none are associated with the person or a member of the group; or
 - (ii) all are associated with the person and use the method used by the person for the arrangement.

Method chosen

- (2) The person must use a method that—
- (a) has the features of an expected value approach described in Determinations G9C and G14B; and
 - (b) allocates a reasonable amount for each income year of the term of the financial arrangement, having regard to the purposes of the financial arrangements rules under section EW 1(3).

EW 15G Modified fair value method

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a person has entered into a financial arrangement in the ordinary course of their business and the person is not in the business of dealing in relation to the financial arrangement; and
 - (b) the financial arrangement is denominated in a currency other than New Zealand dollars or is a derivative instrument; and
 - (bb) the financial arrangement is not a foreign ASAP; and
 - (c) the financial arrangement—
 - (i) is not treated under IFRSs by the person as a hedge; or

- (ii) is treated under IFRSs by the person as a hedge of other financial arrangements, for each of which the person does not use the fair value method; or
- (iii) is treated under IFRSs by the person as a hedge of something that is not a financial arrangement; and
- (d) the person and all companies in a group of companies to which the person belongs have chosen to use the modified fair value method and have notified the Commissioner at the time of filing a return of income.

Exception for some group members and financial arrangements

- (1B) A person who is a member of a group of companies and has notified an election under subsection (1)(d) is not required under this section to use the modified fair value method for a financial arrangement if—
- (a) the person does not have a business of a substantially similar nature to a business of another company in the group; and
 - (b) the financial arrangement is with other parties, of which—
 - (i) none are associated with the person or a member of the group; or
 - (ii) all are associated with the person and use the method used by the person for the arrangement; and
 - (c) subsection (3) does not require the person to use the modified fair value for the financial arrangement.

Method chosen

- (2) The person must use the fair value method, modified so that the following are not required to be allocated to an income year:
- (a) an amount allocated by the person to equity, equity reserves, or other comprehensive income under IFRSs for the financial arrangement;
 - (b) an amount not allocated by the person to equity, equity reserves, or other comprehensive income under IFRSs for the financial arrangement, if—
 - (i) the person and another person (the other person) are members of the same wholly-owned group; and
 - (ii) the person and the other person are members of the same group consolidated under IFRSs; and
 - (iii) the financial arrangement is related to an arrangement (the other arrangement) of the other person; and
 - (iv) the other person does not use the fair value method for the other arrangement; and
 - (v) the group consolidated under IFRSs makes an allocation, to equity, equity reserves, or other comprehensive income under IFRSs, corresponding to the amount.

Some financial arrangements with amounts allocated to equity reserves

- (3) A person who is a member of a wholly-owned group and of a group consolidated under IFRSs (the consolidated group) must use the modified fair value method for a financial arrangement if—
- (a) the person or the consolidated group allocates an amount to equity, equity reserves, or other comprehensive income under IFRSs for the financial arrangement; and
 - (b) a member of the consolidated group, under subsection (2)(b), does not allocate to the income year an amount for a financial arrangement.

EW 15H Mandatory use of some determinations

Required methods

- (1) Section EW 15C(1) does not apply when any of the following determinations apply to a person and a financial arrangement:
 - (a) Determination G5C: Mandatory conversion convertible notes:
 - (b) Determination G22: Optional conversion convertible notes denominated in New Zealand dollars convertible at the option of the holder:
 - (c) Determination G22A: Optional convertible notes denominated in New Zealand dollars:
 - (d) [Repealed]
 - (e) a method other than those set out in paragraphs (a) to (d) if the alternative—
 - (i) has regard to the purposes of the financial arrangements rules under section EW 1(3); and
 - (ii) is for a financial arrangement similar to 1 to which the methods set out in paragraphs (a) to (d) may apply; and
 - (iii) results in the allocation to each income year of amounts that are not materially different from those that would have been allocated using 1 of the methods set out in paragraphs (a) to (d).

Succeeding determinations

- (2) For the purposes of this section, the determinations set out in subsection (1)(a), (c), and (d) include a determination that succeeds the determination.

Defined in this Act: amount, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, income year

EW 15I Mandatory use of yield to maturity method for some arrangements*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies and section EW 15C(1) does not apply when—
- (a) a person is not required to use a method under section EW 15H for a financial arrangement; and
 - (b) the financial arrangement—
 - (i) includes in part an excepted financial arrangement; or
 - (ii) is treated by the person or its issuer, all or in part, as an equity instrument under IFRSs; or
 - (iib) is, under NZIAS 17 and in the person’s financial statements, classified as an operating lease; or
 - (iii) is a foreign ASAP that is life financial reinsurance; or
 - (iv) is an agreement for the sale and purchase of property or services that is not a foreign ASAP.

Methods

- (2) The person must use 1 of the following methods to allocate an amount to an income year if the method is available under its terms for the person to use:
- (a) the yield to maturity method:
 - (b) Determination G26: Variable rate financial arrangements or a determination that succeeds it:
 - (c) a determination made by the Commissioner under section 90AC(1)(bb) of the Tax Administration Act 1994:
 - (d) a method other than those set out in paragraphs (a) to (c) if the alternative—

EW 16 Yield to maturity method or alternative

Who may use yield to maturity method

- (1) A person who is a party to a financial arrangement may use the yield to maturity method, if the person is not required to use a method under section EW 15B.

Who may use alternative

- (2) A person who is a party to a financial arrangement may use an alternative to the yield to maturity method, if the person is not required to use a method under section EW 15B, but may do so only if the alternative—
 - (a) has regard to the principles of accrual accounting; and
 - (b) conforms with commercially acceptable practice; and
 - (c) results in the allocation to each income year of amounts that are not materially different from those that would have been allocated using the yield to maturity method; and
 - (d) is also used by the person for financial reporting purposes for financial arrangements that are the same as, or similar to, the arrangements, although section EW 23 may apply if the alternative is not used in this way.

Defined in this Act: amount, financial arrangement, IFRS, income year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 16

Section EW 16(1): amended, on 1 April 2008, by section 367(1) of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

EW 17 Straight-line method

Who may use straight-line method

- (1) A person who is a party to a financial arrangement may use the straight-line method if—

- (a) the total value of all the financial arrangements to which the person is a party in an income year has been $1,850,000 or less on every day in the income year; and
- (b) the person complies with section EW 25(1); and
- (c) the person is not required to use a method under section EW 15B.

Calculation of total value of financial arrangements

- (2) When calculating total value, the person must—
 - (a) include every one of their financial arrangements, whether the financial arrangements rules or the old financial arrangements rules apply to it; and
 - (b) use the following values:
 - (i) for a fixed principal financial arrangement, its face value;
 - (ii) for a variable principal debt instrument, the amount owing by or to the person under the financial arrangement on the relevant day;
 - (iii) for a financial arrangement to which the old financial arrangements rules apply, the value determined under those rules.

Increase in specified sum

- (3) The Governor-General may make an Order in Council increasing the sum specified in subsection (1).

Defined in this Act: amount, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, fixed principal financial arrangement, IFRS, income year, old financial arrangements rules, variable principal debt instrument

EW 18 Market valuation method

Who may use market valuation method

- (1) A person who is a party to a financial arrangement may use, for the arrangement, a market valuation method if—
 - (a) either—
 - (i) the person's business includes dealing in financial arrangements of the class to which the arrangement belongs; or
 - (ii) the financial arrangement is an exchange-traded option, a forward contract for foreign exchange, or a futures contract; and

- (b) the parties to the financial arrangement are not associated persons; and
- (c) either—
 - (i) the Commissioner has approved the market, the method, and the source of information used to determine market values by a determination under section 90AC(1)(c) of the Tax Administration Act 1994; or
 - (ii) the person can demonstrate market prices that are reliable; and
- (d) the method conforms with commercially acceptable practice; and
- (e) the person complies with section EW 25(4); and
- (f) the method is also used by the person for financial reporting purposes for financial arrangements that are the same as, or similar to, the arrangements, although section EW 23 may apply if the method is not used in this way; and
- (g) the person is not required to use a method under section EW 15B.

Application of Tax Administration Act 1994

- (2) Section 22A(1) of the Tax Administration Act 1994 applies to a person to whom subsection (1)(c)(ii) applies.

Defined in this Act: associated person, business, Commissioner, financial arrangement, forward contract, futures contract, IFRS

EW 20 Determination method or alternative

Who may use determination method

- (1) A person who is a party to a financial arrangement may use a determination method, that is, a method in a determination made by the Commissioner under section 90AC(1)(d) of the Tax Administration Act 1994 and applying to the arrangement, if—
- (a) the person cannot use the yield to maturity method or an alternative; and
 - (b) the person—
 - (i) may not use the straight-line method or a market valuation method; or
 - (ii) may use the straight-line method or a market valuation method but chooses not to do so; and
 - (c) the person is not required to use a method under section EW 15B.

Who may use alternative

- (2) A person who is a party to a financial arrangement may use an alternative to a determination method, but may do so only if—
- (a) the person cannot use the yield to maturity method or an alternative; and
 - (b) the person—
 - (i) may not use the straight-line method or a market valuation method; or
 - (ii) may use the straight-line method or a market valuation method but chooses not to do so; and
 - (bb) the person is not required to use a method under section EW 15B; and
 - (c) the alternative has regard to the principles of accrual accounting; and
 - (d) the alternative conforms with commercially acceptable practice; and
 - (e) the alternative results in the allocation to each income year of amounts that are not materially different from those that would have been allocated using the determination method; and
 - (f) the alternative is also used by the person for financial reporting purposes for financial arrangements that are the same as, or similar to, the arrangements although section EW 23 may apply if the alternative is not used in this way.

EW 21 Financial reporting method

A person who is a party to a financial arrangement may use a financial reporting method if—

- (a) the person cannot use the yield to maturity method or an alternative; and
- (b) the person—
 - (i) may not use the straight-line method or a market valuation method; or
 - (ii) may use the straight-line method or a market valuation method but chooses not to do so; and
- (c) the person is not required to use a method under section EW 15B; and
- (d) the Commissioner has not made a determination for the financial arrangement under section 90AC(1)(d) of the Tax Administration Act 1994; and
- (e) the method conforms with commercially acceptable practice; and
- (f) the method is also used by the person for financial reporting purposes for financial arrangements that are the same as, or similar to, the arrangement (although section EW 23 may apply if the method is not used in this way); and
- (g) the method allocates a reasonable amount to each income year over the financial arrangement's term.

Defined in this Act: amount, Commissioner, financial arrangement, income year

Section EW 21: substituted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 141 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EW 22 Default method

A person who is a party to a financial arrangement may use a default method if—

- (a) the person cannot use the yield to maturity method or an alternative; and
- (b) the person—
 - (i) may not use the straight-line method or a market valuation method; or
 - (ii) may use the straight-line method or a market valuation method but chooses not to do so; and
- (c) the person may not use a determination method or an alternative, or a financial reporting method; and
- (d) [Repealed]
- (e) the method conforms with commercially acceptable practice; and

- (f) the method allocates a reasonable amount to each income year over the financial arrangement's term.

Defined in this Act: amount, financial arrangement, income, income year

Section EW 22(d): repealed, on 1 April 2008, by section 373(2) of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

EW 23 Failure to use method for financial reporting purposes

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person would be allowed to use a method but for the fact that the person does not comply with whichever is relevant of sections EW 16(2)(d), EW 18(1)(f), EW 20(2)(f) and EW 21(f).

Person treated as complying

- (2) The person is treated as complying with whichever is relevant of sections EW 16(2)(d), EW 18(1)(f), EW 20(2)(f) and EW 21(f) if the method that the person uses for each financial arrangement—
- (a) is used for the financial arrangement, and each financial arrangement that is the same as, or similar to, the arrangements, for every income year over its term for the purposes of the financial arrangements rules; and
- (b) appropriately reflects the dominant purpose for which the person entered into the financial arrangement; and
- (c) is not used for the purpose of tax avoidance; and
- (d) has been approved for use in circumstances applying to the person by the Commissioner, either by giving notice to the person or by making a determination under section 90AC(1)(f) of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Qualification on subsection (2)(a)

- (3) A method complies with subsection (2)(a), even if it is a change from a previous method, as long as the Commissioner approves the change in method under the circumstances or conditions specified in a determination under section 90AC(1)(g) of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

IFRS financial reporting

- (4) This section is modified by section EZ 32B (Transitional rule for IFRS reporting).

EW 24 Consistency of use of spreading method

Consistency required

- (1) A person must use the same spreading method for financial arrangements that are the same as, or similar to, the arrangements for every income year. This subsection is overridden by subsection (3).

Straight-line method and market valuation method

- (2) Section EW 25 sets out particular consistency requirements for the straight-line method and a market valuation method.

IFRS method

- (2B) Section EW 25B sets out a particular consistency requirement for a method for IFRS preparers.

Change of spreading method

- (3) Section EW 26 sets out the circumstances in which a person may change their spreading method.

Defined in this Act: financial arrangement, IFRS, income year, spreading method

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 24

EW 25 Consistency of use of straight-line method and market valuation method

Straight-line method for all financial arrangements

- (1) A person using the straight-line method in an income year for a financial arrangement must use it for all financial arrangements—
 - (a) to which the person is a party at the end of the income year; and

(b) for which the person can use it.

Straight-line method for every income year of term

- (2) A person who starts to use the straight-line method for a financial arrangement must use it over the arrangement's remaining term until section EW 29 requires them to calculate a base price adjustment for the arrangement, unless section EW 26(1) applies.

Total value may be over $1,850,000

- (3) Subsection (2) applies even if the total value of all the financial arrangements to which the person is a party is over $1,850,000 at any time in the arrangement's remaining term.

Market valuation method

- (4) A person who starts to use a market valuation method for a financial arrangement must use it over the arrangement's remaining term until section EW 29 requires them to calculate a base price adjustment for the arrangement, unless section EW 6(1) applies.

Increase in specified sum

- (5) The Governor-General may make an Order in Council under section EW 17(3) increasing the sum specified in subsection (3).

Defined in this Act: financial arrangement, income year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 25

Section EW 25(3) heading: amended, on 1 April 2009, by section 8(1) of the Taxation (Business Tax Measures) Act 2009 (2009 No 5).

Section EW 25(3): amended, on 1 April 2009, by section 8(2) of the Taxation (Business Tax Measures) Act 2009 (2009 No 5).

EW 25B Consistency of use of IFRS method

Consistency

- (1) A person who uses a method for IFRS under section EW 15C for a financial arrangement must use the method for—
- (a) the remaining term of the arrangement until section EW 29 requires them to calculate a base price adjustment for the arrangement;
 - (b) other financial arrangements that are the same as, or similar to, the arrangement unless a different accounting treatment under IFRSs is used.

Exception

- (2) Despite subsection (1)(a), a person may change a method for IFRS if—
- (a) the new method is available to them to use; and
 - (b) the accounting treatment for the financial arrangement under IFRSs is changed in the same income year in which the method is changed for tax purposes.

Spreading method adjustment

- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2), section EW 26(3), (4), and EW 27 apply as if the change in method were a change under section EW 26(2). However, those sections do not apply if the change—
- (a) is from the fair value method; and
 - (b) relates to a financial arrangement that is not subject to a creditor work-out.

Modification

- (4) Section EZ 52B (Consistency of use of IFRS method: Determination G3 change allowed) modifies subsection (2).

Defined in this Act: creditor workout, fair value method, financial arrangement, IFRS, income year
Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 25B

EW 26 Change of spreading method*Requirements for change from straight-line and market value method*

- (1) A person may change from the straight-line method or the market value method if they change to a method that is not a method for IFRS under section EW 15B, and the Commissioner has authorised the change and notified the person of the authorisation.

Change of other method

- (2) A person may change from any spreading method to any other method if the Commissioner's notification under subsection (1) is not required for the change, and they have a sound commercial reason for the change. The advancement, deferral, or reduction of an income tax liability is not a sound commercial reason.

Spreading method adjustment

- (3) When a person changes their spreading method under subsection (2),—
- (a) they must use the formula in section EW 27 to calculate a spreading method adjustment for the income year in which they change the method; and
 - (b) their only income or expenditure under the financial arrangement for the income year to which the formula is applied is the spreading method adjustment.

Positive or negative spreading method adjustment

- (4) A spreading method adjustment calculated under section EW 27 is,—
- (a) if positive, income, under section CC 3 (Financial arrangements), derived by the person in the income year for which the calculation is made;
 - (b) if negative, expenditure incurred by the person in the income year for which the calculation is made.

Application of Tax Administration Act 1994

- (5) Section 22A(2) of the Tax Administration Act 1994 applies to a person to whom subsection (2) applies.

Exception for fair value method

- (6) Section EW 29(13) applies, and subsections (3) and (4) do not apply, to a financial arrangement, if the person's change of spreading method involves a change—
- (a) from the fair value method and the financial arrangement is not subject to a creditor workout;
 - (b) from the market value method to a method for IFRS under section EW 15B.

Meaning of sound commercial reason

- (7) In this section, sound commercial reason includes—
- (a) starting or stopping the use of IFRSs to prepare financial statements at the same time as starting or stopping the use of a method for IFRS under section EW 15B;
 - (b) starting to use a method for IFRS under section EW 15B for a financial arrangement for the first time.

Modification

- (8) Section EZ 52C (Change of spreading method: Determination G22 to Determination G22A) modifies this section.

EW 27 Spreading method adjustment formula

Calculation of spreading method adjustment

- (1) A person calculates a spreading method adjustment using the formula in subsection (3).

What formula applies to

- (2) The person must apply the formula to each financial arrangement to which they—
- (a) are a party at the end of the income year in which they change their spreading method; and
 - (b) were a party at the end of the previous income year.

Formula

- (3) The formula is—
- $$\begin{aligned} & \text{income (new method) – expenditure (new method)} \\ & - \text{income (old method) + expenditure (old method).} \end{aligned}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (4) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (5) to (8).

Income (new method)

- (5) Income (new method) is the amount that would have been income derived by the person under the financial arrangement if the new method had been used for the arrangement in the period starting on the date on which the person became a party to the arrangement and ending on the last day of the income year for which the calculation is made.

Expenditure (new method)

- (6) Expenditure (new method) is the amount that would have been expenditure incurred by the person under the financial arrangement if the new method had been used for the arrangement in the period starting on the date on which the person became a party to the arrangement and ending on the last day of the income year for which the calculation is made.

Income (old method)

- (7) Income (old method) is income, under section CC 3 (Financial arrangements), derived by the person under the financial arrangement in earlier income years.

Expenditure (old method)

- (8) Expenditure (old method) is expenditure incurred by the person under the financial arrangement in earlier income years.

Modification

- (9) Section EZ 52C (Change of spreading method: Determination G22 to Determination G22A) modifies this section.

Defined in this Act: amount, financial arrangement, income, income year, spreading method

Section EW 27(9): added, on 26 September 2010, by section 40 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

Calculation and allocation of income and expenditure when rights and obligations under financial arrangement cease

EW 28 How base price adjustment calculated

A party to a financial arrangement who must calculate a base price adjustment, as described in sections EW 29 and EW 30, calculates it using the formula in section EW 31.

Defined in this Act: financial arrangement

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 28

EW 29 When calculation of base price adjustment required*Ceasing to be New Zealand resident*

- (1) A party to a financial arrangement who ceases to be a New Zealand resident must calculate a base price adjustment as at the date of the party's ceasing to be a New Zealand resident. This subsection is overridden by section EW 30(1) and (2).

Ceasing to be party for purpose of New Zealand business

- (2) A person who is not a New Zealand resident and who is a party to a financial arrangement for the purpose of a business the party carries on through a fixed establishment in New Zealand must calculate a base price adjustment as at the date of the party's ceasing to be a party to the arrangement for that purpose.

Maturity

- (3) A party to a financial arrangement must calculate a base price adjustment as at the date on which the arrangement matures.

Treated as maturity

- (4) A financial arrangement that has not matured because an amount has not been paid is treated as if it had matured if—
 - (a) the amount not paid is immaterial; and
 - (b) the arrangement has been structured to avoid the application of section EW 31.

Disposal

- (5) A party to a financial arrangement who disposes of the arrangement must calculate a base price adjustment as at the date of the disposal.

Absolute assignment

- (6) A party to a financial arrangement who makes an absolute assignment of all the party's rights under the arrangement must calculate a base price adjustment as at the date of the absolute assignment.

Defeasance

- (7) A party to a financial arrangement who makes a legal defeasance of all the party's obligations under the arrangement must calculate a base price adjustment as at the date of the legal defeasance.

Disposal at discount to associated person

- (8) A party to a financial arrangement that is a debt must calculate a base price adjustment as at the date on which the creditor disposes of the debt to a person associated with the debtor and at a discount in the circumstances described in section EW 43.

Discharge without consideration

- (9) A party to a financial arrangement must calculate a base price adjustment as at the date on which a party to the arrangement is discharged from making all remaining payments under the arrangement without fully adequate consideration.

Operation of law

- (10) A party to a financial arrangement must calculate a base price adjustment as at the date on which a party to the arrangement is released from making all remaining payments under the arrangement under the Insolvency Act 2006 or the Companies Act 1993 or the laws of a country or territory other than New Zealand.

Composition with creditors

- (11) A party to a financial arrangement must calculate a base price adjustment as at the date on which a party to the arrangement is released from making all remaining payments under the arrangement by a deed or agreement of composition with the party's creditors.

Lapse of time

- (12) A party to a financial arrangement must calculate a base price adjustment as at the date on which all remaining payments under the arrangement become irrecoverable or unenforceable through the lapse of time.

Changing from fair value method

- (13) A party to a financial arrangement must calculate a base price adjustment, for the first income year for which a changed method is used for the financial arrangement, where the change in method is—
- (a) from the fair value method and the financial arrangement is not subject to a creditor workout:
 - (b) from the market value method to a method for IFRS under section EW 15B.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, business, consideration, creditor workout, fair value method, financial arrangement, fixed establishment, legal defeasance, maturity, New Zealand, New Zealand resident, pay

EW 30 When calculation of base price adjustment not required

Cash basis person who ceases to be temporary New Zealand resident

- (1) A cash basis person who ceases to be a New Zealand resident before the first day of the fourth income year following the income year in which they first became a New Zealand resident does not calculate a base price adjustment for a financial arrangement to which they—
- were a party before first becoming a New Zealand resident; and
 - are a party on the date on which they cease to be a New Zealand resident.

Other party who ceases to be New Zealand resident

- (2) A party to a financial arrangement who ceases to be a New Zealand resident does not calculate a base price adjustment to the extent to which the arrangement relates to a business the party carries on through a fixed establishment in New Zealand.

Creditor when legal defeasance occurs

- (3) A party who has a right to receive money under a financial arrangement the obligations of which are the subject of a legal defeasance does not calculate a base price adjustment on the date of the defeasance if the defeasance requires another person to meet the remaining obligations of the arrangement.

Debtor when legal defeasance occurs

- (4) A party to a financial arrangement does not calculate a base price adjustment if—
- their obligations under the arrangement are the subject of an absolute legal defeasance; and

(b) some or all of the consideration for the defeasance is deferred.

Creditor when assignment occurs

(5) A party to a financial arrangement does not calculate a base price adjustment if—

(a) their rights under the arrangement are the subject of an absolute assignment; and

(b) some or all of the consideration for the assignment is deferred.

Defined in this Act: business, cash basis person, consideration, financial arrangement, fixed establishment, income year, legal defeasance, money, New Zealand, New Zealand resident

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 30

EW 31 Base price adjustment formula

Calculation of base price adjustment

(1) A person calculates a base price adjustment using the formula in subsection (5).

When formula applies

(2) The person calculates the base price adjustment for the income year in which section EW 29 applies to them.

Positive base price adjustment

(3) A base price adjustment, if positive, is income, under section CC 3 (Financial arrangements), derived by the person in the income year for which the calculation is made. However, it is not income to the extent to which it arises from expenditure incurred by the person under the financial arrangement in earlier income years and for which a deduction was denied in those income years.

Negative base price adjustment

(4) A base price adjustment, if negative, is expenditure incurred by the person in the income year for which the calculation is made. The person is allowed a deduction for the expenditure under sections DB 6 to DB 8 (which relate to deductions for interest) or, if none of those sections applies, under section DB 11 (Negative base price adjustment).

Formula

(5) The formula is—

consideration – income + expenditure + amount remitted.

Definition of items in formula

(6) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (7) to (11).

Consideration

(7) Consideration is all consideration that has been paid, and all consideration that is or will be payable, to the person for or under the financial arrangement, minus all consideration that has been paid, and all consideration that is or will be payable, by the person for or under the financial arrangement. For the purposes of this subsection, the following are ignored:

- (a) non-contingent fees, if the relevant method is not the IFRS financial reporting method in section EW 15D:
- (b) non-integral fees, if the relevant method is the IFRS financial reporting method in section EW 15D.

Consideration in particular cases

- (8) If any of sections EW 32 to EW 48, or EZ 52D applies, the consideration referred to in subsection (7) is adjusted under the relevant section.

Income

- (9) Income is—
- (a) income derived by the person under the financial arrangement in earlier income years; and
 - (b) dividends derived by the person from the release of the obligation to repay the amount lent; and
 - (c) income derived under section CF 2(2) and (3) (Remission of specified suspensory loans).

Expenditure

- (10) Expenditure is expenditure incurred by the person under the financial arrangement in earlier income years.

Amount remitted

- (11) Amount remitted—
- (a) is an amount (a remission) that is not included in the consideration paid or payable to the person because it has been remitted—
 - (i) by the person; or
 - (ii) by law; but
 - (b) does not include a remission that is self-remission.

Defined in this Act: amount, consideration, deduction, dividend, financial arrangement, IFRS, income, income year, non-contingent fee, non-integral fee, pay, self-remission

Consideration

Consideration when financial arrangement involves property or services

EW 32 Consideration for agreement for sale and purchase (ASAP) of property or services, hire purchase agreement, specified option, or finance lease

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when an original party to an agreement for the sale and purchase of property or services, a hire purchase agreement, a specified option, or a finance lease pays or is paid consideration that includes property or services.

Value of property or services

- (2) The value of the property or services is determined by applying, as modified by sections EW 33B, EW 33C, and EW 34 (which relate to certain agreements), subsections (2B) to (6) in numerical order until a subsection applies.

IFRS foreign ASAPs

- (2B) If the person uses IFRSs to prepare financial statements or to report for financial arrangements, and the relevant financial arrangement is a foreign ASAP, the value of the property or services is the value under IFRS rules, modified on account of FX hedges as provided by section EW 33B.

Future or discounted value: foreign ASAPs

- (2C) If the relevant financial arrangement is a foreign ASAP, the value of the property or services is the value of the amounts paid or payable under the foreign ASAP for the property or services, but ignoring amounts that are expressly provided in the agreement as paid or payable on account of the future value, or the discounted value, or a combination of both the future and discounted values, on the rights date, of amounts paid or payable. Section EW 33B may apply in relation to FX hedges, and section EW 33C applies.

Future or discounted value: foreign ASAPs subject to 12 month ASAP

- (2D) If the relevant financial arrangement is a foreign ASAP that is a 12 month ASAP, the value of the property or services is the future value, or the discounted value, or a combination of both the future and discounted values, on the rights date, of the amounts paid or payable under the 12 month ASAP for the property or services. Section EW 33B may apply in relation to FX hedges, and section EW 33C applies.

Express value: foreign ASAPs not subject to 12 month ASAP

- (2E) If the relevant financial arrangement is a foreign ASAP that is not a 12 month ASAP, the value of the property or services is the value expressly provided in the agreement as paid or payable for the property or services. Section EW 33B may apply in relation to FX hedges, and section EW 33C applies.

Lowest price

- (3) The value of the property or services is the lowest price the parties would have agreed on for the property or services, on the date the agreement, option, or lease was entered into, if payment had been required in full at the time the first right in the property was transferred or the services provided. Two qualifications are—
- (a) this subsection does not apply to an agreement for the sale and purchase of property or services that is part of another financial arrangement;
 - (b) section EW 34 applies if the consideration is in a foreign currency.

Cash price

- (4) The value of the property or services is the cash price of the property or services to which the agreement, option, or lease relates, as determined by section 5 of the Credit Contracts and Consumer Finance Act 2003, if that Act applies to the agreement, option, or lease.

Future or discounted value

- (5) The value of the property or services is the future value, or the discounted value, or a combination of both the future and discounted values, of the amounts paid or payable on the date on which the first right in the property is transferred or the services are provided, as determined by the Commissioner under a determination under section 90AC(1)(i) of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Determined by Commissioner

- (6) The value of the property or services is the amount determined by the Commissioner when either party to the arrangement applies to the Commissioner for a specific determination. Both parties must use this amount.

Exclusion

- (7) This section does not apply if the agreement, option, or lease has lapsed or does not proceed.

Relationship with subject matter

- (8) Sections EZ 75 and EZ 76 (which relate to some ASAPs before the 2014–15 income year) override this section.

Defined in this Act: 12 month ASAP, agreement for the sale and purchase of property or services, amount, apply, Commissioner, consideration, finance lease, financial arrangement, foreign ASAP, FX hedge, hire purchase agreement, IFRS, pay, property, right, rights date, specified option

EW 33B Foreign ASAPs: designated FX hedges*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when, for a person's financial arrangement, section EW 32(2B) applies, and—
- (a) the financial arrangement is a foreign ASAP that relates to:
- (i) property that is or will be depreciable property or revenue account property; or
 - (ii) services, the sale or purchase of which, as relevant for the person, gives rise to assessable income or deductions under this Act outside of the financial arrangements rules; and
- (b) the person holds an IFRS designated FX hedge in relation to the financial arrangement.

When this section applies

- (2) This section applies when, for a person's financial arrangement, section EW 32(2C), (2D), or (2E) applies, and—
- (a) the financial arrangement is a foreign ASAP that relates to:
- (i) property that is or will be depreciable property or revenue account property; or
 - (ii) services, the sale or purchase of which, as relevant for the person, gives rise to assessable income or deductions under this Act outside of the financial arrangements rules; and
- (b) the person notifies the Commissioner that they have made an irrevocable election to apply this section to all financial arrangements for property and services described in paragraph (a)(i) and (ii), at the time of—
- (i) filing a return of income for the income year in which they enter into the financial arrangement; or
 - (ii) filing a return of income for an earlier income year; and

- (c) the person holds a non-IFRS designated FX hedge in relation to the financial arrangement.

Value: IFRS

- (3) For a financial arrangement described in subsection (1) the value under section EW 32 of the relevant property or services is modified by the amount attributed under IFRS rules to that value on account of the relevant IFRS designated FX hedge.

Value: non-IFRS

- (4) For a financial arrangement described in subsection (2) the value under section EW 32 of the relevant property or services is modified by the amount that would be the base price adjustment for the relevant non-IFRS designated FX hedge in the absence of this section.

FX hedge amounts attributed to value: No double-counting, no separate spreading or base price adjustment

- (5) When applying a spreading method to, or calculating a base price adjustment for, amounts under an IFRS designated FX hedge or a non-IFRS designated FX hedge, to the extent to which an amount is attributed to the value of the property or services under this section, that amount is excluded from the spreading method or base price adjustment.

Relationship with subject matter

- (6) Sections EZ 75 and EZ 76 (which relate to some ASAPs before the 2014–15 income year) override this section.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, depreciable property, financial arrangement, foreign ASAP, IFRS, IFRS designated FX hedge, non-IFRS designated FX hedge, notify, revenue account property, spreading method

Section EW 33B: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2011 and applying for a financial arrangement entered into by a person: (a) in the 2014–15 income year and later income years, unless paragraph (b) applies; (b) in an income year (the first income year) and later income years, if the person files a return of income for the first income year on the basis that this section applies to a financial arrangement entered into in the first income year, and the first income year is the 2011–12, 2012–13, 2013–14, or 2014–15 income year, and the person uses IFRSs to prepare financial statements or to report for financial arrangements for the first income year), on 30 June 2014, by section 82(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

EW 34 Consideration in foreign currency*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when the consideration payable under a financial arrangement to which section EW 32(3) applies is in a foreign currency.

Lowest price

- (2) The lowest price referred to in section EW 32(3) is the lowest price the parties would have agreed on in the foreign currency, converted into New Zealand dollars using the rate that the original party applying section EW 32(3) selects from the rates in subsection (4). The party may select the rate in subsection (4)(b) only if the period between the date on which the first right in the property is to be transferred and the date on which final payment is to be made is 5 years or less.

Consistent application of rate

- (3) The party must apply the selected rate to the financial arrangement for every income year over its term.

Rates

- (4) The rates are—
- (a) the rate, on the date on which the parties enter into the financial arrangement, available to the party from a New Zealand registered bank for the exchange of New Zealand dollars for the foreign currency for 1 of the following dates:
 - (i) the date on which the first right in the property is to be transferred; or
 - (ii) if that date is uncertain on the date on which the parties enter into the financial arrangement, the date on which the parties reasonably expect, when entering into the arrangement, that the first right in the property will be transferred; or
 - (b) the rate, on the date on which the parties enter into the financial arrangement, available to the party from a New Zealand registered bank for the exchange of New Zealand dollars for the foreign currency for 1 of the following dates:
 - (i) the date on which final payment is to be made; or
 - (ii) if that date is uncertain on the date on which the parties enter into the financial arrangement, the date on which the parties reasonably expect, when entering into the arrangement, that final payment will be made; or
 - (c) an exchange rate approved by the Commissioner for this subsection in the circumstances applicable to the party in a determination under section 90AC(1)(k) of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, consideration, financial arrangement, income year, New Zealand, pay, property, registered bank, right, year

Consideration treated as paid to personEW 36 Consideration when person exits from rules: accrued entitlementWhen this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a person is a party to a financial arrangement; and
 - (b) 1 of the following situations arises:
 - (i) the person ceases to be resident in New Zealand and is not a party to the arrangement for the purpose of a business carried on by them through a fixed establishment in New Zealand; or
 - (ii) the person, not resident in New Zealand, ceases to be a party to the arrangement for the purpose of a business carried on by them through a fixed establishment in New Zealand; or
 - (iii) the person starts using the arrangement for a private or domestic purpose and so it becomes an excepted financial arrangement described in any of section EW 5(18) to (20); and
 - (c) at the time the situation arises, the person has an accrued entitlement to be paid consideration under the arrangement.

Disposal and consideration

- (2) The person is treated as having disposed of their accrued entitlement immediately before the situation arose and as having been paid the market value that the accrued entitlement had at that time.

Defined in this Act: accrued entitlement, business, consideration, excepted financial arrangement, financial arrangement, fixed establishment, New Zealand, pay, resident in New Zealand

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 36

EW 37 Consideration when person enters rules: accrued obligation*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies to a person who is a party to a financial arrangement if, when the person has an accrued obligation to pay consideration under the arrangement, 1 or more of the following situations arise:

- (a) the person is a non-resident who becomes a party to the arrangement for the purpose of a business carried on by the person through a fixed establishment in New Zealand;
- (b) the person is a non-resident who—
 - (i) becomes a New Zealand resident who is not a transitional resident; and
 - (ii) is not, immediately before becoming a New Zealand resident, a party to the arrangement for the purpose of a business carried on by the person through a fixed establishment in New Zealand;
- (c) the person is a transitional resident for whom the arrangement ceases to be an excepted financial arrangement described in section EW 5(17):
- (d) the person is a transitional resident who becomes a New Zealand resident who is not a transitional resident, resulting in the arrangement ceasing to be an excepted financial arrangement described in section EW 5(17):
- (e) the person stops using the arrangement for a private or domestic purpose, resulting in the arrangement ceasing to be an excepted financial arrangement described in any of section EW 5(18) to (20).

Assumption and consideration

- (2) The person is treated as having assumed the accrued obligation immediately after the situation arose and as having been paid the market value that a contract to assume the obligation had at that time.

Defined in this Act: accrued obligation, business, consideration, excepted financial arrangement, financial arrangement, fixed establishment, New Zealand, New Zealand resident, non-resident, pay, transitional resident

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 37

EW 39 Consideration affected by unfavourable factors*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a person is a party to a financial arrangement; and
 - (b) the person has an accrued entitlement under the arrangement; and
 - (c) the person disposes of the arrangement; and
 - (d) the consideration for the disposal is affected by any of the following factors:
 - (i) a decline in the other party's creditworthiness between the date on which the arrangement was entered into and the date of the disposal; or
 - (ii) an increase, between the date on which the arrangement was entered into and the date of the disposal, in the possibility that the other party will not meet an obligation under the arrangement; or
 - (iii) the occurrence of an event reducing or cancelling the other party's obligations under the arrangement.

Exclusion

- (2) This section does not apply when—
- (a) the person's business includes holding or dealing in financial arrangements of the class disposed of; and
 - (b) the parties to the arrangement disposed of are not associated persons.

Consideration is market value

- (3) The person is treated as having been paid the market value that the accrued entitlement had on the date of the disposal, as if the consideration had not been affected by a factor described in subsection (1)(d).

Consideration is market value: self remission

- (4) The amount of self-remission for the financial arrangement is subtracted from the market value, under subsection (3), of the accrued entitlement on the date of the disposal.

Defined in this Act: accrued entitlement, associated person, business, consideration, financial arrangement, pay, self-remission

- (2) A creditor disposes of a debt at a discount if the creditor disposes of it for 80% or less of the market value of the debt.

Market value

- (3) The market value of a debt affected by any of the following factors is determined as if its market value were not affected by the factor. The factors are—
 - (a) the occurrence of an event reducing or cancelling the debtor's obligations under the debt; or
 - (b) the occurrence of 1 of the following between the date on which the debt was entered into and the date of the disposal:
 - (i) a decline in the debtor's creditworthiness; or
 - (ii) an increase in the possibility that the debtor will not meet an obligation under the debt.

Consideration

- (4) The debtor is treated as having paid the creditor the amount that the person associated with the debtor pays the creditor.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, consideration, pay

EW 44 Consideration when debt forgiven for natural love and affection

When this section applies: first case

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a person is a debtor; and
 - (b) the creditor is a natural person; and

- (c) the creditor forgives the debtor's debt because of the natural love and affection the creditor has for the debtor.

When this section applies: second case

- (2) This section also applies when—
 - (a) a trust is a debtor; and
 - (b) the trust was established mainly to benefit 1 or both of the following:
 - (i) a natural person for whom the creditor has natural love and affection;
 - (ii) an organisation or a trust whose income is exempt under section CW 41 (Charities: non-business income) or CW 42 (Charities: business income); and
 - (c) the creditor is a natural person; and
 - (d) the creditor forgives the debtor's debt.

Two points about subsections (1) and (2)

- (3) For the purposes of subsections (1) and (2),—
 - (a) the debtor's debt includes an amount accrued and unpaid at the time of the forgiveness; and
 - (b) the means by which the debt is forgiven, whether in a will or otherwise, is immaterial.

Consideration

- (4) The debtor is treated as having paid the debt on the date on which the creditor forgives it.

Defined in this Act: amount, consideration, income, pay

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 46

EW 45 Consideration when debtor released from obligation

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a person is released from the obligation to pay an amount owing under a financial arrangement; and
 - (b) the release occurs under—
 - (i) section 304 of the Insolvency Act 2006; or
 - (ii) any of the Inland Revenue Acts; or
 - (iii) a loan described in subsection (2).

Social assistance suspensory loan

- (2) A loan referred to in subsection (1)(b)(iii) is a loan that—
 - (a) is made by a department or instrument of the executive government of New Zealand; and

- (b) provides for the person's liability to pay to be wholly or partly remitted if they meet conditions intended to promote a social policy objective of the government of New Zealand; and
- (c) is of a class declared by the Governor-General by Order in Council to be a social assistance suspensory loan.

Declaration as social assistance suspensory loan

- (3) The Governor-General may make an Order in Council declaring a class of loan that meets the criteria in subsection (2) to be a social assistance suspensory loan.

Consideration

- (4) The person is treated as having paid the amount owing on the date on which they are released from the obligation to pay it.

Defined in this Act: amount, consideration, financial arrangement, Inland Revenue Acts, New Zealand, pay

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 47

EW 46 Consideration when debtor released as condition of new start grant

[Repealed]

Section EW 46: repealed, on 24 February 2016, by section 135 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EW 46B Consideration when party changes from fair value method

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a party to a financial arrangement—
 - (a) changes from the fair value method to another method; and
 - (b) is required under section EW 29(13) to calculate a base price adjustment at the end of the first income year for which the replacement method is used for the financial arrangement.

Consideration

- (2) The person is treated as having been paid an amount equal to the market value of the financial arrangement at the end of the first income year for which the replacement method is used for the financial arrangement.

Defined in this Act: amount, fair value method, financial arrangement

Section EW 46B: inserted, on 1 April 2008, by section 380 of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

Section EW 46B(1)(b): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 29 August 2011 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 35(1) of the Taxation (Tax Administration and Remedial Matters) Act 2011 (2011 No 63).

Section EW 46B(2): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 29 August 2011 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 35(2) of the Taxation (Tax Administration and Remedial Matters) Act 2011 (2011 No 63).

EW 46C Consideration when debt forgiven within economic group*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies to the extent to which an amount of debt is forgiven and—
- (a) the creditor is a member of the same wholly-owned group of companies as the debtor and the debtor is a New Zealand resident company;
 - (b) the creditor is a member of the same wholly-owned group of companies as the debtor and, for the debtor, a group of persons who are New Zealand resident companies (the NZ group) hold, before section YC 4 (Look-through rule for corporate shareholders) is applied to the NZ group in relation to their interests,—
 - (i) common voting interests that add up to 100%; and
 - (ii) if a market value circumstance exists for a company that is part of a group of companies to which the debtor belongs, common market value interests that add up to 100%;
 - (c) if the debtor is a company, the creditor is not a member of the same wholly-owned group of companies as the debtor and the creditor has ownership interests or, as applicable, market value interests in the debtor;
 - (d) if the debtor is a partnership, the creditor has a partner's interest in the income of the debtor;
 - (e) if the debtor is a look-through company, the creditor has an effective look-through interest in the debtor.

Some points about this section

- (2) For the purposes of this section,—
- (a) the means by which an amount of debt is forgiven is immaterial;
 - (ab) the debt includes an amount accrued and unpaid at the time of the forgiveness;
 - (b) a group of natural persons (the single creditor group) who are creditors or who have interests in the debtor are treated as one creditor holding the total debts and interests of the single creditor group, if each person has natural love and affection for the others. However, a trust may join the single creditor group if—
 - (i) the trust was established mainly to benefit a natural person for whom each person of the single creditor group has natural love and affection; and
 - (ii) the amount given by dividing the amount that the trust forgives the debtor by the trust's proportional ownership ratio is less than the amount given by dividing the amount that the single creditor group forgives the debtor by the group's proportional ownership ratio (for example: $100 forgiven by the trust ÷ 40% ownership is greater than $100 forgiven by the group ÷ 50% ownership, so the trust may not join the group, even if the required natural love and affection exists):

- (c) a group of persons (the single corporate creditor group) that are creditors or that have interests in the debtor are treated as 1 creditor holding the total debts and interests of the single corporate creditor group, if—
 - (i) each person is a member of the same wholly-owned group of companies; and
 - (ii) the debtor is not a member of the wholly-owned group of companies.

When this section does not apply

- (3) This section does not apply if—
 - (a) the creditor and debtor are members of the same wholly-owned group of companies; and
 - (b) the creditor is a non-resident; and
 - (c) the debt has been held by a person that is not a member of the wholly-owned group of companies.

Consideration: debtor

- (4) The debtor is treated as having paid the amount of debt on the date on which the creditor forgives it, if—
 - (a) the relevant debt, creditor, and debtor are described in subsection (1)(a) or (b):
 - (b) the proportional debt ratio for the amount equals the proportional ownership ratio.

Consideration: creditor

- (5) The creditor is treated as having been paid the amount of debt on the date on which the creditor forgives it, if—
 - (a) the relevant debt, creditor, and debtor are described in subsection (1)(a) or (b):
 - (b) the proportional debt ratio for the amount equals the proportional ownership ratio.

Some definitions

- (6) For the purposes of this section,—

nominal shares are shares held by the trustee of a share purchase scheme, or employees or former employees of the debtor, if the total of those shares represent voting interests in the debtor that add up to no more than 3%, or, as applicable, market value interests in the company that add up to no more than 3% proportional debt ratio means, for a creditor and an amount of debt, the percentage that the creditor's amount bears to the total amounts of debt to which this section applies forgiven at the time the creditor's debt is forgiven proportional ownership ratio means the creditor's percentage of the ownership interests or, as applicable, market value interests, total partner's interests, or total effective look-through interests for the debtor, ignoring nominal shares.

Defined in this Act: amount, consideration, employee, group of persons, income, look-through company, look-through interest, market value interest, New Zealand resident, nominal share, non-resident, partnership, partner's interests, pay, proportional debt ratio, proportional ownership ratio, share, trustee, voting interest, wholly-owned group of companies

Section EW 46C: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 30 March 2017, by section 75(1) (and see section 75(2)) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section EW 46C(2)(ab): inserted, on 1 July 2017, by section 76 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Consideration when legal defeasance has occurred

EW 47 Legal defeasance

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) the obligations of a financial arrangement were the subject of a legal defeasance that required another person to meet the remaining obligations of the arrangement; and
 - (b) the person who has a right to receive money under the arrangement is now required by section EW 29 to calculate a base price adjustment for it.

Consideration

- (2) The consideration received by the person who has a right to receive money under the arrangement is the total of—
- (a) the amounts received from the original debtor; and
 - (b) the amounts received from the person required to meet the remaining obligations.

Defined in this Act: amount, consideration, financial arrangement, legal defeasance, money

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 48

Consideration when anti-avoidance provision applies

EW 48 Anti-avoidance provisions

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when it is necessary to determine the consideration that is paid to or by a person in a case to which any of the following provisions applies:

- (a) section GB 21 (Dealing that defeats intention of financial arrangements rules); or
- (b) section GC 7 (Excess amount payable by person); or
- (c) section GC 8 (Insufficient amount receivable by person).

Consideration

- (2) The consideration is the amount determined under the relevant provision.

Defined in this Act: amount, consideration, pay

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 49

Income and deduction provisions specifically related to financial arrangements

EW 49 Income and deduction when debt disposed of at discount to associate of debtor

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a creditor disposes of a debt on or after 20 May 1999 to a person associated with the debtor and at a discount.

At a discount

- (2) A creditor disposes of a debt at a discount if the creditor disposes of it for 80% or less of the market value of the debt.

Market value

- (3) The market value of a debt affected by any of the following factors is determined as if its market value were not affected by the factor. The factors are—
 - (a) the occurrence of an event reducing or cancelling the debtor's obligations under the debt; or
 - (b) the occurrence of 1 of the following between the date on which the debt was entered into and the date of the disposal:
 - (i) a decline in the debtor's creditworthiness; or
 - (ii) an increase in the possibility that the debtor will not meet an obligation under the debt.

Original debt replaced with interest-free loan

- (4) The associated person is treated as having provided the debtor with an interest-free loan for the amount paid for the debt.

Repayment: income and deduction

- (5) If the debtor later repays the person associated with the debtor more than the amount the associated person paid for the debt, the excess amount paid by the debtor is—
 - (a) income, under section CC 3(1) (Financial arrangements), of the person associated with the debtor; and

- (b) a deduction that the debtor is allowed under section DB 13(1) (Repayment of debt in certain circumstances).

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, deduction, income, pay

Section EW 49 list of defined terms 1988 version provisions: repealed, on 1 April 2010, by section 594 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EW 49B Guarantees for associated persons

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a guarantor pays an amount under a guarantee (a guarantee payment) for an associated person's debt (the debtor) to the debtor's creditor.

Repayment

- (2) For the debtor, the amount of the guarantee payment is treated as consideration paid or payable by the debtor for the debt.

New debt

- (3) If the guarantor has recourse to the debtor in relation to the guarantee payment, the guarantor is treated as providing the debtor with an interest-free loan for the amount of the guarantee payment.

No consideration paid

- (4) For the guarantor, the guarantee payment is treated as not being consideration paid or payable by the guarantor.

Repayment: income and deduction

- (5) If the debtor later repays the guarantor more than the guarantee payment, the excess paid by the debtor is—
- (a) income, under section CC 3(1) (Financial arrangements), of the guarantor; and

- (b) a deduction that the debtor is allowed under section DB 13(1) (Repayment of debt in certain circumstances).

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, deduction, income

Section EW 49B: inserted, on 1 April 2017 (applying for the 2017–18 and later income years), by section 78(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

EW 50 Income when debt forgiven to trustee

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a trust is a debtor; and
 - (b) the trust was established mainly to benefit 1 or both of the following:
 - (i) a natural person for whom the creditor has natural love and affection; or
 - (ii) an organisation or a trust whose income is exempt under section CW 41 (Charities: non-business income) or CW 42 (Charities: business income); and
 - (c) the creditor is a natural person; and
 - (d) the creditor forgives the debtor's debt; and
 - (e) a trustee of the trust makes a distribution, including a distribution of beneficiary income, to a beneficiary; and
 - (f) the beneficiary is—
 - (i) not a natural person for whom the creditor has natural love and affection; and
 - (ii) not an organisation or a trust whose income is exempt under section CW 41 or CW 42; and
 - (g) the distribution is made on or after 20 May 1999.

Exclusion

- (2) This section does not apply when—
 - (a) a trust (trust A) is a debtor; and
 - (b) trust A was established mainly to benefit 1 or both of the following:
 - (i) a natural person for whom the creditor has natural love and affection; or
 - (ii) an organisation or a trust whose income is exempt under section CW 41 or CW 42; and
 - (c) the creditor is a natural person; and
 - (d) the creditor forgives the debtor's debt; and
 - (e) a trustee of the trust makes a distribution to another trust (trust B); and

- (f) at the time the distribution is made, trust B is also established mainly to benefit 1 or both of the following:
 - (i) a natural person for whom the creditor has natural love and affection; or
 - (ii) an organisation or a trust whose income is exempt under section CW 41 or CW 42.

Two points about subsections (1) and (2)

- (3) For the purposes of subsections (1) and (2),—
 - (a) the debtor's debt includes an amount accrued and unpaid at the time of the forgiveness; and
 - (b) the means by which the debt is forgiven, whether in a will or otherwise, is immaterial.

Distribution is income of trustee

- (4) The distribution is income of the trustee, under section CC 3(2) (Financial arrangements), to the extent to which it is less than or equal to the total amount of the debts of the trust forgiven to it by the creditor.

Distribution subtracted from total amount forgiven

- (5) The distribution is subtracted from the total amount of the debts of the trust forgiven to it by the creditor as the total amount stands at the time of the distribution.

Timing

- (6) The income is derived by the trustee in the income year in which the distribution is made.

Application of Tax Administration Act 1994

- (7) Section 22B of the Tax Administration Act 1994 applies to a trustee to whom this section applies.

Defined in this Act: amount, beneficiary income, distribution, income, income year, pay, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 51

EW 51 Deduction for security payment

When subsection (2) applies: loss generally

- (1) Subsection (2) applies when a person is allowed a deduction under section DB 14(2) (Security payment).

Amount of deduction

- (2) The person is allowed a deduction no greater than the amount of the security payment.

When subsection (4) applies: share loss

- (3) Subsection (4) applies when a person is allowed a deduction under section DB 14(4).

Amount of deduction

- (4) The person is allowed a deduction no greater than the amount of the security payment.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, pay, security payment

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 52

Treatment of original share acquired under financial arrangement

EW 52 Share supplier under share-lending arrangement

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies to a person who—
- (a) acquires a share under a financial arrangement (the original financial arrangement); and
 - (b) is the share supplier for a share-lending arrangement; and
 - (c) disposes of the share to the share user as an original share under the share-lending arrangement.

Treatment of reacquisition of original share

- (2) If the person reacquires the original share under the share-lending arrangement, for the purposes of applying the financial arrangements rules to the original financial arrangement,—
- (a) the person did not dispose of the original share to the share user; and
 - (b) the person continued to own the original share until the time that the person reacquired the original share.

Treatment of acquisition of replacement share

- (3) If the person acquires an identical share under the share-lending arrangement, for the purposes of the financial arrangements rules in relation to the original financial arrangement,—
- (a) the identical share is the share that the person acquired under the original financial arrangement; and
 - (b) the person continued to own the identical share until the time that the person acquired the replacement share.

Defined in this Act: financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, identical share, original share, share, share-lending arrangement, share supplier, share user

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 52B

One kind of avoidance

EW 53 Adjustment required

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—

- (a) the terms of a financial arrangement give either party, both parties, or an associated person the discretion to decide on an amount payable under the arrangement; and
- (b) it is not generally accepted commercial practice to make financial arrangements containing such terms; and
- (c) a change in the amount brought about by the exercise of the discretion does not reflect changes in commodity, economic, financial, or industrial indices, or in banking or general commercial rates; and
- (d) the effect of the financial arrangement is to defeat the intention of the financial arrangements rules.

Parties to calculate adjustment

- (2) Each person who is a party to the financial arrangement must calculate an adjustment for the income years specified in subsection (3) by following the steps in subsections (4) to (6).

Income years

- (3) The adjustment must be calculated for the following income years:
 - (a) until the person ceases to be a party, the fifth income year after the income year in which the parties entered into the financial arrangement and every fifth income year after that; and
 - (b) the income year in which the person ceases to be a party.

First step

- (4) The first step the person takes is to calculate income or expenditure under the financial arrangement for each income year using the yield to maturity method in the manner prescribed by the Commissioner in a determination under section 90AC(1)(a) of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Consideration and amounts to be included at first step

- (5) The person must include the following amounts in the calculation:
 - (a) for every income year for which the calculation is made, as described in subsection (3), the consideration and amounts described in section EW 15 for the period starting on the date on which the person became a party to the financial arrangement and ending on the last day of the income year for which the calculation is made; and
 - (b) for every fifth income year, as described in subsection (3)(a),—
 - (i) an amount equal to the financial arrangement's market value on the last day of the income year, as if the person had disposed of the arrangement for that amount; or
 - (ii) if the financial arrangement has no market value, the amount that might reasonably be expected to be paid on a disposal at arm's length.

Second step

- (6) The second step the person takes is to calculate the income tax liability for each income year using the income or expenditure calculated under subsections (4) and (5) in substitution for the income or expenditure previously calculated for the financial arrangement for each income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, Commissioner, consideration, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, income, income tax liability, income year, pay, prescribed

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 53

Application of financial arrangements rules to cash basis persons

EW 54 Meaning of cash basis person

Who is cash basis person

- (1) A person is a cash basis person for an income year if—
- (a) 1 of the following applies in the person's case for the income year:
- (i) section EW 57(1); or
 - (ii) section EW 57(2); and
- (b) section EW 57(3) applies in the person's case for the income year.

Persons excluded by Commissioner

- (2) A person may be excluded under section EW 59 from being a cash basis person for a class of financial arrangements.

Defined in this Act: cash basis person, financial arrangement, income year

Section EW 54: substituted, on 1 April 2009, by section 9(1) of the Taxation (Business Tax Measures) Act 2009 (2009 No 5).

EW 55 Effect of being cash basis person

Use of spreading method

- (1) A cash basis person is not required to apply any of the spreading methods to any of their financial arrangements, but may choose to do so under section EW 61.

Calculation of base price adjustment

- (2) The fact that a cash basis person does not use any of the spreading methods for the financial arrangement does not excuse them from the requirement to calculate a base price adjustment when any of section EW 29(1) to (12) applies to them.

Defined in this Act: cash basis person, financial arrangement, spreading method

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 55

EW 56 Natural person

[Repealed]

Section EW 56: repealed, on 1 April 2009, by section 10(1) of the Taxation (Business Tax Measures) Act 2009 (2009 No 5).

EW 57 Thresholds*Income and expenditure threshold*

- (1) For the purposes of section EW 54(1)(a)(i), this subsection applies if the absolute value of the person's income and expenditure in the income year under all financial arrangements to which the person is a party is $100,000 or less.

Absolute value threshold

- (2) For the purposes of section EW 54(1)(a)(ii), this subsection applies if, on every day in the income year, the absolute value of all financial arrangements to which the person is a party added together is $1,000,000 or less. The value of each arrangement is,—
- (a) for a fixed principal financial arrangement, its face value;
 - (b) for a variable principal debt instrument, the amount owing by or to the person under the financial arrangement;
 - (c) for a financial arrangement to which the old financial arrangements rules apply, the value determined under those rules.

Deferral threshold

- (3) For the purposes of section EW 54(1)(b), this subsection applies if the result of applying the formula in subsection (4) to each financial arrangement to which the person is a party at the end of the income year and adding the outcomes together is $40,000 or less.

Formula

- (4) The formula is—
- $$\begin{aligned} & \text{(accrual income – cash basis income)} \\ & + \text{(cash basis expenditure – accrual expenditure)}. \end{aligned}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (5) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (6) to (9).

Accrual income

- (6) Accrual income is the amount that would have been income derived by the person under the financial arrangement if the person had been required to use a spreading method in the period starting on the date on which they became a party to the arrangement and ending on the last day of the income year for which the calculation is made. It is calculated using 1 of the following methods, as chosen by the person:
- (a) the yield to maturity method, whether or not the person may use it, or has chosen to use it, for their financial arrangement; or
 - (b) the straight-line method, whether or not the person may use it, or has chosen to use it, for their financial arrangement; or
 - (c) an alternative method approved by the Commissioner.

Cash basis income

- (7) Cash basis income is the amount that would have been income derived by the person under the financial arrangement if the person had been a cash basis person in the period starting on the date on which they became a party to the arrangement and ending on the last day of the income year for which the calculation is made.

Cash basis expenditure

- (8) Cash basis expenditure is the amount that would have been expenditure incurred by the person under the financial arrangement if the person had been a cash basis person in the period starting on the date on which they became a party to the arrangement and ending on the last day of the income year for which the calculation is made.

Accrual expenditure

- (9) Accrual expenditure is the amount that would have been expenditure incurred under the financial arrangement if the person had been required to use a spreading method in the period starting on the date on which they became a party to the arrangement and ending on the last day of the income year for which the calculation is made. It is calculated using 1 of the following methods, as chosen by the person:
- (a) the yield to maturity method, whether or not the person may use it, or has chosen to use it, for their financial arrangement; or
 - (b) the straight-line method, whether or not the person may use it, or has chosen to use it, for their financial arrangement; or
 - (c) an alternative method approved by the Commissioner.

Increase in specified sums

- (10) The Governor-General may make an Order in Council increasing a sum specified in any of subsections (1) to (3).

Defined in this Act: absolute value, amount, cash basis person, Commissioner, financial arrangement, fixed principal financial arrangement, income, income year, old financial arrangements rules, spreading method, variable principal debt instrument

EW 58 Financial arrangements, income, and expenditure relevant to criteria*Inclusions in and exclusions from thresholds*

- (1) The calculations required by section EW 57(1) to (3) are done for every financial arrangement to which the person is a party or, as the relevant subsection requires, to income and expenditure under such an arrangement, whether the financial arrangements rules or the old financial arrangements rules apply to the arrangement. Two qualifications are—
 - (a) the calculations include an arrangement, or income and expenditure, to which subsection (2) or (3) applies only to the extent of the person's interest in it, as described in each subsection; and
 - (b) the calculations exclude the value of an arrangement, and income and expenditure, in which the person has the interest described in subsection (4) or (5).

Natural person who is partner

[Repealed]

- (2) [Repealed]

Beneficiary of bare trust

- (3) This subsection applies when the trustee of a bare trust is a party to a financial arrangement. A person who is a beneficiary of the bare trust—
 - (a) is treated as a party to the arrangement to the extent of the beneficiary's share of the beneficial interest in the arrangement; and
 - (b) is treated as deriving income or incurring expenditure under the arrangement to the extent of the beneficiary's share of the beneficial interest in the arrangement.

Beneficiary of trust other than bare trust

- (4) This subsection applies when a person is a beneficiary of a trust, other than a bare trust, whose trustee is a party to a financial arrangement. The following are excluded from the calculations required by section EW 57(1) to (3):
 - (a) the value of the arrangement, if it produces trustee income or beneficiary income under the trust rules; and
 - (b) income under the arrangement that is trustee income or beneficiary income under the trust rules.

Trustee

- (5) This subsection applies when a person is a party to a financial arrangement as a trustee. The following are excluded from the calculations required by section EW 57(1) to (3):
 - (a) the value of the arrangement, if it produces trustee income or beneficiary income under the trust rules; and

- (b) income under the arrangement that is trustee income or beneficiary income under the trust rules; and
- (c) the value of the arrangement, if expenditure is incurred under it; and
- (d) expenditure incurred under the arrangement.

Defined in this Act: beneficiary income, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, income, old financial arrangements rules, return of income, trust rules, trustee, trustee income

Section EW 58(3): amended, on 1 April 2009, by section 12(2)(b) of the Taxation (Business Tax Measures) Act 2009 (2009 No 5).

Section EW 58(4) heading: substituted, on 1 April 2009, by section 12(3)(a) of the Taxation (Business Tax Measures) Act 2009 (2009 No 5).

Section EW 58(4): amended, on 1 April 2009, by section 12(3)(b) of the Taxation (Business Tax Measures) Act 2009 (2009 No 5).

Section EW 58(5) heading: substituted, on 1 April 2009, by section 12(4)(a) of the Taxation (Business Tax Measures) Act 2009 (2009 No 5).

Section EW 58(5): amended, on 1 April 2009, by section 12(4)(b) of the Taxation (Business Tax Measures) Act 2009 (2009 No 5).

EW 59 Exclusion by Commissioner

The Commissioner may treat a person who would otherwise be a cash basis person for a class of financial arrangements as not being a cash basis person for the class if—

- (a) the person, or any other person, has structured and promoted the class to defer an income tax liability;
- (b) the parties to a financial arrangement are associated, and the person's calculation of income and expenditure under the financial arrangement differs from that used by the associated person.

Defined in this Act: associated person, cash basis person, Commissioner, financial arrangement, income, income tax liability

Section EW 59: substituted, on 1 April 2009, by section 13(1) of the Taxation (Business Tax Measures) Act 2009 (2009 No 5).

EW 60 Trustee of deceased's estate

When trustee of estate is cash basis person

- (1) A trustee of a deceased's estate is a cash basis person for financial arrangements in the estate in the circumstances described in subsection (2) for the period described in subsection (3).

Circumstances

- (2) The circumstances are that, at the time of the deceased's death,—
- (a) the deceased is a cash basis person; and
 - (b) the financial arrangements in the deceased's estate meet the requirements of section EW 54(1)(a) and (b).

Period

- (3) The period is the income year in which the deceased dies and in each of the 4 following income years. However, if at any time in those 5 income years the financial arrangements in the deceased's estate cease to meet the requirements of section EW 54(1)(a) and (b), the trustee ceases to be a cash basis person for financial arrangements in the estate and cannot again be a cash basis person for them.

Modifications to be read in

- (4) For the purposes of this section, sections EW 54 and EW 55 are read with the modifications necessary to make them refer to the case of a deceased estate.

Defined in this Act: cash basis person, financial arrangement, income year, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 60

Section EW 60(2)(b): amended, on 1 April 2009, by section 14(1) of the Taxation (Business Tax Measures) Act 2009 (2009 No 5).

Section EW 60(3): amended, on 1 April 2009, by section 14(1) of the Taxation (Business Tax Measures) Act 2009 (2009 No 5).

Section EW 60(4): amended, on 1 April 2009, by section 14(2) of the Taxation (Business Tax Measures) Act 2009 (2009 No 5).

EW 61 Election to use spreading method*Election of spreading method*

- (1) A cash basis person may choose to use a spreading method, unless subsection (2) applies.

Election not allowed

- (2) A cash basis person may not choose to use a spreading method for a financial arrangement in the income year in which section EW 29 requires them to calculate a base price adjustment for the arrangement.

How election made

- (3) The person makes the election by calculating a cash basis adjustment under section EW 62(1).

Effect of election

- (4) The person must use a spreading method for—
- (a) all financial arrangements to which the person is a party at the time of making the election; and

- (b) all financial arrangements the person enters into after the income year in which they make the election.

How election revoked

- (5) The person revokes the election by giving notice to the Commissioner with a return of income and within the time that the return must be filed under section 37 of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Effect of revocation

- (6) The revocation applies to all financial arrangements the person enters into after the income year in which the notice is given.

Defined in this Act: cash basis person, Commissioner, financial arrangement, income year, notice, return of income, spreading method

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 61

EW 62 When and how calculation of cash basis adjustment required

Choosing spreading method

- (1) A cash basis person who chooses to use a spreading method must calculate a cash basis adjustment for the income year in which they choose to use a spreading method as if they had ceased to be a cash basis person.

Person becoming cash basis person

- (2) A person who becomes a cash basis person in an income year must calculate a cash basis adjustment for a financial arrangement to which they—
 - (a) are a party at the end of the income year; and
 - (b) were a party at the end of the previous income year.

Exclusions

- (3) However,—
 - (a) a person who becomes a cash basis person in an income year and who chooses to continue using a spreading method in the income year must not calculate a cash basis adjustment; and
 - (b) a person who becomes a cash basis person in an income year must not calculate a cash basis adjustment for a financial arrangement that is already being accounted for on a cash basis.

Person ceasing to be cash basis person

- (4) A person who ceases to be a cash basis person in an income year must calculate a cash basis adjustment for a financial arrangement to which they—
 - (a) are a party at the end of the income year; and
 - (b) were a party at the end of the previous income year.

Exclusion

- (5) However, a person who ceases to be a cash basis person must not calculate a cash basis adjustment for a financial arrangement that is already subject to a spreading method.

Person not cash basis person if adjustment not made

- (6) A person who would be a cash basis person for a financial arrangement if they calculated a cash basis adjustment for it, and who does not calculate the adjustment, is not a cash basis person for the arrangement.

Cash basis adjustment

- (7) A person calculates a cash basis adjustment using the formula in section EW 63.

Adjustment is income or expenditure

- (8) The only income or expenditure under the financial arrangement for the income year to which the formula is applied is the cash basis adjustment.

Positive or negative cash basis adjustment

- (9) A cash basis adjustment is,—
- (a) if positive, income, under section CC 3(1) (Financial arrangements), derived by the person in the income year for which the calculation is made;
 - (b) if negative, expenditure incurred by the person in the income year for which the calculation is made.

Defined in this Act: cash basis person, financial arrangement, income, income year, spreading method

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EW 62

EW 63 Cash basis adjustment formula*Formula*

- (1) A person calculates a cash basis adjustment using the formula—
- $$\text{adjusted income} - \text{adjusted expenditure} - \text{previous income} \\ + \text{previous expenditure}.$$

Definition of items in formula

- (2) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (3) to (6).

Adjusted income

- (3) Adjusted income is,—
- (a) for a person who becomes a cash basis person, the amount that would have been income derived by the person under the financial arrangement if the person had been a cash basis person in the period starting on the date on which they became a party to the arrangement and ending on the last day of the income year for which the calculation is made; and

- (b) for a person who ceases to be a cash basis person, the amount that would have been income derived by the person under the financial arrangement if the person had been required to use a spreading method in the period starting on the date on which they became a party to the arrangement and ending on the last day of the income year for which the calculation is made.

Adjusted expenditure

- (4) Adjusted expenditure is,—
- (a) for a person who becomes a cash basis person, the amount that would have been expenditure incurred by the person under the financial arrangement if they had been a cash basis person in the period starting on the date on which they became a party to the arrangement and ending on the last day of the income year for which the calculation is made; and
- (b) for a person who ceases to be a cash basis person, the amount that would have been expenditure incurred by the person under the financial arrangement if the person had been required to use a spreading method in the period starting on the date on which they became a party to the arrangement and ending on the last day of the income year for which the calculation is made.

Previous income

- (5) Previous income is income derived by the person under the financial arrangement in earlier income years.

Previous expenditure

- (6) Previous expenditure is expenditure incurred by the person under the financial arrangement in earlier income years.

Defined in this Act: amount, cash basis person, financial arrangement, income, income year, spreading method

Controlled foreign company (CFC) rules

When is a company a controlled foreign company?

EX 1 Meaning of controlled foreign company

Tests of control

- (1) A foreign company is a controlled foreign company (CFC) if any of the following tests is met:
- (a) there is a group of 5 or fewer New Zealand residents whose total control interests in the company are more than 50% in any one of the control interest categories:
 - (b) a single New Zealand resident holds a control interest of 40% or more unless at the same time—
 - (i) the person's control interest is less than or equal to a control interest in the same category held by another person; and
 - (ii) the other person is not a New Zealand resident; and
 - (iii) the other person is not associated with the New Zealand resident:
 - (c) there is a group of 5 or fewer New Zealand residents who can control the exercise of the shareholder decision-making rights for the company and, as a result, control the company's affairs.

Exception

- (2) Even if a test in subsection (1) is met, a foreign company is not a CFC if—
- (a) the foreign company is a foreign PIE equivalent; and
 - (b) 1 of the New Zealand residents is—
 - (i) a portfolio investment entity;
 - (ii) an entity that qualifies for PIE status;
 - (iii) a life insurance company.

Status applies for whole accounting period

- (3) If any of the tests in subsection (1) is met at any time in a foreign company's accounting period and the exception in subsection (2) does not apply at the time, the company is treated as a CFC for the whole of the accounting period.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, associated person, CFC, company, control interest, control interest category, foreign company, foreign investment vehicle, life insurance, New Zealand resident, portfolio investment entity, shareholder decision-making right

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 1

Section EX 1(1)(b)(i): substituted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 7 September 2010, by section 42(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

Section EX 1(2): amended, on 1 April 2008, by section 381 of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

Section EX 1(2)(a): amended, on 1 April 2010 (applying for the 2010–11 and later income years), by section 149(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EX 1(2)(b)(ii): substituted, on 1 April 2010 (applying for the 2010–11 and later income years), by section 149(2) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EX 1 list of defined terms control: repealed, on 1 April 2010, by section 594 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Calculation of person's control interest

EX 2 Four categories for calculating control interests

Separate categories

- (1) Under section EX 5(1), a direct control interest in a foreign company can arise in each of 4 separate categories of rights.

List of categories

- (2) The 4 categories are—
- (a) shareholding in the foreign company:
 - (b) shareholder decision-making rights for the foreign company:
 - (c) rights to receive income from the foreign company:
 - (d) rights to receive distributions of the company's net assets.

Detailed calculation rules

- (3) In each category, more detailed calculation rules appear in section EX 5.

Four categories of control interests

- (4) Accordingly, the rules in section EX 3 for calculating control interests by totalling various direct and indirect control interests and associated parties' interests are applied on a category by category basis, by reference to those categories of direct control interest.

Defined in this Act: associated person, control interest, direct control interest, foreign company, income, shareholder decision-making right

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 2

EX 3 Control interest: total of direct, indirect, and associated person interests

Calculation of control interest

- (1) A New Zealand resident's control interest in a foreign company at any time is the total of the following for the relevant control interest category:
- (a) any direct control interest that the New Zealand resident holds in the company:

- (b) any direct control interests in the company held by persons associated with the New Zealand resident:
- (c) any indirect control interests that the New Zealand resident holds in the company:
- (d) any indirect control interests in the company held by persons associated with the New Zealand resident.

Avoidance arrangements: first kind

- (2) Section GB 7 (Arrangements involving CFC control interests) may apply to treat a control interest as being held by a group of New Zealand residents in equal proportions.

Avoidance arrangements: other kinds

- (3) Any of the following sections may apply to the calculation of a person's control interest:
 - (a) section GB 9 (Temporary disposals of direct control or income interests):
 - (b) section GB 10 (Temporary acquisitions of direct control or income interests):
 - (c) section GB 11 (Temporary increases in totals for control interest categories):
 - (d) section GB 12 (Temporary reductions in totals for control interest categories):
 - (e) section GB 13 (When combination of changes reduces income):
 - (f) section GB 14 (When combination of changes increases loss).

Defined in this Act: associated person, control interest, direct control interest, foreign company, New Zealand resident

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss EX 3, GC 7, GC 9

EX 4 Limits to requirement to include associated person interests

Non-resident relatives

- (1) For the purposes of section EX 3, a New Zealand resident is associated with a non-resident relative only if the New Zealand resident holds a direct control interest or indirect control interest in the foreign company.

No double counting

- (2) Despite section EX 3(1)(b) and (d), for the purposes of determining whether a foreign company is a CFC, a direct control interest or indirect control interest may be counted only once.

Defined in this Act: associated person, CFC, control interest, direct control interest, foreign company, New Zealand resident, non-resident, relative

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 4

EX 5 Direct control interests*Categories of direct control interests*

- (1) A person has a direct control interest in a foreign company at any time if they hold—
- (a) any of the shares in the foreign company;
 - (b) any of the shareholder decision-making rights for the company;
 - (c) a right to—
 - (i) receive any income of the company for the accounting period in which the time falls; or
 - (ii) have the income of the company for the accounting period in which the time falls dealt with in their interest or on their behalf;
 - (d) a right to—
 - (i) receive any of the value of the net assets of the company, if they are distributed; or
 - (ii) have the net value of the assets, if they are distributed, dealt with in their interest or on their behalf.

Percentage of total is counted

- (2) The direct control interest in each control interest category is the percentage of the total that the person holds.

Measurement of available subscribed capital

- (3) When the direct control interest in the category in subsection (1)(a) is calculated, the percentage is the total of the available subscribed capital per share calculated under the slice rule of the shares held as a percentage of the total available subscribed capital per share calculated under the slice rule of all shares in the company.

Varying decision-making rights

- (4) When the direct control interest in the category in subsection (1)(b) is calculated, if the percentage varies between the rights described in the different paragraphs of the definition of shareholder decision-making rights in section YA 1 (Definitions), the highest percentage is taken.

Income distribution rights: assumptions

- (5) When the direct control interest in the category in subsection (1)(c) is calculated, it is assumed that—
- (a) the income is distributed on the last day of the accounting period; and
 - (b) the person's entitlement is unchanged during the period; and
 - (c) a payment of interest on a debenture subject to section FA 2 (Recharacterisation of certain debentures), FA 2B (Stapled debt securities), or FZ 1

(Treatment of interest payable under debentures issued before certain date) is a distribution of income.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, available subscribed capital, control interest category, direct control interest, foreign company, income, interest, pay, share, shareholder decision-making right, slice rule

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 5

Section EX 5(1)(c): replaced (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 30 June 2014, by section 84(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EX 5(1)(d): replaced (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 30 June 2014, by section 84(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EX 5(5)(c): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 150 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EX 6 Direct control interests include options and similar rights

Entitlement to acquire or extinguish

- (1) For the purposes of section EX 5, a person is treated as holding something if they are entitled to acquire it or extinguish it.

Entitlement arises in various ways

- (2) A person is entitled to acquire or extinguish something if the entitlement is absolute or contingent and whether the entitlement—
 - (a) arises under a company's constitution; or
 - (b) arises under the terms of an option; or
 - (c) arises under the terms of a convertible note; or
 - (d) arises under the terms of any arrangement substantially similar to any of those described in paragraphs (a) to (c); or
 - (e) arises in some other way.

Standard security arrangements

- (3) Despite subsections (1) and (2), a person is not treated as being entitled to acquire something if—
 - (a) the entitlement arises under a security arrangement; and
 - (b) the person acquired the security arrangement in a transaction entered into on an arm's length basis; and
 - (c) the security arrangement's terms conform to generally accepted commercial practice.

No double counting

- (4) Despite subsections (1) and (2), for the purpose of determining whether a foreign company is a CFC, each of the percentage holdings described in section EX 5 may be counted only once.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, CFC, company, convertible note, direct control interest, foreign company, security arrangement

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 6

EX 7 Indirect control interests*How indirect control interests arise*

- (1) A person has an indirect control interest in a foreign company to the extent to which the rules in this section attribute to them some or all of the direct control interests held by a CFC in the foreign company.

Attribution of CFC's direct interests

- (2) A CFC's direct control interest in another foreign company is attributed under subsections (3) to (11).

Associates

- (3) For the purposes of this section, the CFC is treated as also holding any direct control interests in the foreign company held by persons associated with the CFC.

Attribution to smallest controlling group

- (4) Subsections (6) to (11) apply to attribute the CFC's direct control interests to the smallest controlling group, to ensure that the attribution exercise does not dilute recognition of a factual chain of control.

Attribution on basis of respective income interests

- (5) If the CFC's direct control interests are attributed to more than 1 person, the direct control interests are divided in proportion to each group member's respective income interest in the CFC.

One controlling group

- (6) If there is only 1 group of New Zealand residents whose control interests have caused the CFC to be a CFC under section EX 1, the CFC's direct control interests are treated as being held by that group.

More than 1 group

- (7) If there is more than 1 group whose control interests have caused the CFC to be a CFC under section EX 1, the CFC's direct control interests are attributed to the smallest group.

Equal smallest groups

- (8) If there are 2 or more groups that are equally the smallest, and 1 group has the greatest total control interests in the CFC, the attribution is to that group.

Equal smallest groups with equal greatest control interests

- (9) If there are 2 or more smallest groups with equal greatest total control interests in the CFC, the attribution is made in full to each group.

No double counting

- (10) Despite subsection (9), for the purpose of determining whether a foreign company is a CFC, a direct control interest may be counted only once.

Sequential application

- (11) If a foreign company becomes a CFC under this section, this section is then applied to attribute its direct control interests.

Defined in this Act: associated person, CFC, control interest, direct control interest, foreign company, income interest, New Zealand resident

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 7

Section EX 7 list of defined terms control: repealed, on 1 April 2010, by section 594 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Calculation of person's income interest

EX 8 Income interests: total of direct and indirect interests

Calculation of income interest

- (1) A person's income interest in a CFC at any time is the total of the following:
- (a) any direct income interest that the person holds in the CFC;
 - (b) any indirect income interest that the person holds in the CFC.

Avoidance arrangements

- (2) Any of the following sections may apply to the calculation of a person's income interest:
- (a) section GB 9 (Temporary disposals of direct control or income interests):
 - (b) section GB 10 (Temporary acquisitions of direct control or income interests):
 - (c) section GB 11 (Temporary increases in totals for control interest categories):
 - (d) section GB 12 (Temporary reductions in totals for control interest categories):
 - (e) section GB 13 (When combination of changes reduces income):
 - (f) section GB 14 (When combination of changes increases loss).

Defined in this Act: CFC, control interest category, direct control interest, direct income interest, income, income interest, indirect income interest

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 8

EX 9 Direct income interests*Categories of direct income interest*

- (1) A person has a direct income interest in a CFC at any time if they hold—
- (a) any of the shares in the foreign company;
 - (b) any of the shareholder decision-making rights for the company;
 - (c) a right to—
 - (i) receive any income of the company for the accounting period in which the time falls; or
 - (ii) have the income of the company for the accounting period in which the time falls dealt with in their interest or on their behalf;
 - (d) a right to—
 - (i) receive any of the value of the net assets of the company, if they are distributed; or
 - (ii) have the net value of the assets, if they are distributed, dealt with in their interest or on their behalf.

Percentage of total is counted

- (2) The person's direct income interest is the percentage of the total that the person holds.

Varying percentages

- (3) However, if the percentage varies between the different categories, the person's direct income interest is the highest.

Measurement of available subscribed capital

- (4) When the direct income interest in the category in subsection (1)(a) is calculated, the percentage is the total of the available subscribed capital per share calculated under the slice rule of the shares held as a percentage of the total available subscribed capital per share calculated under the slice rule of all shares in the company.

Varying decision-making rights

- (5) When the direct income interest in the category in subsection (1)(b) is calculated, if the percentage varies between the rights described in the different paragraphs of the definition of shareholder decision-making rights in section YA 1 (Definitions), the highest percentage is taken.

Income distribution rights: assumptions

- (6) When the direct income interest in the category in subsection (1)(c) is calculated, it is assumed that—
- (a) the income is distributed on the last day of the accounting period; and
 - (b) the person's entitlement is unchanged during the period; and

- (c) a payment of interest on a debenture subject to section FA 2 (Recharacterisation of certain debentures), FA 2B (Stapled debt securities), or FZ 1 (Treatment of interest payable under debentures issued before certain date) is a distribution of income.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, available subscribed capital, CFC, debentures, direct income interest, foreign company, income, interest, pay, share, shareholder decision-making right, slice rule

Section EX 9(1)(c): replaced (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 30 June 2014, by section 85(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EX 9(1)(d): replaced (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 30 June 2014, by section 85(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EX 9(6)(c): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 151 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EX 10 Indirect income interests

Looking through CFCs

- (1) If a person has a direct income interest in a CFC, and the first CFC has a direct income interest in another CFC, the person has an indirect income interest in the other CFC.

Calculation of indirect income interest

- (2) The indirect income interest is calculated by multiplying the person's direct income interest in the first CFC by the first CFC's direct income interest in the other CFC.

Chains of CFCs

- (3) If there are 2 or more CFCs in a chain of direct income interests between the person and a CFC, the person has an indirect income interest in the CFC at the end of the chain that is calculated by multiplying all the direct income interests in the chain.

Defined in this Act: CFC, direct income interest, indirect income interest

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 10

EX 11 Options and similar rights in certain cases

Increase in income interest

- (1) The rules in this section apply to increase a person's income interest in a CFC (the first CFC) in some cases.

Entitlement to acquire

- (2) This section applies when the person, or some other person, such as another CFC taken into account when calculating an indirect income interest of the person in the first CFC, has at any time an entitlement (the option) to acquire 1 of the things listed in section EX 9(1) in relation to the first CFC but does not hold it.

Actual holder outside CFC rules attribution

- (3) For this section to apply, the actual holder of the thing subject to the option must not be—
- (a) another CFC;
 - (b) a New Zealand resident, unless they are a New Zealand resident whose income interest in the first CFC for the accounting period in question is less than 10% under sections EX 14 to EX 17.

Terms of option indicating economic ownership

- (4) For this section to apply, the option must have 1 of the following features:
- (a) in the absence of this section, the effect of the option would be to defeat the intent and application of subpart CQ (Attributed income from foreign equity) or DN (Attributed losses from foreign equity) or this subpart, taking into account the economic benefit that the person gets as a result of the CFC deriving income;
 - (b) the consideration payable for the exercise of the option is less than the market value of the thing acquired at the time of the acquisition;
 - (c) the holder of the option (or an associated person) has directly or indirectly funded or assisted the actual holder to acquire or hold the thing subject to the option.

Calculation as if option exercised

- (5) If each requirement for this section to apply is met, the person's income interest is calculated as if the option holder had exercised the option.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, associated person, CFC, income, income interest, indirect income interest, New Zealand resident, pay

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 11

Section EX 11(3)(b): amended, on 1 April 2008, by section 382 of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

EX 12 Reduction of total income interests*Application of this section*

- (1) This section applies when the total income interests for a CFC for an accounting period would be more than 100%, because section EX 9(3) requires the highest percentage to be taken if varying percentage shareholder rights are held.

Proportional reduction

- (2) Each person's income interest for the period is reduced to the amount calculated using the formula—

$$\frac{\text{income interest before reduction} \times 100}{\div \text{total income interests before reduction.}}$$

Defined in this Act: accounting period, amount, CFC, income interest, shareholder

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 12

EX 13 Income interests of partners

[Repealed]

Section EX 13: repealed, on 1 April 2008, by section 14(1) of the Taxation (Limited Partnerships) Act 2008 (2008 No 2).

Ten percent threshold and variations in income interest level

EX 14 Attribution: 10% threshold, not PIE

Persons with attributed CFC income or loss

- (1) A person has attributed CFC income or loss from a CFC only if the person—
 - (a) has an income interest in the CFC of 10% or more for the relevant accounting period; and
 - (b) is not a portfolio investment entity.

Portfolio investment entity

- (2) A portfolio investment entity that would have attributed CFC income or loss from a CFC in the absence of subsection (1)(b) has FIF income or loss from the CFC under the FIF rules.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, attributed CFC income, CFC, FIF income, FIF rules, income interest, loss, PIE, portfolio investment entity

Section EX 14: replaced (with effect on 1 July 2011 and applying for income years beginning on or after that date), on 7 May 2012, by section 18(1) of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

EX 15 Associates and 10% threshold

Associates included

- (1) For the purpose of applying the 10% threshold in sections CD 45, CQ 2, EX 14, EX 21, EX 34, and EX 58, a person's income interest in a CFC is increased by each income interest in the CFC, for the relevant accounting period, of a person associated with the person.

Exception

- (2) Despite subsection (1), the income interest of an associate is not counted if the associate is a CFC.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, associated person, CFC, income interest

Section EX 15(1): substituted, on 1 April 2008, by section 383 of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

Section EX 15(1): amended (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 152(2) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EX 15(1): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 152(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EX 16 Income interests for certain purposes

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of determining the attributed CFC income or loss of a person for a period if the person holds an income interest in the CFC on a day in the period.

Zero income interest

- (2) For the purposes of calculating the attributed CFC income or loss of a person for a period, the person has an income interest in a CFC of zero on a day in the period if, on the day, the person is—
 - (a) a non-resident;
 - (b) a transitional resident.

Attribution not prevented

- (3) This section does not override—
 - (a) [Repealed]
 - (b) section CQ 2(3) (When attributed CFC income arises), which treats any attributed CFC income as being derived while the person deriving it is a New Zealand resident; or
 - (c) section CQ 5(4) (When FIF income arises), which treats any foreign investment fund (FIF) income as being derived while the person deriving it is a New Zealand resident.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, attributed CFC income, CFC, dividend, FIF income, income interest, New Zealand resident, non-resident, transitional resident

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 16

Section EX 16(3)(a): repealed, on 24 February 2016, by section 136(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section EX 16 list of defined terms attributed repatriation: repealed, on 24 February 2016, by section 136(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EX 17 Income interest if variations within period

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person's income interest in a CFC, calculated under sections EX 8 to EX 16, varies between days in a period.

Weighted average

- (2) The person's income interest for the period is the total of the amounts for the period, each of which is calculated using the formula in subsection (3) for a day in the period.

Formula

- (3) The formula is—
$$\text{income interest for day} \div \text{days in period.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (4) In the formula,—
- (a) income interest for day is—
- (i) the income interest during the day, if the income interest does not vary during the day:
 - (ii) the income interest at the start of the day, if the income interest varies during the day:
- (b) days in period is the number of days in the period.

Defined in this Act: CFC, income interest

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 17

Calculation of attributed CFC income or loss

EX 18A Scheme for finding person's attributed CFC income or loss

Formula and rules for calculation

- (1) The attributed CFC income or loss of a person (an interest holder) holding an income interest in a CFC, for the purposes of the general rules in sections CQ 2(1) and DN 2(1)(which relate to attributed CFC income or loss), is found for the CFC and an accounting period from—
- (a) the formula in section EX 18, which uses the interest holder's income interest and the CFC's net attributable CFC income or loss determined as described in subsection (2):
 - (b) the interest holder's additional CFC attributed income under section EX 19:
 - (c) the reduction in the interest holder's attributed CFC loss under section EX 20.

Determination of attributed CFC income or loss from attributable CFC amount

- (2) An interest holder with an income interest of a fraction (the fraction) in a CFC with an attributable CFC amount under section EX 20B for an accounting period has under section EX 18, for the CFC and accounting period,—
- (a) attributed CFC income or loss equal to the fraction of the CFC's net attributable CFC income or loss under sections EX 20C to EX 20E and the rules in sections EX 21 and EX 24 to EX 27, if paragraph (b) does not apply:
 - (b) no attributed CFC income or attributed CFC loss, if the CFC is—

- (i) a non-attributing active CFC under section EX 21B, determined as described in subsection (3), for which the interest holder is not affected by an election under section EX 73:
- (ii) a non-attributing Australian CFC under section EX 22.

Non-attributing active CFCs

- (3) Whether a CFC is a non-attributing active CFC is determined under section EX 21B using—
- (a) a test in—
 - (i) section EX 21D, if the interest holder does not use a test referred to in subparagraph (ii); or
 - (ii) section EX 21E, if the CFC has accounts prepared to a standard meeting the requirements of section EX 21C and the interest holder chooses to use a test in that section based on those accounts; and
 - (b) the rules in sections EX 21 and EX 24 to EX 27.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, attributable CFC amount, attributed CFC income, attributed CFC loss, CFC, non-attributing active CFC, non-attributing Australian CFC

Section EX 18A: inserted (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 153(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EX 18A(2)(b)(i): amended (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 2 November 2012 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 July 2009), by section 40(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

EX 18 Formula for calculating attributed CFC income or loss

If a person has attributed CFC income under section CQ 2 (When attributed CFC income arises) or an attributed CFC loss under section DN 2 (When attributed CFC loss arises), the amount of a person's attributed CFC income or loss from a CFC for an accounting period is calculated using the formula—

$$\begin{aligned} & \text{person's income interest for accounting period} \\ & \times \text{net attributable CFC income or loss of CFC for accounting period.} \end{aligned}$$

Defined in this Act: accounting period, amount, attributed CFC income, attributed CFC loss, CFC, income interest, loss, net attributable CFC income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 18

Section EX 18 formula: amended (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 154(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EX 18 list of defined terms branch equivalent income: repealed (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 154(2)(a) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EX 18 list of defined terms net attributable CFC income: inserted (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 154(2)(b) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EX 19 Taxable distribution from non-complying trust

Application of this section

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a CFC derives a taxable distribution from a non-complying trust in an accounting period; and
 - (b) a person has attributed CFC income or loss from the CFC for the period, or would have if the taxable distribution were included in the CFC's net attributable CFC income.

Additional attributed CFC income

- (2) The taxable distribution is excluded under section EX 21(32) when calculating the CFC's net attributable CFC income or loss, and instead the person has additional attributed CFC income.

Calculation of additional attributed CFC income

- (3) The amount of the additional attributed CFC income is calculated using the formula—person's income interest in CFC for accounting period × taxable distribution.

Non-complying trust tax rate

- (4) The person is liable for income tax on the additional attributed CFC income at the rate in schedule 1 (Basic tax rates: income tax, ESCT, RSCT, RWT, and attributed fringe benefits) that applies to amounts under section HC 19 (Taxable distributions from non-complying trusts).

EX 20 Reduction in attributed CFC loss

Application of this section: no economic loss

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a person has an amount of attributed CFC loss; and
 - (b) the person suffers no, or substantially no, corresponding economic loss, whether because of a call option, a put option, or any other reason.

Application of this section: attributed CFC loss excessive

- (2) This section also applies if—
- (a) a person has an amount of attributed CFC loss; and
 - (b) the amount is more than any corresponding economic loss of the person, whether because of the application of the rules for calculating the person's income interest or for any other reason.

Reduction to economic loss

- (3) The attributed CFC loss is reduced to be equal to the economic loss, if any.

Defined in this Act: amount, attributed CFC loss, income interest

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 20

Attributable CFC amount and net attributable CFC income or loss

Heading: inserted (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 156(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EX 20B Attributable CFC amount

Attributable CFC amount

- (1) Attributable CFC amount, for an accounting period and a CFC, means the amount calculated under the rules in section EX 21 using the formula—

$$\text{gross} + \text{arrangement} - \text{apportioned funding income.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (2) The items in the formula in subsection (1) are defined in subsections (3) to (4B).

Gross

- (3) Gross is the total amount of income derived in the accounting period by the CFC that is 1 or more of the following:

- (a) a dividend that is paid in relation to rights that are a direct income interest in a foreign company, meet the requirements of neither section EX 34 nor section EX 35, and are excluded from being an attributing interest by—

- (i) section EX 31:
- (ii) section EX 32:
- (iii) section EX 36:
- (iv) section EX 37:
- (v) section EX 37B:
- (vi) section EX 39:
- (b) a dividend that is paid by a company resident in New Zealand to the extent to which the dividend is not fully imputed:
- (c) an amount that is a deductible foreign equity distribution or a distribution for fixed-rate equity and is not a distribution from an associated non-attributing active CFC:
- (d) a royalty of a type referred to in subsection (5):
- (e) rent of a type referred to in subsection (6):
- (f) income from a business of insurance or from being an insurer:
- (g) income from a life insurance policy of a type referred to in subsection (8):
- (h) income from the supply of personal services of a type referred to in subsection (9):
- (i) income from the disposal of revenue account property that is a share, other than a share referred to in subsection (10):
- (j) income from the disposal of revenue account property that is an option to acquire or dispose of a share:
- (k) income from the disposal of revenue account property that is—
 - (i) not a share, financial arrangement, or life insurance policy; and
 - (ii) used by the CFC with a purpose or effect of giving rise to income of the CFC referred to in another paragraph of this subsection:
- (l) income from a service, other than a telecommunications service, to the extent to which the service is physically performed in New Zealand:
- (m) income from a service relating to the use of equipment to provide a telecommunications service, to the extent to which the equipment is at the time—
 - (i) physically located outside any country or territory; and
 - (ii) owned by the CFC or by a FIF that is associated with the CFC; and
 - (iii) not a mobile telephone handset or a radio receiver and transmitter for a ship or aircraft:

- (n) income from a telecommunications service to the extent to which the service is physically performed in New Zealand and is not described in subsection (11);
- (o) attributed PIE income that, for a CFC, is not excluded income under section CX 56 (Attributed income of certain investors in multi-rate PIEs);
- (p) a dividend that is excluded by section CD 36(2) (Foreign investment fund income) from the effect of section CD 36(1).

Arrangement

- (4) Arrangement is the total for the CFC and the accounting period of amounts of income under section CC 3 (Financial arrangements) for—
- (a) an arrangement that—
 - (i) is a financial arrangement, or a short-term agreement for sale and purchase for which the CFC has made an election under section EW 8 (Election to treat certain excepted financial arrangements as financial arrangements); and
 - (ii) is not a derivative instrument; and
 - (iii) is not referred to in subsection (12);
 - (b) a derivative instrument—
 - (i) that is held in the course of a business of the CFC for the purpose of dealing with the derivative instrument;
 - (ii) that is not entered in the ordinary course of a business of the CFC;
 - (iii) to the extent to which the income is from a hedging relationship, of a type referred to in NZIAS 39, with income of the CFC referred to in subsection (3) or paragraph (a) or with a transaction producing such income of the CFC.

Apportioned funding income

- (4B) Apportioned funding income is,—
- (a) if the CFC is an entity carrying on a business of banking or insurance or is directly or indirectly controlled by such an entity, zero;
 - (b) if paragraph (a) does not apply, the amount calculated using the formula—

$$\text{funding income} \times \text{funding fraction} \times (1 - \text{asset fraction}).$$

Definition of items in formula

- (4C) The items in the formula in subsection (4B)(b) are defined in subsections (4D) to (4F).

Funding income

- (4D) Funding income is the total of the amounts in the accounting period that are included in the items gross and arrangement and relate to a financial arrangement—
- (a) that provides funds for the CFC; and
 - (b) for which there is no reasonable expectation, when the CFC enters the financial arrangement or when the terms of the financial arrangement are changed, that the CFC will have from the financial arrangement amounts that would be income for the CFC exceeding in total the amounts that would be deductions for the CFC, during—
 - (i) the period in which the CFC is party to the financial arrangement;
 - (ii) a period predictable in advance during which the CFC is a party to the financial arrangement.

Funding fraction

- (4E) Funding fraction is the amount given by section EX 20C(6) for the CFC.

Asset fraction

- (4F) Asset fraction is the amount given by section EX 20C(8) for the CFC.

Attributable CFC amount: royalties

- (5) A royalty derived by a CFC is included in an attributable CFC amount under subsection (3)(d) if none of the following are satisfied:
- (a) the CFC is regularly engaged in creating, developing, or adding value to property that produces royalties and the royalty is—
 - (i) paid by a person who is not associated with the CFC under section YB 2 (Two companies); and
 - (ii) from property that is not linked to New Zealand under subsection (13); and
 - (iii) from property that the CFC has created or developed or to which the CFC has added substantial value;
 - (b) the CFC is regularly engaged in creating, developing, or adding value to property that produces royalties and the royalty is—
 - (i) paid by a person who is associated with the CFC under section YB 2; and
 - (ii) from property that is not linked to New Zealand under subsection (13); and
 - (iii) from property that the CFC has created or developed, or to which the CFC has added substantial value; and
 - (iv) an arm's length amount determined under section GC 13 (Calculation of arm's length amounts) for the arrangement between the CFC and the associated person:

- (c) the royalty is—
 - (i) paid by a person who would be an associated non-attributing active CFC in the absence of this paragraph and subsections (7)(c) and (12)(a); and
 - (ii) from property that is not linked to New Zealand under subsection (13):
- (d) the royalty is—
 - (i) paid to the CFC by a person not associated with the CFC under section YB 2, or by a CFC associated with the CFC under section YB 2 that has received a royalty payment from such a person or a royalty payment arising from such a royalty payment; and
 - (ii) from property owned by a New Zealand resident who is resident in no other country under all applicable double tax agreements; and
 - (iii) from property licensed to the CFC, or to a CFC associated with the CFC under section YB 2, (the licensee) by the New Zealand resident for an arm's length amount determined under section GC 13 for the arrangement between the licensee and the New Zealand resident.

Attributable CFC amount: rent

- (6) Rent derived by a CFC is included in an attributable CFC amount under subsection (3)(e) if the rent is not of a type referred to in subsection (7) and is from—
 - (a) a lease or sublease of land:
 - (b) a lease or sublease of personal property:
 - (c) a licence to use intangible property:
 - (d) a hire or bailment.

Attributable CFC amount: exclusions from rent

- (7) Rent derived by a CFC from a source referred to in subsection (6) is not included in an attributable CFC amount under subsection (3)(e) if the rent is—
 - (a) from land in a country or territory with which the CFC has a taxed CFC connection:
 - (b) from property other than land, to the extent to which the rent relates to the use of the property in a country or territory referred to in paragraph (a):
 - (c) paid by a person who would be an associated non-attributing active CFC in the absence of this paragraph and subsections (5)(c) and (12)(a):
 - (d) a payment under a hire purchase agreement:
 - (e) a payment under a finance lease:

- (f) a royalty;
- (g) a payment under a licence to use intangible property that—
 - (i) is not a royalty; and
 - (ii) would not be included in an attributable CFC amount under subsection (5) if treated as a royalty for the purposes of that subsection.

Attributable CFC amount: income from life insurance contract

- (8) Income from a life insurance policy is included in an attributable CFC amount under subsection (3)(g) if the income is not included in a calculation of FIF income or loss and is—
 - (a) a distribution, if the life insurance policy is not intended to compensate the CFC for financial losses arising from the death or extended incapacity of a specified employee or member involved in the CFC's business;
 - (b) a distribution that is not intended to compensate the CFC for financial losses arising from the death or extended incapacity of a specified employee or member involved in the CFC's business, if the life insurance policy is intended to compensate the CFC for such losses;
 - (c) income from a disposal of the life insurance policy, if the policy is revenue account property.

Attributable CFC amount: income from personal services

- (9) Income derived by a CFC from the supply of personal services is included in an attributable CFC amount under subsection (3)(h) if the personal services are performed by another person (the working person) and—
 - (a) the working person is a New Zealand resident; and
 - (b) the personal services are not essential support for a product supplied by the CFC; and
 - (c) the working person is associated with the CFC under section YB 3 (Company and person other than company) at the time the services are performed or is a relative, at the beginning of the accounting period, of a person associated with the CFC under section YB 3; and
 - (d) 80% or more of the CFC's total income in the accounting period from supplying personal services is derived through personal services meeting the requirements of paragraph (a) performed by working persons meeting the requirements of paragraph (b); and
 - (e) to derive the income, the CFC uses a business structure that requires depreciable property having, at the end of the accounting period, a total cost under section GB 28(7) (Interpretation of terms used in section GB 27) less than or equal to the greater of $75,000 and 25% of the

CFC's total income from personal services performed in the accounting period; and

- (f) a person who holds an attributing interest in the CFC files, after the date on which the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 receives the Royal assent, a return of income in which the amount attributed to the working person is determined under this section.

Exclusions from attributable CFC amount: shares

- (10) Income derived by a CFC from the disposal of a share that is revenue account property is not included in an attributable CFC amount under subsection (3)(i) if the CFC's FIF income or loss from the share in the period ending with the disposal is calculated using—
 - (a) the comparative value method;
 - (b) the deemed rate of return method;
 - (c) the fair dividend rate method;
 - (d) the cost method.

Exclusions from attributable CFC amount: telecommunications services in New Zealand

- (11) Income of a CFC from a telecommunications service physically performed in New Zealand is not included in an attributable CFC amount under subsection (3)(n) if—
 - (a) the service is the transmission, emission, or reception of information between New Zealand and a country or territory with which the CFC has a taxed CFC connection; and
 - (b) the CFC is a network operator under the Telecommunications (Interception Capability and Security) Act 2013 (a network operator), or—
 - (i) a group of persons has, for the whole of the CFC's accounting period, voting interests and, if a market value circumstance exists, market value interests, of more than 50% in the CFC; and
 - (ii) the group of persons also has, for the whole of the CFC's accounting period, voting interests and, if a market value circumstance exists, market value interests, of more than 50% in a network operator; and
 - (c) the service is performed by a person, other than the CFC, who—
 - (i) is resident in New Zealand, and is resident in no other country under all applicable double tax agreements;
 - (ii) has a fixed establishment in New Zealand that is a permanent establishment under all applicable double tax agreements; and
 - (d) the service is performed by the person as part of a business in New Zealand of providing telecommunication services in New Zealand—

- (i) carried on through the person's fixed establishment, if the person is not resident in New Zealand; and
- (ii) from which the person derives assessable income of more than $5,000,000 per annum.

Exclusions from attributable CFC amount: income from financial arrangements other than derivative instruments

- (12) Income of a CFC from a financial arrangement or excepted financial arrangement that is referred to in subsection (4)(a)(i) is not included in an attributable CFC amount under subsection (4)(a) if the financial arrangement or agreement is—
- (a) an agreement by the CFC to lend money to a person who would be an associated non-attributing active CFC in the absence of this paragraph and subsections (5)(c) and (7)(c):
 - (b) an agreement for the sale or purchase of property or services or a hire purchase agreement—
 - (i) entered in the ordinary course of business by the CFC:
 - (ii) for property or services produced or used by the CFC in business.

Royalties: property linked to New Zealand

- (13) Property giving rise to a royalty is linked to New Zealand at a time in an accounting period for the purposes of subsection (5) if the property meets the requirements of subsection (14) at a time in the period—
- (a) beginning—
 - (i) at the time the property was created, if the property has not since met the requirements of subsection (15); or
 - (ii) from the time the property most recently met the requirements of subsection (15); and
 - (b) ending at the time in the accounting period.

Situations creating link with New Zealand

- (14) Property owned by a CFC has a link with New Zealand if the property—
- (a) has been owned by a New Zealand resident:
 - (b) has been owned by a non-resident for the purposes of a business carried on in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand:
 - (c) was created or developed in New Zealand:
 - (d) has had substantial value added in New Zealand:
 - (e) has been acquired by a person who had a deduction for expenditure or loss incurred in the acquisition:
 - (f) is based on knowledge acquired by a person who—

- (i) acquired the knowledge with a purpose or intention of creating the property; and
 - (ii) had a deduction for expenditure or loss incurred in the acquisition:
- (g) is created or developed from activities, or from the extension, continuation, development, or completion of activities, if the activities produced knowledge acquired by a person who had a deduction for expenditure or loss incurred in the acquisition.

Situations breaking link with New Zealand

- (15) There is no link between property and New Zealand for a CFC when the property is owned by a non-resident who—
- (a) is not a CFC and is not associated with the CFC; and
 - (b) is not associated with a person who has owned the property while it had a link with New Zealand.

EX 20C Net attributable CFC income or loss

CFC's net attributable CFC income or loss

- (1) For the purpose of calculating the attributed CFC income or loss for an accounting period of a person (the interest holder) with an income interest in a CFC,—
 - (a) the CFC's net attributable CFC income for the accounting period is the greater of zero and the amount calculated using the formula in subsection (2):
 - (b) the CFC's net attributable CFC loss for the accounting period is—
 - (i) the absolute value of the amount calculated using the formula in subsection (2), if that amount is less than zero:
 - (ii) zero, if subparagraph (i) does not apply.

Formula for net attributable CFC income or loss

- (2) The amount of a CFC's net attributable CFC income or loss for an accounting period is calculated using the rules in section EX 21 and the formula—
$$\text{attributable CFC} - \text{apportioned funding costs} - \text{other deductions}.$$

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula in subsection (2),—
 - (a) attributable CFC is the CFC's attributable CFC amount for the accounting period:
 - (b) [Repealed]
 - (c) apportioned funding costs is the amount calculated using the formula—$$\text{funding costs} \times \text{funding fraction} \times \text{cost fraction}:$$
 - (d) other deductions is the amount of expenditure and loss incurred in the accounting period by the CFC to the extent to which the expenditure and loss meets the requirements of subsection (13).

Definition of items in formula

- (4) The items in the formula in subsection (3)(c) are defined in subsections (6), (10), and (11).

Funding income

[Repealed]

- (5) [Repealed]

Funding fraction

- (6) Funding fraction is equal to,—

- (a) if the item funding in subsection (7)(a) is zero, 1; or
- (b) if the item is being used to calculate the item apportioned funding costs and the interest holder chooses to rely on this paragraph, 1; or
- (c) if neither of paragraphs (a) and (b) apply, the amount calculated using the formula—

$$(\text{funding} - \text{group funding}) \div \text{funding}.$$

Definition of items in formula

- (7) In the formula in subsection (6),—
- (a) funding is the total of amounts, each of which is the outstanding balance for—
 - (i) a financial arrangement to which the CFC is a party and which provides funds for the CFC:
 - (ii) a fixed rate foreign equity, or share giving a right to a deductible foreign equity distribution, issued by the CFC and held by a company that is a New Zealand resident, a CFC, or a FIF for which the interest holder uses the attributable FIF income method:
 - (b) group funding is the lesser of the item funding and the total of amounts, each of which is the outstanding balance for a financial arrangement, a fixed-rate foreign equity, or a share giving a right to a deductible foreign equity distribution,—
 - (i) under which the CFC provides funds to another CFC associated with the CFC under section YB 2 (Two companies) or to a FIF for which the interest holder uses the attributable FIF income method and that is associated with the CFC under section YB 2; and
 - (ii) that produces for the CFC an amount that is included in the item arrangement under section EX 20B(4) or is a deductible foreign equity distribution or a distribution for fixed-rate foreign equity.

Asset fraction

- (8) Asset fraction is the amount calculated using the formula—
- $$\frac{(\text{attributable CFC's assets} - \text{group funding})}{\div (\text{total CFC's assets} - \text{group funding})}.$$

Definition of items in formula

- (9) In the formula in subsection (8),—
- (a) attributable CFC's assets is the total of amounts for the CFC's assets, each of which is the value of an asset to the extent to which the asset is used for the purpose of deriving an attributable CFC amount and not used for the purpose of deriving an amount that is not an attributable CFC amount:
 - (b) group funding is—

- (i) zero, if subparagraph (ii) does not apply; or
 - (ii) the amount of the item group funding referred to in subsection (7)(b), if subsection (6)(c) applies for the interest holder and the CFC:
- (c) total CFC's assets is the total value of the CFC's assets.

Funding costs

- (10) Funding costs is the total of amounts in the accounting period, each of which—
- (a) would be a deduction of the CFC relating to a financial arrangement to which the CFC is a party and which provides funds for the CFC;
 - (b) is a distribution relating to fixed-rate foreign equity or a deductible foreign equity distribution of the CFC and is paid by the CFC to a company resident in New Zealand, to another CFC, or to a FIF for which the interest holder uses the attributable FIF income method.

Cost fraction

- (11) Cost fraction is,—
- (a) if the CFC is not excessively debt funded under section EX 20D, the amount of the item asset fraction referred to in subsection (8); or
 - (b) if the CFC is excessively debt funded under section EX 20D, the lesser of—
 - (i) the amount of the item asset fraction referred to in subsection (8);
 - (ii) the amount calculated under section EX 20D.

Determining debts and assets of CFC

- (12) For the items referred to in subsection (9), the debts and assets of the CFC are determined under sections FE 8 to FE 11 (which contain rules for determining the apportionment of interest) as if the CFC were—
- (a) an excess debt outbound company; and
 - (b) the only member of the CFC's New Zealand group.

Requirements for item other deductions

- (13) Amounts of expenditure or loss contribute to the item other deductions to the extent to which—
- (a) the amounts do not relate to a financial arrangement or share and—
 - (i) are incurred for the purpose of deriving an attributable CFC amount; and
 - (ii) are not incurred for the purpose of deriving an amount that is not an attributable CFC amount; and
 - (iii) correspond to amounts that would be deductions of the CFC after the adjustments that would be made under sections CH 2 and

DB 50 (which relate to adjustments for prepayments) if the CFC were a resident:

- (b) the amounts relate to financial arrangements or shares referred to in the definition of the item funding in subsection (7)(a) and exceed in total the amount given by multiplying the items funding costs and funding fraction, used in calculating the item apportioned funding costs under subsection (3)(c):
- (c) the amounts—
 - (i) do not relate to financial arrangements that provide funds for the CFC; and
 - (ii) relate to financial arrangements referred to in section EX 20B(4).

Defined in this Act: accounting period, attributable CFC amount, CFC, deductible foreign equity distribution, deduction, financial arrangement, fixed-rate foreign equity, generally accepted accounting practice, income interest, interest, loss, net attributable CFC income, net attributable CFC loss, share

EX 20D Adjustment of cost fraction for excessively debt funded CFC

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of the item (the CFC's cost fraction) in section EX 20C(11) to a CFC that is excessively debt funded under subsection (2) in relation to a person (the interest holder) with an income interest in the CFC.

Excessive debt funding

- (2) A CFC is excessively debt funded under this section if—
- the amount (the CFC's debt-asset ratio) calculated using the formula in subsection (4) is more than 0.75; and
 - the amount (the CFC's relative debt-asset ratio) given by section EX 20E is more than 1.10.

Calculations for CFC

- (3) For the purposes of subsections (4) to (8), the debts and assets of the CFC are determined under sections FE 8 to FE 11 (which contain rules for determining the apportionment of interest) as if the CFC were—
- an excess debt outbound company; and
 - the only member of the CFC's New Zealand group.

Formula for debt-asset ratio of CFC

- (4) The formula for the CFC's debt-asset ratio referred to in subsection (2)(a) is—(total CFC's debts – group funding) ÷ (total CFC's assets – group funding).

Definition of items in formula

- (5) The items in the formula in subsection (4) are defined in subsections (6) to (8).

Total CFC's debts

- (6) Total CFC's debts is the total amount for the CFC and the accounting period, determined under generally accepted accounting practice, of the outstanding balances of—
- financial arrangements entered by the CFC, each of which—
 - provides funds to the CFC; and
 - gives rise to an amount for which the CFC would have a deduction;

- (b) fixed-rate foreign equity that is issued by the CFC and held by a company that is a New Zealand resident, a CFC, or a FIF for which the interest holder uses the attributable FIF income method:
- (c) shares issued by the CFC in relation to which the CFC makes deductible foreign equity distributions to a company that is a New Zealand resident, a CFC, or a FIF for which the interest holder uses the attributable FIF income method.

Group funding

(7) Group funding is—

- (a) if paragraph (b) does not apply, zero; or
- (b) if the interest holder chooses to rely on this paragraph and the item total CFC's assets is greater than the item total CFC's debts, the lesser of the item total CFC's debts and the total of amounts, each of which is the outstanding balance for a financial arrangement, a fixed-rate foreign equity, or a share giving a right to a deductible foreign equity distribution,—
 - (i) under which the CFC provides funds to another CFC associated with the CFC under section YB 2 (Two companies) or to a FIF for which the interest holder uses the attributable FIF income method and that is associated with the CFC under section YB 2; and
 - (ii) that produces for the CFC an amount that is included in the item arrangement under section EX 20B(4) or is a deductible foreign equity distribution or a distribution for fixed-rate foreign equity.

Total CFC's assets

- (8) Total CFC's assets is the total value of the CFC's assets determined under generally accepted accounting practice.

Cost fraction for excessively debt funded CFC

- (9) For a CFC that is excessively debt funded, the item cost fraction for the purposes of this section is the amount calculated using the formula in subsection (10) and determining the debts and assets of a CFC under sections FE 8 to FE 11 as if the CFC were—
- (a) an excess debt outbound company; and
 - (b) the only member of the CFC's New Zealand group.

Formula for cost fraction

- (10) The formula for the CFC's cost fraction is—attributable foreign company assets ÷ total foreign company assets.

Definition of items in formula

- (11) The items in the formula in subsection (10) are defined in subsections (12) and (13).

Attributable foreign company assets

- (12) Attributable foreign company assets is the total value of assets, consolidated under generally accepted accounting practice for the accounting period, of all the interest holder's CFCs and of all the FIFs for which the interest holder uses the attributable FIF income method, to the extent to which each asset is—
- (a) used for the purpose of deriving an attributable CFC amount or an amount that is included in net attributable FIF income or loss; and
 - (b) not used for the purpose of deriving an amount other than an amount referred to in paragraph (a).

Total foreign company assets

- (13) Total foreign company assets is the total value of assets, consolidated under generally accepted accounting practice for the accounting period, of all the interest holder's CFCs and of all the FIFs for which the interest holder uses the attributable FIF income method.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, attributable FIF income method, CFC, deductible foreign equity distribution, deduction, excess debt outbound company, financial arrangement, fixed-rate foreign equity, loss, net attributable FIF income, New Zealand resident

EX 20E Relative debt-asset ratio for CFC

What this section does

- (1) This section determines the relative debt-asset ratio of a CFC for the purposes of section EX 20D(2)(b) by determining an amount (the group debt-asset ratio) for the CFC's group and comparing that amount with the debt-asset ratio of the CFC determined under section EX 20D(4).

Members of CFC's group and calculations for group

- (2) For the purposes of subsections (3) to (8),—
 - (a) the members of a CFC's group are—
 - (i) the CFC;
 - (ii) if the interest holder is a company, the members of the worldwide group that the interest holder would have under sections FE 31B, FE 31C, and FE 32 (which relate to the determination of groups) if the interest holder were an excess debt outbound company;
 - (iii) if the interest holder is a trustee, the members of the trustee's worldwide group under section FE 3(1)(b) (Interest apportionment for individuals);
 - (iv) if the interest holder is a natural person, the person's worldwide group referred to in section FE 5(1C)(a) to (c) (Thresholds for application of interest apportionment rules);
 - (b) the debts and assets of the CFC's group are determined under sections FE 8 to FE 11 and FE 18 (Measurement of debts and assets of worldwide group) as if the interest holder, if a company, were an excess debt outbound company.

Formula for CFC's group debt-asset ratio

- (3) The formula for the CFC's group debt-asset ratio is—

$$\text{total group debts} \div \text{total group assets}.$$

Definition of items in formula

- (4) The items in the formula in subsection (3) are defined in subsections (5) and (6).

Total group debts

- (5) Total group debts is the total amount, consolidated under generally accepted accounting practice for the CFC's group and the accounting period, of the outstanding balances of—
- (a) financial arrangements entered by the group's members, each of which—
 - (i) provides funds to a group member; and
 - (ii) gives rise to an amount for which a group member would have a deduction:
 - (b) fixed-rate foreign equity issued by a member of the group and held by a company that is a New Zealand resident, a CFC, or a FIF for which the interest holder uses the attributable FIF income method:
 - (c) equity interests issued by a member of the group in relation to which the member makes deductible foreign equity distributions to a company that is a New Zealand resident, a CFC, or a FIF for which the interest holder uses the attributable FIF income method.

Total group assets

- (6) Total group assets is the total value, consolidated under generally accepted accounting practice for the accounting period, of the assets of the CFC's group.

Formula for CFC's relative debt-asset ratio

- (7) The formula for the CFC's relative debt-asset ratio is—

$$\text{CFC's debt-asset ratio} \div \text{group debt-asset ratio}.$$

Definition of items in formula

- (8) In the formula in subsection (7),—
- (a) CFC's debt-asset ratio is the CFC's debt-asset ratio under section EX 20D(4):
 - (b) group debt-asset ratio is the CFC's group debt-asset ratio under subsection (3).

Defined in this Act: accounting period, attributable FIF income method, CFC, deductible foreign equity distribution, deduction, excess debt outbound company, financial arrangement, fixed-rate foreign equity, New Zealand resident

Section EX 20E: inserted (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 156(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EX 20E(5)(b): replaced (with effect on 1 July 2011 and applying for income years beginning on or after that date), on 7 May 2012, by section 22(1) of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

Section EX 20E(5)(c): replaced (with effect on 1 July 2011 and applying for income years beginning on or after that date), on 7 May 2012, by section 22(1) of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

Section EX 20E list of defined terms attributable FIF income method: inserted (with effect on 1 July 2011), on 7 May 2012, by section 22(2) of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

Calculation of branch equivalent income or loss

[Repealed]

Heading: repealed (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 160 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EX 21 Attributable CFC amount and net attributable CFC income or loss: calculation rules

Calculation rules for CFC

- (1) The rules in this section apply for the purposes of—
 - (a) calculating the attributable CFC amount for a CFC under section EX 20B;
 - (b) calculating the net attributable CFC income or loss for a CFC under section EX 20C;
 - (c) determining under section EX 21D whether a CFC is a non-attributing active CFC.

Calculation rules for test group of CFCs

- (1B) For the purpose of determining under section EX 21D whether a member of a group of CFCs is a non-attributing active CFC,—
 - (a) the consolidated annual gross income of the group is calculated under the rules in this section; and
 - (b) the consolidated attributable CFC amount of the group is calculated under the rules in this section.

CFC treated as New Zealand resident

- (2) The rules in this Act are applied as if the CFC were always a New Zealand resident.

Modifications to rules

- (3) However, the rules in the Act are modified for the purposes of the calculation by the following subsections.

Conversion to New Zealand dollars

- (4) The taxpayer must choose—

- (a) for all the calculations to be done in New Zealand dollars; or
- (b) for all the calculations to be done in the currency of the CFC's financial accounts; and if the CFC has no financial accounts, the currency used is that of the CFC's country of residence, the result being then converted into New Zealand dollars at the average of the close of trading spot exchange rates for the 15th day of each complete month that falls in the period.

Consent for change of currency

- (5) Having chosen a currency, the taxpayer must use the same currency for calculating attributable CFC amount and net attributable CFC income or loss attributable to the CFC for each later consecutive accounting period, unless the Commissioner allows the taxpayer to choose again.

Change for commercial purpose

- (6) The Commissioner may consent to a change under subsection (5) only if satisfied that—
 - (a) the taxpayer's main purpose in changing is a commercial one, and for this purpose, the reducing of tax is not a commercial purpose; and
 - (b) the change does not have an effect of defeating the intent and application of subpart CQ (Attributed income from foreign equity) or DN (Attributed losses from foreign equity) or this subpart.

New Zealand currency for financial arrangements

- (7) Despite subsections (4) to (6), New Zealand currency calculations must be used to calculate that part of the attributable CFC amount and net attributable CFC income or loss arising from financial arrangements if—
 - (a) the total value of financial arrangements to which the CFC is a party is more than $1,000,000 at any time during the relevant accounting period, applying section EW 17(2)(b) (Straight-line method) to measure the values; or
 - (b) the CFC's total net foreign exchange loss attributable to financial arrangements, calculated under subsections (4) to (6) for the accounting period, is more than $100,000.

Limit to subsection (7)

- (8) Subsection (7) does not apply to a financial arrangement if—
 - (a) it is a variable principal debt instrument; and
 - (b) all the rights and obligations of all the parties to the financial arrangement are expressed in the currency chosen under subsection (4)(b); and
 - (c) no other party to the financial arrangement is associated with the CFC; and
 - (d) no person enters into the financial arrangement under an arrangement that has a purpose of defeating the application of subsection (7).

Opening cost base: tangible assets: first period

- (9) If the taxpayer had no attributed CFC income or loss from the CFC for the previous accounting period, the taxpayer must choose whether to measure the cost base at the start of an accounting period of premises, plant, machinery, equipment, and trading stock of the CFC at—
- (a) historical cost minus any accumulated amounts of depreciation loss, or another value used by the CFC as the starting value for the period for income tax calculations in the country in which the CFC is resident, but only if the value is below market value; or
 - (b) the starting value that would be used under this Act if the CFC had always been a New Zealand resident.

Opening cost base: tangible assets: later periods

- (10) If the taxpayer had attributed CFC income or loss from the CFC for the previous period, the cost base at the start of an accounting period of premises, plant, machinery, equipment, and trading stock of the CFC is the closing value at the end of the previous period used to calculate the income or loss.

Opening cost base: financial arrangements: first period

- (11) If the taxpayer had no attributed CFC income or loss from the CFC for the previous accounting period, the taxpayer must choose to calculate the consideration under the financial arrangements rules for a financial arrangement at the start of an accounting period, at—
- (a) the market value of the financial arrangement; or
 - (b) the absolute value calculated using the formula—
$$\begin{aligned} & \text{consideration paid to the CFC} + \text{expenditure} \\ & - \text{consideration paid by the CFC} - \text{income.} \end{aligned}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (12) In the formula,—
- (a) consideration paid to the CFC is the consideration paid to the CFC for all periods before the accounting period;
 - (b) expenditure is expenditure that would have been incurred under the financial arrangements rules for all periods before the accounting period if the CFC had been resident in New Zealand;
 - (c) consideration paid by the CFC is the consideration paid by the CFC for all periods before the accounting period;
 - (d) income is income that would have been derived under the financial arrangements rules for all periods before the accounting period if the CFC had been resident in New Zealand.

Provisions that do not apply

- (13) The following provisions do not apply:

- (a) the consolidation rules:
- (b) section CB 27 (Income equalisation schemes) and subparts DQ (Income equalisation schemes and environmental restoration accounts schemes) and EH (Income equalisation schemes):
- (c) subpart CQ (Attributed income from foreign equity) or DN (Attributed losses from foreign equity) or this subpart to the extent to which any of the subparts would result in attributed CFC income or attributed CFC loss for the CFC:
- (d) section CW 8 (Money lent to government of New Zealand):
- (db) section CW 9 (Dividend derived from foreign company):
- (dc) section CW 10 (Dividend within New Zealand wholly-owned group):
- (e) section CW 40(1) (Local and regional promotion bodies):
- (f) sections DO 1 (Enhancements to land) and DO 2 (Plantings for erosion, shelter, and water protection purposes):
- (g) sections EW 9 (Persons to whom financial arrangements rules apply) and EW 11(b) (What financial arrangements rules do not apply to):
- (h) subpart FE (Interest apportionment on thin capitalisation):
- (i) section GB 5 (Arrangements involving trust beneficiaries):
- (j) sections IA 2 to IA 9, subpart IC, and sections IP 3 to IP 7, IZ 4, and IZ 5 (which relate to the use of tax losses).

Business treated as if carried on in New Zealand

- (14) The following provisions apply as if the CFC's business activities were carried on in New Zealand:
- (a) sections CT 1 to CT 3, CT 5 to CT 7, CX 42, CX 43, CZ 8, DT 1 to DT 15, DT 17 to DT 19, and IS 5 (which relate to petroleum mining):
 - (b) sections DO 4 to DO 7, DO 12, DP 1 to DP 3, DP 8, and DP 11 (which relate to farming, aquacultural, and forestry expenditure):
 - (c) section EZ 16 (Amount of depreciation loss for plant or machinery additional to section EZ 15 amount):
 - (d) the definitions in subpart YA (General definitions) that specifically apply for the purposes of those sections.

Transfer pricing rules

- (15) Sections GC 6 to GC 14 (which relate to transfer pricing arrangements between associated persons) apply only to a transaction that has a purpose or effect of defeating any of the jurisdictional ring-fencing rules for CFC losses and tax credits in—
- (a) section DN 4 (Ring-fencing cap on deduction):
 - (b) section IQ 2 (Ring-fencing cap on attributed CFC net losses):

- (c) section IQ 4 (Group companies using attributed CFC net losses):
- (d) sections LK 1 to LK 7 (which relate to foreign tax credits and CFCs).

Dividends

- (16) Dividends that are not part of the CFC's attributable CFC amount are exempt income of the CFC.

Dividends: exempt income

[Repealed]

- (17) [Repealed]

Benefits from money advanced

- (18) When section CC 7 (Consideration other than in money) is applied, the borrower is treated as if it carries on a business in New Zealand.

No tainting by association

- (19) Sections CB 9 to CB 13 (which relate to the disposal of land) and CV 1 (Group companies) do not apply to treat an amount derived by the CFC as income merely because of the activities of a person associated with the CFC if the associate is a non-resident.

Crown acquisition of land

- (20) The reference in section EI 8(1) (Disposal of land to the Crown) to the Crown includes any relevant government outside New Zealand.

Amount of depreciation loss recovered

- (21) When sections EE 48 to EE 52 (which relate to disposals and similar events) are applied, the CFC is treated as having had a deduction for an amount of depreciation loss, and to have an adjusted tax value accordingly, if an amount of depreciation loss has been deducted when calculating the CFC's branch equivalent income or loss for any period and the attributed CFC income or loss of any person.

GST and value-added taxes

- (22) When sections CX 1 (Goods and services tax), DB 2 (Goods and services tax), EE 45 (Consideration for purposes of section EE 44), EE 54 (Cost: GST), and EZ 17 (Additional amount of depreciation loss: between 16 December 1991 and 1 April 1994) are applied, references to output tax, input tax, or goods and services tax (GST) payable include a reference to the equivalent item arising under the value-added tax or other tax rules of a country or territory outside New Zealand if the rules have a similar intent and application to the New Zealand GST rules.

Government grants to businesses

- (23) When section DF 1 (Government grants to businesses) is applied, a reference to the New Zealand government includes a government outside New Zealand

but, to the extent to which section DF 1 still does not apply to a grant or subsidy to the CFC from a government, the grant or subsidy is income of the CFC.

Subvention payments

- (24) If an amount is paid as consideration for the transfer of tax losses,—
- (a) it is income if derived by the CFC; and
 - (b) it is a deduction if—
 - (i) paid by the CFC to a person who is resident in the same country as the CFC and not a non-attributing active CFC; and
 - (ii) deductible under the taxation law of that country.

Life insurers

- (25) Subsection (26) applies if—
- (a) the CFC itself carries on the business of providing life insurance; or
 - (b) shares in the CFC are held, directly or indirectly, by a foreign company (the parent company, in subsection (26)) that carries on the business of providing life insurance and those shares have to be taken into account under sections EX 8 to EX 13 to calculate the taxpayer's income interest in the CFC.

Policyholders

- (26) If the test in subsection (25) is met, the life insurance rules do not apply and the net attributable CFC income or loss of the CFC is the amount actuarially determined to be the part of the CFC's net attributable CFC income or loss to which shareholders, and not policyholders in either the CFC or the parent company, are entitled.

When subsection (26) does not apply

- (27) Despite subsection (25), subsection (26) does not apply if the Commissioner—
- (a) considers that the amount calculated is not a reasonable reflection of the part attributable to shareholders; or
 - (b) has requested and not received sufficient information to enable the actuarial calculation to be reviewed.

Mineral mining activities

- (28) Sections CU 1 to CU 9, DU 1 to DU 12, IS 1, and IS 2 (which relate to mineral mining) apply, with any necessary modifications, if the CFC carries on activities outside New Zealand that are substantially the same as the mineral mining activities to which those sections apply.

Petroleum mining activities

- (29) Sections CT 1 to CT 3, CT 5, CX 42, CX 43, CZ 8, DT 1 to DT 15, DT 17 to DT 19, and IS 5 (which relate to petroleum mining) apply, with any necessary modifications, if the CFC carries on petroleum mining activities outside New Zealand that are substantially the same as the petroleum mining activities to which those sections apply.

Finance leases and specified leases

- (30) A lease entered into by the CFC before the start of the first accounting period in which the CFC is a CFC is neither a finance lease (subject to the financial arrangements rules and sections FA 6 to FA 11, which relate to finance leases), nor a specified lease (subject to sections FZ 2 to FZ 4, which relate to leases).

When subsection (30) does not apply

- (31) Subsection (30) does not apply if another party to the lease is a New Zealand resident, a CFC, or a FIF for which the taxpayer uses the attributable FIF income method.

Taxable distributions from non-complying trust

- (32) If the CFC gets a taxable distribution from a non-complying trust—
- (a) section HC 22 (Use of tax losses to reduce taxable distributions from non-complying trusts) does not apply; and
 - (b) the taxable distribution is not taken into account in calculating the CFC's net attributable CFC income or loss; and
 - (c) section EX 19 applies.

CFCs with interest in FIFs

- (33) If the CFC has rights in a FIF,—
- (a) the rights are not prevented from being an attributing interest of the CFC in a FIF merely because the notional New Zealand residence of the CFC under subsection (2) causes section EX 34 to apply; and
 - (b) the CFC's FIF income or loss is not taken into account in calculating the net attributable CFC income; and
 - (c) section EX 58 applies.

Transitional treatment of cross-border reinsurance

- (34) Section CZ 12 (General insurance with risk period straddling 1 July 1993) applies as if the reference to New Zealand were a reference to the CFC's country of residence.

EX 21B Non-attributing active CFCs

Non-attributing active CFC

- (1) Non-attributing active CFC, for an accounting period and a person (the interest holder), means a CFC—
- (a) for which the interest holder is not affected by an election under section EX 73 for the accounting period; and
 - (b) that meets the requirements of subsection (2) or (3), alone or as part of a test group of companies under section EX 21D or EX 21E.

CFC meeting test in section EX 21D or EX 21E

- (2) A CFC is a non-attributing active CFC—
- (a) under section EX 21D, if the CFC meets the requirements of that section and paragraph (b) does not apply;
 - (b) under EX 21E, if—
 - (i) the CFC meets the requirements of section EX 21C for the use of an applicable accounting standard in the application of EX 21E; and
 - (ii) the person chooses to use the applicable accounting standard in applying EX 21E; and
 - (iii) the CFC meets the requirements of EX 21E.

Insurer meeting requirements of determination

- (3) A CFC that is an insurer meeting the requirements of a determination made by the Commissioner under section 91AAQ of the Tax Administration Act 1994 is a non-attributing active CFC.

Single test for each CFC

- (4) In determining whether CFCs are non-attributing active CFCs for an accounting period under a test in section EX 21D or EX 21E, an interest holder must not use the result of a test applied to a test group that includes a CFC if the person, or a member of a wholly-owned group to which the person belongs, uses for the period a result of the same or a different test applied to the CFC, alone or as part of a different test group.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, CFC, group of companies, non-attributing active CFC

EX 21C Applicable accounting standards for section EX 21E

Applicable accounting standards

- (1) In applying EX 21E to determine whether a CFC is a non-attributing active CFC for a person (the interest holder) with an interest in the CFC, the interest holder may use as an accounting standard (the applicable accounting standard) 1 of the standards given by subsections (2) to (5) and section EZ 32F if section GB 15C (Arrangements related to accounting test for non-attributing active CFC) does not apply.

Generally accepted accounting practice with IFRS for CFC

- (2) The interest holder may use generally accepted accounting practice in New Zealand including IFRSs and the framework for differential reporting for entities applying the New Zealand equivalents to the international financial standards reporting regime (the generally accepted accounting practice with IFRS) for the CFC, if the interest holder or another person has accounts that—

- (a) include the accounts of the CFC; and
- (b) comply with generally accepted accounting practice with IFRS; and
- (c) meet the audit requirements of subsection (8).

Generally accepted accounting practice with IFRS for test group

- (3) The interest holder may use generally accepted accounting practice with IFRS for the CFC's test group under section EX 21E(2), if the interest holder or another person has accounts that—

- (a) include the accounts of the members of the test group; and
- (b) comply with generally accepted accounting practice with IFRS; and
- (c) meet the audit requirements of subsection (8).

IFRSEs for CFC

- (4) The interest holder may use IFRSEs for the CFC, if the interest holder or another person has accounts that—

- (a) include the accounts of the CFC; and
- (b) comply with the relevant IFRSEs; and
- (c) meet the audit requirements of subsection (8).

IFRSEs for test group

- (5) The interest holder may use IFRSEs for the CFC's test group under section EX 21E(2), if the interest holder or another person has accounts that—

- (a) include the accounts of the members of the test group; and
- (b) comply with the relevant IFRSEs; and
- (c) meet the audit requirements of subsection (8).

Generally accepted accounting practice without IFRS for CFC

Audit requirements

- (8) Accounts meet the audit requirements of this subsection if they—

- (a) are audited by an accountant who is—
 - (i) a chartered accountant or an accountant of equivalent professional standard in the country in which the accounts are prepared; and
 - (ii) independent of the CFC and the person; and

- (b) are given an unqualified opinion or an opinion of equivalent standard in the country in which the accounts are prepared.

Compliance with accounting standards

- (9) For the purposes of subsections (2) to (5) and section EX 32F, accounts are treated as complying with the accounting standard relevant to the subsection if—
 - (a) the accounts state that they comply with the accounting standard; and
 - (b) the accounts meet the audit requirements of subsection (8); and
 - (c) the Commissioner does not have reasonable grounds to suspect—
 - (i) fraudulent activity by the interest holder, the CFC, a company in the CFC's test group, or the auditor:
 - (ii) preparation of the accounts with an intent to mislead:
 - (iii) incompetence of the auditor.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, annual gross income, associated, attributable CFC amount, CFC, company, generally accepted accounting practice, IFRS, IFRSE, insurer, New Zealand resident, non-attributing active CFC, rent, royalty

EX 21D Non-attributing active CFC: default test

CFC as part of test group

- (1) A person (the interest holder) with an interest in a CFC may choose to apply this section for the CFC as a member of a group (a test group) if the group consists of companies—
 - (a) each of which is subject to the laws of the same country or territory and—

- (i) has a taxed CFC connection with the country or territory;
 - (ii) would be a non-attributing active CFC if not treated as part of a test group and would have a taxed CFC connection with the country or territory in the absence of paragraph (c) of the definition of taxed CFC connection; and
- (b) in each of which an income interest of more than 50% is held by—
- (i) the interest holder;
 - (ii) companies that are all members of a wholly-owned group of companies that includes the interest holder; and
- (c) each of which is required to use the same currency under section EX 21(4); and
- (d) that are consolidated for the purposes of this section—
- (i) using like tax treatments for like transactions and for other events in similar circumstances; and
 - (ii) eliminating in full all balances, transactions, income, and expenses arising between members of the test group.

CFC as part of test group for part of accounting period

- (1B) An interest holder who acquires, or disposes of, an interest in a CFC (the first CFC) after the beginning of an accounting period may choose to apply this section to group the first CFC with other CFCs as a test group for the accounting period if—
- (a) the CFCs in the test group are all acquired, or all disposed of, in the accounting period by the interest holder or by members (the wholly-owned members) of a wholly-owned group of companies that includes the interest holder; and
 - (b) for the period in the accounting period in which the interest holder holds the interest in the first CFC, the interest holder or the wholly-owned members hold an income interest under section EX 17 of more than 50% in the first CFC and in each other CFC in the test group; and
 - (c) the interest holder, or the wholly-owned members, own the first CFC and each other CFC in the test group—
 - (i) at the beginning of the accounting period; or
 - (ii) at the end of the accounting period; and
 - (d) the requirements of subsection (1)(a), (c), and (d) are met.

Threshold ratio

- (2) A CFC is a non-attributing active CFC under section EX 21B(2)(a) for an accounting period and a person if the amount calculated under subsection (3) using the formula in subsection (4)—
- (a) is less than 0.05; and

(b) is not zero under subsection (3)(f).

Application of formula

- (3) In using the formula in subsection (4)—
- (a) each item in the formula is determined—
 - (i) for the CFC's consolidated test group, if the interest holder chooses to apply the formula to the test group; or
 - (ii) for the CFC, if subparagraph (i) does not apply; and
 - (b) each item in the formula is determined for a test group after amounts included in the item are adjusted to remove amounts corresponding to income interests not held by the interest holder; and
 - (c) a reference to a company that is associated is treated as being a reference to a company that is—
 - (i) associated with a member of the CFC's test group, although not a member of the CFC's test group, if the interest holder chooses to apply the formula to the test group; or
 - (ii) associated with the CFC, if subparagraph (i) does not apply; and
 - (d) a reference to a company that is in the same group of companies is treated as being a reference to a company that is—
 - (i) in the same group of companies as a member of the CFC's test group, although not a member of the CFC's test group, if the interest holder chooses to apply the formula to the test group; or
 - (ii) in the same group of companies as the CFC, if subparagraph (i) does not apply; and
 - (e) a numerator or denominator that is a negative number is treated as being zero; and
 - (f) the amount calculated using the formula is zero if the denominator is zero.

Formula

- (4) The amount that determines whether the CFC is a non-attributing active CFC is calculated using the formula—
- $$(\text{attributable} - \text{attributable adjustments}) \div (\text{gross} - \text{gross adjustments}).$$

Definition of items in formula

- (5) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (6) to (9).

Attributable

- (6) Attributable is the attributable CFC amount for the accounting period.

Attributable adjustments

- (7) Attributable adjustments is the total of amounts included in the item attributable, in subsection (6), that are—

- (a) if the interest holder chooses that this paragraph apply, income derived from the supply of personal services—
 - (i) included in an attributable CFC amount under section EX 20B(3)(h); and
 - (ii) not included in an attributable CFC amount under another paragraph of section EX 20B(3) and (4);
- (b) if the interest holder chooses that this paragraph apply, the cost of revenue account property producing an amount (the included amount) included in the attributable CFC amount under section EX 20B(3)(k) to the extent, not exceeding the included amount, to which—
 - (i) the cost is treated as a deduction of the CFC in the accounting period; and
 - (ii) the deduction exceeds the amount of any income under subpart CH (Adjustments) relating to the deduction.

Gross

- (8) Gross is the annual gross income for the accounting period in the absence of income under subpart CQ (Attributed income from foreign equity).

Gross adjustments

- (9) Gross adjustments is the total of the following amounts for the accounting period:
- (a) the amount of the item “attributable adjustments” in subsection (7);
 - (b) expenditure or loss that is included in the calculation of the attributable CFC amount under section EX 20B;
 - (c) income derived from a company that would meet the requirements of subsection (1)(a) to (c) for a member of a test group with the CFC;
 - (cb) income that is derived from a fixed establishment by a member of the test group and is not an attributable CFC amount, if the member is included in the test group under subsection (1)(a)(ii);
 - (d) income from a supply that meets the requirements of section GB 15B (Supplies affecting default test for non-attributing active CFC).

Defined in this Act: accounting period, annual gross income, associated non-attributing active CFC, attributable CFC amount, CFC, company, fixed establishment, group of companies, income, interest, non-attributing active CFC, resident in New Zealand, royalty, taxed CFC connection, wholly-owned group of companies

EX 21E Non-attributing active CFC: test based on accounting standard

Applicable accounting standard

- (1) A person (the interest holder) who chooses to determine under this section whether a CFC is a non-attributing active CFC for the person for an accounting period must use an accounting standard (the applicable accounting standard) permitted by section EX 21C.

CFC as part of test group

- (2) The interest holder may choose to apply this section for the CFC as a member of a group (a test group) if—
 - (a) the group consists of companies required under the applicable accounting standard to consolidate, whether or not with companies that are not in the group; and
 - (b) each company is subject to the laws of the same country or territory and—
 - (i) has a taxed CFC connection with the country or territory;
 - (ii) would be a non-attributing active CFC if not treated as part of a test group and would have a taxed CFC connection with the country or territory in the absence of paragraph (c) of the definition of taxed CFC connection; and
 - (c) an income interest of more than 50% is held in each company by—
 - (i) the interest holder:

- (ii) companies that are all members of a wholly-owned group of companies that includes the interest holder; and
- (d) each company has the same functional currency; and
- (e) there are audited and consolidated financial statements that—
 - (i) include the accounts of the companies in the group, whether or not with accounts of companies that are not in the group; and
 - (ii) comply with the applicable accounting standard.

CFC as part of test group for part of accounting period

- (2B) An interest holder who acquires, or disposes of, an interest in a CFC (the first CFC) after the beginning of an accounting period may choose to apply this section to group the first CFC with other CFCs as a test group for the accounting period if—
- (a) the CFCs in the test group are all acquired, or all disposed of, in the accounting period by the interest holder or by members (the wholly-owned members) of a wholly-owned group of companies that includes the interest holder; and
 - (b) for the period in the accounting period in which the interest holder holds the interest in the first CFC, the interest holder or the wholly-owned members hold an income interest under section EX 17 of more than 50% in the first CFC and in each other CFC in the test group; and
 - (c) the interest holder, or the wholly-owned members, own the first CFC and each other CFC in the test group—
 - (i) at the beginning of the accounting period; or
 - (ii) at the end of the accounting period; and
 - (d) the requirements of subsection (2)(a), (b), (d), and (e) are met.

Threshold ratio

- (3) A CFC is a non-attributing active CFC under section EX 21B(2)(b) for an accounting period and an interest holder if, under subsection (4),—
- (a) the amount calculated using the formula in subsection (5) is less than 0.05; and
 - (b) [Repealed]
 - (c) the amount calculated using the denominator in the formula in subsection (5) is more than zero.

Application of formula

- (4) In using the formula in subsection (5),—
- (a) each item in the formula is—
 - (i) determined under the applicable accounting standard; and

- (ii) adjusted so that no amount is included in the item more than once; and
- (b) each item in the formula is determined—
 - (i) from amounts consolidated for the CFC's test group under the applicable accounting standard, if the interest holder chooses to apply the formula to the test group; or
 - (ii) from amounts for the CFC, if subparagraph (i) does not apply; and
- (c) each item in the formula is determined after adjustment of amounts included in the item by removing amounts corresponding to minority interests not held by the interest holder; and
- (d) a reference to a company that is associated is treated as being a reference to a company that is—
 - (i) associated with a member of the CFC's test group, although not a member of the CFC's test group, if the interest holder chooses to apply the formula to the test group; or
 - (ii) associated with the CFC, if subparagraph (i) does not apply; and
- (e) a reference to a company that is in the same group of companies is treated as being a reference to a company that is—
 - (i) in the same group of companies as a member of the CFC's test group, although not a member of the CFC's test group, if the person chooses to apply the formula to the test group; or
 - (ii) in the same group of companies as the CFC, if subparagraph (i) does not apply; and
- (f) amounts determined for a CFC other than as part of a test group are—
 - (i) determined in the functional currency of the CFC; and
 - (ii) converted between currencies under the applicable accounting standard, but ignoring exchange differences arising on a monetary item that forms part of a net investment of the CFC in a foreign operation; and
- (g) amounts determined for a test group are—
 - (i) converted from the functional currency of the CFC to the presentation currency of the consolidated accounts for the test group using the average conversion rate for the accounting period; and
 - (ii) otherwise converted between currencies under the applicable accounting standard; and
- (h) a numerator that is a negative number is treated as being zero.

Formula

- (5) The amount that determines whether the CFC is a non-attributing active CFC is calculated using the formula—

$$\frac{(\text{reported passive} + \text{added passive} - \text{removed passive})}{\div (\text{reported revenue} + \text{added revenue} - \text{removed revenue})}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (6) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (7) to (12).

Reported passive

- (7) Reported passive is the total amount of—
- (a) income from a dividend:
 - (b) income from interest:
 - (c) income from a royalty:
 - (d) income from rent:
 - (e) income, other than rent or interest, from a finance lease or operating lease:
 - (f) income or loss from a financial asset, other than a derivative as defined in NZIAS 39 or a share that is not revenue account property, in the form of—
 - (i) a change in the reported fair value of the asset:
 - (ii) a gain or loss on the derecognition, as defined in NZIAS 39, of the asset:
 - (iii) [Repealed]
 - (fb) a foreign exchange gain or loss on—
 - (i) a financial asset other than a derivative as defined in NZIAS 39 or a share that is not revenue account property, if subparagraph (ii) does not apply; or
 - (ii) a financial asset or financial liability other than a derivative as defined in NZIAS 39 or a share that is not revenue account property, for a CFC for which foreign exchange gains and losses from financial assets are not readily distinguishable by an interest holder from foreign exchange gains and losses from financial liabilities:
 - (g) income or loss from a derivative instrument, as defined in NZIAS 39, and included in the CFC's statement of income—
 - (i) if the instrument is held in the course of a business of the CFC for the purpose of dealing with the derivative instrument:
 - (ii) if the instrument is not entered in the ordinary course of a business of the CFC:
 - (iii) to the extent to which the income or loss is from a hedging relationship, of a type referred to in NZIAS 39, with an amount that would change the numerator of the formula in subsection (5) or with a transaction producing such an amount of income or gain:

- (h) income or gains from a business of insurance, including income or gains from property used to back insurance assets.

Added passive

- (8) Added passive is the total of amounts not included in the item reported passive for the accounting period that are 1 or more of the following:
 - (a) income from a life insurance policy that is included in the attributable CFC amount for the accounting period under section EX 20B(3)(g):
 - (b) income from the disposal of revenue account property that is included in the attributable CFC amount for the accounting period under section EX 20B(3)(k), if the property is—
 - (i) not a share, financial arrangement, or life insurance policy; and
 - (ii) used by the CFC in a way giving rise to income or gains that increase the numerator of the formula in subsection (5):
 - (c) income from a supply of services performed in New Zealand that is included in the attributable CFC amount for the accounting period under section EX 20B(3)(l):
 - (d) income from a supply of telecommunications services that is included in the attributable CFC amount for the accounting period under section EX 20B(3)(m) or (n):
 - (e) attributed PIE income that is included in the attributable CFC amount for the accounting period under section EX 20B(3)(o).

Removed passive

- (9) Removed passive is zero if the interest holder does not choose to include an amount for this item or is the total of amounts that are included in the item reported passive or added passive for the accounting period and are in a category included in categories chosen by the interest holder from the following:
 - (a) a dividend that is not included in the attributable CFC amount for the accounting period under section EX 20B(3)(a) to (c):
 - (b) a royalty that would be included in the attributable CFC amount for the accounting period but for section EX 20B(5)(a) to (d):
 - (c) rent that would be included in the attributable CFC amount for the accounting period but for section EX 20B(7)(a) to (c):
 - (cb) gain or loss from a financial asset or financial liability that is a financial arrangement or agreement referred to in section EX 20B(12):
 - (d) the cost of revenue account property producing an amount (the included amount) included in the attributable CFC amount under section EX 20B(3)(k) to the extent, not exceeding the included amount, to which—
 - (i) the cost would be a deduction of the CFC in the accounting period if the CFC were a resident of New Zealand; and

- (ii) the deduction would exceed the amount of any income arising under subpart CH (Adjustments) relating to the deduction.

Reported revenue

- (10) Reported revenue is the total amount that is—
- (a) included under the applicable accounting standard in—
 - (i) operating revenue, if the applicable accounting standard is former generally accepted accounting practice without IFRS; or
 - (ii) revenue, if subparagraph (i) does not apply:
 - (ab) income from rent:
 - (b) income, other than rent, from a finance lease or operating lease:
 - (c) a gain or loss on a financial asset, other than a derivative as defined in NZIAS 39 or a share not on revenue account, in the form of—
 - (i) a change in the reported fair value of the asset:
 - (ii) a gain or loss on the derecognition, as defined in NZIAS 39, of the asset:
 - (iii) [Repealed]
 - (cb) a foreign exchange gain or loss on—
 - (i) a financial asset other than a derivative as defined in NZIAS 39 or a share that is not revenue account property, if subparagraph (ii) does not apply; or
 - (ii) a financial asset or financial liability other than a derivative as defined in NZIAS 39 or a share that is not revenue account property, for a CFC for which foreign exchange gains and losses from financial assets are not readily distinguishable by an interest holder from foreign exchange gains and losses from financial liabilities:
 - (d) a gain or loss from a derivative instrument, as defined in NZIAS 39, and included in the CFC's statement of income—
 - (i) if the derivative instrument is held in the course of a business of the CFC for the purpose of dealing with the derivative instrument:
 - (ii) if the derivative instrument is not entered in the ordinary course of a business of the CFC:
 - (iii) to the extent to which the gain or loss is from a hedging relationship, of a type referred to in NZIAS 39, with an amount that would change the denominator of the formula in subsection (5) or with a transaction producing such an amount of income or gain:
 - (e) income or a gain from a business of insurance, including from property used to back insurance assets, if the applicable accounting standard is not former generally accepted accounting practice without IFRS.

Added revenue

- (11) Added revenue is zero if the interest holder does not choose to include an amount for this item or is the total of amounts that are not included in the item reported revenue for the accounting period and are either or both of the following:
- (a) income from a life insurance policy that is included in the attributable CFC amount for the accounting period under section EX 20B(3)(g):
 - (b) income from the disposal of revenue account property that is included in the attributable CFC amount for the accounting period under section EX 20B(3)(k), if the property is—
 - (i) not a share, financial arrangement, or life insurance policy; and
 - (ii) used by the CFC in a way giving rise to income or gains that increase the numerator of the formula in subsection (5).

Removed revenue

- (12) Removed revenue is the total of amounts that are included under the applicable accounting standard in the item reported revenue or added revenue for the accounting period and are 1 or more of the following:
- (a) an amount included in the item removed passive under subsection (9)(d):
 - (b) a dividend to the extent to which it is included in the item removed passive, under subsection (9)(a):
 - (c) income from a supply of personal services that is included in the item reported revenue, and in the attributable CFC amount for the accounting period under section EX 20B(3)(h):
 - (d) income or loss from a share that is not revenue account property under this Act in the form of—
 - (i) a change in the reported fair value of the share:
 - (ii) income or loss on the derecognition, as defined in NZIAS 39, of the share:
 - (iii) a foreign exchange gain or loss on the share:
 - (db) income that is derived from a fixed establishment by a member of the test group and is not an attributable CFC amount, if the member is included in the test group under subsection (2)(b)(ii):
 - (e) income derived from another CFC that—
 - (i) is subject to the laws of the country or territory under which the CFC is liable to income tax on the CFC's income because of the CFC's domicile, residence, place of incorporation, or centre of management; and

- (ii) is liable to tax on its income in that country or territory because of its domicile, residence, place of incorporation, or centre of management; and
 - (iii) could be consolidated with the CFC for the purposes of this section if appropriate audited accounts were prepared:
- (f) if the applicable standard is former generally accepted accounting practice without IFRS, income from a liability, other than income derived in the normal course of business from a sale or supply of services, in the form of—
- (i) a reduction in the liability:
 - (ii) a gain on the disposal or other derecognition of the liability:
 - (iii) a foreign exchange gain on the liability:
- (g) if the applicable standard is former generally accepted accounting practice without IFRS, income from an asset that is not a financial asset under NZIAS 32 and not revenue account property as defined in section YA 1 (Definitions) in the form of—
- (i) an increase in the fair value of the asset:
 - (ii) a gain on the disposal of the asset:
 - (iii) a foreign exchange gain on the asset.

Compliance with accounting standards

- (13) If accounts meet the requirements of section EX 21C for the relevant accounting standard—
- (a) the accounts are treated as complying with the relevant accounting standard for the purposes of subsection (2):
 - (b) amounts drawn from the accounts, or from information that is used to prepare the accounts and is consistent with them, are treated as complying with the relevant accounting standard for the purposes of subsection (4) if the Commissioner does not have reasonable grounds to suspect—
 - (i) fraudulent activity by the interest holder, the CFC, a CFC in the CFC's test group, or the auditor:
 - (ii) preparation of the accounts with an intent to mislead:
 - (iii) incompetence of the auditor.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, associated non-attributing active CFC, attributable CFC amount, CFC, company, dividend, finance lease, financial arrangement, financial asset, financial liability, fixed establishment, former generally accepted accounting practice without IFRS, group of companies, IFRS, income, life insurance policy, non-attributing active CFC, operating lease, premium, revenue account property, royalty, taxed CFC connection, wholly-owned group of companies

Non-attributing Australian CFCs

Heading: substituted (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 163(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EX 22 Non-attributing Australian CFCs

Criteria

- (1) A CFC is a non-attributing Australian CFC for an accounting period if—
- (a) at all times in the accounting period the CFC is—
 - (i) resident in Australia; and
 - (ii) under Australian law, subject to income tax on its income or treated as part of the head company of a consolidated group subject to income tax on its income; and
 - (iii) treated as being resident in Australia under all agreements between the government of Australia and the governments of other countries or territories that would be a double tax agreement if between the government of New Zealand and the government of the other country or territory; and
 - (b) the CFC's liability for income tax has not been reduced by—

- (i) an exemption from income tax for income derived from business activities carried on outside Australia;
- (ii) a special allowance, relief, or exemption with respect to offshore banking units; and
- (c) the CFC is not a unit trust or is a unit trust subject under Australian law to income tax on its income in the same way as a company.

No attributed CFC income or loss

- (2) Sections CQ 2(1)(i) (When attributed CFC income arises) and DN 2(1)(i) (When attributed CFC loss arises) provide that no attributed CFC income or attributed CFC loss arises from a non-attributing Australian CFC.

CFCs with interest in FIF: look-through approach

- (3) This section does not prevent FIF income or FIF loss arising under section EX 58 from an interest of a non-attributing Australian CFC in a FIF.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, attributed CFC income, attributed CFC loss, CFC, double tax agreement, FIF, FIF income, FIF loss, income tax, non-attributing Australian CFC, resident in Australia

Section EX 22: substituted (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 163(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

[Repealed]

Section EX 23: repealed (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 164(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Change of residence of companies

EX 24 Companies moving to or from New Zealand

Companies becoming foreign

- (1) If a company becomes a foreign company, an accounting period of the company starts on the day when the company becomes a foreign company and the former accounting period ends on the previous day.

Companies ceasing to be foreign

- (2) If a foreign company ceases to be a foreign company, an accounting period of the company starts on the day when the company ceases to be a foreign company and the former accounting period ends on the previous day.

Pro-rating

- (3) If subsection (1) or (2) applies to shorten an accounting period of a CFC, a person with attributed CFC income or loss from the CFC for the period may choose to calculate the CFC attributable income or loss of the CFC—
- (a) using the results for the shortened period only; or
 - (b) by applying the pro-rating formula in subsection (4) to the results for the unshortened period.

Formula

- (4) The formula for calculating CFC attributable income or loss under subsection (3)(b) is—

$$\frac{\text{unshortened period CFC attributable income or loss}}{\times \text{ days in shortened period} \div \text{ days in unshortened period.}}$$

Defined in this Act: accounting period, attributed CFC income, CFC, company, foreign company, loss, New Zealand

Change of CFC's balance dateEX 25 Change of CFC's balance dateApplication of this section

- (1) This section applies when a person—
- (a) has an income interest in a CFC; and
 - (b) has calculated attributed CFC income or loss from the CFC on the basis of 1 accounting year (the old accounting year); and
 - (c) wants to change to use a different accounting year (the new accounting year) for the calculations.

Change requiring Commissioner's consent

- (2) The person may make the change only if the Commissioner agrees.

Commissioner's reasons

- (3) The Commissioner may consider any relevant factors when making the decision, including—

- (a) whether the change is sought because ownership of the CFC has changed:
- (b) whether the change is sought because of taxation or other legal requirements in a country where the CFC is resident or does business:
- (c) whether the change is sought to achieve consistent balance dates in a group of companies:
- (d) whether the change would postpone liability to income tax on attributed CFC income.

No transitional deferral

- (4) If the new accounting year ends in a later income year than the year the old accounting year ends in, and that fact would result in an amount of attributed CFC income being derived in the later income year, the amount is not deferred to the later income year and instead is treated as derived in the previous income year. However, this subsection applies only once, in the year of the transition.

Defined in this Act: accounting year, amount, attributed CFC income, business, CFC, Commissioner, group of companies, income interest, income tax, income year, loss

Section EX 25 list of defined terms FDP: repealed (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 165(2) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Ownership measurement concession

EX 26 Use of quarterly measurement

Interests held at end of quarter

- (1) In order to simplify the process of calculating a person's control interest or income interest in a foreign company, the person is treated as holding at all times during a quarter the same interest, including a zero interest, as the interest they hold at the end of the quarter.

Anti-avoidance

- (2) The concession in subsection (1) is overridden by the anti-avoidance rules in sections GB 9 to GB 16 (which relate to arrangements involving CFCs).

Ignoring concession

- (3) A person may choose not to apply the concession in subsection (1) when calculating their attributed CFC income or loss from a foreign company.

Election

- (4) An election under subsection (3)—
- (a) must be in the form required by the Commissioner; and
 - (b) is irrevocable; and
 - (c) applies in the income year in which it is made and later.

Defined in this Act: attributed CFC income, Commissioner, control interest, foreign company, income interest, income year, loss, quarter

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 27

Anti-avoidance rule: stapled stockEX 27 Anti-avoidance rule: stapled stockWhen this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a New Zealand resident holds rights (the stapled rights) that give rise to an income interest or control interest in a foreign company; and
 - (b) the rights may, or may ordinarily, be disposed of only together with rights in another company; and
 - (c) the other company is a New Zealand resident or a CFC.

Stapled rights held by company

- (2) When each of subparts CQ (Attributed income from foreign equity) and DN (Attributed losses from foreign equity) and this subpart is applied, the stapled rights are held by the other company and not by the person.

Defined in this Act: CFC, company, control interest, foreign company, income interest, New Zealand resident

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 28

*Foreign investment fund (FIF) rulesWhat is a foreign investment fund?EX 28 Meaning of FIF

A foreign investment fund, or FIF, is any of the following

- (a) a foreign company;
- (b) a foreign superannuation scheme;
- (c) an insurer under a life insurance policy, but not if the policy is offered or entered into in New Zealand (in which case the insurer must comply with the life insurance rules in relation to the policy):

(d) an entity described in schedule 25, part A (Foreign investment funds).

Defined in this Act: FIF, foreign company, foreign investment fund, foreign superannuation scheme, life insurance policy, life insurance rules, offered or entered into in New Zealand

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 29

Attributing interests in FIFs

EX 29 Attributing interests in FIFs

Three categories

- (1) A person has an attributing interest in a FIF if—
 - (a) the person holds rights in 1 of the categories of rights described in subsections (2) to (4); and
 - (b) none of the exemptions in sections EX 31 to EX 43 applies to those rights.

Category 1: direct income interest in foreign company

- (2) The first category is a direct income interest, as defined in section EX 30, in a foreign company or in an entity described in schedule 25, part A (Foreign investment funds).

Category 2: FIF superannuation interest

- (3) The second category is a FIF superannuation interest, held as a beneficiary or a member.

Category 3: foreign life policy entitlement

- (4) The third category is rights to benefit from a life insurance policy in relation to which a FIF is the insurer.

Contingent rights

- (5) The second and third categories include rights that are contingent or discretionary.

Defined in this Act: attributing interest, direct income interest, FIF, FIF superannuation interest, foreign company, life insurance policy

Section EX 29 list of defined terms foreign superannuation scheme: repealed, on 1 April 2014, by section 53(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

EX 30 Direct income interests in FIFs*Categories of direct income interest*

- (1) A person has a direct income interest in a foreign company at any time if they hold—
 - (a) any of the shares in the foreign company;
 - (b) any of the shareholder decision-making rights for the company;
 - (c) a right to receive, or to apply, any of the income of the company for the accounting period in which the time falls;
 - (d) a right to receive, or to apply, any of the value of the net assets of the company, if they are distributed.

Percentage of total

- (2) The person's direct income interest is the percentage of the total that the person holds.

Varying percentages

- (3) However, if the percentage varies between the different categories, the person's direct income interest is the highest.

Measurement of available subscribed capital

- (4) When the direct income interest in the category in subsection (1)(a) is calculated, the percentage is the total of the available subscribed capital per share calculated under the slice rule of the shares held as a percentage of the total available subscribed capital per share calculated under the slice rule of all shares in the company.

Varying decision-making rights

- (5) When the direct income interest in the category in subsection (1)(b) is calculated, if the percentage varies between the rights described in the different paragraphs of the definition of shareholder decision-making rights in section YA 1 (Definitions), the highest percentage is taken.

Income distribution rights: assumptions

- (6) When the direct income interest in the category in subsection (1)(c) is calculated, it is assumed that—
 - (a) the income is distributed on the last day of the accounting period; and
 - (b) the person's entitlement is unchanged during the period; and
 - (c) a payment of interest on a debenture subject to section FA 2 (Recharacterisation of certain debentures) or FA 2B (Stapled debt securities) is a distribution of income.

Meaning of company

- (7) In this section, and in defined terms referred to in this section, company includes an entity listed in schedule 25, part A (Foreign investment funds).

Partnerships

- (8) In this section, if a partnership holds any rights, each partner is treated as holding a share of those rights in proportion to the partner's interest in the partnership.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, available subscribed capital, company, debenture, direct income interest, FIF, foreign company, income, interest, pay, share, shareholder decision-making right, slice rule

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 31

Section EX 30(6)(c): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 167 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EX 31 Exemption for ASX-listed Australian companies

Exemption

- (1) A person's rights in a FIF in an income year are not an attributing interest if—
- (a) the rights are a share; and
 - (b) the share is not a share that may not, or ordinarily may not, be disposed of unless together with rights in another company; and
 - (c) the FIF is a company that meets the requirements of subsection (2).

ASX-listed Australian company

- (2) The company must—
- (a) at all times in the year when the person holds a right in the company, be resident in Australia; and
 - (b) at all times in the year when the person holds a right in the company, not be treated as resident in a country other than Australia under an agreement that—
 - (i) is between Australia and that other country; and
 - (ii) would be a double tax agreement if negotiated between New Zealand and that other country; and
 - (c) be included on the official list of ASX Limited, a market licensee under Chapter 7 of the Corporations Act 2001 (Aust)—
 - (i) at the beginning of an income year, if subparagraphs (ii) and (iii) do not apply; or
 - (ii) at the earliest date in the income year on which the person owns shares in the company, if the person does not own shares in the company at the beginning of the income year; or
 - (iii) at the beginning of the final month of the preceding income year if, in the first month of an income year, the shares are cancelled or transferred under a scheme of arrangement entered into under Part 5.1 of the Corporations Act 2001 (Aust); and

- (d) at all times in the year when the person holds a right in the company, not be an entity described in schedule 25, part B (Foreign investment funds); and
- (e) at all times in the year when the person holds a right in the company, be required under the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 (Aust) and Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (Aust) to maintain a franking account.

EX 32 Exemption for Australian unit trusts with adequate turnover or distributions

Exemption

- (1) A person's rights in a FIF in an income year are not an attributing interest if—
 - (a) the rights are a direct income interest; and
 - (b) the FIF is a unit trust; and
 - (c) at all times in the year when the person holds a right in the unit trust, the unit trust is resident in Australia; and

- (d) at all times in the year when the person holds a right in the unit trust, the unit trust is not treated as resident in a country other than Australia under an agreement that—
 - (i) is between Australia and that other country; and
 - (ii) would be a double tax agreement if negotiated between New Zealand and that other country; and
- (e) the unit trust is, at all times in the year, not an entity described in schedule 25, part B (Foreign investment funds); and
- (f) at all times in the year when the unit trust makes a distribution to investors, there is an RWT proxy under section 15N of the Tax Administration Act 1994 for the unit trust and payments by the unit trust to the person; and
- (g) for the trust's accounting year (the trust's year) that ends in the person's income year, the unit trust meets—
 - (i) the 25% minimum share turnover test in subsection (2):
 - (ii) the 70% minimum distribution test in subsection (7).

25% minimum turnover test

- (2) The 25% minimum turnover test requires that, for the trust's year, the amount of total net realised gains calculated under subsection (3) must be 25% or more of the amount of total net unrealised gains at the end of the year calculated under subsection (5).

Calculation of total net realised gains

- (3) The amount of total net realised gains is calculated using the formula—
$$\text{total disposal gain} - \text{total cost.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (4) In the formula in subsection (3),—
 - (a) total disposal gain is the total of amounts derived from disposal of shares by the unit trust during the trust's year:
 - (b) total cost is the total cost to the unit trust of those shares.

Calculation of total net unrealised gains

- (5) The amount of total net unrealised gains is calculated using the formula—
$$\text{total profitable shares} - \text{total cost.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (6) In the formula in subsection (5),—
 - (a) total profitable shares is the total of the market values of shares of the unit trust that are—
 - (i) held at the end of the trust's year; and

(ii) have a market value greater than or equal to their cost to the unit trust:

(b) total cost is the total cost to the unit trust of those shares.

70% minimum distribution test

(7) The 70% minimum distribution test requires that, for the trust's year, the total amount of distributions by the unit trust during the trust's year must be 70% or more of the total distributable gains for the trust's year calculated under subsection (8).

Calculation of total distributable gains

(8) The amount of total distributable gains is calculated using the formula—closing equity + distributions – opening equity – contributions.

Definition of items in formula

(9) In the formula in subsection (8),—

(a) closing equity is the amount by which, at the end of the trust's year, the market value of the unit trust's assets is more than the market value of the unit trust's liabilities:

(b) distributions is the total amount of distributions to investors by the unit trust during the trust's year:

(c) opening equity is the amount by which, at the beginning of the trust's year, the market value of the unit trust's assets is more than the market value of the unit trust's liabilities:

(d) contributions is the total amount of contributions by investors to the unit trust during the trust's year.

Currency

(10) The calculations must be done in the currency of the unit trust's financial accounts.

Defined in this Act: accounting year, attributing interest, company, direct income interest, FIF, income year, resident in Australia, resident in New Zealand, RWT proxy, share, unit trust, year

EX 45 Exclusion of amounts of death benefit

No FIF income

- (1) When this section applies, a person is treated as not deriving FIF income to the extent to which the income arises solely from receiving a death benefit under a life insurance policy.

Application of this section: contract before becoming resident

- (2) This section applies if—
 - (a) the person or the deceased (the contracting party), when not a New Zealand resident, entered into a binding contract that gave rise to the benefit; and
 - (b) at the time the contract was entered into, the contracting party either had not previously been a New Zealand resident or had not been a resident for at least the previous 10 years; and
 - (c) the benefit was not increased by a voluntary action taken after the contracting party became a resident.

Application of this section: pre-1992 contracts

- (3) This section also applies if—
 - (a) before 2 July 1992 the person or the contracting party entered into a binding contract giving rise to the benefit; and
 - (b) the benefit was not increased by a voluntary action taken on or after 2 July 1992.

Defined in this Act: amount, FIF income, life insurance policy, New Zealand resident, year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 39

EX 46 Limits on choice of calculation methods

Same method for same FIF

- (1) If a person has 2 or more attributing interests in the same FIF for the same period, the person must use the same calculation method for calculating FIF income or loss from each interest in that period, except to the extent to which—
 - (a) the interests are of different classes; and
 - (b) the choice of method for a class is limited by this section or section EX 47, EX 48, or EX 62.

Accounting profits method

[Repealed]

- (2) [Repealed]

Attributable FIF income method

- (3) A person may use the attributable FIF income method to calculate FIF income or loss from an attributing interest in a FIF for an accounting period only if the person can provide to the Commissioner, if requested, sufficient information to enable the Commissioner to check the calculations required by section EX 50 and,—

- (a) at all times in the accounting period,—
 - (i) the FIF is a company; and
 - (ii) the item “income interest” given by section EX 50(4) for the person and the FIF is 10% or more; and
 - (iii) the person is not a portfolio investment entity:
- (b) the FIF is a CFC and the person cannot determine the market value of the attributing interest at the beginning of the accounting period except by independent valuation and neither the person nor a person who has a direct income interest of 10% or more in the FIF is—
 - (i) a listed company:
 - (ii) a group investment fund:
 - (iii) a portfolio investment entity:
 - (iv) a superannuation scheme:
 - (v) a unit trust:
 - (vi) a trustee of a trust with a beneficiary described in 1 or more of subparagraphs (i) to (iv).

Deemed rate of return method: general rule

[Repealed]

- (4) [Repealed]

Deemed rate of return method

- (5) A person may use the deemed rate of return method to calculate FIF income or loss from an attributing interest in a FIF only if the person is required by section EX 47 to use the deemed rate of return method for the interest.

Comparative value method: shares in foreign companies

- (6) A person may use the comparative value method to calculate FIF income or loss from an attributing interest in a FIF that is a share in a foreign company for an income year only if—
 - (a) the person is a natural person:
 - (b) the person is the trustee of a trust that—
 - (i) has no gifting settlor who is not a natural person or deceased person; and
 - (ii) at all times in the income year, is a complying trust for a distribution made at the time; and
 - (iii) is, at all times in the income year, mainly for the benefit of a natural person for whom the gifting settlors of the trust have natural love and affection (or had natural love and affection when alive)

or is mainly for the benefit of an organisation or trust with income that is exempt income under section CW 41 or CW 42 (which relate to the income of charities); and

(iv) is not a superannuation scheme:

(c) [Repealed]

(d) the share is a non-ordinary share described in subsection (10).

Fair dividend rate method: shares in foreign companies

[Repealed]

(7) [Repealed]

Fair dividend rate method: exemption for shares in foreign companies

(8) A person must not use the fair dividend rate method to calculate FIF income or loss from an attributing interest in a FIF that is a share in a foreign company for an income year if—

(a) the share is a non-ordinary share described in subsection (10):

(b) the person chooses to use the comparative value method for another attributing interest that is a share in a foreign company and for which the person would be allowed, in the absence of this paragraph, to use the fair dividend rate method.

Cost method for shares in foreign companies

(9) A person may use the cost method to calculate FIF income or loss from an attributing interest in a FIF that is a share in a foreign company only if—

(a) [Repealed]

(b) use of the fair dividend rate method is allowed but is not practical because the person cannot determine the market value of the attributing interest at the start of the income year except by an independent valuation.

Certain non-ordinary shares

(10) For the purposes of subsections (6)(d) and (8)(a), a non-ordinary share in a foreign company is—

(a) a fixed-rate share:

(b) a non-participating redeemable share:

(c) an interest in a non-resident holding directly or indirectly assets of which 80% or more by value at a time in the income year—

(i) consist of fixed-rate foreign equities, or financial arrangements providing funds to a person; and

(ii) are denominated in New Zealand dollars or, under NZIAS 39, are hedged items having a value in New Zealand dollars governed by a hedging instrument that is highly effective:

(cb) an interest in a non-resident if—

- (i) the non-resident holds directly or indirectly assets of which 80% or more by value at a time in the income year consist of fixed-rate foreign equities or financial arrangements providing funds to a person ignoring financial arrangements between the non-resident and other members of a group of companies that it is a member of; and
 - (ii) the non-resident is not listed on a recognised exchange or is listed on a recognised exchange but is a foreign PIE equivalent, ignoring section HL 10(4) (Further eligibility requirements relating to investments) for the purposes of this subparagraph; and
 - (iii) the interest is, under NZIAS 39, a hedged item having a value in New Zealand dollars governed by a hedging instrument that is highly effective:
- (d) a share that involves an obligation—
- (i) of another person to provide to the investor, directly or indirectly through an arrangement, an amount that is more than the issue price of the share; and
 - (ii) that is non-contingent or subject to a contingency that is sufficiently remote to be immaterial:
- (e) a share of a kind that the Commissioner determines under section 91AAO of the Tax Administration Act 1994 to be an interest for which the fair dividend rate method is not available.

Commissioner's determination overriding subsection (10)(a) to (d)

- (11) Subsection (10)(a) to (d) does not apply to a share if the Commissioner determines under section 91AAO of the Tax Administration Act 1994 that the share is an interest for which the fair dividend rate method is available.

Meaning of gifting settlor

- (12) A gifting settlor, for a trust (the relevant trust), means a person who—
- (a) makes a transfer of value, by disposing of property, to the trustee of—
 - (i) the relevant trust:
 - (ii) a trust with a trustee who settles property on the relevant trust, directly or through the trustees of other trusts; and
 - (b) is not the trustee of a trust.

EX 47 Method required for certain non-ordinary shares

A person must calculate FIF income or loss for an income year from an attributing interest that is a non-ordinary share described in section EX 46(10) using—

- (a) the comparative value method; or
- (b) the deemed rate of return method, if use of the comparative value method is not practical because the person cannot determine the market value of the attributing interest at the end of the income year.

Defined in this Act: attributing interest, comparative value method, deemed rate of return method, fair dividend rate method, FIF income, FIF loss, income year, market value, share

Section EX 47: substituted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 174 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EX 48 Default calculation method

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a person does not choose a calculation method to calculate FIF income or loss from an attributing interest for a period; and
 - (b) sections EX 46, EX 47, and EX 62 do not have the effect of requiring a particular calculation method to be used.

Default choice

- (2) The person is treated as having chosen to use, for the period,—
 - (a) the fair dividend rate method if it is practical to use it; and
 - (b) the cost method if it is not practical to use the fair dividend rate method.

Defined in this Act: attributing interest, calculation method, cost method, direct income interest, fair dividend rate method, FIF income, foreign company, loss

EX 49 Accounting profits method

[Repealed]

Section EX 49: repealed (with effect on 1 July 2011 and applying for income years beginning on or after that date), on 7 May 2012, by section 34(1) of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

EX 50 Attributable FIF income method

Formula

- (1) If a person is using the attributable FIF income method to calculate FIF income or loss from an attributing interest in a FIF, the total FIF income or loss from all their attributing interests in the FIF for the relevant accounting period is calculated using the formula—

net attributable FIF income or loss \times income interest.

Definition of items in formula

- (2) The items in the formula in subsection (1) are defined in subsections (3) and (4).

Net attributable FIF income or loss

- (3) Net attributable FIF income or loss is the amount for the FIF and the accounting period found by applying—
- (a) sections EX 18A to EX 21E, EX 24, and EX 25, as modified by subsection (4B), as if the FIF were a CFC and the person's attributing interests in the FIF were income interests in the CFC; and
 - (b) subsections (5) and (6).

Income interest

- (4) Income interest is the person's income interest in the FIF for the accounting period. The income interest is calculated under all the following CFC rules, applying as if the FIF were a CFC:
- (a) sections EX 8 to EX 11 and EX 13:
 - (b) sections EX 16 and EX 17:
 - (c) section EX 26.

Modifications to method of calculating net attributable CFC income or loss

- (4B) The net attributable FIF income or loss of a FIF is calculated as if—

- (a) section EX 20B(5)(c)(i) required that the royalty be paid by a foreign company meeting the requirements of section EX 50(4C):
- (b) section EX 20B(5)(d) were omitted:
- (c) section EX 20B(7)(c) required that the rent be paid by a foreign company meeting the requirements of section EX 50(4C):
- (d) section EX 20B(12)(a) required that the financial arrangement or agreement be an agreement by the CFC to lend money to a foreign company meeting the requirements of section EX 50(4C):
- (e) section EX 21C(2)(a) required—
 - (i) the interest holder or other person to have accounts that include the accounts of the CFC, including by proportionate consolidation under NZIAS 31:
 - (ii) the interest holder or other person to have accounts that include dividends and net fair value changes in relation to the CFC under NZIAS 39, or include amounts recognised under the equity method in NZIAS 28 or NZIAS 31, and the CFC to have accounts that are prepared under United States generally accepted accounting principles and meet the requirements of section EX 21C(8) for accounts prepared under those principles in the United States of America:
- (f) section EX 21C(3)(a) required—
 - (i) the interest holder or other person to have accounts that include the accounts of the members of the test group, including by proportionate consolidation under NZIAS 31:
 - (ii) the interest holder or other person to have accounts that include dividends and net fair value changes in relation to the members under NZIAS 39, or include amounts recognised under the equity method in NZIAS 28 or NZIAS 31, and the members to have accounts that are prepared under United States generally accepted accounting principles and meet the requirements of section EX 21C(8) for accounts prepared under those principles in the United States of America:
- (g) section EX 21C(4)(a) required—
 - (i) the interest holder or other person to have accounts that include the accounts of the CFC, including by proportionate consolidation under the IFRSE corresponding to NZIAS 31:
 - (ii) the interest holder or other person to have accounts that include dividends and net fair value changes in relation to the CFC under the IFRSE corresponding to NZIAS 39, or include amounts recognised under the equity method in the IFRSE corresponding to NZIAS 28 or NZIAS 31, and the CFC to have accounts that are prepared under United States generally accepted accounting principles and meet the requirements of section EX 21C(8) for accounts prepared under those principles in the United States of America:

- (h) section EX 21C(5)(a) required—
 - (i) the interest holder or other person to have accounts that include the accounts of the members of the test group, including by proportionate consolidation under the IFRSE corresponding to NZIAS 31:
 - (ii) the interest holder or other person to have accounts that include dividends and net fair value changes in relation to the members under the IFRSE corresponding to NZIAS 39, or include amounts recognised under the equity method in the IFRSE corresponding to NZIAS 28 or NZIAS 31, and the members to have accounts that are prepared under United States generally accepted accounting principles and meet the requirements of section EX 21C(8) for accounts prepared under those principles in the United States of America:
- (i) section EX 21D(1)(a) required that none of the other companies in the test group be a CFC:
- (j) section EX 21D(1)(b) required that the CFC hold a voting interest of more than 50% in each of the other companies in the test group:
- (k) section EX 21D(3)(b) were omitted:
- (l) section EX 21E(2)(b) required that none of the other companies in the test group be a CFC:
- (m) section EX 21E(2)(c) required that the CFC hold a voting interest of more than 50% in each of the other companies in the test group:
- (n) section EX 21E(2)(d) were omitted:
- (o) section EX 21E(4)(c) were omitted:
- (p) the references in section EX 21E(7)(f) and (g) to “NZIAS 39” were to “whichever is appropriate of NZIAS 39, an equivalent IFRSE, and an equivalent standard or principle included in United States generally accepted accounting principles”:
- (q) section EX 21E(9)(a) required that an amount in the category be a dividend that is—
 - (i) not included in the attributable CFC amount for the accounting period under section EX 20B(3)(a) to (c); and
 - (ii) paid by a company other than 1 from which the person does not have additional FIF income or loss under subsection (6) because of the application of subsection (7B)(b):

- (r) the references in section EX 21E(10)(c) and (d) to “NZIAS 39” were to “whichever is appropriate of NZIAS 39, an equivalent IFRSE, and an equivalent standard or principle included in United States generally accepted accounting principles”;
- (s) the references in section EX 21E(12)(d) to “NZIAS 39” were to “whichever is appropriate of NZIAS 39, an equivalent IFRSE, and an equivalent standard or principle included in United States generally accepted accounting principles”;
- (t) the reference in section EX 21E(12)(g) to “NZIAS 32” were a reference to “whichever is appropriate of NZIAS 32, an equivalent IFRSE, and an equivalent standard or principle included in United States generally accepted accounting principles”.

Requirements for foreign company making payments to FIF

- (4C) A foreign company making payments to a FIF meets the requirements of this subsection if—
 - (a) the person uses the attributable FIF income method for the foreign company or would be able to use that method in the absence of section EX 35; and
 - (b) the foreign company, if it were a CFC, would be a non-attributing active CFC under section EX 21B(2) in the absence of section EX 20B(5)(c)(i), (7)(c), and (12)(a); and
 - (c) a group of persons holds total voting interests of more than 50% in the FIF and in the foreign company; and
 - (d) the FIF and the foreign company each have a taxed FIF connection with the same country or territory.

Taxable distributions

- (5) If the FIF derives a taxable distribution from a non-complying trust in the accounting period,—
 - (a) the taxable distribution is excluded when calculating the FIF’s net attributable FIF income or loss, due to the combined effect of subsection (1) and section EX 21(32); and
 - (b) the person has additional attributed CFC income calculated by multiplying the taxable distribution by the person’s income interest in the FIF; and
 - (c) the person is liable for income tax on the additional attributed CFC income at the rate in schedule 1 (Basic tax rates: income tax, ESCT, RSCT, RWT, and attributed fringe benefits) that applies to amounts under section HC 22 (Use of tax losses to reduce taxable distributions from non-complying trusts).

Calculation of additional FIF income or loss

- (6) If the FIF has an income interest in a foreign company for the accounting period and, as a result, the person has an indirect attributing interest in the foreign company, the person has additional FIF income or loss calculated using the formula—

$$\text{interest} \times \text{FIF's FIF income or loss.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (7) In the formula in subsection (6),—
- (a) interest is the person's income interest in the FIF for the period:
- (b) FIF's FIF income or loss is the FIF's FIF income or loss for the period from foreign companies in which the person has an indirect attributing interest, calculated under the rules in section EX 58(4) and (5) as if—
- (i) the FIF were the CFC referred to; and
- (ii) the FIF's interest in the foreign company were an attributing interest, despite any application of section EX 34.

Exception to subsection (6)

- (7B) A person does not have additional FIF income or loss under subsection (6) from a FIF with an interest in a foreign company if—
- (a) the foreign company meets the test for a non-attributing active CFC under section EX 21B(2) and the person—
- (i) [Repealed]
- (ii) is able to include the foreign company in the same test group as the FIF under section EX 21D or EX 21E:
- (b) the FIF would meet the test for a non-attributing active CFC under section EX 21B(2)(b) if the items added passive and reported revenue under section EX 21E(5), (8), and (10) for the FIF included the amounts given by subsection (7C)(a)—
- (i) relating to the FIF's interests in each member of a grouping of one or more foreign companies including the foreign company; and
- (ii) reported in the accounts of the FIF, or in the consolidated accounts of the FIF's test group under section EX 21E.
- (c) [Repealed]

Requirements for test under subsection (7B)(b)

- (7C) In determining whether a FIF would meet the requirements of subsection (7B)(b) for an accounting period,—
- (a) the amounts required to be included in the items are—
- (i) amounts recognised in profit and loss under the equity method under whichever is appropriate of NZIAS 28, NZIAS 31, an equivalent IFRSE, and an equivalent standard or principle in the generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America:

- (ii) amounts recognised in profit or loss under proportionate consolidation under whichever is appropriate of NZIAS 31, an equivalent IFRSE, and an equivalent standard or principle in the generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America:
 - (iii) dividends and net fair value changes recognised in profit or loss in relation to investments accounted for under whichever is appropriate of NZIAS 39, an equivalent IFRSE, and an equivalent standard or principle in the generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America; and
- (b) an interest holder must not use the result of the test applied to the FIF and a foreign company as a member of a grouping of foreign companies if the interest holder uses for the period a result of the test applied to the FIF and a different grouping of foreign companies.

Application of CFC rules tax credit rules

- (8) The rules in sections LK 1 to LK 7 (which relate to tax credits for attributed CFC income) apply to allow the person to claim foreign tax credits but on the basis of the assumptions made in subsection (9). The rules in those sections allow foreign tax credits relating to attributed CFC income but apply a jurisdictional ring-fencing approach to the use of tax credits.

Assumptions in reading tax credit rules

- (9) Sections LK 1 to LK 7 are applied as if—
- (a) the FIF were a CFC; and
 - (b) the FIF income of the person from the FIF were attributed CFC income; and
 - (c) the person's income interest, calculated under subsection (4) were their relevant income interest for the purposes of those sections; and
 - (d) any relevant person's FIF income calculated under the attributable FIF income method from a FIF that is resident in the relevant country were attributed CFC income.

Reduction in FIF loss to economic loss

- (10) In the cases described in subsections (11) and (12), the amount of any FIF loss calculated under subsections (1) and (6) is reduced to be equal to the person's corresponding economic loss, if any.

Application of subsection (10): no economic loss

- (11) Subsection (10) applies if the person suffers no, or substantially no, economic loss corresponding to the FIF loss, whether because of a call option, a put option, or any other reason.

Application of subsection (10): FIF loss excessive

- (12) Subsection (10) also applies if the amount of FIF loss is more than any corresponding economic loss suffered by the person, whether because of the application of the rules for calculating the person's income interest or any other reason.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, attributable FIF income method, amount, attributed CFC income, attributing interest, CFC, FIF, FIF income, FIF loss, foreign company, income interest, income tax, indirect attributing interest, loss, net attributable CFC income, net attributable FIF income, non-attributing active CFC, non-complying trust, non-resident, NZIAS 28, NZIAS 31, NZIAS 39, quarter, tax, taxable distribution, taxed FIF connection, voting interest

EX 51 Comparative value method

Formula

- (1) If a person is using the comparative value method to calculate FIF income or loss from an attributing interest in a FIF, the FIF income or loss from that interest for the relevant income year is calculated using the formula—
- $$(\text{closing value} + \text{gains}) - (\text{opening value} + \text{costs}).$$

Definition of items in formula

- (2) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (3) to (6).

Closing value

- (3) Closing value is the market value of the person's interest in the FIF at the end of the income year. The value is zero if the person has disposed of the interest or is then applying another calculation method to it.

Gains

- (4) Gains is the total of all amounts that the person derives during the income year from holding or disposing of the interest. The amounts include any foreign withholding tax or other amount that the person is allowed as a credit under section LE 1 (Tax credits for imputation credits) or LJ 2 (Tax credits for foreign income tax).

Opening value

- (5) Opening value is the market value of the person's interest in the FIF at the end of the previous income year, calculated using the exchange rate applying under section EX 57 for that previous year. The value is zero if the person did not hold the interest then or was then applying another calculation method to it.

Costs

- (6) Costs is the total for the income year of—
- (a) all expenditure, if any, that—
 - (i) the person incurs in acquiring or increasing the interest:
 - (ii) another person incurs on behalf of the person referred to in subparagraph (i) in relation to the interest:
 - (b) income tax on the income of the FIF—
 - (i) for which the person is liable under the laws of a country or territory outside New Zealand; and
 - (ii) paid by the person in the income year.

Losses from some attributing interests not subject to rule

- (7) Subsection (8) applies to a person who calculates under subsection (1) an amount of FIF loss for an attributing interest in a FIF (the affected interest) that is not a non-ordinary share described in section EX 46(10).

No total FIF loss from other attributing interests

- (8) If, in the absence of this subsection, the person would have under subsection (1) a total FIF loss for the income year from all the person's affected interests, the FIF loss for the income year for the person from each affected interest is reduced to the extent necessary for the total FIF loss from the affected interests to be zero.

Defined in this Act: amount, attributing interest, calculation method, comparative value method, FIF, FIF income, FIF loss, foreign company, foreign withholding tax, income year, loss, market value, pay, tax

Section EX 51(4): amended, on 1 April 2008, by section 393 of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

Section EX 51(5): substituted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 176(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EX 51(6)(a): replaced (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 30 June 2014, by section 96(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EX 51(7) heading: substituted (with effect on 1 April 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 176(2) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EX 51(7): replaced (with effect on 1 July 2011 and applying for income years beginning on or after that date), on 7 May 2012, by section 36(1) of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

Section EX 51(8) heading: substituted (with effect on 1 April 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 176(2) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EX 51(8): substituted (with effect on 1 April 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 176(2) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EX 51 list of defined terms direct income interest: repealed (with effect on 1 July 2011), on 7 May 2012, by section 36(2) of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

EX 52A Fair dividend rate method: use of different forms

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person calculates FIF income from an attributing interest in a FIF for an income year (the current year) under the fair dividend rate method.

When person must use fair dividend rate periodic method

- (2) A person must use the fair dividend rate periodic method under section EX 53 for the attributing interest for the current year if the person—
- (a) is a unit trust or other entity that—
- (i) makes investments for the benefit of other persons (the investors); and
 - (ii) assigns each investor an interest in a proportion of the net returns from the investments; and
 - (iii) determines the value of each investor's interests for each of a number of periods making up the income year:
- (b) for the attributing interest, uses the fair dividend rate periodic method for the income year ending before the beginning of the current year and uses the fair dividend rate annual method under section EX 52 for an income year included in the period that is the shortest of—
- (i) the 4-year period ending before the beginning of the current year;
 - (ii) the period from the beginning of the income year in which the person acquired the attributing interest and ending before the beginning of the current year;
 - (iii) the period from the beginning of the 2015–16 income year and ending before the beginning of the current year.

When person must use fair dividend rate annual method

- (3) A person must use the fair dividend rate annual method for the attributing interest for the current year if the person uses for the attributing interest—
- (a) the fair dividend rate annual method for the income year ending before the beginning of the current year; and
- (b) the fair dividend rate periodic method for an income year included in the period that is the shortest of—
- (i) the 4-year period ending before the beginning of the current year;
 - (ii) the period from the beginning of the income year in which the person acquired the attributing interest and ending before the beginning of the current year;

- (iii) the period from the beginning of the 2015–16 income year and ending before the beginning of the current year.

Defined in this Act: attributing interest, fair dividend rate annual method, fair dividend rate method, fair dividend rate periodic method, FIF, FIF income, income year, unit trust

Section EX 52A: inserted, on 1 April 2016 (applying for the 2016–17 and later income years), by section 149(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EX 52 Fair dividend rate annual method

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person—
- (a) calculates FIF income from an attributing interest in a FIF for an income year under the fair dividend rate method; and
 - (b) is not required under section EX 52A to use the fair dividend rate periodic method; and
 - (c) does not choose under section EX 53 to use the fair dividend rate periodic method.

FIF income

- (2) The person's total FIF income for the income year from the attributing interests in FIFs (the FDR interests) for which the person uses the fair dividend rate annual method is calculated using the formula in subsection (3).

FIF income formula

- (3) The formula is—
- $$(0.05 \times \text{opening value}) + \text{quick sale adjustment.}$$

Definition of items in FIF income formula

- (4) The items in the FIF income formula in subsection (3) are defined in subsections (5) to (7).

Opening value

- (5) Opening value is the total of the market values of the FDR interests that—
- (a) the person holds at the start of the income year; and
 - (b) are not, at the beginning of the income year, included in a direct income interest of 10% or more in a FIF that, at the beginning of the year,—
 - (i) meets the requirements of section EX 35(b)(i) to (iii); and
 - (ii) does not have its liability for income tax reduced by an exemption, allowance, or relief referred to in section EX 35(c)(i) or (ii).

Exclusion for certain managed funds

- (5B) Subsection (5)(b) does not apply if—
- (a) the person is a portfolio investment entity, an entity eligible to be a portfolio investment entity, or a life insurance company; and

(b) the FIF is a foreign PIE equivalent.

When quick sale adjustment required

(6) The quick sale adjustment is required, and is not zero, only if the person, in the income year,—

(a) acquires or increases an FDR interest to which this section applies; and

(b) later disposes of or reduces the FDR interest.

Quick sale adjustment

(7) Quick sale adjustment is the lesser of—

(a) the total of the amounts (the peak holding method amount) calculated for each FDR interest from the shareholding for the FDR interest using the formula in subsection (8):

(b) the total of the amounts (the quick sale gain amount) calculated for each FDR interest from the shareholding for the FDR interest using the formula in subsection (12), treating a negative total as being zero.

Peak holding method amount formula

(8) The formula is—

$$0.05 \times \text{peak holding differential} \times \text{average cost.}$$

Definition of items in formula

(9) The items in the formula in subsection (8) are defined in subsections (10) and (11).

Peak holding differential

(10) Peak holding differential is,—

(a) if no share reorganisation affecting the shareholding for the FDR interest occurs in the income year, the lesser of—

(i) the difference between the greatest shareholding in the year and the shareholding at the start of the year:

(ii) the difference between the greatest shareholding in the year and the shareholding at the end of the year; or

(b) if a share reorganisation affecting the shareholding for the FDR interest occurs in the income year, the amount calculated under section EX 54 for the year.

Average cost

(11) Average cost is—

(a) if no share reorganisation occurs in the income year, the total amount of expenditure that the person incurs in acquiring or increasing during the income year the attributing interest in the FIF divided by the total for the year of the shareholding increase in the attributing interest in the FIF for each acquisition or increase; or

- (b) if a share reorganisation occurs in the income year, the amount calculated under section EX 54 for the year.

Quick sale gain amount formula

- (12) The formula, for each acquisition or increase in the attributing interest that is disposed of or reduced in the income year, is—

$$\text{gain} - (\text{interest} \times \text{average cost}).$$

Definition of items in formula

- (13) In the formula in subsection (12),—
- (a) gain is the total amount that the person derives from holding or disposing of the acquisition or increase:
- (b) interest is the amount of the shareholding acquisition or increase:
- (c) average cost is,—
- (i) if no share reorganisation occurs in the income year, the total amount of expenditure that the person incurs in acquiring or increasing the attributing interest in the FIF divided by the total for the income year of the shareholding increase in the interest for each acquisition or increase; or
- (ii) if a share reorganisation occurs in the income year, the amount calculated under section EX 54 for the year.

LIFO for identifying attributing interests disposed of

- (14) For the purposes of subsection (12), attributing interests in a FIF are treated as being disposed of in the reverse order of their acquisition (last in-first out).

Treatment of transaction under section EX 63 or EX 67

- (14B) For the purposes of subsection (7), if the person is treated as disposing of or acquiring an attributing interest in an income year under section EX 63(5) or EX 67, the disposal or acquisition is ignored.

Treatment of attributing interests subject to returning share transfer

- (14C) If an attributing interest in a FIF is an original share subject to a returning share transfer, for the purposes of a person using the fair dividend rate annual method to calculate FIF income, the attributing interest is treated as held by the share supplier.

Meaning of shareholding

- (15) In this section, shareholding means the number of shares or units in an attributing interest.

Defined in this Act: amount, attributing interest, direct income interest, fair dividend rate annual method, fair dividend rate method, fair dividend rate periodic method, FIF, FIF income, foreign PIE equivalent, income year, investor, life insurance, market value, original share, portfolio investment entity, returning share transfer, share, shareholding, share reorganisation, share supplier

EX 53 Fair dividend rate periodic method

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person (the interest holder), who calculates under the fair dividend rate method the FIF income from an attributing interest in a FIF for an income year,—
 - (a) is required under section EX 52A to use the fair dividend rate periodic method;
 - (b) determines the market value of the attributing interest for each period of a day (the unit valuation period) in the income year and—
 - (i) is not required to use the fair dividend rate periodic method; and
 - (ii) chooses to use the fair dividend rate periodic method.

When this section applies: second case

[Repealed]

- (1B) [Repealed]

FIF income

- (2) The total FIF income for the income year of the fund or person (the interest holder) from the attributing interests in FIFs (the FDR interests) for which the fund or person uses the fair dividend rate method is the total of the amounts calculated using the formula in subsection (3) for each unit valuation period.

Formula

- (3) The formula is—

$$(0.05 \times \text{opening value} \times \text{period} \div \text{year}) + \text{quick sale adjustment}.$$

Definition of items in formula

- (4) The items in the formula in subsection (3) are defined in subsections (5) to (15).

Opening value

- (5) Opening value is the total of the market values of the FDR interests that—
 - (a) the interest holder holds at the start of the unit valuation period; and

- (b) are not, at the beginning of the income year, included in a direct income interest of 10% or more in a FIF that, at the beginning of the year,—
 - (i) meets the requirements of section EX 35(b)(i) to (iii); and
 - (ii) does not have its liability for income tax reduced by an exemption, allowance, or relief referred to in section EX 35(c)(i) or (ii).

Exclusion for certain managed funds

- (5B) Subsection (5)(b) does not apply if—
 - (a) the interest holder is a portfolio investment entity, an entity eligible to be a portfolio investment entity, or a life insurance company; and
 - (b) the FIF is a foreign PIE equivalent.

Period

- (6) Period is the number of days in the unit valuation period.

Year

- (7) Year is the number of days in the income year.

When quick sale adjustment required

- (8) The quick sale adjustment is required, and is not zero, only if the interest holder has a unit valuation period of more than 1 day and, in the unit valuation period,—
 - (a) acquires or increases an FDR interest to which this section applies; and
 - (b) later disposes of or reduces the FDR interest.

Quick sale adjustment

- (9) Quick sale adjustment is the lesser of—
 - (a) the total of the amounts (the peak holding method amount) calculated for each FDR interest using the formula in subsection (10):
 - (b) the total of the amounts (the quick sale gain amount) calculated for each FDR interest using the formula in subsection (14), treating a negative total as being zero.

Peak holding method amount formula

- (10) The formula is—
$$0.05 \times \text{peak holding differential} \times \text{average cost.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (11) The items in the formula in subsection (10) are defined in subsections (12) and (13).

Peak holding differential

- (12) Peak holding differential is,—
 - (a) if no share reorganisation occurs in the unit valuation period, the lesser of—

- (i) the difference between the greatest shareholding in the period and the shareholding at the start of the period:
- (ii) the difference between the greatest shareholding in the period and the shareholding at the end of the period; or
- (b) if a share reorganisation occurs in the period, the amount calculated under section EX 54 for the period.

Average cost

(13) Average cost is—

- (a) if no share reorganisation occurs in the unit valuation period, the total amount of expenditure that the interest holder incurs in acquiring or increasing during the period the attributing interest in the FIF divided by the total for the period of the shareholding increase in the attributing interest in the FIF for each acquisition or increase; or
- (b) if a share reorganisation occurs in the period, the amount calculated under section EX 54 for the period.

Quick sale gain amount formula

- (14) The formula, for each acquisition or increase in the attributing interest that is disposed of or reduced in the unit valuation period, is—

$$\text{gain} - (\text{interest} \times \text{average cost}).$$

Definition of items in formula

- (15) In the formula in subsection (14),—

- (a) gain is the total amount that the interest holder derives from holding or disposing of the acquisition or increase:
- (b) interest is the amount of the shareholding acquisition or increase:
- (c) average cost is the total amount of expenditure that the interest holder incurs in acquiring or increasing the attributing interest in the FIF divided by the total for the period of the shareholding increase in the interest for each acquisition or increase.

LIFO for identifying attributing interests disposed of

- (16) For the purposes of subsection (14), attributing interests in a FIF are treated as being disposed of in the reverse order of their acquisition (last in-first out).

Deemed transaction under section EX 67 ignored

- (16B) For the purposes of subsection (9), if the person is treated as disposing of or acquiring an attributing interest in an income year under section EX 67, the disposal or acquisition is ignored.

Treatment of attributing interests subject to returning share transfer

- (16C) If an attributing interest in a FIF is an original share subject to a returning share transfer, for the purposes of a person using the fair dividend rate method to calculate FIF income, the attributing interest is treated as held by the share supplier.

Meaning of shareholding

- (17) In this section, shareholding means the number of shares or units in an attributing interest.

Defined in this Act: amount, attributing interest, direct income interest, fair dividend rate method, fair dividend rate periodic method, FIF, FIF income, foreign PIE equivalent, income year, investor, life insurance, market value, New Zealand, original share, portfolio investment entity, returning share transfer, share, share reorganisation, share supplier, shareholding

EX 54 Fair dividend rate method and cost method: when periods affected by share reorganisations

Relevant items and formulas

- (1) This section provides for the calculation, for an income year or unit valuation period (the affected period) in which a share reorganisation occurs, of the following:
 - (a) the item peak holding differential for the purposes of the formulas in sections EX 52(8), EX 53(10), and EX 56(15):
 - (b) the item average cost for the purposes of the formulas in sections EX 52(8), EX 52(12), EX 53(10) and EX 56(5) and (15):
 - (c) the item increase for the purposes of the formula in section EX 56(5).

Identifying reorganisation periods

- (2) For the purposes of calculating the items for an affected period under this section,—
 - (a) the affected period is treated as consisting of periods (the reorganisation periods) that do not overlap:
 - (b) a reorganisation period—
 - (i) begins with the start of the affected period and immediately before each share reorganisation in the affected period; and
 - (ii) ends immediately before each share reorganisation in the affected period and at the end of the affected period.

Identifying equivalent shareholdings

- (3) For the purposes of calculating the items for an affected period under this section,—
 - (a) the amount of the attributing interest in the FIF held by the person at any time (the comparison time) in a reorganisation period, is treated as being the amount (the equivalent shareholding) of the attributing interest in the FIF that the person would hold at the end of the affected period if, after the comparison time, the person did not increase or reduce the at-tributing interest in the FIF except under share reorganisations occurring in the affected period:

- (b) the amount of an acquisition or increase (the acquired shareholding) by the person of the attributing interest in the FIF other than under a share reorganisation is treated as being the amount (the equivalent acquired shareholding) equal to the difference between—
 - (i) the equivalent shareholding for the time of the acquisition or increase; and
 - (ii) the amount that would be the equivalent shareholding for the time of the acquisition or increase if the person were not to have the acquired shareholding.

Peak holding differential

- (4) The item peak holding differential, for a person and an affected period, is the lesser of the following:
 - (a) the difference between the equivalent shareholding that is the greatest for the affected period and the equivalent shareholding at the start of the affected period:
 - (b) the difference between the equivalent shareholding that is the greatest for the affected period and the equivalent shareholding at the end of the affected period.

Average cost

- (5) The item average cost, for a person and an affected period, is the total amount of expenditure that the person incurs during the affected period in acquiring or increasing the attributing interest in the FIF divided by the total for the affected period of the equivalent acquired shareholding for each acquisition or increase.

Increase

- (6) The item increase, for a person and an affected period, is the difference between the equivalent shareholding at the start of the affected period and the equivalent shareholding at the start of the period before the affected period.

Defined in this Act: amount, attributing interest, FIF, income year, share reorganisation

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 44E

Section EX 54(1)(b): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 29 August 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2008), by section 41(1) of the Taxation (Tax Administration and Remedial Matters) Act 2011 (2011 No 63).

Section EX 54 list of defined terms unit valuation period: repealed, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EX 55 Deemed rate of return method

Formula changes if interest changes

- (1) If a person is using the deemed rate of return method to calculate FIF income or loss from an attributing interest in a FIF for an income year, the FIF income or loss is calculated—
 - (a) by the formula in subsection (3) (the standard formula) if the person has held the interest unchanged throughout the income year; and
 - (b) by totalling the amounts calculated by the formula in subsection (5) (the part-year formula) for each part of the income year during which the interest is unchanged, in any other case.

When interest changes

- (2) A person's attributing interest in a FIF changes during an income year if the person—
 - (a) acquires or increases the interest; or
 - (b) disposes of or reduces the interest, but merely receiving an annuity payment from the interest is not a disposal or reduction.

Standard formula

- (3) The standard formula is—
$$\text{opening book value} \times \text{deemed rate.}$$

Definition of items in standard formula

- (4) In the standard formula,—
 - (a) opening book value is the book value of the interest at the end of the previous income year, calculated under subsection (7):
 - (b) deemed rate is the rate set by the Governor-General by Order in Council for this section for the relevant income year.

Part-year formula

- (5) The part-year formula is—
$$(\text{opening book value} + \text{costs}) \times \text{deemed rate} \times \text{days} \div 365.$$

Definition of items in part-year formula

- (6) In the part-year formula,—
 - (a) opening book value is the book value, if any, of the interest at the end of the period before the part of the income year, calculated under subsection (7):
 - (b) costs is the total for the part of the income year of—
 - (i) all expenditure, if any, that the person incurs in acquiring or increasing the interest:

- (ii) income tax on the income of the FIF for which the person is liable under the laws of a country or territory outside New Zealand and which is paid by the person in the part of the income year:
- (c) deemed rate is the rate set by the Governor-General by Order in Council for this section for the relevant income year:
- (d) days is the number of days in the part of the income year; and for this purpose, an acquisition or increase is treated as occurring at the start of a day, and a disposition or reduction is treated as occurring at the end of a day.

Closing book value formula

- (7) The book value, at the end of an income year or, in a case in which subsection (5) applies, a part of an income year, of an attributing interest of a person in a FIF under the deemed rate of return method is, unless subsection (9) applies, calculated using the formula (the closing book value formula)— opening book value + costs + deemed income + top-up amounts – gains.

Definition of items in closing book value formula

- (8) In the closing book value formula,—
- (a) opening book value is the book value, if any, of the interest at the end of the previous income year or the part of the income year, calculated under subsection (7):
 - (b) costs is the total for the income year or part of the income year of—
 - (i) all expenditure, if any, that the person incurs in acquiring or increasing the interest:
 - (ii) income tax on the income of the FIF for which the person is liable under the laws of a country or territory outside New Zealand and which is paid by the person in the income year or part of the income year:
 - (c) deemed income is the FIF income from the interest for the year or the part of the income year calculated under subsection (3) or (5):
 - (d) top-up amounts is amounts, gains from holding or disposing of the interest, that are top-up FIF income in the year under section EX 60 or EX 61:
 - (e) gains is the total of all amounts that the person derives during the year or the part of the income year from holding or disposing of the interest; the amounts including any foreign withholding tax or other amount that the person is allowed as a credit under section LE 1 (Tax credits for imputation credits) or LJ 2 (Tax credits for foreign income tax).

Closing book value zero if changing method

- (9) The closing book value is always zero if the person is using a calculation method for the interest different from the deemed rate of return method at the end of the income year or, in a case to which subsection (5) applies, the part of the income year.

Top-up income if deemed rate inadequate

- (10) If the closing book value of a person's attributing interest in a FIF at the end of an income year or a part of an income year is below zero, the person has additional FIF income equal to the deficit for the relevant income year.

When subsection (10) does not apply

- (11) Subsection (10) does not apply if—
- (a) the person is a natural person; and
 - (b) at all times during the income year the total value of the person's attributing interests in FIFs is $250,000 or less, the value of each interest being—
 - (i) its book value, calculated under subsection (7), at the end of the previous income year, if the person held the interest then and used the deemed rate of return method to calculate FIF income for all attributing interests in the previous income year;
 - (ii) its market value, in any other case; and
 - (c) the deficit in closing book value arises only because the person disposed of some or all of the interest; and
 - (d) the gain that the person derived from disposing of the interest or part-interest is not income, or is income only to the extent to which it gives rise to FIF income.

Top-up income if gains more than deemed income

- (12) A person calculating FIF income under the deemed rate of return method can also have additional FIF income under section EX 60.

FIF income reduced on disposal if deemed rate excessive

- (13) If a person has disposed of the whole of an attributing interest in a FIF and the closing book value for the relevant income year or the part of the income year is more than zero, the excess is subtracted when the person's FIF income under the deemed rate of return method for the income year is calculated.

When subsection (13) does not apply

- (14) Subsection (13) does not apply if—
- (a) the person is a natural person; and
 - (b) at all times during the income year the total value of attributing interests in FIFs held by the person is $250,000 or less, the value of each interest being—
 - (i) its book value, calculated under subsection (7), at the end of the previous income year, if the person held the interest then and used the deemed rate of return method to calculate FIF income for all attributing interests in the previous income year:

- (ii) its market value, in any other case; and
- (c) the gain that the person derived from disposing of the interest or part-interest is not income, or is income only to the extent to which it gives rise to FIF income.

Defined in this Act: amount, attributing interest, calculation method, deemed rate of return method, FIF, FIF income, foreign withholding tax, income, income year, loss, market value, pay, tax

Section EX 55(4)(b): 6.28% is the deemed rate applying for the 2016–17 income year, on 4 August 2017, by clause 2 of the Income Tax (Deemed Rate of Return on Attributing Interests in Foreign Investment Funds, 2016–17 Income Year) Order 2017 (LI 2017/178).

Section EX 55(6)(c): 6.28% is the deemed rate applying for the 2016–17 income year, on 4 August 2017, by clause 2 of the Income Tax (Deemed Rate of Return on Attributing Interests in Foreign Investment Funds, 2016–17 Income Year) Order 2017 (LI 2017/178).

Section EX 55(8)(e): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 29 August 2011 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 140(1) of the Taxation (Tax Administration and Remedial Matters) Act 2011 (2011 No 63).

EX 56 Cost method

Cost method formula

- (1) If a person is using the cost method to calculate FIF income or loss from an attributing interest in a FIF for an income year, the person's total FIF income from their attributing interests in the FIF for the income year is calculated using the formula—

$$(0.05 \times \text{opening value}) + \text{quick sale adjustment.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (2) The items in the formula in subsection (1) are defined in subsections (3) to (18).

Opening value

- (3) Opening value is the total of the market values of the person's attributing interests in the FIF, being—
 - (a) zero, if the relevant income year is the year in which the person acquires an attributing interest in the FIF; or
 - (ab) the amount that is shown as the net asset value of the interest in audited financial statements of the person for the relevant income year made available to the general public, if—
 - (i) paragraph (a) does not apply; and
 - (ii) the FIF makes available to the general public audited financial statements for its accounting year ending in the relevant income year; and
 - (iii) the person chooses that this paragraph applies; or

- (ac) the amount of the cost of the interest, if—
 - (i) paragraphs (a) and (ab) do not apply; and
 - (ii) the person acquires the interest in the 2005–06 or 2006–07 income year; and
 - (iii) the interest was not an attributing interest for the income year before the relevant income year; or.
- (b) the amount of an independent valuation of the market value of the interest at the start of the relevant income year, if paragraphs (a), (ab) and (ac) do not apply and the person holds the interest at the start of the relevant income year, and—
 - (i) the interest was not an attributing interest for which the person has FIF income or loss for the income year before the relevant income year;
 - (ii) the person has used the cost method for the interest for a period of 4 or more income years ending before the relevant income year and has not applied this paragraph to the interest for any of those income years; or
- (c) the amount calculated using the formula in subsection (4), if paragraphs (a), (ab), (ac), and (b) do not apply and the person's shareholding (the current opening shareholding) at the start of the relevant income year is the same as the person's shareholding (the preceding opening shareholding) at the start of the preceding income year; or
- (d) the amount calculated using the formula in subsection (5), if paragraphs (a), (ab), (ac), and (b) do not apply and the person's current opening shareholding is more than the preceding opening shareholding; or
- (e) the amount calculated using the formula in subsection (6), if paragraphs (a), (ab), (ac), and (b) do not apply and the person's current opening shareholding is less than the preceding opening shareholding.

Opening value formula: no shareholding change

- (4) The formula referred to in subsection (3)(c) is—

$$1.05 \times \text{preceding opening.}$$

Opening value formula: shareholding increase

- (5) The formula referred to in subsection (3)(d) is—

$$1.05 \times \text{preceding opening} + (\text{increase} \times \text{average cost}).$$

Opening value formula: shareholding decrease

- (6) The formula referred to in subsection (3)(e) is—

$$(\text{opening shareholding} \div \text{preceding shareholding}) \times 1.05 \times \text{preceding opening.}$$

Definition of items in formulas

- (7) The items in the formula in subsections (4) to (6) are defined in subsections (8) to (13).

Preceding opening

- (8) Preceding opening is the opening value for the income year before the relevant income year.

FIF income

[Repealed]

- (9) [Repealed]

Increase

- (10) Increase is,—
- (a) if no share reorganisation occurs in the preceding income year, the difference between the person's shareholding at the start of the relevant income year and the person's shareholding at the start of the preceding income year;
 - (b) if a share reorganisation occurs in the preceding income year, the amount calculated under section EX 54 for the preceding income year.

Average cost

- (11) Average cost is,—
- (a) if no share reorganisation occurs in the preceding income year, the total amount of expenditure that the person incurs in acquiring or increasing during the preceding income year the attributing interest in the FIF divided by the total for the preceding income year of the increase in the attributing interest in the FIF for each acquisition or increase; or
 - (b) if a share reorganisation occurs in the preceding income year, the amount calculated under section EX 54 for the preceding income year.

Opening shareholding

- (12) Opening shareholding is the amount of the person's shareholding at the start of the relevant income year.

Preceding shareholding

- (13) Preceding shareholding is the amount of the person's shareholding at the start of the preceding income year.

When quick sale adjustment required

- (14) The quick sale adjustment is required only if, in the relevant income year, the person disposes of or reduces their attributing interest in the FIF after acquiring it or increasing it. The quick sale adjustment is zero in any other case.

Quick sale adjustment

- (15) Quick sale adjustment is calculated using the formula—

$0.05 \times \text{peak holding differential} \times \text{average cost}$.

Definition of items in formula

- (16) The items in the formula in subsection (15) are defined in subsections (17) and (18).

Peak holding differential

- (17) Peak holding differential is,—

- (a) if no share reorganisation occurs in the relevant income year, the lesser of—
- (i) the difference between the greatest shareholding in the year and the shareholding at the start of the year;
 - (ii) the difference between the greatest shareholding in the year and the shareholding at the end of the year; or
- (b) if a share reorganisation occurs in the relevant income year, the amount calculated under section EX 54 for the year.

Average cost

- (18) Average cost is,—

- (a) if no share reorganisation occurs in the relevant income year, the total amount of expenditure that the person incurs in acquiring or increasing during the relevant income year the attributing interest in the FIF divided by the total for the year of the shareholding increase in the attributing interest in the FIF for each acquisition or increase; or
- (b) if a share reorganisation occurs in the relevant income year, the amount calculated under section EX 54 for the year.

Meaning of shareholding

- (19) In this section, shareholding means the number of shares or units in an attributing interest.

Defined in this Act: amount, attributing interest, cost method, FIF, FIF income, FIF loss, income year, market value, New Zealand, share reorganisation, shareholding

EX 57 Conversion of foreign currency amounts: most methods

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) an amount in a foreign currency is the market value of, or is derived from or incurred on, an attributing interest in a FIF that a person has in an income year; and
 - (b) the person is using one of the following calculation methods (the relevant method) to calculate their FIF income or loss from the interest for the income year:

- (i) the comparative value method:
- (ii) the fair dividend rate method:
- (iii) the deemed rate of return method:
- (iv) the cost method.

Choosing conversion rates

- (2) The person must choose either that—
- (a) each foreign currency amount in the income year is converted into New Zealand dollars using the exchange rate on the day for which the market value is determined or on which the amount is derived or incurred; or
 - (b) all foreign currency amounts in the income year are converted into New Zealand dollars at the average of the close of trading spot exchange rates for the 15th day of each month that falls in the income year.

Election applying method-wide and for future years

- (3) The election by the person must be applied for all attributing interests for which they use the relevant method for the income year and each later income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, attributing interest, calculation method, close of trading spot exchange rate, comparative value method, cost method, deemed rate of return method, fair dividend rate method, FIF income, FIF loss, income year, New Zealand

EX 58 Additional FIF income or loss if CFC owns FIF

Application of this section

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a person has an income interest of 10% or more in a CFC for an accounting period under sections EX 14 to EX 17; and
 - (ab) as a result of an income interest of the CFC in a FIF, the person has an indirect attributing interest in the FIF for the accounting period; and
 - (b) FIF income and FIF loss is not taken into account in calculating the net attributable CFC income or loss of the CFC for the period for the person.

Calculation of FIF income or loss

- (2) The person instead has FIF income or loss, for the income year in which the period ends, calculated using the formula—income interest × CFC's FIF income or loss.

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) income interest is the person's income interest in the CFC for the period under sections EX 8 to EX 13:

- (b) CFC's FIF income or loss is the CFC's FIF income or loss for the period, calculated under subsections (4) and (5), from FIFs in which the person has an indirect attributing interest.

Application of FIF rules to choice of method

- (4) The person must—
- (a) choose, under sections EX 44 to EX 48, the calculation method for calculating the CFC's FIF income or loss; and
 - (b) otherwise apply the calculation rules in sections EX 44 to EX 61 to the CFC and the CFC's interest in the FIF, for the period when the person held the indirect attributing interest; and
 - (c) apply the FIF loss ring-fencing rules in section DN 8 (Ring-fencing cap on deduction: attributable FIF income method) to the CFC and the CFC's interest in the FIF.

Exceptions

- (5) Despite subsection (4), the CFC's FIF income or loss does not include an amount actuarially determined to be attributable to policyholders in the CFC or another company as a result of applying section EX 21(25) and (26) to the CFC.

Non-attributing Australian CFCs and non-attributing active CFCs

- (6) This section applies regardless of whether the CFC is a non-attributing active CFC under section EX 21B or a non-attributing Australian CFC under section EX 22 for the period.

Exclusion for insurance CFC meeting requirements of determination

- (7) The CFC's FIF income or loss does not include income from an income interest of less than 10% in a FIF if the CFC meets the requirements of a determination made by the Commissioner under section 91AAQ of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, amount, attributing interest, calculation method, CFC, company, direct income interest, FIF, FIF income, FIF loss, FIF rules, grey list, income interest, income year, indirect attributing interest, loss

Relationship with other provisions in Act

EX 59 Codes: comparative value method, deemed rate of return method, fair dividend rate method, and cost method

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person has an attributing interest in a FIF and calculates their FIF income or loss from the interest for a period using—
 - (a) the comparative value method:

- (b) the deemed rate of return method:
- (c) the fair dividend rate method:
- (d) the cost method.

Exclusion for interests in FIFs resident in Australia

- (1B) Subsection (1)(c) does not apply if the person's interest in the company is included, at the beginning of the income year in which the payment is made, in a direct income interest of 10% or more in a FIF that, at the beginning of the income year,—
- (a) meets the requirements of section EX 35(b)(i) to (iii); and
 - (b) does not have its liability for income tax reduced by an exemption, allowance, or relief referred to in section EX 35(c)(i) or (ii).

Application of rule for certain managed funds

- (1C) Subsection (1B) does not apply if—
- (a) the person is a portfolio investment entity, an entity eligible to be a portfolio investment entity, or a life insurance company; and
 - (b) the FIF is a foreign PIE equivalent.

No income other than FIF income

- (2) The person is treated as not having any income from the interest for the period other than FIF income and, in particular, any dividends derived in the period from the interest and any income gained from disposing of the interest in the period are disregarded.

Exception to subsection (2): fees rebate

- (2B) An amount derived by the person from the interest is not disregarded under subsection (2) if—
- (a) the amount is a rebate of fees; and
 - (b) the person was allowed a deduction for the payment of the fees.

No deductions other than FIF loss

- (3) The person is denied a deduction for any amount incurred in the period on acquiring some or all of the interest, except to the extent to which the amount is taken into account under the relevant calculation method in calculating FIF income or loss for the period.

Application of trading stock rules

- (4) The interest is not trading stock in the period and accordingly subpart EB (Valuation of trading stock (including dealer's livestock)) does not apply.

Defined in this Act: amount, attributing interest, calculation method, company, comparative value method, cost method, deduction, deemed rate of return method, direct income interest, dividend, fair dividend rate method, FIF, FIF income, FIF loss, foreign PIE equivalent, income, life insurance, loss, portfolio investment entity, trading stock

EX 60 Top-up FIF income: deemed rate of return method

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies at any time when a person—
 - (a) has an attributing interest in a FIF for a period; and

- (b) is calculating the FIF income or loss from the interest using the deemed rate of return method; and
- (c) derives in the period, from holding or disposing of the interest, an amount that would have been income if section EX 59(2) had not applied.

Formula

- (2) The gain is FIF income to the extent to which the amount calculated using the following formula is positive:

$$\text{total income gains} - \text{total FIF income.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) total income gains is the total of amounts, including the amount in question, derived by the person until that time from holding or disposing of the interest that would have been income if section EX 59(2) had not applied:
 - (b) total FIF income is the total of FIF income, reduced by the total of any FIF losses, derived by the person from the interest until, and including, the relevant period.

Consequence of partial disposals

- (4) If the person disposes of part of the interest, this section applies to the part disposed of and the part retained as if they were separate interests. If this means that an apportionment is necessary, it must be done on the basis of the respective market values at the time the part interest is disposed of.

Defined in this Act: amount, attributing interest, deemed rate of return method, FIF, FIF income, FIF loss, income, loss, market value

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 48

Section EX 60(4) heading: amended (with effect on 1 April 2015 and applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 242(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EX 61 Top-up FIF income: 1 April 1993 uplift interests

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies at any time if a person—
- (a) has an attributing interest in a FIF for a period; and
 - (b) held the interest on 2 July 1992; and
 - (c) calculated their FIF income from the interest in the period starting on 1 April 1993 under the comparative value method or the deemed rate of return method; and
 - (d) was treated as having reacquired the interest on 1 April 1993 for an uplifted cost under section CG 23(1)(d) of the Income Tax Act 1994 or EZ 7 of the Income Tax Act 2004; and

- (e) derives in the period, from holding or disposing of the interest, an amount that would have been income if section EX 59(2) had not applied.

Formula

- (2) The gain is FIF income to the extent to which the amount calculated using the following formula is positive:

$$\text{total income gains} - \text{total FIF income.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) total income gains is the total of amounts, including the amount in question, that the person derived until that time from holding or disposing of the interest that would have been income if section EX 59(2) had not applied:
- (b) total FIF income is the total of FIF income, reduced by the total of any FIF losses, that the person derived from the interest until, and including, the relevant period.

Consequence of partial disposals

- (4) If the person disposes of part of the interest, this section applies to the part disposed of and the part retained as if they were separate interests. If this means that an apportionment is necessary, it must be done on the basis of the respective market values at the time the part interest is disposed of.

Defined in this Act: amount, attributing interest, comparative value method, deemed rate of return method, FIF, FIF income, FIF loss, income, market value

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 49

Section EX 61(4) heading: amended (with effect on 1 April 2015 and applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 242(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Changing calculation method

EX 62 Limits on changes of method

No change unless allowed

- (1) Once a person uses a particular calculation method to calculate FIF income or loss for an attributing interest in a FIF for a particular period, they must use the same method for interests in the FIF for the next period unless they are allowed to change under subsections (2) to (9).

Change on practical grounds

- (2) The person may change if it is not practical to continue with the same method because—
- (a) [Repealed]

- (b) in the case of the attributable FIF income method, section EX 46(3)(a) and (b) prevent its continued use or it is impossible to obtain enough information to continue to use it:
- (c) in the case of the comparative value method,—
 - (i) section EX 46(6) prevents its continued use:
 - (ii) it is impossible to find out the end-of-year market value of the interest:
- (d) [Repealed]
- (e) in the case of the deemed rate of return method, the person is required by section EX 47 to use the comparative value method:
- (f) in the case of the fair dividend rate method, it is impossible to find out the start-of-year market value of the interest except by an independent valuation:
- (g) in the case of the cost method, section EX 46(9) prevents its continued use.

Choosing to change

- (3) The person may also change by notice to the Commissioner if—
 - (a) the notice complies with subsection (4); and
 - (b) either—
 - (i) the person is a natural person and the $250,000 threshold in subsection (5) is not exceeded; or
 - (ii) the change is to, or from, the attributable FIF income method and within subsections (6) and (7).

Notice of election

- (4) The notice of an election to change under subsection (3) must—
 - (a) give the reasons for the change; and
 - (b) comply with the Commissioner's notice requirements; and
 - (c) be given before the end of the first income year or accounting period for which the change is to take effect, unless the Commissioner agrees to a retrospective notice; and
 - (d) in the case of a natural person relying on the $250,000 threshold test in subsection (3)(b)(i), be given before the end of the year or period that is before the one from the end of which the change takes effect.

Natural person: $250,000 threshold

- (5) A natural person may make an election under subsection (3) if the total market value of their attributing interests in FIFs is $250,000 or less at the end of the income year or accounting period before the year or period from the end of which the change takes effect.

Changing to or from the attributable FIF income method

- (6) A person may make an election under subsection (3) to change to or from the attributable FIF income method if—
- (a) [Repealed]
 - (b) this is the first time they have chosen to change to or from the attributable FIF income method for an attributing interest in the FIF, other than a change from the branch equivalent method;
 - (c) subsection (7) allows them to make another election.

Repeated changes to or from attributable FIF income method

- (7) A person may change more than once to, or from, the attributable FIF income method if—
- (a) there has been a change in circumstances, such as a significant change in shareholding, that significantly changes their ability to obtain enough information to use the attributable FIF income method; and
 - (b) altering their income tax liability is not the principal purpose or effect of the change.

Repeated changes between fair dividend rate method and comparative value method

- (8) A person may change more than once from the fair dividend rate method to the comparative value method and from the comparative value method to the fair dividend rate method if the person is a natural person or the trustee of a trust that—
- (a) has no gifting settlor who is not a natural person or deceased person; and
 - (b) at all times in the income year, is a complying trust for a distribution made at the time; and
 - (c) is—
 - (i) at all times in the income year, mainly for the benefit of a natural person for whom the gifting settlors of the trust have natural love and affection, or had natural love and affection when alive;
 - (ii) mainly for the benefit of an organisation or trust with income that is exempt income under section CW 41 or CW 42 (which relate to the income of charities); and
 - (d) is not a superannuation scheme.

Change to fair dividend rate method in return for 2008–09, 2009–10 tax year

- (9) A person may change to the fair dividend rate method from the branch equivalent method or the accounting profits method in the person's return of income for—

- (a) the 2008–09 tax year, if the person has not furnished a return for that tax year before the date on which the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 receives the Royal assent; or
- (b) the 2009–10 tax year, if the person has furnished a return for the 2008–09 tax year before the date on which that Act receives the Royal assent.

Change to fair dividend rate method for first income year beginning on or after 1 July 2011

- (10) A person may change to the fair dividend rate method from the accounting profits method, the branch equivalent method, or the deemed rate of return method in the person's return of income for the first income year beginning on or after 1 July 2011.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, accounting profits method, attributable FIF income method, attributing interest, branch equivalent method, calculation method, Commissioner, comparative value method, complying trust, cost method, deemed rate of return method, exempt income, fair dividend rate method, FIF, FIF income, gifting settlor, income tax liability, income year, loss, market value, notice, return, return of income, superannuation scheme, tax year, trustee

EX 63 Consequences of changes in method

Changes between cost-based methods and look-through methods

- (1) Subsection (2) applies if a person holding an attributing interest in a FIF changes the calculation method for calculating FIF income or loss from the interest—
 - (a) from 1 of the 4 cost-based calculation methods (the comparative value method, the deemed rate of return method, the fair dividend rate method, or the cost method) to the attributable FIF income method; or
 - (b) from a look-through calculation method (the attributable FIF income method or the accounting profits method) to 1 of the 4 cost-based calculation methods.

Treatment as disposal for market value

- (2) The person is treated as having—
 - (a) disposed of the interest to an unrelated person immediately before the start of the first accounting period to which the new method applies; and
 - (b) reacquired the interest at the start of the period; and
 - (c) received for the disposal and paid for the reacquisition an amount equal to the interest's market value at the time.

Changes from comparative value method or fair dividend rate method to cost method or deemed rate of return method

- (3) If a person holding an attributing interest in a FIF changes from either of the comparative value method and the fair dividend rate method to either of the cost method and the deemed rate of return method for calculating FIF income or loss from the interest, the person is treated as having—
 - (a) disposed of the interest to an unrelated person immediately before the start of the first income year to which the new method applies; and
 - (b) reacquired the interest at the start of the income year; and
 - (c) received for the disposal and paid for the reacquisition an amount equal to the interest's market value at the time of the disposal.

Changes from cost method or deemed rate of return method to comparative value method or fair dividend rate method

- (4) If a person holding an attributing interest in a FIF changes from either of the cost method or the deemed rate of return method to either of the comparative value method or fair dividend rate method for calculating FIF income or loss from the interest, the person is treated as having—

- (a) disposed of the interest to an unrelated person immediately before the start of the first income year to which the new method applies; and
- (b) reacquired the interest at the start of the income year; and
- (c) received for the disposal and paid for the reacquisition an amount equal to,—
 - (i) for a person changing from the cost method, what would have been the interest's opening value under section EX 56 if the person had applied the cost method for the income year; or
 - (ii) for a person changing from the deemed rate of return method, the interest's closing book value under section EX 55(7) for the preceding income year.

Changes between comparative value method and fair dividend rate method

- (5) If a person holding an attributing interest in a FIF changes from either of the comparative value method and the fair dividend rate method to the other of the comparative value method and the fair dividend rate method for calculating the FIF income or loss from the interest, the person is treated as having—
- (a) disposed of the interest to an unrelated person immediately before the start of the first income year to which the new method applies; and
 - (b) reacquired the interest at the start of the income year; and
 - (c) received for the disposal and paid for the reacquisition an amount equal to the market value of the interest at the time of the disposal.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, accounting profits method, amount, attributable FIF income method, attributing interest, calculation method, comparative value method, cost method, deemed rate of return method, fair dividend rate method, FIF, FIF income, income year, loss, market value, pay

Cases of entry into and exit from FIF rules

EX 64 Migration of persons holding FIF interests

Leaving New Zealand

- (1) Subsection (2) applies if a person—
 - (a) ceases to be resident in New Zealand; and
 - (b) holds an attributing interest in a FIF at the time; and
 - (c) for the period before the change of residence, calculates FIF income or loss from the interest using—
 - (i) the comparative value method:
 - (ii) the deemed rate of return method:
 - (iii) the fair dividend rate method:
 - (iv) the cost method.

Treatment as disposal at market value

- (2) The person is treated as—
 - (a) having disposed of the interest immediately before the change of residence for an amount equal to its market value at the time; and
 - (b) not holding the interest when not resident in New Zealand, unless they become resident again and subsections (3) and (4) apply.

Coming to New Zealand

- (3) Subsection (4) applies if a person—
 - (a) is a non-resident or a transitional resident; and
 - (b) becomes a New Zealand resident who is not a transitional resident; and
 - (c) holds an attributing interest in a FIF at the time; and
 - (d) for the period after the change of residence or status, calculates FIF income or loss from the interest using—
 - (i) the comparative value method:

- (ii) the deemed rate of return method:
- (iii) the fair dividend rate method:
- (iv) the cost method.

Treatment as acquisition at market value

- (4) The person is treated as—
- (a) having acquired the interest immediately after the change of residence or status for an amount equal to its market value at the time; and
 - (b) not holding it when the person is a transitional resident or not a New Zealand resident, unless they had previously ceased being resident and subsections (1) and (2) applied.

Look-through calculation method: relevance of income interest rules

- (5) Subsection (6) applies if a person—
- (a) ceases to be—
 - (i) a New Zealand resident who is not a transitional resident, and becomes a non-resident:
 - (ii) a non-resident, and becomes a New Zealand resident who is not a transitional resident:
 - (iii) a transitional resident, and becomes a New Zealand resident who is not a transitional resident; and
 - (b) holds an attributing interest in a FIF at the time; and
 - (c) for the accounting period in which the change occurs, uses the attributable FIF income method to calculate FIF income or loss from the interest.

Income interest rules

- (6) The income interest rule in section EX 16 is relevant to the calculation of the amount of FIF income or loss for the period.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, amount, attributable FIF income method, attributing interest, calculation method, comparative value method, cost method, deemed rate of return method, fair dividend rate method, FIF, FIF income, FIF loss, income interest, loss, market value, New Zealand, New Zealand resident, non-resident, resident in New Zealand, transitional resident

EX 65 Changes in application of FIF exemptions

Exemptions ceasing to apply

- (1) Subsections (2) to (4) apply if a person—
 - (a) holds rights in 1 of the categories of rights described in section EX 29(2) to (4); and
 - (b) either—
 - (i) the rights become an attributing interest in a FIF because 1 of the exemptions in sections EX 31 to EX 43 ceases to apply; or
 - (ii) the person starts having FIF income or loss from the rights because they incur a cost on an attributing interest in a FIF and exceed the $50,000 threshold in sections CQ 5(1)(d) or (e) (When FIF income arises) and DN 6(1)(d) or (e) (When FIF loss arises).

Market value for cost-based methods

- (2) If the person uses the comparative value method, deemed rate of return method, the fair dividend rate method, or the cost method to calculate FIF income or loss from the rights for the period following the change, the person is treated as having—
 - (a) disposed of the rights to an unrelated person immediately before the change; and
 - (b) reacquired them immediately after the change; and
 - (c) received for the disposal and paid for the reacquisition an amount equal to their market value at the time.

Calculation of reduction in FIF income or loss

- (3) If the change occurs during an accounting period of the FIF and the person uses the attributable FIF income method to calculate FIF income or loss from the rights for that period, the FIF income or loss is reduced by subtracting the amount calculated using the formula—

$$\text{FIF income or loss} \times \text{days before change} \div \text{days in period.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (4) In the formula in subsection (3),—
- (a) FIF income or loss is the FIF income or loss of the person from the rights for the period before allowing for the reduction:
 - (b) days before change is the number of complete days in the period before the change occurs:
 - (c) days in period is the number of days in the period.

Exemptions applying

- (5) Subsections (6) to (8) apply if a person—
- (a) holds an attributing interest in a FIF; and
 - (b) either—
 - (i) the interest ceases to be an attributing interest in a FIF because 1 of the exemptions in sections EX 31 to EX 43 starts to apply; or
 - (ii) the person ceases having FIF income or loss from the interest because they dispose of an attributing interest in a FIF and fall below the $50,000 threshold in sections CQ 5(1)(d) or (e) and DN 6(1)(d) or (e).

Market value for cost-based methods

- (6) If the person uses the comparative value method, the deemed rate of return method, fair dividend rate method, or cost method to calculate FIF income or loss from the interest for the period before the change, the person is treated as having—
- (a) disposed of the interest to an unrelated person immediately before the change; and
 - (b) reacquired it immediately after the change; and
 - (c) received for the disposal and paid for the reacquisition an amount equal to its market value at the time.

Calculation of reduction in FIF income or loss

- (7) If the change occurs during an accounting period of the FIF and the person uses the attributable FIF income method to calculate FIF income or loss from the interest for that period, the FIF income or loss is reduced by subtracting the amount calculated using the formula—

$$\text{FIF income or loss} \times \text{days after change} \div \text{days in period.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (8) In the formula in subsection (7),—
- (a) FIF income or loss is the FIF income or loss of the person from the interest for the period before allowing for the reduction:

(b) days after change is the number of complete days in the period after the change occurs:

(c) days in period is the number of days in the period.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, amount, attributable FIF income method, attributing interest, comparative value method, cost method, deemed rate of return method, fair dividend rate method, FIF, FIF income, loss, market value, pay

EX 66 Entities emigrating from New Zealand

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person holds rights that become an attributing interest in a FIF because an entity becomes a FIF.

Treatment as disposal and reacquisition

- (2) The person is treated as having—
- (a) disposed of the interest immediately before the change to an unrelated person; and
 - (b) reacquired it immediately after the change; and

- (c) received for the disposal and paid for the reacquisition an amount equal to the market value of the interest at the end of the business day on which the change occurred.

Calculation of reduction in FIF income or loss

- (3) If the change occurs during an accounting period of the FIF and the person uses the attributable FIF income method to calculate FIF income or loss from the rights for that period, section EX 24 does not apply and the FIF income or loss is reduced by subtracting the amount calculated using the formula—

$$\text{FIF income or loss} \times \text{days before change} \div \text{days in period.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (4) In the formula,—
- (a) FIF income or loss is the FIF income or loss of the person from the rights for the period before allowing for the reduction:
- (b) days before change is the number of complete days in the period before the change occurs:
- (c) days in period is the number of days in the period.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, amount, attributable FIF income method, attributing interest, business, FIF, FIF income, loss, market value, New Zealand, pay

EX 66B Entities ceasing to be FIFs*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a person holds rights that cease to be an attributing interest in a FIF because an entity ceases to be a FIF.

Treatment as disposal and reacquisition

- (2) The person is treated as having,—
- (a) immediately before the change, disposed of the interest to an unrelated person; and
 - (b) immediately after the change, reacquired the interest; and
 - (c) received for the disposal and paid for the reacquisition an amount equal to the market value of the interest at the end of the business day on which the change occurred.

Calculation of reduction in FIF income or loss

- (3) If the change occurs during an accounting period of the FIF and the person uses the attributable FIF income method to calculate FIF income or FIF loss from the rights for that period, section EX 24 does not apply and the FIF income or FIF loss is reduced by subtracting the amount calculated using the formula—

$$\text{FIF income or loss} \times \text{days after change} \div \text{days in period.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (4) In the formula,—
- (a) FIF income or loss is the FIF income or FIF loss of the person from the rights for the period before allowing for the reduction:
 - (b) days after change is the number of complete days in the period after the change occurs:
 - (c) days in period is the number of days in the period.

EX 67 FIF rules first applying to interest on or after 1 April 2007

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person has rights in a FIF that—
 - (a) for the period ending on a day (the preceding day) are—
 - (i) not an attributing interest;
 - (ii) an attributing interest for which the person does not have FIF income or loss;
 - (iii) rights for which the person is a share supplier in a returning share transfer; and
 - (b) for the period beginning on the day (the application day) following the preceding day are an attributing interest for which the person has FIF income or loss.

Treatment as disposal and acquisition

- (2) The person is treated as having—
 - (a) disposed of the interest immediately before the application day to an unrelated person; and
 - (b) reacquired it immediately at the start of the application day; and
 - (c) received for the disposal and paid for the reacquisition an amount equal to the market value of the interest at the time of the disposal.

Payment of tax liability arising from transition

- (3) A person who is liable to pay an amount of income tax (the amount of tax) because of the disposals in an income year, and related acquisitions, treated as occurring under this section—
 - (a) may satisfy the liability by paying the Commissioner at least—
 - (i) one third of the amount of tax in the income year following the income year in which the disposals are treated as occurring; and
 - (ii) one half of the balance of the amount of tax remaining owing after payment made under subparagraph (i), in the second income year following the income year in which the disposals are treated as occurring; and

- (iii) the balance of the amount of tax remaining owing after payments made under subparagraphs (i) and (ii), in the third income year following the income year in which the disposals are treated as occurring:
- (b) is not liable to pay any penalty or interest for which the person would otherwise be liable for an inaccuracy in an estimate, or shortfall in the payment, of provisional tax to the extent to which the inaccuracy or shortfall arises because of the disposals.

EX 67B Revaluation of inherited interests in grey list companies

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a person inherited, before 1 April 2007, an interest in a FIF that was a grey list company when the interest was inherited; and
 - (b) the cost of the interest for the person is equal to zero.

Treatment as disposal and reacquisition

- (2) The person is treated as having—
 - (a) disposed of the interest immediately before this section applied to the person and the interest; and
 - (b) reacquired the interest as soon as this section applied to the person and the interest; and
 - (c) received for the disposal and paid for the reacquisition an amount equal to the market value of the interest at the time of the disposal.

Cost of inherited interest for purposes of tax liability

- (3) For determining a tax liability of the person arising from the disposal, the cost of the interest for the person at the time of the inheritance is treated as being the lesser of—
- (a) the market value of the interest at the time of the inheritance;
 - (b) the market value of the interest at the time of the disposal.

Payment of tax liability arising from revaluation

- (4) A person who is liable to pay an amount of income tax (the amount of tax) because of a disposal in an income year, and related acquisition, treated as occurring under this section—
- (a) may satisfy the liability by paying to the Commissioner—
 - (i) at least one third of the amount of tax in the income year following the income year in which the disposal is treated as occurring; and
 - (ii) at least one half of the balance of the amount of tax remaining owing after payment made under subparagraph (i), in the second income year following the income year in which the disposal is treated as occurring; and
 - (iii) the balance of the amount of tax remaining owing after payments made under subparagraphs (i) and (ii), in the third income year following the income year in which the disposal is treated as occurring;
 - (b) is not liable to pay any penalty or interest for which the person would otherwise be liable for an inaccuracy in an estimate, or shortfall in the payment, of provisional tax to the extent to which the inaccuracy or shortfall arises because of the disposals.

Defined in this Act: amount, Commissioner, dispose, FIF, grey list company, income tax, income year, market value, pay, provisional tax, tax

Section EX 67B: inserted, on 7 May 2012, by section 47 of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

Measurement of cost

EX 68 Measurement of cost

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when the cost of a person's attributing interest in a FIF is being measured for the purposes of—
- (a) the natural person $50,000 threshold in sections CQ 5(1)(d) or (e) (When FIF income arises) and DN 6(1)(d) or (e) (When FIF loss arises);
 - (b) the comparative value method;
 - (c) the deemed rate of return method:

- (d) the fair dividend rate method:
- (e) the cost method.

FIFO cost flow identification

- (2) If sections EX 52(14) and EX 53(16) do not apply and it is not possible to specifically identify the cost of the interest because of multiple acquisitions or dispositions or both by the person, the first-in-first-out (the FIFO) method of identifying cost flows is applied.

Definition of items in formula

[Repealed]

- (3) [Repealed]

Share splits or similar

- (4) If the person acquires the interest as the result of a share split, non-taxable bonus issue, or similar event, and the acquisition is not income for the person, subsections (5) and (6) apply.

Allocation of original cost

- (5) The cost of the interest is a fair allocation, based on market values at the time of the split, of the cost of the original property that is split.

Allocation replacing original cost

- (6) For the income year in which the split occurs and later,—
- (a) the cost allocated to the interest is no longer the cost of the original property that was split; and
 - (b) the person is treated as having incurred the allocated cost amount on acquiring the interest when the original property was acquired; and
 - (c) the person is treated as not incurring any other cost on the interest merely because the original property ceases to exist.

Non-monetary cost

- (7) If any cost is incurred in kind and not in money, the amount of the cost is equal to the market value of the cost incurred in kind, measured as at the time incurred.

Exclusion of term life insurance element of premiums

- (8) If the interest is rights to benefit under a life insurance policy, the cost of the interest excludes a premium incurred in an earlier income year, or accounting period, to the extent to which the premium relates only to term life insurance for the previous period and does not increase the policy's surrender value.

Exclusion of holding costs

- (9) The cost of the interest does not include any expenditure under the financial arrangements rules or interest on money borrowed to acquire it, or other holding costs, incurred after its acquisition.

Transitional rule: interests acquired before 1 January 2000

- (10) Subsection (11) applies, for the purposes of the $50,000 threshold in sections CQ 5(1)(d) or (e) and DN 6(1)(d) or (e), if—
- (a) the interest was acquired before 1 January 2000; and
 - (b) the person chooses, for the income year for which the relevant paragraph is applied or an earlier income year, that subsection (11) applies to all interests acquired before 1 January 2000.

Cost treated as half 1 April 2007 value

- (11) Despite subsections (1) to (9), the cost of the interest is treated as equal to half the market value of the interest on 1 April 2007.

Optional transitional rule: interests excluded by section EX 39 until 2012–13 income year

- (12) For interests that were acquired by the person before 1 January 2005 and excluded by section EX 39 from being attributing interests until the beginning of the 2012–13 income year, the person may choose to treat the cost of every interest as being the market value of the interest at the beginning of the 2012–13 income year, for the purposes of the $50,000 threshold in sections CQ 5(1)(d) or (e) and DN 6(1)(d) or (e).

Defined in this Act: accounting period, amount, attributing interest, comparative value method, cost method, deemed rate of return method, fair dividend rate method, FIF, financial arrangements rules, income, income year, interest, life insurance, life insurance policy, market value, non-taxable bonus issue, premium, share

Change of FIF's balance date

EX 69 Change of FIF's balance date

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person—
- (a) has an attributing interest in a FIF; and

- (b) calculates their FIF income or loss from the FIF using the attributable FIF income method; and
- (c) has calculated FIF income or loss from the FIF on the basis of 1 accounting year (the old accounting year); and
- (d) wants to change to use a different accounting year (the new accounting year) for the calculations.

Commissioner's consent

- (2) The person may make the change only if the Commissioner agrees.

Commissioner's reasons

- (3) The Commissioner may take into account any relevant factors when making the decision, including—
 - (a) whether the change is sought because ownership of the FIF has changed; and
 - (b) whether the change is sought because of taxation or other legal requirements in a country where the FIF is resident or does business; and
 - (c) whether the change would postpone liability to income tax on FIF income.

New accounting year

- (4) If the change is approved, the person may use the new accounting year.

Limit on transitional deferral

- (5) If, in order to make the transition, the transitional accounting period is more than 1 year and ends in a later income year than the old accounting year ends in, and that would result in an amount of FIF income being derived in the later income year, subsection (6) applies and section CQ 5(1)(g) (When FIF income arises) does not.

Income pro-rated over whole period

- (6) For the transitional accounting period, the FIF income is divided by the number of days in the period and the resulting amount is FIF income of the person derived on each day in the period.

Defined in this Act: accounting period, accounting year, amount, attributable FIF income method, attributing interest, business, Commissioner, FIF, FIF income, income tax, income year, loss, year

Market value rules

EX 70 Market value of life policy and superannuation entitlements

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when, in order to calculate a person's FIF income or loss, it is necessary to calculate the market value of a person's rights to benefit under a life insurance policy or as a beneficiary under a superannuation scheme.

Value of life insurance policy

- (2) The market value of rights to benefit under a life insurance policy is equal to their surrender value.

Limit to subsection (2)

- (3) Subsection (2) applies only for the purpose of calculating the cost of a person's rights to benefit from a life insurance policy under—
 - (a) section EX 64(4); and
 - (b) section EX 65(2).

Value of superannuation scheme entitlement

- (4) The market value at any time of a person's rights to benefit under a superannuation scheme is equal to the total of costs incurred up to that time by or for the person on acquiring the rights if—
 - (a) it is not reasonably practicable to calculate the actual market value; and
 - (b) they have not derived any material gain from the rights up to that time.

Defined in this Act: FIF income, life insurance policy, loss, market value, superannuation scheme

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EX 58

EX 71 Non-market transactions in FIF interests

Section GC 4 (Disposals and acquisitions of FIF attributing interests) applies to acquisitions and dispositions of attributing interests in FIFs when the comparative value method, the deemed rate of return method, the fair dividend rate method, or the cost method is used.

Defined in this Act: attributing interest, comparative value method, cost method, deemed rate of return method, fair dividend rate method, FIF

Commissioner's default assessment power

EX 72 Commissioner's default assessment power

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—

- (a) a person has failed to disclose their control interest or income interest in a CFC or attributing interest in a FIF, under section 61 of the Tax Administration Act 1994:
- (b) a person has failed to disclose information regarding their control interest or income interest in a CFC or attributing interest in a FIF, requested under section 17 of that Act:
- (c) a person cannot obtain enough information to calculate their attributed CFC income or loss or FIF income or loss for a period.

Commissioner's power

- (2) The Commissioner may make an assessment of the amount of attributed CFC income or loss or FIF income or loss for the relevant period.

Examples of methods

- (3) Without limiting the Commissioner's discretion, the assessment may be based on any of the following:
 - (a) the accounts of the CFC or FIF for the relevant period prepared for tax authorities, creditors, shareholders, or others:
 - (b) the application of a rate of presumed increase of 10% or more, compounded annually, to the CFC's net attributable CFC income or to the FIF's net attributable FIF income, for a previous period:
 - (c) the application of a rate of presumed increase of 10% or more, compounding annually, to the CFC's or FIF's accounting profits as shown in its accounts for a previous period:
 - (d) an imputed rate of return on the market value of the interest at the start of the period:
 - (e) the actual gains or losses of the person in the period from holding or disposing of the interest:
 - (f) the change in the market value of the interest over the period.

Defined in this Act: amount, assessment, attributable FIF income method, attributed CFC income, attributing interest, CFC, Commissioner, control interest, FIF, FIF income, income interest, loss, market value, net attributable CFC income, net attributable FIF income, request, shareholder

Election relating to CFC or FIF

Heading: inserted (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 2 November 2012, by section 52(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

EX 73 Election that CFC not non-attributing active CFC or FIF not non-attributing active FIF

Election to have elective attributing CFC

- (1) A person (the interest holder) may elect by notice to the Commissioner for each accounting period of the election, that—
- (a) a CFC of the interest holder, in which the interest holder has an income interest of 10% or more, not be a non-attributing active CFC for the interest holder:
 - (b) a FIF of the interest holder, for which the interest holder uses the attributable FIF income method, not be a non-attributing active FIF for the interest holder.

Exception

- (2) The interest holder must not make an election under subsection (1) for a CFC or FIF that is—
- (a) an entity carrying on a business of banking or insurance or is directly or indirectly controlled by such an entity:
 - (b) a non-attributing Australian CFC.

Period of election

- (3) An election under subsection (1) is made for all accounting periods—
- (a) for a CFC, ending in the interest holder's income years beginning on or after 1 July 2009, if the notice—
 - (i) specifies that the election is made under this paragraph or for that period; and
 - (ii) meets the requirements of subsection (4); or

- (b) for a FIF, ending in the interest holder's income years beginning on or after 1 July 2011, if the notice—
 - (i) specifies that the election is made under this paragraph or for that period; and
 - (ii) meets the requirements of subsection (4); or
- (c) beginning in the interest holder's income years beginning after—
 - (i) the date on which the notice is given to the Commissioner; or
 - (ii) another date agreed by the Commissioner.

Timing of retrospective election

- (4) A notice of election for a period given by subsection (3)(a) or (b) is not effective unless given to the Commissioner by the later of—
 - (a) the end of the interest holder's income year in which this subsection receives the Royal assent;
 - (b) a date allowed by the Commissioner.

Currency of election

- (5) An election under subsection (1) remains effective until the beginning of the earliest income year—
 - (a) for which the election is revoked under subsection (6);
 - (b) in which the election ceases to be effective under subsection (7).

Revoking election

- (6) The interest holder may revoke an election under subsection (1) if—
 - (a) the interest holder gives notice of the revocation to the Commissioner before the beginning of the interest holder's first income year for which the notice is given; and
 - (b) the interest holder satisfies the Commissioner that—
 - (i) expenditure or loss of a CFC included, while the election is effective, in net attributable CFC income or loss for the interest holder is extremely unlikely to result after the revocation in an amount that would otherwise have been an attributable CFC amount for the CFC; and
 - (ii) the revocation is not made for a purpose or effect of reducing a tax liability; and
 - (c) the Commissioner agrees to the revocation.

Expiry of election

- (7) An election by the interest holder under subsection (1) ceases to be effective in an income year if the election is for—
 - (a) a CFC that in the income year ceases to be a CFC in which the interest holder has an income interest of 10% or more, except if the CFC becomes at that time a FIF for which the interest holder uses the attributable FIF income method, in which case the election becomes effective as if made for the FIF:

- (b) a FIF that in the income year ceases to be a FIF for which the interest holder uses the attributable FIF income method, except if the FIF becomes at that time a CFC meeting the requirements of subsection (8), in which case the election becomes effective as if made for the CFC:
- (c) a CFC or FIF that in the income year becomes an entity carrying on a business of banking or insurance or becomes directly or indirectly controlled by such an entity:
- (d) a CFC that becomes a non-attributing Australian CFC in the income year.

Requirements for CFC to be affected by FIF election

- (8) For a CFC to be affected under subsection (7)(b) by an election,—
 - (a) the interest holder must have an income interest of 10% or more in the CFC; and
 - (b) the CFC must not be a non-attributing Australian CFC.

Effect of expiry or revocation of election

- (9) If an election under subsection (1) ceases to be effective for a CFC or FIF,—
 - (a) becoming effective for a FIF under subsection (7)(a) because the CFC becomes a FIF for which the interest holder uses the attributable FIF income method, the interest holder may carry forward under section IQ 1B (Losses carried forward to tax year) attributed CFC losses of the CFC to a later tax year as if they were FIF net losses that were attributed from the FIF when the CFC losses were attributed from the CFC:
 - (b) becoming effective for a CFC under subsection (7)(b) because the FIF becomes a CFC of the interest holder in which the interest holder has an income interest of 10% or more, the interest holder may carry forward under section IQ 1B the FIF net losses of the FIF as if they were attributed CFC losses that were attributed from the CFC when the FIF losses were attributed from the FIF:
 - (c) other than under paragraphs (a) and (b), the interest holder must not carry forward under section IQ 1B an attributed CFC loss from an elective attributing CFC, or a FIF net loss from an elective attributing FIF, to an income year for which the election for the CFC or FIF has ceased to be effective.

Further election

- (10) The interest holder may make a further election under subsection (1) for a period given by subsection (3)(c) after an earlier election ceases to be effective, if—

- (a) the interest holder gives notice of the election to the Commissioner before the beginning of the interest holder's first income year for which the notice is given; and
- (b) the interest holder satisfies the Commissioner that—
 - (i) the expiry of the earlier election was due to an oversight on the part of the interest holder or the CFC or FIF; and
 - (ii) the interest holder gave notice of the further election within a reasonable time after the expiry; and
 - (iii) the further election has no purpose or effect of allowing the attribution of deductions without the attribution of corresponding income; and
- (c) the Commissioner agrees to the election.

Further election for entity by associate of original interest holder

- (11) An interest holder may not make an election under subsection (1) for a CFC or FIF for which an earlier election by a person associated with the interest holder has ceased to be effective, unless—
- (a) the interest holder gives notice of the proposed election to the Commissioner before the beginning of the interest holder's first income year for which the election is made; and
 - (b) the interest holder satisfies the Commissioner that the proposed election has no purpose or effect of allowing the attribution of deductions without the attribution of corresponding income; and
 - (c) the Commissioner agrees to the proposed election.

Form and means of notice to Commissioner

- (12) A notice to the Commissioner under this section must be given in the form and by the means prescribed by the Commissioner.

Defined in this Act: attributable FIF income method, attributed CFC loss, CFC, Commissioner, elective attributing CFC, elective attributing FIF, FIF, income interest, income year, net attributable FIF loss, non-attributing active CFC, non-attributing active FIF, non-attributing Australian CFC, notice

Section EX 73: inserted (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 2 November 2012 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 July 2009), by section 52(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

Introductory provisions

EY 1 What this subpart does

Two bases

- (1) This subpart provides for the taxation of life insurers on 2 separate bases, the policyholder base and the shareholder base. Sections EY 2 and EY 3 describe the general apportionment of income and deductions between the 2 bases under this Part. Section LA 8B (General rules particular to life insurers) provides some general rules for tax credits relating to the 2 bases. Parts L and O include tax credit rules and memorandum account rules specific to the 2 bases.

Schedular policyholder base income and PIE schedular income

- (2) Section EY 2 uses the assessable income in a life insurer's policyholder base income, and the life insurer's policyholder base allowable deductions, to calculate their schedular policyholder base income. A life insurer's schedular income derived by their life fund PIE that is a multi-rate PIE is excluded from their schedular policyholder base income, along with deductions for that income.

Counting once

- (3) Income and deductions must be apportioned to either the policyholder base or the shareholder base. There is no double-counting.

Defined in this Act: assessable income, deduction, income, life fund PIE, life insurance, life insurer, life reinsurance, memorandum account, multi-rate PIE, policyholder base, policyholder base income, schedular policyholder base income, shareholder base, tax credit

Section EY 1: substituted, on 1 July 2010, by section 185(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EY 2 Policyholder base

Policyholder base income

- (1) A life insurer has policyholder base income,—
 - (a) for savings product policies that are not profit participation policies, under section EY 15:
 - (b) for profit participation policies, under section EY 17:
 - (c) under section EY 27(4).

Policyholder base allowable deductions

- (2) A life insurer has policyholder base allowable deductions,—
 - (a) for savings product policies that are not profit participation policies, under section EY 16:
 - (ab) for consideration for services provided to policyholders by the life insurer in administering and managing funds intended for use in meeting future policyholder claims under savings product policies that are not profit participation policies, under section EY 16B:

- (b) for profit participation policies, under section EY 18:
- (c) under section EY 27(4):
- (d) under section EZ 61 (Allowance for cancelled amount: spreading):
- (e) under section LE 2B (Use of remaining credits by life insurer on policyholder base).

Schedular policyholder base income

- (3) A life insurer's schedular policyholder base income is the amount calculated by subtracting, from the assessable income in the policyholder base income for the income year, the amounts of policyholder base allowable deductions incurred in the income year, or available in the income year under subsection (5) or (5B), in the order in which the amounts are incurred.

Cap on subtracting: ring-fencing policyholder base allowable deductions

- (4) Despite subsection (3), the total amount that is subtracted under subsection (3), including an amount available in the income year under subsection (5) or (5B), is no more than the amount of the assessable income in the life insurer's policyholder base income for the income year.

Excess allocations: carrying forward and re-instating next year

- (5) An amount of policyholder base allowable deductions that cannot be subtracted under subsection (3) in the current year because of subsection (4) is carried forward to the next income year and treated as policyholder base allowable deductions for that income year.

Transfer of policies with excess policyholder base allowable deductions

- (5B) If a life insurer (the transferor) transfers a life insurance policy to another life insurer (the transferee) in an income year and, immediately before the transfer, the transferor has an amount (the transferred amount) of policyholder base allowable deductions for the life insurance policy and the income year, at the time of the transfer—
- (a) the amount of policyholder base allowable deductions of the transferor for the income year is reduced by the transferred amount; and
 - (b) the amount of policyholder base allowable deductions incurred by or available to the transferee in the income year is increased by the transferred amount, which is treated as being incurred by the transferee for the life insurance policy at the time of the transfer.

Exception

- (6) Despite subsections (3) to (5) a life insurer's schedular income derived by their life fund PIE that is a multi-rate PIE is excluded from their schedular policyholder base income, along with deductions for that income.

Defined in this Act: amount, assessable income, income year, life fund PIE, life insurance, life insurer, multi-rate PIE, policyholder base allowable deduction, policyholder base income, profit participation policy, savings product policy, schedular income, schedular policyholder base income

Section EY 2: substituted, on 1 July 2010, by section 185(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EY 2(2)(ab): inserted (with effect on 1 April 2015), on 30 March 2017, by section 80(1) (and see section 80(6) and (7)) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section EY 2(3): replaced (with effect on 1 April 2016 and applying for the 2016–17 and later income years), on 30 March 2017, by section 80(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section EY 2(4): amended (with effect on 1 April 2016 and applying for the 2016–17 and later income years), on 30 March 2017, by section 80(3) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section EY 2(5): replaced, on 30 March 2017 (applying for income years beginning after this date), by section 80(4) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section EY 5B heading: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2016 and applying for transfers occurring on or after the beginning of the 2016–17 income year), on 30 March 2017, by section 80(5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section EY 5B: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2016 and applying for transfers occurring on or after the beginning of the 2016–17 income year), on 30 March 2017, by section 80(5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

EY 3 Shareholder base

Shareholder base income

- (1) A life insurer has shareholder base income,—
 - (a) for policies that are not profit participation policies, under section EY 19: see also subsection (3), for reserves:
 - (ab) for consideration for services provided to policyholders by the life insurer in administering and managing funds intended for use in meeting future policyholder claims under savings product policies that are not profit participation policies, under section EY 19B:
 - (b) for profit participation policies, under sections EY 21, EY 28, and EY 29:
 - (c) for annuities, under section EY 31.

Shareholder base allowable deductions

- (2) A life insurer has shareholder base allowable deductions,—
 - (a) for policies that are not profit participation policies, under section EY 20: see also subsection (3), for reserves:
 - (b) for profit participation policies, under sections EY 22 and EY 28:
 - (c) for the period and policies described in section EY 30, under that section:
 - (d) for annuities, under section EY 31.

Reserves

- (3) Under sections EY 23 to EY 27, a life insurer calculates reserving amounts for life insurance policies, other than annuities, that have a life risk component and are not profit participation policies. A reserving amount may be income included in their shareholder base income, or a deduction that is included in their shareholder base allowable deduction, as provided by the relevant sections.

Defined in this Act: deduction, life insurance, life insurance policy, life insurer, life risk, profit participation policy, savings product policy, shareholder base allowable deduction, shareholder base income

Section EY 3: substituted, on 1 July 2010, by section 185(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EY 3(1)(ab): inserted (with effect on 1 April 2015), on 30 March 2017, by section 81(1) (and see section 81(3) and (4)) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section EY 3 list of defined terms savings product policy: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2015), on 30 March 2017, by section 81(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

EY 4 Apportionment of income of particular source or nature, and of tax credits*Default basis*

- (1) For a class of policies, income of a particular source or nature, and tax credits received, are apportioned between the policyholder base and shareholder base—
- (a) in the same proportion as the policyholder base income relating to the particular source, nature, or credits bears to the life insurer's total gross gains relating to the particular source, nature, or credits, in the case of the policyholder base:
 - (b) in the same proportion as the shareholder base income relating to the particular source, nature, or credits bears to the life insurer's total gross gains relating to the particular source, nature, or credits, in the case of the shareholder base.

More equitable or reasonable basis

- (2) For a class of policies, the life insurer may use a basis of apportionment that is different from the basis described in subsection (1), if that basis results in an amount, actuarially determined, that is more equitable and reasonable than an amount determined using the basis described in subsection (1).

Defined in this Act: actuarially determined, amount, class of policies, income, life insurer, policyholder base, policyholder base income, shareholder base, shareholder base income, tax credit

Section EY 4: substituted, on 1 July 2010, by section 185(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EY 5 Part-year tax calculations

Part-year tax calculations

- (1) For their life insurance and for their general insurance contracts outstanding claims reserve, a life insurer does part-year tax calculations, described in subsection (2), if they do not have an early life regime application day and 1 July 2010 is not the first day of their income year.

First year part-year calculations: description

- (2) For calculating their income tax liability for the tax year that corresponds to the income year that includes 1 July 2010, where 1 July 2010 is not the first day of the income year, the life insurer treats references, in the new life insurance rules and in the rules they replace, to an income year or a tax year as if they are references to 2 separate tax years and corresponding income years (the part-years) within that first tax year, divided by 1 July 2010 (for example: a rule to calculate an amount of policyholder income for an income year under the replaced rules means the calculation is done for the relevant part-year before 1 July 2010. A rule to calculate an opening reserve amount under sections EY 23 to EY 27 at the beginning of an income year under the new rules means the calculation is done on 1 July 2010, at the beginning of the relevant part-year).

Part-year calculations: effect

- (3) The part-year calculations may give rise to income and deductions for the income year, but they do not create any part-year tax return obligations. The 2 part-year calculations compose 1 income tax liability for 1 income year.

Part-year calculations for transfers: application

- (3B) Subsections (3C) to (5) apply where a life insurer (the transferor) transfers life insurance business to another life insurer (the transferee) and sections EY 23 to EY 27 apply to either or both of the transferor and transferee.

Part-year calculations for transfers: when non-resident transferor

- (3C) If sections EY 23 to EY 27 apply to the transferee but not to the transferor, the transferee—
 - (a) does the calculations that would be required under this section for the transferor if sections EY 23 to EY 27 applied to the transferor; and
 - (b) uses the results of the calculations in the way required under this section for a transferee.

Part-year calculations for transfers

- (4) A transferor to whom sections EY 23 to EY 27 apply does a part-year calculation immediately before the transfer, as described in subsection (2), for each class of policy in the transferred business, but only for their part-year ending on the day the transfer occurs. A transferee to whom sections EY 23 to EY 27 apply also does a part-year calculation for the transferred policies, as described in subsection (2), but only for their part-year starting on the day the transfer occurs. The transferee's relevant opening part-year reserve amounts under sections EY 23 to EY 27 equal the transferor's relevant closing part-year reserve amounts immediately before the transfer, and if the life reinsurance associated with a class of policies is not assigned by the transferor to the transferee, those reserve amounts are calculated without subtracting relevant life reinsurance amounts.

Class of policies transferred to insurer

- (4B) If a class of policies (the class) is transferred by a transferor to whom sections EY 23 to EY 27 do not apply to a life insurer (the insurer) to whom sections EY 23 to EY 27 apply, the opening value of the reserve amounts for the class under sections EY 23 to EY 27 for the insurer is the closing value that the reserve amounts would have for the transferor if sections EY 23 to EY 27 applied to the transferor.

Part-year calculations for transfers: effect

- (5) Transferor's and transferee's part-year calculations may give rise to income and deductions for the income year, but they do not create any part-year tax return obligations.

Part-year calculations: end of transitional adjustments

- (6) If, for a life insurance policy, the transitional adjustment under section EY 30(7) is calculated for part of an income year, because section EY 30 ceases to apply to the policy before the end of the income year, the life insurer does part-year tax calculations for the policy for the income year, as described in subsection (2), but the income year is divided by the day that section EY 30 ceases to apply. The effect of the part-year calculations is described in subsection (3).

Part-year calculations: end of transitional adjustments

EY 7 Meaning of claim

Meaning in life insurance rules

- (1) In the life insurance rules, claim—
 - (a) means the amount that a life insurer is liable to pay under a life insurance policy because the contingency against which the life insured is covered under the policy has occurred; subsections (2) to (5) expand on “the amount that a life insurer is liable to pay”:
 - (b) excludes a payment made by a life insurer on the transfer of some or all of its life insurance business:
 - (c) in the expression “claim arising”, does not have the meaning given to the word “claim” in paragraph (a) or (b).

Cash and non-cash benefits

- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1)(a), the amount that a life insurer is liable to pay includes—
- (a) a payment on the death of a life insured:
 - (b) a payment on maturity:
 - (c) a payment of a cash bonus:
 - (d) a payment on the surrender of a policy:
 - (e) an annuity payment:
 - (f) a benefit other than in cash.

Advance or amount in actuarial reserves

- (3) For the purposes of subsection (1)(a), the amount that a life insurer is liable to pay does not include—
- (a) an advance against the security of the policy; or
 - (b) a bonus or other discretionary amount added to the actuarial reserves.

Amount before certain subtractions

- (4) For the purposes of subsection (1)(a), the amount that a life insurer is liable to pay means the amount before the subtraction of the following amounts payable to the life insurer:
- (a) an advance against the security of the policy; and
 - (b) an unpaid premium for the policy; and
 - (c) interest on an amount referred to in paragraph (a) or (b).

Amount zero

- (5) For the purposes of subsection (1)(a), the amount that a life insurer is liable to pay may be zero.

Defined in this Act: actuarial reserves, amount, business, claim, interest, life insurance, life insurance policy, life insurance rules, life insured, life insurer, pay, premium

Section EY 7(1)(b): amended, on 1 July 2010, by section 187(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EY 8 Meaning of life insurance*Meaning*

- (1) Life insurance means insurance under which—
- (a) person A (the life insurer) is liable to provide person B (the policyholder) with a benefit described in subsection (2); and
 - (b) the life insurer is entitled to receive consideration in return, either from the policyholder or from some other person.

Benefits

- (2) The benefits are—
- (a) a benefit whose payment is contingent on the death of 1 or more human beings, including an annuity whose term is contingent on human life; or
 - (b) a benefit whose payment is contingent on the survival of 1 or more human beings to a date, or an age, specified as part of the insurance, including an annuity whose term is contingent on human life; or
 - (c) a benefit that is an annuity whose term is not contingent on human life, if the life insurer enters into the arrangement to provide the annuity as part of their business of providing life insurance.

Exclusion: death benefits provided under accident or medical insurance

- (3) Life insurance does not include accident or medical insurance under which—
- (a) 1 or more benefits are payable for the death of the person whose life is insured; and
 - (b) all the benefits referred to in paragraph (a) are—
 - (i) payable if the death is caused by a specified cause named in the policy; or
 - (ii) payable incidentally to the provision of accident or medical benefits, if the death is caused by a specified cause named in the policy.

Exclusion: death benefits provided by superannuation funds

- (4) Life insurance does not include an arrangement in which—
- (a) a superannuation fund is liable to pay, as a benefit to a beneficiary of the fund, a lump sum on—
 - (i) the death of 1 or more human beings specified in the trust deed; or
 - (ii) the survival of 1 or more human beings specified in the trust deed to a date, or an age, specified in the trust deed; and
 - (b) the lump sum is made up of—
 - (i) superannuation contributions made by or for the beneficiary; and
 - (ii) allocated investment earnings attributable to contributions made by or for the beneficiary; and
 - (iii) any other allocation from the profits of the superannuation fund attributable to contributions made by or for the beneficiary.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, business, life insurance, life insurer, pay, superannuation contribution, superannuation fund

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EY 8

EY 9 Meaning of life insurance policy

Life insurance policy means a policy to the extent to which it states the terms under which life insurance is covered.

Defined in this Act: life insurance, life insurance policy

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EY 9

EY 10 Meaning of life insurer*Meaning*

- (1) Life insurer means a person carrying on a business of providing life insurance.

Exclusion

- (2) A person carrying on a business of providing life insurance in an income year is treated as not carrying on a business of providing life insurance while the person has full reinsurance.

Inclusion

- (3) An association of persons, a body of persons, or a trustee is treated as carrying on a business of providing life insurance to the extent to which—
- (a) the association, body, or trustee provides life insurance; and
 - (b) the consideration for the provision is something other than natural love and affection.

Parties to policies treated as being unrelated

- (4) Every life insurance policy entered into by the association, body, or trustee as insurer is treated as entered into with an unrelated party, even if the life insurer and the policyholder are, for example,—
- (a) an association and a member of the association; or
 - (b) a trustee and a beneficiary of the trust.

Relationship with subpart HE

- (5) Subpart HE (Mutual associations) does not apply to the business of providing life insurance of the association, body, or trustee.

Defined in this Act: business, full reinsurance, income year, life insurance, life insurance policy, life insurer, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EY 10

EY 11 Superannuation schemes providing life insurance*Benefits treated as life insurance*

- (1) The provision by a trustee of a superannuation scheme of a benefit to a member or beneficiary of the scheme is treated as the provision of life insurance if the trustee provides life insurance to any member or beneficiary, unless subsection (2) applies.

Exemption for certain schemes

- (2) A trustee of a superannuation fund is treated as not carrying on the business of life insurance for an income year if the fund meets all the requirements of subsections (3) to (9) for the income year.

Fund must be registered

- (3) At all times in the income year, the fund must be registered as a superannuation scheme or a workplace savings scheme on the register of managed investment schemes (within the meaning of section 6(1) of the Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013).

Trustee cannot be a life insurance company

- (4) At all times in the income year, no trustee of the fund is a company carrying on the business of providing life insurance to which the Life Insurance Act 1908 applies.

Nature of funds

- (5) At all times in the income year, the fund must be 1 of the following kinds:
- (a) a fund established by an employer, or a group of employers who are associated, to provide benefits only to persons who are employees of, or related by employment to, such an employer, or to another associated employer who agrees after the fund's establishment to make contributions to it:
 - (b) a fund constituted under the Government Superannuation Fund Act 1956 that provides benefits only to persons who are employees of, or related by employment to, an employer who agrees or is required to contribute, or on whose behalf contributions are made, to the fund:
 - (c) a fund constituted under the National Provident Fund Act 1950, the National Provident Fund Restructuring Act 1990, or the National Provident Fund Restructuring Amendment Act 1997 that has as its trustee the Board of Trustees of the National Provident Fund.

Only certain fund beneficiaries allowed

- (6) At all times in the income year, each beneficiary of the fund must be—
- (a) a natural person that is an employee of or related by employment to an employer of the kind referred to in subsection (5)(a) or (b):
 - (b) a natural person that is a beneficiary of the fund, in the case of a fund referred to in subsection (5)(c) (which refers to funds related to the National Provident Fund):
 - (c) an employer of members of the fund, to the extent of the employer's contingent interest in a fund surplus.

Significant employer superannuation contributions required

- (7) At all times in the income year, each employer is required by the trust deed or Act constituting the fund to make or is making, or having made on their behalf, superannuation contributions to provide to a significant extent the fund benefits, except to the extent to which subsection (10) applies.

No avoidance effect

- (8) The fund must not have been established, and must not be being used at any time in the income year, in a way that has the effect of defeating the intent and application of the life insurance rules.

FMA approval required

- (9) The trustee of the fund must have applied to the FMA for, and the FMA must have granted, approval that the fund is for the income year one that complies with subsections (3) to (8).

Exemptions to requirements of subsection (7)

- (10) Subsection (7) does not apply if—
- (a) the FMA is satisfied that, for the income year, subsection (7) would have been complied with but for the fund assets exceeding the accrued benefits from the fund:
 - (b) the fund is one referred to in subsection (5)(c) (which refers to funds related to the National Provident Fund).

Limited superannuation contributions disregarded for subsection (7)

- (11) For the purposes of subsection (7), superannuation contributions that are merely nominal or that only meet the costs of administration and investment management are disregarded.

Notice by FMA

- (12) The FMA must notify the trustee of a superannuation fund as soon as practicable after determining that—
- (a) the fund complies with subsections (3) to (8) for an income year:
 - (b) the fund ceases to comply with the subsections for an income year.

Objection against FMA decision

- (13) A person dissatisfied with the FMA's decision may appeal against the decision to the High Court and has no right of objection under the Tax Administration Act 1994.
- (13A) A decision against which an appeal is lodged under subsection (13) continues in force unless the High Court orders otherwise.

Meaning of related by employment

- (14) In this section, a person is related by employment to an employer if the person is—
- (a) a former employee, in the case of deferred benefits relating to prior employment:

- (b) a relative or dependent of an employee, in the case of benefits arising from the employee's or former employee's membership in the fund.

Defined in this Act: apply, associated, company, employee, employer, income year, life insurance, life insurance rules, related by employment, relative, superannuation contribution, superannuation fund, superannuation scheme, trustee

EY 12 Meaning of life reinsurance*Meaning(1) Life reinsurance—

- (a) means a contract of insurance between a life insurer and another person (person C) under which the life insurer is secured, fully or partially, against a risk by person C:
- (b) does not include a contract that—
 - (i) secures against financial risk unless, in the contract, it is incidental to securing against life risk:
 - (ii) is, or is part of, a tax avoidance arrangement.

“Fully” and “partially”

- (1B) The words “fully” and “partially” describe the extent to which the life insurer is secured against life risk; they do not describe the term for which the reinsurance is provided.

*Full reinsurance(2) The life insurer has full reinsurance if all the following apply:

- (a) the life insurer offered or was offered or entered into a life insurance policy or policies,—
 - (i) in the case of a life insurer resident in New Zealand, as part of their business of providing life insurance; or
 - (ii) in the case of a life insurer not resident in New Zealand, as part of their New Zealand business; and
- (b) the life insurer holds a life reinsurance policy or policies covering every life insurance policy described in paragraph (a); and
- (c) the life insurer is fully secured against liability under the life insurance policy or policies by the life reinsurance policy or policies; and
- (d) the life insurer offered or was offered or entered into the life reinsurance policy or policies in New Zealand.

*Partial reinsurance(3) The life insurer has partial reinsurance if all the following apply:

- (a) the life insurer—
 - (i) holds a life reinsurance policy or policies fully securing them against liability for 1 or some, but not all, of the life insurance policies described in paragraph (b); or
 - (ii) holds a life reinsurance policy or policies for all the life insurance policies described in paragraph (b) but only partially securing them against liability; or

- (iii) holds a life reinsurance policy or policies partially securing them against liability for 1 or some, but not all, of the life insurance policies described in paragraph (b); and
- (b) the life insurer offered or was offered or entered into the life insurance policy or policies covered by the life reinsurance policy or policies,—
 - (i) in the case of a life insurer resident in New Zealand, as part of their business of providing life insurance; or
 - (ii) in the case of a life insurer not resident in New Zealand, as part of their New Zealand business; and
- (c) the life insurer offered or was offered or entered into the life reinsurance policy or policies in New Zealand.

Exclusion: financial arrangements and general insurance

- (4) To the extent to which a contract is a financial arrangement or is insurance that secures a life insurer against liability that arises from insurable events other than death or survival of a human being, that contract is not life reinsurance.

Other definitions

- (5) In this Act,— life financial reinsurance is a contract that may be life reinsurance under subsection (1)(a), but is not included under subsection (1)(b)

financial risk—

- (a) means risk, whether or not specific to a party to the relevant arrangement relating to risk, that is contingent on a valuation or disposal of financial arrangements, or contingent on profitability or creditworthiness, or contingent on a variable such as future expenditure:
- (b) does not include life risk

life reinsurer means a person in the position of person C.

EY 15 Policyholder base income: non-participation policies

What is included

- (1) For an income year, a life insurer's income is included as their policyholder base income if it—
- (a) relates to life insurance policies that are savings product policies and not profit participation policies; and
 - (b) does not relate to life risk components of premiums and claims; and
 - (c) is not a premium, or is a premium relating to income that is treated under subsection (5) as not relating to life risk components of premiums and claims; and
 - (d) is included in the amount of policyholder base income calculated under subsection (2) or (4).

Certain income: basis of apportionment

- (2) If an amount of income meets the requirements of subsection (1)(a) to (c), the amount of the income that is policyholder base income is calculated using the formula—

$$\begin{aligned} & (\text{investment} \times \text{average surrender value} \div \text{average savings assets}) \\ & + \text{de minimis amounts.} \end{aligned}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) investment is the amount of income that meets the requirements of subsection (1)(a) to (c), other than income included in the item de minimis amounts;
 - (b) average surrender value is, for the savings product policies to which the income relates, the average surrender value of the policies for the income year. The life insurer may determine an equitable and reasonable basis for the measurement of the average;
 - (c) average savings assets is, for the savings product policies to which the income relates, the average market value of assets held by the life insurer for the policies for the income year. The life insurer may determine an equitable and reasonable basis for the measurement of the average;
 - (d) de minimis amounts is the amount of income meeting the requirements of subsection (1)(a) to (c) that would be treated as relating to life risk components of premiums and life reinsurance claims in the absence of subsection (5).

More equitable or reasonable basis of apportionment

- (4) Despite subsections (2) and (3), for income included in the item investment in the formula in subsection (2), the life insurer may use a basis of apportionment that is different from the one described in subsections (2) and (3), if that basis results in an amount, actuarially determined, that is more equitable and reasonable than an amount determined using the basis described in subsections (2) and (3).

Treatment of de minimis life risk component amounts

- (5) An amount of income relating to a policy that, but for this subsection, is an amount related to the life risk of a premium or life reinsurance claim, is treated as not relating to the relevant life risk component for the purposes of subsection (1), if—
- (a) the life insurer has actuarially determined that the life risk is 1% or less of the premium or life reinsurance claim; and
 - (b) chooses to apply this subsection for the policy.

Defined in this Act: actuarially determined, amount, claim, income, income year, life insurance policy, life insurer, life reinsurance, life risk, life risk component, market value, premium, policyholder base income, profit participation policy, savings product policy, shareholder base income, surrender value

EY 16 Policyholder base allowable deductions: non-participation policies*What is included*

- (1) For an income year, a life insurer's deduction is included as their policyholder base allowable deduction if it—
- (a) relates to life insurance policies that are savings product policies and not profit participation policies; and

- (b) relates to income meeting the requirements of section EY 15(1)(a) to (c); and
- (c) is included in the amount of policyholder base allowable deduction calculated under subsection (2).

Basis of apportionment

- (2) If a deduction meets the requirements of subsection (1)(a) and (b), the amount of the deduction that is policyholder base allowable deduction is calculated using the basis for apportionment in—
 - (a) section EY 15(2) and (3) with necessary modifications; or
 - (b) section EY 15(4) with necessary modifications.

Defined in this Act: deduction, income year, life insurance policy, life insurer, policyholder base allowable deduction, profit participation policy

EY 16B Policyholder base allowable deductions: consideration for investment management services

For an income year and a class of policies that are savings product policies and not profit participation policies, a life insurer has a policyholder base allowable deduction equal to the amount that is—

- (a) credited to the shareholder base in the income year as consideration for services provided to policyholders in administering and managing funds intended for use in meeting future policyholder claims under the policies; and

- (b) not included in the policyholder base allowable deduction under section EY 16.

Defined in this Act: amount, class of policies, income year, life insurer, policyholder base allowable deduction, profit participation policy, savings product policy, shareholder base

Section EY 16B: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2015), on 30 March 2017, by section 83(1) (and see section 83(2) and (3)) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Profit participation policies

Heading: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 190(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EY 17 Policyholder base income: profit participation policies

What is included

- (1) For an income year, a life insurer has policyholder base income to the extent to which they have an amount for profit participation policies calculated using the formula—

$$\text{asset base gross income} \times (1 - \text{retained earnings average} \\ - \text{future shareholder transfers average}) + \text{net transfers.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (2) In the formula,—
- (a) asset base gross income is the amount of annual gross income that the life insurer would have for the policies' asset base, if—
- (i) the life insurer is treated as having no assets other than the asset base; and
 - (ii) amounts under sections EY 28 and EY 29 are ignored:
- (b) retained earnings average is an actuarially determined amount that is the average of the following 2 proportions:
- (i) the proportion of the value of the policies' asset base that is attributable to the life insurer's shareholder's retained earnings at the end of the year before the income year:
 - (ii) the proportion of the value of the policies' asset base that is attributable to the life insurer's shareholder's retained earnings at the end of the income year:
- (c) future shareholder transfers average is an actuarially determined amount that is the average of the following 2 proportions:
- (i) the proportion of the value of the policies' asset base that is attributable to the value, net of tax and used in the life insurer's financial accounts, of future transfers to the life insurer's shareholders for their portions of the future profits that are able to be supported by the supporting asset base at the beginning of the income year:

- (ii) the proportion of the value of the policies' asset base that is attributable to the value, net of tax and used in the life insurer's financial accounts, of future transfers to the life insurer's shareholders for their portions of the future profits that are able to be supported by the supporting asset base at the end of the income year:
- (d) net transfers is the amount transferred to the benefit of policyholders from shareholders in relation to profit participation policies.

Meaning of supporting asset base

- (3) Supporting asset base means the asset base for relevant policies excluding—
 - (a) the value of assets supporting the life insurer's policyholder unvested liabilities:
 - (b) the value of assets attributable to the life insurer's shareholders.

Defined in this Act: actuarially determined, amount, annual gross income, asset base, income year, life insurer, policyholder base income, profit participation policy, supporting asset base

EY 19 Shareholder base income: non-participation policies

What is included

- (1) For an income year, a life insurer's income is included as their shareholder base income if it relates to life insurance policies that are not profit participation policies, and it—
 - (a) relates to life risk components of premiums and claims, other than for annuities, and is not described in paragraphs (b) to (db):
 - (b) relates to fees and commissions:
 - (c) relates to the life risk component of life reinsurance claims:
 - (d) is income meeting the requirements of section EY 15(1)(a) to (c) that is not included as their policyholder base income under section EY 15:
 - (db) is income relating to annuities that would meet the requirements of section EY 15(1)(a) to (c) if the annuities were treated as being savings product policies:
 - (e) is not otherwise accounted for in this subpart, for the income year.

Treatment of de minimis life risk component amounts

- (2) An amount of income relating to a policy that, but for this subsection, is an amount related to the life risk of a premium or life reinsurance claim, is treated as not relating to the life risk component for the purposes of subsection (1), if—

- (a) the life insurer has actuarially determined that the life risk is 1% or less of the premium or life reinsurance claim; and
- (b) chooses to apply section EY 15(5) for the policy.

No double-counting

- (3) If an amount is included as shareholder base income under sections EY 23 to EY 27, it is not included under this section.

Defined in this Act: actuarially determined, amount, claim, income year, life insurer, life insurance policy, life reinsurance, life risk, life risk component, policyholder base income, premium, profit participation policy, shareholder base income

EY 19B Shareholder base income: consideration credited for investment management services

For an income year and a class of policies that are savings product policies and not profit participation policies, a life insurer has shareholder base income equal to the amount that is—

- (a) credited to the shareholder base in the income year as consideration for services provided to policyholders in administering and managing funds intended for use in meeting future policyholder claims under the policies; and
- (b) not included in the shareholder base income under section EY 19.

Defined in this Act: amount, class of policies, income year, life insurer, profit participation policy, savings product policy, shareholder base, shareholder base income

Section EY 19B: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2015), on 30 March 2017, by section 85(1) (and see section 85(2) and (3)) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

EY 20 Shareholder base allowable deductions: non-participation policies

What is included

- (1) For an income year, a life insurer's deduction is included as their shareholder base allowable deduction if it relates to life insurance policies that are not profit participation policies, and it—

- (a) relates to life risk components of premiums and claims, other than for annuities, and is not described in paragraphs (b) to (e):
- (b) relates to fees and commissions:
- (c) relates to the life risk component of life reinsurance premiums:
- (d) is a deduction that—
 - (i) relates to income that is included in the item investment in the formula in section EY 15(2) or meets the requirements of section EY 19(1)(db); and
 - (ii) is not included in the life insurer's policyholder base allowable deduction under section EY 16:
- (e) is a premium payback amount, and—
 - (i) section EY 19 applies or has applied to include the original premium as shareholder base income; and
 - (ii) section EY 30(7) does not apply or has not applied to calculate a transitional amount for the original premium:
- (f) is not otherwise accounted for in this subpart, for the income year.

No double-counting

- (2) If an amount is included as shareholder base allowable deduction under sections EY 23 to EY 27, it is not included under this section.

Defined in this Act: amount, claim, deduction, income year, life insurance policy, life insurer, life reinsurance, life risk component, policyholder base allowable deduction, premium, premium payback amount, profit participation policy, shareholder base allowable deduction, shareholder base income

EY 23 Reserving amounts for life insurers: non-participation policies

Reserves

- (1) This section and sections EY 24 to EY 27 apply to calculate, a life insurer's reserving amounts for life insurance policies, other than annuities, that have a life risk component and that are not profit participation policies.

Actuarial determination

- (2) All reserving amounts must be actuarially determined, for each class of policies that includes life insurance policies to which this section applies.

Positive and negative amounts: shareholder base income or shareholder base allowable deduction

- (3) If a reserving amount calculated under sections EY 24 to EY 27 is a positive amount, the life insurer has that amount as income included in their shareholder base income. If a reserving amount calculated under sections EY 24 to EY 27 is a negative amount, the life insurer has that amount as a deduction included in their shareholder base allowable deductions.

Which reserve can be used when?

- (4) For an income year and a class of policies, a life insurer has a reserving amount described in—
- (a) section EY 24, for outstanding claims reserves (the outstanding claims reserving amount):
 - (b) section EY 25, for premium smoothing reserves (the premium smoothing reserving amount) if the life insurer chooses to calculate a premium smoothing reserving amount and the PSR periods for policies in the class of policies begins, continues or ends in the income year:
 - (c) section EY 26, for unearned premium reserves (the unearned premium reserving amount), if the life insurer chooses to not calculate a premium smoothing reserving amount:
 - (d) section EY 27, for capital guarantee reserves (the capital guarantee reserving amount).

Choice

- (5) Despite subsection (4)(b) and (c), a life insurer may not change between calculating a premium smoothing reserving amount and an unearned premium reserving amount for a class of policies once the premium smoothing reserving amount is used for the class of policies. If a policy in a class of policies does not meet the relevant requirements described in subsection (6), then a life insurer has an unearned premium reserving amount for that class of policy.

Meaning of PSR period

- (6) PSR period means, for an income year and a policy in a class of policies, a period—
- (a) that is a year or more in length; and
 - (b) that is the income year or is a period that begins, continues, or ends in the income year and begins or ends in another income year, and
 - (c) for which—
 - (i) the amounts of the life risk components of premiums payable in the period are level or substantially level:

- (ii) there is a material mismatch between the timing of life risk and the timing of the life risk component of premiums payable in the period.

Defined in this Act: actuarially determined, amount, class of policies, deduction, income year, life insurance policy, life insurer, life risk, life risk component, premium, profit participation policy, PSR period, shareholder base allowable deduction, shareholder base income

Section EY 23: substituted, on 1 July 2010, by section 190(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EY 23(1): amended, on 30 March 2017 (applying for income years beginning after this date), by section 87(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section EY 23(2): amended, on 30 March 2017, by section 87(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section EY 23(4): amended, on 30 March 2017, by section 87(3) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section EY 23(6): replaced, on 30 March 2017, by section 87(4) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

EY 24 Outstanding claims reserving amount: non-participation policies not annuities

Calculation of reserving amount

- (1) For an income year (the current year), a life insurer has an outstanding claims reserving amount for a class of policies calculated using the formula—

$$\text{opening outstanding claims reserve} - \text{closing outstanding claims reserve}.$$

Definition of items in formula

- (2) In the formula in subsection (1),—
- (a) opening outstanding claims reserve is—
- (i) the amount of the life insurer's closing outstanding claims reserve for the class of policies, for the income year before the current year (the prior year); or
- (ii) if the life insurer has no closing outstanding claims reserve for the prior year, the amount that would be the outstanding claims reserve for the class of policies, using subsections (3) and (4) with necessary modifications, calculated at the end of the prior year, but using a basis consistent with the one that the insurer used for tax purposes in that prior year (for example, if IBNR liability was not accounted for, for tax purposes, in the prior year, the opening balance calculation does not take into account IBNR liability);
- (b) closing outstanding claims reserve is the amount of the life insurer's outstanding claims reserve calculated under subsections (3) and (4) for the class of policies at the end of the current year.

Outstanding claims reserve calculation

- (3) A life insurer's outstanding claims reserve is calculated for the relevant policies using the formula—life risk claims incurred + life risk claims reported + risk margin.

Definition of items in formula

- (4) In the formula in subsection (3),—
- (a) life risk claims incurred is the actuarially determined estimate of present values (gross) for the life risk components of claims not yet reported to the life insurer before the end of the current year, but the insured-against event has occurred. The life risk components must take into account the probability of the claims being paid, and future expenses for administering the claims, but the present value (gross) of relevant life reinsurance claims must be subtracted from the total:
- (b) life risk claims reported is the present values (gross) of the life risk components of claims reported but not yet paid. The life risk components must take into account the probability of the claims being paid, and future expenses for administering the claims, but the present values (gross) of relevant life reinsurance claims must be subtracted from the total:
- (c) risk margin is the appropriate margin for the life risk components of claims described in paragraph (a) or (b), to the extent to which the margin is actuarially determined, reflects the uncertainty of the estimates that arise from the use of the relevant best estimate assumptions, and is not already included in the life risk components of the claims.

Defined in this Act: amount, best estimate assumptions, claim, class of policies, income year, life insurer, life reinsurance, life risk, life risk component, present value (gross)

Section EY 24: substituted, on 1 July 2010, by section 190(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EY 24(2)(a)(ii): amended (with effect on 1 July 2010), on 21 December 2010, by section 58(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

Section EY 24(2)(a)(ii): amended (with effect on 1 July 2010), on 7 September 2010, by section 46(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

Section EY 24 list of defined terms mortality profit: repealed, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EY 25 Premium smoothing reserving amount: non-participation policies not annuities

Calculation of reserving amount

- (1) For an income year (the current year), a life insurer has a premium smoothing reserving amount for a class of policies, during the policies' PSR periods, calculated using the formula—opening premium smoothing reserve – closing premium smoothing reserve.

Definition of items in formula

- (2) In the formula,—
- (a) opening premium smoothing reserve is—
- (i) the amount of the life insurer's closing premium smoothing reserve for the class of policies, for the income year (the prior year) before the current year; or
- (ii) the amount that would be the premium smoothing reserve for the class of policies, using the principles in subsection (3) with necessary modifications, calculated at the end of the prior year, if the life insurer has no closing premium smoothing reserve for the prior year:
- (b) closing premium smoothing reserve is the amount of the life insurer's premium smoothing reserve calculated under the principles in subsection (3) for the class of policies, calculated at the end of the current year.

Reserving amount: calculation

- (3) For policies in a class of policies and for PSR periods of the policies, reserving amounts must be calculated using the principles—
- (a) for an income year, the sum of a reserving amount and the life risk component of premiums equals the expected life risk proportion; and
- (b) for PSR periods, the sum of a reserving amount and the life risk component of premiums equals the total life risk component of premiums recognised for financial reporting purposes; and
- (c) the amount in the premium smoothing reserve does not include amounts for policies for which all obligations have ceased.

Best estimate assumptions for PSR

- (4) Closing and opening premium smoothing reserve amounts must be actuarially determined, using best estimate assumptions.

Special grouping rule for the purposes of best estimate assumptions

- (5) For the purposes of determining premium smoothing reserve amounts, life insurance policies may be grouped together if the policies have in common,—
- (a) substantially the same contractual terms and conditions, other than their PSR periods; and
- (b) substantially the same assumptions for pricing their life risk.

Meaning of expected life risk proportion

- (6) In this section, expected life risk proportion means, for life insurance policies in a class of policies and an income year, the proportion of the premiums that fairly reflects the proportion of the life risk and the life risk renewal expenses, for the term of the policy, expected to be borne in the income year and is determined from the corresponding proportions calculated, for each PSR period that begins, continues, or ends in the income year,—

- (a) as at the beginning of the income year or the beginning of the PSR period, whichever is later; and
- (b) assuming that the policies still exist at the end of the income year or the end of the PSR period, whichever is earlier.

Defined in this Act: amount, actuarially determined, best estimate assumptions, class of policies, expected life risk proportion, income year, life insurance policy, life insurer, life risk, life risk component, premium, PSR period

Section EY 25: substituted, on 1 July 2010, by section 190(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EY 25(2)(a)(ii): amended (with effect on 1 July 2010), on 7 September 2010, by section 47(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

Section EY 25(3)(a): amended (with effect on 1 July 2010 and applying for the income year including 1 July 2010 and later income years), on 30 March 2017, by section 88(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section EY 25(3) heading: replaced, on 30 March 2017 (applying for income years beginning after this date), by section 88(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section EY 25(3): replaced, on 30 March 2017 (applying for income years beginning after this date), by section 88(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section EY 25(6): replaced, on 30 March 2017 (applying for income years beginning after this date), by section 88(3) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

EY 26 Unearned premium reserving amount: non-participation policies not annuities

Calculation of reserving amount

- (1) For an income year (the current year), a life insurer has an unearned premium reserving amount for a class of policies calculated using the formula—
$$\text{opening unearned premium reserve} - \text{closing unearned premium reserve.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (2) In the formula,—
 - (a) opening unearned premium reserve is—
 - (i) the amount of the life insurer's closing unearned premium reserve for the class of policies, for the income year before the current year; or
 - (ii) the amount that would be the unearned premium reserve for the class of policies, using subsection (3) with necessary modifications, calculated at the end of the prior year, if the life insurer has no closing unearned premium reserve for the income year before the current year:

- (b) closing unearned premium reserve is the amount of the life insurer's unearned premium reserve under subsection (3) for the class of policies, calculated at the end of the current year.

Unearned premium reserve

- (3) A life insurer's unearned premium reserve is the amount of the premium in the current year or a prior year, for the relevant policies, that relates to life risk components and relevant costs, in income years after the current year, but subtracting relevant life reinsurance premiums.

Defined in this Act: amount, class of policies, income year, life insurer, life reinsurance, life risk component

Section EY 26: substituted, on 1 July 2010, by section 190(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EY 26(2)(a)(ii): amended (with effect on 1 July 2010), on 7 September 2010, by section 48(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

EY 27 Capital guarantee reserving amount: non-participation policies not annuities

Calculation of reserving amount

- (1) For an income year (the current year), a life insurer has a reserving amount for a class of policies calculated using the formula—opening capital guarantee reserve – closing capital guarantee reserve.

Definition of items in formula

- (2) In the formula,—
- (a) opening capital guarantee reserve is—
- (i) the amount of the life insurer's closing capital guarantee reserve for the class of policies, for the income year before the current year; or
- (ii) the amount that would be the capital guarantee reserve for the class of policies, using subsection (3) with necessary modifications, calculated at the end of the income year before the current year, if the life insurer has no closing capital guarantee reserve for the income year before the current year:
- (b) closing capital guarantee reserve is the amount of the life insurer's capital guarantee reserve under subsection (3) for the class of policies, calculated at the end of the current year.

Capital guarantee reserve

- (3) A life insurer's capital guarantee reserve is the net amount of credits and debits on account of a risk-linked provision for future obligations in relation to a guarantee, for the class of policies, by the life insurer that capital invested will be returned or that a minimum return on capital will be paid.

Reflex in policyholder base

- (4) For the current year, if the reserving amount under this section is positive, the life insurer has that amount as a deduction included in their policyholder base allowable deductions. For the current year, if the reserving amount under this section is negative, the life insurer has that amount as income included in their policyholder base income.

Reflex in policyholder base: exception

- (5) Despite subsection (4), for the current year, the life insurer does not have that amount as income included in their policyholder base income to the extent to which the amount represents payment on account of lost capital in the policyholder base.

Defined in this Act: amount, class of policies, income year, life insurer, pay, policyholder base, policyholder base allowable deduction, policyholder base income

Section EY 27: substituted, on 1 July 2010, by section 190(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EY 27(2)(a)(ii): amended (with effect on 1 July 2010), on 7 September 2010, by section 49(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

Shareholder base other profit: profit participation policies

Heading: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 190(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EY 28 Shareholder base other profit: profit participation policies that are existing business

Calculation of income

- (1) For an income year, a life insurer has an amount, for profit participation policies that are existing business, that is calculated using the formula—

$$\text{other profit} \times \text{gate} \div (1 + \text{gate}).$$

Definition of items in formula

- (2) In the formula in subsection (1),—
- (a) other profit is the amount calculated for the income year under subsection (4):
- (b) gate is the proportion of a policyholder's share of profits from the asset base that is used in the formula that calculates a transfer to the benefit of the life insurer's shareholders from the profits of the asset base, as described in paragraph (a)(iii) of the definition of profit participation policy.

Formula: negative amounts and positive amounts

- (3) If, for an income year, the formula in subsection (1) calculates a positive amount, that amount is included as income in the life insurer's shareholder base income. If it is a negative amount, then that amount is included as a deduction in the life insurer's shareholder base allowable deductions.

Other profit

- (4) For the purposes of the item other profit in subsection (2), an amount is calculated, for the income year (the current year) for profit participation policies that are existing business, using the following formula:

$$\begin{aligned} & (\text{premiums} - \text{premiums estimate}) - (\text{claims} - \text{claims estimate}) \\ & \quad - (\text{closing liabilities} - \text{estimated closing liabilities}). \end{aligned}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (5) In the formula in subsection (4),—
- (a) premiums is the amount of premiums for policies for the current year, but subtracting relevant life reinsurance premiums:
 - (b) premiums estimate is the actuarially determined total amount of premiums that the life insurer expected, using best estimate assumptions, to receive in the current year for policies that were in force at the start of the current year or are first entered into in the current year, after subtracting the value, net of tax and used in the life insurer's financial accounts, of relevant life reinsurance premiums for the current year:
 - (c) claims is the amount of claims for the current year, after subtracting relevant life reinsurance claims:
 - (d) claims estimate is the actuarially determined total amount of claims that the life insurer expected, using best estimate assumptions, to receive in the current year for policies that were in force at the start of the current year or are first entered into in the current year, after subtracting the value, net of tax and used in the life insurer's financial accounts, of relevant life reinsurance claims for the current year:
 - (e) closing liabilities is the total amount, determined as at the end of the current year for policies that are in force at the end of the current year, of the policy liabilities including benefits that vest by the end of the current year:
 - (f) estimated closing liabilities is the total amount, estimated as at the beginning of the current year for policies that are in force at the start of the current year and expected to be in force at the end of the current year, of the policy liabilities including benefits that vest by the end of the current year.

Policy liability

- (6) For the purposes of subsection (5), the policy liability for a policy is an amount that is actuarially determined for the policy using best estimate assumptions and that—

- (a) is the total amount of future claims, future expenditure or loss, and future tax payments, reduced by the amount of future premiums; and
- (b) is obtained using present values that are net of tax and used in the life insurer's financial accounts and allowing for life reinsurance premiums and life reinsurance claims; and
- (c) does not include bonus declarations that vest after the current year.

Basis of best estimate assumptions in actuarially determining items

- (7) The same best estimate assumptions must be used for actuarially determining amounts under subsections (5) and (6). The assumptions may be appropriate for the start of the year, or for the end of the year, but once the choice is made between start of the year and end of the year, that basis may not be changed.

Meaning of existing business

- (8) For the purposes of this section and section EY 29, existing business means, for a policy, that it is—
- (a) issued on or before 30 June 2009:
 - (b) issued after 30 June 2009, if—
 - (i) issued on the same substantial and material terms, conditions, and bonus entitlements as profit participation policies that the life insurer issued on or before 30 June 2009, ignoring any annual increase in life insurance cover that is less than 10% or less than annual percentage change in the consumer price index:
 - (ii) issued as the result of conversion rights in a policy issued on or before 30 June 2009:
 - (c) the replacement of another policy (the replaced policy) caused by a life insurer being sold, or selling or transferring its rights and obligations under the replaced policy, and—
 - (i) the replaced policy was existing business under this subsection; and
 - (ii) the replaced policy and the policy have the same substantial and material terms, conditions, and bonus entitlements ignoring any annual increase in life insurance cover that is less than 10% or is less than the annual percentage change in the consumer price index.

Defined in this Act: actuarially determined, amount, best estimate assumptions, claim, existing business, income year, life insurance, life insurance policy, life insurer, life reinsurance, premium, profit participation policy

EY 29 Shareholder base other profit: profit participation policies that are new business

Calculation of income

- (1) For an income year, a life insurer has an amount, for profit participation policies that are new business, that is calculated using the formula—

$$(\text{other profit} \times \text{gate} \div (1 + \text{gate})) - \text{previous negative amount.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (2) In the formula in subsection (1),—
- (a) other profit is the amount calculated for the income year under subsections (5) to (9):

- (b) gate is the proportion of a policyholder's share of profits from the asset base that is used in the formula that calculates a transfer to the benefit of the life insurer's shareholders from the profits of the asset base, as described in paragraph (a)(iii) of the definition of profit participation policy:
- (c) previous negative amount is the amount from the previous year described in subsections (3) and (4).

Formula: negative amounts and positive amounts

- (3) If, for an income year, the formula in subsection (1) calculates a positive amount, that amount is included as income in the life insurer's shareholder base income. If it is a negative amount, then that amount is not included as a deduction in the life insurer's shareholder base allowable deductions, but see subsection (4).

Negative amounts: carry forward

- (4) The amount by which the amount calculated using the formula in subsection (1) is less than zero is carried forward to the next income year, to be used under this section in the formula as the item previous negative amount in that next year.

Other profit

- (5) For the purposes of the item other profit in subsection (2), an amount is calculated, for the income year (the current year) for profit participation policies that are new business, using the following formula:

$$\begin{aligned} & (\text{premiums} - \text{premiums estimate}) - (\text{claims} - \text{claims estimate}) \\ & \quad - (\text{closing liabilities} - \text{estimated closing liabilities}). \end{aligned}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (6) In the formula in subsection (5),—
 - (a) premiums is the amount of premiums for policies for the current year, but subtracting relevant life reinsurance premiums:
 - (b) premiums estimate is the amount of valuation premiums that the life insurer expected, using best estimate assumptions, to receive in the current year for policies that are in force at the start of the current year, or are first entered into in the current year, after subtracting the value, net of tax and used in the life insurer's financial accounts, of relevant life reinsurance premiums for the current year:
 - (c) claims is the amount of claims for the current year, after subtracting relevant life reinsurance claims:
 - (d) claims estimate is the actuarially determined amount of claims that the life insurer expected, using best estimate assumptions, to receive in the current year for policies that are in force at the start of the current year, or are first entered into in the current year, ignoring surrenders and after subtracting the value, net of tax and used in the life insurer's financial accounts, of relevant life reinsurance claims for the current year:

- (e) closing liabilities is the total amount, determined as at the end of the current year for policies that are in force at the end of the current year, of the policy liabilities including benefits that vest by the end of the current year:
- (f) estimated closing liabilities is the total amount, estimated as at the beginning of the current year for policies that are in force at the start of the current year and expected to be in force at the end of the current year, of the policy liabilities including benefits that vest by the end of the current year.

Meaning of valuation premiums

- (7) In this section, valuation premiums means the amount of premiums payable for a policy, actuarially determined by reference to the premium formula used when the policy was first entered into, or, if the premium formula is unavailable, by reference to mortality, expense, and other assumptions applicable to premiums for similar policies at the beginning of the income year in which the policy was first entered into. The valuation premiums must not include any allowance for future bonus declarations or future shareholder profits. The amount of the valuation premium for a policy must not change, unless significant changes to the policy justify changing the valuation premium.

Policy liability

- (8) For the purposes of subsection (6), the policy liability for a policy is an amount that is actuarially determined for the policy using best estimate assumptions and that—
 - (a) is the greater of the current surrender value of the policy and the amount that is the total amount of future mortality and maturity claims, future expenditure or loss, and future tax payments, reduced by the amount of future valuation premiums; and
 - (b) is obtained using present values that are net of tax and used in the life insurer's financial accounts and allowing for relevant life reinsurance premiums and relevant life reinsurance claims; and
 - (c) does not include bonus declarations that vest after the current year; and
 - (d) does not include an allowance for surrenders or the payment of surrender values.

Basis of best estimate assumptions in actuarially determining items

- (9) The same best estimate assumptions must be used for actuarially determining amounts under subsections (6), (7), and (8). The assumptions may be appropriate for the start of the year, or for the end of the year, but once the choice is made between start of the year and end of the year, the assumptions must not be changed.

Meaning of new business

- (10) For the purposes of this section, new business means, for a policy, that it is not existing business under section EY 28.

Defined in this Act: actuarially determined, amount, best estimate assumptions, claim, existing business, income year, life insurance policy, life insurer, life reinsurance, new business, premium, profit participation policy, valuation premiums

Transitional adjustments and annuities

Heading: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 190(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EY 30 Transitional adjustments: life risk

When this section applies: treatment of old and new policies

- (1) This section applies to life insurance policies described in subsections (2) to (4). For the purposes of this section, a policy (the new policy) is treated as being issued at the same time as another policy (the old policy) that the new policy replaces, if the replacement is caused by—

- (a) reinstating the old policy after either a lapse in premium payments or cancellation by the insured, if the new policy comes into force within 90 days of the lapse or cancellation, and the life insurer treats the new policy and old policy the same; or
- (b) the life insurer being sold, or the life insurer selling or transferring its rights and obligations under the old policy.

Separation of products into separate policies for purposes of transitional adjustment

- (1B) If a life insurance policy is comprised of 2 or more life insurance product types that are capable of being sold separately, and the life insurance cover amounts for each product type are separately identified in the policy, then each of the product types may be treated as a separate life insurance policy for the purposes of this section.

Life insurance policies

- (2) This section applies to a life insurance policy, excluding an annuity, a multiple life policy through which the life insurer can look to the individual lives covered, credit card repayment insurance, and a workplace group policy, if the policy is issued by the life insurer before the grandparenting start day or if the life insurer receives an application and a deposit in money before the grandparenting start day for the policy which is issued after that day, and—
- (a) the life insurer has no policyholder base income or policyholder base allowable deduction for the policy; and
 - (b) the policy meets the relevant requirements for the relevant period described in subsection (5)(a) to (c); and
 - (c) the amount of life insurance cover at the finish of a cover review period, or at the finish of any shorter period, if the life insurer chooses to measure within the cover review period, has not increased by more than the greater of 10% and the percentage change in the consumer price index for the relevant period, as compared to the amount of life insurance cover at the beginning of the relevant cover review period; and
 - (d) no new or replacement individual life is covered for a period beginning after the grandparenting start day.

Multiple life policies

- (3) This section applies to a multiple life policy through which the life insurer can look to either the individual lives covered or a relevant underlying life insurance policy, if the multiple life policy (the policy) is issued by the life insurer before the grandparenting start day or if the life insurer receives an application and a deposit in money before the grandparenting start day for the policy which is issued after that day, and—

- (a) the life insurer has no policyholder base income or policyholder base allowable deduction for the policy; and
- (b) the policy meets the requirements for the period described in subsection (5)(c), or, looking through to the individual lives covered or relevant underlying life insurance policy, to the extent to which the policy meets the requirements for the period described in subsection (5)(a), (b), or (c); and
- (c) to the extent to which, looking through to and in relation to the individual lives covered or relevant underlying policy,—
 - (i) the cover was first in place before the grandparenting start day;
 - (ii) the multiple life policy is a life reinsurance policy that was first in place before the grandparenting start day; and
- (d) the substantial and material terms and conditions of the policy do not change on or after the grandparenting start day; and
- (e) either—
 - (i) to the extent to which, looking through to the individual lives covered, the amount of life insurance cover at the finish of a cover review period, or at the finish of any shorter period if the life insurer chooses to measure within the cover review period, has not increased by more than the greater of 10% and the percentage change in the consumer price index for the relevant period, as compared to the amount of life insurance cover at the beginning of the relevant cover review period; or
 - (ii) in the case of a policy that is life reinsurance, to the extent to which a relevant underlying life insurance policy is, or would be ignoring section EY 10(2), one that this subsection or subsection (2) applies to.

Credit card repayment insurance and workplace group policies

- (4) This section applies to a credit card repayment insurance and to a workplace group policy, if the policy is issued by the life insurer before the grandparenting start day or if the life insurer receives an application and a deposit in money before the grandparenting start day, and—
 - (a) the life insurer has no policyholder base income or policyholder base allowable deduction for the policy; and
 - (b) the policy, if it is a credit card repayment insurance, meets the requirements for the period described in subsection (5)(c), or, if it is a workplace group policy, meets the requirements for the period described in subsection (5)(d); and
 - (c) [Repealed]

- (d) the substantial and material terms and conditions of the policy do not change on or after the grandparenting start day.

Requirements and periods for which this section applies

- (5) The following are the requirements and periods for the purposes of subsections (2)(b), (3)(b), and (4)(b), for a policy:
 - (a) for a life insurance policy for which only 1 premium is ever payable, or for which the amount of each premium is the same, the period that—
 - (i) starts on the grandparenting start day; and
 - (ii) finishes on the day that the policy ceases to be in force:
 - (b) for a life insurance policy for which the premium is set for a continuous period beginning before the grandparenting start day and for which the premium does not go up in that period (the continuous rate period) ignoring any increase directly linked to the percentage change in the consumer price index if that increase was the subject of agreement before the grandparenting start day, the period that starts on the grandparenting start day and ends on the later of the following:
 - (i) the day that is the last day of the continuous rate period:
 - (ii) whichever day described in paragraph (c)(i) and (ii) is earlier:
 - (c) for a life insurance policy for which the premium may vary each year, the period that starts on the grandparenting start day and ends on the earlier of the following:
 - (i) the day that the policy expires:
 - (ii) the day that is before the 5 years anniversary of the grandparenting start day:
 - (d) for a life insurance policy for which the premium may vary each year, the period that starts on the grandparenting start day and ends on the earlier of the following:
 - (i) the day that the policy expires:
 - (ii) the day that is before the 3 years anniversary of the grandparenting start day.

When this section does not apply: life insurance cover increase for whole cover review period

- (5B) This section does not apply for a policy for the whole of an income year if a cover review period finishes in the year and, for that cover review period, there has been an increase in the amount of life insurance cover as described in subsection (2)(c) or (3)(e) and the life insurer has not made an election for measuring within the cover review period under those subsections.

When this section does not apply: continuity

- (5C) This section does not apply for a policy for any period after this section has ceased to apply for the policy.

When this section does not apply: once-only opt out

- (6) This section does not apply to a class of policies after the life insurer irrevocably chooses in a notice received by the Commissioner that this section does not apply for the class.

Adjustment

- (7) A life insurer has an amount of shareholder base allowable deduction for a policy calculated using the following formula, to the extent to which this section applies for the relevant income year for the policy—premiums – total net reserving amounts – $(1.2 \times \text{expected death strain})$.

Definition of items in formula

- (8) In the formula,—
- (a) premiums is the life insurer's total premiums for the income year or part of the income year, as applicable, for the policy, but subtracting relevant life reinsurance premiums:
 - (b) total net reserving amounts is the total of reserving amounts for the income year or part of the income year, as applicable, for the policy, under section EY 25 or EY 26 (as applicable), but treating amounts that are shareholder base income as negative amounts, and amounts that are shareholder base allowable deductions as positive amounts:
 - (c) expected death strain is the amount calculated under the expected death strain formula (life) in accordance with sections EZ 53 to EZ 60 (which relate to the transitional adjustment for expected death strain) for the income year or part of the income year, as applicable, for the policy.

Negative amounts

- (9) If subsection (7) gives a negative amount for a policy, it is ignored for that policy.

Meaning of cover review period

- (10) Cover review period means—
- (a) the relevant income year, if the life insurer has not chosen a different period under paragraph (b):
 - (b) a period of a year that has a starting and anniversary date that the life insurer irrevocably chooses, for a class of policies, in a return of income for the tax year corresponding to the income year in which the grandparenting start day is included.

Meaning of credit card repayment insurance

- (11) Credit card repayment insurance means a life insurance policy, if the benefits of the cover are for the repayment of an outstanding debt balance of a credit card, or life reinsurance to the extent to which it reinsures such a life insurance policy.

Meaning of employer sponsored group policies

[Repealed]

- (12) [Repealed]

Meaning of grandparenting start day

- (13) Grandparenting start day means—
- (a) 1 July 2010, if paragraph (b) does not apply:
 - (b) a life insurer's early life regime application day, if the life insurer irrevocably chooses that day as their grandparenting start day.

Meaning of multiple life policy

- (14) Multiple life policy—
- (a) means a life insurance policy with multiple individuals' life insurance cover grouped under it, if the group of individuals is identified in the policy:
 - (b) does not include—
 - (i) a workplace group policy:
 - (ii) credit card repayment insurance:
 - (iii) life reinsurance to the extent to which it reinsures a workplace group policy or credit card repayment insurance.

Meaning of workplace group policy

- (15) Workplace group policy means a life insurance policy with multiple individuals' life insurance cover grouped under it, or life reinsurance to the extent to which it reinsures such a life insurance policy, if—
- (a) the individuals under the policy are—
 - (i) a group that includes, or consists of, a class of employees of an employer or group of employers, and may include 1 or more of the employers or directors of the employers, and the policy is sponsored by the employers or by the trustees of a superannuation scheme:
 - (ii) members of a union registered under the Employment Relations Act 2000 or members of an industry association, and the union or association is the sponsor of the policy:

- (iii) the spouses, civil union partners, and de facto partners of employees or members described in subparagraphs (i) and (ii); and
- (b) in the case of the sponsor being the employer,—
 - (i) the employer is required to offer an employee who is a member of the relevant class the opportunity to join the life insurance policy; and
 - (ii) the life insurer and the employer have entered an agreement about who pays the premium.

Defined in this Act: amount, apply, Commissioner, cover review period, credit card repayment insurance, class of policies, early life regime application day, grandparenting start day, group life master policy, income year, life insurance, life insurer, life reinsurance, notice, pay, policyholder base allowable deduction, policyholder base income, shareholder base allowable deduction, shareholder base income, workplace group policy

EY 31 Annuities*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a life insurance policy is an annuity.

Adjustment

- (2) For the income year, a life insurer has an amount calculated for the relevant annuities using the formula—closing actuarial reserves – $(0.99 \times \text{expected death strain})$.

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) closing actuarial reserves is the life insurer's closing actuarial reserves (active annuities), calculated in accordance with section EZ 59(2) (Meaning of actuarial reserves):
- (b) expected death strain is the amount calculated under the expected death strain formula (active annuities) in accordance with sections EZ 53 to EZ 60 (which relate to the transitional adjustment for expected death strain) for the income year.

Positive and negative amounts

- (4) If the formula in subsection (2) gives a positive amount, the life insurer has that amount as income included in their shareholder base income. If the formula in subsection (2) gives a negative amount, the life insurer has that amount as a deduction included in their shareholder base allowable deductions.

Defined in this Act: amount, income year, life insurance policy, life insurer, shareholder base allowable deduction, shareholder base income

Life insurance

EZ 1 Life insurers acquiring property before 1 April 1988

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when section DZ 2 (Life insurers acquiring property before 1 April 1988) applies.

Amount of deduction

- (2) The amount of the deduction is calculated using the formula—
$$(\text{specific liability} \div \text{total liability}) \times \text{property sum}.$$

Definition of items in formula

- (3) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (4) to (9).

Specific liability

- (4) Specific liability is the amount in the life insurer's total liability on the last day of the 1987–88 income year for the following matters covered by the life insurer's Life Insurance Fund:
 - (a) superannuation policies; and
 - (b) pre-1983 mortgage repayment insurance policies; and
 - (c) annuities that have been granted.

Total liability

- (5) Total liability is the life insurer's liability for life insurance policies on the last day of the 1987–88 income year.

Property sum

- (6) The property sum is calculated under whichever is relevant of subsections (7) to (9).

Property acquired before last day of 1982–83 income year

- (7) For property acquired on or before the last day of the 1982–83 income year, the property sum is calculated by subtracting the specified base cost for 1983 income year property from the market value of the property on 1 April 1988.

Property acquired after end of 1982–83 income year: not financial arrangement

- (8) For property acquired after the end of the 1982–83 income year that is not a financial arrangement, the property sum is calculated by subtracting the cost price or acquisition value of the property from the market value of the property on 1 April 1988.

Property acquired after end of 1982–83 income year: financial arrangement

- (9) For property acquired after the end of the 1982–83 income year that is a financial arrangement, the property sum is the base price adjustment for the arrangement, calculated as if the arrangement had matured on 1 April 1988 but using the formula in section EW 31 (Base price adjustment formula).

Timing of deduction

- (10) The life insurer is allowed the deduction in the income year in which they dispose of the property.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, financial arrangement, income year, Life Insurance Fund, life insurance policy, life insurer, property, specified base cost for 1983 income year property, superannuation policy

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EZ 1

EZ 2 Deductions for disposal of property: 1982–83 and 1989–90 income years

Deduction

- (1) For the purposes of this Act, for property to which both the following apply, the amount of the deduction is the market value of the property on the last day of the 1989–90 income year:
- (a) the property is land or buildings acquired on or before the last day of the 1989–90 income year; and
 - (b) the profit from the property's disposal on or before the last day of the 1989–90 income year, had it been disposed of then at a profit, would have been a capital profit or gain and not a profit on disposal of an investment subject to income tax under section 204 of the Income Tax Act 1976 (as that section was immediately before its repeal and substitution by section 13(1) of the Income Tax Amendment Act (No 2) 1990).

Deduction

- (2) For the purposes of this Act, for property to which both the following apply, the amount of the deduction is the specified base cost for 1983 income year property:
- (a) the property was acquired on or before the last day of the 1982–83 income year; and
 - (b) subsection (1) does not apply to the property.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, income year, property, specified base cost for 1983 income year property

Section EZ 2(2): amended, on 1 July 2010, by section 194(4) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Petroleum mining

EZ 3 Petroleum development expenditure from 1 October 1990 to 15 December 1991

Timing of deduction

- (1) Expenditure that is allowed as a deduction under section DZ 3 (Petroleum mining: development expenditure from 1 October 1990 to 15 December 1991) must be deducted in equal amounts over the 10 years starting with the later of—
 - (a) the income year in which commercial production starts; and
 - (b) the income year in which the expenditure is incurred.

Petroleum mining operations outside New Zealand

- (2) This section applies with any necessary modifications to a petroleum miner who undertakes petroleum mining operations that are—
 - (a) outside New Zealand and undertaken through a branch or a controlled foreign company; and
 - (b) substantially the same as the petroleum mining activities governed by this Act.

Partnership interests

- (3) For the purposes of this section, a partner is treated as having a share or interest in a petroleum permit or other property of a partnership to the extent of their income interest in the partnership.

Disposal of part of asset

- (4) For the purposes of this section, references to the disposal of an asset apply equally to the disposal of part of an asset.

Defined in this Act: amount, commercial production, controlled foreign company, deduction, dispose, income year, New Zealand, petroleum, petroleum miner, petroleum mining operations, petroleum permit

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EZ 3

Livestock

EZ 4 Valuation of livestock bailed or leased as at 2 September 1992

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) an owner of livestock valued a class of livestock for the 1991–92 income year under section 86 of the Income Tax Act 1976 (as that section was in force before its repeal by section 21 of the Income Tax Amendment Act (No 2) 1993); and
 - (b) either—

- (i) the livestock was, as at 2 September 1992, at the use of a person under a bailment, lease, or other agreement that the owner entered into on or before that date, or was, on or before that date, livestock that was subject to a binding contract to bail or lease the livestock to a person, or otherwise allow them to use the livestock; or
- (ii) the class of livestock was not one that the owner had on hand in the previous income year, but was a class that, as at 2 September 1992, was at the use of a person under a bailment, lease, or other agreement that the owner entered into on or before that date.

Rolling average value

- (2) The owner may value the livestock at a value equal to 70% of the rolling average value of that class of livestock.

When subsection (2) applies

- (3) Subsection (2) applies for the 1992–93 income year and any later income year in which the livestock continues to be bailed, leased, or otherwise used by the person under the bailment, lease, or other agreement.

Number of livestock valued

- (4) The number of specified livestock of a class that may be valued under this section is the number that is the least of—
 - (a) the number of livestock of the class bailed, leased, or otherwise used (or, for a binding contract entered into before 2 September 1992 but not yet applying, the number of livestock of that class provided for in the contract); and
 - (b) the number of livestock of the class bailed, leased, or otherwise used as at the end of the 1992–93 income year; and
 - (c) the lesser of the opening and closing number of stock of the class bailed, leased, or otherwise used in a later income year up to and including the income year in which the livestock is being valued.

Meaning of rolling average value

- (5) In this section, rolling average value, for an income year and a class of specified livestock, means one-third of the sum of the national average market values set for that income year and each of the 2 previous income years for livestock of that class.

Defined in this Act: class, income year, lease, national average market value, rolling average value, specified livestock

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EZ 4

EZ 5 Reduction: bloodstock not previously used for breeding in New Zealand: pre-1 August 2006

Bloodstock to which this section applies

- (1) This section applies to bloodstock that—

- (a) was not used for breeding in New Zealand before 16 December 1991; and
- (b) before a person (person A) acquired it, was not used for breeding in New Zealand by any other person, unless—
 - (i) the other person transferred the bloodstock to person A under a relationship agreement to which section FB 18 (Bloodstock) applies; or
 - (ii) the other person and person A were companies in the same wholly-owned group at the time person A acquired the bloodstock from the other person; and
- (c) section EC 39(1) or (2) (First income year in breeding business) applies to,—
 - (i) before 1 August 2006; or
 - (ii) for an income year ending on or after 1 August 2006, if a requirement of paragraphs (a) to (c) of section EC 39(1) or (2) is first met before 1 August 2006.

Stallion

- (2) For the purposes of sections EC 39 and EC 40 (which relate to bloodstock), the reduction applying to the value of a stallion is 25% of the cost price of the stallion unless person A chooses to value the stallion by the reducing value method.

Stallion valued by reducing value method

- (3) When person A chooses to value the stallion by the reducing value method, the reduction applying to the value of the stallion is 37.5% of its cost price in the first income year and 37.5% of its opening value in each later income year. Person A must give notice to the Commissioner of their election in their return of income for the first income year.

Broodmare when first used before 1 April 2001

- (4) For the purposes of sections EC 39 and EC 40, the reduction applying to the value of a broodmare is calculated using the formula—

$$1.25 \times \text{cost price of broodmare} \div (15 - \text{age of broodmare}).$$

Definition of item in formula

- (5) In the formula in subsection (4), age of broodmare is—
 - (a) 12 years of age; or
 - (b) the actual age in years, if the broodmare is 11 years of age or less at the end of the income year.

Broodmare when first used on or after 1 April 2001 but before 1 August 2006

- (6) For the purposes of sections EC 39 and EC 40, the reduction applying to the value of a broodmare to which section EC 39(2) applies is calculated using the formula—

$$1.25 \times \text{cost price of broodmare} \div (11 - \text{age of broodmare}).$$

Definition of item in formula

- (7) In the formula in subsection (6), age of broodmare is—
- (a) 8 years of age; or
 - (b) the actual age in years, if the broodmare is 7 years of age or less at the end of the income year.

Defined in this Act: bloodstock, broodmare, Commissioner, company, cost price, income year, New Zealand, notice, relationship agreement, return of income, stallion, wholly-owned group, year

Section EZ 5(1)(b)(i): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 24 February 2016, by section 156(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section EZ 5 list of defined terms matrimonial agreement: repealed (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 24 February 2016, by section 156(2)(a) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section EZ 5 list of defined terms relationship agreement: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 24 February 2016, by section 156(2)(b) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EZ 6 Reduction: broodmare previously used for breeding in New Zealand: pre-1 August 2006

Broodmare to which this section applies

- (1) This section applies to a broodmare that section EC 39(1) or (2) (First income year in breeding business) applies to,—
- (a) before 1 August 2006; or
 - (b) for an income year ending on or after 1 August 2006, if a requirement of paragraphs (a) to (c) of section EC 39(1) or (2) is first met before 1 August 2006.

Broodmare when first used before 1 April 2001

- (2) For the purposes of sections EC 39 and EC 40 (which relate to bloodstock), the reduction applying to the value of a broodmare to which section EC 39(1) applies and sections EC 41 (Reduction: bloodstock not previously used for breeding in New Zealand) and EZ 5 do not apply is calculated using the formula—

$$\text{cost price of broodmare} \div (15 - \text{age of broodmare}).$$

Definition of item in formula

- (3) In the formula in subsection (2), age of broodmare is—
- (a) 12 years of age; or

- (b) the actual age in years, if the broodmare is 11 years of age or less at the end of the income year.

Broodmare when first used on or after 1 April 2001 but before 1 August 2006

- (4) For the purposes of sections EC 39 and EC 40, the reduction applying to the value of a broodmare to which section EC 39(2) applies and sections EC 41 and EZ 5 do not apply is calculated using the formula—cost price of broodmare ÷ (11 – age of broodmare).

Definition of item in formula

- (5) In the formula in subsection (4), age of broodmare is—
- (a) 8 years of age; or
- (b) the actual age in years, if the broodmare is 7 years of age or less at the end of the income year.

Defined in this Act: broodmare, cost price, income year, year

Patent rights

EZ 7 Acquiring patent rights before 1 April 1993

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when section DZ 8 (Acquiring patent rights before 1 April 1993) applies.

Amount of deduction

- (2) The amount of the deduction is the expenditure that the person has incurred in acquiring the patent rights.

Amount when patent rights expired or disposed of

- (3) If, before the expiry of the patent rights, the rights have come to an end or have been disposed of, the person is allowed a deduction of an amount that bears to the total sum of the expenditure on the acquisition of the rights the same proportion as the unexpired term of the rights when they came to an end or were disposed of bears to their unexpired term at the date of their acquisition. An amount that the person has otherwise been allowed as a deduction is not included.

Timing of deduction: subsection (2)

- (4) The deduction referred to in subsection (2) is allocated to the income years in relation to which the term of the patent rights that is unexpired at the date of acquisition applies.

Timing of deduction: subsection (3)

- (5) The deduction referred to in subsection (3) is allocated to the income year in which the rights have come to an end or been disposed of.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, income year, patent rights

Section EZ 7(1): amended (with effect on 1 April 2015 and applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 242(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section EZ 7(2): amended (with effect on 1 April 2015 and applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 242(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section EZ 7(3): amended (with effect on 1 April 2015 and applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 242(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section EZ 7(4): amended (with effect on 1 April 2015 and applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 242(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Leases of landEZ 8 Premium paid on land leased before 1 April 1993When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when section DZ 9 (Premium paid on land leased before 1 April 1993) applies.

Amount of deduction

- (2) The amount of the deduction is the premium paid on the grant or renewal of the lease. If person A does not use the land for the whole of a tax year, the amount of the deduction is reduced proportionately.

Amount when lease or renewal granted to another person

- (3) If the lease or the renewal of the lease is granted to another person, the deduction must not be more than the amount of the premium paid by person A on the acquisition of the lease.

Timing of deduction

- (4) The deduction is allocated evenly to the income years in relation to which the term of the lease applies.

Meaning of term of the lease

- (5) In this section, term of the lease, for a lease of indefinite duration, means the minimum period it has to run.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, income year, lease, pay, premium, tax year, term of the lease

Depreciation

EZ 9 Pool method for items accounted for by globo method for 1992–93 income year

If a person chooses the pool method for an item of property of a kind described in section EE 66(3)(c) (Meaning of poolable property), they must also choose to treat as a single pool all such items of property they still own that they accounted for at the end of their 1992–93 income year within the same globo account.

Defined in this Act: income year, pool, pool method

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EZ 8

EZ 10 Pool items accounted for by globo method for 1992–93 income year

Limit on amount of income

- (1) If a person's pool consists solely of items of depreciable property accounted for at the end of the person's 1992–93 income year using, with the Commissioner's permission, the globo accounting method, the amount of income under section EE 22(5)(a) (Cases affecting pool) is no more than the amount calculated using the formula—depreciation allowed – income.

Definition of items in formula

- (2) In the formula,—
- (a) depreciation allowed is the total of deductions for amounts of depreciation loss that the person has been allowed in all earlier income years for all items in the pool, including amounts allowed before the person's 1993–94 income year under the globo accounting method:
- (b) income is all amounts of income under section EE 22(5)(a) in all previous income years.

Defined in this Act: amount, Commissioner, depreciable property, depreciation loss, income year, pool

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EZ 9

EZ 11 Amounts of depreciation recovery income and depreciation loss for part business use up to 2004–05 income year

For the purposes of sections EE 49(1)(b)(ii) and EE 50(5)(b)(ii) (which relate to depreciation for partial income-producing use), the item is an item of property to which 1 or more of the following applies:

- (a) the item is, at any time during the period the person owns it, subject to section FB 7 of the Income Tax Act 2004:
- (b) the item is, at any time during the period the person owns it, subject to section EG 2(1)(d) or (e) of the Income Tax Act 1994:

- (c) the item is, at any time during the period the person owns it, subject to section 108A(1)(d) or (e) of the Income Tax Act 1976:
- (d) the item was, in the 1992–93 income year or an earlier income year, an item that the person did not use wholly in deriving assessable income or carrying on a business for the purpose of deriving assessable income and for which, consequently, the person was allowed a smaller deduction for depreciation under section 108 of the Income Tax Act 1976 than they would have been allowed if they had used the item wholly for 1 of those purposes.

Defined in this Act: assessable income, business, income year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EZ 10

EZ 12 Amount of depreciation loss for item acquired from associated person on or before 23 September 1997

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when, on or before 23 September 1997, a person (person A) acquires an item from an associated person entitled to a deduction for an amount of depreciation loss for it.

Exclusions

- (2) This section does not apply—
 - (a) if the item is acquired under a relationship agreement in circumstances to which section FB 21 (Depreciable property) applies; or
 - (b) if the item is listed in schedule 14 (Depreciable intangible property) and the price that person A pays is income of the associated person; or
 - (c) if the item is not listed in schedule 14 and the Commissioner is of the opinion that the circumstances are such that a person should be allowed a deduction for an amount of depreciation loss for the item based on the actual price or other consideration given for it.

No greater amount of depreciation loss

- (3) Whether or not the associated person has been allowed a deduction for an amount of depreciation loss, person A does not have a greater amount of depreciation loss for the item than that which the associated person would have had if the associated person had kept the item.

Amount of depreciation loss dealt with under section EE 48

- (4) If the associated person has an amount of depreciation loss that has been dealt with under section EE 48 (Effect of disposal or event), person A has an amount of depreciation loss for the item based on the total of—
 - (a) all amounts dealt with under section EE 48; and
 - (b) the depreciated value of the item immediately before person A acquired it.

When subsection (6) applies and does not apply

- (5) Subsection (6) applies when, on or before 23 September 1997, the holder of management rights created under the Radiocommunications Act 1989 grants a licence right under that Act to an associated person. However, it does not apply when the Crown acting by and through the Secretary of Commerce is named as the manager under section 11(1) of the Radiocommunications Act 1989.

Licence right price

- (6) The price of the licence right is treated as being zero for the purposes of sub-part EE (Depreciation).

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, Commissioner, depreciation loss, pay, relationship agreement

EZ 13 Annual rate for item acquired on or after 1 April 1993 and before end of person's 1994–95 income year

What this section is about

- (1) This section is about the annual rate that applies to an item of depreciable property that a person acquires before the end of their 1994–95 income year (not including fixed life intangible property or excluded depreciable property, for which rates are set in sections EE 33 (Annual rate for fixed life intangible property) and EZ 15 respectively).

Rate

- (2) The rate is—
- (a) the item's economic rate, if the item is not a building that has an economic rate or provisional rate of more than 0% due to an estimated useful life of 50 years or more; or
 - (b) the pre-1993 depreciation rate described in section EZ 14, if the person chooses under that section; or
 - (c) 0%, for a building that has an economic rate or provisional rate of more than 0% due to an estimated useful life of 50 years or more.

Defined in this Act: annual rate, building, depreciable property, economic rate, estimated useful life, excluded depreciable property, fixed life intangible property, income year, provisional rate

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EZ 12

Section EZ 13(2) heading: substituted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for the 2011–12 and later income years), by section 85(1) of the Taxation (Budget Measures) Act 2010 (2010 No 27).

Section EZ 13(2): substituted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for the 2011–12 and later income years), by section 85(1) of the Taxation (Budget Measures) Act 2010 (2010 No 27).

Section EZ 13 list of defined terms provisional rate: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for the 2011–12 and later income years), by section 85(2) of the Taxation (Budget Measures) Act 2010 (2010 No 27).

EZ 14 Pre-1993 depreciation rate

Scope of election

- (1) A person may choose the pre-1993 depreciation rate for all items, or any item, that they acquire before the end of their 1994–95 income year excluding buildings that have an economic rate or provisional rate of more than 0% due to an estimated useful life of 50 years or more.

How election made

- (2) The election is made by applying the pre-1993 depreciation rate for the item to the item in the person's return of income for the income year for which the election is made.

Election unchangeable

- (3) The election must not be changed for the income year for which it is made.

Moving from diminishing value to straight-line and vice versa

- (4) A person who chooses the pre-1993 depreciation rate has the following choices:
 - (a) if the rate is a diminishing value rate, the person may instead use the straight-line rate by—
 - (i) rounding the diminishing value rate to the nearest rate specified in schedule 10, column 1 (Straight-line equivalents of diminishing value rates of depreciation); and
 - (ii) taking the equivalent straight-line rate specified in column 2 of the schedule; or
 - (b) if the rate is a straight-line rate, the person may instead use the diminishing value rate by—
 - (i) rounding the straight-line rate to the nearest rate specified in schedule 10, column 2; and
 - (ii) taking the equivalent diminishing value rate specified in column 1 of the schedule.

Pre-1993 depreciation rate

- (5) The pre-1993 depreciation rate is the rate calculated using the formula—section 108 rate + section 108A rate + section 113A rate.

Definition of items in formula

- (6) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (7) to (9).

Section 108 rate

- (7) Section 108 rate is the rate of depreciation that the Commissioner allowed persons with a standard balance date to use for the 1992–93 tax year to calculate a deduction for depreciation under section 108 of the Income Tax Act 1976, as in force for the 1992–93 tax year, for property of the same kind as the item.

Section 108A rate

- (8) Section 108A rate is the rate of additional deduction under section 108A of the Income Tax Act 1976, as in force for the 1992–93 tax year, for which the item was eligible for the 1992–93 tax year.

Section 113A rate

- (9) Section 113A rate is the rate of supplementary deduction under section 113A of the Income Tax Act 1976 for which the item was eligible for the 1992–93 tax year.

Defined in this Act: building, Commissioner, diminishing value rate, economic rate, estimated useful life, income year, provisional rate, return of income, standard balance date, straight-line rate, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EZ 13

Section EZ 14(1): amended, on 1 April 2011 (applying for the 2011–12 and later income years), by section 86(1) of the Taxation (Budget Measures) Act 2010 (2010 No 27).

Section EZ 14 list of defined terms building: inserted (with effect on 30 July 2009), on 28 May 2010, by section 84 of the Taxation (Budget Measures) Act 2010 (2010 No 27).

Section EZ 14 list of defined terms economic rate: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for the 2011–12 and later income years), by section 86(2) of the Taxation (Budget Measures) Act 2010 (2010 No 27).

Section EZ 14 list of defined terms estimated useful life: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for the 2011–12 and later income years), by section 86(2) of the Taxation (Budget Measures) Act 2010 (2010 No 27).

Section EZ 14 list of defined terms provisional rate: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for the 2011–12 and later income years), by section 86(2) of the Taxation (Budget Measures) Act 2010 (2010 No 27).

EZ 15 Annual rate for excluded depreciable property: 1992–93 tax year

What this section is about

- (1) This section is about the annual rate that applies to an item of excluded depreciable property.

Rate

- (2) The rate is the section 108 rate, without adding the section 108A rate or the other sections rate. The rates referred to in this subsection are described in subsections (3) to (5).

Section 108 rate

- (3) Section 108 rate means the rate of depreciation that the Commissioner allowed persons with a standard balance date to use for the 1992–93 tax year to calculate a deduction for depreciation under section 108 of the Income Tax Act 1976, as in force for the 1992–93 tax year, for property of the same kind as the item.

Section 108A rate

- (4) Section 108A rate means the rate of additional deduction under section 108A of the Income Tax Act 1976, as in force for the 1992–93 tax year, for which the item was eligible for the 1992–93 tax year.

Other sections rate

- (5) Other sections rate means a rate of additional or supplementary deduction under section 113A or any other provision of the Income Tax Act 1976 for which the item was eligible for the 1992–93 tax year.

Amount of depreciation loss under any other provision

- (6) If a person has an additional amount of depreciation loss for an income year for an item of excluded depreciable property under section EZ 16 or EZ 17 or any other provision of this Act,—
- (a) the rate applicable to the item under subsection (2) may be adjusted to incorporate the additional amount of depreciation loss in a manner prescribed or allowed by the Commissioner; and
 - (b) when an adjusted rate is applied to the item, the person does not have a separate amount of depreciation loss for the item under section EZ 16 or EZ 17 or the other provision.

Changing rate

- (7) A person applying the rate in subsection (2) has the following choices:
- (a) if the rate is a diminishing value rate, the person may instead use the straight-line rate by—
 - (i) rounding the diminishing value rate to the nearest rate specified in schedule 10, column 1 (Straight-line equivalents of diminishing value rates of depreciation); and
 - (ii) taking the equivalent straight-line rate specified in column 2 of the schedule; or
 - (b) if the rate is a straight-line rate, the person may instead use the diminishing value rate by—
 - (i) rounding the straight-line rate to the nearest rate specified in schedule 10, column 2; and
 - (ii) taking the equivalent diminishing value rate specified in column 1 of the schedule.

Defined in this Act: annual rate, Commissioner, depreciation loss, diminishing value rate, excluded depreciable property, prescribed, standard balance date, straight-line rate, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EZ 14

EZ 16 Amount of depreciation loss for plant or machinery additional to section EZ 15 amount

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person carrying on a business in New Zealand incurs, wholly for the purpose of the business, capital expenditure in acquiring, installing, or extending plant or machinery that—
 - (a) is excluded depreciable property; and
 - (b) is—
 - (i) plant or machinery that is normally in operation for an average of at least 16 hours each working day and is not normally in operation for 24 hours each working day;
 - (ii) plant or machinery that is normally in operation for 24 hours each working day.

Exclusions

- (2) This section does not apply to—
 - (a) aluminium smelting plant or machinery;
 - (b) cars;
 - (c) petroleum refining plant or machinery;
 - (d) ships, aircraft, or hovercraft;
 - (e) plant or machinery for which a deduction by way of a fixed rate was denied under section 108 of the Income Tax Act 1976 for the 1992–93 income year or an earlier relevant income year;
 - (f) plant or machinery for which the Commissioner did not prescribe a differential rate for more than 1 shift operation when determining under section 108 of the Income Tax Act 1976 the rate of depreciation for the 1992–93 income year or an earlier relevant income year.

Additional amount of depreciation loss

- (3) The person has an amount of depreciation loss for the plant or machinery under this section in addition to any amounts of depreciation loss that they have for the plant or machinery under section EZ 15.

Relevant income years

- (4) The person has the additional amount of depreciation loss in the first, second, third, fourth, and fifth income years in which the plant or machinery is used in deriving assessable income.

Rate

- (5) The rate of the additional amount of depreciation loss is,—
 - (a) for plant or machinery described in subsection (1)(b)(i), 3% of the diminishing value of the plant or machinery in each income year;

- (b) for plant or machinery described in subsection (1)(b)(ii), 6% of the diminishing value of the plant or machinery in each income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, assessable income, business, car, Commissioner, depreciation loss, excluded depreciable property, income year, New Zealand, petroleum, working day

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EZ 15

EZ 17 Additional amount of depreciation loss: between 16 December 1991 and 1 April 1994

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person incurs expenditure of the kind described in subsection (2) in—
- (a) the acquisition or installation of a qualifying asset; or
 - (b) the making of a qualifying improvement to an item the person owns.

Expenditure described

- (2) The expenditure is expenditure of a capital nature, excluding any amount of input tax applying to the supply of the qualifying asset or qualifying improvement to the person.

Additional amount of depreciation loss

- (3) The person has an amount of depreciation loss for the asset or item under this section in addition to any amount of depreciation loss they have for it under subpart EE (Depreciation) and section EZ 16. This subsection is overridden by section EE 48(2) (Effect of disposal or event).

Amount

- (4) The additional amount of depreciation loss for an income year is 25% of the lesser of—
- (a) the amount of depreciation loss that the person has under subpart EE and section EZ 16 for the asset or item and for the income year; and
 - (b) the amount of depreciation loss that the person would have had under subpart EE and section EZ 16 for the asset or item and the income year had its value been equal to its qualifying capital value.

Defined in this Act: acquire, amount, depreciation loss, income year, qualifying capital value, qualifying asset, qualifying improvement

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EZ 16

EZ 18 Section EZ 17 amount of depreciation loss when items transferred between companies in wholly-owned group before 1 April 1993

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when, before 1 April 1993, a company in a wholly-owned group of companies disposes of a qualifying asset, or an item to which the company has made a qualifying improvement, to another company in the same wholly-owned group.

Transferee has amount of depreciation loss

- (2) The transferee company has an amount of depreciation loss under section EZ 17 for the period after the disposal as if the transferee company were the same person as the transferor company.

Amount

- (3) The amount of depreciation loss that the transferor company has under section EZ 17 for the asset or item for the income year in which the disposal occurs must be subtracted when the amount of depreciation loss that the transferee company has under section EZ 17 for the income year is calculated.

How definitions affected

- (4) This section applies despite any limitations in the definitions of new asset, New Zealand-new asset, qualifying asset, qualifying capital value, and qualifying improvement as to the identity of the person for whom an asset or item or improvement will be treated as a qualifying asset or qualifying improvement.

Defined in this Act: amount, company, depreciation loss, dispose, income year, new asset, New Zealand-new asset, qualifying asset, qualifying capital value, qualifying improvement, wholly-owned group of companies

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EZ 17

EZ 19 Section EZ 17 amount of depreciation loss when person previously exempt from tax acquires item

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person who has derived nothing but exempt income—
- (a) starts in an income year to derive income that is not exempt income; and
 - (b) would have had an amount of depreciation loss under section EZ 17 for an item and an income year if the person had been deriving income that was not exempt income at the time they acquired the item to which section EZ 17 applies or made a qualifying improvement to the item to which section EZ 17 applies.

How qualifying capital value determined

- (2) The item's qualifying capital value is determined as if the person had had an amount of depreciation loss for the period during which they derived nothing but exempt income.

Defined in this Act: amount, depreciation loss, exempt income, income, income year, qualifying capital value, qualifying improvement

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EZ 18

EZ 20 Adjusted tax value for software acquired before 1 April 1993

What this section applies to

- (1) This section applies to any of the following items for the acquisition of which a person was allowed a deduction before 1 April 1993:
 - (a) the copyright in software;
 - (b) the right to use the copyright in software;
 - (c) the right to use software.

Meaning of adjusted tax value

- (2) The adjusted tax value of the item is its cost to the person minus all deductions that the person was allowed for it.

Defined in this Act: acquire, adjusted tax value

EZ 21 Sections EE 45 and EE 47: permanent removal: allowance before 1 April 1995

Section EE 45(11)

- (1) For the purposes of section EE 45(11) (Consideration for purposes of section EE 44), the consideration that a person derives from the event described in subsection (2) is the item's market value. Two qualifications are—
 - (a) if the person makes a taxable supply, "market value" means the market value minus any goods and services tax (GST) that would be charged on the supply; and
 - (b) this subsection does not apply to a transfer under a relationship agreement.

Section EE 47(10)

- (2) For the purposes of section EE 47(10) (Events for purposes of section EE 44), the ninth event is the cessation of use in New Zealand, and the taking out of New Zealand for use outside New Zealand, of an item of property for which a first-year allowance has been granted under section 112(1) to (7) of the Income Tax Act 1976, except when the item—
 - (a) has been taken out of New Zealand temporarily; and
 - (b) will, after its return to New Zealand, be used in or for the purpose of a business in New Zealand.

Defined in this Act: business, GST, New Zealand, relationship agreement, taxable supply

EZ 22 Base value and total deductions in section EE 56: before 1 April 1995

Base value in section EE 56 when section 108 of the Income Tax Act 1976 applies

- (1) For the purposes of section EE 56 (Formula), this subsection applies when a person could have been allowed a deduction for depreciation for an item under section 108 of the Income Tax Act 1976 for the 1992–93 income year and they have owned the item continuously since the 1992–93 income year. Base value is the amount at which the item was recorded in the person’s accounts for taxation purposes for the 1992–93 income year.

Section EE 57(3)(d)

- (2) For the purposes of section EE 57(3)(d) (Base value in section EE 56 when none of sections EE 58, EE 59, and EZ 22(1) applies),—
 - (a) the expenditure is expenditure for which a person has been allowed a deduction for depreciation under any of sections 108 to 108N or section 113A of the Income Tax Act 1976; or
 - (b) the expenditure is expenditure for which a person has been allowed a deduction for depreciation under any other provision of the Income Tax Act 1976.

Section EE 58(1)(e)(ii)

- (3) For the purposes of section EE 58(1)(e)(ii) (Base value in section EE 56 when no previous deduction), the item is one for which the person could not have been allowed a depreciation deduction under section 108 of the Income Tax Act 1976 for the 1992–93 income year.

Section EE 60(2)(c)

- (4) For the purposes of section EE 60(2)(c) (Total deductions in section EE 56), the provision is section 117(5) of the Income Tax Act 1976.

Defined in this Act: amount, income year

EZ 23 Economic rate for plant or equipment acquired before 1 April 2005 and buildings acquired before 19 May 2005

What this section is about

- (1) This section is about setting the economic depreciation rate that applies to items of a kind of depreciable property if—
 - (a) the kind of depreciable property is not fixed life intangible property, or excluded depreciable property, for which an economic rate cannot be set; and
 - (b) the items are—
 - (i) plant or equipment acquired before 1 April 2005;
 - (ii) buildings acquired before 19 May 2005;

- (iii) buildings acquired on or after 19 May 2005, as relationship property or from a company in the same wholly-owned group of companies, from a person who applied to the item an economic depreciation rate set under this section or a corresponding provision.

Rate set by Commissioner

- (2) The Commissioner sets the rate from time to time by—
 - (a) following the procedure set out in this section; and
 - (b) issuing a determination under section 91AAF of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Procedure for setting economic rate

- (3) To set the diminishing value rate for a kind of item of depreciable property, the Commissioner—
 - (a) gets a figure by applying the formula in subsection (4) to items of that kind; and
 - (b) rounds the figure up or down to the nearest rate specified in schedule 12, column 1 (Old banded rates of depreciation); and
 - (c) sets the same rate for some or all of the kinds of items of depreciable property that are similar to one another, if the Commissioner thinks it is appropriate to do so having regard to—
 - (i) the rate calculated for each kind; and
 - (ii) the reduction in compliance costs that is likely to be achieved.

Formula

- (4) The formula is—

$$1 - ((\text{residual value} \div \text{cost})^{(1 \div \text{estimated useful life})}).$$

Definition of items in formula

- (5) In the formula,—
 - (a) residual value is the greater of—
 - (i) estimated residual market value, which is defined in section EE 67 (Other definitions);
 - (ii) 13.5% of cost:
 - (b) cost is the cost of items of the kind to which the formula is applied:
 - (c) estimated useful life is defined in section EE 63 (Meaning of estimated useful life).

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, depreciable property, diminishing value rate, economic rate, estimated residual market value, estimated useful life, excluded depreciable property, fixed life intangible property

EZ 23BA Aircraft acquired before 2017–18 income year: adjusted tax value, base value, reduced; total deductions increased

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a person, before the 2017–18 income year, acquires an aircraft engine or an aircraft including an unpriced aircraft engine; and
 - (b) the person is required to perform aircraft engine overhauls on the aircraft engine when operating an aircraft; and
 - (c) for the purposes of section EE 56 (Formula), the item base value used to calculate the adjusted tax value of the aircraft engine or aircraft for income years before the 2017–18 income year includes an amount corresponding to the cost of an aircraft engine overhaul of the aircraft engine; and
 - (d) the person does not make an election under section EJ 26 (Allocation of expenditure on aircraft engine overhauls: election by operator of single aircraft) for the 2017–18 income year.

Base value reduced by cost of overhaul

- (2) The item base value referred to in subsection (1)(c) for the aircraft engine or aircraft is reduced at the beginning of the 2017–18 income year by the included amount referred to in that paragraph.

Adjusted tax value reduced by depreciated cost of overhaul

- (3) The adjusted tax value of the aircraft engine or aircraft is reduced at the beginning of the 2017–18 income year by the proportion of the adjusted tax value that corresponds to the depreciated cost to the person of the aircraft engine overhaul referred to in subsection (1)(c).

Total deductions increased by reduction in base value

- (4) For the purposes of section EE 56, the amount of the reduction in base value under subsection (2) is included as an increase in the item total deductions for the aircraft engine or aircraft.

Fair and reasonable proportion of base value and adjusted tax value

- (5) For the purposes of subsections (2) and (3), the proportion of the base value or adjusted tax value that corresponds to the cost or depreciated cost to the person of the aircraft engine overhaul is the amount that is fair and reasonable, taking into consideration—
 - (a) the principles used in determining the amount of a deduction allowed under section DW 5 (Aircraft operators: aircraft engines and aircraft engine overhauls) for an aircraft engine or aircraft in the 2017–18 or a later income year:

- (b) historical figures for the cost of an aircraft engine overhaul as a proportion of the cost of a similar aircraft and engine.

Defined in this Act: adjusted tax value, aircraft engine, aircraft engine overhaul, unpriced aircraft engine

Section EZ 23BA: inserted, on 1 April 2017 (applying for the 2017–18 and later income years), by section 91(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

EZ 23B Property acquired after depreciable property affected by Canterbury earthquakes

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for a person and an income year (the current year) before the 2019–20 income year when the person,—
- (a) in or before the current year, receives insurance or compensation (the earthquake compensation) for items of depreciable property (the affected property), each of which is—
- (i) not depreciable intangible property; and
 - (ii) included in 1 of the categories (an affected class) of the person's depreciable property referred to in subsection (10)(b); and
 - (iii) included in an affected class that is not linked with a replacement interest under section EZ 23BB; and
- (b) is entitled to the earthquake compensation because each item of the affected property, as a result of a Canterbury earthquake as that term is defined in section 4 of the Canterbury Earthquake Recovery Act 2011, is affected by—
- (i) damage meeting the requirements of section EE 47(4) (Events for purposes of section EE 44); or
 - (ii) a disposal and reacquisition under section EZ 23C or EZ 70; and
- (c) would have, in the absence of this section, from the earthquake compensation for the affected property in the affected class, depreciation recovery income under section EE 48 (Effect of disposal or event) in or before the current year; and
- (d) has a total amount of depreciation loss under section EE 48 for the affected property in the affected class that, treated as a positive amount, is less than the total amount of depreciation recovery income referred to in paragraph (c) by an amount (the excess recovery); and
- (e) plans in the current year to acquire depreciable property (the replacement property) meeting the requirements of subsection (7); and
- (f) notifies the Commissioner under subsection (9)—
- (i) specifying the affected property and affected class; and

- (ii) linking, for the purposes of this section, each item of acquired replacement property with an affected class.

Suspended recovery income

- (2) For an affected class, the amount that may be depreciation recovery income of the person in or after the current year (the suspended recovery income) is the excess recovery that remains at the beginning of the current year after—
 - (a) adjustment under subsections (3) and (6) for an earlier income year; and
 - (b) attribution to an earlier income year by subsection (8).

Depreciation recovery income

- (2B) The person has an amount of depreciation recovery income for the current year equal to the amount of suspended recovery income that is attributed to the current year by subsection (8).

Effect of acquiring item of replacement property if suspended recovery income from affected property not in pool

- (3) If the person acquires an item of replacement property (the replacement item) and links the replacement item with an affected class of affected property for which the person does not use the pool method, the amount given by subsection (4)—
 - (a) is treated as not being included in the amount of the person's expenditure on the replacement item, for the purposes of determining—
 - (i) under section EE 16(4) (Amount resulting from standard calculation) the item value or cost for the replacement item, if the person uses the diminishing value method or straight-line method for the replacement item; or
 - (ii) under section EE 22 (Cases affecting pool) the cost of the replacement item, if the person uses the pool method for the replacement item; and
 - (b) is a reduction in the amount of the suspended recovery income for the affected class.

Amount of reduction: expenditure on replacement item and suspended recovery income

- (4) The amount of the reduction under subsection (3)(a) or (b) for a replacement item and an affected class of affected property for which the person does not use the pool method is—
 - (a) zero, if the cost of the affected class equals or is less than the person's total expenditure in acquiring, before the replacement item, other replacement property linked with the affected class; or
 - (b) the amount calculated using the formula—

$$\text{limited replacement cost} \times \text{excess} \div \text{affected cost.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (5) In the formula,—
- (a) limited replacement cost is the lesser of the following:
 - (i) the amount by which the cost of the affected class exceeds the total expenditure in acquiring, before the replacement item, other replacement property linked with the affected class;
 - (ii) the amount of the expenditure on the replacement item;
 - (b) excess is the excess recovery for the affected class;
 - (c) affected cost is the total cost for the person of the affected class.

Effect of acquiring item of replacement property if suspended recovery income from affected property in pool

- (6) If the person acquires an item of replacement property (the replacement item) and links the replacement item with an affected class of affected property for which the person uses the pool method,—
- (a) the amount of the person's expenditure on the replacement item is treated as being reduced, by the amount equal to the lesser of the amount of expenditure on the replacement item and the amount of suspended recovery income for the affected property after the acquisition of other replacement property before the replacement item, for the purposes of determining—
 - (i) the adjusted tax value of the replacement item, if subparagraphs (ii) or (iii) do not apply; or
 - (ii) the cost of the replacement item for the straight-line method, if that method is used to determine depreciation loss for the replacement item; or
 - (iii) the adjusted tax value of the pool of the replacement item, if the person uses the pool method for the replacement item; and
 - (b) the amount of the suspended recovery income for the affected class is reduced by the amount of the treated reduction under paragraph (a).

Requirements for replacement property

- (7) An item of replacement property for a person must—
- (a) [Repealed]
 - (b) [Repealed]
 - (c) be included in the same category under subsection (10)(b) as the affected class with which the person links the item, if the affected class is described in subsection (10)(b)(i) or (ii); and
 - (d) be located in greater Christchurch as that term is defined in section 4 of the Canterbury Earthquake Recovery Act 2011, if the item is a building, grandparented structure, or commercial fit-out.

Attribution of suspended recovery income to income year: other events

- (8) The person has, in the current year, an amount of depreciation recovery income for an affected class equal to the amount of suspended recovery income for the affected class—
- (a) at the end of the current year, if that year is the 2018–19 income year and neither of paragraphs (b) and (c) apply earlier; or
 - (b) when in the current year the person decides not to acquire more replacement property, if neither of paragraphs (a) and (c) apply earlier; or
 - (c) when in the current year the person goes into liquidation or becomes bankrupt, if neither of paragraphs (a) and (b) apply earlier.

Notice of election for affected property

- (9) A person choosing to rely on this section to suspend in a current year the recognition of suspended recovery income from the insurance or compensation for affected property must notify the Commissioner—
- (a) for the earliest income year (the estimate year) in which the amount of the insurance or compensation for the affected property can be reasonably estimated, by the later of 31 January 2012 and the date on which the return of income is filed for the estimate year; and
 - (b) if the current year is after the estimate year,—
 - (i) for each income year between the estimate year and the current year, by the date on which the return of income is filed for that income year; and
 - (ii) for the current year, by the date on which the return of income is filed for the current year.

Contents of notice of election

- (10) A notice under subsection (9) must—
- (a) describe the items of affected property; and
 - (b) indicate in which of the following categories each item of affected property is included:
 - (i) a building or grandparented structure not referred to in subparagraph (iii);
 - (ii) commercial fit-out not referred to in subparagraph (iii);
 - (iii) depreciable property for which the person uses the pool method;
 - (iv) depreciable property not referred to in subparagraphs (i) to (iii); and
 - (c) give details of each item of replacement property acquired in the current year and the affected class to which the person is linking the item; and

- (d) give the amount of the expenditure on the replacement item and the reduction under subsection (3) or (6) of that expenditure for the purposes of determining adjusted tax value or depreciation loss; and
- (e) give the amount, for the affected class, of the suspended recovery income at the end of the current year.

Disposal of replacement property: reduction in cost treated as depreciation loss

- (11) For the purposes of section EE 48, the amount by which a person's expenditure on a replacement item is treated as being reduced under subsection (3) or (6) is an amount of depreciation loss for the item for which the person has been allowed a deduction.

Removal of link by election under section EZ 23BB

- (11B) If a person in the current year has an amount of suspended recovery income for an affected class of buildings or grandparented structures and has made an election under this section to link replacement property (the linked property) to the affected class and has not incurred expenditure in acquiring the linked property,—
- (a) the person may choose to make an election under section EZ 23BB linking the affected class with replacement property, which may include linked property:
 - (b) a consequence of an election referred to in paragraph (a) is that the affected class and the linked property are treated as not being linked under this section for the current year.

Order of acquisition for items acquired at same time

- (11C) If items of replacement property are acquired at the same time and the effect of this section depends on the order in which the items are acquired, the items are treated as being acquired in the order chosen by the person in the first return of income for which the order of acquisition is taken into account.

Relationship to subpart EE

- (12) This section overrides subpart EE (Depreciation).

Defined in this Act: adjusted tax value, amount, assessable income, building, commercial building, commercial fit-out, depreciable intangible property, depreciable property, depreciation loss, depreciation recovery income, grandparented structure, income year, liquidation, notice, notify, pool, pool method, return of income, straight-line method

EZ 23BB Interest in property acquired after depreciable property affected by Canterbury earthquakes

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for a person and an income year (the current year) before the 2019–20 income year when the person,—
 - (a) in or before the current year, receives insurance or compensation (the earthquake compensation) for items of depreciable property (the affected property), each of which is—
 - (i) not depreciable intangible property; and
 - (ii) not property for which the person uses the pool method; and
 - (iii) included in 1 of the categories (an affected class) of the person's depreciable property referred to in subsection (11)(b); and
 - (iv) not linked with replacement property under section EZ 23B or has a link with replacement property that may be removed under section EZ 23B(11B); and
 - (b) is entitled to the earthquake compensation because each item of the affected property, as a result of a Canterbury earthquake as that term is defined in section 4 of the Canterbury Earthquake Recovery Act 2011, is affected by—

- (i) damage meeting the requirements of section EE 47(4) (Events for purposes of section EE 44); or
- (ii) a disposal and reacquisition under section EZ 23C or EZ 70; and
- (c) would have, in the absence of this section, from the earthquake compensation for the affected class, depreciation recovery income under section EE 48 (Effect of disposal or event) in or before the current year; and
- (d) has a total amount of depreciation loss under section EE 48 for the affected class that, treated as a positive amount, is less than the total amount of depreciation recovery income referred to in paragraph (c) by an amount (the excess recovery); and
- (e) has in the current year an interest (a replacement interest) in a voting interest in a company (the owning company) having the purpose of acquiring depreciable property (the replacement property) meeting the requirements of subsection (6); and
- (f) holds the voting interest in the owning company or is the settlor of a trust of which the trustee holds the voting interest; and
- (g) notifies the Commissioner under subsection (10).

Suspended recovery income

- (2) For a replacement interest, the amount that may be depreciation recovery income of the person in or after the current year (the suspended recovery income) is the excess recovery, for the affected property with which the replacement interest is linked under subsections (10) and (11), that remains at the beginning of the current year after—
 - (a) adjustment under subsections (3), (8), and (9) for an earlier income year; and
 - (b) attribution to an earlier income year by subsections (8) to (10).

Effect of acquiring interest in replacement property if suspended recovery income from affected class

- (3) If the person acquires a replacement interest and links the replacement interest with an affected class, the amount calculated using the formula in subsection (4)—
 - (a) is an amount of suspended recovery income for the replacement interest; and
 - (b) is a reduction in the amount of the depreciation recovery income for the affected class.

Suspended recovery income for replacement interest and reduction of suspended recovery income for affected class

- (4) The amount under subsection (3)(a) and (b) for a replacement interest and affected class is—

- (a) zero, if the cost of the affected property in the affected class equals or is less than the total of the fractional interest values for other replacement interests acquired by the person before the replacement interest; or
- (b) the amount calculated using the formula—

$$\text{limited replacement cost} \times \text{excess} \div \text{affected cost.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (5) In the formula,—
 - (a) limited replacement cost is the lesser of—
 - (i) the fractional interest value of the replacement interest:
 - (ii) the amount by which the total cost for the person of the affected property in the affected class exceeds the total amount of the fractional interest values of other replacement interests acquired by the person before the replacement interest:
 - (b) excess is the excess recovery for the affected class:
 - (c) affected cost is the total cost for the person of the affected property in the affected class.

Requirements for replacement property

- (6) An item of replacement property for a person or owning company must—
 - (a) be included in the same category under subsection (11)(b) as the affected class with which the person links the item, if the affected class is described in subsection (11)(b)(i) or (ii); and
 - (b) be located in greater Christchurch as that term is defined in section 4 of the Canterbury Earthquake Recovery Act 2011, if the item is a building or commercial fit-out.

Depreciation recovery income and suspended recovery income

- (7) The amount of suspended recovery income for a person's replacement interest is not depreciation recovery income for the person arising from the replacement interest unless it is attributed to an income year by subsections (8) and (9).

Depreciation recovery income: disposal of replacement property by owning company

- (8) If the owning company in which a person has a replacement interest disposes of the replacement property in an income year, and subsection (9) does not apply earlier,—
 - (a) the person has, in the income year for the replacement interest, an amount of depreciation recovery income equal to the fractional interest value of the replacement interest calculated under subsection (12); and
 - (b) the suspended recovery income for the replacement interest is reduced by the amount referred to in paragraph (a).

Depreciation recovery income: other events

- (9) The person has, in an income year, an amount of depreciation recovery income equal to the suspended recovery income for a replacement interest and affected property, and the suspended recovery income for the replacement interest and affected property is reduced to zero,—
- (a) at the end of the income year, if—
 - (i) the income year is the 2018–19 income year; and
 - (ii) the owning company does not acquire the replacement property relating to the replacement interest and the affected property before the end of the income year; and
 - (iii) neither of paragraphs (b) and (c) apply earlier; or
 - (b) when in the income year the person disposes of the replacement interest, if neither of paragraphs (a) and (c) apply earlier; or
 - (c) when in the income year the person goes into liquidation or becomes bankrupt, if neither of paragraphs (a) and (b) apply earlier.

Notice of election for affected property

- (10) A person choosing to rely on this section to suspend in a current year the recognition of suspended recovery income from earthquake compensation must give notice under this section, or under section EZ 23B for years before the current year, to the Commissioner—
- (a) for the earliest income year (the estimate year) in which the amount of the earthquake compensation for the affected property can be reasonably estimated, by the later of 31 January 2012 and the date on which the return of income is filed for the estimate year; and
 - (b) if the current year is after the estimate year,—
 - (i) for each income year between the estimate year and the current year, by the date on which the return of income is filed for that income year; and
 - (ii) for the current year, by the date on which the return of income is filed for the current year.

Contents of notice of election

- (11) A notice under subsection (10) for the current year must—
- (a) describe the affected property; and
 - (b) indicate in which of the following categories each item of affected property is included:
 - (i) a building or grandparented structure;
 - (ii) commercial fit-out;
 - (iii) depreciable property not referred to in subparagraphs (i) and (ii); and

- (c) indicate which items of affected property were linked with replacement property under section EZ 23B before the current year; and
- (d) give details of each item of replacement property in which a replacement interest is held in the current year, and the affected class to which the person is linking the replacement interest; and
- (e) for each replacement interest held in the current year, give the amount of the expenditure by the owning company on the replacement property, the shareholding of the person's holding entity in the owning company, and the shareholding of the person in, or the fraction of the trust corpus that has been settled by the person on, the person's holding entity; and
- (f) for each category of replacement property, give the amount of the suspended recovery income at the end of the current year; and
- (g) for each category of replacement property, give the amount of depreciation recovery income for the current year.

Formula for calculating fractional interest value

- (12) For a person with a replacement interest in replacement property, the fractional interest value of the replacement interest for the purposes of this section is the value calculated using the formula—person's fractional interest × replacement expenditure.

Definition of items in formula

- (13) In the formula,—
- (a) person's fractional interest is—
 - (i) the voting interest of the person in the owning company; or
 - (ii) the fraction calculated by multiplying the voting interest in the owning company held by the trustee of a trust of which the person is a settlor by the fraction of the trust corpus that has been settled by the person:
 - (b) replacement expenditure is the amount of the expenditure by the owning company on the replacement property.

Order of acquisition for items acquired at same time

- (14) If items of replacement property are acquired at the same time and the effect of this section depends on the order in which the items are acquired, the items are treated as being acquired in the order chosen by the person in the first return of income for which the order of acquisition is taken into account.

Relationship to subpart EE

- (15) This section overrides subpart EE (Depreciation).

EZ 23BC Property acquired after depreciable property affected by Hurunui/ Kaikōura earthquakes

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for a person and an income year (the current year) before the 2019–20 income year when the person,—
 - (a) in or before the current year, receives insurance or compensation (the earthquake compensation) for items of depreciable property (the affected property), each of which is—
 - (i) not depreciable intangible property; and
 - (ii) included in 1 of the categories (an affected class) of the person's depreciable property referred to in subsection (11)(b); and
 - (b) is entitled to the earthquake compensation because each item of the affected property, as a result of a Hurunui/Kaikōura earthquake as that term is defined in section 4 of the Hurunui/Kaikōura Earthquakes Recovery Act 2016, is affected by—
 - (i) damage meeting the requirements of section EE 47(4) (Events for purposes of section EE 44); or
 - (ii) a disposal and reacquisition under section EZ 78; and
 - (c) would have, in the absence of this section, from the earthquake compensation for the affected property in the affected class, depreciation recovery income under section EE 48 (Effect of disposal or event) in or before the current year; and
 - (d) has a total amount of depreciation loss under section EE 48 for the affected property in the affected class that, treated as a positive amount, is less than the total amount of depreciation recovery income referred to in paragraph (c) by an amount (the excess recovery); and
 - (e) plans in the current year to acquire depreciable property (the replacement property) meeting the requirements of subsection (8); and
 - (f) notifies the Commissioner under subsection (10)—
 - (i) specifying the affected property and affected class; and

- (ii) linking, for the purposes of this section, each item of acquired replacement property with an affected class.

Suspended recovery income

- (2) For an affected class, the amount that may be depreciation recovery income of the person in or after the current year (the suspended recovery income) is the excess recovery that remains at the beginning of the current year after—
 - (a) adjustment under subsections (4) and (7) for an earlier income year; and
 - (b) attribution to an earlier income year by subsection (9).

Depreciation recovery income

- (3) The person has an amount of depreciation recovery income for the current year equal to the amount of suspended recovery income that is attributed to the current year by subsection (9).

Effect of acquiring item of replacement property if suspended recovery income from affected property not in pool

- (4) If the person acquires an item of replacement property (the replacement item) and links the replacement item with an affected class of affected property for which the person does not use the pool method, the amount given by subsection (5)—
 - (a) is treated as not being included in the amount of the person's expenditure on the replacement item, for the purposes of determining—
 - (i) under section EE 16(4) (Amount resulting from standard calculation) the item value or cost for the replacement item, if the person uses the diminishing value method or straight-line method for the replacement item; or
 - (ii) under section EE 22 (Cases affecting pool) the cost of the replacement item, if the person uses the pool method for the replacement item; and
 - (b) is a reduction in the amount of the suspended recovery income for the affected class.

Amount of reduction: expenditure on replacement item and suspended recovery income

- (5) The amount of the reduction under subsection (4)(a) or (b) for a replacement item and an affected class of affected property for which the person does not use the pool method is—
 - (a) zero, if the cost of the affected class equals or is less than the person's total expenditure in acquiring, before the replacement item, other replacement property linked with the affected class; or
 - (b) the amount calculated using the formula—

$$\text{limited replacement cost} \times \text{excess} \div \text{affected cost.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (6) In the formula,—
- (a) limited replacement cost is the lesser of—
 - (i) the amount by which the cost of the affected class exceeds the total expenditure in acquiring, before the replacement item, other replacement property linked with the affected class;
 - (ii) the amount of the expenditure on the replacement item;
 - (b) excess is the excess recovery for the affected class;
 - (c) affected cost is the total cost for the person of the affected class.

Effect of acquiring item of replacement property if suspended recovery income from affected property in pool

- (7) If the person acquires an item of replacement property (the replacement item) and links the replacement item with an affected class of affected property for which the person uses the pool method,—
- (a) the amount of the person's expenditure on the replacement item is treated as being reduced, by the amount equal to the lesser of the amount of expenditure on the replacement item and the amount of suspended recovery income for the affected property after the acquisition of other replacement property before the replacement item, for the purposes of determining—
 - (i) the adjusted tax value of the replacement item, if subparagraphs (ii) or (iii) do not apply; or
 - (ii) the cost of the replacement item for the straight-line method, if that method is used to determine depreciation loss for the replacement item; or
 - (iii) the adjusted tax value of the pool of the replacement item, if the person uses the pool method for the replacement item; and
 - (b) the amount of the suspended recovery income for the affected class is reduced by the amount of the treated reduction under paragraph (a).

Requirements for replacement property

- (8) An item of replacement property for a person must—
- (a) be included in the same category under subsection (11)(b) as the affected class with which the person links the item, if the affected class is described in subsection (11)(b)(i), (ii), (vii), or (viii); and
 - (b) if the item is a building, grandparented structure, or commercial fit-out, be located in an earthquake-affected area, as that term is defined in section 4 of the Hurunui/Kaikōura Earthquakes Recovery Act 2016, relating to—

- (i) the Canterbury Regional Council (Environment Canterbury), the Hurunui District Council, the Kaikoura District Council, or the Marlborough District Council, if the affected property is located in an earthquake-affected area relating to 1 of those councils; or
- (ii) the Wellington City Council, the Hutt City Council, or the Wellington Regional Council (Greater Wellington), if the affected property is located in an earthquake-affected area relating to 1 of those councils.

Attribution of suspended recovery income to income year: other events

- (9) The person has, in the current year, an amount of depreciation recovery income for an affected class equal to the amount of suspended recovery income for the affected class—
- (a) at the end of the current year, if that year is the 2021–22 income year and neither of paragraphs (b) and (c) apply earlier; or
 - (b) when in the current year the person decides not to acquire more replacement property, if neither of paragraphs (a) and (c) apply earlier; or
 - (c) when in the current year the person goes into liquidation or becomes bankrupt, if neither of paragraphs (a) and (b) apply earlier.

Notice of election for affected property

- (10) A person choosing to rely on this section to suspend in a current year the recognition of suspended recovery income from the insurance or compensation for affected property must notify the Commissioner—
- (a) for the earliest income year (the estimate year) in which the amount of the insurance or compensation for the affected property can be reasonably estimated, by the later of 31 January 2018 and the date on which the return of income is filed for the estimate year; and
 - (b) if the current year is after the estimate year,—
 - (i) for each income year between the estimate year and the current year, by the date on which the return of income is filed for that income year; and
 - (ii) for the current year, by the date on which the return of income is filed for the current year.

Contents of notice of election

- (11) A notice under subsection (10) must—
- (a) describe the items of affected property; and
 - (b) indicate in which of the following categories each item of affected property is included:
 - (i) a building or grandparented structure not referred to in subparagraphs (iii) and (iv):

- (ii) commercial fit-out not referred to in subparagraphs (v) and (vi):
- (iii) buildings or grandparented structures for which the person uses the pool method and that are located in an earthquake-affected area, as that term is defined in section 4 of the Hurunui/Kaikōura Earthquakes Recovery Act 2016, (the earthquake-affected area) relating to the Canterbury Regional Council (Environment Canterbury), the Hurunui District Council, the Kaikoura District Council, or the Marlborough District Council:
- (iv) buildings or grandparented structures for which the person uses the pool method and that are located in an earthquake-affected area relating to the Wellington City Council, the Hutt City Council, or the Wellington Regional Council (Greater Wellington):
- (v) commercial fit-outs for which the person uses the pool method and that are located in an earthquake-affected area relating to the Canterbury Regional Council (Environment Canterbury), the Hurunui District Council, the Kaikoura District Council, or the Marlborough District Council:
- (vi) commercial fit-outs for which the person uses the pool method and that are located in an earthquake-affected area relating to the Wellington City Council, the Hutt City Council, or the Wellington Regional Council (Greater Wellington):
- (vii) depreciable property for which the person uses the pool method, other than a building, grandparented structure, or commercial fit-out:
- (viii) depreciable property not referred to in subparagraphs (i) to (vii); and
- (c) give details of each item of replacement property acquired in the current year and the affected class to which the person is linking the item; and
- (d) give the amount of the expenditure on the replacement item and the reduction under subsection (4) or (7) of that expenditure for the purposes of determining adjusted tax value or depreciation loss; and
- (e) give the amount, for each affected class, of the suspended recovery income at the end of the current year.

Disposal of replacement property: reduction in cost treated as depreciation loss

- (12) For the purposes of section EE 48, the amount by which a person's expenditure on a replacement item is treated as being reduced under subsection (4) or (7) is an amount of depreciation loss for the item for which the person has been allowed a deduction.

Order of acquisition for items acquired at same time

- (13) If items of replacement property are acquired at the same time and the effect of this section depends on the order in which the items are acquired, the items are treated as being acquired in the order chosen by the person in the first return of income for which the order of acquisition is taken into account.

Relationship to subpart EE

- (14) This section overrides subpart EE (Depreciation).

Defined in this Act: adjusted tax value, amount, building, commercial fit-out, depreciable intangible property, depreciable property, depreciation loss, depreciation recovery income, diminishing value method, grandparented structure, income year, liquidation, notice, notify, pool, pool method, return of income, straight-line method

EZ 26 Meaning of qualifying capital value

Meaning

- (1) Qualifying capital value means, for an income year,—
 - (a) for a qualifying asset that a person owns, the amount calculated for the income year using the formula in subsection (2); or
 - (b) for an item that a person owns that is not a qualifying asset but to which they have made a qualifying improvement, the amount calculated for the income year using the formula in subsection (7).

Formula

- (2) The formula referred to in subsection (1)(a) is—
(acquisition cost + improvement cost) – item’s depreciation.

Definition of items in formula

- (3) The items in the formula in subsection (2) are defined in subsections (4) to (6).

Acquisition cost

- (4) Acquisition cost is the amount of capital expenditure the person incurs in acquiring the asset or item. In the case of a constructed item, the amount of capital expenditure is reduced by the amount of capital expenditure the person incurs on the construction on or after 1 April 1993, other than under a binding contract that the person entered into before 1 April 1993.

Improvement cost

- (5) Improvement cost is the amount of capital expenditure, if any, the person incurs in making a qualifying improvement to the asset or item.

Item's depreciation

- (6) Item's depreciation is the amount of depreciation loss for which the person has been allowed a deduction for the qualifying capital value of the asset or item in earlier income years, not including an amount of depreciation loss calculated using the straight-line method.

Formula

- (7) The formula referred to in subsection (1)(b) is—

$$\text{capital expenditure} - \text{improvement's depreciation.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (8) The items in the formula in subsection (7) are defined in subsections (9) and (10).

Capital expenditure

- (9) Capital expenditure is the amount of capital expenditure the person incurs for the improvement.

Improvement's depreciation

- (10) Improvement's depreciation is the amount of depreciation loss for which the person has been allowed a deduction for the qualifying capital value of the improvement in earlier income years, not including an amount of depreciation loss calculated using the straight-line method.

Defined in this Act: acquire, amount, depreciation loss, income year, qualifying asset, qualifying capital value, qualifying improvement, straight-line method

EZ 27 Meaning of qualifying improvement*Meaning*

- (1) Qualifying improvement, for a person's income year, means an improvement of an item that the person owns, if all the following apply:
- (a) the person incurred the expenditure on the improvement—
 - (i) in the period starting on 16 December 1991 and ending with the close of 31 March 1993, other than under a binding contract they entered into before 16 December 1991; or
 - (ii) in the period starting on 1 April 1993 and ending with the close of 31 March 1994, under a binding contract they entered into in the period starting on 16 December 1991 and ending with the close of 31 March 1993; and
 - (b) the person used the item in its improved form before 1 April 1994; and
 - (c) the person is allowed a deduction for depreciation under the Income Tax Act 1976 for the improvement for the income year.

Exclusions

- (2) Qualifying improvement does not include—
- (a) an improvement to a building; or
 - (b) an improvement requiring construction, if—
 - (i) the construction started before 16 December 1991; or
 - (ii) the construction started on or after 16 December 1991 under a binding contract that the person entered into before 16 December 1991; or
 - (iii) the construction was not completed before 1 April 1994; or
 - (iv) the improvement was not first used by the person before 1 April 1994.

Defined in this Act: income year, qualifying improvement

Accident insurance

EZ 29 Private insurers under Accident Insurance Act 1998

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when an insurer, as defined in paragraph (a) of the definition of insurer in section 13 of the Accident Insurance Act 1998, has a reserve in a tax year to cover the following, all of which relate to events covered by the Accident Insurance Act 1998 occurring before the end of the tax year:
- (a) claims that have been made with the insurer but have not been settled before the end of the tax year; and
 - (b) claims that are expected to be made with the insurer in relation to events that the insurer knows about; and
 - (c) an estimate of claims that have not been reported to the insurer in relation to events that the insurer does not know about.

Adjustment to deduction

- (2) When the closing value of the reserve for a tax year is more than the opening value, the deduction that the insurer is allowed is adjusted by an amount equal to the amount calculated using the formula—closing value – opening value.

Adjustment to income

- (3) When the opening value of the reserve for a tax year is more than the closing value, the income of the insurer is adjusted by an amount equal to the amount calculated using the formula—opening value – closing value.

Amount

- (4) The reserve at the end of the tax year is—
- (a) an amount calculated by an actuary applying subsection (5) and adopted by the insurer for financial reporting purposes; or
 - (b) if no such amount has been calculated, an amount determined by the Commissioner, who may seek the advice of an actuary in determining it.

Calculation or determination of reserve

- (5) A person calculating or determining the amount of a reserve under subsection (4) must ensure that the amount has regard to—
- (a) generally accepted accounting practice; and
 - (b) generally accepted actuarial practice; and
 - (c) the present value of expected future payments.

Link with subpart DA

- (6) This section supplements the general permission. The general limitations still apply.

Defined in this Act: actuary, amount, Commissioner, deduction, general limitation, general permission, generally accepted accounting practice, pay, supplement, tax year

Section EZ 29(4)(b): amended, on 1 May 2011, by section 82 of the Financial Markets Authority Act 2011 (2011 No 5).

EZ 30 Base premium for 1998–99 premium year under Accident Insurance Act 1998

Discount payment date

- (1) An amount of base premium for the 1998–99 premium year that is paid on or before the discount payment date is treated as expenditure in the tax year in which the discount payment date falls if the discount payment date is before the date on the invoice that specifies when payment is due. This subsection overrides section EF 3(1) (Accident compensation levies and premiums).

Monthly instalment plan

- (2) Interest payable on a base premium for the 1998–99 premium year under a monthly instalment plan is treated as being payable on the date that the interest is applied under regulation 8 of the Accident Insurance (Payment of Base Premiums) Regulations 1999.

EZ 32F Applicable accounting standard for section EX 21E: former generally accepted accounting practice without IFRS

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a person (the interest holder) with an interest in a CFC is applying section EX 21E (Non-attributing active CFC: Test based on accounting standard) for an accounting period to determine whether the CFC is a non-attributing active CFC for the person; and
 - (b) section GB 15C (Arrangements related to accounting test for non-attributing active CFC) does not apply.

Former generally accepted accounting practice without IFRS for CFC

- (2) The interest holder may use former generally accepted accounting practice without IFRS for the CFC and the accounting period if the interest holder or another person is a company resident in New Zealand that—
- (a) has no revenue under former Financial Reporting Standard 34 and former Financial Reporting Standard 35; and
 - (b) is an issuer under section 4 of the former Financial Reporting Act in neither of the current and preceding accounting periods; and
 - (c) is not required by section 19 of the former Financial Reporting Act to file its accounts with the Registrar of Companies; and
 - (d) is not a large company under section 19A(1)(b) of the former Financial Reporting Act; and
 - (e) does not have accounts that are prepared and audited under generally accepted accounting practice with IFRS; and

- (f) is not a subsidiary of a company having accounts that—
 - (i) include the accounts of the subsidiary; and
 - (ii) are prepared and audited, or required to be prepared, under generally accepted accounting practice with IFRS; and
- (g) has accounts that—
 - (i) include the accounts of the CFC; and
 - (ii) comply with former generally accepted accounting practice without IFRS; and
 - (iii) meet the audit requirements of section EX 21C(8).

Former generally accepted accounting practice without IFRS for CFC's test group

- (3) The interest holder may use former generally accepted accounting practice without IFRS for the CFC's test group under section EX 21D(1) (Non-attributing active CFC: default test) if the interest holder or another person is a company resident in New Zealand that—
 - (a) has no revenue under former Financial Reporting Standard 34 and former Financial Reporting Standard 35; and
 - (b) is an issuer under section 4 of the former Financial Reporting Act in neither of the current and preceding accounting periods; and
 - (c) is not required by section 19 of the former Financial Reporting Act to file its accounts with the Registrar of Companies; and

EZ 32G Person deriving pension from foreign superannuation scheme and returning as income before 1 April 2014

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person has, before 1 April 2014, an interest in a foreign superannuation scheme and—
 - (a) the interest would be an attributing interest in the absence of this provision; and

- (b) on and after 1 April 2014, the interest is not a FIF superannuation interest; and
- (c) the person—
 - (i) does not, before 1 April 2014, derive from the foreign superannuation scheme a payment that is a withdrawal:
 - (ii) derives payments, each of which is a pension, from the foreign superannuation scheme before 1 April 2014 and includes each payment in a return of income, for the income year of the payment, that is received by the Commissioner by the due date for the return of income.

No FIF income or loss from interest

- (2) The person is treated as having no FIF income or loss from the interest for the period before 1 April 2014.

Defined in this Act: attributing interest, Commissioner, FIF income, FIF superannuation interest, foreign superannuation scheme, income year, loss, return of income

Section EZ 32G: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2014), on 24 February 2016, by section 157 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EZ 35 Accruals in relation to income and expenditure in respect of financial arrangements

- (1) For the purpose of calculating the amount deemed to be income or expenditure of any person under subsections (2) to (7), regard must be had to,—
 - (a) if the person is a holder in relation to the financial arrangement,—
 - (i) the amount of all consideration paid and to be paid to the person in relation to the financial arrangement; and
 - (ii) any amount remitted and to be remitted by the person in relation to the financial arrangement; and
 - (iii) the acquisition price of the financial arrangement in relation to the person; and

- (b) if the person is an issuer in relation to the financial arrangement,—
 - (i) the amount of all consideration paid and to be paid by the person in relation to the financial arrangement; and
 - (ii) the acquisition price of the financial arrangement in relation to the person.
- (2) Subject to this section, where any person is a holder or an issuer of a financial arrangement, the amount that is deemed to be income or expenditure of that person in respect of the financial arrangement in any income year is an amount calculated using the yield to maturity method so as to result in the allocation to each income year of an amount that is fair and reasonable, and such amount so allocated to each income year is income deemed to be derived by or expenditure deemed to be incurred by the person in respect of the financial arrangement in the income year:

provided that the Commissioner must accept an alternative method to the yield to maturity method, that has regard to the principles of accrual accounting, and—

 - (a) conforms with commercially acceptable practice; and
 - (b) except to the extent that the Commissioner may otherwise allow under subsection (8), is adopted by the person and is or will be consistently applied in respect of all such financial arrangements for financial reporting purposes; and
 - (c) results in the allocation to each income year of amounts that are not materially different from amounts that would be calculated but for this proviso.
- (3) Notwithstanding subsection (2), but subject to the other provisions of this section, where in any income year the total value of all financial arrangements of which a person is a holder or an issuer has on no day within that income year exceeded $1,500,000 or such greater amount as the Governor-General may by Order in Council declare for the purposes of this section,—
 - (a) the person may calculate income or expenditure for that income year in respect of those financial arrangements by using the straight-line method so as to result in the allocation to that income year and subsequent income years of amounts that are fair and reasonable in respect of those arrangements; and
 - (b) where the straight-line method is used under paragraph (a), that method must be used by the person in respect of all financial arrangements of which the person was the holder or issuer during that income year; and
 - (c) where the person has in accordance with this subsection calculated income or expenditure using the straight-line method in respect of a financial arrangement for any income year, the person must, unless the Commissioner notifies them that they are otherwise authorised, continue to use that method in respect of that financial arrangement for any subsequent income year, until the maturity, remittance, sale, or other transfer of the arrangement, notwithstanding that the total value of all financial arrangements of which the person is holder or issuer may at any time in any such subsequent income year exceed $1,500,000 or such other amount as may be declared for the purposes of this section,— and any amount calculated in respect of a financial arrangement in accordance with this subsection is income deemed to be derived by or expenditure deemed to be incurred by the person in respect of the financial arrangement for the relevant income year.

- (4) For the purposes of subsection (3), a person must take into account financial arrangements to which subpart EW applies.
- (5) For the purposes of subsection (3),—
- (a) the value of any financial arrangement to be taken into account in determining whether the total value of all financial arrangements of which a person is the holder or issuer on any day exceeds $1,500,000 or such other amount as may be declared for the purposes of this section is,—
 - (i) in the case of a fixed principal financial arrangement, the nominal or face value of the arrangement; and
 - (ii) in the case of a variable principal debt instrument, the amount owing by or to the person under the arrangement on the relevant day; and
 - (iii) in the case of a financial arrangement to which subpart EW applies, the value determined under that subpart; and
 - (b) in the first income year for which income or expenditure is calculated under subsection (3) in respect of a financial arrangement that—
 - (i) was acquired or issued by the person in a previous income year; and
 - (ii) continues to be held or issued by the person at the end of the first income year for which income or expenditure is calculated under subsection (3),— the amount of income or expenditure of the person in respect of that financial arrangement for that first income year is an amount calculated in accordance with the following formula:

$$a - b - c + d$$

where—

- a is the sum of all amounts that would have been income derived by the person in respect of the financial arrangement if the straight-line method referred to in subsection (3) had been applied to the financial arrangement from the date it was acquired or issued by the person until the end of that first income year

- b is the sum of all amounts that would have been expenditure incurred by the person in respect of the financial arrangement if the straight-line method referred to in subsection (3) had been applied to the financial arrangement from the date it was acquired or issued by the person until the end of that first income year
- c is the sum of all amounts of income deemed to have been derived by the person in respect of the financial arrangement before the commencement of that first income year
- d is the sum of all amounts deemed to have been expenditure incurred by the person in respect of the financial arrangement before the commencement of that first income year;—

and any amount so calculated is, if a positive amount, deemed to be income derived by the person in that first income year and, if a negative amount, deemed to be expenditure incurred by the person in that first income year.

- (6) Where it is not possible to calculate an amount to be deemed to be income or expenditure in respect of a financial arrangement using the yield to maturity method as provided for in subsection (2) or (in a case to which subsection (3) applies) the straight-line method as provided for in subsection (3), the amount that is deemed to be income or expenditure of the person in any income year is an amount calculated by the person—

- (a) using the method, if any, prescribed by the Commissioner for the financial arrangement in a determination made under section 90(1)(c) of the Tax Administration Act 1994:

provided that the Commissioner must accept an alternative method to the method prescribed in any such determination that has regard to the principles of accrual accounting, and—

- (i) conforms with commercially acceptable practice; and
 - (ii) except to the extent that the Commissioner may otherwise allow under subsection (8), is adopted by the person and is or will be consistently applied in respect of all such financial arrangements for financial reporting purposes; and
 - (iii) results in the allocation to each income year of amounts that are not materially different from the amounts that would be calculated, but for this proviso; and
- (b) in the absence of any such determination, by applying a method that meets the requirements of subparagraphs (i) and (ii) of the proviso to paragraph (a) and that results in the allocation to each income year of an amount that, having regard to the tenor of subsection (2), is fair and reasonable;—

and such amount of income or expenditure so allocated to each income year is income deemed to be derived or, as the case may be, expenditure deemed to be incurred by the person in the income year.

- (7) Notwithstanding subsections (2) and (6), the Commissioner must accept an alternative method for calculating the amount to be deemed to be income or expenditure of the person, in respect of a financial arrangement, to the methods provided for under subsections (2) and (6), if the alternative method has regard to market valuation, and—
- (a) conforms with commercially acceptable practice; and
 - (b) except to the extent that the Commissioner may otherwise allow under subsection (8), is adopted by the person and is or will be consistently applied in respect of all such financial arrangements for financial reporting purposes; and
 - (c) either—
 - (i) the business of the person comprises dealing in such financial arrangements; or
 - (ii) the financial arrangement is a forward or future contract for foreign exchange, or a futures contract; and
 - (d) the market, the method, and the source of the information used to determine the market values have been approved by the Commissioner under a determination issued under section 90(1)(e) of the Tax Administration Act 1994; and
 - (e) the person and any other person who is a holder (where the person is an issuer) or an issuer (where the person is a holder) of the financial arrangement are not associated persons;—

and such amount of income or expenditure so calculated is income deemed to be derived or, as the case may be, expenditure deemed to be incurred by the person in respect of the financial arrangement in the income year:

provided that where income or expenditure in respect of a financial arrangement has been calculated by a person under this subsection, income or expenditure in respect of that financial arrangement must, except as otherwise allowed under subsection (8), continue to be calculated on that basis by that person until the maturity, remittance, sale, or other transfer of the arrangement.

- (8) Where a method of calculating income or expenditure in respect of a financial arrangement fails to meet the requirements of paragraph (b) of the proviso to subsection (2) or subparagraph (ii) of the proviso to subsection (6)(a) or (7)(b) by virtue of the fact that the method is not or will not be consistently applied by a person in respect of all such financial arrangements for financial reporting purposes, that method is nevertheless deemed to meet the relevant one of those provisions where the method—

- (a) appropriately reflects the dominant purpose for which the person acquired or issued the financial arrangement (or each such arrangement); and
 - (b) has been and will be consistently applied by the person in respect of the particular financial arrangement (or each such financial arrangement) for the purposes of the old financial arrangements rules for every income year during its term (except to the extent that the Commissioner approves or may approve a change in method under the circumstances or conditions specified in a determination under section 90(1)(f) of the Tax Administration Act 1994); and
 - (c) is not adopted for purposes that include the purpose of tax avoidance; and
 - (d) has been approved by the Commissioner for adoption in the circumstances applicable to the taxpayer either by notice to the taxpayer or in a determination issued under section 90 of the Tax Administration Act 1994.
- (9) Subsections (2) to (7) do not apply—
- (a) to a cash basis holder; or
 - (b) in relation to a financial arrangement and a person, in any income year where section EZ 38 applies to that person and to that financial arrangement; or
 - (c) in relation to a financial arrangement where—
 - (i) the financial arrangement is held by a trustee upon trust for the management of compensation paid for personal injury where that compensation is paid under the Workers Compensation Act 1956 or the Accident Compensation Act 1972 or the Accident Compensation Act 1982 or the Accident Rehabilitation and Compensation Insurance Act 1992 or the Accident Compensation Act 2001 or an order of court; and
 - (ii) the trustee is, or if it were a natural person would be, a cash basis holder in respect of the financial arrangement.
- (10) For the purposes of this section, the Commissioner may determine whether and to what extent any issuer or class of issuers is not required to comply with this section in relation to expenditure incurred or income derived in respect of any class of financial arrangements, having regard to—
- (a) the nature and amount of the expenditure incurred or income derived by the issuer or class of issuers in respect of financial arrangements of that class; and
 - (b) the costs of the issuer or class of issuers in complying with this section in relation to the class of financial arrangements; and
 - (c) whether, in respect of that issuer or class of issuers and that class of financial arrangements, the application of the discretion given to the Commissioner under this subsection would result in a material difference in the amount of deductions or income allocated to any income year, in relation to the amount that would have been allocated had the discretion not been exercised.

- (11) The Commissioner may at any time cancel any determination made in respect of any person or class of persons under subsection (10).

EZ 37 Cash basis holder

- (1) Subject to this section, a natural person is a cash basis holder in respect of financial arrangements held by that person in any income year, where—

(a) either—

(i) the income derived by that person in that income year in respect of those financial arrangements, calculated in accordance with subpart EW or section EZ 35 or EZ 38, as the case may be, does not exceed $70,000 (or such greater amount as the Governor-General may by Order in Council declare); or

(ii) the total value of financial arrangements held by the person in the income year does not exceed at any time in the income year $600,000 (or such greater amount as the Governor-General may by Order in Council declare), the value in respect of each financial arrangement being,—

(A) in the case of a fixed principal financial arrangement, the greater of the acquisition price of the arrangement or the nominal or face value of the arrangement; and

(B) in the case of a variable principal debt instrument, the amount of money owing to the person according to the arrangement; and

(C) in the case of a financial arrangement to which subpart EW applies, the value determined under that subpart; and

- (b) the difference between the following amounts does not exceed $20,000 (or such greater amount as the Governor-General may by Order in Council declare):
 - (i) the amount of income that would be calculated by the person for the income year—
 - (A) using, at the option of the person, either the yield to maturity method or the straight-line method referred to in section EZ 35(3) (regardless of whether or not the person is entitled or has opted to use that method) or in accordance with subpart EW, as the case may be, or, where it is not possible to calculate an amount of income or expenditure in respect of the financial arrangements by using either of those methods, an alternative method approved by the Commissioner; and
 - (B) under either section EW 31 or EZ 38—in respect of financial arrangements held by the person at the end of the income year; and
 - (ii) the amount of income that would be calculated by the person for the income year in respect of financial arrangements held by the person at the end of the income year if the person were a cash basis holder.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), a person must take into account financial arrangements to which subpart EW applies.
- (3) Notwithstanding anything in subsection (1), the Commissioner may,—
 - (a) where the Commissioner is satisfied, having regard to the tenor of section EZ 35(2), that treatment of a class of financial arrangements other than under section EZ 35 results in a fair and reasonable allocation of income or expenditure among income years, deem natural persons to be cash basis holders in respect of such financial arrangements; and
 - (b) where the Commissioner is satisfied that a class of financial arrangements has been structured and promoted with the objective of postponing any liability to income tax which would have arisen had those financial arrangements not been so structured, deem natural persons not to be cash basis holders in respect of such financial arrangements.
- (4) In any income year where a person who was a cash basis holder in the previous income year ceases to be a cash basis holder, the person must take into account, in calculating income or deductions for the income year, an accruals basis adjustment, in respect of every financial arrangement (other than arrangements that are already dealt with according to section EZ 35 or in respect of which the Commissioner has exercised the discretion given under subsection (3)(a)) acquired in a previous income year and held by the person at the end of the income year equal to an amount calculated in accordance with the following formula:

$$a - b - c + d$$

where—

- a is the sum of all amounts which would have been income derived by the person in respect of the financial arrangement from the date it was acquired to the end of the income year if the person had not been a cash basis holder at any time during that period
- b is the sum of all amounts that would have been deductions of the person in respect of the financial arrangement from the date the financial arrangement was acquired to the end of the income year if the person had not been a cash basis holder at any time during the period
- c is the sum of all amounts of income of the person in respect of the financial arrangement since it was acquired to the end of the previous income year
- d is the sum of all amounts that have been deductions of the person in respect of the financial arrangement since it was acquired to the end of the previous income year;—

and the person must not take into account in the income year any other amount in respect of any such financial arrangement except those calculated under the accruals basis adjustment.

- (5) In any income year where a person who was not a cash basis holder in the previous income year becomes a cash basis holder, that person may take into account, in calculating income or deductions for the income year, a cash basis adjustment, in respect of every financial arrangement (other than arrangements already treated on a cash basis) acquired in a previous income year and held by the person at the end of the income year, equal to an amount calculated in accordance with the following formula:

$$a - b - c + d$$

where—

- a is the sum of all amounts which would have been income derived by the person in respect of the financial arrangement from the date it was acquired to the end of the income year if the person had been a cash basis holder in respect of the financial arrangement for the whole of that period
- b is the sum of all amounts which would have been deductions of the person in respect of the financial arrangement from the date the financial arrangement was acquired to the end of the income year if the person had been a cash basis holder in respect of the financial arrangement for the whole of the period

- c is the sum of all amounts treated as income of the person in respect of the financial arrangement since it was acquired to the end of the previous income year
- d is the sum of all amounts that have been deductions of the person in respect of the financial arrangement since it was acquired to the end of the previous income year;—

and, where the cash basis adjustment has been taken into account, the person must not take into account any other amount in respect of any such financial arrangement in the income year except those calculated under the cash basis adjustment:

provided that the person is deemed not to be a cash basis holder in relation to any financial arrangement in respect of which the person does not take into account a cash basis adjustment.

- (6) The amount of the accruals basis adjustment or the cash basis adjustment in respect of any financial arrangement and any income year is,—
 - (a) where it is a positive amount, income deemed to be derived by the holder in the income year; and
 - (b) where it is a negative amount, deemed to be a deduction of the holder in the income year.
- (7) For the purposes of subsection (1), but subject to subsections (8) and (9),—
 - (a) all income in respect of financial arrangements that is trustee income or beneficiary income under the trust rules is disregarded, as is the value of all such financial arrangements producing such income; and
 - (b) no person who holds such financial arrangements is a cash basis holder in relation to such financial arrangements.
- (8) Subsection (7) does not apply to financial arrangements held on a bare trust, or to income in respect of such financial arrangements, and the financial arrangements held and the income derived by the trustees is treated as being held or, as the case may be, derived by a beneficiary of the trust to the extent of the beneficiary's share of the beneficial interest in the financial arrangement.
- (9) Where a deceased person was at the time of his or her death a cash basis holder,—
 - (a) nothing in subsection (7) or in any requirement under this section that a cash basis holder be a natural person, in respect of the income year in which the death occurred and in each of the 4 immediately succeeding income years, applies to prevent the trustee of the estate of the deceased person from being a cash basis holder for the purposes of this Act in respect of financial arrangements issued or held by the estate, where the estate would otherwise qualify as a cash basis holder under this section; but

- (b) if at any time during those income years the estate ceases to so otherwise qualify as a cash basis holder, it does not again qualify to become a cash basis holder by operation of paragraph (a);—

and for the purposes of subsections (4) and (5), any trustee of an estate who is a cash basis holder under this subsection is deemed to be the same person as the deceased cash basis holder.

Section EZ 37(10): repealed, on 1 April 2008, by section 15(1) of the Taxation (Limited Partnerships) Act 2008 (2008 No 2).

EZ 38 Income and expenditure where financial arrangement redeemed or disposed of

- (1) Subject to subsection (2), where, in relation to any person, a financial arrangement matures or is remitted (other than by way of being written off as a bad debt), sold, or otherwise transferred by the person in any income year, the amount of the base price adjustment in relation to that income year, that person, and that financial arrangement is an amount calculated in accordance with the following formula:

$$a - (b + c)$$

where—

a is,—

- (i) in the case of a holder, the sum of—
- (A) the amount of all consideration that has been paid, and all further consideration that has or will become payable, to the person; and
 - (B) any amounts that have been remitted by the person and that are not included in subsubparagraph (A):
- (ii) in the case of an issuer, the sum of—
- (A) the amount of all consideration that has been paid, and all further consideration that has or will become payable, by the person; and
 - (B) the amount paid by the person associated with the issuer if the issuer is the debtor of a debt to which section EZ 41 applies—in relation to the financial arrangement

b is the acquisition price of the financial arrangement in relation to the person

c is,—

- (i) in the case of a holder, all amounts that are income derived, less the aggregate of amounts of expenditure deemed to be incurred under section EZ 35 or EZ 42 or deemed to be a deduction under section EZ 37 by the person in respect of the financial arrangement in all previous income years since the acquisition of the financial arrangement; and
 - (ii) in the case of an issuer, all amounts of expenditure incurred in respect of the financial arrangement in all previous income years since the issue of the financial arrangement, less the aggregate of—
 - (A) all amounts that are income deemed to be derived under section EZ 35 or EZ 37 or EZ 42 by the person in respect of the financial arrangement in all previous income years since the issue of the financial arrangement; and
 - (B) all amounts that are dividends derived by the person from the release of the obligation to repay the amount lent; and
 - (C) all amounts that are income of the person under section CF 2 in respect of the financial arrangement.
- (2) Where, in relation to a financial arrangement, a person is a cash basis holder, and the financial arrangement matures or is remitted (other than by way of being written off as a bad debt), sold, or otherwise transferred by that person in any income year, the amount of the cash base price adjustment in relation to that income year, that person, and that financial arrangement is an amount calculated in accordance with the following formula:
$$a - (b + c)$$
where—
 - a is the sum of all consideration derived in respect of the financial arrangement by the person, and amounts remitted by the person
 - b is the acquisition price of the financial arrangement
 - c is the sum of all amounts that are income derived by the person, less the aggregate of amounts of expenditure deemed to be incurred under sections EZ 35 and EZ 42 or deemed to be a deduction under section EZ 37.
- (3) Subject to subsection (5), the amount of the base price adjustment in relation to any financial arrangement and any income year is,—
 - (a) in relation to a holder,—
 - (i) where it is a positive amount, deemed to be income derived by the holder in the income year; and
 - (ii) where it is a negative amount, deemed to be a deduction of the holder in the income year:
 - (b) in relation to an issuer,—

- (i) where it is a positive amount, deemed to be expenditure incurred by the issuer in the income year; and
 - (ii) where it is a negative amount, deemed to be income derived by the issuer in the income year.
- (4) Subject to subsection (5), the amount of the cash base price adjustment in relation to any financial arrangement and any income year is,—
 - (a) where it is a positive amount, deemed to be income derived by the cash basis holder in the income year; and
 - (b) where it is a negative amount, deemed to be a deduction of the cash basis holder in the income year.
- (5) Notwithstanding anything in section EZ 50(3), where a financial arrangement is sold or otherwise transferred by a person for a consideration influenced by—
 - (a) a decline in the creditworthiness of the issuer between the date of acquisition of the financial arrangement by the holder and the date of sale or other transfer; or
 - (b) an increase in the possibility that the issuer may fail to meet any obligations under the financial arrangement between the date of acquisition of the financial arrangement by the holder and the date of sale or other transfer; or
 - (c) the occurrence of any event reducing or cancelling the obligations of an issuer under the financial arrangement,— all amounts that would have been received but for the factors listed above are deemed, in calculating the base price adjustment or cash base price adjustment, to have become payable to the holder:

provided that this subsection does not apply where the business of the holder comprises holding or dealing in financial arrangements of that class, and the issuer of the financial arrangement and the holder are not associated persons.
- (6) Where—
 - (a) a person has been released from the obligation to make payment of an amount—
 - (i) under a financial arrangement by operation of section 304 of the Insolvency Act 2006; or
 - (ii) under any of the Inland Revenue Acts (and whether the relief arises through remission, waiver, or cancellation); or
 - (iii) under a social assistance suspensory loan by virtue of that person satisfying the conditions referred to in subsection (8)(c)(ii); and
 - (b) that amount would, but for this subsection, be taken into account in determining the income derived by or expenditure incurred by that person under the old financial arrangements rules,— that amount is, for the purpose of determining the income derived by or expenditure incurred by that person, and notwithstanding the old financial arrangements rules (other than this subsection), deemed to have been paid under that financial arrangement when the obligation to make payment has been so released.

- (7) Notwithstanding anything in this Act, where and to the extent that a person (in this subsection called the surety) suffers expenditure or a loss under a security arrangement and the expenditure or loss, in whole or in part, is due to—
- (a) the actions of; or
 - (b) the occurrence, or failure to occur, of an event that was potentially or actually subject to the influence of—the surety or any person with whom the surety was, during the term of the security arrangement, an associated person, no deduction is allowed to the surety or any person in relation to the expenditure or loss.

- (8) In this section,—
- (a) the expression holder, in relation to a financial arrangement, includes a person who ceases to be a holder of the financial arrangement as provided in subsection (1) or (2); and
 - (b) the expression issuer, in relation to a financial arrangement, includes a person who ceases to be an issuer of the financial arrangement as provided in subsection (1); and
 - (c) the expression social assistance suspensory loan means a loan—
 - (i) made by a department or instrument of the Executive Government of New Zealand; and
 - (ii) under whose terms the issuer's liability may be remitted in whole or in part if the issuer satisfies conditions intended to promote a social policy objective of the Government of New Zealand; and
 - (iii) of a kind that is declared by the Governor-General by Order in Council to be a social assistance suspensory loan; and
 - (d) a financial arrangement is deemed to be remitted where—
 - (i) the issuer has been discharged from making all remaining payments under that financial arrangement without fully adequate consideration; or
 - (ii) the issuer has been released from making all remaining payments under that financial arrangement by the operation of the Insolvency Act 2006 or the Companies Act 1993 or the laws of any country or territory other than New Zealand, or by any deed or agreement of composition with its creditors; or

- (iii) all of the remaining payments under the financial arrangement have become irrecoverable or unenforceable by action through the lapse of time; or
 - (iv) the financial arrangement is a debt that is disposed of at a discount to a person associated with the debtor under the circumstances described in section EZ 41; and
- (e) where a person ceases to be a New Zealand resident any financial arrangement in relation to which that person is an issuer or a holder is deemed, in relation to the person, to have been transferred for its market value at that date.

EZ 39 Forgiveness of debt

- (1) In determining the income or expenditure under the base price adjustment in section EZ 38, an amount owing under a debt, including an amount accrued and unpaid at the time of the forgiveness, is treated as paid when forgiven under the old financial arrangements rules if—
- (a) the creditor is a natural person who forgives the debt, whether in a will or otherwise, because of the natural love and affection the creditor has for the debtor; or
 - (b) the creditor is a natural person who forgives the debt owing by a trust, whether in a will or otherwise, and the trust was established primarily to benefit—
 - (i) a natural person for whom the creditor has natural love and affection; or
 - (ii) an organisation or a trust whose income is exempt under section CW 41 or CW 42; or
 - (iii) a natural person that meets paragraph (b)(i) and an organisation or a trust that meets paragraph (b)(ii).
- (2) Subsection (3) applies when a trustee makes a distribution, including a distribution of beneficiary income, to a beneficiary that is neither—
- (a) a natural person for whom the creditor has natural love and affection; nor

- (b) an organisation or a trust whose income is exempt under section CW 41 or CW 42.
- (3) Subsection (4) does not apply when a trustee of a trust (trust A) to which subsection (1)(b) applies makes a distribution to another trust (trust B) if—
 - (a) trust B is a trust described in subparagraph (i), (ii), or (iii) of subsection (1)(b); and
 - (b) subsection (1)(b) would apply to trust B if, at the time the distribution is made, the creditor of trust A were a creditor of trust B, and the creditor had forgiven a debt owing by trust B.
- (4) A distribution to the beneficiary is income derived by the trustee—
 - (a) in the income year in which the distribution is made; and
 - (b) to the extent that the distribution is less than or equal to the total amount of debts forgiven by the creditor.
- (5) If subsection (4) applies, the income derived by the trustee is not income for the purposes of the beneficiary income definition.
- (6) For the purposes of subsection (4), the total amount of debts forgiven by the creditor is reduced by the amount of each distribution that is income derived by the trustee.
- (7) Subsection (4) applies to a distribution made on or after 20 May 1999.

EZ 40 Accrued income written off

- (1) A deduction is allowed to a person for an amount written off by the person as a bad debt in respect of a financial arrangement where and to the extent that—
 - (a) the person derives income in respect of the financial arrangement under any of sections EZ 35, EZ 37(4), EZ 38, and EZ 42; and
 - (b) the amount written off is attributable to that income.
- (2) A deduction is allowed to a person for an amount written off by the person as a bad debt in respect of a financial arrangement (not being an amount allowed as a deduction under subsection (1)) where—
 - (a) the person—
 - (i) carries on a business which comprises holding or dealing in such financial arrangements; and
 - (ii) is not associated with the person owing the amount written off; or
 - (b) the financial arrangement is a trade credit and the person carries on a business of dealing in the goods or services for which the trade credit is a debt.
- (3) Where a person receives a security payment in relation to a loss and a deduction is denied to the person for the loss other than under this subsection, the person is allowed a deduction for the loss no greater than the amount of the security payment.

- (4) A deduction for bad debts is allowed under this section only where the requirements of section DB 31(1) and (5) have been met.
- (5) A deduction for a share loss (within the meaning of section DB 24) is allowed under subsection (3) only where the requirements of section DB 24 have been met.

EZ 41 Disposal of debt to associate of debtor

- (1) This section applies to a financial arrangement that is a debt which is disposed of at a discount to a person associated with the debtor on or after 20 May 1999.
- (2) A creditor is treated as having disposed of a debt at a discount if the debt is disposed of to a person associated under the 1988 version provisions with the debtor for 80% or less of the market value of the debt.
- (3) Subsection (4) applies to a debt that is disposed of if its market value was influenced by—
 - (a) the decline in the original debtor's creditworthiness between the date the debt was entered into and the date of disposal; or
 - (b) an increase in the possibility that the original debtor would not pay an amount owing under the debt between the date the debt was entered into and the date of disposal; or
 - (c) an event that occurred which reduced or cancelled the original debtor's obligations under the debt.
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (2), a debt's market value is determined as if its market value were not influenced by a factor listed in subsection (3)(a) to (c).
- (5) If a debt is disposed of at a discount to a person associated with the debtor, the associated person is treated as having provided the debtor with an interest free loan for the amount paid for the debt.
- (6) If the debtor subsequently repays the person associated with the debtor more than the amount the associated person paid for the debt, the excess amount paid by the debtor is—
 - (a) a deduction to the debtor; and
 - (b) income of the person associated with the debtor.

EZ 42 Post facto adjustment

- (1) A financial arrangement is subject to the provisions of this section where—
 - (a) any of the amount or amounts payable under the financial arrangement are determined in the terms of the financial arrangement, as to whole or part, at the discretion of either the issuer or the holder, or both of them, or at the discretion of any other person where either the issuer or the holder and the other person are associated persons; and
 - (b) the change in the amount or amounts payable under the financial arrangement upon the exercise of a discretion as provided for in paragraph (a) does not reflect changes in economic, commodity, industrial, or financial indices or banking or general commercial rates; and
 - (c) the making of such financial arrangements is not generally accepted commercial practice; and
 - (d) the effect of the arrangement is to defeat the intent and application of the old financial arrangements rules.
- (2) Where a financial arrangement is subject to the provisions of this section, both the holder and the issuer of the financial arrangement are required to calculate a post facto adjustment in respect of the following income years:
 - (a) the income year in which the person ceases to be a holder or an issuer, as the case may be, in respect of the financial arrangement; and
 - (b) where the person has not ceased to be a holder or an issuer of the financial arrangement at the end of the fifth income year following the income year of its issue or acquisition by the person, in that fifth income year; and
 - (c) until the person ceases to be an issuer or a holder in respect of the financial arrangement, in every fifth income year succeeding the income year in which the post facto adjustment was last required to be made under this section.

- (3) In order to calculate the post facto adjustment, a person must,—
- (a) having regard to all amounts specified in section EZ 35(1) which have been paid or are payable, in respect of the financial arrangement, since acquisition or issue of the financial arrangement by the person to the end of the income year in which the post facto adjustment applies, calculate amounts of income or expenditure under the arrangement for each income year using the yield to maturity method as prescribed in a determination made by the Commissioner for the purposes of section EZ 35(2):
- provided that where the post facto adjustment is made at a time determined by subsection (2)(b) or (c), the person is, for the purpose of the post facto adjustment calculation, deemed to have transferred the financial arrangement for an amount equal to its market value on the last day of the income year; and
- (b) recalculate the income tax liability for each income year using the amounts of income or expenditure calculated under paragraph (a) in substitution for the amounts of income or expenditure previously calculated in respect of the financial arrangement for each income year.
- (4) Where a person has been required to calculate the post facto adjustment, the person is required to make a special return in respect of the post facto adjustment in the form required by the Commissioner, no later than the time at which that person is required to file an annual return for the income year in which the post facto adjustment is made.
- (5) Despite the time bar, the Commissioner must amend the person's assessment for the income years to which the post facto adjustment relates in accordance with the alterations to that income or expenditure as calculated by the post facto adjustment.

EZ 44 Relationship with rest of Act

- (1) Notwithstanding any other provision in this Act, income or expenditure in an income year in respect of a financial arrangement under the old financial arrangements rules is calculated under those rules.

- (2) Expenditure incurred under the old financial arrangements rules is not included in—
- (a) the cost of trading stock, for small taxpayers:
 - (b) the cost of revenue account property:
 - (c) the cost of livestock:
 - (d) the cost of bloodstock:
 - (e) the cost of acquiring a film or a film right:
 - (f) film production expenditure:
 - (g) the cost of timber:
 - (h) petroleum exploration expenditure or petroleum development expenditure.
- (3) Where—
- (a) property is transferred under a financial arrangement; and
 - (b) the property or the consideration given for the property is relevant under any provision of this Act other than the old financial arrangements rules for the purpose of determining any amount of income or deduction of a person,—

the property is treated for the purpose of that provision as having been transferred under the financial arrangement for an amount equal to the acquisition price of the property.

EZ 45 Application of old financial arrangements rules

The old financial arrangements rules do not apply—

- (a) in relation to a person and a financial arrangement, where the financial arrangement was issued or acquired by the person before the implementation date for the financial arrangement; or
- (b) in relation to a financial arrangement, where the issue, in the case of an issuer, or acquisition, in the case of a holder, of the financial arrangement is under a binding contract in existence before the implementation date in relation to that financial arrangement:
provided that this paragraph does not apply in relation to a rollover, extension, or advance provided for before the implementation date in relation to the financial arrangement where the rollover, extension, or advance occurs on or after 1 April 1990; or
- (c) in relation to a person and a financial arrangement, where the person acquired the financial arrangement in accordance with a relationship agreement and the transferor, in relation to the financial arrangement, was a person to whom paragraph (a) or (b) applied; or

- (d) in relation to a financial arrangement, where the issue, in the case of an issuer, or acquisition, in the case of a holder, of the financial arrangement is under and in terms of a rollover, extension, or advance provided for before the implementation date in relation to the financial arrangement and the rollover, extension, or advance occurs before 1 April 1990; or
- (e) to the determination of—
 - (i) income of or expenditure incurred by a person not resident in New Zealand in relation to a financial arrangement where and to the extent that the financial arrangement does not relate to a business carried on by that person through a fixed establishment in New Zealand; or
 - (ii) non-resident passive income; or
- (f) in relation to a financial arrangement to the extent that the income or expenditure incurred by a person in respect of the financial arrangement consists of interest payable to or by the Commissioner under Part 7 of the Tax Administration Act 1994, being interest payable in relation to the income tax liability of the taxpayer in respect of the 1994–95 income year or any subsequent income year.

EZ 46 Election to treat short term trade credit as financial arrangement

- (1) For the purposes of the old financial arrangements rules, a taxpayer may elect by notice given in accordance with subsection (2) to treat short term trade credits specified in subsection (4) as financial arrangements.
- (2) Notice of an election under subsection (1) in relation to an income year must be given to the Commissioner within the time within which a vendor or a purchaser is required under section 37 of the Tax Administration Act 1994 to furnish a return of income for the income year to which the election is to apply.
- (3) An election by the taxpayer under subsection (1) may be revoked by notice given to the Commissioner during any income year and the revocation applies only to short term trade credits created on or after the commencement of the subsequent income year.
- (4) An election under subsection (1) may be made in respect of—
 - (a) all short term trade credits of the taxpayer; or
 - (b) 1 or more classes of short term trade credits of the taxpayer that the taxpayer defines by reference either—
 - (i) to the particular currency in which the short term trade credit is denominated; or
 - (ii) to the term of the short term trade credit; or

- (iii) to both the term and the particular currency in which the short term trade credit is denominated.

EZ 48 Definitions

For the purposes of the old financial arrangements rules, each of the following terms has the meaning given to it, despite any other meaning given to the term in section YA 1 for any other purpose and unless the context otherwise requires:

acquisition price,—

- (a) in relation to a financial arrangement and a holder of the financial arrangement, means an amount calculated in accordance with the following formula:

$$y - z$$

where—

y is the core acquisition price of the financial arrangement

z is the smaller of—

- (i) the amount of consideration provided in relation to the financial arrangement by the holder that is not contingent on the implementation of the financial arrangement; and
- (ii) an amount equal to 2% of the core acquisition price of the financial arrangement; and

- (b) in relation to a financial arrangement and an issuer of the financial arrangement, means an amount calculated in accordance with the following formula:

$$y + z$$

where—

y is the core acquisition price of the financial arrangement

z is the smaller of—

- (i) the amount of consideration provided in relation to the financial arrangement by the issuer that is not contingent on the implementation of the financial arrangement; and
- (ii) an amount equal to 2% of the core acquisition price of the financial arrangement agreement for the sale and purchase of property, in relation to a person, means a financial arrangement that is an agreement (whether conditional or unconditional) entered into by the person to purchase or otherwise acquire or sell or otherwise dispose of property; but does not include an option, a specified option, or a futures contract amount of all consideration, in the definition of core acquisition price, in relation to a person and to an agreement for the sale and purchase of property or a specified option, where all or part of the consideration provided to the holder is property, means the aggregate of the amount calculated in respect of that property in the manner provided in subparagraph (i) or (ii) of item “w” in paragraph (c) of the definition of core acquisition price and any consideration provided to the holder in relation to the financial arrangement, other than the property provided to the holder core acquisition price, in relation to a financial arrangement, means,—

- (a) where section EZ 50 applies, the amount determined under that section; and
- (b) where the financial arrangement is a trade credit, an amount calculated in accordance with the following formula:

$$u + v$$

where—

u is—

- (i) the cash price of the goods or services to which the trade credit relates (referred to in this item and item “v” as the specified goods or services), as determined by section 5 of the Credit Contracts and Consumer Finance Act 2003; or
- (ii) if subparagraph (i) is not applicable, the lowest price at which the specified goods or services could be purchased under a short term trade credit; or

- (iii) if subparagraphs (i) and (ii) are not applicable, the discounted value of the amounts payable for the specified goods or services, as determined under a determination made by the Commissioner under section 90(1)(h) of the Tax Administration Act 1994
 - v is,—
 - (i) in relation to a holder of the financial arrangement, the amount of all consideration provided by the holder in relation to the financial arrangement, other than the specified goods or services; or

EZ 49 Determination of core acquisition price where consideration for property denominated in foreign currency

- (1) For the purposes of paragraph (c) of the definition of core acquisition price in section EZ 48, if the consideration payable under the relevant financial arrangement for the specified property is denominated in a foreign currency, the lowest price referred to in that paragraph must be the lowest price the parties would have agreed upon in that foreign currency converted into New Zealand dollars using, at the option of the taxpayer,—
 - (a) the rate, on the day on which the financial arrangement was entered into (in this section referred to as the contract date), available to the taxpayer from a New Zealand registered bank for the exchange of New Zealand dollars for that foreign currency on the day on which the first right in the specified property is to be transferred (in this section referred to as the rights date); or
 - (b) if the period between the rights date and the day on which final payment is to be made under the financial arrangement (in this section referred to as the settlement date) is not greater than 5 years, the rate, on the contract date, available to the taxpayer from a New Zealand registered bank for the exchange of New Zealand dollars for that foreign currency on the settlement date; or
 - (c) an exchange rate approved by the Commissioner for adoption under this subsection in the circumstances applicable to the taxpayer in a determination issued under section 90(1)(k) of the Tax Administration Act 1994.
- (2) The rate adopted by a taxpayer in relation to a financial arrangement under subsection (1) must be consistently applied by that taxpayer in respect of that particular financial arrangement for the purposes of the old financial arrangements rules for every income year during its term.
- (3) If the terms of the financial arrangement referred to in subsection (1) are such that the actual rights date is uncertain as at the contract date, then the rights date is for the purposes of subsection (1) the date on which it is reasonably expected by the parties at the time of entering into the financial arrangement that the first right in the specified property will be transferred.
- (4) If the terms of the financial arrangement referred to in subsection (1) are such that the actual settlement date is uncertain as at the contract date, then the settlement date is for the purposes of subsection (1) the date on which it is reasonably expected by the parties at the time of entering into the financial arrangement that final payment will be made.

EZ 50 Rules for non-market transactions

- (1) Where the Commissioner, having regard to any connection between the parties to the issue or transfer of a financial arrangement and to any other relevant circumstances, is satisfied that the parties were dealing with each other in relation to the issue or transfer in a manner that has the effect of defeating the intent and application of the old financial arrangements rules, the Commissioner may, under section EZ 35 or EZ 37 or EZ 38 or EZ 42, deem the consideration for the issue or transfer to be equal to the consideration that might reasonably be expected for the issue or transfer if the parties to the issue or transfer were independent parties dealing at arm's length with each other in relation to the issue or transfer.
- (2) If at any time a person not resident in New Zealand—
 - (a) commences to hold, whether temporarily or otherwise, a financial arrangement, for the purposes of a business carried on through a fixed establishment in New Zealand, the person is deemed to have acquired the financial arrangement at that time; or
 - (b) ceases to hold, whether temporarily or otherwise, a financial arrangement for the purposes of a business carried on through a fixed establishment in New Zealand, the person is deemed to have disposed of the financial arrangement at that time; or
 - (c) being a holder or an issuer of a financial arrangement, becomes a New Zealand resident, the person is deemed to acquire or to issue the financial arrangement at the time at which the person becomes a New Zealand resident;—

and that acquisition or that disposal is deemed to have been made for a consideration equal to the consideration that might reasonably be expected for the acquisition or disposal if the acquisition or disposal had been made at arm's length.

- (3) A financial arrangement is treated as having been sold and purchased or transferred and realised at its market value on the date of its sale or transfer if the sale or transfer, including a transfer by way of distribution to shareholders, is not for consideration in money or is for a consideration that is less than the market value of the financial arrangement.
- (4) The market value of a financial arrangement is the market value for both seller and purchaser or transferor and transferee.

EZ 51 Transitional adjustment when changing to financial arrangements rules

- (1) A person may elect to apply the financial arrangements rules to a financial arrangement to which the old financial arrangements rules apply.
- (2) A person who makes an election must apply the financial arrangements rules to all financial arrangements to which the person is a holder or an issuer.

- (3) Despite subsections (1) and (2), a person must apply section EZ 38 if that section applies to a financial arrangement in the income year in which the election is made.
- (4) Once an election is made, the financial arrangement is subject to the financial arrangements rules and is treated in the same way as a financial arrangement that was entered into on or after 20 May 1999.
- (5) A person who makes an election must calculate a transitional adjustment for the income year of election and return the resulting income or expenditure.
- (6) The transitional adjustment is calculated using the formula—
- $$\begin{aligned} & \text{income (financial arrangements rules)} \\ & - \text{expenditure (financial arrangements rules)} \\ & - \text{income (old financial arrangements rules)} \\ & + \text{expenditure (old financial arrangements rules)} \end{aligned}$$

where—

income (financial arrangements rules) is the total amount of income that would be derived by the person from the financial arrangement if the financial arrangements rules were applied to the financial arrangement for the period beginning on the date the person acquires the arrangement and ending on the last day of the income year in which this calculation is made expenditure (financial arrangements rules) is the total amount of expenditure that would be incurred by the person under the financial arrangement if the financial arrangements rules were applied to the financial arrangement for the period beginning on the date the person acquires the arrangement and ending on the last day of the income year in which this calculation is made income (old financial arrangements rules) is the total amount of income of the person from the financial arrangement in all income years before the income year in which this calculation is made expenditure (old financial arrangements rules) is the total amount of expenditure incurred by the person under the financial arrangement in all income years before the income year in which this calculation is made.

- (7) The result of the transitional adjustment is,—
- (a) if a positive amount, income derived by the person in the income year; and
 - (b) if a negative amount, expenditure incurred by the person in the income year.
- (8) In the income year in which the transitional adjustment is made to a financial arrangement, a person must take into account only the income derived or the expenditure incurred as a result of the adjustment for the financial arrangement.

- (9) Despite subsections (2) to (8), a person is treated as transferring a financial arrangement at market value at the end of the income year of election and must calculate a base price adjustment under section EZ 38 if—
- (a) the financial arrangement is an arrangement to which the old financial arrangements rules apply; and
 - (b) the financial arrangement were entered into on or after 20 May 1999 and would not have been subject to the financial arrangements rules; and
 - (c) the person elects to apply the financial arrangements rules to a financial arrangement to which the old financial arrangements rules apply.

Compare: 2004 No 35 s EZ 48

EZ 52 References to new rules include old rules

- (1) Subsection (2) applies if—
- (a) the old financial arrangement rules apply to a financial arrangement (old financial arrangement); and
 - (b) a taxation law in this Act (rewritten law) refers only to, or applies only to, a financial arrangement to which the financial arrangements rules apply; and
 - (c) the rewritten law is in neither subpart EW nor sections EZ 33 to EZ 51; and
 - (d) the rewritten law corresponds to and replaces, with or without amendments, a taxation law that applied to the old financial arrangement before 20 May 1999.
- (2) The rewritten law applies to the old financial arrangement as if the rewritten law referred to, or applied to, a financial arrangement to which the old financial arrangements rules apply.
- (3) Subsection (2) does not apply to—
- (a) a definition, or parts of a definition, in section YA 1 if that definition or part refers to section EZ 48; or
 - (b) section GB 21, because the former taxation law to which it corresponds has been re-enacted as section EZ 50.
- (4) Section FM 8(3)(b)(ii) applies to a financial arrangement to which the old financial arrangements rules apply as if—
- (a) the reference to section EW 31 were to section EZ 38; and
 - (b) the words “financial arrangements rules” read “old financial arrangements rules”.

EZ 52B Consistency of use of IFRS method: Determination G3 change allowed*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies to a financial arrangement of a person—
- (a) for the 2009–10 income year, unless paragraph (b) or (c) applies;
 - (b) for the 2008–09 or the 2009–10 income year (a retrospective year) if—
 - (i) the financial arrangement is subject to a creditor workout in a retrospective year; and
 - (ii) the person notifies the Commissioner of their election to apply this section to the financial arrangement for a retrospective year;
 - (c) for an income year after the 2009–10 income year, if—
 - (i) the financial arrangement is subject to a creditor workout in the relevant income year; and
 - (ii) the person notifies the Commissioner of their election to apply this section to the financial arrangement for the relevant income year before the last day for filing a return of income for that income year.

Exception modified

- (2) For the purposes of the exception in section EW 25B(2) (Consistency of use of IFRS method), the person may change a method for IFRS for the financial arrangement if—
- (a) the method they change to or from is Determination G3 under section EW 15E(2)(aa) (Determination alternatives) or an alternative to Determination G3 under section EW 15E(2)(e) (What is included when spreading methods used); and
 - (b) that method is available to them to use.

Defined in this Act: creditor workout, financial arrangement, IFRS, income year, notify

Section EZ 52B: added (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 198 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EZ 52B(1)(b)(ii): amended, on 2 June 2016, by section 44(1) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

Section EZ 52B(1)(c)(ii): amended, on 2 June 2016, by section 44(2) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

Section EZ 52B(2)(a): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 7 December 2009, by section 40 of the Taxation (Consequential Rate Alignment and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 63).

Section EZ 52B list of defined terms notify: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 44(3) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

EZ 52C Change of spreading method: Determination G22 to Determination G22A

How and when this section applies

- (1) This section does not alter or affect a person's tax position in relation to Determination G22: Optional convertible notes denominated in New Zealand dollars convertible at the option of the holder or the person's litigation of their tax position in relation to Determination G22. It does not alter or affect the Commissioner's assessment of, or litigation of, that tax position. It applies after Determination G22 has applied for a person's financial arrangement, and only if, for the financial arrangement,—
 - (a) Determination G22A: Optional convertible notes denominated in New Zealand dollars did not apply while Determination G22 applied, because of the application of section 90AE of the Tax Administration Act 1994, or the application of Determination G22A, clause 3(1)(b); and
 - (b) Determination G22A starts applying immediately after—
 - (i) section 90AE of the Tax Administration Act 1994 stops applying; or
 - (ii) Determination G22A, clause 3(1)(b) stops applying.

Spreading method adjustment

- (2) Despite sections EW 26 and EW 27 (which relate to changes of spreading method), the person must not calculate a spreading method adjustment under section EW 27 for the change of spreading method, for the financial arrangement, from Determination G22 to Determination G22A.

Part years under Determinations instead of spreading method adjustment

- (3) In the income year in which subsection (2) applies, for the financial arrangement, Determination G22 applies for the part-year before the change to Determination G22A, and Determination G22A applies for the part-year after the change from Determination G22.

Defined in this Act: amount, assessment, financial arrangement, spreading method, tax position

Section EZ 52C: inserted, on 26 September 2010, by section 51 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

Section EZ 52C list of defined terms tax position: inserted, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EZ 52D Base price adjustment: financial arrangements to which Determination G22 and Determination G22A applied

How and when this section applies

- (1) This section does not alter or affect a person's tax position in relation to Determination G22 or the person's litigation of their tax position in relation to Determination G22. It does not alter or affect the Commissioner's assessment of, or litigation of, that tax position. It applies after Determination G22 has applied for a person's financial arrangement, and only if, for the financial arrangement,—

- (a) section EZ 52C applied; and
- (b) Determination G22A applies when the person is required to calculate a base price adjustment for the financial arrangement.

Consideration adjustment

- (2) For the financial arrangement, the consideration referred to in section EW 31(7) (Base price adjustment formula) is adjusted in accordance with subsections (3) to (6).

Issuer

- (3) If the person is the issuer of the financial arrangement, an amount calculated under subsections (5) and (6) is added to all consideration that has been paid, and all consideration that is or will be payable, by the issuer for or under the financial arrangement.

Holder

- (4) If the person is a holder of the financial arrangement, an amount, referable to the person's holding, calculated under subsections (5) and (6) is added to all consideration that has been paid, and all consideration that is or will be payable, to the holder for or under the financial arrangement.

Calculation

- (5) For the purposes of subsections (3) and (4) the amount is calculated using the following formula:

$$X - Z.$$

Definition of items in formula

- (6) In the formula,—
 - (a) X is, for the financial arrangement, an amount equal to the item s in Determination G22, clause 6(1), if that item were calculated in accordance with that Determination at the time immediately before the change of spreading method described in section EZ 52C(2);
 - (b) Z is, for the financial arrangement, an amount equal to the item s in Determination G22, clause 6(1), if that item were calculated in accordance with that Determination at the time when it first applied.

Defined in this Act: amount, consideration, financial arrangement, tax position

Section EZ 52D: inserted, on 26 September 2010, by section 51 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

Life insurance transitional adjustment: expected death strain

Heading: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 199(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Expected death strain formulas

Heading: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 199(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EZ 53 How expected death strain is calculated

Calculation of expected death strain: steps

- (1) For an income year, the life insurer calculates their expected death strain by following these steps:
 - (a) first, use the relevant expected death strain formula to calculate an amount for each life insured under each life insurance policy existing at the start of the income year (see: subsections (2) and (3) for guidance on the relevant expected death strain formula):
 - (b) second, for each such life insurance policy, add together the amounts for the lives insured under it:
 - (c) third, add together the totals reached under paragraph (b).

Expected death strain formula (life)

- (2) Section EZ 54(1) sets out the expected death strain formula (life). This is the formula a life insurer uses for an income year, to calculate an amount for a life insured under a life insurance policy, except to the extent to which an annuity is being paid under the policy at some time in the income year.

Expected death strain formula (active annuities)

- (3) Section EZ 54(2) sets out the expected death strain formula (active annuities). This is the formula a life insurer uses for an income year, to calculate an amount for a life insured under a life insurance policy, to the extent to which an annuity is being paid under the policy at some time in the income year.

Defined in this Act: business, income year, life insurance, life insurance policy, life insured, life insurer, pay

Section EZ 53: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 199(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EZ 54 Expected death strain formulas

Expected death strain formula (life)

- (1) The expected death strain formula (life) is—claim probability \times (opening sum assured – opening actuarial reserves).

Expected death strain formula (active annuities)

- (2) The expected death strain formula (active annuities) is—claim probability \times opening actuarial reserves.

Definition of items in formulas

- (3) The items in the formulas are defined in subsections (4) to (6).

Claim probability

- (4) Claim probability is the probability of a claim arising under the policy for the life insured's death in the income year. It is determined at the start of the income year using the same mortality assumptions as are used to calculate the life insurer's actuarial reserves at the start of the income year. It is expressed as a decimal. Variations to claim probability are in sections EZ 55(2) and EZ 57(2).

Opening sum assured

- (5) Opening sum assured is the claim that would be payable under the policy for the life insured's death in the income year or, if no such claim would be payable, the claim that would be payable under the policy for the life insured's survival to the relevant date or age specified in the policy. It is determined at the start of the income year. It may be zero. Variations to opening sum assured are in sections EZ 56(2), EZ 57(3), and EZ 58(2).

Opening actuarial reserves

- (6) Opening actuarial reserves is the amount in the life insurer's actuarial reserves for the life insured under the policy. It is determined at the start of the income year.

Defined in this Act: actuarial reserves, amount, claim, income year, life insured, life insurer, pay

Section EZ 54: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 199(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EZ 55 Expected death strain formulas: option when more than 1 life insured*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a life insurance policy covers more than 1 life insured.

Claim probability

- (2) In using the relevant expected death strain formula, the life insurer may use as claim probability a common factor for all the lives insured under the policy.

Features of common factor

- (3) The common factor must be a reasonable approximation of the average probability of a claim arising under the policy for each life insured's death in the income year. It must be weighted as necessary to take account of—
- (a) differing claims for individual lives insured under the policy; and
 - (b) differing amounts in the life insurer's actuarial reserves for individual lives insured under the policy.

Defined in this Act: actuarial reserves, amount, claim, income year, life insurance policy, life insured, life insurer

Section EZ 55: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 199(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EZ 56 Expected death strain formula (life): when annuity payable on death

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when, and to the extent to which, a life insurance policy provides for the payment of an annuity the start of which is contingent on the life insured's death.

Opening sum assured

- (2) In using the expected death strain formula (life), the life insurer uses as opening sum assured the present value (net) of the annuity. The present value (net) is determined—
 - (a) at the start of the income year; and
 - (b) on the assumption that the life insured died at the start of the income year; and
 - (c) using the same assumptions and bases of calculation as are used to calculate the life insurer's actuarial reserves for the income year.

Defined in this Act: actuarial reserves, income year, life insurance policy, life insured, life insurer, pay, present value (net)

Section EZ 56: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 199(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EZ 56 list of defined terms pay: inserted, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section EZ 56 list of defined terms payment: repealed, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EZ 57 Expected death strain formulas: when annuity payable on survival to date or age specified in policy

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when, and to the extent to which, a life insurance policy provides for the payment of an annuity the start of which is contingent on the life insured's survival to the relevant date or age specified in the policy.

Claim probability

- (2) In using the relevant expected death strain formula, the life insurer must use claim probability as defined in section EZ 54(4), without regard to the fact that the payment of the annuity is not contingent on the life insured's death.

Opening sum assured

- (3) In using the expected death strain formula (life), the life insurer must use as opening sum assured the present value (net) of the annuity. The present value (net) is determined—

- (a) at the relevant date or age specified in the policy; and
- (b) on the assumption that the life insured survived to the date or age; and
- (c) using the same assumptions and bases of calculation as are used to calculate the life insurer's actuarial reserves for the income year.

Defined in this Act: actuarial reserves, income year, life insurance policy, life insured, life insurer, pay, present value (net)

Section EZ 57: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 199(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EZ 57 list of defined terms payment: repealed, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EZ 58 Expected death strain formula (life): when partial reinsurance exists

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a life insurer has partial life reinsurance.

Opening sum assured

- (2) In using the expected death strain formula (life), the life insurer must reduce opening sum assured by the claim receivable by the life insurer under the life reinsurance policy for the contingency against which the life insured is covered under the life insurance policy.

Defined in this Act: claim, life insurance policy, life insured, life insurer, life reinsurance policy, partial reinsurance

Section EZ 58: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 199(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Actuarial reserves

Heading: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 199(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EZ 59 Meaning of actuarial reserves

Actuarial reserves generally

- (1) For the purposes of sections EZ 53 to EZ 58, actuarial reserves means a life insurer's reserves as calculated under section EZ 60.

Closing actuarial reserves for annuities

- (2) For the purposes of the item closing actuarial reserves in section EY 31(3) (Annuities), closing actuarial reserves (active annuities) means a life insurer's opening actuarial reserves under section EZ 54(6) for a life insurance policy, to the extent to which an annuity is being paid under the policy where the life insured dies in the income year for which the formula in section EY 31 is applied. Where the life insured survives to the end of that income year, the closing actuarial reserves (active annuities) is zero.

Link between actuarial reserves and life insurer

- (3) Actuarial reserves, for a life insurer at any time, means the life insurer's actuarial reserves at that time.

Defined in this Act: actuarial reserves, life insurance policy, life insurer

Section EZ 59: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 199(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EZ 60 Actuarial reserves: calculation

Calculation by actuary

- (1) The life insurer's actuarial reserves must be actuarially determined.

All reserves or 1 or more amounts

- (2) The actuary may calculate—
- (a) the actuarial reserves for all the life insurance policies for which the life insurer is the insurer; or
 - (b) the amount in the life insurer's actuarial reserves for 1 or more life insurance policies for which the life insurer is the insurer.

Interest, mortality, and other assumptions and bases of calculation

- (3) The actuary must do the calculation using interest, mortality, and other assumptions and bases of calculation that—
- (a) are based on the same principles as those used in the actuarial advice on which the following are calculated:
 - (i) the level of surplus funds available to the life insurer for allotment or payment to shareholders or policyholders; or
 - (ii) the level of surplus funds available to the life insurer, if a superannuation scheme, for allotment to objects of the scheme other than the object of providing for members' benefits; and
 - (b) are likely to produce a reasonable estimation of the future experience of the life insurer in relation to life insurance policies of which the life insurer is the insurer, having regard to the past experience of the life insurer in relation to life insurance policies of which the life insurer was the insurer; and
 - (c) conform with commercially acceptable practice.

Reserves for policy never negative

- (4) The amount in the actuarial reserves for a life insurance policy must never be negative.

Reserves for all policies never less than total of surrender values

- (5) The actuarial reserves at any time must not be less than the total of the surrender values of all the life insurance policies they cover at that time.

Reserves for policies same at end of one, and start of next, income year

- (6) The amount in the actuarial reserves for life insurance policies at the start of an income year is the same as the amount in the actuarial reserves for the life insurance policies at the end of the previous income year.

Effect of partial reinsurance

- (7) The actuarial reserves of a life insurer who has partial life reinsurance must be reduced by an amount that the actuary responsible for actuarial control of the life insurer considers appropriate having regard to the nature of the life reinsurance policies.

Defined in this Act: actuarial reserves, actuary, amount, income year, life insurance policy, life insurer, life reinsurance policy, partial reinsurance, pay, shareholder, superannuation scheme

Section EZ 60: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 199(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EZ 60 list of defined terms pay: inserted, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section EZ 60 list of defined terms payment: repealed, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Entry to new life insurance regime: transitional and miscellaneous provisions

Heading: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 199(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EZ 61 Allowance for cancelled amount: spreading*Policyholder base allowable deduction*

- (1) For an income year that includes 1 July 2010 and later income years, a life insurer may choose, by a notice received by the Commissioner on or before the last day for furnishing a return of income for the relevant income year or within such further time as the Commissioner may allow, that an amount (the deduction amount) is included as their policyholder base allowable deduction for the income year, if—
- (a) the life insurer has no taxable income, other than in relation to its policyholder base, for the tax year corresponding to the income year, and no taxable income, other than in relation to its policyholder base, for every earlier tax year going back to, and including, the tax year that corresponds with the income year that includes 1 July 2010; and
 - (b) the deduction amount is stated in the notice and it is equal to or less than the least of the following:
 - (i) the available tax loss for the tax year that corresponds with the income year, before applying this section; and

- (ii) the available concession amount for the income year, described in subsection (2); and
- (iii) the amount that would be the life insurer's schedular policyholder base income for the income year, before applying this section for the year.

Available concession amount

- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), the available concession amount for the income year is a positive amount calculated using the formula—base concession amount – used.

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) base concession amount is the lesser of the following:
 - (i) the cancelled amount described in section IT 1 (Cancellation of life insurer's policyholder net losses); and
 - (ii) the amount of available tax loss for the tax year that corresponds with the income year that includes 1 July 2010, before applying this section for the year:
 - (b) used is the total amount of policyholder base allowable deductions that have arisen under this section for income years before the income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, Commissioner, income year, life insurer, net loss, policyholder base, policyholder base allowable deduction, return of income, schedular policyholder base income, tax loss, tax year, taxable income

Section EZ 61: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 199(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EZ 62 Reinsurance transition: life financial reinsurance may be life reinsurance

- (1) If a life contract that is entered into before a life insurer's reinsurance grandparenting start day would be a contract for life financial reinsurance but for this section, then it is treated as life reinsurance, instead of life financial reinsurance, for the period starting on the reinsurance grandparenting start day, and ending on the earlier of,—
- (a) the last day of the term of the contract, as that term is stated in the contract before the reinsurance grandparenting start day; and
 - (b) the day 5 years after the reinsurance grandparenting start day.

Meaning of reinsurance grandparenting start day

- (2) Reinsurance grandparenting start day means—
- (a) 1 July 2010, if the life insurer does not have an early life regime application day; or

- (b) a life insurer's early life regime application day, if the life insurer has an early life regime application day.

Defined in this Act: early life regime application day, income year, life financial reinsurance, life insurer, life reinsurance, reinsurance grandparenting start day

Section EZ 62: inserted, on 1 July 2010, by section 199(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

EZ 63 Disposal and acquisition upon entry

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for a life insurer immediately before a day (the application day) that is—
- (a) 1 July 2010, if the life insurer does not have an early life regime application day; or
- (b) their early life regime application day, if the life insurer does have an early life regime application day.

Disposal and acquisition upon entry

- (2) Immediately before the application day, all of the property of a life insurer that supports actuarial reserves for the purposes of the policyholder income formula in section EY 43 (Policyholder income formula) is treated as disposed of, for market value consideration, to a third person, and immediately re-acquired from that person for the same consideration.

Exclusion

- (3) Property that is an interest in a PIE that is not a listed PIE is excluded from the disposal and re-acquisition described in subsection (2).

Defined in this Act: actuarial reserves, amount, dispose, early life regime application day, income year, life insurer, listed PIE, market value, PIE

Section EZ 63: added, on 30 June 2010, by section 200 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section EZ 63 list of defined terms portfolio-listed company: repealed (with effect on 30 June 2010), on 2 November 2012, by section 66 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

Restructuring under New Zealand Railways Corporation Restructuring Act 1990

Heading: inserted (with effect on 31 December 2012), on 17 July 2013, by section 54 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

EZ 64 New Zealand Railways Corporation restructure: purpose and initial amounts for tax purposes

Purpose

- (1) The purpose of this section, sections CW 65, EZ 65 to EZ 67, and YC 18C (which relate to the New Zealand Railways Corporation restructure) is to ensure that the Railways vesting gives rise to no tax consequences other than those necessary to account for the vesting of the Railways assets and liabilities from a public authority to a state enterprise. The treatments of KiwiRail Holdings Limited, New Zealand Railways Corporation, and associated companies in those sections also applies for the purposes of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Depreciation

- (2) For a Railways asset that is depreciable property, KiwiRail Holdings Limited calculates, on and after 31 December 2012, depreciation recovery income and deductions for amounts of depreciation loss as if KiwiRail Holdings Limited had acquired the asset on 31 December 2012 for the amount recorded in a schedule prepared by KiwiRail Holdings Limited for the purposes of this section.

Financial arrangements: consideration

- (3) KiwiRail Holdings Limited is treated as—
- (a) paying an amount of consideration, for a Railways asset that is a financial arrangement, equal to the amount recorded in KiwiRail Holdings Limited's financial accounts for that arrangement on 31 December 2012:
 - (b) being paid an amount of consideration, for a Railways liability that is a financial arrangement, equal to the amount recorded in KiwiRail Holdings Limited's financial accounts for that arrangement on 31 December 2012.

Financial arrangements: overrides

- (4) Sections EW 38, EW 42, and GB 21 (which relate to financial arrangements) do not apply for the Railways vesting.

Defined in this Act: amount, assessable income, associate, company, consideration, depreciation loss, depreciable property, depreciation recovery income, financial arrangement, pay, public authority, Railways assets and liabilities, Railways vesting, state enterprise

Section EZ 64: inserted (with effect on 31 December 2012), on 17 July 2013, by section 54 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

EZ 65 Expenditure or loss incurred, and amounts derived

Expenditure or loss incurred, and amounts derived

- (1) KiwiRail Holdings Limited and New Zealand Railways Corporation are treated as the same person for the period prior to and including 31 December 2012 for the purpose of determining the following:
- (a) whether a deduction is allowed for an amount of expenditure or loss incurred by KiwiRail Holdings Limited in connection with the Railways assets or liabilities:
 - (b) the amount of any deduction of KiwiRail Holdings Limited in connection with the Railways assets or liabilities:

- (c) whether an amount derived by KiwiRail Holdings Limited in connection with the Railways assets or liabilities is income:
- (d) the amount of any income of KiwiRail Holdings Limited in connection with the Railways assets or liabilities.

Treatment of New Zealand Railways Corporation

- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), New Zealand Railways Corporation is treated as if it was a company that was not a public authority.

Defined in this Act: amount, company, deduction, income, public authority, Railways assets and liabilities

Section EZ 65: inserted (with effect on 31 December 2012), on 17 July 2013, by section 54 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

EZ 66 Prepayments

Deduction

- (1) KiwiRail Holdings Limited has, for the 2012–13 income year, a deduction under section DB 50 (Adjustment for prepayments) for an unexpired portion that is connected with a Railways asset or liability, as described in subsection (2).

Unexpired portion

- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), the unexpired portion is the unexpired portion that New Zealand Railways Corporation would have had by applying section EA 3(4) to (7) (Prepayments) on 30 December 2012 to an amount of expenditure incurred by New Zealand Railways Corporation in connection with a Railways asset or liability, treating—
 - (a) 30 December 2012 as the end of an income year; and
 - (b) New Zealand Railways Corporation as a taxpayer with a deduction for the expenditure, if that expenditure is described in section EA 3(1).

Future application of section EA 3

- (3) For the 2012–13 income year and later income years, section EA 3 applies to KiwiRail Holdings Limited as if it had been allowed a deduction for expenditure to which subsection (1) applies.

Defined in this Act: deduction, income year, Railways asset, Railways liability, taxpayer

Section EZ 66: inserted (with effect on 31 December 2012), on 17 July 2013, by section 54 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

EZ 67 Leased assets

Allocation of expenditure

- (1) KiwiRail Holdings Limited calculates, for the 2012–13 income year, an expenditure allocation under section EJ 10 (Personal property lease payments) for a personal property lease payment that is connected with a Railways asset or liability as if 31 December were the start of the 2012–13 income year.

Future application of section EJ 10

- (2) For the 2013–14 income year and later income years, section EJ 10 applies to KiwiRail Holdings Limited as if, for the period up to and including 31 December 2012, New Zealand Railways Corporation and KiwiRail Holdings Limited were the same person.

Defined in this Act: deduction, income year, personal property lease payment, Railways assets and liabilities

Section EZ 67: inserted (with effect on 31 December 2012), on 17 July 2013, by section 54 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

EZ 68 Definitions

In sections EZ 64 to EZ 67,— asset—

- (a) means property of any kind, whether or not situated in New Zealand, whether tangible or intangible, real or personal, corporeal or incorporeal, and whether or not subject to rights; and
- (b) includes—
- (i) land, including legal and equitable rights of occupation of land or buildings:
 - (ii) buildings, vehicles, plant equipment, machinery, fixtures and fittings, and legal and equitable rights in them:
 - (iii) choses in action and money:
 - (iv) legal and equitable rights of any kind, and applications, objections, submissions, and appeals in respect of those rights:
 - (v) intellectual property and applications pending for intellectual property:
 - (vi) goodwill, and any business undertaking

legal and equitable rights includes all rights, powers, privileges, interests, leases, licences, approvals, consents, designations, permissions, dispensations, authorisations, benefits, defences, immunities, claims, and equities of any kind, whether arising from, accruing under, created or evidenced by, or the subject of, an instrument or otherwise, and whether liquidated or unliquidated, actual, contingent, or prospective liabilities means liabilities, debts, charges, duties, and obligations of every description, whether present or future, actual or contingent, and whether payable or to be observed or performed in New Zealand or elsewhere

Railways assets and liabilities means assets and liabilities, or parts of assets and liabilities, as the case may be, specified in an Order in Council made under the New Zealand Railways Corporation Restructuring Act 1990, and Railways assets and Railways liabilities have corresponding meanings

Railways vesting means the vesting of the Railways assets and liabilities in KiwiRail Holdings Limited on 31 December 2012 in accordance with the New Zealand Railways Corporation Restructuring Act 1990.

Defined in this Act: apply, asset, land, legal and equitable rights, liabilities, New Zealand, Railways assets and liabilities, Railways vesting

Section EZ 68: inserted (with effect on 31 December 2012), on 17 July 2013, by section 54 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

Section EZ 68 list of defined terms apply: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 74 of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

IFRS financial reporting method

Heading: inserted, on 1 April 2014 (applying for the 2014–15 and later income years), by section 67 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

EZ 69 IFRS financial reporting method: interest-free and low-interest loans

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) section EW 15D(2)(ac) or (ad) (IFRS financial reporting method) modifies an IFRS rule so that the person does not allocate interest for a financial arrangement for the 2014–15 income year; and
 - (b) the person has allocated, for the financial arrangement for the 2013–14 income year, an amount that the person would not be allowed to allocate if section EW 15D(2)(ac) and (ad) applied for the 2013–14 income year.

Change of spreading method

- (2) The change from the allocation treatment described in subsection (1)(b) (the old method) to the non-allocation treatment described in subsection (1)(a) (the new method) is treated as a change for the 2014–15 income year under section EW 26(2). Sections EW 26(3), (4) and EW 27 apply accordingly, but section EW 26(6) does not apply.

Defined in this Act: financial arrangement, IFRS, income year

Section EZ 69: inserted, on 1 April 2014 (applying for the 2014–15 and later income years), by section 67(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

EZ 69B IFRS financial reporting method: equity or other comprehensive income

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) section EW 15D(2)(b) (IFRS financial reporting method) modifies an IFRS rule so that the person must allocate an amount of equity or other comprehensive income for a financial arrangement to the 2015–16 income year for tax purposes; and

- (b) the person does not allocate, for the financial arrangement, an amount of equity or other comprehensive income to the 2014–15 income year that the person would be required to allocate if the requirement referred to in paragraph (a) applied for the 2014–15 income year.

Change of spreading method

- (2) The change from the non-allocation treatment described in subsection (1)(b) to the allocation treatment described in subsection (1)(a) is treated as a change of spreading method for the 2015–16 income year under section EW 26(2) (Change of spreading method). Sections EW 26(3) and (4) and EW 27 (Spreading method adjustment formula) apply accordingly, but section EW 26(6) does not apply.

Defined in this Act: financial arrangement, IFRS, income year

Section EZ 69B: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2015 and applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 158(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Damage from Canterbury earthquakes

Heading: inserted, on 1 April 2016 (applying for the 2016–17 and later income years), by section 68(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

EZ 70 Insurance for Canterbury earthquake damage of property: treatment as disposal and reacquisition

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for a person and an item of depreciable property and an income year before the 2019–20 income year when—
 - (a) the item is damaged by a Canterbury earthquake as that term is defined in section 4 of the Canterbury Earthquake Recovery Act 2011; and
 - (b) the person is entitled to an amount of insurance or compensation for the damage to the item; and
 - (c) the item is assessed by the payer of the insurance or compensation (the insurer) as uneconomic to repair; and
 - (d) the damage does not meet the requirements of section EE 47(4) (Events for purposes of section EE 44).

Treatment as disposal and reacquisition of item

- (2) The person is treated as, on the date of the Canterbury earthquake,—
 - (a) disposing of the item for the amount of insurance or compensation; and
 - (b) reacquiring the item for zero consideration.

Relationship with section EE 52

- (3) This section overrides section EE 52 (Amount of depreciation recovery income when compensation received).

Defined in this Act: amount, depreciable property, income year

Section EZ 70: inserted, on 1 April 2016 (applying for the 2016–17 and later income years), by section 68(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

Section EZ 70 heading: amended, on 1 April 2016, by section 159(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section EZ 70(2) heading: amended, on 1 April 2016, by section 159(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EZ 71 Insurance for Canterbury earthquake damage of property: limit on depreciation recovery income

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for a person and an item of depreciable property and an income year before the 2019–20 income year when—
- (a) the item is damaged by a Canterbury earthquake as that term is defined in section 4 of the Canterbury Earthquake Recovery Act 2011; and
 - (b) the person is entitled to an amount of insurance or compensation for the damage to the item; and
 - (c) the damage does not meet the requirements of section EE 47(4) (Events for purposes of section EE 44); and
 - (d) section EZ 70 does not apply for the item.

Limit on depreciation recovery income under section EE 52

- (2) If the person would derive depreciation recovery income under section EE 52 (Amount of depreciation recovery income when compensation received) in an income year for the item in the absence of this section, the person derives in the income year an amount of depreciation recovery income equal to the lesser of—
- (a) the amount of depreciation recovery income under section EE 52 that the person would derive in the income year for the item in the absence of this section;
 - (b) the total of the amounts of depreciation loss for which the person has been allowed deductions for the item.

Relationship with section EE 52

- (3) This section overrides section EE 52.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, depreciable property, depreciation loss, depreciation recovery income, income year

Section EZ 71: inserted, on 1 April 2016 (applying for the 2016–17 and later income years), by section 68(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

EZ 72 Item treated as available for use if access restricted due to Canterbury earthquake

An item of depreciable property is treated for an income year as being available for use while access to the item is affected by a restriction imposed due to the effects of a Canterbury earthquake (as defined in section 4 of the Canterbury Earthquake Recovery Act 2011), if—

- (a) the item was used or available for use immediately before the restriction was imposed; and
- (b) the item would be used or available for use in the absence of the restriction; and
- (c) the income year is the 2018–19 or an earlier income year.

Defined in this Act: depreciable property, income year

Section EZ 72: inserted, on 1 April 2016 (applying for the 2016–17 and later income years), by section 68(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

EZ 73 Insurance for Canterbury earthquake damage causing disposal: optional timing rule for income, deductions

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for a person and an item of depreciable property when—
 - (a) the item is damaged by a Canterbury earthquake as that term is defined in section 4 of the Canterbury Earthquake Recovery Act 2011; and
 - (b) the damage—
 - (i) results in the item being affected by a disposal and reacquisition under section EZ 70; or
 - (ii) meets the requirements of section EE 47(4) (Events for purposes of section EE 44); and
 - (c) the person is entitled to an amount of insurance or compensation for the damage to the item; and
 - (d) the person chooses to apply this section for all items of depreciable property meeting the requirements of paragraphs (a) to (c).

Attribution of income from insurance and disposal

- (2) If the amount of insurance or compensation for the damage (the insurance receipt) is derived or able to be reasonably estimated before the end of the 2018–19 income year, the person’s income from the insurance receipt and the consideration derived from the disposal of the item is attributed to the earlier of—
 - (a) the 2018–19 income year;
 - (b) the first income year in which—
 - (i) the amount of the cost of disposing of the item (the disposal cost) is or has been incurred or able to be reasonably estimated; and

- (ii) the insurance receipt is or has been derived or able to be reasonably estimated; and
- (iii) the consideration from the disposal of the item is or has been derived or able to be reasonably estimated.

Attribution of deductions

- (3) If the disposal cost is incurred or able to be reasonably estimated before the end of the 2018–19 income year, the person’s deductions for the disposal cost and for depreciation loss under section EE 48 (Effect of disposal or event) are attributed to the earlier of—
- (a) the 2018–19 income year;
 - (b) the first income year in which—
 - (i) the disposal cost is or has been incurred or able to be reasonably estimated; and
 - (ii) the insurance receipt is or has been derived or able to be reasonably estimated; and
 - (iii) the consideration from the disposal of the item is or has been derived or able to be reasonably estimated.

Relationship with other sections

- (4) This section overrides sections EE 1, EE 22, and EE 48 (which state when depreciation loss and depreciation recovery income arise) in relation to the timing of the person’s—
- (a) income from the insurance receipt and consideration from the disposal of the item;
 - (b) deductions for the disposal cost and depreciation loss.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, grandparented structure, income, income year

Section EZ 73: inserted, on 1 April 2016 (applying for the 2016–17 and later income years), by section 68(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

EZ 74 Insurance for repairs of Canterbury earthquake damage: optional timing rule for income, deductions

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for a person and an item of depreciable property when—
- (a) the item is damaged by a Canterbury earthquake as that term is defined in section 4 of the Canterbury Earthquake Recovery Act 2011; and
 - (b) the damage—
 - (i) does not result in the item being subject to a disposal and reacquisition under section EZ 70; and
 - (ii) does not meet the requirements of section EE 47(4) (Events for purposes of section EE 44); and

- (c) the person is entitled to an amount of insurance or compensation for the damage to the item; and
- (d) the person chooses to apply this section for all items of depreciable property meeting the requirements of paragraphs (a) to (c).

Attribution of income from insurance

- (2) If the amount of insurance or compensation for the damage (the insurance receipt) is derived or able to be reasonably estimated before the end of the 2018–19 income year, the person’s income from the insurance receipt is attributed to the earlier of—
 - (a) the 2018–19 income year:
 - (b) the first income year in which—
 - (i) the amount of expenditure for total repair of the damage (the repair cost) is or has been incurred or able to be reasonably estimated; and
 - (ii) the insurance receipt is or has been derived or able to be reasonably estimated.

Attribution of deductions for repairs

- (3) If the repair cost is incurred or able to be reasonably estimated before the end of the 2018–19 income year, the person’s deductions for the repair cost are attributed to the earlier of—
 - (a) the 2018–19 income year:
 - (b) the first income year in which—
 - (i) the repair cost is or has been incurred or able to be reasonably estimated; and
 - (ii) the insurance receipt is or has been derived or able to be reasonably estimated.

Relationship with other sections

- (4) This section overrides sections CG 4, EE 22, and EE 52 (which provide for receipts of insurance or indemnity payments) in relation to the timing of the person’s—
 - (a) income from the insurance receipt:
 - (b) deductions for the repair cost.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, income, income year

Section EZ 74: inserted, on 1 April 2016 (applying for the 2016–17 and later income years), by section 68(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

EZ 75 Consideration for property or services: IFRS foreign ASAPs before 2014–15 income year*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a person uses IFRSs to prepare financial statements and to report for financial arrangements, and—
 - (a) the person has a financial arrangement that is a foreign ASAP (the financial arrangement) for which section EW 32 (Consideration for agreement for sale and purchase (ASAP) of property or services, hire purchase agreement, specified option, or finance lease) applies to value the relevant property or services; and
 - (b) the person enters into the financial arrangement before the end of the 2013–14 income year; and
 - (c) for the financial arrangement, the person has filed returns of income in accordance with this section for the 2013–14 income year and every earlier income year.

Treatment

- (2) The person, applying sections 81 and 82 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 as if in force, may—
 - (a) treat sections EW 32 and EW 33B (Foreign ASAPs: designated FX hedges) as applying to the financial arrangement for the 2013–14 income year and every earlier income year; or
 - (b) treat section EW 32 as applying, but excluding section EW 33B. The value of the relevant property or services under IFRS rules is modified by excluding an amount attributed under IFRS rules from the value on account of FX hedges.

Treatment: modification for spot rate revaluation

- (3) Despite subsection (2), a treatment under that subsection may be modified to allow the addition and subtraction, from the value of the property or services, of amounts arising from spot rate revaluation of payments already made at the time the property or services are recognised under IFRS rules.

Defined in this Act: amount, financial arrangement, foreign ASAP, FX hedge, IFRS, income year

Section EZ 75: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 30 June 2014, by section 100 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

EZ 76 Consideration for property or services: non-IFRS foreign ASAPs before 2014–15 income year*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a person does not use IFRSs to prepare financial statements and to report for financial arrangements, and—
 - (a) the person has a financial arrangement that is a foreign ASAP (the financial arrangement) for which section EW 32 (Consideration for agreement for sale and purchase (ASAP) of property or services, hire purchase agreement, specified option, or finance lease) applies to value the relevant property or services; and

- (b) the person enters into the financial arrangement before the end of the 2013–14 income year; and
- (c) for the financial arrangement, the person has filed returns of income in accordance with this section for the 2013–14 income year and every earlier income year.

Treatment

- (2) The person, applying sections 81 and 82 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 as if in force, may treat sections EW 32 and EW 33C (which relate to certain financial arrangements) as applying to the financial arrangement for the 2013–14 income year and every earlier income year. Section EW 33B (Foreign ASAPs: designated FX hedges) is excluded.

Defined in this Act: amount, financial arrangement, foreign ASAP, FX hedge, IFRS, income year

Section EZ 76: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 30 June 2014, by section 100 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section EZ 76(1)(a): amended, on 24 February 2016, by section 160 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

EZ 77 Substituting debentures repeal: transitional rules

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies if a person has a substituting debenture when the application of section 102 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (the repealing Act) repeals section FA 2(5) and a financial arrangement arises.

Substituting debenture: last day

- (2) On 31 March 2015—
 - (a) the substituting debenture is treated as cancelled; and
 - (b) an amount equal to the debenture’s outstanding principal and outstanding accrued interest is treated as paid to the holder, for the cancellation, by the debenture’s issuer.

Financial arrangement: first day

- (3) On 1 April 2015, the debenture’s issuer and holder are treated as entering into the financial arrangement on the same terms and conditions as the debenture described in subsection (2), except that the amount of principal treated as advanced to the issuer is an amount equal to the amount described in subsection (2)(b).

Subsections (2) and (3) modified

- (4) If the repeal of section FA 2(5) arises because a debenture that a person is party to fails to meet a requirement described in section 102(5) of the repealing Act, then—
- (a) subsection (2) is modified to apply on the last day of the tax year immediately before the tax year that corresponds to the income year in which the failure to meet a requirement occurs; and
 - (b) subsection (3) is modified to apply on the first day of the tax year that corresponds to the income year in which the failure to meet a requirement occurs.

Continuity

- (5) A change in voting interest or market value interest that arises from the application of section 102 of the repealing Act is ignored for the purposes of the continuity provisions.

Defined in this Act: consideration, continuity provisions, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, income year, market value interest, substituting debenture, voting interest

Section EZ 77: inserted, on 30 June 2014, by section 101 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Damage from Hurunui/Kaikōura earthquakes

Heading: inserted, on 30 March 2017 (applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), by section 93(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

EZ 78 Insurance for Hurunui/Kaikōura earthquake damage of property: treatment as disposal and reacquisition*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies for a person and an item of depreciable property when—
- (a) the item is damaged by a Hurunui/Kaikōura earthquake as that term is defined in section 4 of the Hurunui/Kaikōura Earthquakes Recovery Act 2016 (the Hurunui/Kaikōura earthquake); and
 - (b) the person is entitled to an amount of insurance or compensation for the damage to the item; and
 - (c) the item is assessed by the payer of the insurance or compensation as uneconomic to repair; and
 - (d) the damage does not meet the requirements of section EE 47(4) (Events for purposes of section EE 44).

Treatment as disposal and reacquisition of item

- (2) The person is treated as, on the date of the Hurunui/Kaikōura earthquake,—
- (a) disposing of the item for the amount of insurance or compensation; and
 - (b) reacquiring the item for zero consideration.

Relationship with section EE 52

- (3) This section overrides section EE 52 (Amount of depreciation recovery income when compensation received).

Defined in this Act: amount, depreciable property, income year

Section EZ 78: inserted, on 30 March 2017 (applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), by section 93(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

EZ 79 Insurance for Hurunui/Kaikōura earthquake damage of property: limit on depreciation recovery income

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for a person and an item of depreciable property when—
- (a) the item is damaged by a Hurunui/Kaikōura earthquake as that term is defined in section 4 of the Hurunui/Kaikōura Earthquakes Recovery Act 2016; and
 - (b) the person is entitled to an amount of insurance or compensation for the damage to the item; and
 - (c) the damage does not meet the requirements of section EE 47(4) (Events for purposes of section EE 44); and
 - (d) section EZ 78 does not apply for the item.

Limit on depreciation recovery income under section EE 52

- (2) If the person would derive depreciation recovery income under section EE 52 (Amount of depreciation recovery income when compensation received) in an income year for the item in the absence of this section, the person derives in the income year an amount of depreciation recovery income equal to the lesser of—
- (a) the amount of depreciation recovery income under section EE 52 that the person would derive in the income year for the item in the absence of this section;
 - (b) the total of the amounts of depreciation loss for which the person has been allowed deductions for the item.

Relationship with section EE 52

- (3) This section overrides section EE 52.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, depreciable property, depreciation loss, depreciation recovery income, income year

Section EZ 79: inserted, on 30 March 2017 (applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), by section 93(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Introductory provision

FA 1 What this subpart does

This subpart alters the tax treatment of certain commercial arrangements by—

- (a) recharacterising either their nature or that of the amounts derived under the arrangements; and
- (b) providing rules for the treatment of the parties to the arrangement.

Defined in this Act: amount, arrangement, tax

Debentures and shares

FA 2 Recharacterisation of certain debentures

Treatment of debenture and interest

- (1) A profit-related debenture is treated for tax purposes as a share described in paragraph (b) of the definition of share in section YA 1 (Definitions), and the interest payable under the debenture is treated as a dividend.

No deduction

- (2) A company issuing a profit-related debenture is denied a deduction under section DB 10 (Interest or expenditure connected to profit-related debentures) for—
 - (a) interest payable under the debenture; or
 - (b) expenditure or loss incurred in connection with the debenture; or
 - (c) expenditure or loss incurred in borrowing the money secured by or owing under the debenture.

When interest fixed to certain rates or indices

- (3) [Repealed]

Profit-related debenture

- (4) A profit-related debenture—

- (a) means a debenture with a rate of interest that is set from time to time by reference to—
 - (i) the dividend payable by the company issuing the debenture; or
 - (ii) the profits of the company issuing the debenture, however measured;
- (b) does not include a debenture under which the interest payable is determined by a fixed relationship to—
 - (i) banking rates; or
 - (ii) general commercial rates; or

(iii) economic, commodity, industrial, or financial indices, but the application of this subparagraph is subject to section FZ 1(3) (Treatment of interest payable under debentures issued before certain date):

(c) does not include a debenture treated as a share under section FA 2B (Stapled debt securities).

Section FA 2(6): repealed (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 201(6) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section FA 2(7) heading: repealed, on 1 April 2015 (not applying, for an income year, to a debenture that a person is party to, if the debenture is issued under an arrangement entered into before 22 November 2013; and a binding ruling on the application of section FA 2(5) was issued to the person in relation to the arrangement; and the binding ruling would continue to apply but for the repeal of the substituting debenture rule by the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (the Act); and for the whole of the income year, the total amount and the term of all debentures issued under the arrangement are not more than those disclosed in the application for the binding ruling; and the person makes an irrevocable election in writing, received by the Commissioner on or before 31 July 2014, that the repeal of the substituting debenture rule in the Act does not apply to their debenture), pursuant to section 102(3) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section FA 2(7): repealed, on 1 April 2015 (not applying, for an income year, to a debenture that a person is party to, if the debenture is issued under an arrangement entered into before 22 November 2013; and a binding ruling on the application of section FA 2(5) was issued to the person in relation to the arrangement; and the binding ruling would continue to apply but for the repeal of the substituting debenture rule by the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (the Act); and for the whole of the income year, the total amount and the term of all debentures issued under the arrangement are not more than those disclosed in the application for the binding ruling; and the person makes an irrevocable election in writing, received by the Commissioner on or before 31 July 2014, that the repeal of the substituting debenture rule in the Act does not apply to their debenture), by section 102(3) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section FA 2 list of defined terms substituting debenture: repealed, on 1 April 2015 (not applying, for an income year, to a debenture that a person is party to, if the debenture is issued under an arrangement entered into before 22 November 2013; and a binding ruling on the application of section FA 2(5) was issued to the person in relation to the arrangement; and the binding ruling would continue to apply but for the repeal of the substituting debenture rule by the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (the Act); and for the whole of the income year, the total amount and the term of all debentures issued under the arrangement are not more than those disclosed in the application for the binding ruling; and the person makes an irrevocable election in writing, received by the Commissioner on or before 31 July 2014, that the repeal of the substituting debenture rule in the Act does not apply to their debenture), by section 102(4) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

FA 2B Stapled debt securities

When subsection (2) applies

- (1) Subsection (2) applies when—
 - (a) a company has issued a debt security; and
 - (b) the debt security is stapled to a share in the company or to a share in another company; and
 - (c) the share is not a fixed-rate share.

Stapled debt treated as equity

- (2) The stapled debt security is treated as a share issued by the company and—
 - (a) interest payable under the stapled debt security is treated as a dividend; and
 - (b) section DB 10B (Interest or expenditure connected to stapled debt security) may deny deductions for expenditure or loss related to the security.

Stapled securities aggregated

- (3) A stapled debt security and a share to which it is stapled are treated as a single share for the purposes of applying—
 - (a) the definition of non-participating redeemable share in section CD 22(9) (Returns of capital: off-market share cancellations); and
 - (b) [Repealed]
 - (c) the definitions, in section YA 1 (Definitions), of—

- (i) fixed-rate foreign equity; and
- (ii) fixed-rate share, except for the purposes of subsection (1)(c).

Meaning of debt security

- (4) In this section, debt security means a financial arrangement if—
- (a) the financial arrangement provides funds to the company; and
 - (b) the financial arrangement gives rise to an amount for which the company would have a deduction but for this section; and
 - (c) the amount does not arise only from either a movement in a currency exchange rate or a non-contingent fee.

Meaning of stapled

- (5) In this section, a debt security is stapled to a share if—
- (a) the debt security can, or ordinarily can, be disposed of only together with the share; and
 - (b) the arrangement that requires the debt security and the share to be disposed of together is an arrangement to which the company that issued the debt security or the company that issued the share is a party.

Exclusion: small company shareholder agreements

- (6) This section does not apply if the debt security is stapled to the share using a shareholder agreement for a company that is not a widely-held company.

Exclusion: stapling before 25 February 2008

- (7) This section does not apply if the debt security was stapled to the share before 25 February 2008.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, company, debt security, deduction, dividend, financial arrangement, fixed-rate share, interest, non-contingent fee, share, shareholder agreement, stapled, widely-held company

Section FA 2B: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 202(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section FA 2B(3)(b): repealed (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 202(2) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

FA 3 Recharacterisation of certain dividends: recovery of cost of shares held on revenue account

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies to the amount of a dividend derived from shares that are revenue account property of a person when—
- (a) the payment of the dividend realises or recovers the price the person paid for the shares; and
 - (b) the payment is made at the person's control or direction, or is part of a scheme that includes the acquisition of the shares and the payment of the dividend.

Treatment of amount derived

- (2) The dividend is treated as an amount derived on a sale of the shares to the extent to which the actual amount realised by the person on the disposal of the shares is less than the cost to the person of acquiring the shares.

Dividend

- (3) Despite subsection (2), a dividend taken into account under this section remains a dividend derived by the person in the income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, dividend, income year, pay, revenue account property, share

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FC 3

Section FA 3 list of defined terms control: repealed, on 1 April 2010, by section 594 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

FA 4 Recharacterisation of shareholder's base: company reacquiring share*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies to a shareholder in a company in relation to an off-market cancellation of shares by the company under section CD 22 (Returns of capital: off-market share cancellations) when—
- (a) the shareholder holds the share as revenue account property; and
 - (b) after the cancellation, they continue to hold some shares of the same class.

When whole amount treated as dividend

- (2) If the whole of the amount that the shareholder receives for the cancellation is treated as a dividend, the following paragraphs apply:
- (a) the shareholder is not regarded as having disposed of the cancelled share, except for the purpose of determining whether they have derived a dividend; and
 - (b) the cost to the shareholder of the cancelled share is added to the cost of the shareholder's remaining shares of the same class under subsection (6).

Below market value of shares

- (3) If subsection (2) does not apply, and the amount paid by the company is less than the market value of the shares at the time when notice is first given of the cancellation either by the shareholder or the company, the following paragraphs apply:
- (a) an amount calculated using the formula in subsection (4) is added to the cost of the shareholder's remaining shares of the same class under subsection (6); and
 - (b) the amount is excluded from the cost of the share being cancelled so that the shareholder is denied a deduction under section DB 25 (Cancellation of shares held as revenue account property) for the amount unless the share is trading stock of the shareholder; and

- (c) sections GC 1 and GC 2 (which relate to the disposal of trading stock for inadequate consideration) does not apply.

Formula

- (4) The formula referred to in subsection (3)(a) is—share cost – (cost pre-cancellation × amount from cancellation ÷ market value).

Definition of items in formula

- (5) In the formula,—
- (a) share cost is the cost of the cancelled share to the shareholder:
 - (b) cost pre-cancellation is the total cost to the shareholder of all their shares of the same class immediately before the cancellation:
 - (c) amount from cancellation is the amount derived by the shareholder from the company for the cancellation:
 - (d) market value is the total market value of all the shareholder's shares of the same class immediately before the cancellation.

When subsection (7) applies

- (6) Subsection (7) applies at a time after the cancellation when the cost of the remaining shares is taken into account under subpart EB (Valuation of trading stock (including dealer's livestock)), or otherwise.

Adding amount to cost of shares

- (7) The amount referred to in subsection (2)(b) or (3)(a) must be fairly divided among, and added to, the cost of the shareholder's remaining shares of the same class.

Defined in this Act: amount, company, deduction, dividend, market value, notice, off-market cancellation, revenue account property, share, shareholder, shares of the same class, trading stock

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FC 4

Section FA 4 heading: amended (with effect on 1 April 2015 and applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 242(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section FA 4(2)(b): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 30 March 2017, by section 94(1) (and see section 94(2)) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Leases

FA 5 Assets acquired and disposed of after deduction of payments under lease

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person (the lessee)—
- (a) leases, rents, or hires an asset that is—
 - (i) plant, machinery, or other equipment; or

- (ii) a motor vehicle; or
- (iii) a temporary building; and
- (b) is allowed a deduction for the rental payments; and
- (c) acquires the asset and later disposes of it; and
- (d) the consideration derived on the disposal is not income of the lessee under a provision of this Act other than this section.

Income

- (2) If the consideration derived by the lessee for the asset is more than the cost of its acquisition, the excess is income of the lessee under section CG 7 (Recoveries after deduction of payments under lease). Subsection (3) overrides this subsection.

Adjustment to income

- (3) If the total amount of the deductions referred to in subsection (1)(b) is less than or equal to the excess, the amount of income under subsection (2) is the total amount of the deductions.

Apportionment

- (4) If the asset is disposed of together with other assets, the total consideration must be apportioned to reflect the respective market values of the assets.

Disposal below market value

- (5) If the asset is disposed of without consideration or for a consideration that is less than market value at the date of disposal, the asset is treated as having been disposed of at its market value.

Associated persons acquiring asset

- (6) Subsection (2) also applies if a person associated with the lessee acquires the asset, whether from the lessee or not, and disposes of it for an amount that is more than the amount paid to acquire it. Association is determined at the time of acquisition by the associated person. The lesser of the excess and the total amount of the lessee's deductions is treated as income of the lessee.

Transfers on settlement of relationship property

- (7) In this section,—
 - (a) subsection (1)(c) does not apply to an acquisition on a settlement of relationship property;
 - (b) subsection (5) does not apply to a disposal on a settlement of relationship property.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, deduction, income, lease, lessee, market value, pay, settlement of relationship property, temporary building

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FC 5

Finance leases

FA 6 Recharacterisation of amounts derived under finance leases

When a personal property lease asset is leased under a finance lease, the lease is treated as a sale of the lease asset by the lessor to the lessee on the date on which the term of the lease starts, and—

- (a) the lessor is treated as giving a loan to the lessee for the lease asset; and
- (b) the lessee is treated as using the loan to buy the lease asset; and
- (c) subpart EE (Depreciation), the financial arrangements rules, and the other provisions of this Act apply to the arrangement as recharacterised.

Defined in this Act: finance lease, financial arrangements rules, lessee, lessor, loan, personal property lease asset, term of the lease

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FC 8A(1), FC 8F, FC 8G

FA 7 Determining amount of loan

Value to lessor

- (1) For a lessor under a finance lease, the amount of the loan is determined under section EW 32 (Consideration for agreement for sale and purchase of property or services, hire purchase agreement, specified option, or finance lease).

Value to lessee

- (2) For a lessee under a finance lease, the amount of the loan is determined under sections EW 32 and EW 33 (which relate to the value of consideration under the financial arrangements rules).

Defined in this Act: amount, finance lease, lessee, lessor

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FC 8A(2), (3), OB 1 “consideration”, “lessee’s acquisition cost”, “lessor’s disposition value”

FA 8 Deductibility of expenditure under finance lease

Lessee treated as owner

- (1) The lessee under a finance lease is treated as the owner of the personal property lease asset for the purposes of subpart EE (Depreciation).

Lessor not treated as owner

- (2) The lessor under a finance lease is not treated as the owner of the personal property lease asset for the purposes of subpart EE.

Defined in this Act: finance lease, lessee, lessor, personal property lease asset

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FC 8B(1)

FA 9 Treatment when lease ends: lessee acquiring asset*Acquisition treated as sale*

- (1) When a lessee under a finance lease acquires the personal property lease asset by the date on which the term of the lease ends, the acquisition is treated as the same sale that is treated as occurring under section FA 6.

When lessee or associated person acquires lease asset and later disposes of it

- (2) If a lessee under a finance lease, or a person associated with them, acquires the lease asset and later disposes of it for an amount that is more than the consideration they paid for it, the excess is income of the lessee under section CC 11 (Lessee acquiring lease asset on expiry of term of lease).

Allocation and association

- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2),—
- (a) the excess is income of the lessee in the income year in which the lessee or associated person disposes of the asset:
 - (b) association is determined at the time of acquisition by the associated person.

Exception

- (4) Subsection (2) does not apply if the consideration derived on the disposal is income of the lessee or an associated person under a provision of this Act other than this section.

Payment relating to aircraft engine overhaul

- (5) Expenditure of a person that relates to an aircraft including an unpriced aircraft engine and is deductible under sections DW 5 and DW 6 (which relate to aircraft engine acquisitions and overhauls) is not included in an amount of consideration paid by the person for the aircraft, for the purposes of this section.

Defined in this Act: aircraft engine, amount, associated person, consideration, finance lease, income, income year, lessee, personal property lease asset, term of the lease, unpriced aircraft engine

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FC 8B(2), FC 8E

Section FA 9(5) heading: inserted, on 1 April 2017 (applying for the 2017–18 and later income years), by section 95(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section FA 9(5): inserted, on 1 April 2017 (applying for the 2017–18 and later income years), by section 95(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section FA 9 list of defined terms consideration: inserted, on 1 April 2017, by section 95(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section FA 9 list of defined terms unpriced aircraft engine: inserted, on 1 April 2017, by section 95(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

FA 10 Treatment when lease ends: lessor acquiring asset

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a finance lease ends by the date on which its term ends.

Acquisition by lessor at end of lease

- (2) If the lessee does not acquire the personal property lease asset by the date on which the term of the lease ends, the lessor is treated as having acquired it on that date at its guaranteed residual value. If there is no guaranteed residual value, the consideration is treated as zero. In this section, the consideration is called the notional sale price.

Further sale, assignment, or lease

- (3) Subsections (4) and (5) apply when the lessor sells, assigns, or leases the lease asset to another person under another finance lease on or after the date on which the term of the original lease ends.

When consideration more than notional sale price

- (4) If the consideration is more than the notional sale price,—
 - (a) to the extent to which it is paid by the lessor to the lessee under the original finance lease, the notional sale price is increased by the amount of the difference; and
 - (b) to the extent to which it is not paid by the lessor to the lessee under the original finance lease, the amount of the difference is income of the lessor under section CC 12 (Lessor acquiring lease asset on expiry of term of lease) in the income year in which the original lease term ends.

When consideration less than notional sale price

- (5) If the consideration is less than the notional sale price, and the lessee is required to pay the amount of the deficit to the lessor, the notional sale price is reduced by that amount.

Acquisition by lessor when lease ends early

- (6) If the lease is terminated before the end of its term and the lessee does not acquire the lease asset, the lessor is treated as acquiring it for an amount calculated using the formula—outstanding balance – release payment.

Definition of items in formula

- (7) In the formula,—
 - (a) outstanding balance is the amount of the outstanding balance of the loan on the date on which the lease is terminated:
 - (b) release payment is the amount the lessee paid to be released from their obligations under the lease.

Payment relating to aircraft engine overhaul

- (7B) Expenditure of a person that relates to an aircraft including an unpriced aircraft engine and is deductible for the person under sections DW 5 and DW 6 (which relate to aircraft engine acquisitions and overhauls) is not included in an amount of consideration paid by the person for the aircraft, for the purposes of this section.

Relationship with section EE 45

- (8) Subsections (2) to (6) override section EE 45 (Consideration for purposes of section EE 44).

Defined in this Act: aircraft engine, amount, consideration, finance lease, guaranteed residual value, income, lease, lessee, lessor, loan, notional sale price, outstanding balance, pay, personal property lease asset, term of the lease, unpriced aircraft engine

FA 11 Adjustments for leases that become finance leases*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a lease is entered into on or after 20 May 1999 and—
- (a) the lease is a consecutive or a successive lease—
 - (i) that is treated as 1 lease under the definition of lease; and
 - (ii) with a term of the lease that the lessor and lessee do not contemplate, at the start of the term, will be more than 75% of the personal property lease asset's estimated useful life; and
 - (iii) with a term of the lease that is more than 75% of the asset's estimated useful life:
 - (b) the lease is an operating lease that becomes a finance lease under paragraph (c) of the definition of finance lease.

Adjustment required

- (2) The lessor and lessee must each adjust their income and expenditure calculated for the lease by including an adjustment in a return of income for the tax year corresponding to the income year in which the lease becomes a finance lease.

Amount of adjustment

- (3) The amount of the adjustment is calculated for the relevant person in relation to the period described in subsection (5) using the formula—

$$\begin{aligned} & \text{finance income} - \text{finance expenditure} - \text{unadjusted income} \\ & \quad + \text{unadjusted expenditure.} \end{aligned}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (4) In the formula,—
- (a) finance income is the income that would have been derived by the person under the lease if the lease were a finance lease for the period:
- (b) finance expenditure is the expenditure that would have been incurred by the person under the lease if the lease were a finance lease for the period:
- (c) unadjusted income is the income derived by the person under the lease:
- (d) unadjusted expenditure is the expenditure incurred by the person under the lease.

Adjustment period

- (5) The period starts on the date on which the lease starts and ends on the last day of the income year in which the lease becomes a finance lease.

Adjustment positive

- (6) If the adjustment is positive, the amount is income of the relevant person under section CH 6 (Adjustments for certain finance and operating leases).

Adjustment negative

- (7) If the adjustment is negative, the amount is a deduction of the relevant person under section DB 51B (Adjustments for leases that become finance leases).

Payment relating to aircraft engine overhaul

- (8) Expenditure of a person that relates to an aircraft including an unpriced aircraft engine and is deductible for the person under sections DW 5 and DW 6 (which relate to aircraft engine acquisitions and overhauls) is not included in an amount of consideration paid by the person for the aircraft, for the purposes of this section.

Defined in this Act: aircraft engine, amount, consideration, estimated useful life, finance lease, income, income year, lease, lessee, lessor, operating lease, personal property lease asset, return of income, tax year, term of the lease, unpriced aircraft engine

FA 11B Adjustments for certain operating leases

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a lease is an operating lease that—
 - (a) is entered into on or after 20 May 1999 and before 20 June 2007; and
 - (b) is an arrangement, or part of an arrangement that, on 20 June 2007, meets the requirements of paragraph (c)(i) to (iii) of the definition of finance lease; and
 - (c) has a term of the lease ending after the end of the income year in which 20 June 2007 falls (the adjustment year); and
 - (d) does not meet the requirements of section FA 11(1) before the end of the income year after the adjustment year.

Adjustment required

- (2) The lessor must adjust their income and expenditure calculated for the lease asset by including an adjustment in a return of income for the tax year corresponding to the income year after the adjustment year.

Amount of adjustment

- (3) The amount of the adjustment is calculated using the formula—

$$\text{total depreciation losses} \div 6.$$

Definition of item in formula

- (4) In the formula, total depreciation losses is the total amount of depreciation loss for the lease asset for which the lessor is allowed a deduction in the period that begins with the start of the term of the lease and ends with the end of the adjustment year.

Income

- (5) The amount of the adjustment is income of the lessor under the lease under section CH 6 (Adjustments for certain finance and operating leases) in the income year after the adjustment year.

Adjusted tax value

- (6) The adjusted tax value of the lease asset at the beginning of the income year after the adjustment year is the total of the amount of the adjustment and the adjusted tax value that the lease asset would have in the absence of this section.

Depreciation loss

- (7) For an income year beginning after 20 June 2007 in which the lease is an operating lease, the amount of depreciation loss allowed for the lease asset other than under section EE 48 (Effect of disposal or event) is five-sixths of the amount of depreciation loss that would be allowed for the lease asset in the absence of this subsection.

Defined in this Act: adjusted tax value, amount, arrangement, deduction, depreciation loss, finance lease, income, income year, lease, lessee, lessor, operating lease, return of income, tax year, term of the lease

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FC 8I

Section FA 11B: inserted, on 1 April 2008, by section 406 of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

Hire purchase agreements

FA 12 Recharacterisation of amounts derived under hire purchase agreements

When a person (the seller) provides personal property other than livestock or bloodstock to another person (the buyer) under a hire purchase agreement, the agreement is treated as a sale by the seller to the buyer on the date on which the term of the agreement starts, and—

- (a) the seller is treated as giving a loan to the buyer for the property; and
- (b) the buyer is treated as using the loan to buy the property; and
- (c) subpart EE (Depreciation), the financial arrangements rules, and the other provisions of this Act apply to the agreement as recharacterised.

Defined in this Act: amount, bloodstock, financial arrangements rules, hire purchase agreement, loan

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FC 9, FC 10

FA 13 Agreements recharacterised as sale with finance provided

Value to seller

- (1) For a seller under a hire purchase agreement, the amount of the loan is determined under section EW 32 (Consideration for agreement for sale and purchase of property or services, hire purchase agreement, specified option, or finance lease).

Value to buyer

- (2) For a buyer under a hire purchase agreement, the amount to the buyer is determined under sections EW 32 and EW 33 (which relate to the value of consideration under the financial arrangements rules).

Defined in this Act: amount, hire purchase agreement, loan

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FC 10(1)(a), OB 1 “consideration”, “lessee’s acquisition cost”, “lessor’s disposition value”

FA 14 Deductibility of expenditure or loss under hire purchase agreement*Buyer treated as owner*

- (1) The buyer in section FA 12 is treated as the owner of the property for the purposes of subpart EE (Depreciation).

Seller not treated as owner

- (2) The seller in section FA 12 is not treated as the owner of the property for the purposes of subpart EE.

Discounted or bad debts

- (3) Subsection (4) applies if the seller takes an amount calculated under section FA 15 into account as the cost of trading stock or in the calculation of their net income for an income year.

No deduction for seller

- (4) The seller is denied a deduction under section DB 14 or DB 31 (which relate to debts sold at a discount and bad debts) for an amount owing under the hire purchase agreement.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, hire purchase agreement, income year, net income, trading stock

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FC 10(1)(c), (5)(c)

FA 15 Treatment when agreement ends: seller acquiring property*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies, subject to sections FA 16 and FA 17, when—
- (a) a hire purchase agreement described in section FA 12 ends by the date on which its term ends or after that date; and
 - (b) the buyer does not acquire ownership of the property; and
 - (c) a person associated with the buyer does not acquire ownership of the property.

Sale of property

- (2) The seller is treated as buying the property from the buyer for an amount equal to the outstanding balance calculated under subsection (3), and the buyer is treated as selling the property to the seller for that amount. The date of the sale is the date the agreement ends.

Outstanding balance

- (3) The outstanding balance is the amount calculated using the formula—net balance due on termination – buyer’s termination payment
+ seller’s termination payment.

Definition of items in formula

- (4) In the formula,—
- (a) net balance due on termination is the net balance due under the hire purchase agreement on the date the agreement ends less any costs referred to in section 83ZE(2)(a) and (b) of the Credit Contracts and Consumer Finance Act 2003:
- (b) buyer’s termination payment is the sum of the following amounts, as applicable:
- (i) an amount paid by the buyer, or an associated person, to the seller, or an associated person, under the agreement; and
 - (ii) an amount paid as a consequence of the ending of the agreement; and
 - (iii) an amount required to be taken into account by the buyer under the base price adjustment in section EW 31 (Base price adjustment formula) or in item “a” of the formula in section EZ 38(1) (Income and expenditure where financial arrangement redeemed or disposed of):
- (c) seller’s termination payment is the sum of the following amounts, as applicable:
- (i) an amount paid by the seller, or an associated person, to the buyer, or an associated person, under the agreement; and
 - (ii) an amount paid as a consequence of the ending of the agreement; and
 - (iii) an amount required to be taken into account by the buyer under the base price adjustment in section EW 31 or by the seller in item “b” or “c” of the formula in section EZ 38(1) or (2).

Base price adjustment

- (5) For the purposes of section EW 31, the outstanding balance is taken into account as the consideration paid by the buyer to the seller under the hire purchase agreement.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, hire purchase agreement, outstanding balance

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FC 10(2), (5)(a), OB 1 “lessee’s outstanding balance”, “lessor’s outstanding balance”, “net balance due”

Section FA 15(4)(a): amended, on 6 June 2015, by section 82 of the Credit Contracts and Consumer Finance Amendment Act 2014 (2014 No 33).

FA 16 Treatment when agreement ends: when seller is cash basis person*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section FA 15 when the seller is a cash basis person.

Reduction

- (2) The amount treated as the seller's purchase price in section FA 15(2) is reduced by an amount for accrued but unpaid interest on the hire purchase agreement calculated using the formula—

$$\text{accrual income} - \text{income.}$$
Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) accrual income is the amount of income that would have been derived under 1 of the spreading methods for payments under the hire purchase agreement if—
- (i) the seller were not a cash basis person; and
 - (ii) section EW 31 (Base price adjustment formula) did not apply to the seller and the agreement in the income year when the agreement ends:
- (b) income is the amount of the seller's income from payments received under the hire purchase agreement.

Defined in this Act: amount, cash basis person, hire purchase agreement, income, income year, interest, pay, spreading method

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FC 10(3)

FA 17 Treatment when agreement ends: when buyer is cash basis person*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section FA 15 when the buyer is a cash basis person.

Reduction

- (2) The amount treated as the buyer's sale price in section FA 15(2) is reduced by an amount for accrued but unpaid interest on the hire purchase agreement calculated using the formula—

$$\text{prepaid expenditure} - \text{expenditure.}$$
Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) prepaid expenditure is the amount of prepaid expenditure that would have been incurred under 1 of the spreading methods for payments under the hire purchase agreement if—
- (i) the buyer were not a cash basis person; and

(ii) section EW 31 (Base price adjustment formula) did not apply to the buyer and the agreement in the income year when the agreement ends:

(b) expenditure is the amount of expenditure incurred by the buyer and treated as interest under the hire purchase agreement.

Defined in this Act: amount, cash basis person, hire purchase agreement, income year, interest, pay, prepaid expenditure, spreading method

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FC 10(4)

FA 18 Treatment of amounts paid in income years after agreement ends

When this section applies

(1) This section applies when an amount that is liable to be paid under a hire purchase agreement is paid in an income year that is later than the income year in which the agreement ends.

Liability under agreement

(2) If the buyer is liable to pay the amount under the terms of the agreement to the seller, the amount is income of the seller under section CC 13(2) (Amounts paid in income years after hire purchase agreement ends).

Payment after end of agreement

(3) If the seller pays the amount to the buyer under the agreement and, consequent on the ending of the agreement, the amount was not taken into account, the amount is treated as—

(a) expenditure incurred by the seller in the income year in which the amount is paid; and

(b) income of the buyer under section CC 13(3), if they have been allowed a deduction in relation to the property under the agreement in the income year in which the amount is paid.

Associated persons

(4) In this section, the seller or the buyer includes a person associated with them.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, deduction, hire purchase agreement, income, income year, pay

FB 1 When this subpart applies

This subpart applies when property is transferred on a settlement of relationship property.

Defined in this Act: property, settlement of relationship property

Section FB 1: replaced (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 161(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

FB 1B Meaning of settlement of relationship property and property

In this subpart,—

- (a) settlement of relationship property means a transaction under a relationship agreement that creates a disposal and acquisition of property between—
- (i) a person who is a party to the relationship agreement or is associated with a party to the agreement:
 - (ii) another person who is a party to the relationship agreement or is associated with a party to the agreement:
- (b) property includes a look-through interest for a look-through company.

Defined in this Act: look-through company, look-through interest, property, relationship agreement, settlement of relationship property

Section FB 1B: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 162(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section FB 1B: replaced (with effect on 1 April 2011 and applying for income years beginning on or after that date), on 24 February 2016, by section 163(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section FB 1B(a): replaced, on 24 February 2016, by section 164 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

FB 1C Obligations for periods before and from transfer of property

Obligations relating to period before transfer

- (1) A transferor of property on a settlement of relationship property remains responsible for all tax obligations relating to the property and the period ending immediately before the transfer.

Obligations relating to period from transfer

- (2) In determining the tax obligations relating to property transferred on a settlement of relationship property and the period beginning with the transfer,—
 - (a) the transferee is treated as—
 - (i) acquiring the property at the cost of the property to the transferor; and
 - (ii) acquiring the property on the date on which the transferor acquired the property; and
 - (iii) acquiring and holding the property with the status, intention, and purpose of the transferor in relation to the property:
 - (b) the transferor is treated as having not owned the property.

Relationship with sections FB 2 to FB 21

- (3) Sections FB 2 to FB 21 override this section.

Defined in this Act: property, settlement of relationship property, tax

Section FB 1C: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 165(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

FB 2 Personal property

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of sections CB 4 (Personal property acquired for purpose of disposal) and CB 5 (Business of dealing in personal property) when personal property, or an interest in personal property, is transferred on a settlement of relationship property.

Transfer at cost

- (2) The transfer is treated as a disposal and acquisition of the property for an amount that equals the cost of the property or, as applicable, the interest in the property, to the transferor.

Further disposal treated as dealing

- (3) If, after the transfer, the transferee disposes of the property, they are treated in relation to the disposal as carrying on a business of dealing in the property.

Defined in this Act: amount, business, settlement of relationship property

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 4

FB 3A Residential land*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section CB 6A (Disposal within 2 years: bright-line test for residential land) and Part D (Deductions) when residential land is transferred on a settlement of relationship property.

Transfer at cost

- (2) The transfer is treated as a disposal and acquisition for an amount that equals the total cost of the residential land to the transferor at the date of transfer.

Date of acquisition

- (3) The transferee is treated as having acquired property in the residential land on the relevant date, for the transferor's acquisition, in section CB 6A(1) to (4).

Defined in this Act: date of transfer, dispose, residential land, settlement of relationship property

Section FB 3A: inserted (with effect on 1 October 2015 and applying to a person's disposal of residential land if the date that the person first acquires an estate or interest in the residential land is on or after that date), on 16 November 2015, by section 12(1) of the Taxation (Bright-line Test for Residential Land) Act 2015 (2015 No 111).

Section FB 3A(3): amended (with effect on 1 October 2015 and applying to a person's disposal of residential land if the date that the person first acquires an estate or interest in the residential land is on or after that date), on 13 May 2016, by section 42(1) of the Taxation (Residential Land Withholding Tax, GST on Online Services, and Student Loans) Act 2016 (2016 No 21).

FB 3 Land acquired for certain purposes or under certain conditions*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of sections CB 6 to CB 12, CB 14, CB 17, CB 20, and CB 23 (which relate to the disposal of land) and Part D (Deductions) when land was acquired for a purpose set out in or under the conditions set out in any of those sections, and the land is transferred on a settlement of relationship property.

Transfer at cost

- (2) The transfer is treated as a disposal and acquisition for an amount that equals the total cost of the land to the transferor at the date of transfer.

Date of acquisition

- (3) The transferee is treated as having acquired the land on the date it was acquired by the transferor.

Further disposal

- (4) For the tax consequences if the transferee disposes of the land, see section FB 5.

Defined in this Act: amount, date of transfer, dispose, land, settlement of relationship property, tax
Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 6(1)(a)

FB 4 Land under scheme for major development or division

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section CB 13 (Disposal: amount from major development or division and not already in income) and Part D (Deductions) when land is transferred on a settlement of relationship property.

Transfer at market value plus expenditure

- (2) If the transferor has already begun an undertaking or scheme of the kind referred to in section CB 13, the transfer is treated as a disposal by them for an amount that equals the sum of—
- (a) the market value of the land on the date on which they began the undertaking or scheme;
 - (b) the expenditure that they have incurred in carrying on the undertaking or scheme before the date of transfer.

Expenditure incurred by transferee

- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2), the transferee is treated as having incurred expenditure in—
- (a) acquiring the land of an amount equal to the market value referred to in subsection (2)(a); and
 - (b) carrying on the undertaking or scheme of an amount equal to the expenditure in subsection (2)(b).

When scheme not begun at date of transfer

- (4) If no undertaking or scheme as described in subsection (2) has begun at the date of transfer, the transferee is treated as having acquired the land for an amount that equals the total cost of the land to the transferor at the date of transfer.

Further disposal

- (5) For the tax consequences if the transferee disposes of the land, see section FB 5.

Defined in this Act: amount, date of transfer, dispose, land, market value, settlement of relationship property, tax

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 6(1)(b)

FB 5 Disposal of land

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of sections FB 3 and FB 4 when the transferor and the transferee are not associated persons.

Persons treated as associated

- (2) If the transferee disposes of the land, section CB 15 (Transactions between associated persons) applies as if the transferor and the transferee were associated persons.

Land disposed of by mortgagee

- (3) If a mortgagee disposes of land because the transferee defaults under the mortgage, the disposal is treated as a disposal of land.

Defined in this Act: associated person, dispose, land, mortgage

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 6(1)(a)(iv), (b)(iv), (2)

FB 6 Timber or right to take timber

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section CB 24 (Disposal of timber or right to take timber) when timber, or a right to take timber, is transferred on a settlement of relationship property.

Transfer at cost of timber at date of transfer

- (2) The transfer is treated as if—
- (a) it were a disposal and acquisition for consideration; and
 - (b) the amount of consideration were equal to the total cost of timber, or the right to take timber, to the transferor at the date of transfer.

Defined in this Act: amount, cost of timber, date of transfer, right to take timber, settlement of relationship property, timber

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 7(1), (2)

FB 7 Land with standing timber

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section CB 25 (Disposal of land with standing timber) when—

- (a) land with standing timber on it is transferred on a settlement of relationship property; and
- (b) the standing timber does not consist of ornamental or incidental trees, as evidenced by a certificate given under section 44C of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Transfer at cost of timber at date of transfer

- (2) The transfer is treated as if—

- (a) it were a disposal and acquisition for consideration; and
- (b) the amount of consideration were equal to the total cost of timber to the transferor at the date of transfer.

Defined in this Act: amount, cost of timber, date of transfer, land, settlement of relationship property, standing timber, timber

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 7(3), (4)

FB 8 Patent applications and patent rights

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of sections CB 30 and DB 38 to DB 40 (which relate to patent applications and patent rights) when a patent application with complete specifications or a patent right is transferred on a settlement of relationship property.

Transfer: part of expenditure or cost of rights

- (2) The transfer is treated as a disposal and acquisition for an amount that equals, as applicable,—
 - (a) expenditure referred to in section DB 38 (Patent rights: devising patented inventions) for which the transferor is denied a deduction; or
 - (b) the cost of the applications or rights referred to in section DB 39 (Patent rights acquired before 1 April 1993) for which the transferor is denied a deduction.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, patent rights, settlement of relationship property

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 8

FB 9 Financial arrangements rules

The financial arrangements rules do not apply to a financial arrangement transferred on a settlement of relationship property if the financial arrangement meets the criteria set out in section EW 10(6) (Financial arrangements to which financial arrangements rules apply). For the application of the old financial arrangements rules, see section EZ 45(c) (Application of old financial arrangements rules).

Defined in this Act: financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, old financial arrangements rules, settlement of relationship property

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 2

Section FB 9: amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 203(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

FB 10 Continuity provisions: shares and options

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies to modify sections YC 2 to YC 6 (which relate to voting interests and market value interests) for the purposes of the application of the continuity provisions when a share, or option over a share, is transferred on a settlement of relationship property.

Transferee treated as holding share or option

- (2) The transferee is treated as having acquired the share or option on the date it was acquired by the transferor, and to have held it at all times up to the date of transfer.

Defined in this Act: continuity provisions, date of transfer, option, settlement of relationship property, share

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 1

FB 10B Look-through companies*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of sections HB 4 to HB 10 (which relate to transfers of interests) when a look-through interest for a look-through company is transferred on a settlement of relationship property.

Transferee treated as holding interest

- (2) The transferee is treated as having acquired the look-through interest on the date it was acquired by the transferor, and to have held it at all times up to the date of transfer.

Defined in this Act: date of transfer, look-through company, look-through interest, settlement of relationship property

Section FB 10B: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011), by section 62(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

FB 11 Pension payments to former employees*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section DC 2 (Pension payments to former employees) when a person is entitled to the payment of a pension from a former employer, and because of a settlement of relationship property, the employer pays some or all of the amount of the pension to another person.

Deduction for employer

- (2) Section DC 2(1) and (2) applies to the amount paid as if it were the payment of a pension to the former employee.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, employee, employer, pay, settlement of relationship property

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 17(1)

FB 12 Pension payments to former partners*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section DC 3 (Pension payments to former partners) when a person is entitled to the payment of a pension from a partner in a partnership or from any person, and because of a settlement of relationship property, the partnership, partner, or person pays some or all of the amount of the pension to another person.

Deduction for partner

- (2) Section DC 3 applies to the amount paid as if it were the payment of a pension to the former partner.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, partner, partnership, pay, settlement of relationship property
Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 17(2), (3)

Section FB 12 list of defined terms partner: inserted, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section FB 12 list of defined terms partnership: inserted, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

FB 13 Trading stock

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of subpart EB (Valuation of trading stock (including dealer's livestock)) when trading stock is transferred on a settlement of relationship property.

When transferor holds and uses trading stock in business

- (2) If the transferor used trading stock in carrying on a business and held the trading stock at the start of the year of transfer, the transfer is treated as a disposal by the transferor and an acquisition by the transferee for an amount equal to the greater of—
- (a) the value of the trading stock under section EB 3 (Valuation of trading stock) for the transferor at the end of the income year before the year of transfer; or
 - (b) the value of the trading stock under section EB 3 for the transferee at the end of the year of transfer.

When transferor acquires and uses trading stock in business

- (3) If the transferor used the trading stock in carrying on a business and acquired the trading stock during the year of transfer, the transfer is treated as a disposal by the transferor and an acquisition by the transferee for an amount equal to the cost of the trading stock to the transferor.

When transferor has not used trading stock in business

- (4) If the transferor did not use the trading stock in the carrying on of a business, the transfer is treated as a disposal by the transferor and acquisition by the transferee for an amount equal to the cost of the trading stock to the transferor.

When transferee disposes of trading stock

- (5) If, after a transfer under subsection (2) or (3), the trading stock was not used by the transferee in the carrying on of a business and they dispose of the trading stock at any time, the disposal is treated as a disposal of trading stock used by the transferee in the carrying on of a business.

Specified livestock in dealing operation

- (6) For the purposes of subsection (2), trading stock does not include specified livestock unless it is used in a dealing operation and sections FB 14 and FB 17 apply.

Relationship with sections GC 1 and GC 2

- (7) This section overrides sections GC 1 and GC 2 (which relate to the disposal of trading stock for inadequate consideration).

Defined in this Act: amount, business, consideration, dispose, income year, settlement of relationship property, specified livestock, trading stock, year of transfer

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 13

Section FB 13 list of defined terms dispose: inserted, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

FB 14 Specified livestock*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of sections EC 6 to EC 26 (which relate to the valuation of specified livestock) when—
- (a) specified livestock is transferred on a settlement of relationship property; and
 - (b) the transferor used the livestock in the carrying on of a business other than a business of dealing in livestock, and held the livestock at the start of the year of transfer; and
 - (c) the value of the livestock is not determined under the herd scheme, see section FB 15.

Transfer at amount determined under subparts EA and EC

- (2) The transfer is treated as a disposal and acquisition for an amount equal to the value that the transferor determined under subpart EC (Valuation of livestock) and took into account in section EA 1 (Trading stock, livestock, and excepted financial arrangements) at the end of the income year before the year of transfer.

Relationship with sections GC 1 and GC 2

- (3) This section overrides sections GC 1 and GC 2 (which relate to the disposal of trading stock for inadequate consideration).

Defined in this Act: amount, business, herd scheme, income year, settlement of relationship property, specified livestock, year of transfer

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 13(1)(a)(i), (3)

FB 15 Specified livestock valued under herd scheme

If specified livestock is transferred on a settlement of relationship property and the specified livestock is valued under the herd scheme by the transferor, then sections EC 4B and EC 4C (which relate to livestock) apply.

Defined in this Act: herd scheme, settlement of relationship property, specified livestock

Section FB 15: replaced (with effect on 28 March 2012), on 17 July 2013, by section 55 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

Section FB 15: amended, on 30 June 2014, by section 103 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

FB 16 Non-specified livestock

When subsections (2) to (4) apply

- (1) Subsections (2) to (4) apply for the purposes of section EC 31 (Enhanced production) in an income year when—
 - (a) non-specified livestock is transferred on a settlement of relationship property; and
 - (b) because of the transfer, the transferee starts to derive, or once again derives, income from non-specified livestock.

Transferee not starting to derive income

- (2) The transferee is treated as not starting to derive, or once again deriving income from non-specified livestock. However, the transfer is taken into account in working out whether any later acquisition by the transferee of non-specified livestock means that they start to derive, or once again derive, income from non-specified livestock.

When subsection (4) applies

- (3) Subsection (4) applies when the transferee uses the non-specified livestock in deriving income and was not, before the transfer, deriving income from non-specified livestock.

Livestock being written down to standard value

- (4) If the year of transfer falls in the first or second year of the 3-year period referred to in section EC 31(1)(b), the transferee must apply section EC 31(2) as if they were the transferor and the transfer had not taken place.

Transferee not acquiring land for production

- (5) For the purposes of section EC 31(1)(a)(ii) and (iii), if land is transferred on a settlement of relationship property, the transferee is treated as having acquired the land on the date it was acquired by the transferor.

Defined in this Act: income, income year, land, non-specified livestock, settlement of relationship property, standard value, year of transfer

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 10

FB 17 High-priced livestock

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of sections EC 32 to EC 37 (which relate to the valuation of high-priced livestock) when high-priced livestock is transferred on a settlement of relationship property.

Transfer at cost

- (2) The transfer is treated as a disposal and acquisition for an amount equal to the cost of the livestock to the transferor. The transferee is treated as having acquired the livestock on the day it was acquired by the transferor.

Straight-line method of valuation

- (3) In determining the value of the livestock at the end of the year of transfer, the transferee must take into account the amount referred to in subsection (2) reduced by the depreciation percentage of its cost price under section EC 34(2) (General rule). Subsection (4) overrides this subsection.

When diminishing value chosen

- (4) If the transferor had chosen to apply the diminishing value method to the valuation of the livestock, the transferee is treated as also having made that choice, and the reduction is calculated under section EC 34(3). But if the transferor had not chosen to apply the diminishing value method, the transferee may make a choice between the methods set out in section EC 34(2) and (3) only if the livestock was acquired by the transferor in the year of transfer.

Defined in this Act: amount, cost price, depreciation percentage, diminishing value method, dispose, high-priced livestock, settlement of relationship property, straight-line method, year of transfer

Section FB 17 list of defined terms dispose: inserted, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

FB 18 Bloodstock

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section EC 41 (Reduction: bloodstock not previously used for breeding in New Zealand) when bloodstock is transferred on a settlement of relationship property.

Use for breeding purposes in New Zealand

- (2) If the bloodstock has been used for breeding purposes in New Zealand by the transferor, then for valuation purposes by the transferee and the amount of reduction applying to the value of an animal, the bloodstock is treated as not having been used for breeding purposes in New Zealand by the transferor.

Defined in this Act: amount, bloodstock, New Zealand, settlement of relationship property

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 12

FB 19 Leased assets

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a person leases, rents, or hires plant, machinery, or other equipment, including a motor vehicle or a temporary building; and
 - (b) they are allowed a deduction in an income year for an amount paid under the agreement to lease, rent, or hire; and
 - (c) they acquire the lease asset at any time, or a person associated with them acquires the asset; and
 - (d) either they, or the associated person, transfer the asset on a settlement of relationship property.

Income when transferee disposes of asset

- (2) If the transferee disposes of the asset for an amount that is more than the transfer amount, they are treated as deriving income as described in section FA 5 (Assets acquired and disposed of after deduction of payments under lease) in the income year of the disposal of the asset equal to the lesser of—
 - (a) the amount by which the amount derived on disposal is more than the transfer amount; or
 - (b) the sum of the amounts for which the transferor has been allowed a deduction.

Transfer amount

- (3) In this section, the transfer amount is the amount that equals, as applicable,—
 - (a) the adjusted tax value of the asset at the start of the year of transfer; or
 - (b) if the asset was acquired by the transferor or the associated person during the year of transfer, the base value of the asset.

Defined in this Act: adjusted tax value, amount, associated person, deduction, income, income year, lease, pay, settlement of relationship property, temporary building, transfer amount, year of transfer

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 14

FB 20 Mining assets

[Repealed]

Section FB 20: repealed, on 1 April 2014, by section 69 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

FB 21 Depreciable property

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person who is allowed a deduction for an amount of depreciation loss for an item of property transfers the item on a settlement of relationship property.

Persons to whom section does not applyRepealed [Repealed]Transfer at cost or adjusted tax value

- (3) The transfer is treated as a disposal and acquisition for an amount equal to, as applicable,—
- (a) if the transferor acquired the item in the year of transfer, the cost of the item to them; or
 - (b) in any other case, the adjusted tax value of the item measured at the start of the year of transfer.

Treatment of transferee

- (4) In relation to amounts of depreciation loss for the item, the transferee—
- (a) has an amount of depreciation loss for the item from the date of transfer, whether or not the transferor has in fact had an amount of depreciation loss;
 - (b) is treated as having had an amount of depreciation loss equal to all amounts of depreciation loss that the transferor had for the item in income years before the year of transfer;
 - (c) does not have a greater amount of depreciation loss than that which the transferor would have had if they had kept the item.

When item is building

- (5) If the item is a building, the transferee's amount of depreciation loss must be determined having regard to the original cost of the building to the transferor.

Activities in year of transfer

- (6) If the item has been acquired, erected, installed, altered, extended, improved, or attached by the transferor in the year of transfer, the item is treated as if it were acquired, erected, installed, altered, extended, improved, or attached by the transferee in the income year.

Conditions applying to item

- (7) For the purposes of determining the rate that applies to the item under section EE 31(2)(b) or EZ 23(4) (which relate to depreciation rates for new assets), if either of the following conditions applied to the item when the transferor acquired or erected it, the condition is treated as applying to the item at the date of transfer:
- (a) the item had not previously been used by a person, or acquired or held by a person for their use; and

- (b) if the item is a building or part of a building, it had not previously been occupied.

Defined in this Act: acquire, adjusted tax value, amount, date of transfer, deduction, depreciable property, depreciation loss, dispose, income year, property, settlement of relationship property, year of transfer

Exceptions for property transferred on death of person

FC 3 Property transferred to spouse, civil union partner, or de facto partner

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies in the circumstances described in section FC 1(1)(a) or (b) when property is transferred on a person's death to the surviving spouse, civil union partner, or de facto partner of the deceased person. However, this section does not apply if—
 - (a) the property is tax-base property; and
 - (b) a person who is not a close relative of the deceased person is beneficially entitled under the will or intestacy to other property that is tax-base property.

Disposal to spouse or partner

- (2) The transfer of property to the surviving spouse, civil union partner, or de facto partner of the deceased person, including any intervening transfer to an executor or administrator, is treated as a transfer of property under a settlement of relationship property under subpart FB (Transfers of relationship property).

Relationship with subject matter

- (3) Section FC 9 overrides this section for certain transfers of residential land.

Defined in this Act: close relative, de facto partner, property, residential land, settlement of relationship property, tax-base property

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FI 4

Section FC 3(3) heading: inserted (with effect on 1 October 2015 and applying to a person's disposal of residential land if the date that the person first acquires an estate or interest in the residential land is on or after that date), on 16 November 2015, by section 13(1) of the Taxation (Bright-line Test for Residential Land) Act 2015 (2015 No 111).

Section FC 3(3): inserted (with effect on 1 October 2015 and applying to a person's disposal of residential land if the date that the person first acquires an estate or interest in the residential land is on or after that date), on 16 November 2015, by section 13(1) of the Taxation (Bright-line Test for Residential Land) Act 2015 (2015 No 111).

Section FC 3 list of defined terms property: inserted, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

FC 4 Property transferred to charities or to close relatives and others

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies in the circumstances described in section FC 1(1)(b) when tax-base property is transferred on a person's death if—

- (a) each beneficiary of the deceased person is described in subsection (2); and
- (b) no life interest in the property is created; and
- (c) no trust over the property is created, other than a trust to execute the will and administer the estate; and
- (d) the net income of the estate is distributed as described in subsection (3).

Beneficiaries of deceased

- (2) A beneficiary of the deceased person must be—
 - (a) a close relative of the deceased person;
 - (b) a person exempt under section CW 41, CW 42, or CW 43 (which relate to exempt income of charities).

Income from estate must be distributed

- (3) While the administration of the estate is continuing, the net income of the estate is distributed to the extent allowed—
 - (a) under the will or the rules governing intestacy; and
 - (b) by the trustee's legal obligations.

Transfer subject to subpart FB

- (4) The transfer is treated as a transfer of property on a settlement of relationship property under subpart FB (Transfers of relationship property).

Defined in this Act: close relative, net income, property, settlement of relationship property, tax-base property, trustee

Section FC 4: replaced (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 167(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section FC 4(1): amended (with effect on 6 October 2009), on 24 February 2016, by section 168(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section FC 4(4): amended (with effect on 6 October 2009), on 24 February 2016, by section 168(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

FC 5 Land transferred to close relatives

What this section applies to

- (1) This section applies in the circumstances described in section FC 1(1)(a) or (b) when land is transferred on a person's death to a close relative of the person.

Land

- (2) Sections CB 9 to CB 11 and CB 14 (which relate to the disposal of land) do not apply to the transfer of land, including any intervening transfer to an executor or administrator that, if it had been disposed of by the deceased person, would have resulted in income under any of those sections.

Cost of land

- (3) If the land is transferred to a person who disposes of it within 10 years of its acquisition by the deceased person, and the person derives income under any of sections CB 9 to CB 11 and CB 14, the cost of land to the person is—
- (a) the cost of the land incurred by the deceased person; and
 - (b) all other expenditure incurred by the person, the deceased person, or the administrator or executor of the deceased person, as applicable, for which no deduction has been allowed.

Defined in this Act: close relative, deduction, dispose, income, land, year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FI 7

Section FC 5(3)(b): replaced (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 30 June 2014, by section 104(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

FC 6 Forestry assets transferred to close relatives*What this section applies to*

- (1) This section applies in the circumstances described in section FC 1(1)(a) or (b) when forestry assets are transferred on a person's death to a close relative of the person.

Forestry assets

- (2) A transfer of a forestry asset, including any intervening transfer to an executor or administrator, is treated as a transfer of property on a settlement of relationship property—
- (a) under section FB 6 (Timber or right to take timber), when the forestry asset is timber or a right to take timber;
 - (b) under section FB 7 (Land with standing timber), when the forestry asset is standing timber.

Meaning of forestry assets

- (3) In this section, forestry assets means timber, standing timber, or a right to take timber.

Defined in this Act: close relative, forestry assets, right to take timber, settlement of relationship property, standing timber, timber

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FI 6

Section FC 6(2): replaced (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 169(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

FC 7 Transfer of prepaid property*What this section applies to*

- (1) This section applies, in the circumstances described in section FC 1(1)(a) or (b), to a transfer of property on a person's death for which the deceased person has, in the year of transfer, an unexpired portion of expenditure under section EA 3 (Prepayments).

Unexpired prepayments

- (2) If section EA 3 applies to the property transferred, the property must be valued under section EA 3(4) to (7), as if the date of transfer were the end of an income year.

Defined in this Act: income year, property, year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FI 8

Section FC 7 list of defined terms property: inserted, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

FC 8 Transfer of certain financial arrangements

What this section applies to

- (1) This section applies, in the circumstances described in section FC 1(1)(a) or (b), to a transfer of a financial arrangement on a person's death.

Financial arrangements: cash basis person

- (2) If the deceased person was a cash basis person and the trustee of the deceased person's estate is a cash basis person under section EW 60(1) (Trustee of deceased's estate), the property must be valued at cost.

Defined in this Act: cash basis person, financial arrangement, property, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FI 11

Section FC 8 list of defined terms property: inserted, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

FC 9 Residential land transferred to executor, administrator, or beneficiary on death of person

What this section applies to

- (1) This section applies in the circumstances described in section FC 1(1)(a) or (b) when residential land is transferred on a person's death and section FC 5 does not apply.

Residential land

- (2) Section CB 6A (Disposal within 2 years: bright-line test for residential land) does not apply to the transfer of the residential land, including any intervening transfer to an executor or administrator.

Cost of residential land

- (3) If the residential land is transferred to a person who disposes of it, and the person derives income, the cost of the land to the person is—
 - (a) the cost of the land incurred by the deceased person; and

- (b) all other expenditure incurred by the person, the deceased person, or the administrator or executor of the deceased person, as applicable, for which no deduction has been allowed.

Defined in this Act: deduction, dispose, income, land, person, residential land

Section FC 9: inserted (with effect on 1 October 2015 and applying to a person's disposal of residential land if the date that the person first acquires an estate or interest in the residential land is on or after that date), on 16 November 2015, by section 15(1) of the Taxation (Bright-line Test for Residential Land) Act 2015 (2015 No 111).

Bankruptcy or insolvency of person under Insolvency Act 2006

Heading: inserted, on 30 March 2017, by section 100 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

FC 10 Transfers from person to Official Assignee under Insolvency Act 2006

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person is adjudicated bankrupt under the Insolvency Act 2006 or is subject to a procedure under Part 5 of that Act.

Transfer of revenue account property subject to section EA 1

- (2) If revenue account property of the person that is subject to section EA 1 (Trading stock, livestock, and excepted financial arrangements) vests in the Official Assignee, the transfer is treated as a disposal and acquisition of the property for an amount equal to the market value of the property on the date (the transfer date) on which the person is adjudicated bankrupt or the procedure under Part 5 of the Insolvency Act 2006 is approved by the Court.

Transfer of revenue account property subject to section EA 2

- (3) If revenue account property of the person that is subject to section EA 2 (Other revenue account property) vests in the Official Assignee,—
- (a) the person does not have a deduction under section DB 23 (Cost of revenue account property) for the cost of the revenue account property; and
- (b) the cost of the property for the Official Assignee for the purposes of sections DB 23 and EA 2(2) is treated as being equal to the cost of the property for the person.

Transfer of depreciable property

- (4) If depreciable property of the person vests in the Official Assignee,—
- (a) the person is treated as disposing of the property for an amount equal to the adjusted tax value of the property on the transfer date:
- (b) the Official Assignee is treated as acquiring the property—
- (i) with an acquisition date, base value, and adjusted tax value that are the same as those quantities are for the person immediately before the transfer date; and
- (ii) without incurring an amount of expenditure as consideration for the transfer.

Deductions not already allocated to period before transfer

- (5) Subsection (6) applies if, before the transfer date, the person incurs expenditure relating to property and, by the transfer date, deductions of the person relating to the expenditure (the unallocated deductions) are not allocated to a period ending before the transfer date.

Official Assignee and unallocated deductions

- (6) An amount of unallocated deductions is treated as not being a deduction of the person and as being a deduction of the Official Assignee that relates to property of the Official Assignee and that may be allocated by the Official Assignee—
- (a) to a period beginning on or after the transfer date; and
- (b) in a way that the person could have allocated the deduction but for the adjudication or procedure under the Insolvency Act 2006.

Section FC 10: inserted, on 30 March 2017, by section 100 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Introductory provisions

FE 1 What this subpart does

Interest adjustment

- (1) This subpart applies to adjust the effective level of interest deductions for a New Zealand taxpayer by treating the taxpayer as deriving income—
- (a) if the taxpayer is not a foreign-owned bank and the level of debt in New Zealand of the taxpayer's New Zealand group (identified in sections FE 3 or FE 25 to FE 30) is disproportionately high, either by comparison with the total level of debt worldwide of the taxpayer's worldwide group (identified in sections FE 31 to FE 32) or, in some situations, by comparison with the level of the taxpayer's debt in New Zealand arising from debt funding provided by third parties, and the taxpayer—
 - (i) is controlled by a single non-resident:
 - (ii) is controlled by a non-resident owning body:
 - (iii) is controlled by a trustee of a trust, if 50% or more by value of settlements on the trust are from persons who are, or are controlled by, non-residents or non-resident owning bodies and who act in concert:
 - (iv) is a person (an outbound entity) with an income interest in a CFC or with an interest in a FIF that satisfies the requirements of section EX 35 (Exemption for FIF resident in Australia) or for which the person uses the attributable FIF income method:
 - (v) is a New Zealand entity who controls an outbound entity; and
 - (b) if the taxpayer is a foreign-owned bank and the level of equity for the taxpayer's New Zealand banking group (identified in sections FE 33 to FE 37) is less than the acceptable threshold level.

Structure of subpart

- (2) This subpart sets out—
- (a) the persons to whom the interest apportionment rules may apply:
 - (b) the thresholds for the application of the rules:
 - (c) the consequences of application of the rules:
 - (d) how to calculate the debt percentages of a New Zealand group and a worldwide group:
 - (e) how to calculate a reporting bank's New Zealand equity threshold, net equity, and funding debt:

- (f) how to determine the membership of a New Zealand group, a worldwide group, and a New Zealand banking group:
- (g) how to measure ownership interests in companies for the purposes of this subpart.

Defined in this Act: attributable FIF income method, CFC, FIF, income, income interest, interest, New Zealand, New Zealand banking group, non-resident, non-resident owning body, ownership interest, reporting bank, source in New Zealand, taxpayer, trustee

FE 2 When this subpart applies

Persons to whom interest apportionment rules may apply

- (1) The interest apportionment rules in sections FE 6 and FE 7 may apply to the following persons if, at a time in an income year, they are:
 - (a) a non-resident who is not a company:

- (b) a non-resident company unless the company is 1 in which—
 - (i) a person resident in New Zealand has a direct ownership interest of 50% or more; and
 - (ii) no non-resident has a direct ownership interest of 50% or more, when added to any direct ownership interests of all persons associated with them:
- (c) a company that is resident in New Zealand if a non-resident has—
 - (i) an ownership interest in the company of 50% or more:
 - (ii) control of the company by any other means:
- (cb) a company that is resident in New Zealand if the company has members who make up a non-resident owning body for the company—
 - (i) holding total ownership interests in the company of 50% or more, after adjustment to the extent necessary to avoid multiple counting if ownership interests in the company would otherwise be counted more than once:
 - (ii) having control of the company by any other means:
- (cc) a company that is resident in New Zealand if a trustee who meets the requirements of paragraph (d) or (db)—
 - (i) holds total ownership interests in the company of 50% or more:
 - (ii) has control of the company by any other means:
- (d) the trustee of a trust if 50% or more of the value of settlements made on the trust is from settlements made by—
 - (i) a non-resident or an associated person of a non-resident:
 - (ii) a person who is described in paragraphs (a) to (cc) or would be described by this paragraph or paragraph (db) if settlements made by the trustee and powers of appointment or removal held by the trustee were ignored:
 - (iii) a group of persons who act in concert, each of whom is described in paragraphs (a) to (cc) or would be described by this paragraph or paragraph (db) if settlements made by the trustee and powers of appointment or removal held by the trustee were ignored:
- (db) the trustee of a trust if a person described in paragraphs (a) to (cc), or would be described by this paragraph or paragraph (d) if settlements made by the trustee and powers of appointment or removal held by the trustee were ignored, has the power to appoint or remove a trustee of the trust other than for the purpose of protecting a security interest:
- (e) a company that is resident in New Zealand and has—
 - (i) an income interest in a CFC:

- (ii) an interest in a FIF that satisfies the requirements of section EX 35 (Exemption for interest in FIF resident in Australia):
- (iii) an interest in a FIF for which the person uses the attributable FIF income method:
- (f) a company that is resident in New Zealand and has—
 - (i) an ownership interest in a company described in paragraph (e) of 50% or more:
 - (ii) control of a company described in paragraph (e) by any other means:
- (g) a natural person, or a trustee of a trust settled by a New Zealand resident, if the natural person or trustee is resident in New Zealand and has—
 - (i) an income interest in a CFC:
 - (ib) an interest in a FIF that satisfies the requirements of section EX 35:
 - (ic) an interest in a FIF for which the person uses the attributable FIF income method:
 - (ii) an ownership interest in a company described in paragraph (e) or (f) of 50% or more:
 - (iii) control of a company described in paragraph (e) or (f) by any other means.

Non-resident owning bodies

- (1B) For the purposes of this subpart and the definition of non-resident owning body,—
- (a) a non-resident includes a person who meets the requirements of sections FE 2(1)(cc), (d), or (db):
 - (b) in determining the relationship between the amount of a company's debt relating to a member and the level of ownership interests in the company relating to the member, the level of each type of ownership interest in the company is considered, despite section FE 39.

Ownership interests

- (2) Ownership interests in a company are determined under sections FE 38 to FE 41.

Treatment of foreign companies

- (3) For the purposes of this section, a company resident in New Zealand is treated as being a non-resident company if it is treated under a double tax agreement as not being resident in New Zealand.

Associated persons

- (4) A resident of New Zealand and a relative who is a non-resident are not associated persons—

- (a) in relation to a company for the purposes of subsection (1)(b)(ii), if the non-resident does not have a direct or indirect ownership interest in the company:
- (b) in relation to a trust for the purposes of subsection (1)(d)(i), if the non-resident has not made a settlement on the trust.

New Zealand banking group of Crown-owned registered bank

- (5) If the members of the New Zealand banking group of a registered bank are given by section FE 36B, the interests held by a member of the group for the purposes of subsection (1)(e) and (f) do not include interests held by an associated person who is not a member of the group.

Defined in this Act: associated person, attributable FIF income method, CFC, company, double tax agreement, FIF, income interest, income year, interest, New Zealand, New Zealand banking group, non-complying trust, non-resident, non-resident company, non-resident owning body, ownership interest, relative, resident in New Zealand, settlement, trustee

Section FE 4 list of defined terms non-resident owning body: repealed, on 30 March 2017, by section 102(3) (and see section 5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section FE 4 list of defined terms ownership interest: repealed, on 30 March 2017, by section 102(3) (and see section 5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section FE 4 list of defined terms registered bank: repealed (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 209(3) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section FE 4 list of defined terms widely-held company: repealed, on 30 March 2017, by section 102(3) (and see section 5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Interest apportionment rules

FE 5 Thresholds for application of interest apportionment rules

Threshold for excess debt entity

- (1) An excess debt entity must apportion its interest expenditure for an income year under section FE 6 if,—
 - (a) the excess debt entity is not a trustee and not an excess debt outbound company, or is a trustee who is not described in section FE 2(1)(g), and—
 - (i) the debt percentage of its New Zealand group for the income year is more than 60%; and
 - (ii) for a company or a trustee, the debt percentage of its New Zealand group for the income year is more than 110% of the debt percentage of the worldwide group; or
 - (b) the excess debt entity is an excess debt outbound company, or is a trustee who is described in section FE 2(1)(g), and—
 - (i) the debt percentage of its New Zealand group for the income year is more than 75%; and

- (ii) for a company or a trustee, the debt percentage of its New Zealand group for the income year is more than 110% of the debt percentage of the worldwide group.

Exceptions for excess debt outbound companies

- (1B) Despite subsection (1), an excess debt outbound company and a natural person or trustee who is described in section FE 2(1)(g) do not have to apportion interest expenditure for an income year under section FE 6 if, for the income year,—
- (a) the ratio of the total group assets measured under section FE 16 for its New Zealand group to the total group assets measured under section FE 18 for its worldwide group is 90% or greater;
 - (ab) the company or person is eligible to choose, and chooses, under subsection (1BB) to use the threshold test in subsection (1D);
 - (b) [Repealed]

Eligibility for optional threshold, apportionment method

- (1BB) A company or person referred to in subsection (1B) that would otherwise be required to make an apportionment under section FE 6 may choose instead to be subject to the threshold in subsection (1D) and to the apportionment method in section FE 6B only if—
- (a) for each of the New Zealand group and the worldwide group, the amount (the adjusted net profit) given by subsection (1BC) is greater than zero; and
 - (b) for the New Zealand group, the deductions for interest allowed to the group under sections DB 6 to DB 9 (which relate to deductions for interest) exceed the income of the group that is interest; and
 - (c) for the worldwide group, treating the members as residents for the purposes of this paragraph, the deductions for interest allowed to the group under sections DB 6 to DB 9 exceed the income of the group that is interest; and
 - (d) for the worldwide group, the amount of the total group debt, calculated for the income year as if for the purposes of determining the group's debt percentage under section FE 12, is equal to or more than 75% of the amount of total group assets, not including goodwill; and
 - (e) for the worldwide group, the proportion of the total group debt, calculated as for paragraph (d), for which the lender is not associated with the group under subpart YB (Associated persons) is equal to or more than 80%.

Formula for adjusted net profit

- (1BC) The adjusted net profit for a group is the amount calculated using the formula—

net – attributed + net interest + depreciation + amortisation.

Definition of items in formula

(1BD) In the formula in subsection (1BC),—

- (a) net is the net profit or loss of the group before tax using generally accepted accounting practice, treating a net loss as a negative amount:
- (b) attributed, for the worldwide group, is zero and, for the New Zealand group, is the income—
 - (i) under generally accepted accounting practice from an interest in a FIF or CFC described in section FE 2(1)(e) to (g); and
 - (ii) included in the calculation of the item net profit or loss and not included in the calculation of the item net interest:
- (c) net interest is the deductions for interest allowed to the group under sections DB 6 to DB 9 from a financial arrangement providing funds to the group, treating the members as residents for the purpose of calculating this item for a worldwide group, reduced by the income of the group from a financial arrangement on arm's-length terms providing funds to a person who meets the requirements of section FE 13(3):
- (d) depreciation is the depreciation for the group using generally accepted accounting practice:
- (e) amortisation is the amortisation for the group using generally accepted accounting practice.

Natural persons' worldwide group total assets

(1C) For the purposes of subsection (1B)(a), the total group assets of a natural person's worldwide group under section FE 18 are measured on the basis that the natural person is an excess debt entity that has a worldwide group made up of—

- (a) the natural person; and
- (b) the natural person's New Zealand group; and
- (c) all CFCs in which the natural person or a member of the natural person's New Zealand group has an income interest:
- (d) all FIFs in which the natural person or a member of the natural person's New Zealand group has an interest that meets the requirements of section EX 35 (Exemption for interest in FIF resident in Australia); and
- (e) all FIFs in which the natural person or a member of the natural person's New Zealand group has an interest for which the natural person or member uses the attributable FIF income method.

Elective threshold for excess debt entity

(1D) A company or person that chooses to be subject to the threshold test in this subsection must apportion the interest expenditure for the income year under section FE 6B except if the ratio (the interest-income ratio) given by subsection (1E) for the company or person's New Zealand group is equal to or less than the lesser of—

- (a) 110% of the interest-income ratio for the company or person's worldwide group:
- (b) 50%.

Formula for group's interest-income ratio

- (1E) The interest-income ratio for a group is calculated using the formula—net interest ÷ adjusted net profit.

Definition of items in formula

- (1F) In the formula in subsection (1E),—
- (a) net interest is the deductions for interest allowed to the group under sections DB 6 to DB 9 from a financial arrangement providing funds to the group, treating the members as residents for the purpose of calculating this item for a worldwide group, reduced by the income of the group from a financial arrangement on arm's-length terms providing funds to a person who meets the requirements of section FE 13(3):
 - (b) adjusted net profit is the amount given for the group by subsection (1BC).

Threshold for reporting bank

- (2) A reporting bank must apportion its interest expenditure for an income year under section FE 7 if—
- (a) the New Zealand net equity of its New Zealand banking group for a tax year is less than its equity threshold; and
 - (b) its group funding debt for the corresponding tax year is more than zero.

Threshold for natural person

- (3) A natural person must apportion their interest expenditure for an income year under section FE 6 if,—
- (a) they are not described in section FE 2(1)(g), and the debt percentage of their New Zealand group for the income year is more than 60%; or
 - (b) they are described in section FE 2(1)(g), and the debt percentage of their New Zealand group for the income year is more than 75%.

Debt percentages

- (4) The debt percentage of a New Zealand group is calculated under sections FE 14 to FE 16. The debt percentage of a worldwide group is calculated under sections FE 17 and FE 18.

Equity threshold, net equity, group funding debt

- (5) The calculations that a reporting bank must make for the purposes of section FE 7 are set out as follows:
- (a) for the banking group's equity threshold, see section FE 19;
 - (b) for the banking group's New Zealand net equity, see section FE 21;
 - (c) for the banking group's funding debt, see section FE 23.

Defined in this Act: attributable FIF income method, CFC, company, excess debt entity, excess debt outbound company, group funding debt, income interest, income year, interest, natural person, New Zealand, New Zealand banking group, New Zealand net equity, non-resident passive income, reporting bank, tax year, total group assets, trustee

FE 6 Apportionment of interest by excess debt entity*Who this section applies to*

- (1) This section applies to an excess debt entity or a natural person if section FE 5 requires the entity or person to apportion their interest expenditure for an income year under this section. A natural person is treated as an excess debt entity for the purposes of this section other than in the item threshold amount.

Formula

- (2) The excess debt entity is treated under section CH 9 (Interest apportionment: excess debt entity) as deriving in the income year an amount of income calculated for the income year using the formula—

Items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) total deduction is the whole amount of the excess debt entity's deduction for interest allowed under any of sections DB 6 to DB 8 (which relate to deductions for interest expenditure) less—
- (i) the total amount allowed in relation to interest payable to a company that is a member of the entity's New Zealand group under sections FE 3 and FE 28, but this does not include an amount referred to in subparagraph (ii); and
 - (ii) the total amount allowed in relation to interest payable under a financial arrangement excluded from the total group debt of its New Zealand group under section FE 15:
- (ab) FRD is the total amount of dividends paid by the excess debt entity in relation to fixed-rate foreign equity or fixed-rate shares—
- (i) issued by the entity; and
 - (ii) held by a person resident in New Zealand who is not a company that is a member of the entity's New Zealand group:
- (ac) adjust is—
- (i) zero, if the excess debt entity is not an excess debt outbound company or a natural person or trustee described in section FE 2(1)(g); or
 - (ii) the amount (the group finance cost) that is the total amount for the New Zealand group found by calculating for each member of the New Zealand group the total amount (the member finance cost) of the items total deduction and FRD for the member, if the group finance cost is $1,000,000 or less and subparagraph (i) does not apply; or

- (iii) the amount found by multiplying the amount by which $2,000,000 exceeds the group finance cost by the ratio obtained by dividing the member finance cost for the excess debt entity by the group finance cost, if the group finance cost is more than $1,000,000 and less than $2,000,000 and subparagraph (i) does not apply; or
 - (iv) zero, if the group finance cost is $2,000,000 or more and subparagraph (i) does not apply:
- (b) total debt is the total amount of the debt of the excess debt entity's New Zealand group for the income year as calculated under section FE 15, before allowing for a reduction under section FE 13:
- (c) concession is any reduction allowed under section FE 13 in the total group debt of the excess debt entity's New Zealand group for the income year, averaged when section FE 8(1)(a) or (b) applies:
- (d) group debt percentage is the debt percentage of the excess debt entity's New Zealand group for the income year:
- (e) threshold amount is, as applicable,—
- (i) if the excess debt entity is not a trustee and not an excess debt outbound company, or is a trustee who is not described in section FE 2(1)(g), the greater of 60% and 110% of the debt percentage of their worldwide group:
 - (ii) if the person is a natural person who is not described in section FE 2(1)(g), 60%:
 - (iii) if the excess debt entity is an excess debt outbound company, or is a trustee who is described in section FE 2(1)(g), the greater of 75% and 110% of the debt percentage of their worldwide group:
 - (iv) if the person is a natural person who is described in section FE 2(1)(g), 75%.

Alternative calculation

- (4) If a company that is in the same wholly-owned group of companies as the excess debt entity has a deduction for interest under any of sections DB 6 to DB 8, the company may choose to be treated as deriving the income that the excess debt entity would otherwise, under subsection (2), be treated as deriving for the income year. The amount of income is not calculated using the formula in subsection (2) but is limited as set out in subsection (5).

Limitation on election amount

- (5) The amount of income for which the company may make the election under subsection (4) must not be more than the total amount of deductions that the company has for interest for the income year, having taken into account any other income that the company chooses to treat itself as deriving under subsection (4).

Defined in this Act: amount, company, deduction, excess debt entity, excess debt outbound company, financial arrangement, fixed-rate foreign equity, fixed-rate share, income, income year, interest, natural person, New Zealand, pay, total group debt, trustee, wholly owned group of companies

FE 6B Alternative apportionment of interest by some excess debt entities

Who this section applies to

- (1) This section applies to a company or person that is required by section FE 5(1D) to apportion its interest expenditure for an income year under this section.

Formula

- (2) The company or person is treated under section CH 9 (Interest apportionment: excess debt entity) as deriving from New Zealand in the income year an amount of income calculated for the income year using the formula—

$$\text{net interest} \times (\text{NZ group ratio} - \text{threshold ratio}) \div \text{NZ group ratio.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
 - (a) net interest is the deductions for interest allowed to the company or person under sections DB 6 to DB 9 (which relate to deductions for interest) from a financial arrangement providing funds to the company or person, reduced by the income of the company or person from a financial arrangement on arm's-length terms providing funds to a person who meets the requirements of section FE 13(3):
 - (b) NZ group ratio is the interest-income ratio given by section FE 5(1E) for the New Zealand group of the company or person:
 - (c) threshold ratio is the lesser of—
 - (i) 50%:
 - (ii) 110% of the interest-income ratio given by section FE 5(1E) for the worldwide group of the company or person.

Defined in this Act: company, deduction, income, income year, interest, New Zealand

Section FE 6B: inserted (with effect on 1 July 2009 and applying for income years beginning on or after that date), on 7 May 2012, by section 54(1) of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

Section FE 6B(3)(a): amended (with effect on 1 July 2009), on 2 November 2012, by section 68 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

FE 7 Apportionment of interest by reporting bank

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies to a reporting bank if, at the relevant measurement date referred to in section FE 8(3),—

- (a) the New Zealand net equity of its New Zealand banking group for an income year is less than its equity threshold under section FE 19; and
- (b) its group funding debt for the corresponding tax year is more than zero.

Income

- (2) The reporting bank is treated as deriving an amount of income under section CH 10 (Interest apportionment: reporting bank) calculated using the formula—
- $$\text{amount below threshold} \times (\text{interest expenditure} \div \text{group funding debt}) \times (\text{days in period} \div \text{days in year}).$$

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) amount below threshold is the amount by which the New Zealand net equity for the New Zealand banking group is less than the equity threshold under section FE 19:
 - (b) interest expenditure is the financial value for the New Zealand banking group of interest expenditure measured under generally accepted accounting practice that is incurred—
 - (i) by a member of the New Zealand banking group in the income year; and
 - (ii) other than in relation to a share that contributes to the item total interest in the formula in section FE 23, or is a deduction referred to in the definition of the item interest deductions in that section:
 - (c) days in period is the number of days in the relevant measurement period:
 - (d) group funding debt is the group funding debt for the New Zealand banking group for the corresponding tax year:
 - (e) days in year is the number of days in the income year.

Apportionment of income to part-years

- (4) If an amount of income described in subsection (2) must be apportioned under this Act to a part of an income year, the amount of income for a measurement period is attributed to the part of the income year in which the measurement period falls.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, financial value, generally accepted accounting practice, group funding debt, income, income year, interest, measurement period, New Zealand, New Zealand banking group, New Zealand net equity, reporting bank, share, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FG 8B

FE 8 Measurement dates

Daily, 3-monthly, or annual basis for excess debt entity

- (1) An excess debt entity must measure the amount of total group debt and total group assets of its New Zealand group for an income year using 1 of the following methods:
 - (a) the average amount at the end of each day of the income year; or
 - (b) the average amount at the end of each 3-month period in the income year; or
 - (c) the amount at the end of the income year.

Different balance dates

- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), if the members of the entity's New Zealand group do not have the same balance date, the alternatives in subsection (1) apply as if the entity has the same balance date as that of the New Zealand parent.

Daily, monthly, or quarterly for reporting bank

- (3) A reporting bank must measure both the equity threshold and the net equity of its New Zealand banking group for an income year on 1 of the following dates:
 - (a) each day of the income year; or
 - (b) the last day of each calendar month of the income year; or
 - (c) if the reporting bank does not choose either paragraph (a) or (b), the last day of each quarter of an income year.

Change in identity of reporting bank

- (4) If the identity of the reporting bank changes, the first measurement period for the new reporting bank begins on the day after the last measurement date of the former reporting bank.

Defined in this Act: amount, excess debt entity, income year, New Zealand, New Zealand banking group, quarter, reporting bank, total group assets, total group debt

Section FE 8(4): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 2 November 2012 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years) by section 69(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

FE 9 Elections

Return of income

- (1) An election or choice under this subpart is made by providing a return of income for the relevant income year.

Measurement date

- (2) A choice of measurement date under section FE 8 may be changed after a notice of assessment for an income year is received from the Commissioner.

Control threshold, enlarged New Zealand group

- (3) A choice of control threshold under section FE 27, or an election to include certain other companies in a New Zealand group under section FE 30, is made by providing notice to the Commissioner with the return of income for the relevant income year.

Defined in this Act: assessment, Commissioner, company, excess debt entity, income year, New Zealand, notice, return of income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FG 10

Section FE 9(3): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 30 March 2017, by section 103 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section FE 9 list of defined terms control: repealed, on 1 April 2010, by section 594 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

FE 10 Currency*Calculations*

- (1) In this subpart, the following values must be calculated in New Zealand currency:
- (a) an amount of total group debt and an amount of total group assets of a New Zealand group or of a worldwide group:
 - (b) a financial arrangement or risk-weighted exposure.

Currency conversions for excess debt entity

- (2) If the value referred to in subsection (1) is denominated in a foreign currency, an excess debt entity must convert the value to New Zealand currency at—
- (a) the close of trading spot exchange rate for the foreign currency on the relevant measurement date under section FE 8; or
 - (b) the forward exchange rate that applies on the first day of the income year for the relevant measurement date under section FE 8.

Currency conversions for reporting bank

- (3) If the value referred to in subsection (1) is denominated in a foreign currency, a reporting bank must convert the value to New Zealand currency at the close of trading spot exchange rate for the foreign currency on the relevant measurement date under section FE 8.

Defined in this Act: amount, close of trading spot exchange rate, excess debt entity, financial arrangement, income year, New Zealand, reporting bank, total group assets, total group debt

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FG 4(7), FG 5(6), FG 7, FG 8I

FE 11 Temporary increases or decreases in value

A temporary increase or decrease in a value applying in this subpart must be excluded from a calculation made under this subpart if—

- (a) the increase or decrease has, or would have, a purpose or effect of defeating the intent and application of this subpart; or

- (b) the change is produced by an arrangement that has an effect of defeating the intent and application of this subpart.

Defined in this Act: arrangement

Calculations

FE 12 Calculation of debt percentages

Requirement for New Zealand group

- (1) An excess debt entity must calculate the debt percentage of its New Zealand group under the rules set out in sections FE 14 to FE 16. A natural person or an excess debt entity must calculate their debt percentage under the rules set out in sections FE 13 to FE 16 and FE 18.

Requirement for worldwide group

- (2) If the debt percentage of the New Zealand group is, as applicable, more than 60% as described in section FE 5(1)(a), or more than 75% as described in section FE 5(1)(b), then the entity must calculate the debt percentage of their worldwide group under the rules set out in sections FE 17 and FE 18.

Debt percentage of group

- (3) A debt percentage of a group is found by dividing the amount of total group debt by the amount of total group assets of the group for an income year or accounting year, as applicable. The amounts are calculated on a consolidated basis. Total group debt and total group assets for an income year or accounting year are defined in—
- (a) sections FE 15 and FE 16 for a New Zealand group; and
 - (b) section FE 18 for a worldwide group.

Membership of company's New Zealand group

- (4) For an excess debt entity that is a company, the New Zealand group is made up of all companies, traced tier by tier, that are identified as within the control threshold of the New Zealand parent, see section FE 27. Section FE 25 provides the process for determining who is a member of a group based on the identification of a New Zealand parent and the establishment of the control threshold.

Membership of company's worldwide group

- (5) For an excess debt entity that is a company, the worldwide group is made up of all companies included as members of the worldwide group under—
- (a) sections FE 31, FE 31D, and FE 32, for an excess debt entity that is not an excess debt outbound company;
 - (b) sections FE 31B, FE 31C, and FE 32, for an excess debt outbound company.

Natural persons: membership of New Zealand groups

- (6) For a natural person, the membership of the New Zealand group is determined as described in section FE 3(1) and (2), as applicable.

Trustees: membership of New Zealand and worldwide groups

- (7) For a trustee, the memberships of the New Zealand group and the worldwide group are determined as described in section FE 3(1) and (2), as applicable.

Defined in this Act: accounting year, amount, company, excess debt entity, excess debt outbound company, income year, natural person, New Zealand, non-resident, total group assets, total group debt, trustee, ultimate parent

FE 12B Calculations for group for test and apportionment using interest-income ratio

Application of rules

- (1) The rules in this section apply to the calculation, for an entity's New Zealand group or worldwide group, of the following amounts:
 - (a) deductions for interest allowed to the group under sections DB 6 to DB 9 (which relate to deductions for interest), for the purposes of section FE 5(1BB):
 - (b) the income of the group that is interest, for the purposes of section FE 5(1BB):
 - (c) the items in the formula for adjusted net profit in section FE 5(1BC):
 - (d) the items in the formula for interest-income ratio in section FE 5(1E).

Generally accepted accounting practice for consolidation

- (2) An amount calculated under these rules for an entity's group must be calculated under generally accepted accounting practice for the consolidation of companies for the purposes of eliminating intra-group income, expenses, transactions, and balances.

Non-resident member of New Zealand group

- (3) If a member of a New Zealand group is not resident in New Zealand, the amounts for the member are not included in a consolidation except to the extent that the amounts relate to—
 - (a) the carrying on of business in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand:
 - (b) the derivation of income, other than non-resident passive income, that has a source in New Zealand and for which relief from New Zealand tax under a double tax agreement is unavailable.

Defined in this Act: business, deduction, double tax agreement, fixed establishment, generally accepted accounting practice, income, interest, New Zealand, New Zealand tax, non-resident passive income, resident in New Zealand, source in New Zealand

Section FE 12B: inserted (with effect on 1 July 2009 and applying for income years beginning on or after that date), on 7 May 2012, by section 55(1) of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

Section FE 12B(3)(b): replaced (with effect on 1 July 2011 and applying for income years beginning on or after that date), on 7 May 2012, by section 55(2) of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

Section FE 12B list of defined terms non-resident passive income: inserted (with effect on 1 July 2011), on 7 May 2012, by section 55(3) of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

FE 13 Financial arrangements entered into with persons outside group

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—

- (a) a person enters into a financial arrangement with another person (person A); and
- (b) the person is a natural person, a member of a natural person's New Zealand group, an excess debt entity, or a member of an entity's New Zealand group or worldwide group; and
- (c) in the absence of this section, the financial arrangement would be included in the calculation of the debt percentage of the natural person, excess debt entity, New Zealand group, or worldwide group; and
- (d) the person—
 - (i) provides funds to person A under the financial arrangement;
 - (ii) is the trustee of a trust with no trust property other than financial arrangements and property incidental to financial arrangements.

Reduction

- (2) In the calculation of the debt percentage of the New Zealand group and a worldwide group, the amount of total group debt and total group assets is reduced by the outstanding balance of the financial arrangement.

Debt percentage of New Zealand group

- (3) In the calculation of the debt percentage of a New Zealand group, the reduction applies if the consideration for the financial arrangement is at arm's length, and person A is 1 of the following:
 - (a) a non-resident who is not carrying on business through a fixed establishment in New Zealand and derives—
 - (i) income that does not have a source in New Zealand;
 - (ii) income with a source in New Zealand, all of which is non-resident passive income or has relief from New Zealand tax available under a double tax agreement; or
 - (b) a person who is not associated with the excess debt entity; or
 - (c) a person who is associated with the excess debt entity but—
 - (i) is not a member of the New Zealand group; and
 - (ii) is a person to whom this subpart may apply under section FE 2.

Debt percentage of worldwide group

- (4) In the calculation of the debt percentage of a worldwide group, the reduction applies if person A is not associated with the excess debt entity.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, business, double tax agreement, excess debt entity, financial arrangement, fixed establishment, natural person, New Zealand, non-resident, non-resident passive income, source in New Zealand, total group assets, total group debt, trustee

Section FE 13 list of defined terms trustee: inserted, on 1 April 2015, by section 109(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Debt percentage of New Zealand group

FE 14 Consolidation of debts and assets

Company calculation

- (1) For an excess debt entity that is a company, the debt percentage of a New Zealand group is calculated under generally accepted accounting practice for the consolidation of companies for the purposes of eliminating intra-group balances by consolidating the debts and assets of the members of the entity's New Zealand group.

Natural persons' and trustees' calculation

- (2) For a natural person and an excess debt entity that is a trustee, the debt percentage of a New Zealand group is calculated under generally accepted accounting practice for the consolidation of companies for the purposes of eliminating intra-group balances by consolidating the debts and assets for the group.

When member not resident

- (3) If a member of a New Zealand group is not resident in New Zealand, the assets and debts of the member are included in a consolidation only to the extent to which the assets and debts are for the group member to—
 - (a) carry on business in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand;
 - (b) derive income, other than non-resident passive income, that has a source in New Zealand and for which relief from New Zealand tax under a double tax agreement is unavailable.

When entity is part of more than 1 group

- (3B) If an entity (the common member) is, under sections FE 3 and FE 26 to FE 29, a member or part of a member of different New Zealand groups, the debts and assets of the common member are included under this subpart in the total group debt and total group assets of not more than 1 New Zealand group and in no worldwide group other than the worldwide group determined using that New Zealand group.

Determining New Zealand group for common member's debts and assets

- (3C) For the purposes of subsection (3B), the debts and assets of the common member referred to in subsection (3B) are included with the debts and assets of the other members of the New Zealand group—
- (a) given by section FE 26, in the absence of section FE 26(2)(bb) and (bc), (3)(d), (4D), and (6), for the common member; or
 - (b) if paragraph (a) does not specify 1 New Zealand group, chosen by the excess debt entity to which the interest apportionment rules are being applied for the common member and the excess debt entity.

Determining worldwide group for common member's debts and assets

- (3D) For the purposes of subsection (3B), the debts and assets of the common member referred to in subsection (3B) are included with the debts and assets of the other members of the worldwide group given by sections FE 31 to FE 36B for the common member and the common member's New Zealand group under subsection (3C).

Treatment of specified leases and particular interest expenditure

- (4) In this subpart, in the determination of total group debt and total group assets and the calculation of an amount for which a deduction is denied,—
- (a) a specified lease under section FZ 2 (Effect of specified lease on lessor and lessee) is treated as a financial arrangement that provides funds to the issuer; and
 - (b) expenditure incurred by the lessee under a specified lease for which a deduction is allowed under section BD 2 (Deductions) is treated as an amount of interest to which any of sections DB 6 to DB 8 (which relate to deductions for interest expenditure) applies; and
 - (c) interest that is allowed as a deduction under either of the following sections is treated as an amount of interest to which any of sections DB 6 to DB 8 applies, if not already allowed under those sections:
 - (i) section DP 1(1)(b) (Expenditure of forestry business):
 - (ii) section DV 10(1)(a) or (b) (Building societies).

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, business, company, deduction, double tax agreement, excess debt entity, financial arrangement, fixed establishment, generally accepted accounting practice, interest, issuer, lessee, New Zealand, non-resident passive income, resident in New Zealand, source in New Zealand, specified lease, tax, total group assets, total group debt, trustee

FE 15 Total group debt

Meaning

- (1) In this subpart, for a New Zealand group, total group debt means the sum of the outstanding balances of—
 - (a) financial arrangements entered into by a natural person, or an excess debt entity, or another member of the New Zealand group, if the financial arrangement—

- (i) provides funds to the natural person, the entity, or another member of the group; and
- (ii) gives rise to an amount for which the natural person, the entity, or another member of the group, would have a deduction:
- (b) fixed-rate foreign equity or fixed-rate shares that are—
 - (i) issued by the entity or another member of the New Zealand group; and
 - (ii) held by a person resident in New Zealand:
- (c) stapled debt securities—
 - (i) issued by the entity or another member of the New Zealand group; and
 - (ii) held by a person resident in New Zealand; and
 - (iii) stapled to shares other than shares of a company that is a proportional-stapling company.

Exchange rate fluctuations

- (2) Subsection (1)(a)(ii) does not include a deduction for an amount that arises only from movement in currency exchange rates.

Section 90A Tax Administration Act 1994

- (3) For a determination on whether a financial arrangement provides funds, see section 90A of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, excess debt entity, financial arrangement, fixed-rate foreign equity, natural person, New Zealand, proportional-stapling company, resident in New Zealand, stapled, stapled debt security

FE 16 Total group assets

Meaning

- (1) In this subpart, for a New Zealand group, total group assets for an income year means the total assets of a natural person, or an excess debt entity, or another member of the New Zealand group, measured under the following paragraphs, as applicable or as the person or entity chooses:
- (a) the value of the assets shown in the financial statements of the entity's New Zealand group; or
 - (b) the net current value of the assets; or
 - (c) market value, for trading stock that is valued at market value in calculating the person or entity's income tax liability for the income year, or that of a member of the group; or
 - (d) adjusted tax value of a personal property lease asset at the start of the income year, in the case of a specified lease or a finance lease that is not recognised as an asset under generally accepted accounting practice; or
 - (e) if allowed under generally accepted accounting practice, a combination of the financial statement values and net current values.

Investments to which subsection (1B) applies

(1BA) Subsection (1B) applies to an investment—

- (a) of a person (the relevant person) who is—
 - (i) the excess debt entity;
 - (ii) another member of the New Zealand group; and
- (b) that is an investment—
 - (i) in a CFC in which the relevant person has an income interest;
 - (ii) in a FIF in which the relevant person has an interest meeting the requirements of section EX 35 (Exemption for interest for FIF resident in Australia) or for which the relevant person uses the attributable FIF income method;
 - (iii) of a trustee or natural person in a CFC through an income interest in the CFC of an associated person, if the associated person would be a member of the New Zealand group but for being an excess debt outbound company or being included in the New Zealand group of an excess debt outbound company:

- (iv) of a trustee or natural person in a FIF, through an income interest of an associated person that meets the requirements of subparagraph (ii) for the FIF and the associated person as a relevant person, if the associated person would be a member of the New Zealand group but for being an excess debt outbound company or being included in the New Zealand group of an excess debt outbound company.

CFC investments excluded

- (1B) The value of the total group assets calculated and measured under this section does not include the value of an investment described in subsection (1BA), except—
 - (a) to the extent to which—
 - (i) the value of the investment represents the outstanding balances of financial arrangements to which section FE 13 applies:
 - (ii) the CFC or FIF derives income, other than non-resident passive income, that has a source in New Zealand and for which relief from New Zealand tax under a double tax agreement is unavailable:
 - (b) that the value of the total group assets is treated as being $1 if the value would otherwise be zero as a result of this subsection.

When member not resident

- (1C) If the excess debt entity or another member of a New Zealand group is not resident in New Zealand, the assets of the entity or member are included in the calculation and measurement of total group assets under this section only to the extent to which the assets are for the entity or member to—
 - (a) carry on business in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand:
 - (b) derive income, other than non-resident passive income, that has a source in New Zealand and for which relief from New Zealand tax under a double tax agreement is unavailable.

Changes in value excluded if arising from transfers between associated persons

- (1D) The value of the total group assets calculated and measured under this section does not include a change in the value of assets arising from a transfer of the assets or ownership interests between a member of the group and an associated person in or after the 2015–16 income year.

Exception: change equivalent to revaluation or arising from transaction with non-associate

- (1E) A change referred to in subsection (1D) may be included in the value of the total group assets if—

- (a) the change would have been permitted under generally accepted accounting practice in the absence of the transfer:
- (b) the change—
 - (i) arises for a company that, with other companies, has its ownership or control acquired by a person (the purchaser) who is not an associated person of the former owner and that is restructured on being included in the purchaser's group (the group); and
 - (ii) includes a change in value for the company's assets in New Zealand that is a reasonable proportion of the change in value of the group's total assets.

Generally accepted accounting practice

- (2) The amount of total group assets must be calculated under generally accepted accounting practice, with the exception of the values referred to in subsection (1)(c) or (d).

Defined in this Act: adjusted tax value, amount, associated person, attributable FIF income method, CFC, company, double tax agreement, excess debt entity, excess debt outbound company, FIF, finance lease, generally accepted accounting practice, income interest, income tax liability, income year, lease, market value, natural person, New Zealand, non-resident passive income, ownership interest, personal property lease asset, source in New Zealand, specified lease, tax, total group assets, trading stock, trustee

FE 17 Consolidation of debts and assets

For an excess debt entity that is a company, the debt percentage of a worldwide group is calculated under generally accepted accounting practice for the consolidation of companies for the purposes of eliminating intra-group balances by consolidating the debts and assets of the members of the entity's worldwide group using—

- (a) a financial standard used in the country in which the entity's ultimate non-resident parent company resides, as described in section FE 18(1)(a), if applicable; or
- (b) generally accepted accounting practice.

Defined in this Act: company, excess debt entity, generally accepted accounting practice, non-resident company, ultimate parent

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FG 5(2), (10)

FE 18 Measurement of debts and assets of worldwide group

Standards applying

- (1) The amount of total group debt and the amount of total group assets of the worldwide group of an excess debt entity is calculated—
 - (a) using a standard that is equivalent to generally accepted accounting practice for consistent and non-distorting financial reporting; and
 - (b) in accordance with the financial reporting standards of the country where the worldwide group's consolidated financial accounts are prepared.

Date of measurement

- (2) The amount of total group debt and the amount of total group assets of the worldwide group of an excess debt entity for an income year are measured using—
 - (a) the average amount at the end of each day of the income year; or
 - (b) the average amount at the end of each 3-month period in the income year; or
 - (c) the amount as at the worldwide group's balance date that immediately precedes the income year.

Measurement of amounts

- (3) Despite subsection (1), an excess debt entity must measure the amount of total group debt by applying section FE 15 as if—
 - (a) section FE 15(1)(a) excluded from the measurement a financial arrangement meeting the requirements of subsection (3B); and

- (b) section FE 15(1)(a)(ii) required the financial arrangement to give rise to an amount that would be allowed as a deduction to the natural person or to the entity, or another group member, if the entity or group member were resident in New Zealand.

Financial arrangements removed from measurement of amounts

- (3B) A financial arrangement is removed from the measurement of total group debt for an excess debt entity that is not an excess debt outbound company if—
 - (a) there is a person (the owner) who is not a member of the group and—
 - (i) has an ownership interest in a member of the group;
 - (ii) is a settlor of a trust having a trustee who is a member of the group; and
 - (b) the owner, or an associated person other than a member of the group,—
 - (i) is a party to the financial arrangement;
 - (ii) guarantees, or provides security for, the performance of obligations under the financial arrangement, if the worldwide group is given by section FE 3(1)(d) or FE 31D;
 - (iii) provides, or undertakes to provide, funds for the use of a person who agrees to provide funds under the financial arrangement; and
 - (c) the owner has direct ownership interests in a member of the group of 5% or more; and
 - (d) the financial arrangement is not traded on an exchange that would be a recognised exchange if paragraphs (c) to (e) of the definition of recognised exchange referred to financial arrangements as well as to shares and options over shares.

Commissioner's estimate

- (4) If an excess debt entity is unable to calculate the debt percentage of their worldwide group for an income year, they may apply to the Commissioner to estimate the percentage under this subpart. The estimate is then treated as the percentage applying for the purposes of this subpart.

Default percentage

- (5) The debt percentage of the worldwide group of an excess debt entity is treated as,—
 - (a) 54.5454%, if the excess debt entity is not a trustee and not an excess debt outbound company, or is a trustee who is not described in section FE 2(1)(g), and—
 - (i) the entity is unable to calculate the percentage and does not ask the Commissioner to make an estimate under subsection (4);
 - (ii) the Commissioner cannot reasonably estimate the debt percentage under subsection (4):

- (iii) all members of the entity's worldwide group, not including the entity, are resident in New Zealand and the entity's worldwide group is not determined under either of sections FE 3(1)(d) and FE 31D;
or
- (b) 68.1818%, if the excess debt entity is an excess debt outbound company, or is a trustee who is described in section FE 2(1)(g), and—
 - (i) the entity is unable to calculate the percentage and does not ask the Commissioner to make an estimate under subsection (4):
 - (ii) the Commissioner cannot reasonably estimate the debt percentage under subsection (4):
 - (iii) no member of the entity's worldwide group, other than the entity, is not resident in New Zealand.

Defined in this Act: amount, apply, associated person, Commissioner, deduction, excess debt entity, excess debt outbound company, financial arrangement, generally accepted accounting practice, income year, ownership interest, recognised exchange, resident in New Zealand, settlor, total group assets, total group debt, trustee

New Zealand banking group

FE 19 Banking group's equity threshold

Requirement for New Zealand banking group: formula

- (1) A reporting bank must calculate the equity threshold of its New Zealand banking group for a tax year using the formula—

$$0.06 \times (\text{risk-weighted exposures} - \text{deductions from equity value}).$$

Definition of items in formula

- (2) In the formula,—
- (a) risk-weighted exposures is the sum of the following values:
- (i) for an asset included in a balance sheet, the regulatory value of the asset:
 - (ii) for an exposure not included in a balance sheet, the regulatory value of the exposure:
 - (iii) for an amount of goodwill that is not taken into account in adjustment 4: intangible assets in determining the New Zealand net equity of the group under section FE 21, the financial value of the goodwill:

- (b) deductions from equity value is the total amount of the regulatory values of adjustments 1 to 10 referred to in section FE 21.

Assets of fixed establishments

- (3) For the purposes of this section, the assets of a fixed establishment include those treated as assets of the fixed establishment under generally accepted accounting practice.

Defined in this Act: amount, financial value, fixed establishment, generally accepted accounting practice, New Zealand banking group, New Zealand net equity, regulatory value, reporting bank, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FG 8H

Section FE 19(1) formula: replaced (with effect on 1 April 2012), on 2 November 2012 (applying for measurement dates under section FE 8(3) of the Income Tax Act 2007 for periods beginning on or after 1 April 2012), by section 70(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

FE 20 Financial value and regulatory value

Financial value

- (1) In sections FE 19, and FE 21 to FE 23, the financial value of an item for a New Zealand banking group at a time is the amount recorded for the item in the group's financial statements that—
- (a) relate to the time; and
 - (b) are prepared for external reporting purposes; and
 - (c) are consistent with generally accepted accounting practice for the consolidation of a group of companies for the purposes of eliminating intra-group balances.

Regulatory value

- (2) In section FE 19, the regulatory value of an item for a New Zealand banking group at a time is the total risk-weighted value for the item for the purposes of the Capital Adequacy Framework issued by the Reserve Bank of New Zealand acting in the prudential supervision of registered banks under the Reserve Bank of New Zealand Act 1989.

Defined in this Act: amount, financial value, generally accepted accounting practice, group of companies, issue, New Zealand, New Zealand banking group, registered bank, regulatory value

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FG 8F

FE 21 Banking group's New Zealand net equity

Formula

- (1) A reporting bank must calculate the New Zealand net equity of its New Zealand banking group for an income year using the formula—
- equity value – adjustments 1 to 11.

Definition of items in formula

- (2) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (3) to (14).

Equity value

- (3) Equity value is the total financial value of—
- (a) the shareholders' equity for the group; and
 - (b) the branch equity relating to fixed establishments of the group; and
 - (c) any shares issued by a member of the group whose value is not included under paragraph (a) or (b); and
 - (d) any financial arrangement that is a loan or provision of funds—
 - (i) that is not taken into account in calculating the group's funding debt for the tax year corresponding to the income year; and
 - (ii) that is made by a non-resident who is not a member of the New Zealand banking group or associated with a member of the group; and
 - (iii) that is made to a member of the group; and
 - (iv) that does not give rise to interest expenditure other than as a result of a fluctuation in the value of a currency of a country relative to the value of a currency of another country; and
 - (v) whose value is not included under paragraph (a) or (b); and
 - (vi) that does not relate to a supply of goods or services; and
 - (e) an instrument specified by the Governor-General by Order in Council under section FE 24 as included in equity value, but excluding an instrument specified under that section as not being an item of equity value.

Fixed-rate shares

- (4) Adjustment 1 is the financial value of fixed-rate foreign equities or fixed-rate shares that are—
- (a) issued by a member of the group on or after 1 January 2005, or before that date if the measurement period starts on or after 1 January 2010; and
 - (b) owned by a person resident in New Zealand; and
 - (c) included in equity value under subsection (3).

Stapled debt securities

- (4B) Adjustment 1A is the financial value of stapled debt securities that are—
- (a) owned by a person resident in New Zealand; and
 - (b) included in equity value under subsection (3); and
 - (c) stapled to shares other than shares of a company that is a proportional-stapling company.

Tax debts

- (5) Adjustment 2 is the financial value of a tax debt that is a financial arrangement—

- (a) included in equity value under subsection (3)(a) to (c); and
- (b) in relation to which a member of the group is allowed a deduction for the corresponding tax year for interest to which any of sections DB 6 to DB 8 (which relate to interest expenditure) applies.

Policyholder liabilities and retained profits

- (6) Adjustment 3 is the financial value of unvested policyholder benefit liabilities and policyholder retained profits included in equity value under subsection (3).

Intangible assets

- (7) Adjustment 4 is the financial value of intangible assets, but does not include the value of—

- (a) the goodwill of a business that is not a banking, financing, leasing, or life insurance business—
 - (i) acquired from a person who, at the time of acquisition, is not associated with a member of the group; or
 - (ii) relating to an entity that is acquired from a person who is not associated with a member of the group:
- (b) a film or film right:
- (c) property that is depreciable property or is expected to become depreciable property.

Capital gains

- (8) Adjustment 5 is the total amount of capital gain arising for the 2004–05 income year or a later income year from a transfer of an intangible asset between a member of the group and a person who is associated with a member of the group.

Asset revaluation reserves

- (9) Adjustment 6 is the financial value of revaluation reserves included in equity value under subsection (3).

Future tax benefits

- (10) Adjustment 7 is the financial value of net future tax benefits included in equity value under subsection (3) that arise from—

- (a) a tax loss for the tax year corresponding to the income year referred to in subsection (1):
- (b) a loss balance carried forward from an earlier tax year:
- (c) a timing or temporary difference to the extent to which the item giving rise to the difference would contribute to the amount of a tax loss for the tax year corresponding to the income year referred to in subsection (1) if allowed as a deduction.

Prudential deductions

- (11) Adjustment 8 is the financial value of a credit enhancement or advance that is, for the purposes of the Capital Adequacy Framework described in section FE 20(2),—
- (a) a credit enhancement that a member of the group provides to—
 - (i) an associated funds management and securitisation scheme of a non-member;
 - (ii) an affiliated insurance group that is a non-member when the credit has not been expensed;
 - (b) an advance by a member of the group of a capital nature to a connected person who is a non-member.

Offshore assets

- (12) Adjustment 9 is the financial value of shares in a non-resident company that—
- (a) are held by a member or potential member of the group; and
 - (b) are not interests in a foreign investment fund (FIF) for which the FIF income or FIF loss is calculated using the comparative value method, the deemed rate of return method, the fair dividend rate method, or the cost method; and
 - (c) are not shares in a grey list company that—
 - (i) are listed on the official list of a recognised exchange; and
 - (ii) are revenue account property; and
 - (iii) would not be a sufficient interest in the company if the class of shares were the only class of share issued by the company.

Cross holdings

- (13) Adjustment 10 is the financial value of—
- (a) interests included in equity value under subsection (3) held by a person who—
 - (i) is not a member of the group because of an exclusion under section FE 35; and
 - (ii) is resident in New Zealand or holds the interest through a fixed establishment in New Zealand;
 - (b) shares in or loans (other than on an arm's length basis) to a person who is not a member of the group because of an exclusion under section FE 35.

Notional offshore investments

- (14) Adjustment 11 is the amount of notional offshore investment for the group for the income year under section FE 22.

Components of adjustment items counted once

- (15) For the purposes of this section, if a component of an item described in adjustments 1 to 10 is a component of 1 or more other adjustment items, the value of the component is counted once only at its highest value.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, business, company, comparative value method, cost method, deduction, deemed rate of return method, depreciable property, direct voting interest, dividend, fair dividend rate method, FIF, FIF income, FIF loss, film, film right, financial arrangement, financial value, fixed establishment, fixed-rate share, grey list company, group funding debt, income year, interest, loan, loss balance, measurement period, New Zealand, New Zealand banking group, New Zealand net equity, non-resident, non-resident company, notional offshore investment amount, pay, proportional-stapling company, recognised exchange, reporting bank, resident in New Zealand, revenue account property, share, shareholder, stapled, stapled debt security, tax, tax loss

FE 22 Notional offshore investment

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section FE 21(14) to determine an amount of notional offshore investment for a New Zealand banking group for an income year.

Formula

- (2) The amount of notional offshore investment is calculated using the formula—
- $$\frac{(\text{foreign tax credits} - \text{threshold}) \times 12}{\div (\text{tax rate} \times \text{interest rate of return} \times \text{months}).}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) foreign tax credits is the total amount of foreign tax credits for the tax year corresponding to the income year claimed as a credit against the income tax liability for the tax year of a member of the group or a person excluded from the group under section FE 35 that does not arise from—
- (i) attributed CFC income or from FIF income; or
 - (ii) income derived before 1 July 2005.
- (b) threshold is—
- (i) the amount set by the Governor-General by Order in Council as the threshold amount for the purposes of this subsection; or
 - (ii) $416,667 multiplied by the number of months beginning on or after 1 July 2005 in the income year that includes that date, if no threshold is set under subparagraph (i);
 - (iii) $5,000,000 if no threshold amount is set under subparagraph (i) or (ii):
- (c) tax rate is the rate of tax for companies set out in schedule 1, part A, clause 2 (Basic tax rates: income tax, ESCT, RSCT, RWT, and attributed fringe benefits) for the tax year corresponding to the income year referred to in subsection (1):
- (d) interest rate of return is—
- (i) the percentage amount set by the Governor-General by Order in Council as the interest rate of return for the purposes of this subsection; or
 - (ii) 7%, if no interest rate of return is set under subparagraph (i):

- (e) months is the number of months beginning on or after 1 July 2005 in the corresponding income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, attributed CFC income, corresponding income year, FIF income, income, income tax liability, income year, interest, New Zealand banking group, notional offshore investment amount, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FG 8G(4)

Section FE 22(3)(c): amended, on 1 April 2008, by section 562 of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

FE 23 Banking group's funding debt

Formula

- (1) A reporting bank must calculate the funding debt of its New Zealand banking group for a tax year using the formula—

(total interest + interest deductions – shares) ÷ days in quarter.

Definition of items in formula

- (2) In the formula,—
- (a) total interest is the financial value of the total interest-bearing debt for the group, measured on the last day of a quarter in the reporting bank's corresponding income year:
- (b) interest deductions is the financial value not included in paragraph (a) of a financial arrangement in relation to which the group has a deduction for interest to which any of sections DB 6 to DB 8 (which relate to interest expenditure) applies, other than as a consequence of a fluctuation in the value of a currency of a country relative to the value of a currency of another country:
- (c) shares is the financial value of shares included in paragraph (a), measured on the last day of a quarter in the reporting bank's corresponding income year:
- (d) days in quarter is the number of days in a quarter in the reporting bank's corresponding income year.

Defined in this Act: corresponding income year, deduction, financial arrangement, financial value, interest, New Zealand banking group, quarter, reporting bank, share, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FG 8B(3)

FE 24 Regulations

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of sections FE 21 and FE 22.

Specifications

- (2) The Governor-General may, from time to time, by Order in Council—
- (a) specify a type of instrument that is included in equity value under section FE 21(3):

- (b) specify a type of instrument that is not included in equity value under section FE 21(3):
- (c) set, replace, or repeal a figure for a threshold amount for a value of an instrument, or aggregate value of a type of instrument, held by a person or group of persons for the purposes of a specification under paragraph (a) or (b):
- (d) amend or delete a specification under paragraphs (a) to (c):
- (e) set, replace, or repeal a figure for the threshold amount for the purposes of the definition of threshold in section FE 22(3)(b)(i):
- (f) set, replace, or repeal a figure for the definition of interest rate of return in section FE 22(3)(d)(i).

Application or effective date

- (3) An Order in Council under subsection (2) may—
 - (a) come into effect on or after 1 July 2005:
 - (b) apply for measurement periods and quarters that—
 - (i) are in the 2005–06 income year or a later income year; and
 - (ii) commence on or after 1 July 2005.

Defined in this Act: amount, group of persons, income year, interest, measurement period, quarter

FE 26 Identifying New Zealand parent

Identifying resident company

- (1) The New Zealand parent of an excess debt entity is the entity identified in whichever is applicable of subsections (2) to (6).

Entity as parent

- (2) The excess debt entity is treated as the New Zealand parent if—
- (a) the entity is not resident in New Zealand; or
 - (b) the entity is resident in New Zealand, and—
 - (i) a non-resident has a direct ownership interest in the entity of 50% or more, as determined under section FE 39; and
 - (ii) no single non-resident who is carrying on business in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand or who derives income, other than non-resident passive income, that has a source in New Zealand and for which relief from New Zealand tax under a double tax agreement is unavailable has an ownership interest in the entity of 50% or more; or

- (bb) the entity is resident in New Zealand, and meets the requirements of none of the other paragraphs, and has a non-resident owning body having a direct ownership interest of 50% or more in the entity and not having a member (a tax-return member)—
 - (i) carrying on business in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand;
 - (ii) deriving income, other than non-resident passive income, that has a source in New Zealand and for which relief from New Zealand tax is unavailable under all relevant double tax agreements; or
- (bc) the entity is a non-resident owning body; or
- (c) the entity is an excess debt outbound company and no single company resident in New Zealand has an ownership interest in the entity of 50% or more.

Top tier New Zealand resident company if not excess debt outbound company

- (3) If subsection (2) does not apply, and the excess debt entity is not an excess debt outbound company, the entity's New Zealand parent is the company (company A) that meets all the following requirements:
 - (a) company A is either—
 - (i) resident in New Zealand; or
 - (ii) not resident in New Zealand but carrying on business in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand; or
 - (iii) not resident in New Zealand but deriving income, other than non-resident passive income, that has a source in New Zealand and for which relief from New Zealand tax under a double tax agreement is unavailable; and
 - (b) company A has an ownership interest in the entity; and
 - (c) if company A is a non-resident, a non-resident has a direct ownership interest in company A; and
 - (d) if company A is resident in New Zealand,—
 - (i) a non-resident has a direct ownership interest in company A and ownership interests of 50% or more in the entity and company A; or
 - (ii) the requirements of subparagraph (i) are not met and a group of non-residents is a non-resident owning body for the entity and for company A, and has ownership interests of 50% or more in the entity and company A, and no such non-resident owning body for the entity and for company A has a tax-return member; and
 - (e) no company that meets the requirements of paragraphs (a) to (d) has a direct ownership interest in company A.

When parent controlled by non-resident

- (4) Despite subsection (3), if the interest apportionment rule in section FE 6 applies to the excess debt entity only through the application of section FE 2(1)(c)(ii), the entity's New Zealand parent is the company (company B) that meets all the following requirements:
- (a) company B is either—
 - (i) resident in New Zealand; or
 - (ii) not resident in New Zealand but carrying on business in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand; or
 - (iii) not resident in New Zealand but deriving income, other than non-resident passive income, that has a source in New Zealand and for which relief from New Zealand tax under a double tax agreement is unavailable; and
 - (b) company B has an ownership interest in the entity; and
 - (c) if company B is resident in New Zealand, a non-resident, or non-resident owning body, who has control of the entity by any means, has control of company B by any means; and
 - (d) no company that meets the requirements of paragraphs (a) to (c) has a direct ownership interest in company B.

Top tier New Zealand resident company for excess debt outbound company

- (4B) If subsection (2) does not apply, and the excess debt entity is an excess debt outbound company, the entity's New Zealand parent is the company (company C) that meets all the following requirements:
- (a) company C—
 - (i) is resident in New Zealand; and
 - (ii) has an ownership interest of 50% or more in the entity; and
 - (b) no company that meets the requirements of paragraph (a)(i) and (ii) has a direct ownership interest in company C.

Non-resident owning body

- (4C) If subsections (2) to (4B) do not apply and the entity is resident in New Zealand and has a non-resident owning body, the non-resident owning body is the entity's New Zealand parent if the non-resident owning body has—
- (a) a direct ownership interest of 50% or more in the entity; and
 - (b) a tax-return member.

Controlling trustee

- (4D) If an excess debt entity meets the requirements of section FE 2(1)(cc) and the New Zealand parent of the entity cannot be determined in the absence of this subsection and subsection (6), the New Zealand parent of the entity is the trustee referred to in section FE 2(1)(cc).

Tie-breaker

- (5) If more than 1 company is identified as New Zealand parent under subsection (3) or (4), the New Zealand parent is the company that has the highest value in ownership interests calculated by multiplying—
- (a) the total direct ownership interests in company A or company B of non-residents who also have ownership interests in the entity of 50% or more:
 - (b) the ownership interests of company A or company B in the entity.

Entity as parent

- (6) If subsection (2) does not apply, and no company meets the requirements of 1 of subsections (3) to (4D), the excess debt entity is treated as the New Zealand parent.

Determining ownership interests in subsections (3) to (4C)

- (7) In subsections (3) to (4C), ownership interests are determined under sections FE 38 to FE 41, but for the purposes of identifying a New Zealand parent,—
- (a) the ownership interests of a person associated with another person are not included with the ownership interests of the other person, except if the persons are associated under paragraph (b):
 - (b) a trustee who acts in concert with another trustee is treated as being associated with the other trustee.

Defined in this Act: associated person, business, company, double tax agreement, excess debt entity, excess debt outbound company, fixed establishment, income, interest, New Zealand, non-resident, non-resident company, non-resident owning body, non-resident passive income, ownership interest, resident in New Zealand, source in New Zealand, tax

FE 27 Establishing companies under parent's control

Choosing threshold

- (1) A control threshold that the New Zealand parent of an excess debt entity chooses under this section must apply consistently to all companies that are members of the group.

Percentages

- (2) The New Zealand parent of an excess debt entity may choose as the relevant control threshold a percentage that is either—
 - (a) more than 50%; or
 - (b) 66% or more.

Threshold over 50%

- (3) For a control threshold that is more than 50%, the company or companies treated as controlled by the New Zealand parent are those in which direct ownership interests of more than 50% are held collectively by either or both—
 - (a) the New Zealand parent; and
 - (b) any other company included in the New Zealand group.

Threshold of 66% or more

- (4) For a control threshold of 66% or more, the companies treated as controlled by the New Zealand parent are those in which direct ownership interests of 66% or more are held collectively by any combination of—
 - (a) the New Zealand parent; and
 - (b) a non-resident if—

- (i) they have ownership interests of 50% or more in both the entity and the New Zealand parent; and
- (ii) a company included in the New Zealand group as a result of the control percentage would have been included in the group under section FE 28 through the application of the control test in subsection (3), had the control percentage in that subsection been chosen; and
- (c) any other company or companies that are included in the New Zealand group under section FE 28 through the application of any of these paragraphs.

Default threshold of 66%

- (5) If the New Zealand parent does not choose a control threshold under subsection (3) or (4), the control threshold applying to the New Zealand group is 66% or more.

Application to other companies of New Zealand parent

- (6) The control threshold applying for an income year in relation to the entity and its New Zealand parent applies to any company of the New Zealand parent.

Defined in this Act: company, excess debt entity, income year, New Zealand, non-resident, ownership interest

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FG 4(12)–(14B)

FE 28 Identifying members of New Zealand group

New Zealand parent's group

- (1) A New Zealand group is made up of an excess debt entity, the entity's New Zealand parent, and a company—
 - (a) that is—
 - (i) resident in New Zealand;
 - (ii) carrying on a business in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand;
 - (iii) deriving income, other than non-resident passive income, that has a source in New Zealand and for which relief from New Zealand tax under a double tax agreement is unavailable; and
 - (b) that is identified under section FE 27 as being under the control of the New Zealand parent; and
 - (c) that is not a member of the New Zealand banking group of a registered bank.

Special rule for some entity's group

- (2) Despite subsection (1), if the excess debt entity is not an excess debt outbound company and is not a company identified under section FE 27 as being under the control of the New Zealand parent because the threshold is not met, the New Zealand group is made up of the entity and a company—
- (a) that is—
- (i) resident in New Zealand;
 - (ii) carrying on a business in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand;
 - (iii) deriving income, other than non-resident passive income, that has a source in New Zealand and for which relief from New Zealand tax under a double tax agreement is unavailable; and
- (b) that is a company that is not a member of the New Zealand banking group of a registered bank and—
- (i) would be identified under section FE 27 as being under the control of the entity if the entity were treated as the New Zealand parent; or
 - (ii) if the entity is identified under section FE 27 as being under the control of another company (company A), would be identified under section FE 27 as under the control of company A if company A were included in the New Zealand group and treated as the New Zealand parent; or
 - (iii) would be identified under section FE 27 as under the control of a company (company B) included in the entity's New Zealand group under subparagraph (ii), if company B were treated as the New Zealand parent.
 - (iv) [Repealed]

Another special rule for some other entity's group

- (3) Despite subsection (1), if the excess debt entity is an excess debt outbound company and is not a company identified under section FE 27 as being under the control of the New Zealand parent because the threshold is not met, the entity is included in the New Zealand group for the New Zealand parent if—
- (a) the entity is a company that meets the requirements of subsection (1)(a) and (c); and
- (b) a member of the New Zealand group has a 50% or more ownership interest in the entity.

Defined in this Act: business, company, double tax agreement, excess debt entity, excess debt outbound company, fixed establishment, New Zealand, New Zealand banking group, non-resident passive income, ownership interest, registered bank, resident in New Zealand, source in New Zealand, tax

Registered bank's parent

- (2) An ultimate parent of a registered bank is a company—
 - (a) that has an ownership interest in the registered bank of 50% or more; and
 - (b) in which no other company that has an ownership interest in the registered bank of 50% or more has an ownership interest.

Fixed establishment's parent

- (3) The ultimate parent of a registered bank's fixed establishment in New Zealand is the registered bank.

Ownership interests

- (4) For the purposes of this section, ownership interests are determined under sections FE 38 to FE 41.

Defined in this Act: company, fixed establishment, New Zealand, ownership interest, registered bank, ultimate parent

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FG 8C(9), (10)

Section FE 34 list of defined terms ownership interest: inserted, on 1 April 2015, by section 116(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

FE 35 Persons who may be excluded from banking groups*Reporting bank's exclusions*

- (1) A reporting bank may determine the members of its New Zealand banking group by excluding from the group a person or fixed establishment described in subsections (2) to (5).

Life insurance providers

- (2) A reporting bank may choose to exclude from its New Zealand banking group a person or a fixed establishment whose main activity is providing life insurance.

Entity owning life insurer or banker

- (3) A reporting bank may choose to exclude from its New Zealand banking group a person resident in New Zealand—
- (a) who has a voting interest of 100% in a person excluded under subsection (2); and
 - (b) whose main activity is not banking, financing, or leasing, or the ownership or control of an entity whose main activity is banking, financing, or leasing.

Resident group company with other activities

- (4) A reporting bank may choose to exclude from its New Zealand banking group a person resident in New Zealand—
- (a) who is required under generally accepted accounting practice to be included in consolidated group accounts with a person or fixed establishment excluded under subsection (2) or (3); and
 - (b) whose main activity is not banking, financing, or leasing, or the ownership or control of an entity whose main activity is banking, financing, or leasing.

Fixed establishment with other activities

- (5) A reporting bank may choose to exclude from its New Zealand banking group a fixed establishment of a non-resident if—
- (a) the non-resident has a voting interest of 100% in a person excluded under subsection (2); and
 - (b) the fixed establishment has a main activity of financing the person excluded under subsection (2); and
 - (c) the main activity of the fixed establishment is not banking, financing, or leasing, or the ownership or control of an entity whose main activity is banking, financing, or leasing.

Defined in this Act: company, fixed establishment, generally accepted accounting practice, life insurance, New Zealand banking group, non-resident, reporting bank, resident in New Zealand, voting interest

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FG 8C(8)

FE 36 Identifying members of New Zealand banking group in usual case*Entities included in group*

- (1) The New Zealand banking group of a registered bank to which section FE 36B does not apply includes the entities described in subsection (2), and may also include the entities described in subsections (3) to (6) if the conditions set out in those subsections are met.

Registered bank or fixed establishment

- (2) The banking group includes—
- (a) the registered bank, if resident in New Zealand;
 - (b) the registered bank's fixed establishment, if the registered bank is not resident in New Zealand.

Resident person in group with registered bank

- (3) A resident person is included in the banking group if—
- (a) the person is part of the same group of companies as the registered bank;
 - (b) the following conditions under generally accepted accounting practice are met:
 - (i) for a resident registered bank with no non-resident ultimate parent, the consolidated group accounts include both the person and the registered bank, or would include both but for relevant materiality thresholds; or
 - (ii) for a non-resident registered bank with no non-resident ultimate parent, the consolidated group accounts would include the person and the registered bank if the bank were resident in New Zealand and the relevant materiality thresholds were met.

Resident in group with non-resident ultimate parent

- (4) A resident is included in the banking group if—
- (a) the person is part of the same group of companies as a non-resident ultimate parent;
 - (b) under generally accepted accounting practice, the consolidated group accounts would include the person and the ultimate parent if the ultimate parent were resident in New Zealand and the relevant materiality thresholds were met.

Fixed establishment in group with registered bank

- (5) A fixed establishment in New Zealand of a non-resident is included in the banking group separately from the non-resident if—
- (a) the fixed establishment is part of the same group of companies as a non-resident registered bank with no non-resident ultimate parent;
 - (b) under generally accepted accounting practice, the consolidated group accounts would include the fixed establishment and the registered bank if the registered bank were resident in New Zealand and the relevant materiality thresholds were met.

Fixed establishment in group with non-resident ultimate parent

- (6) A fixed establishment in New Zealand of a non-resident is included in the banking group separately from the non-resident if—
- (a) the fixed establishment is part of the same group of companies as a non-resident ultimate parent:
 - (b) under generally accepted accounting practice, the consolidated group accounts would include the fixed establishment and the ultimate parent if the ultimate parent were resident in New Zealand and the relevant materiality thresholds were met.

Defined in this Act: fixed establishment, generally accepted accounting practice, group of companies, New Zealand, New Zealand banking group, non-resident, registered bank, resident in New Zealand, ultimate parent

FE 36B Identifying members of New Zealand banking group: Crown-owned, no interest apportionment

Entities included in group

- (1) The New Zealand banking group of a registered bank consists of the entities given by this section if—
- (a) each voting interest in the registered bank is held by—
 - (i) the Sovereign in right of New Zealand;
 - (ii) a public authority; and
 - (b) in the absence of this paragraph and sections EX 15, FE 2(5), FE 38(b) and (d), and FE 41(1), none of the entities that would be part of the banking group under this section would be a person to whom the interest apportionment rules might apply under section FE 2.

Registered bank and person with direct voting interest of 100%

- (2) The banking group includes—
- (a) the registered bank;
 - (b) a person with a direct voting interest of 100% in the registered bank.
- Resident member of financial reporting group under Financial Reporting Act 2013*
- (3) A resident person is included in the banking group if the person,—
- (a) under the Financial Reporting Act 2013, or under section 55 of that Act and the Financial Reporting Act 1993, is a member of the group for which the registered bank is the reporting entity;
 - (b) would be a member of the group referred to in paragraph (a) but for the relevant materiality thresholds.

Defined in this Act: direct voting interest, New Zealand, New Zealand banking group, public authority, registered bank, resident in New Zealand, voting interest

FE 37 Reporting bank for New Zealand banking group*When subsection (2) applies*

- (1) Subsection (2) applies on a day when a New Zealand banking group has either—
- (a) a single registered bank, or

(b) no registered bank but a fixed establishment of a single registered bank.

Registered bank

(2) The reporting bank for the day is the registered bank.

When subsection (4) applies

(3) Subsection (4) applies on a day when a New Zealand banking group has either—

(a) more than 1 registered bank; or

(b) no registered bank but fixed establishments of more than 1 registered bank.

Notice or Commissioner's appointment

(4) The reporting bank is—

(a) the registered bank that first notifies the Commissioner of an election to be the reporting bank, if the Commissioner receives the notice within 6 months after the end of the income year in which the day occurs; or

(b) if paragraph (a) does not apply, the registered bank chosen by the Commissioner.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, fixed establishment, income year, New Zealand banking group, notice, notify, registered bank, reporting bank

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FG 8D

Section FE 37 list of defined terms notify: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 74 of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

Measuring ownership interests in companies

FE 38 Measuring ownership interests in companies

For the purposes of this subpart, a person's ownership interest in a company is the total of the following percentages:

(a) any direct ownership interests they hold in the company; and

(b) any direct ownership interests held in the company by an associated person; and

(c) any indirect ownership interests they hold in the company; and

(d) any indirect ownership interests held in the company by an associated person.

Defined in this Act: associated person, company, ownership interest

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FG 2(2)

Section FE 38 list of defined terms ownership interest: inserted, on 1 April 2015, by section 116(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

FE 39 Direct ownership interests

A person's direct ownership interest in a company referred to in section FE 38 is equal to the highest percentage of shares or rights the person holds in the categories listed in section EX 5(1) (Direct control interests), applying the subsection as if the company were a foreign company.

Defined in this Act: company, foreign company, ownership interest, share

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FG 2(3)

Section FE 39 list of defined terms control: repealed, on 1 April 2010, by section 594 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section FE 39 list of defined terms ownership interest: inserted, on 1 April 2015, by section 116(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

FE 40 Tiered ownership interests

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person has a direct ownership interest in a company (company A), and that company has an ownership interest in another company (company B).

When ownership interest less than 50%

- (2) If the person's direct ownership interest in company A is less than 50%, they are treated as holding an indirect ownership interest in company B. The interest is calculated by multiplying the percentage that is the person's direct ownership interest in company A by the percentage that is company A's ownership in company B.

When ownership interest more than 50%

- (3) If the person's direct ownership interest in company A is equal to or more than 50%, they are treated as holding an indirect ownership interest in company B that is equal to company A's ownership interest in company B.

Defined in this Act: company, ownership interest

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FG 2(4)

Section FE 40 list of defined terms ownership interest: inserted, on 1 April 2015, by section 116(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

FE 41 Treatment of associated persons' interests

Aggregating ownership interests

- (1) For the purposes of section FE 40, a person's direct ownership interests include the direct ownership interests of a person associated with them. But if an aggregation of ownership interests results in the same percentage shares or rights in a company being counted more than once, the person's ownership interest in the company must be adjusted to the extent necessary to avoid multiple counting.

Relative resident in New Zealand

- (2) For the purposes of section FE 38 or FE 40, as applicable, a non-resident who does not have a direct or an indirect ownership interest in a company and a relative resident in New Zealand are not associated persons in relation to the company.

Defined in this Act: associated person, company, New Zealand, non-resident, ownership interest, relative, resident in New Zealand, share

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FG 2(4)–(6)

Section FE 41(1): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 27 February 2014, by section 71(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

Section FE 41(2): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 27 February 2014, by section 71(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

Section FE 41 list of defined terms ownership interest: inserted, on 1 April 2015, by section 116(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

FG 1 When this subpart applies*When this subpart applies*

- (1) This subpart applies, for the purposes of the NRWT rules and the Stamp and Cheque Duties Act 1971, when—
- (a) an amount is made available by a foreign bank (the bank) to a business carried on in New Zealand through a fixed establishment of the bank in New Zealand (the branch); and
 - (b) the transaction is recorded as a loan in the accounting records of the branch for an income year; and
 - (c) in calculating its income tax liability for the income year, the branch is allowed a deduction in relation to the amount made available to it, treating—
 - (i) the amount made available as an interest-bearing loan; and
 - (ii) the amount allowed as a deduction as interest on the loan.

Meaning of foreign bank

- (2) In this subpart, foreign bank means a non-resident that is—
- (a) a registered bank; and
 - (b) engaged in business in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand.

Defined in this Act: amount, business, deduction, fixed establishment, foreign bank, income tax liability, income year, interest, New Zealand, NRWT rules, registered bank

Section FG 1: inserted, on 30 March 2017, by section 105(1) (and see section 105(2)) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

FG 2 Notional loans*Money lent*

- (1) The amount that the bank makes available to the branch is a notional loan and, for the purposes of the NRWT rules and the Stamp and Cheque Duties Act 1971, is treated as money lent to the branch by the bank.

Amounts excluded

- (2) The amount of the notional loan does not include an amount provided as funding to the bank under a financial arrangement if NRWT or approved issuer levy is paid, in the absence of this subpart, in relation to interest that—
- (a) is derived under the arrangement; and
 - (b) has a source in New Zealand.

Money repaid

- (3) If the branch makes an amount available to the bank as a notional repayment of the amount referred to in subsection (1), recording the transaction in their accounting records for an income year, the amount is treated as a repayment of some or all of the amount of the notional loan.

Defined in this Act: amount, approved issuer levy, financial arrangement, income year, interest, money lent, NRWT, NRWT rules, pay, source in New Zealand

Section FG 2: inserted, on 30 March 2017, by section 105(1) (and see section 105(2)) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

FG 3 Notional interest

An amount recorded as an expense in relation to the notional loan in an income year is treated as interest that is non-resident passive income—

- (a) paid by the branch to the bank on the last day of the third month that follows the balance date of the branch; and
- (b) derived in the income year by the bank in relation to the notional loan.

Examples

Foreign Bank Ltd borrows AU$10b outside New Zealand from a variety of lenders and incurs an interest expense of AU$400m. The New Zealand branch of Foreign Bank Ltd is allocated NZ$1b of funding from this pool. An interest expense of NZ$42m is calculated using transfer pricing principles and is recorded in the branch's financial statements and deducted against the branch's taxable income from lending to New Zealand residents. The branch does not claim a deduction for any portion of the $AU400m paid by the non-New Zealand part of Foreign Bank. However, Foreign Bank Ltd is treated as making a loan to the branch on which it receives an interest payment of NZ$42m.

Defined in this Act: amount, balance date, deduction, income year, interest, non-resident passive income, pay

Section FG 3: inserted, on 30 March 2017, by section 105(1)(and see section 105(2)) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Subpart FL—Emigration of resident companies

Contents

FL 1 What this subpart does	1506
FL 2 Treatment of emigrating companies and their shareholders	1506

FL 1 What this subpart does

When this subpart applies

- (1) This subpart applies when a company that is a New Zealand resident (the emigrating company) stops being a New Zealand resident.

Tax effects

- (2) For tax purposes, the effects on an emigrating company and its shareholders, when an emigrating company becomes non-resident reflect the effects that would have resulted if,—
- (a) immediately before the time of emigration,—
- (i) the emigrating company disposed of its property at market value; and
 - (ii) the emigrating company went into liquidation; and
 - (iii) the amount available for distribution on liquidation were distributed as dividends to shareholders of the emigrating company to the extent to which the amount is more than the available subscribed capital and any capital gain of the company; and
- (b) at the time of emigration, the emigrating company were reformed as a foreign company with—
- (i) the same ownership and business activities as those of the emigrating company immediately before the time of emigration; and
 - (ii) the property of the emigrating company immediately before the time of emigration, acquired at its market value at that time.

Defined in this Act: amount, available subscribed capital, business, company, dividend, emigrating company, foreign company, liquidation, market value, New Zealand resident, non-resident, shareholder, tax, time of emigration

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FCB 1

FL 2 Treatment of emigrating companies and their shareholders

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies immediately before the time of emigration of an emigrating company.

Treatment of company

- (2) The company is treated as—
- (a) disposing of its property to a person, and reacquiring the property from the person, for consideration equal to the market value of the property at the time; and
- (b) making a distribution in money as a dividend to its shareholders of an amount that would be available for distribution at the time if the company were treated as going into liquidation.

Treatment of shareholder

- (3) Each shareholder of the company is treated as being paid a distribution in money as a dividend of the amount the shareholder would be entitled to at the time if the company were treated as going into liquidation.

Defined in this Act: amount, dividend, emigrating company, liquidation, market value, pay, shareholder, time of emigration

Introductory provisionsFM 1 What this subpart applies to

This subpart applies to eligible companies that are part of a wholly-owned group of companies that choose to form a consolidated group of companies.

Defined in this Act: company, consolidated group, wholly-owned group

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 1

FM 2 Consolidation rules*Purpose*

- (1) The consolidation rules are intended to ensure that, unless a provision of this Act expressly provides otherwise or the context requires another result, this Act applies to companies that are part of a consolidated group as if they were a single company, including its treatment for the following purposes:

- (a) to determine whether a tax credit may be used to satisfy the income tax liability of a consolidated group for a tax year:
- (b) when a provision sets a limit or provides a threshold, and its application depends on whether or not something is more or less than the limit or threshold.

Meaning

(2) The consolidation rules means the following:

- (a) this subpart:
- (b) section GB 38 (When sections GB 35 to GB 37 apply to consolidated groups):
- (c) subpart ID (Use of tax losses by consolidated groups):
- (d) sections LK 8 to LK 11 (which relate to tax credits of consolidated group companies):
- (e) subpart OP (Memorandum accounts of consolidated groups):
- (f) section RC 28 (Provisional tax rules and consolidated groups):
- (g) section 74 of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Defined in this Act: company, consolidated group, consolidation rules, income tax liability, tax credit, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FD 1, OB 1 “consolidation rules”

Section FM 2(2)(g): substituted (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 229(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

FM 3 Liability of consolidated groups and group companies

Taxable income of consolidated group

- (1) For the purposes of calculating the income tax liability for a tax year of a consolidated group under subpart BC (Calculating and satisfying income tax liabilities), the taxable income of a consolidated group for a tax year is the sum of the amounts calculated under subsection (2) for each company in the consolidated group for all or part of the corresponding income year.

Calculation for each company in consolidated group

- (2) Each company that is part of a consolidated group for all or part of an income year must calculate the amount that would be its taxable income under subpart BC, as modified by this section and sections FM 4 to FM 13, for all or part of the income year in which the company is part of the consolidated group.

Returns and assessment by consolidated group

- (3) The nominated company of a consolidated group must—

- (a) provide a single return of income for a tax year for the companies in the consolidated group in the corresponding income year under section 33 of the Tax Administration Act 1994; and
- (b) make an assessment under section 92 of the Tax Administration Act 1994 of the amount of income tax payable by the consolidated group.

No separate returns or assessment (with exception)

- (4) A group company cannot make a separate assessment or return for the tax year unless it is, for part of the corresponding income year, not part of the consolidated group.

Joint and several liability

- (5) Each company that is part of a consolidated group is jointly and severally liable for the amount of income tax assessed for the consolidated group in relation to its taxable income.

Individual liability

- (6) The joint and several liability of each company that is part of a consolidated group is substituted for their individual income tax liability, but only to the extent—
 - (a) of the income tax liability of the consolidated group for the period of the income year in which the company is in the consolidated group; and
 - (b) to which section FM 37 does not apply.

Withholding and payment obligations of companies

- (7) Each company that is part of a consolidated group is liable to comply with its obligations under the PAYE rules, the FBT rules, the ESCT rules, the RWT rules, and the NRWT rules.

Defined in this Act: amount, assessment, company, consolidated group, corresponding income year, ESCT rules, FBT rules, income tax, income tax liability, income year, nominated company, NRWT rules, pay, PAYE rules, return of income, RWT rules, tax year, taxable income

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss HB 1(1), HB 2(1), NB 1

FM 4 Limiting joint and several liability of group companies

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies before the nominated company of a consolidated group makes an assessment for the consolidated group for a tax year.

Named companies bearing liability

- (2) Despite section FM 3(5), the nominated company may apply to the Commissioner for approval for 1 or more named companies in the consolidated group to bear the consolidated group's income tax liability for the tax year.

Approval by Commissioner

- (3) The Commissioner must approve an application under subsection (2) unless limiting the liability to the named companies will significantly prejudice the recovery, or likely recovery, of the income tax liability of the consolidated group for the tax year.

Liability limited to named companies

- (4) For a tax year to which an approval referred to in subsection (3) relates,—
- (a) only a named company is liable for the income tax liability of the consolidated group, and if more than 1 company is named, the liability is joint and several:
 - (b) section RC 28 (Provisional tax rules and consolidated groups) does not apply to impose on a company other than a named company joint and several liability for provisional tax payable by the consolidated group.

When named companies do not meet obligations

- (5) Despite subsection (4), the joint and several liability of a group company other than a named company is not extinguished to the extent to which—
- (a) a named company does not meet their income tax liability under this section; and
 - (b) the Commissioner determines that the income tax liability of the consolidated group that is attributable to the taxable income of a company other than a named company is to be recovered from the other company.

Defined in this Act: apply, assessment, Commissioner, company, consolidated group, income tax liability, nominated company, pay, provisional tax, tax year, taxable income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HB 1(3)–(5)

Section FM 4(2): amended, on 2 June 2016, by section 46(1) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

Section FM 4(3): amended, on 2 June 2016, by section 46(2) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

Section FM 4 list of defined terms apply: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 46(3) of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

FM 5 Liability when company leaves consolidated group

Company leaving consolidated group

- (1) If a company leaves a consolidated group, the company's liability under section FM 3(5) is removed if all the following paragraphs apply:
- (a) if the assessment is made after the later of—
 - (i) the date on which the company is treated as leaving the consolidated group; or
 - (ii) the date of the event that caused the company to be treated as leaving the consolidated group; and
 - (b) the amount assessed is more than an earlier assessment of the consolidated group for the income year; and

- (c) the Commissioner considers that the removal of the liability will not significantly prejudice the recovery, or likely recovery, of the amount of income tax assessed for the income year.

Notifying company and consolidated group

- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1)(c), the Commissioner must notify the company and the consolidated group if the discretion has been exercised.

When subsection (4) applies

- (3) Subsection (4) applies when—
- (a) a company in a consolidated group is treated as deriving an amount of income under section CG 2C or CG 2D (which relate to the treatment of remitted amounts when certain companies are liquidated or leave groups of companies); and
- (b) the company—
- (i) for the purposes of section CG 2C, is company A and is liquidated while still part of the consolidated group:
- (ii) for the purposes of section CG 2D, is either company C or company D, and leaves the consolidated group.

Income of consolidated group

- (4) The amount of income that the company is treated as deriving under section CG 2C or CG 2D, as applicable, is treated as derived by the consolidated group.

Treatment of unpaid liabilities

- (5) In the application of subsection (4), to the extent to which an unpaid liability was previously taken into account in determining whether an amount is income under section CG 2C or CG 2D, the amount is not included in determining income under subsection (2).

Defined in this Act: amount, assessment, Commissioner, company, consolidated group, income, income tax, income year, notify, pay

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HB 1(2)

Section FM 5(1): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 30 June 2014, by section 117(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

FM 6 Some general rules for treatment of consolidated groups

References to income, tax losses, tax payable, and credits

- (1) For the purposes of the consolidation rules, the following amounts are determined on the basis of a single assessment:
 - (a) income, assessable income, net income, or taxable income of a consolidated group:
 - (b) a tax loss component, a tax loss, a loss balance, an attributed CFC net loss, or a FIF net loss of a consolidated group:
 - (c) tax payable by a consolidated group:
 - (d) a tax credit available to a consolidated group.

Shares

- (2) For the purposes of applying the consolidation rules to particular provisions in this Act, the shares or options over shares of a consolidated group are treated as comprising all the shares or options over shares of the companies in the consolidated group at the relevant time.

Dividends

- (3) A dividend that 1 company that is part of a consolidated group pays to another group company continues to be taken into account for the purposes of—
 - (a) the imputation rules:
 - (b) [Repealed]
 - (c) sections FM 8(3)(c), GB 38, and OP 3 to OP 50 (which relate to dividends and consolidated groups):
 - (d) [Repealed]
 - (e) section 74 of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

International tax rules

- (4) The international tax rules apply, modified as necessary, as if the consolidated group were a single company.

Balance of imputation credit account

- (5) Sections OA 3 (General rules for maintaining memorandum accounts) and YA 2(7) (Meaning of income tax varied) apply for the purposes of section GB 38, subpart OP, and section 74 of the Tax Administration Act 1994 as if the references to the imputation rules were references to sections OP 3 to OP 50.

Defined in this Act: amount, assessable income, assessment, attributed CFC net loss, company, consolidated group, consolidation rules, dividend, FIF net loss, imputation credit account, imputation rules, income, income tax, international tax rules, loss balance, net income, pay, share, tax, tax credit, tax loss, tax loss component, taxable income

Section FM 6 list of defined terms FDP rules: repealed (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 230(6) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Calculating taxable income for consolidated group returns

Accounting generally

FM 7 Treatment of amounts derived or expenditure incurred

Sections FM 8 to FM 23 set out the treatment of certain amounts derived or expenditure incurred while a company is part of a consolidated group. The treatment applies to the part of a company's income year when the company is in the consolidated group.

Defined in this Act: amount, company, consolidated group, income year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HB 2(1)

Section FM 7: amended, on 1 April 2017, by section 107 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

FM 8 Transactions between group companies: income

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a company that is part of a consolidated group derives an amount of income from a transaction or arrangement with another company in the same consolidated group, and the amount would not be income if the consolidated group were 1 company.

Excluded income

- (2) The amount is excluded income of the company under section CX 60 (Intra-group transactions).

Exclusion of certain amounts

- (3) Despite subsection (2), this section does not apply to—
 - (a) an amount arising from the disposal of the company's trading stock; or
 - (b) an amount arising under section EW 31 (Base price adjustment formula) from—
 - (i) the disposal of a financial arrangement to which the financial arrangements rules apply; or
 - (ii) the remission of a financial arrangement to which the financial arrangements rules apply, if the parties were not consolidated group companies for the whole term of the arrangement; or
 - (c) a dividend under section CD 4(1) (Transfers of value generally) between group companies arising from the release of an obligation to repay money lent before the companies are treated under section FM 35 as part of the consolidated group.

Defined in this Act: amount, arrangement, company, consolidated group, dividend, excluded income, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, income, money lent, pay, trading stock

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HB 2(1)(a)

Section FM 8(3)(b)(ii): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 2 November 2012 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years, except for a tax position that is inconsistent with subsection (1) and is taken in a tax return filed before 14 September 2011), by section 72(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

FM 9 Amounts that are company's income

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a company that is part of a consolidated group derives an amount that would not be income of the company in the absence of this section, but would be income of the consolidated group if it were 1 company either—
 - (a) because of a purpose for which an item of property was acquired; or
 - (b) because a connection exists between the amount and the carrying on of a business by another consolidated group company; or
 - (c) for some other reason.

Income

- (2) The amount is income of the company under section CV 2 (Consolidated groups: income of company in group).

Relationship with section CB 15C

- (3) This section is overridden by section CB 15C(2) (Council-controlled organisations and other companies).

Defined in this Act: amount, business, company, consolidated group, income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HB 2(1)(e)

Section FM 9(3) heading: inserted (with effect on 1 September 2015), on 30 March 2017, by section 108 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section FM 9(3): inserted (with effect on 1 September 2015), on 30 March 2017, by section 108 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

FM 10 Expenditure: intra-group transactions*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a company incurs expenditure or loss, or has an amount of depreciation loss, in a tax year or part of a tax year in which it is part of a consolidated group; and
 - (b) the company incurs the expenditure or loss through a payment or disposal to, or a transaction or arrangement with, another consolidated group company.

No deduction (with exception)

- (2) If a deduction would not be allowed for the expenditure or loss if the consolidated group were 1 company, the company is denied a deduction under section DV 16 (Consolidated groups: intra-group transactions) unless the exceptions in section DV 16(2)(a) or (b) apply.

Defined in this Act: amount, arrangement, company, consolidated group, deduction, depreciation loss, loss, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HB 2(1)(b)

FM 11 Expenditure: nexus with income derivation*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a company incurs expenditure or loss or has an amount of depreciation loss in a tax year or part of a tax year in which it is part of a consolidated group that—
- (a) is not expenditure or loss to which section FM 10 applies; and
 - (b) would not be allowed as a deduction to the company in the absence of this section.

Deduction

- (2) The company is allowed a deduction for the amount under section DV 17 (Consolidated groups: expenditure or loss incurred by group companies) if the consolidated group would be allowed a deduction for the amount, treating the group as if it were 1 company, because of a connection between—
- (a) the incurring of the expenditure or loss or amount of depreciation loss; and
 - (b) the deriving of assessable or excluded income, or the carrying on of a business by another company in the consolidated group.

Defined in this Act: amount, assessable income, business, company, consolidated group, deduction, depreciation loss, excluded income, loss, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HB 2(1)(c)

Section FM 11 list of defined terms excluded income: inserted, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section FM 11 list of defined terms excluded income loss: repealed, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section FM 11 list of defined terms loss: inserted, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

FM 12 Expenditure when deduction would be denied to consolidated group

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a company incurs expenditure or loss or an amount of depreciation loss in a tax year or part of a tax year in which it is part of a consolidated group that—
- (a) is not expenditure or loss to which section FM 10 applies; and
 - (b) would be allowed as a deduction to that company in the absence of this section.

No deduction (with exception)

- (2) The company is denied a deduction for an amount under section DV 17 (Consolidated groups: expenditure or loss incurred by group companies) if the deduction would be denied to the consolidated group, treating the group as if it were 1 company, except to the extent to which the expenditure or loss or amount of depreciation loss is interest on money that the company has borrowed from a person that is not part of the consolidated group, and the company—
- (a) is allowed a deduction under section DB 7 (Interest: most companies need no nexus with income) or DB 8 (Interest: money borrowed to acquire shares in group companies);
 - (b) would be allowed a deduction under section DB 7 or DB 8 because the company is treated as having used the money borrowed, to the extent of the actual acquisition cost, to acquire certain shares when, through interposed intra-group borrowings, the money borrowed was in fact used by another group company in acquiring the shares.

Defined in this Act: amount, company, consolidated group, deduction, depreciation loss, interest, loss, share, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HB 2(1)(d)

Section FM 12(2): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 7 September 2010 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 52(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

FM 13 Capital expenditure

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a company that is part of a consolidated group incurs expenditure or loss that would, treating the consolidated group as if it were 1 company, be taken into account in determining the cost of property but would not otherwise be taken into account in the absence of this section.

Amount taken into account

- (2) The expenditure or loss is taken into account in determining the cost of property of companies in the consolidated group.

Defined in this Act: company, consolidated group, loss

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HB 2(2)

FM 14 Part-year financial statements

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies in an income year when—
 - (a) a company joins or leaves a consolidated group during the income year; or
 - (b) a consolidated group is formed or ends its existence during the income year.

Who must provide statements

- (2) The following returns of income for the tax year must include part-year financial statements under sections FM 38(5) and FM 40(4):
 - (a) by the company when the financial statements relate to a period in which the company is not in the consolidated group:
 - (b) by the consolidated group when the financial statements relate to a period in which the company is in the consolidated group:
 - (c) by another consolidated group when the financial statements relate to a period in which the company is in another consolidated group.

Detailed statements

- (3) The part-year financial statements must determine, as applicable, the annual gross income, annual total deductions, income tax liability, or tax loss of the company in a fair and reasonable way. For this purpose the relevant part of the income year is treated as a complete income year.

Defined in this Act: annual gross income, annual total deduction, company, consolidated group, income tax liability, income year, return of income, tax loss, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 9

Accounting for particular property

FM 15 Amortising property and revenue account property

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies—
 - (a) when property is transferred from a company (company A) to another company (company B) and both companies are in the same consolidated group at the time the transfer takes place, and the property transferred is—
 - (i) amortising property; or
 - (ii) revenue account property, but not trading stock or a financial arrangement to which the financial arrangements rules apply; and
 - (b) to determine the income and deductions on a later disposal of property, or in relation to the depreciation or amortisation of the acquisition cost of the property under this Act.

Acquisition by company B

- (2) Company B is treated as acquiring the property on the date it was acquired by company A for the amount set out in subsections (3) to (5).

Whole pool

- (3) When the property forms the whole of a pool of property that is depreciated by company A under sections EE 20 to EE 24 (which relate to depreciation loss calculated under the pool method), the amount in subsection (2) is the adjusted tax value of the pool immediately before the property is transferred to company B.

Part pool

- (4) When the property forms only part of a pool of property that is depreciated by company A under sections EE 20 to EE 24, the amount in subsection (2) is the lesser of—
 - (a) the market value of the property transferred to company B; and
 - (b) the adjusted tax value of the whole of the pool immediately before the property is transferred to company B.

Not pool property

- (5) If subsections (3) and (4) do not apply, the amount in subsection (2) is the sum of the following amounts of expenditure incurred by company A before the property is transferred to company B for which no deduction has been allowed other than by the depreciation or amortisation of the acquisition cost of the property under section EE 1, EZ 7, or EZ 8 (which relate to depreciation), or another amortisation provision of this Act:

- (a) the original acquisition cost of the property;
- (b) expenditure incurred—
 - (i) in acquiring or improving the property; or
 - (ii) in securing or improving company A's legal rights to the property.

When subsection (7) applies

- (6) Subsection (7) applies—
 - (a) for the purposes of sections EE 46 to EE 52 (which relate to disposals and depreciation recovery income); and
 - (b) to property referred to in subsection (1)(b) other than pooled property; and
 - (c) in relation to an amount of depreciation loss or amortisation of acquisition cost up to the time the property is transferred from company A to company B.

Pre-transfer deductions for depreciation loss and amortisation

- (7) Company B is treated as allowed the pre-transfer deductions that company A is allowed for amounts of depreciation loss under section EZ 7 or EZ 8, or for an amount of expenditure or loss under another amortisation provision of this Act.

Defined in this Act: acquire, adjusted tax value, amortising property, amount, company, consolidated group, deduction, depreciation loss, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, income, market value, other amortisation provision, pool, revenue account property, trading stock

Section FM 15(5)(b)(i): amended (with effect on 1 April 2015 and applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 242(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

FM 16 Land or business: certain farming or forestry expenditure

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies in an income year when 2 companies (company A and company B) are in the same consolidated group for the whole of the income year, and—
 - (a) company A transfers land to company B, and company B holds the land for the remainder of the income year; or
 - (b) company A stops carrying on a business, and company B carries on the business for the remainder of the income year.

Deductions for certain farming and forestry expenditure

- (2) Company A is allowed a deduction under sections DO 4 to DO 6, and DO 12 (which relate to farming and aquaculture expenditure), or DP 3 (Improvements to forestry land) after the transfer or cessation of the business as if the transfer or cessation did not occur.

Defined in this Act: business, company, consolidated group, deduction, income year, land

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 10(3)

FM 17 Trading stock

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies in an income year in which a company (company A) transfers identifiable trading stock to another company (company B) when—
- (a) company A and company B are in the same consolidated group at the time of the transfer; and
 - (b) company A and company B choose to value the trading stock under subpart EB (Valuation of trading stock (including dealer's livestock)) or at the cost to company A, as applicable; and
 - (c) the nominated company of the consolidated group notifies the Commissioner within the time for providing the consolidated group's return of income, or a later time if the Commissioner agrees.

Trading stock held at start of income year

- (2) If company A held the trading stock at the start of the income year, the consideration for the transfer is the value of the trading stock at the start of the income year determined under subpart EB.

Trading stock acquired

- (3) If subsection (2) does not apply, the consideration for the transfer is the cost of the trading stock to company A.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, consolidated group, income year, nominated company, notify, return of income, trading stock

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 10(5)

FM 18 Financial arrangements: transfer from company A to company B

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies in an income year in which a company (company A) transfers a financial arrangement to which the financial arrangements rules apply to another company (company B) when—
- (a) company A and company B are in the same consolidated group for the whole of the income year; and
 - (b) the method of calculating income and expenditure from the financial arrangement does not change after the transfer, and the consolidated group's return of income is made on that basis; and

- (c) neither company A nor company B is entitled to use under sections IA 4 and IA 5 (which relate to the use of loss balances by companies) a loss balance carried forward unless subpart ID (Use of tax losses by consolidated groups) applies.

Treatment of companies

- (2) In the year of transfer and in later income years,—
 - (a) company A is treated as if it had never been a party to the financial arrangement, and section EW 31 (Base price adjustment formula) does not apply;
 - (b) company B is treated as if it had taken all the actions that company A undertook before the transfer in entering into the financial arrangement, incurring expenditure and deriving income, and providing its return of income in relation to the financial arrangement.

Relationship with sections EW 38 and GB 21

- (3) This section overrides sections EW 38 (Consideration when disposal for no, or inadequate, consideration) and GB 21 (Dealing that defeats intention of financial arrangements rules).

Defined in this Act: company, consolidated group, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, income, income year, loss balance, return of income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 10(4), (4A)

FM 19 Financial arrangements: transfer for fair and reasonable consideration

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies in an income year in which a company (company A) transfers a financial arrangement to another company (company B) when—
 - (a) company A and company B are in the same consolidated group at the time of the transfer; and
 - (b) section FM 18 does not apply to the transfer; and
 - (c) the method of calculating income and expenditure from the financial arrangement does not change after the transfer, and the consolidated group's return is made on this basis.

Consideration for transfer

- (2) In calculating the base price adjustment, company A's consideration for the transfer is a fair and reasonable amount of the income that would have been derived, or the expenditure that would have been incurred, by company A in the year of transfer if the transfer had not taken place.

Relationship with sections EW 38 and GB 21

- (3) This section overrides sections EW 38 (Consideration when disposal for no, or inadequate, consideration) and GB 21 (Dealing that defeats intention of financial arrangements rules).

Defined in this Act: amount, company, consolidated group, financial arrangement, income, income year, return of income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 10(4), (4B)

FM 20 Financial arrangements: transfer at market value

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies in an income year in which a company (company A) transfers a financial arrangement to another company (company B) when—
- (a) company A and company B are in the same consolidated group at the time of the transfer; and
- (b) neither section FM 18 nor FM 19 applies to the transfer.

Consideration for transfer

- (2) The consideration for the transfer is the market value of the financial arrangement on the date of the transfer.

Relationship with sections EW 38 and GB 21

- (3) This section overrides sections EW 38 (Consideration when disposal for no, or inadequate, consideration) and GB 21 (Dealing that defeats intention of financial arrangements rules).

Defined in this Act: company, consolidated group, financial arrangement, income year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 10(4), (4C)

FM 21 Property transfers when companies leave consolidated groups

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies to the extent to which a transfer of property has not previously been taken into account in the calculation of a consolidated group's taxable income under sections FM 8 to FM 13, or FM 15 to FM 20 and FM 23 when—
- (a) a company leaves a consolidated group, but not through liquidation; and
- (b) the company holds property that has at any time been transferred between companies in the same consolidated group; and
- (c) sections FM 15, or FM 17 to FM 20 applied to the transfer of the property.

Disposal and acquisition at market value

- (2) The company is treated as disposing of the property immediately before it leaves the consolidated group to a person not associated with it, and reacquiring it at that time at its market value.

Market value at time of transfer

- (3) If the item of property is part of or is absorbed into some other property, or its market value cannot be separately identified, the company is treated as disposing of and reacquiring the property at its market value at the time of the transfer under the relevant provision referred to in subsection (1)(c). If the property is transferred more than once, the time of disposal and reacquisition is the date of the latest transfer at which its market value can be determined.

Defined in this Act: associated person, company, consolidated group, liquidation, market value, taxable income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 10(6), (7)

FM 22 Arrangements to avoid consolidation rules*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a company joins a consolidated group and at the time holds property that it later transfers to another group company; and
 - (b) sections FM 15 or FM 17 to FM 20 would otherwise apply to the transfer of the property; and
 - (c) after the transfer the company leaves the consolidated group, whether by liquidation or otherwise.

Arrangement to defeat consolidation rules

- (2) If, in undertaking the activities, it could reasonably be concluded that the company was involved in an arrangement that had a purpose or effect of defeating the intent and application of the consolidation rules, the relevant provision does not apply to the transfer.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, company, consolidated group, consolidation rules, liquidation

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 10(9)

FM 23 Arrangements for disposal of shares*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) 2 companies (company A and company B) are in the same consolidated group; and
 - (b) the value of company A's net assets have been reduced as a result of a dividend, distribution, payment, arrangement, or transaction between company A and company B at the time the dividend is paid or the distribution, payment, arrangement, or transaction is made; and
 - (c) another company (company C) disposes of shares in company A for consideration that is less than the amount that would have been received in an arm's length transaction had the reduction in the value of company A's net assets not occurred; and

- (d) if the disposal were by way of sale, the consideration from the sale would be included in company C's income, other than income taken into account under section FM 3.

Arm's length transaction on disposal of shares

- (2) The disposal is treated as if it were a sale at arm's length.

Income

- (3) The amount that would have been received in an arm's length transaction is income of company C under section CV 3 (Consolidated groups: arrangement for disposal of shares).

Timing

- (4) The time at which the consideration for the sale at arm's length is determined is before the reduction in the value of company A's net assets.

Relationship with sections FM 8 and FM 11

- (5) Subsection (2) does not apply to an amount of income taken into account under section FM 8 or FM 11.

Defined in this Act: amount, arrangement, company, consolidated group, dividend, income, pay, share

FM 32 Restriction on membership of consolidated groups

A company is not eligible to be in more than 1 consolidated group at a particular time. If circumstances arise in which a company would, apart from this section, be treated at a particular time as in more than 1 consolidated group, then—

- (a) the company is treated as in the consolidated group of which it was first part; or
- (b) if the company is in 2 or more consolidated groups simultaneously, the Commissioner may specify its consolidated group, having regard to all the circumstances of the case.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, consolidated group

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 5

FM 33 When membership is reduced

A consolidated group continues to exist if the number of group companies is reduced to 1 company, but if the consolidated group has no company at any time, the consolidated group no longer exists.

Defined in this Act: company, consolidated group

Nominated companies

FM 34 Nominated companies

Group company at the time

- (1) The nominated company of a consolidated group at any time must be in the consolidated group at the time.

Agent

- (2) For the purposes of this Act and the Tax Administration Act 1994, a nominated company of a consolidated group is, at a time, the agent of the consolidated group and of each company that is in the consolidated group at the time.

Changing nominated company

- (3) A nominated company may notify the Commissioner that it is, at a particular date, no longer to continue as the agent for the consolidated group, and that another company is to become the nominated company for the consolidated group.

When notice takes effect

- (4) A notice referred to in subsection (3) takes effect—
 - (a) on the date the Commissioner receives the notice; or

(b) on a later date set out in the notice.

Replacing nominated company

- (5) If the nominated company of a consolidated group is liquidated, the other companies in the consolidated group may choose a replacement. The replacement company—
- (a) becomes the nominated company of the consolidated group from the date of liquidation; and
 - (b) must notify the Commissioner of its selection as nominated company within 20 working days after the date of liquidation, or a longer period if the Commissioner agrees.

Defined in this Act: agent, Commissioner, company, consolidated group, liquidation, nominated company, notice, notify, working day

Forming, joining, or leaving consolidated groups

FM 35 Forming consolidated group

Election

- (1) Two or more companies may choose to form a consolidated group of companies if the companies are, at the time,—
- (a) a wholly-owned group of companies; and
 - (b) eligible under section FM 31.

Notifying Commissioner

- (2) The Commissioner must be notified of an election under subsection (1). For the purposes of section FM 3(5), the notice must state that each company that is part of the consolidated group acknowledges their joint and several liability for the amount of income tax assessed for the consolidated group.

Nominated company

- (3) A notice under subsection (2) must nominate 1 of the companies in the consolidated group as its agent. The company is called the nominated company.

Defined in this Act: agent, amount, assessment, Commissioner, company, consolidated group, income tax, nominated company, notice, notify, wholly-owned group

FM 36 Joining existing consolidated group

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when 2 or more companies have formed a consolidated group and the consolidated group has not ended its existence.

Eligible for and entitled to membership

- (2) If a company is eligible under section FM 31 and entitled to join the consolidated group, it may choose to join the consolidated group by notifying the Commissioner.

Joint and several liability

- (3) The company providing the notification referred to in subsection (2) must agree in the notice to be jointly and severally liable under section FM 3(5) for income tax payable by the consolidated group.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, consolidated group, income tax, notice, notify, pay

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 7(1), (2)

FM 37 Leaving consolidated group

A company leaves a consolidated group if—

- (a) it chooses to leave the consolidated group and notifies the Commissioner of its election, see section FM 39; or
- (b) it no longer meets the eligibility criteria set out in section FM 31, see section FM 40; or
- (c) when it is not a nominated company, it is no longer entitled to be in the same consolidated group as the nominated company, see section FM 40; or
- (d) it is part of a consolidated group that no longer has a nominated company, see section FM 41.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, consolidated group, nominated company, notify

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 8(1)

When membership starts and stopsFM 38 Notice requirements on forming or joining consolidated groupWhen this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) 2 or more companies choose to form a consolidated group under section FM 35; or
- (b) a company chooses to join an existing consolidated group under section FM 36.

Condition

- (2) Despite subsection (1), this section applies only if a company forming or joining a consolidated group remains entitled to be in the consolidated group either at the start of the relevant income year or for the notice period, as applicable.

Setting out income year in notice

- (3) For a notice given to the Commissioner within the notice period in an income year, the company may provide that the election applies for the income year. The company is treated as in the consolidated group from the start of the income year.

When notice does not specify income year

- (4) If the notice referred to in subsection (3) does not specify an income year, the company is treated as in the consolidated group from the start of the income year following that in which the Commissioner receives the notice.

Setting out entitlement date in notice

- (5) Despite subsections (3) and (4), if a company becomes eligible to join a consolidated group during an income year, and the notice is given to the Commissioner within the notice period, the company may provide that the election applies from the date they first became entitled to make an election. The company is treated as in the consolidated group from that date, and part-year financial statements under section FM 14 are required.

Notice period

- (6) In this section, notice period means 1 of the following:
- (a) 63 working days after the start of an income year; or
 - (b) if the company joining, or the companies forming, the consolidated group in the income year are incorporated or formed in the same income year, 63 working days after the latest incorporation or formation; or
 - (c) if the company or companies become entitled to make an election during an income year, 63 working days from the date they first became entitled; or
 - (d) an extended period if the Commissioner agrees that the notice could not reasonably have been provided within the 63-day period.

Anti-avoidance measure

- (7) Subsection (5) does not apply if it would be reasonable to conclude that an arrangement has been entered into for a purpose of enabling the company to meet the requirements of the subsection so as to defeat the intent and application of the consolidation rules.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, Commissioner, company, consolidated group, consolidation rules, income year, notice, notice period, working day

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FD 4(3)–(8), FD 7(3)–(8)

FM 39 Choosing to leave consolidated group

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a company chooses to leave a consolidated group and notifies the Commissioner of its election.

Deferring leaving date

- (2) When the company notifies the Commissioner of its election, it may defer the date on which it leaves the consolidated group to the first day of the next income year. However, unless subsections (3) and (4) apply, if the company does not defer the leaving date, it is treated as no longer in the consolidated group from the start of the income year in which the Commissioner receives the notice.

First income year: deferral

- (3) Despite subsection (2), if a company leaves a consolidated group in the same income year in which it joins the group, and defers the leaving date in the notice, it is treated as leaving the consolidated group from the start of the income year after the income year in which the Commissioner receives the notice. Sections FM 40 and FM 41 override this subsection.

First income year: no deferral

- (4) Despite subsection (2), if a company leaves a consolidated group in the same income year in which it joins the consolidated group, and does not defer the leaving date in the notice, it is treated as leaving the consolidated group on the date it joined the group.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, consolidated group, income year, notice, notify

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 8(2)

Section FM 39(3): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 29 August 2011 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 140(1) of the Taxation (Tax Administration and Remedial Matters) Act 2011 (2011 No 63).

FM 40 Losing eligibility or entitlement to be part of consolidated group*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a company is no longer eligible to be part of a consolidated group or, if it is not the nominated company, when it is no longer entitled to be in the same consolidated group as the nominated company.

Effective date

- (2) Unless subsections (3) or (4) apply, the company is treated as leaving the consolidated group from the start of the income year in which the relevant event occurs, making it no longer—
- (a) eligible to be part of the consolidated group; or
 - (b) if it is not the nominated company, entitled to be in the same consolidated group as the nominated company.

First income year

- (3) Despite subsection (2), if a company becomes no longer eligible or entitled to be in the consolidated group in the same income year in which it joined the group, the company is treated as leaving the consolidated group on the day it joined the group.

Notifying date

- (4) Despite subsections (2) and (3), the company may notify the Commissioner that it is leaving the consolidated group from the date on which its eligibility or its entitlement ended. For the notice to be effective, the company must—
- (a) provide the notice within 20 working days after the date on which the company's eligibility or entitlement ended, although the Commissioner may agree to extend this period if it is reasonable to do so in the circumstances; and
 - (b) provide part-year financial statements under section FM 14.

Anti-avoidance measure

- (5) A notice under this section is not valid if it is made in connection with an arrangement entered into for a purpose of enabling the company to leave a consolidated group so as to defeat the intent and application of the consolidation rules. When this subsection applies, the company is treated as leaving the consolidated group at the beginning of the tax year in which its eligibility or entitlement ended.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, Commissioner, company, consolidated group, consolidation rules, income year, nominated company, notice, notify, tax year, working day

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 8(3), (4), (6), (7)

Section FM 40(5): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 27 February 2014, by section 74(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

Section FM 40 list of defined terms tax year: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 27 February 2014, by section 74(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

FM 41 No nominated company

If, during an income year, no nominated company exists for a consolidated group and no company that is part of the consolidated group is notified as a replacement under section FM 34(3), all companies in the consolidated group are treated as having left the consolidated group with effect from the start of the income year. Section FM 34(5) overrides this section.

Defined in this Act: company, consolidated group, income year, nominated company, notify

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 8(5)

FM 42 When company liquidated

If a company is no longer part of a consolidated group because it has been liquidated,—

- (a) the company is not treated as leaving the consolidated group from the start of the income year of the liquidation under sections FM 39 and FM 40:

- (b) part-year financial statements are not required under section FM 40(4)(b).

Defined in this Act: company, consolidated group, income year, liquidation

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FD 8(8)

Defined in this Act: imputation rules

Compare: 2004 No 35 s OB 1 “imputation rules”

Section FN 2(i): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 233 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

FN 3 Liabilities of companies in imputation group

A company that is part of an imputation group is jointly and severally liable for further income tax, civil penalties, and interest under Part 7 of the Tax Administration Act 1994 arising from the operation of the imputation credit account of the imputation group.

Defined in this Act: company, further income tax, imputation credit account, imputation group

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FDA 4

FN 4 Eligibility rules

When company eligible

- (1) A company is eligible to be part of an imputation group at a particular time if, at the time,—
 - (a) it is resident in New Zealand or resident in Australia; and
 - (b) it is part of the same wholly-owned group of companies; and
 - (c) it is not treated under a double tax agreement as resident in a country other than New Zealand or Australia, as applicable, for the purposes of taxation in the relevant country; and
 - (d) it is required to maintain an imputation credit account under section OB 1 (General rules for companies with imputation credit accounts) or because of an election under section OB 2 (Australian companies choosing to have imputation credit accounts); and
 - (e) if it is a company that is part of a consolidated group, it meets the criteria set out in subsection (2); and
 - (f) if it is a qualifying company or a mining company, it meets the condition set out in subsection (3); and
 - (g) subsection (5) does not apply to it.

Consolidated group companies

- (2) A company that is part of a consolidated group is eligible to be part of an imputation group at a particular time if, at the time,—
- (a) all companies in the consolidated group meet the criteria set out in subsection (1) and are part of the imputation group; and
 - (b) for an imputation group that includes or will include companies from more than 1 consolidated group, the companies in the consolidated groups are part of a single wholly-owned group of companies from the earliest date on which a credit arose and remains uncanceled in the imputation credit account of a consolidated group or an imputation group, all of whose members are, or would be, in the imputation group.

Restriction when company of certain type

- (3) Despite subsections (1) and (2), if a company that is part of an imputation group is 1 of the following types of company, all companies in the imputation group at the time must be the same type as that company:
- (a) a qualifying company; or
 - (b) a mineral miner that is a company.

LAQCs[Repealed]

- (4) [Repealed]

Anti-avoidance measure

- (5) A company is not eligible to be part of an imputation group if, for a purpose of enabling a company to be part of an imputation group so as to defeat the intent and application of the imputation rules, the company's shares—
- (a) are subject to an arrangement or to a series of related or connected arrangements; or
 - (b) have rights attaching to them extinguished or altered, either directly or indirectly, by any means.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, company, consolidated group, double tax agreement, imputation credit account, imputation group, imputation rules, mineral miner, New Zealand, qualifying company, resident in Australia, resident in New Zealand, wholly-owned group

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FDA 1

Section FN 4(1)(d): replaced (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 27 February 2014, by section 73(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

Section FN 4(1)(g): amended, on 17 July 2013, by section 57 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

Section FN 4 list of defined terms LAQC: repealed, on 17 July 2013, by section 172 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

Section FN 4 list of defined terms mineral miner: inserted, on 1 April 2014, by section 73(3)(a) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

Section FN 4 list of defined terms mining company: repealed, on 1 April 2014, by section 73(3)(b) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

FN 5 Imputation groups with reduced numbers

An imputation group continues to exist if the number of group companies is reduced to 1 company, but if an imputation group has no company at any time, the imputation group no longer exists.

Defined in this Act: company, imputation group

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FDA 3(2), (4)

FN 6 Nominated companies

Group company at the time

- (1) The nominated company of an imputation group at any time must be part of the imputation group at the time.

Trans-Tasman imputation groups

- (2) For a trans-Tasman imputation group, the nominated company—
 - (a) must not be an Australian imputation credit account (ICA) company:
 - (b) is the nominated company for the resident imputation subgroup associated with the trans-Tasman imputation group.

Agent

- (3) For the purposes of the imputation rules, a nominated company is, at a time, the agent of the imputation group and of each company that is part of the imputation group at the time.

Changing nominated company

- (4) A nominated company may notify the Commissioner that it is, at a particular date, no longer to continue as the agent for the imputation group, and that another company is to become the nominated company.

When notice takes effect

- (5) A notice under subsection (4) has effect 30 days after the date on which the Commissioner receives it.

Replacing nominated company

- (6) If a nominated company of an imputation group is liquidated, the other companies in the imputation group may choose a replacement. The replacement company—

- (a) becomes the nominated company from the date of the liquidation, on complying with paragraph (b); and
- (b) must notify the Commissioner of its selection as nominated company within 30 days after the date of the liquidation, or by a later date if the Commissioner agrees.

Defined in this Act: agent, Australian ICA company, Commissioner, company, imputation group, liquidation, nominated company, notice, notify, resident imputation subgroup, trans-Tasman imputation group

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FDA 5, FDA 6(6)

FN 7 Forming imputation groups

Election

- (1) Two or more companies may choose to form an imputation group of companies if the companies are, at the time,—
 - (a) a wholly-owned group of companies; and
 - (b) eligible under section FN 4.

Notifying Commissioner

- (2) The Commissioner must be notified of an election under subsection (1).

Nominated company

- (3) A notice under subsection (2) must nominate 1 of the companies in the imputation group as its agent for the purposes of the imputation rules. In this subpart, the company is called the nominated company.

Consolidated group companies

- (4) A nominated company of a consolidated group may notify the Commissioner that, having met the eligibility criteria in section FN 4, all the group companies have chosen—
 - (a) to form an imputation group with eligible companies that are not part of the consolidated group; or
 - (b) to join an existing imputation group.

Effective date

- (5) A notice under subsection (1) or (4) has effect from the start of the tax year in which the Commissioner receives the notice.

Defined in this Act: agent, Commissioner, company, consolidated group, imputation group, imputation rules, nominated company, notice, notify, tax year, wholly-owned group

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FDA 2

FN 8 Trans-Tasman imputation groups and resident imputation subgroups

Trans-Tasman imputation group

- (1) If at least 1 company in an imputation group is an Australian ICA company, and at least 1 company in the imputation group is not an Australian ICA company, the imputation group is a trans-Tasman imputation group.

Resident imputation subgroup

- (2) A company in a trans-Tasman imputation group that is not an Australian ICA company is treated as a resident imputation subgroup of the trans-Tasman imputation group and is associated with that group.

Single company

- (3) A resident imputation subgroup continues while a company in the trans-Tasman imputation group that is not an Australian ICA company remains in existence.

Defined in this Act: Australian ICA company, Commissioner, company, imputation group, notify, resident imputation subgroup, trans-Tasman imputation group

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FDA 3(1), (3), OB 1 “resident imputation subgroup”, “trans-Tasman imputation group”

Section FN 8(2): substituted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 234(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section FN 8(3) heading: substituted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 234(2) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section FN 8(3): substituted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 234(2) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

FN 9 Joining existing imputation group

Generally

- (1) A company that is eligible under section FN 4(1) may join an imputation group by notifying the Commissioner.

Consolidated groups

- (2) If the companies that are part of a consolidated group are eligible under section FN 4(2), the nominated company of the consolidated group may notify the Commissioner that all the companies in the consolidated group are to join an imputation group.

Joint and several liability

- (3) The companies referred to in subsections (1) and (2) must agree in the notice to be jointly and severally liable under section FN 3 for any further income tax, civil penalties, and interest under Part 7 of the Tax Administration Act 1994 arising from the operation of the imputation credit account of the imputation group.

Effective date

- (4) A notice under subsection (1) has effect from the start of the tax year in which the Commissioner receives the notice.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, consolidated group, further income tax, imputation credit account, imputation group, nominated company, notice, notify, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FDA 2(1)–(3), (5), FDA 4

Section FN 9(2): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 29 August 2011 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 140(1) of the Taxation (Tax Administration and Remedial Matters) Act 2011 (2011 No 63).

FN 10 When membership of imputation group ends

A company stops being part of an imputation group if—

- (a) the company chooses to leave the imputation group and notifies the Commissioner, see section FN 11; or
- (b) the company no longer meets the eligibility criteria set out in section FN 4, see section FN 12; or
- (c) the company is not a nominated company and is no longer entitled to be part of the same imputation group as the nominated company, see section FN 12; or
- (d) the company is in an imputation group that no longer has a nominated company, see section FN 13.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, imputation group, nominated company, notify

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FDA 6(1)

FN 11 Company choosing to leave imputation group*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a company chooses to leave an imputation group and notifies the Commissioner of its election.

Effective date

- (2) When the company notifies the Commissioner of its election, it may set out in the notice a date from which it is no longer to be treated as part of the imputation group. However, unless subsection (3) applies, if the company does not set out a date in the notice, it is treated as no longer part of the imputation group from the start of the tax year in which the Commissioner receives the notice.

First tax year

- (3) Despite subsection (2), if a company leaves an imputation group in the same tax year in which it joined the imputation group, it is treated as leaving the imputation group on the date when it became part of the imputation group, and not from the start of the tax year.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, imputation group, notice, notify, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FDA 6(2)

FN 12 Company no longer eligible or entitled to membership

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a company is no longer eligible to be part of an imputation group or, if it is not the nominated company, when it is no longer entitled to be part of the same imputation group as the nominated company.

Effective date

- (2) Unless subsections (3) or (4) apply, the company is treated as no longer part of the imputation group from the start of the tax year in which the relevant event occurs, making it no longer—
 - (a) eligible to be part of the imputation group; or
 - (b) if it is not the nominated company, entitled to be part of the same imputation group as the nominated company.

Notifying date

- (3) Despite subsection (2), the company may notify the Commissioner that it is no longer to be treated as part of the imputation group from the date on which its eligibility or its entitlement ended. The company must provide the notice within 30 days after the date on which the company's eligibility or entitlement ended, although the Commissioner may agree to extend this period if it is reasonable to do so in the circumstances.

First tax year

- (4) Despite subsections (2) and (3), if a company leaves an imputation group in the same tax year in which it became part of the imputation group, the company is treated as leaving the group on the date when it became part of the imputation group, and not at the start of the tax year.

Anti-avoidance measure

- (5) A notice under this section is not valid if it is made in connection with an arrangement entered into for a purpose of enabling the company to leave an imputation group so as to defeat the intent and application of the imputation rules. When this subsection applies, the company is treated as leaving the imputation group at the beginning of the tax year in which its eligibility or entitlement ended.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, Commissioner, company, imputation group, imputation rules, nominated company, notice, notify, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FDA 6(3), (4), (7), (8)

Section FN 12(5): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 27 February 2014, by section 75(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

FN 13 Imputation group with no nominated company

If, during a tax year, no nominated company exists for an imputation group and no replacement is made under section FN 6(6), all companies in the imputation group are treated as having left the imputation group with effect from the start of the tax year.

Defined in this Act: company, imputation group, nominated company, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FDA 6(5)

FN 14 Effect of liquidation of company

If a company is no longer part of an imputation group because it is liquidated, sections FN 11 and FN 12 do not apply to treat the company as leaving the imputation group from the start of the income year in which the liquidation occurred.

Defined in this Act: company, imputation group, income year, liquidation

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FDA 6(9)

Introductory provisions

FO 1 What this subpart does

This subpart sets out the rules that provide for some tax consequences when companies amalgamate. In general, the rules provide roll-over relief when a resident's restricted amalgamation occurs.

Defined in this Act: amalgamation, company, resident's restricted amalgamation, tax

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FE 1(1)(a), (b)

FO 2 Amalgamation rules

The amalgamation rules means the following:

- (a) this subpart:
- (b) sections CD 35, CD 43(23) and (24), and CD 44(8) (which relate to the treatment of dividends):
- (c) sections DB 8(3) to (5), DV 14 and DV 15 (which relate to the treatment of deductions when an amalgamating company ends its existence on a resident's restricted amalgamation):
- (d) sections IA 9, IE 2 to IE 5, and IQ 1 (which relate to tax losses):
- (e) sections LK 12 to LK 15 (which relate to tax credits):
- (f) sections OA 9, OB 24, OB 53 (which relate to memorandum accounts):
- (g) sections RA 20, RC 33, RD 46, and RD 49 (which relate to tax payments):
- (h) sections 75 and 76 of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Defined in this Act: amalgamation rules

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FE 1(2)

FO 3 Resident's restricted amalgamations*What is a resident's restricted amalgamation?*

- (1) In the amalgamation rules, an amalgamation is a resident's restricted amalgamation if, at the time of the amalgamation, each of the amalgamating companies and the amalgamated company—
- (a) is resident in New Zealand; and
 - (b) is not treated under, and for the purposes of, a double tax agreement as resident in another country; and
 - (c) is not a company that derives only exempt income, except income exempt under sections CW 9 and CW 10 (which relate to income from equity); and
 - (d) if the amalgamated company is a qualifying company, it meets the condition in subsection (2); and
 - (e) [Repealed]

Qualifying companies

- (2) If the amalgamated company is a qualifying company immediately after the amalgamation, each of the amalgamating companies must be a qualifying company at the time of the amalgamation.

LAQCs[Repealed]

- (3) [Repealed]

Companies deriving exempt income

- (4) For the purposes of subsection (1)(c), a company that derives only exempt income includes a local authority that is not a council-controlled organisation.

Companies opting out

- (5) Even if they meet the requirements of subsection (1), the companies may choose that the amalgamation will not be treated as a resident's restricted amalgamation by notifying the Commissioner in the way set out in section 75 of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamating company, amalgamation, amalgamation rules, Commissioner, company, council-controlled organisation, double tax agreement, exempt income, local authority, New Zealand, notify, qualifying company, resident in New Zealand, resident's restricted amalgamation

FO 4 Rights and obligations of amalgamated companies

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when an amalgamating company ends its existence on amalgamation.

Amalgamated company assuming rights, obligations, and liabilities

- (2) For the tax year corresponding to the income year of amalgamation and all earlier tax years, the amalgamated company, under section 225 of the Companies Act 1993, or under this section in the case of an amalgamation of building societies,—
 - (a) must comply with the obligations of the amalgamating company under the Inland Revenue Acts; and
 - (b) must meet the liabilities of the amalgamating company under the Inland Revenue Acts; and
 - (c) is entitled to the rights, powers, and privileges of the amalgamating company under the Inland Revenue Acts.

Relationship with Companies Act 1993

- (3) The amalgamation rules apply despite anything to the contrary in section 225(d) of the Companies Act 1993.

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamating company, amalgamation, amalgamation rules, income year, Inland Revenue Acts, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FE 1(1)(c), FE 8

Section FO 4(2): amended, on 5 December 2013, by section 14 of the Companies Amendment Act 2013 (2013 No 111).

Section FO 4(2): amended (with effect on 30 September 2010), on 29 August 2011, by section 47 of the Taxation (Tax Administration and Remedial Matters) Act 2011 (2011 No 63).

FO 5 Amalgamations and remitted liabilities

Treatment of liabilities generally

- (1) Sections CG 2, CG 2C (which relate to remitted amounts) and DB 47 (Payments for remitted amounts) do not apply merely because an amalgamated company succeeds to a liability of an amalgamating company on an amalgamation.

Treatment of liabilities on liquidation

- (2) Despite subsection (1), when an amalgamating company to which section CG 2C applies has liabilities that are required to be assumed under section FO 4(2)(b), section CG 2C applies—
 - (a) to the amalgamated company as if it were company A; and

- (b) in the same way to the amalgamated company that is an amalgamating company in a subsequent amalgamation; and
- (c) from the date of the amalgamation or a subsequent amalgamation to the date on which the liabilities are met.

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamating company, amalgamation, amount

Section FO 5(2): inserted (with effect on 22 November 2014), on 30 June 2014, by section 118(3) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Treatment of shares, income, expenditure, and bad debts

FO 6 Cancellation of shares

If an amalgamating company (company A) holds shares in another amalgamating company (company B), and the shares are cancelled on the amalgamation, company A is treated as having disposed of the shares in company B immediately before the amalgamation for an amount equal to the cost of the shares to company A.

Defined in this Act: amalgamating company, amalgamation, cancellation, share

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FE 2

FO 7 Income derived after amalgamation

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when an amalgamating company ends its existence on amalgamation, and an amount is derived by the amalgamated company after the amalgamation as a result of something that the amalgamating company did or did not do.

Income of amalgamated company

- (2) The amount is income of the amalgamated company under section CV 4 (Amalgamated companies: amount derived after amalgamation) if it would have been income of the amalgamating company but for the amalgamation.

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamating company, amalgamation, amount, income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FE 4(b)

FO 8 Bad debts and expenditure or loss on resident's restricted amalgamation

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when an amalgamating company ends its existence on a resident's restricted amalgamation, and the amalgamated company at any time—
 - (a) writes off as bad the amount of a debt that it acquires from the amalgamating company at the time of the amalgamation; or
 - (b) incurs an amount of expenditure or loss, including an amount of depreciation loss, as a result of something that the amalgamating company did or did not do.

Deduction of amalgamated company

- (2) The amalgamated company is allowed a deduction under section DV 15(2) (Amalgamated companies: property passing on resident's restricted amalgamation) for the amount if—
 - (a) the amalgamating company would have been allowed the deduction but for the amalgamation; and
 - (b) the amalgamated company is not otherwise allowed the deduction.

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamating company, amount, deduction, depreciation loss, loss, resident's restricted amalgamation

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FE 3

FO 9 Unexpired portion of prepaid expenditure

If an amalgamating company ends its existence on amalgamation, the unexpired portion under section EA 3 (Prepayments) of an amount of expenditure of the amalgamating company for the income year of amalgamation is treated as the amalgamated company's unexpired amount of the expenditure.

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamating company, amalgamation, amount, income year, prepaid expenditure

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FE 4(a)

Property passing to amalgamated company on amalgamation

FO 10 When property passes on resident's restricted amalgamation

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when property belonging to an amalgamating company becomes the property of the amalgamated company on a resident's restricted amalgamation.

What this section does not apply to

- (2) Despite subsection (1), this section—
 - (a) does not apply to property that is a financial arrangement, see sections FO 12 to FO 15:

- (b) is subject to the rules for—
 - (i) amortising property in section FO 16:
 - (ii) land in section FO 17.

Property passing

- (3) The amalgamating company is treated as having disposed of the property immediately before the amalgamation. The passing of ownership is treated as a disposal of the property by the amalgamating company and an acquisition of the property by the amalgamated company.

Timing and consideration

- (4) Unless subsections (5) or (6) apply, the amalgamated company is treated as having acquired the property on the date on which the amalgamating company acquired it for an amount that is the sum of—
 - (a) the price paid for the property; and
 - (b) any expenditure incurred in acquiring or improving the property; and
 - (c) any expenditure incurred in securing or improving the amalgamating company's legal rights to the property.

Trading stock

- (5) If the property is trading stock for both the amalgamating company and the amalgamated company, the consideration for the disposal and acquisition is taken as the value of the trading stock to the amalgamating company determined under subpart EB (Valuation of trading stock (including dealer's live-stock)) at the time of the amalgamation.

Revenue account property

- (6) If the property is revenue account property of the amalgamating company but not revenue account property of the amalgamated company, the consideration for the disposal and acquisition is taken as the market value of the property at the time of the amalgamation. But this subsection does not apply to land that is revenue account property merely because of the 2-year bright-line test or the 10-year rule in any of sections CB 6A, CB 9 to CB 11, and CB 14 (which relate to the disposal of land), in which case section FO 17(3) may apply.

Depreciation loss

- (7) An amalgamating company is allowed a deduction under section DV 15(3) (Amalgamated companies: property passing on resident's restricted amalgamation) for an amount of depreciation loss for property transferred to the amalgamated company for the period beginning on the first day of the income year of amalgamation and ending on the day before the date of the amalgamation.

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamating company, amortising property, amount, deduction, financial arrangement, income year, land, market value, resident's restricted amalgamation, revenue account property, trading stock

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FE 6(1)–(3B), FE 6A

Section FO 10(4)(b): amended (with effect on 1 April 2015 and applying for the 2015–16 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 242(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section FO 10(6): amended (with effect on 1 October 2015 and applying to a person's disposal of residential land if the date that the person first acquires an estate or interest in the residential land is on or after that date), on 16 November 2015, by section 16(1) of the Taxation (Bright-line Test for Residential Land) Act 2015 (2015 No 111).

FO 11 When property passes on amalgamation other than resident's restricted amalgamation

Disposal and acquisition

- (1) If property belonging to an amalgamating company becomes the property of the amalgamated company on an amalgamation that is not a resident's restricted amalgamation,—
 - (a) the amalgamating company is treated as having disposed of the property for an amount equal to the market value of the property at the time of the amalgamation; and
 - (b) the amalgamated company is treated as having acquired the property at that market value.

Relationship with section EE 41

- (2) Section EE 41 (Transfer of depreciable property on certain amalgamations on or after 14 May 2002) overrides this section for the purposes of determining the cost of an item to an amalgamated company, unless the context requires otherwise.

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamating company, amalgamation, amount, market value, resident's restricted amalgamation

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FE 5

FO 12 Financial arrangements: resident's restricted amalgamation, companies in wholly-owned group

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies, despite sections EW 42 and GB 21 (which relate to non-market transfers of financial arrangements) in an income year in which the obligations that an amalgamating company has under a financial arrangement pass to the amalgamated company on a resident's restricted amalgamation when,—
 - (a) the financial arrangements rules apply to the financial arrangement; and
 - (b) for the whole of the income year before the amalgamation, the amalgamating company and the amalgamated company were part of the same wholly-owned group of companies; and
 - (c) the method of calculating income and expenditure from the financial arrangement does not change after the amalgamation, and the amalgamated company's return of income for the corresponding tax year is made on this basis; and

- (d) sections IA 3 to IA 6 and subpart ID (which relate to tax losses of companies and consolidated groups) do not apply to allow the amalgamating company to carry a loss balance forward from an earlier tax year for use in the tax year corresponding to the income year except if section IE 2 (Treatment of tax losses by amalgamating company) allows all tax losses included in the loss balance, and arising from earlier tax years, to be attributed to the amalgamated company as a tax loss.

Amalgamated company's election

- (2) The amalgamated company may choose to apply subsections (3) and (4) in their return of income for the corresponding tax year.

Treatment of amalgamating company

- (3) The amalgamating company is treated as if it had never been party to the financial arrangement. Section EW 31 (Base price adjustment formula) does not apply, in relation to the transfer of the financial arrangement or the obligations under it.

Treatment of amalgamated company

- (4) The amalgamated company is treated as if it had taken the place of the amalgamating company in relation to the financial arrangement in terms of—
- (a) the date the company entered into the arrangement; and
 - (b) the consideration paid; and
 - (c) the income derived; and
 - (d) the expenditure incurred; and
 - (e) the returns of income provided.

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamating company, consideration, corresponding income year, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, income, income year, loss balance, resident's restricted amalgamation, return of income, tax loss, tax year, wholly-owned group of companies

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FE 6(5), (6), FE 7(1)(a), (2)

Section FO 12(1)(d): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later tax years), on 30 March 2017, by section 114(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section FO 12 list of defined terms consolidated group: repealed, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

FO 13 Financial arrangements: resident's restricted amalgamation, calculation method unchanged

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies, despite sections EW 42 and GB 21 (which relate to non-market transfers of financial arrangements) in an income year in which the obligations that an amalgamating company has under a financial arrangement pass to the amalgamated company on a resident's restricted amalgamation when—

- (a) the method of calculating income and expenditure from the financial arrangement does not change after the amalgamation; and
- (b) section FO 12 does not apply.

Disposal and acquisition

- (2) The amalgamating company is treated as having disposed of the financial arrangement for consideration, and the amalgamated company is treated as having acquired the financial arrangement for that consideration.

Base price adjustment and income or expenditure

- (3) For the income year of the amalgamation,—
 - (a) the amalgamating company must calculate a base price adjustment under section EW 31 (Base price adjustment formula) as modified by subsection (4); and
 - (b) the amalgamated company has an amount of income or expenditure determined under subsection (5).

Base price adjustment for amalgamating company

- (4) For the income year of the amalgamation, the consideration for the disposal and acquisition of the financial arrangement is an amount that results in the base price adjustment for the amalgamating company under section EW 31 representing for the amalgamating company an allocation that is fair and reasonable, as between the amalgamating company and the amalgamated company, of the income or expenditure relating to the financial arrangement that the amalgamating company would have derived or incurred in the income year if the amalgamation had not taken place.

Income or expenditure of amalgamated company

- (5) For the income year of the amalgamation, the amalgamated company has an amount of income or expenditure that represents for the amalgamated company an allocation that is fair and reasonable, as between the amalgamating company and the amalgamated company, of the income or expenditure relating to the financial arrangement that the amalgamating company would have derived or incurred in the income year if the amalgamation had not taken place.

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamating company, amalgamation, consideration, dispose, financial arrangement, income, income year, resident's restricted amalgamation

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FE 6(5), (7), FE 7(1)(b), (3)

Section FO 13(2) heading: replaced (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years, but not applying for a person and a financial arrangement if the person has taken a tax position for the financial arrangement relying on this section in the absence of the amendment made by section 178(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016; and for the 2008–09 or a later income year; and in a tax return filed

FO 14 Financial arrangements: resident's restricted amalgamation, other cases

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies in an income year in which a financial arrangement belonging to an amalgamating company passes to the amalgamated company on a resident's restricted amalgamation when sections FO 12 and FO 13 do not apply.

Market value

- (2) The amalgamating company is treated as having disposed of the financial arrangement. The consideration for the disposal is the market value of the financial arrangement on the date the amalgamated company acquires it.

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamating company, consideration, financial arrangement, income year, market value, resident's restricted amalgamation

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FE 6(5), (8), FE 7(1)(b), (4)

FO 15 Financial arrangements: amalgamation other than resident's restricted amalgamation

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when an obligation that an amalgamating company has in relation to a financial arrangement passes to the amalgamated company on an amalgamation that is not a resident's restricted amalgamation.

Market value for amalgamating company

- (2) The amalgamating company is treated as having disposed of the financial arrangement or relieved itself of the obligations immediately before the amalgamation. The consideration for the disposal is the market price for assuming the obligations at the time of the amalgamation.

Market value for amalgamated company

- (3) The amalgamated company is treated as having acquired the financial arrangement or assumed the obligations immediately after the amalgamation. The consideration for the acquisition is the market value of the property at the time of the amalgamation.

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamating company, amalgamation, consideration, financial arrangement, market value, resident's restricted amalgamation

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FE 5

FO 16 Amortising property

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies in an income year in which amortising property belonging to an amalgamating company passes to the amalgamated company on a resident's restricted amalgamation. The passing of ownership is treated as a disposal of the property by the amalgamating company and an acquisition by the amalgamated company.

Treatment of amalgamating company

- (1B) The amalgamating company is treated as neither deriving income nor having a deduction under sections EE 24 to EE 53 (which relate to disposals of depreciable property) as a result of the deemed disposal.

Value: all pool property

- (2) If the amortising property forms the whole of a pool of property of the amalgamating company that is depreciated under sections EE 20 to EE 24 (which relate to depreciation under the pool method), the consideration for the disposal and acquisition is taken as the adjusted tax value of the pool immediately before the amalgamation.

Value: part pool property

- (3) If the amortising property forms part of a pool of property of the amalgamating company that is depreciated under sections EE 20 to EE 24, the consideration for the disposal and acquisition is taken as the lesser of—
- (a) the market value of the property; or
 - (b) the adjusted tax value of the pool immediately before the amalgamation.

Deductions for depreciation loss

- (4) If the amortising property is other than pool property of the amalgamating company, the amalgamated company is treated as having been allowed the deduction that the amalgamating company would have had for an amount of depreciation loss, or a deduction under any other amortisation provision of this Act, relating to the property.

Defined in this Act: acquire, adjusted tax value, amalgamated company, amalgamating company, amortising property, amount, deduction, depreciation loss, dispose, income year, market value, other amortisation provision, pool, resident's restricted amalgamation

FO 17 Land*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when land belonging to an amalgamating company passes to the amalgamated company on a resident's restricted amalgamation.

Disposal at market value

- (2) The amalgamating company is treated as having disposed of the land to the amalgamated company at the market value of the land at the date of the amalgamation if—

- (a) the land is not revenue account property of the amalgamating company, and the disposal of the land would give rise to income for the amalgamated company under any of sections CB 6A to CB 14 (which relate to the disposal of land):
- (b) the land is revenue account property of the amalgamating company but not merely because of the 2-year bright-line test or the 10-year rule in any of sections CB 6A, CB 9 to CB 11, and CB 14, and the land is, or may be, revenue account property of the amalgamated company because of the 2-year bright-line test or the 10-year rule in any of sections CB 6A, CB 9 to CB 11, and CB 14.

Disposal of land within 2-year bright-line test or 10-year rule

- (3) If the land is, or may be, revenue account property of the amalgamating company because of the 2-year bright-line test or the 10-year rule in any of sections CB 6A, CB 9 to CB 11, and CB 14, and the amalgamated company disposes of the land within the relevant 2-year or 10-year period after the amalgamating company acquired it, an amount derived from the disposal is income of the amalgamated company under whichever is applicable of sections CB 6A to CB 14.

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamating company, amount, income, land, resident's restricted amalgamation, revenue account property

Treatment of financial arrangements between amalgamating companies

FO 18 When amalgamating companies are parties to financial arrangement

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when amalgamating companies are parties to a financial arrangement that exists on the date of the amalgamation of the companies and section FO 21 does not apply.

Financial arrangement discharged

- (2) The financial arrangement is, for the purposes of section EW 31 (Base price adjustment formula), treated as having been discharged immediately before the amalgamation. The consideration for the discharge is as follows:
 - (a) on a resident's restricted amalgamation,—

- (i) if the amalgamating company is solvent, the consideration is the accrued balance for the financial arrangement:
 - (ii) if the amalgamating company is insolvent but is likely to be able to meet its obligations under the financial arrangement, the consideration is the accrued balance for the financial arrangement:
 - (iii) if the amalgamating company is insolvent and is unlikely to be able to meet its obligations under the financial arrangement, the consideration is the market value of the financial arrangement on the date of the amalgamation:
- (b) on an amalgamation other than a resident's restricted amalgamation, the consideration is the market value of the financial arrangement on the date of the amalgamation.

When subsection (4) applies

- (3) Subsection (4) applies when an amalgamating company that is the borrower under the financial arrangement—
- (a) is solvent; or
 - (b) is insolvent but is likely to be able to meet its obligations under the financial arrangement.

No remission

- (4) The other party to the financial arrangement is not regarded as remitting an amount in excess of the consideration treated as paid for the discharge under subsection (2)(a)(i) or (ii) or (b), as applicable, merely by virtue of the discharge.

When subsection (6) applies

- (5) Subsection (6) applies when an amalgamating company that is the borrower under the financial arrangement is insolvent and is unlikely to meet its financial obligations under the financial arrangement.

Market value treated as paid

- (6) For the purposes of section EW 31, the financial arrangement is treated as discharged immediately before the amalgamation and the market value of the financial arrangement is treated as being paid by the amalgamating company to the other party to the financial arrangement.

Amount remitted

- (7) For the purposes of subsection (6), the other party to the financial arrangement is treated as having remitted an amount equal to the excess over market value of the outstanding accrued balance for the financial arrangement, see section FO 20.

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamating company, amalgamation, amount, company, consideration, financial arrangement, market value, pay, resident's restricted amalgamation

Section FO 18 list of defined terms pay: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 21 December 2010, by section 66(2) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

FO 19 Calculation of outstanding accrued balance: consideration for discharge

Formula

- (1) In section FO 18(2)(a), the outstanding accrued balance is calculated using the formula—

$$\begin{aligned} & \text{consideration} + \text{prior expenditure} + \text{expenditure accrued in year} \\ & \quad - \text{income accrued in year} - \text{consideration paid.} \end{aligned}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (2) In the formula,—
- (a) consideration is the consideration paid to the amalgamating company under the financial arrangement:
 - (b) prior expenditure is the expenditure that the amalgamating company incurs less the income that it derives from the financial arrangement calculated under either a spreading method or section EW 53 (Adjustment required) in all income years other than the current income year from the time the financial arrangement was entered into:
 - (c) expenditure accrued in year is the expenditure that the amalgamating company accrues from the financial arrangement for the period from the first day of the income year in which the amalgamation occurs to the date of the amalgamation, calculated either—
 - (i) if the amalgamating company was party to the financial arrangement in an earlier income year, using the spreading method it used to calculate income and expenditure under the financial arrangement in the income year; or
 - (ii) using a spreading method that the amalgamating company chooses, if the method could have been used if the income year had ended immediately before the amalgamation:
 - (d) income accrued in year is the income that the amalgamating company accrues from the financial arrangement for the period described in paragraph (c) and calculated as described in that paragraph:
 - (e) consideration paid is the consideration that the amalgamating company pays for the financial arrangement before the date of the amalgamation.

Defined in this Act: amalgamating company, amalgamation, consideration, financial arrangement, income, income year, pay, spreading method

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FE 10(6)(a)

FO 20 Calculation of outstanding accrued balance: amounts remitted*Formula*

- (1) In section FO 18(7), the outstanding accrued balance is calculated using the formula—

$$\begin{aligned} & \text{consideration} + \text{prior income} + \text{income accrued in year} \\ & \quad - \text{expenditure accrued in year} - \text{consideration paid.} \end{aligned}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (2) In the formula,—
- (a) consideration is the consideration paid by the party under the financial arrangement:

- (b) prior income is the income that the party derives less the expenditure that it incurs under the financial arrangement calculated under either a spreading method or section EW 53 (Adjustment required) in all income years other than the current income year from the time the financial arrangement was entered into:
- (c) income accrued in year is the income that the party accrues from the financial arrangement for the period from the first day of the income year in which the amalgamation occurs to the date of the amalgamation, calculated either—
 - (i) using the spreading method used to calculate income and expenditure under the financial arrangement in the income year, if the party was a party to the financial arrangement in an earlier income year; or
 - (ii) using a spreading method that the party chooses, if the method could have been used if the income year had ended immediately before the amalgamation:
- (d) expenditure accrued in year is the expenditure that the party accrues under the financial arrangement for the period described in paragraph (c) and calculated as described in that paragraph:
- (e) consideration paid is the consideration paid to the party under the financial arrangement before the date of the amalgamation.

Defined in this Act: amalgamation, consideration, financial arrangement, income, income year, spreading method

Section FO 20(1): amended, on 30 March 2017, by section 116 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

FO 21 When amalgamating companies are parties to financial arrangements: economic groups

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) amalgamating companies are parties to a financial arrangement that exists on the date of the amalgamation; and
 - (b) section EW 46C(1)(a) or (b) (Consideration when debt forgiven within economic group) applies to the amalgamating companies as creditor and debtor for the financial arrangement; and
 - (c) section EW 46C(3) does not apply.

Consideration: debtor

- (2) The debtor is treated as having paid the amount of the financial arrangement on the date of the amalgamation.

Consideration: creditor

- (3) The creditor is treated as having been paid the amount of the financial arrangement on the date of the amalgamation.

Defined in this Act: amalgamating company, amalgamation, amount, financial arrangement, pay

Section FO 21: inserted, on 1 April 2017, by section 117 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

DebenturesFZ 1 Treatment of interest payable under debentures issued before certain dateWhen this section applies*

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section FA 2 (Recharacterisation of certain debentures).

Profit-related debentures

- (2) A debenture issued before 8 pm New Zealand standard time on 23 October 1986 is a profit-related debenture if the rate of interest may be determined by reference to the dividend payable by the company issuing the debenture or in any other manner.

Fixed rates of interest

- (3) Section FA 2(2) applies to a profit-related debenture issued before 8 pm New Zealand standard time on 23 October 1986.

Defined in this Act: company, debenture, dividend, interest, pay, profit-related debenture

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FC 1

Section FZ 1(3): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 236 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Leases

FZ 2 Effect of specified lease on lessor and lessee

Lease treated as sale

- (1) The leasing of a personal property lease asset under a specified lease is treated as a sale of the asset, made at the start of the term of the lease, by the lessor to the lessee. The lessee is treated as having incurred, through the sale, capital expenditure of an amount equal to the cost price of the asset.

Loan applied to finance acquisition of asset

- (2) A lessor under a specified lease is treated as having advanced to the lessee a loan of an amount equal to the cost price of the personal property lease asset. The lessee is treated as having applied the loan in the financing of the acquisition of the asset.

No deduction

- (3) A lessor under a specified lease is denied a deduction under section DZ 14(2) (Deductions under specified leases) for an amount of depreciation loss for the personal property lease asset.

Asset sold to lessor

- (4) At the end of the term of a specified lease, if the personal property lease asset is not acquired by the lessee under the terms of the lease or in the exercise of an option under the lease, the asset is treated as sold at the end of the term of the lease to the lessor for—
- (a) an amount equal to the guaranteed residual value, if any, set out for the asset in the lease; or
 - (b) if no guaranteed residual value is set out in the lease, no consideration.

Treatment when lease terminated

- (5) If a specified lease is terminated before the term of the lease ends, whether by cancellation, surrender, or otherwise,—
- (a) the personal property lease asset relating to the lease is treated as sold on the date of the termination to the lessor by the lessee at a price equal to the amount by which the amount of the outstanding balance, at the time of termination, of a loan advance by the lessor to the lessee is more than the amount or the sum of the amounts payable by the lessee to the lessor in consideration for the release by the lessor of the lessee from the obligations of the lessee under the lease:

- (b) despite paragraph (a), if, in relation to the amount of the outstanding balance and the amount or the sum of the amounts payable by the lessee to the lessor, no excess arises, the asset is treated as having been sold for no consideration:
- (c) if the value of the consideration payable by the lessee to the lessor in relation to the termination is more than the amount of the outstanding balance, at the time of termination, of a loan advanced by the lessor to the lessee, an amount equal to the amount of the excess is treated as income derived by the lessor in the income year in which the lease is terminated.

Subsequent sale, assignment, or lease

- (6) If, on or after the end of the term of a specified lease, the personal property lease asset relating to the lease is sold, assigned, or leased under a specified lease by the lessor to another person, and the value of the consideration on the sale, assignment, or lease—
 - (a) is more than the amount determined for the first specified lease under subsection (4), the amount determined is increased by a further amount that is equal to the part, if any, of the excess paid by the lessor to the lessee:
 - (b) is less than the amount determined for the first specified lease under subsection (4)(a), and the lessee is required to make a further payment to the lessor equal to the difference between the guaranteed residual value for the lease value, and the value of the consideration, the amount determined is reduced by the amount of the further payment.

Consideration more than amount determined under subsection (4)

- (7) Despite subsection (6), if the value of the consideration on the sale, assignment, or lease is more than the amount determined under subsection (4), the part, if any, of the excess that is not paid to the lessee is treated as income under section CZ 20 (Disposal of personal property lease asset under specified lease).

Associated persons

- (8) If the lessee under a specified lease, or another person who is associated with the lessee, at any time acquires the personal property lease asset, and disposes of the asset, and the value of the consideration for the disposal is more than the value of the consideration for which the lessee or other person acquired it, an amount equal to the excess is income under section CZ 20.

Meaning of outstanding balance

- (9) In this section, and in section FZ 3, outstanding balance means the amount calculated using the formula—

$$\text{loans advanced} + \text{interest payable} - \text{instalments.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (10) In the formula,—
- (a) loans advanced is the total amount of all loans advanced under the lease by the lessor for the period—
 - (i) starting on the date that the lease started; and
 - (ii) ending on the date immediately before the start of the instalment period:
 - (b) interest payable is the total amount of interest payable for each loan for the period—
 - (i) starting on the date that the lease started; and
 - (ii) ending on the date immediately before the start of the instalment period:
 - (c) instalments is the total amount of all instalments paid by the lessee in the period—
 - (i) starting on the date that the lease started; and
 - (ii) ending on the date immediately before the start of the instalment period.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, cost price, deduction, depreciation loss, guaranteed residual value, income, income year, instalment, lessee, lessor, loan, outstanding balance, pay, personal property lease asset, specified lease, term of the lease

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FC 6(2)–(8)

FZ 3 Income of lessor under specified lease

Interest

- (1) The income of a lessor derived under a specified lease is treated as interest.

Treatment of amount derived

- (2) The amount of interest derived under subsection (1) is treated as—
- (a) during the term of the lease, derived during the initial period and each instalment period, an amount that is calculated either,—
 - (i) on the outstanding balance for the initial period, and each instalment period, at such a rate and in such a manner that the aggregate of all of the amounts so calculated is equal to the amount first mentioned in paragraph (b); or
 - (ii) for the initial period and each instalment period, under such other method commonly applied in commercial usage as, having regard to the term of the lease and to the frequency of the personal property lease payments, results in the allocation to that initial period and to each instalment period of an amount that is fair and reasonable and results in the sum of all amounts so allocated being equal to the amount first mentioned in paragraph (b):

- (b) in relation to the term of the lease, an amount that is equal to the sum of the personal property lease payments under the specified lease and the amount of the guaranteed residual value, if any, under the specified lease, reduced by the cost price of the personal property lease asset.

Calculation for income year

- (3) The interest derived by a lessor is, for an income year, treated as an amount equal to the sum of the amounts calculated under subsection (2)(a) as calculated for the initial period, if any, and each instalment period that ends in the income year.

Some definitions

- (4) In this section,—

initial period means the period—

- (a) starting on the date of the start of a lease; and
(b) ending just before the start of the instalment period that follows the start of the lease instalment period means the period—

- (a) starting on the day on which an instalment is payable; and
(b) ending with the day just before the day on which the next instalment is payable.

Defined in this Act: amount, guaranteed residual value, income, income year, initial period, instalment, instalment period, interest, lessor, outstanding balance, pay, personal property lease asset, personal property lease payment, specified lease, term of the lease

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FC 7

FZ 4 Deductions under specified leases

A lessee under a specified lease is denied a deduction for expenditure incurred by them under the lease except to the extent described in section DZ 14(3) (Deductions under specified leases).

Defined in this Act: deduction, lessee, specified lease

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FC 8

Relationship property

FZ 5 Commercial bills

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section CZ 6 (Commercial bills before 31 July 1986) when a commercial bill is transferred under a settlement of relationship property.

Transfer at cost

- (2) The transfer is treated as a disposal by the transferor and an acquisition by the transferee for an amount that equals the cost of the bill to the transferor.

Defined in this Act: amount, commercial bill, settlement of relationship property

Compare: 2004 No 35 s FF 5

Estate property

FZ 6 Transitional valuation rule for estate property

What this section applies to

- (1) This section applies to property transferred under section FC 1(1)(a) (Disposals to which this subpart applies) either on a person's death or on a distribution by an executor, administrator, or trustee of an estate, if—

- (a) the death or distribution occurred before 1 October 2005; and
(b) in the tax year in which the property passes, all beneficiaries of the deceased person are resident in New Zealand, and no income of a beneficiary is exempt income under section CW 43 (Charitable bequests).

Market value or value under settlement of relationship property

- (2) The valuation of the transferred property for tax purposes for the corresponding income year in which the death or distribution occurred is measured as a transfer occurring immediately before the death of the person, or at the date of distribution, as applicable, at—

- (a) market value; or
(b) a value under subpart FB (Transfers of relationship property) for property of the type; or
(c) a value under subsection (4).

Returns of income

- (3) For the purposes of providing a return of income for the deceased person, beneficiary, and estate, a value determined under subsection (2) is treated as correct.

Requirements of other provisions

- (4) Despite subsection (3), if this Act, the Income Tax Act 2004, or Income Tax Act 1994, requires the use of a market value for an item of property, that value must be used in the return of income.

Defined in this Act: corresponding income year, exempt income, income, market value, New Zealand, property, resident in New Zealand, return of income, tax year, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FI 9, FI 10

Section FZ 6(1): amended, on 30 March 2017, by section 118 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Earthquake-affected group property

Heading: inserted (with effect on 4 September 2010), on 2 November 2012 (applying for income years ending after 4 September 2010 and before the 2016–17 income year), by section 73(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

FZ 7 Valuation of group assets: insurance proceeds from Canterbury earthquake

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of sections FE 16 (Total group assets) and FE 18 (Measurement of debts and assets of worldwide group) and a person if—
 - (a) an asset of the person's New Zealand group is damaged as a result of a Canterbury earthquake, as that term is defined in section 4 of the Canterbury Earthquake Recovery Act 2011; and
 - (b) the asset is impaired or derecognised, under generally accepted accounting practice as a result of the damage; and
 - (c) insurance for the damage is recognised at a later date under generally accepted accounting practice.

Optional treatment of insurance

- (2) The person may choose to include an amount of the insurance, corresponding to the amount of the impairment or the derecognised value of the asset, in the value of the total group assets of the person's New Zealand group during the period—
 - (a) beginning with the impairment or derecognition of the asset; and
 - (b) ending before the earlier of—
 - (i) the recognition of the amount of insurance:
 - (ii) the beginning of the 2019–20 income year.

Corresponding treatment for worldwide group

- (3) If a person includes an amount under subsection (2) in the value of the total group assets of the person's New Zealand group for a period, the person must include the amount in the value of the total group assets of the person's worldwide group for the period.

Notice to Commissioner

- (4) A person choosing to apply subsection (2) for an income year must give to the Commissioner—
 - (a) notice that the person has applied this section for the income year; and
 - (b) the amount of income that would arise under section CH 9 (Interest apportionment: excess debt entity) for the income year in the absence of this section; and
 - (c) the amount of income that arises under section CH 9 for the income year after the application of this section; and

(d) further information required by the Commissioner.

Form and timing of notice

(5) The information required by subsection (4) must be given—

- (a) in the form and by the means prescribed by the Commissioner; and
- (b) no later than the later of 30 November 2012 and the day by which the person is required to make a return of income for the corresponding tax year.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, generally accepted accounting practice, income year, notice, return of income, total group assets

Section FZ 7: replaced (with effect on 4 September 2010), on 27 February 2014, by section 76 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

Section FZ 7 list of defined terms notice: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 74 of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

GA 1	Commissioner's power to adjust	1570
GA 2	Commissioner's power to adjust: fringe benefit tax	1571

GA 1 Commissioner's power to adjust

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies if an arrangement is void under section BG 1 (Tax avoidance).

Commissioner's general power

- (2) The Commissioner may adjust the taxable income of a person affected by the arrangement in a way the Commissioner thinks appropriate, in order to counteract a tax advantage obtained by the person from or under the arrangement.

Commissioner's specific power over tax credits

- (3) The Commissioner may—
- (a) disallow some or all of a tax credit of a person affected by the arrangement; or
 - (b) allow another person to benefit from some or all of the tax credit.

Commissioner's identification of hypothetical situation

- (4) When applying subsections (2) and (3), the Commissioner may have regard to 1 or more of the amounts listed in subsection (5) which, in the Commissioner's opinion, had the arrangement not occurred, the person—
- (a) would have had; or
 - (b) would in all likelihood have had; or
 - (c) might be expected to have had.

Reconstructed amounts

- (5) The amounts referred to in subsection (4) are—
- (a) an amount of income of the person;
 - (b) an amount of deduction of the person;
 - (c) an amount of tax loss of the person;
 - (d) an amount of tax credit of the person.

No double counting

- (6) When applying subsection (2), if the Commissioner includes an amount of income or deduction in calculating the taxable income of the person, it must not be included in calculating the taxable income of another person.

Meaning of tax credit

- (7) In this section, tax credit means a reduction in the tax a person must pay because of—
- (a) a credit allowed for a payment by the person of an amount of tax or of another item; or
 - (b) another type of benefit.

Defined in this Act: amount, arrangement, Commissioner, deduction, tax, tax credit, tax loss, taxable income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GB 1(1)–(2C)

GA 2 Commissioner’s power to adjust: fringe benefit tax

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies if—
- (a) an arrangement is void under section BG 1 (Tax avoidance); and
 - (b) the arrangement involves altering the incidence of fringe benefit tax (FBT).

Commissioner’s power in relation to excluded income

- (2) The Commissioner may adjust the excluded income under section CX 3 (Excluded income) of a person affected by the arrangement in a way the Commissioner thinks appropriate, in order to counteract a tax advantage obtained by the person from or under the arrangement.

Commissioner’s identification of hypothetical situation

- (3) When applying subsection (2), the Commissioner may have regard to 1 or more of the amounts listed in subsection (4) which, in the Commissioner’s opinion, had the arrangement not occurred, the person—
- (a) would have had; or
 - (b) would in all likelihood have had; or
 - (c) might be expected to have had.

Reconstructed amounts

- (4) The amounts referred to in subsection (3) are—
- (a) an amount of excluded income of the person;
 - (b) an amount of excluded income of the person, if the person had been allowed the benefit of an amount of excluded income derived by another person as a result of the arrangement.

No double counting

- (5) If the Commissioner includes an amount of excluded income in calculating the taxable income of the person, it must not be included in calculating the taxable income of another person.

Defined in this Act: amount, arrangement, Commissioner, excluded income, FBT, fringe benefit tax, taxable income

GB 1 Arrangements involving dividend stripping

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a person disposes of shares in a company in an income year; and
 - (b) the disposal is part of a tax avoidance arrangement; and
 - (c) some or all of the consideration that the person derives from the disposal is in substitution for a dividend in an income year.

When amount substitutes for dividend

- (2) An amount derived by the person is in substitution for a dividend if it is equivalent to or substitutes for a dividend that, but for the arrangement, the person—
- (a) would have derived; or
 - (b) would in all likelihood have derived; or
 - (c) might be expected to have derived.

Substitute treated as dividend

- (3) The amount derived in substitution for a dividend is treated as a dividend derived by the person in the income year in which the disposal occurs.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, company, dispose, dividend, income year, tax avoidance arrangement

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies in relation to a person if an arrangement has a purpose or effect of defeating the intent and application of—
- (a) section GC 7 (Excess amount payable by person):
 - (b) section GC 8 (Insufficient amount receivable by person):
 - (c) section GC 9 (Compensating arrangement: person paying less than arm's length amount):
 - (d) section GC 10 (Compensating arrangement: person receiving more than arm's length amount).

Possible examples

- (2) Without limiting the generality of subsection (1), the following collateral arrangements may result in that purpose or effect:
- (a) a collateral arrangement with an associated person who is a non-resident:
 - (b) a market-sharing arrangement:
 - (c) an arrangement not to enter a market:
 - (d) a back-to-back supply arrangement:
 - (e) an income-sharing arrangement.

Application of sections GC 7 to GC 10

- (3) Section GC 7, GC 8, GC 9, or GC 10, as applicable, applies to require the substitution of an arm's length amount of consideration, despite section GC 6(2) and (3) (Purpose of rules and nature of arrangements).

Defined in this Act: arrangement, associated person, non-resident

Arrangements involving tax lossesGB 3 Arrangements for carrying forward loss balances: companiesWhen this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a share in a company (the loss company) or another company has been subject to an arrangement, including an arrangement directly or indirectly altering rights attached to the shares; and
 - (b) the arrangement allows the loss company to meet the requirements of section IA 5 (Restrictions on companies' loss balances carried forward); and
 - (c) a purpose of the arrangement is to defeat the intent and application of sections IA 5 and IP 3 (Continuity breach: tax loss components of companies carried forward).

Company treated as not meeting requirements

- (2) The loss company is treated as not meeting the requirements of section IA 5 in relation to the share.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, company, loss balance, share

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 2

GB 4 Arrangements for grouping tax losses: companies*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a share in a company (the offset company) or another company has been subject to an arrangement, including an arrangement directly or indirectly altering rights attached to the shares; and
 - (b) the arrangement allows the offset company to meet the requirements of subparts IC and IP, and section IZ 7 (which relate to the use of tax losses by group companies), as applicable; and
 - (c) a purpose of the arrangement is to defeat the intent and application of those provisions.

Company treated as not meeting requirements

- (2) The offset company is treated as not meeting the requirements of subparts IC and IP and section IZ 7, as applicable, in relation to the share.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, company, share, tax loss

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 4

Arrangements to defeat continuity provisions

GB 5 Arrangements involving trust beneficiaries

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a share in a company or option over a share in a company is held by a trustee; and
 - (b) a change occurs in the beneficiaries of the trust; and
 - (c) a purpose or effect of the change is to defeat the intent and application of a continuity provision.

Trustee treated as disposing of share or option

- (2) The trustee is treated as having disposed of the share or option to an unrelated person at the time of the change in beneficiaries, and as having reacquired it immediately afterwards.

Limited application of subsection (2)

- (3) Subsection (2) applies only for the purposes of the application of the rules in sections YC 2 (Voting interests) and YC 3 (Market value interests) in the case of the continuity provisions.

Defined in this Act: company, continuity provisions, dispose, option, share, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 3

Arrangements involving qualifying companies

GB 6 Arrangements involving qualifying companies

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a share in a company has been subject to an arrangement at a time; and
 - (b) the arrangement allows the company or another company (the relevant company) to be a qualifying company at the time; and
 - (c) a purpose of the arrangement is to defeat the intent and application of subpart HA (Qualifying companies (QC)).

Company treated as not qualifying company

- (2) The relevant company is treated as not being a qualifying company at that time.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, company, qualifying company, share

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 5

Section GB 6(1)(c): amended, on 17 July 2013, by section 172 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

Arrangements involving controlled foreign companiesGB 7 Arrangements involving CFC control interestsWhen this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) 2 or more persons who are New Zealand residents enter into an arrangement; and
 - (b) under the arrangement, a control interest in a foreign company is held by another person; and
 - (c) a purpose of the arrangement is to prevent the foreign company being a controlled foreign company (CFC).

Interest treated as held by residents

- (2) The control interest is treated as being held by the New Zealand residents in equal proportions, for the purposes of determining whether the company is a CFC.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, CFC, control interest, foreign company, New Zealand resident

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 7

GB 8 Arrangements involving attributed repatriation from CFCs*[Repealed]*

Section GB 8: repealed, on 24 February 2016, by section 179 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

GB 9 Temporary disposals of direct control or income interests*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when,—
- (a) before the end of a quarter, a person (the disposer), directly or indirectly disposes of a direct control interest or direct income interest in a foreign company (the disposal); and
 - (b) the disposal is not to a New Zealand resident who, immediately after the disposal, has an income interest of 10% or more in the foreign company from which attributed CFC income is derived; and

- (c) within 183 days after the disposal, the disposer directly or indirectly acquires a direct control interest or direct income interest in the foreign company (the reacquisition); and
- (d) the disposal has the effect of reducing attributed CFC income of—
 - (i) the disposer; or
 - (ii) an associated person of the disposer; or
 - (iii) if the disposer is a CFC, a person holding an income interest in the disposer; and
- (e) the disposal and reacquisition are part of an arrangement that has an effect of defeating the intent and application of the international tax rules.

Treatment of disposal

- (2) The disposal is treated as not having occurred, when the person's control interest or income interest in the foreign company at the end of the quarter is calculated, to the extent to which the reacquisition reverses the disposal.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, associated person, attributed CFC income, CFC, control interest, direct control interest, direct income interest, foreign company, income interest, international tax rules, quarter

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 9(1), (4), (7)

GB 10 Temporary acquisitions of direct control or income interests

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when,—
 - (a) before the end of a quarter, a person (the acquirer), directly or indirectly acquires a direct control interest or direct income interest in a foreign company (the acquisition); and
 - (b) the acquisition is not from a New Zealand resident who, immediately before the acquisition, has an income interest of 10% or more in the foreign company from which an attributed CFC loss is incurred; and
 - (c) within 183 days after the acquisition, the acquirer directly or indirectly disposes of a direct control interest or direct income interest in the foreign company (the disposal); and
 - (d) the acquisition has the effect of increasing an attributed CFC loss of—
 - (i) the acquirer; or
 - (ii) an associated person of the acquirer; or

- (iii) if the acquirer is a CFC, a person holding an income interest in the acquirer; and
- (e) the acquisition and disposal are part of an arrangement that has an effect of defeating the intent and application of the international tax rules.

Treatment of acquisition

- (2) The acquisition is treated as not having occurred, when the person's control interest or income interest in the foreign company at the end of the quarter is calculated, to the extent to which the disposal reverses the acquisition.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, associated person, attributed CFC loss, CFC, control interest, direct control interest, direct income interest, foreign company, income interest, international tax rules, quarter

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 9(1), (4), (7)

GB 11 Temporary increases in totals for control interest categories

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when,—
 - (a) before the end of a quarter, an increase occurs in the total of direct control interests in a foreign company in any of the control interest categories (the total increase); and
 - (b) the total increase results in a person (the interest holder) having a reduced income interest or control interest in a foreign company (the interest reduction); and
 - (c) within 365 days after the total increase, a reduction occurs in the total for the control interest category (the total reduction); and
 - (d) the interest reduction has the effect of reducing attributed CFC income of—
 - (i) the interest holder; or
 - (ii) an associated person of the interest holder; or
 - (iii) if the interest holder is a CFC, another person holding an income interest in the interest holder; and
 - (e) the total increase and total reduction are part of an arrangement that has an effect of defeating the intent and application of the international tax rules.

Treatment of interest reduction

- (2) The interest reduction is treated as not having occurred, when the interest holder's control interest or income interest in the foreign company at the end of the quarter is calculated, to the extent to which the total reduction reverses the interest reduction.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, associated person, attributed CFC income, CFC, control interest, control interest category, direct control interest, foreign company, income interest, international tax rules, quarter

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 9(2), (7)

Section GB 11(1)(d): amended, on 24 February 2016, by section 181(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section GB 11 list of defined terms attributed repatriation: repealed, on 24 February 2016, by section 181(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

GB 12 Temporary reductions in totals for control interest categories

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when,—
 - (a) before the end of a quarter, a reduction in the total of direct control interests in a foreign company occurs in a control interest category (the total reduction); and
 - (b) the total reduction results in a person (the interest holder) having an increased income interest or control interest in a foreign company (the interest increase); and
 - (c) within 365 days after the total reduction, an increase occurs in the total for the control interest category (the total increase); and
 - (d) the interest increase has the effect of increasing an attributed CFC loss of—
 - (i) the interest holder; or
 - (ii) an associated person of the interest holder; or
 - (iii) another person holding an income interest in the interest holder, if the interest holder is a CFC; and
 - (e) the total reduction and total increase are part of an arrangement which has an effect of defeating the intent and application of the international tax rules.

Treatment of interest increase

- (2) The interest increase is treated as not having occurred, when the interest holder's control interest or income interest in the foreign company at the end of the quarter is calculated, to the extent to which the total increase reverses the interest increase.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, associated person, attributed CFC loss, CFC, control interest, control interest category, direct control interest, foreign company, income interest, international tax rules, quarter

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 9(2), (7)

GB 13 When combination of changes reduces income*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) before the end of a quarter, either—
 - (i) a person directly or indirectly disposes of a direct control interest or direct income interest in a foreign company (the disposal); or
 - (ii) an increase occurs in the total of direct control interests in a foreign company in any of the control interest categories (the total increase); and
 - (b) in the case of the disposal, the disposal is not to a New Zealand resident who, immediately after the disposal, has an income interest of 10% or more in the foreign company from which they derive attributed CFC income; and
 - (c) in the case of the disposal, within 365 days after the disposal, a reduction occurs in the total of direct control interests in the foreign company in any of the control interest categories (the total reduction); and
 - (d) in the case of the total increase, within 365 days after the total increase, a person directly or indirectly acquires a direct control interest or direct income interest in the foreign company (the reacquisition); and
 - (e) the disposal or total increase has the effect of reducing attributed CFC income of—
 - (i) the person (the interest holder); or
 - (ii) an associated person of the interest holder; or
 - (iii) if the interest holder is a CFC, a person holding an income interest in the interest holder; and
 - (f) the disposal and total reduction or total increase and reacquisition are part of an arrangement that has an effect of defeating the intent and application of the international tax rules.

Treatment of disposal or total increase

- (2) The disposal or total increase is treated as not having occurred, when the interest holder's control interest or income interest in the foreign company at the end of the quarter is calculated, to the extent to which the total reduction or reacquisition has the effect of reversing the effect of the disposal or total increase on the level of the interest holder's control interest or income interest.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, associated person, attributed CFC income, CFC, control interest, control interest category, direct control interest, direct income interest, foreign company, income interest, international tax rules, quarter

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 9(3), (4), (7)

Section GB 13(1)(b): amended, on 24 February 2016, by section 182(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section GB 13(1)(e): amended, on 24 February 2016, by section 182(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section GB 13 list of defined terms attributed repatriation: repealed, on 24 February 2016, by section 182(3) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

GB 14 When combination of changes increases loss

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when,—
 - (a) before the end of a quarter, either—
 - (i) a person directly or indirectly acquires a direct control interest or direct income interest in a foreign company (the acquisition); or
 - (ii) a decrease occurs in the total of direct control interests in a foreign company in any of the control interest categories (the total decrease); and
 - (b) in the case of the acquisition, the acquisition is not from a New Zealand resident who, immediately before the acquisition, has an income interest of 10% or more in the foreign company from which they have an attributed CFC loss; and
 - (c) in the case of the acquisition, within 365 days after the acquisition, an increase occurs in the total of direct control interests in the foreign company in any of the control interest categories (the total increase); and
 - (d) in the case of the total reduction, within 365 days after the total reduction, a person directly or indirectly disposes of a direct control interest or direct income interest in the foreign company (the disposal); and
 - (e) the acquisition or total reduction has the effect of reducing an attributed CFC loss of—
 - (i) the person (the interest holder); or
 - (ii) an associated person of the interest holder; or
 - (iii) if the interest holder is a CFC, a person holding an income interest in the interest holder; and
 - (f) the acquisition and total increase or total reduction and disposal are part of an arrangement that has an effect of defeating the intent and application of the international tax rules.

Treatment of acquisition or total reduction

- (2) The acquisition or total reduction is treated as not having occurred, when the interest holder's control interest or income interest in the foreign company at the end of the quarter is calculated, to the extent to which the total increase or disposal has the effect of reversing the effect of the acquisition or total reduction on the level of the interest holder's control interest or income interest.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, associated person, attributed CFC loss, CFC, control interest, control interest category, direct control interest, direct income interest, foreign company, income interest, international tax rules, quarter

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 9(3), (4), (7)

GB 15 CFC income or loss: arrangements related to quarterly measurement

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) an income interest in a CFC is transferred by a person to an associated person; and
 - (b) the associated persons make an arrangement for making or not making an election under section EX 26(3) (Use of quarterly measurement); and
 - (c) the arrangement has an effect of defeating the intent and application of the international tax rules.

Treatment of election

- (2) The Commissioner may treat the election as having been made or not made, as applicable, to the extent appropriate to prevent the effect of the arrangement.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, associated person, CFC, Commissioner, income interest, international tax rules

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 10

GB 15BA CFC income or loss: arrangements for inclusion of CFC in test group

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) for a person and 2 or more accounting periods, a CFC is not a non-attributing active CFC unless the person chooses to test the CFC together with other CFCs as a group (the test group) under—
 - (i) section EX 21D (Non-attributing active CFC: default test); or
 - (ii) section EX 21E (Non-attributing active CFC: test based on accounting standard); and
 - (b) the person enters into an arrangement to—
 - (i) choose to include the CFC in the test group for 1 of the accounting periods; and
 - (ii) not choose to include the CFC in the test group for another of the accounting periods; and
 - (c) the effect of the arrangement in the absence of this section would be that the person had less net attributable CFC income when the CFC was in the test group and greater net attributable CFC losses when the CFC was not in the test group.

Treatment of election

- (2) The Commissioner may treat an election as having been made or not made, as appropriate to prevent the arrangement having the effect referred to in subsection (1)(c).

Defined in this Act: accounting period, arrangement, CFC, Commissioner, net attributable CFC income, net attributable CFC loss, non-attributing active CFC

Section GB 15BA: inserted, on 1 April 2016 (applying for the 2016–17 and later income years), by section 183(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

GB 15B Supplies affecting default test for non-attributing active CFC

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a CFC makes a supply—
- (a) to a person who would not meet the requirements of section EX 21D(1)(a) to (c) (Non-attributing active CFC: default test) for the person to be a member of a test group, under that section, with the CFC; and
 - (b) with the purpose of increasing the amount given by the denominator in the formula in section EX 21D(4) for the CFC.

Income from supply included in gross adjustment

- (2) The income from the supply is included in the item gross adjustments in section EX 21D(9)(d).

Defined in this Act: CFC

Section GB 15B: inserted (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 237(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

GB 15C Arrangements related to accounting test for non-attributing active CFC

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person (the party) enters an arrangement having a purpose, that is more than incidental, of enabling a CFC to meet the requirements of section EX 21E (Non-attributing active CFC: test based on accounting standard) when the CFC would not meet the requirements of section EX 21D (Non-attributing active CFC: default test) to be a non-attributing active CFC.

CFC not non-attributing active CFC

- (2) The CFC is not a non-attributing active CFC.

Person not non-attributing active CFC if type of financial arrangement involved

- (3) A party who is a CFC associated with the CFC is not a non-attributing active CFC if—
- (a) the arrangement involves a financial arrangement producing a foreign exchange loss for the CFC; and

- (b) the foreign exchange loss decreases for the CFC the amount of the numerator in the formula in section EX 21E(5).

Defined in this Act: arrangement, associated, CFC, financial arrangement, loss, non-attributing active CFC

Section GB 15C: inserted (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 237(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Arrangements involving foreign investment funds

GB 16 FIF income or loss: arrangements for measurement day concessions

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) an attributing interest in a foreign investment fund (FIF) is transferred by a person to an associated person; and
 - (b) the associated persons make an arrangement for making or not making—
 - (i) an election under section EX 26(3) (Use of quarterly measurement); or
 - (ii) [Repealed]
 - (iii) a combination of those elections; and
 - (c) the arrangement has an effect of defeating the intent and application of the international tax rules.

Treatment of election

- (2) The Commissioner may treat an election as having been made or not made, as applicable, to the extent appropriate to prevent the effect of the arrangement.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, associated person, attributing interest, FIF, Commissioner, international tax rules

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 10

Section GB 16(1)(b)(ii): repealed (with effect on 1 July 2011 and applying for income years beginning on or after that date), on 7 May 2012, by section 69(1) of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

Arrangements involving film rights

GB 17 Excessive amounts for film rights or production expenditure

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a person (the buyer) is allowed a deduction under—
 - (i) section DS 1 (Acquiring film rights) for expenditure incurred in acquiring a film right; or
 - (ii) section DS 2 (Film production expenditure) for expenditure incurred in acquiring goods or services in relation to a film; and

- (b) the Commissioner considers that the buyer and the person from whom the film right, goods, or services were acquired (the seller) were not dealing with each other at arm's length; and
- (c) the amount of expenditure incurred by the buyer is more than the market value of the film right, goods, or services at the time they were acquired.

Deduction reduced to market value

- (2) The deduction is reduced to an amount equal to the market value.

Application to shares in film rights

- (3) If the buyer acquires only a share in a film right, this section applies only to the part of the total market value of the film right that is attributable to that share.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, deduction, film production expenditure, film right

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss GC 11A, GD 12

Section GB 17(1)(b): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 29 August 2011 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 140(1) of the Taxation (Tax Administration and Remedial Matters) Act 2011 (2011 No 63).

GB 18 Arrangements to acquire film rights or incur production expenditure

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies if the Commissioner considers that 2 persons have made arrangements so that any of the following sections applies more favourably in relation to a person in an income year than would have applied without the arrangements:
 - (a) section DS 1 (Acquiring film rights):
 - (b) section DS 2 (Film production expenditure):
 - (c) section EJ 4 (Expenditure incurred in acquiring film rights in feature films):
 - (d) section EJ 5 (Expenditure incurred in acquiring film rights in films other than feature films):
 - (e) section EJ 7 (Film production expenditure for New Zealand films):
 - (f) section EJ 8 (Film production expenditure for films other than New Zealand films).

Deduction reduced

- (2) The deduction allowed to the person under section DS 1 or DS 2 is reduced to the amount that the Commissioner considers would have been allowed had the arrangements not occurred.

Allocation

- (3) The deduction allocated under section EJ 4, EJ 5, EJ 7, or EJ 8 is allocated to the income year to which the Commissioner considers it would have been allocated had the arrangements not occurred.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, Commissioner, deduction, film production expenditure, film right, income year

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss GC 11B, GD 12B

GB 19 When film production expenditure payments delayed or contingent*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a person (the payer) is liable to pay any of the costs of goods or services applied in producing a film:
 - (b) either—
 - (i) the payment of the costs is deferred under an agreement between the provider of the goods or services and another person, and the period of deferral is excessive; or
 - (ii) the payment is contingent.

Costs incurred when paid

- (2) For the purposes of sections DS 2, EJ 7, and EJ 8 (which relate to film production expenditure), the payer is treated as incurring the costs at the time of payment.

Defined in this Act: film, film production expenditure

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GD 12A

Arrangements involving petroleum and mineral mining

Heading: replaced, on 1 April 2014, by section 77 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

GB 20 Arrangements involving petroleum and mineral mining*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) an arrangement includes—
 - (i) the disposal of a petroleum mining asset or a mineral mining asset (the mining asset); or
 - (ii) the incurring of petroleum exploration expenditure or 1 or more of the classes of mineral mining expenditure referred to in section DU 8 (Classes of mineral mining expenditure) (the mining expenditure);
 - (iii) a farm-out arrangement; and
 - (b) the arrangement has a purpose or effect of tax avoidance.

Applying section GA 1

- (2) The Commissioner may apply section GA 1 (Commissioner's power to adjust) to adjust the taxable income of a person affected by the arrangement so as to counteract a tax advantage obtained by the person.

Examples

- (3) Without limiting the generality of subsection (1), arrangements having the effect of tax avoidance include the arrangements described in subsections (4) to (8).

Person acquiring asset relieved or compensated

- (4) An arrangement has the effect of tax avoidance if it involves the disposal of a mining asset and it is probable that, at the time the arrangement is entered into, the person acquiring the mining asset—
- (a) will, through a related arrangement, not have to suffer some or all of the expenditure of acquiring the mining asset; or
 - (b) will be effectively compensated in some way for some or all of the expenditure.

Person incurring expenditure relieved or compensated

- (5) An arrangement has the effect of tax avoidance if it involves the incurring of mining expenditure and it is probable that, at the time the arrangement is entered into, the person who is to incur the mining expenditure—
- (a) will, through a related arrangement, not have to suffer some or all of the mining expenditure; or
 - (b) will be effectively compensated in some way for some or all of the mining expenditure.

Farm-in party relieved or compensated

- (6) An arrangement has the effect of tax avoidance if it involves a farm-out arrangement and it is probable that, at the time the arrangement is entered into,—
- (a) the farm-in party will, through a related arrangement, not have to suffer some or all of the farm-in expenditure attributable to the proportionate interest acquired by the farm-in party under the farm-out arrangement; or
 - (b) the farm-in party or an associated person will be effectively compensated in some way for some or all of the farm-in expenditure.

Disposal of asset to associated person for over-value

- (7) An arrangement has the effect of tax avoidance if it involves a petroleum miner or mineral miner disposing of a mining asset to an associated person for a purpose of ensuring that the associated person has a greater deduction than would have been allowed if the asset had been disposed of for its market value.

Farm-out arrangement with associate person for over-value

- (8) An arrangement has the effect of tax avoidance if it involves a petroleum miner or a mineral miner entering into a farm-out arrangement with an associated person for the purpose of ensuring that the associated person has a greater deduction than would have been allowed if the farm-out arrangement had been entered into on substantially the same terms as those on which it would have been entered into with a person who is not associated.

Miners operating offshore

- (9) This section applies, with the necessary modifications, to a petroleum miner or a mineral miner who undertakes mining operations or that are—
- (a) outside New Zealand and undertaken through a branch or CFC; and
 - (b) substantially the same as the mining activities governed by this Act.

Treatment of partners

- (10) For the purposes of this section, a partner is treated as having a share or interest in a petroleum permit, exploration permit, prospecting permit, or mining permit, as applicable, or other property of a partnership to the extent of their income interest in the partnership.

Disposal of part of asset

- (11) For the purposes of this section, references to the disposal of an asset apply equally to the disposal of part of an asset.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, associated person, CFC, deduction, dispose, farm-in expenditure, farm-out arrangement, mineral miner, mineral mining asset, mining permit, New Zealand, petroleum exploration expenditure, petroleum mining asset, petroleum permit, tax avoidance, taxable income

Section GB 20: replaced, on 1 April 2014 (applying for the 2014–15 and later income years), by section 78(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

Arrangements involving financial arrangementsGB 21 Dealing that defeats intention of financial arrangements rulesWhen this section applies*

- (1) This section applies if the Commissioner considers that the parties to a financial arrangement were dealing with each other in a way that defeats the intention of the financial arrangements rules at the time the financial arrangement was—
- (a) entered into or otherwise acquired; or
 - (b) varied; or
 - (c) disposed of.

Alteration of consideration

- (2) The Commissioner may treat the relevant transaction as having occurred for the consideration that parties dealing at arm's length would have agreed on.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GD 11

Arrangements involving trust beneficiary income

GB 22 Arrangements involving trust beneficiary income

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) an arrangement involves a trustee transferring property, or providing services or other benefits, to a person other than a beneficiary of the trust; and
 - (b) the arrangement has the effect of defeating the intent and application of sections HC 17 to HC 23 (which relate to the income of beneficiaries) in relation to the beneficiary; and
 - (c) the trust is not a Maori authority.

Application of sections HC 17 to HC 23

- (2) The beneficiary is treated, for the purposes of sections HC 17 to HC 23, as receiving the property or enjoying the services or benefits.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, Maori authority, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 14

Excessive remuneration

GB 23 Excessive remuneration to relatives

When this section applies: first case

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a person carries on a business or undertaking; and
 - (b) the person employs or engages a relative or, in a case in which the person is a company but not a close company, a relative of a director or shareholder of the company, to perform services for the business or undertaking; and
 - (c) the Commissioner considers that the income payable to the relative for the services is excessive; and
 - (d) the exemption in section GB 24 does not apply.

When this section applies: second case

- (2) This section also applies when—

- (a) a person carries on a business in partnership or has an effective look-through interest for a look-through company; and
- (b) the partnership or look-through company employs or engages a relative of the person or, in a case in which the person is a company, a relative of a director or shareholder in the company, to perform services for the business; and
- (c) the Commissioner considers that the income payable to the relative for the services is excessive; and
- (d) the exemption in section GB 24 does not apply.

When this section applies: third case

- (3) This section also applies when—
 - (a) a person carries on a business in partnership; and
 - (b) another partner in the partnership is—
 - (i) a relative of the person; or
 - (ii) if the person is a company, a relative of a director or shareholder in the company; or
 - (iii) a company in which a relative of the person is a director or shareholder; and
 - (c) the Commissioner considers that the other partner's share of partnership profit or losses is excessive; and
 - (d) the exemption in section GB 24 does not apply.

Allocation of income or losses

- (4) For the purposes of this Act, the Commissioner may allocate the income or losses of the business or undertaking among the parties to the contract or partnership as the Commissioner considers reasonable, without taking into account an amount provided to the relative or other partner.

Treatment of amount allocated

- (5) An amount the Commissioner allocates to 1 person is treated as not belonging to another person.

Matters for Commissioner's consideration

- (6) The Commissioner may take into account each of the following matters when applying this section:
 - (a) the nature and extent of the services rendered by the relative;
 - (b) the value of the contributions made by the respective partners, by way of services, capital, or otherwise;
 - (c) any other relevant matters.

Treatment of amount allocated back to company

- (7) If an amount provided by a company to a relative of a director or shareholder for services is allocated to the company under subsection (4), it is treated as a dividend paid by the company and derived by the relative.

Defined in this Act: close company, company, director, dividend, effective look-through interest, income, look-through company, relative, shareholder

GB 24 Exemption for genuine contracts

When section GB 23 does not apply

- (1) Section GB 23 does not apply if the relevant contract of employment, engagement, or partnership is a genuine contract.

When contracts genuine

- (2) A contract is treated as a genuine contract if—
- (a) the contract is in writing; and
 - (b) the contract is signed by all the parties to it; and
 - (c) in the case of a contract of employment or engagement, each person employed or engaged under the contract is 20 years or older on the date of signing the contract; and
 - (d) in the case of a contract of partnership, each partner is 20 years or older on the date of signing the contract; and
 - (e) the contract is binding for at least 3 years, except for the reasons set out in sections 36 and 38 of the Partnership Act 1908; and
 - (f) in the case of a contract of employment or engagement, each person employed or engaged has real control over their income under the contract; and
 - (g) in the case of a contract of partnership, each partner has—
 - (i) real control over their share of profits under the contract; and
 - (ii) real liability for their share of losses under the contract; and
 - (h) no part of the income or share of profits derived by the relative, or company of which the relative is a shareholder or director, is either a disposition without fully adequate consideration in money or money's worth passing to the person making the disposition or a disposition that any part of does not have fully adequate consideration in money or money's worth passing to the person making the disposition.

Defined in this Act: director, income, loss, shareholder, year

Section GB 24(2)(h): replaced (with effect on 1 October 2011), on 17 July 2013, by section 58 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

GB 25 Close company remuneration to shareholders, directors, or relatives

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a close company provides remuneration for services to a person (the service provider) who is—
 - (i) a shareholder or director of the company; or
 - (ii) a relative of a shareholder or director of the company; and
 - (b) the Commissioner considers that the amount provided is excessive; and
 - (c) the exemption in subsection (3) does not apply.

Excess treated as dividend

- (2) For the purposes of this Act, the excess is treated as a dividend paid by the company and derived by the service provider.

Exemption: residents working full-time

- (3) This section does not apply when—
- (a) the service provider is an adult employed substantially full-time in the business of the company; and
 - (b) the service provider participates in the management or administration of the company; and
 - (c) the amount provided to the service provider was not influenced by their relationship with a shareholder or director; and
 - (d) the service provider is a New Zealand resident.

Defined in this Act: close company, Commissioner, company, director, dividend, New Zealand resident, shareholder

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GD 5

Section GB 25(3)(b): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 7 September 2010 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 53(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

GB 25B Excessive effective look-through interests

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies to the extent to which, for an income year,—

- (a) a person (an owner) has an effective look-through interest for a look-through company (the LTC); and
- (b) for the LTC, 2 or more owners are relatives, 1 of whom is under 20 years old (the relevant relative); and
- (c) the Commissioner considers that the income arising from the application of section HB 1 (Look-through companies are transparent) for the relevant relative is excessive.

Reallocation of effective look-through interests

- (2) Despite section HB 1, the effective look-through interests for the person are the interests that the Commissioner considers reasonable for the income year or part of the income year, as applicable, without taking into account an amount provided to the relevant relative.

Matters for Commissioner's consideration

- (3) The Commissioner may take into account each of the following matters when applying this section:
 - (a) the nature and extent of services rendered by the relevant relative:
 - (b) the value of the contributions made by the respective owners, by way of services, capital, or otherwise:
 - (c) any other relevant matters.

Defined in this Act: effective look-through interest, income year, look-through company, relative

Section GB 25B: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011), by section 68(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

Arrangements involving repatriation of commercial bills

GB 26 Arrangements involving repatriation of commercial bills

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a commercial bill has been issued by—
 - (i) a New Zealand resident who does not use the money lent in a business carried on through a fixed establishment outside New Zealand; or
 - (ii) a non-resident who uses the money lent in a business carried on through a fixed establishment in New Zealand; and
 - (b) a non-resident who holds the bill transfers it to another person (the New Zealand transferee); and
 - (c) the non-resident did not become a party to the bill for the purpose of carrying on a business through a fixed establishment in New Zealand; and
 - (d) the New Zealand transferee is either—

- (i) a New Zealand resident; or
- (ii) a non-resident who becomes a party to the commercial bill for the purpose of carrying on a business through a fixed establishment in New Zealand; and
- (e) the transfer of the bill has the purpose of avoiding non-resident withholding tax (NRWT) or the approved issuer levy.

Income

- (2) If the New Zealand transferee redeems the commercial bill, the redemption payment is income of the New Zealand transferee.

New Zealand transferee treated as redeeming bill

- (3) For the purposes of this section, the New Zealand transferee is treated as redeeming the bill on the scheduled redemption date even if it is not redeemed.

Defined in this Act: approved issuer, commercial bill, fixed establishment, income, money lent, New Zealand resident, non-resident, NRWT, redemption payment

Attribution rule for income from personal servicesGB 27 Attribution rule for income from personal servicesApplication of section GB 29

- (1) An amount of income in an income year of a person (the associated entity) is attributed to another person (the working person) under section GB 29 for the working person's corresponding tax year if,—
 - (a) during the income year, a third person (the buyer) acquires services from the associated entity, and the services are personally performed by the working person; and
 - (b) the working person is associated with the associated entity; and
 - (c) the threshold test in subsection (2) is met; and
 - (d) none of the exemptions in subsection (3) applies.

Threshold for application of attribution rule

- (2) The attribution occurs only if—
 - (a) 80% or more of the associated entity's total income from personal services during the income year is derived from the supply of services to the buyer, a person associated with the buyer, or a combination of them; and
 - (b) 80% or more of the associated entity's income from personal services during the income year is derived through services personally performed by the working person, a relative of the working person, or a combination of them; and

- (c) the working person's net income for the income year, assuming section GB 29 applies in relation to the associated entity and working person, is more than $70,000; and
- (d) substantial business assets are not a necessary part of the business structure that is used to derive the total income referred to in paragraph (a).

Exemptions

- (3) The attribution does not occur—
 - (a) if both the associated entity and the working person are non-residents at all times during the associated entity's income year;
 - (b) if the associated entity is a natural person and is neither a partner of a partnership nor a trustee of a trust;
 - (c) to the extent to which the services personally performed by the working person are essential support for a product supplied by the associated entity;
 - (d) if the total amount to be attributed to the working person, for the associated entity and the income year, is less than $5,000, unless—
 - (i) the application of this paragraph would prevent income being attributed to the working person for the income year in relation to another associated entity;
 - (ii) the associated entity is a CFC and a person who holds an attributing interest in the CFC files, after the date (the Royal assent date) on which the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 receives the Royal assent, a return of income in which the amount of income attributed to the working person is determined under this section:
 - (e) if the associated entity is a CFC and—
 - (i) the amount gives rise to attributed CFC income under section CQ 2(2B) (When attributed CFC income arises) or attributed CFC loss under section DN 2(2) (When attributed CFC loss arises) for a person who holds an attributing interest in the CFC; and
 - (ii) the person who holds the attributing interest in the CFC files, after the Royal assent date, a return of income in which the amount attributed to the working person is determined under section EX 20B (Attributable CFC amount).

Treatment of certain dividends

- (4) If a company that is required to attribute an amount to the working person under this section pays a dividend, sections HA 14 to HA 19 (which relate to qualifying companies) are treated as applying to the company and the dividend if the company—

- (a) has no net income for the tax year in which it pays the dividend other than income attributed under this section, ignoring interest income that is incidental to the company's business; and
- (b) is not a qualifying company; and
- (c) chooses to have the dividend treated as if it were paid by a qualifying company.

Cancellation of notional imputation credits

- (5) For the purposes of subsection (4), to the extent to which the dividend paid by the company would have had an imputation credit attached that arose under section OB 16 (ICA attribution for personal services) in the absence of the election made under subsection (4)(c), the credit is treated as cancelled immediately before it would have been attached under sections HA 14 to HA 19 (which relate to dividends paid by qualifying companies).

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, attributable CFC amount, attributed CFC income, attributed CFC loss, business, CFC, company, dividend, imputation credit, income, income year, net income, non-resident, pay, qualifying company, relative, tax year, trustee

GB 28 Interpretation of terms used in section GB 27

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section GB 27.

Associated persons

- (2) A person is treated as being associated with another person if they are associated at the time the services are personally performed by the working person.

Non-associated buyers

- (3) For the purposes of section GB 27(2)(a), a buyer is not treated as being associated with another buyer if either—
 - (a) both buyers are public authorities; or
 - (b) the working person cannot be reasonably expected to know that a particular buyer is associated with another buyer, other than by making a specific enquiry.

Relatives

- (4) For the purposes of section GB 27(2)(b), a person is a relative of the working person only if the person is a relative at the beginning of the relevant income year of the working person.

Fringe benefits included

- (5) For the purposes of section GB 27(2)(c), the working person's annual gross income includes the taxable value of a fringe benefit, as determined under sections RD 25 to RD 63 (which relate to fringe benefit tax), provided or granted by a person associated with the working person.

Meaning of substantial business assets

- (6) Substantial business assets means depreciable property that—
- (a) at the end of the associated entity's corresponding income year, has a total cost of more than either—
 - (i) $75,000; or
 - (ii) 25% or more of the associated entity's total income from services for the income year; and
 - (b) is not for private use.

Assets subject to finance lease, hire purchase agreement, or specified lease

- (7) For the purposes of subsection (6)(a), the cost of depreciable property includes—
- (a) the consideration provided to the lessee in the case of property subject to a finance lease or a hire purchase agreement, including expenditure or loss incurred by the lessee in preparing and installing the finance lease asset for use, unless the lessee is allowed a deduction for the expenditure or loss, other than a deduction for an amount of depreciation loss:
 - (b) the cost price, in the case of property subject to a specified lease.

Private use of assets

- (8) Subsection (6)(b) does not apply to depreciable property if 20% or less of the property's use is for private use.

Calculation of private proportion of use

- (9) For the purposes of subsection (8), the percentage of a property's use for private purposes for an income year is calculated according to—
- (a) the proportion that the number of days for which fringe benefit tax is payable by the associated entity in relation to the property bears to the total number of days in the income year in which the property is owned by or is subject to a finance lease, hire purchase agreement, or specified lease, involving the associated entity, if the property is subject to the FBT rules:
 - (b) the proportion that the expenditure incurred in relation to the property, for which a deduction is denied to the associated entity, bears to all expenditure incurred by the associated entity in relation to the property in the income year, if the property is not subject to the FBT rules.

Defined in this Act: annual gross income, associated person, consideration, cost price, deduction, depreciable property, FBT rules, finance lease, fringe benefit, fringe benefit tax, hire purchase agreement, income, income year, public authority, relative, specified lease, substantial business assets

Section GB 28 list of defined terms 1973 version provisions: repealed, on 1 April 2010, by section 594 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section GB 28 list of defined terms 1988 version provisions: repealed, on 1 April 2010, by section 594 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section GB 28 list of defined terms 1990 version provisions: repealed, on 1 April 2010, by section 594 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

GB 29 Attribution rule: calculation

Amount attributed

- (1) A working person is treated as deriving income in an income year equal to the least of the following amounts:
 - (a) the associated entity's net income for the corresponding tax year, calculated as if their only income were derived from personal services:
 - (b) the associated entity's net income for the corresponding tax year:
 - (c) if and to the extent to which the associated entity is a company or a trust that has a loss balance to be carried forward under section IA 4 (Using loss balances carried forward to tax year) arising from a business or a trading activity of supplying personal services, the associated entity's net income for the corresponding tax year after subtracting the loss balance carried forward from an earlier corresponding tax year.

Calculation for trustee or partnership

- (2) For the purposes of calculating the associated entity's net income for the corresponding tax year in the application of subsection (1),—
 - (a) if the associated entity is a trustee of a trust, the trustees are treated as not having made a distribution of beneficiary income out of the year's income:
 - (b) if the associated entity is a partnership, the associated entity is treated as a taxpayer and section HG 2 (Partnerships are transparent) does not apply:
 - (c) if the associated entity is a look-through company, the associated entity is treated as a taxpayer and section HB 1 (Look-through companies are transparent) does not apply.

Salary paid or fringe benefits treated as deductions

- (3) For the purposes of calculating the associated entity's net income for the corresponding tax year in the application of subsection (1),—
 - (a) the associated entity is allowed a deduction for employment income paid to the working person during the income year:

- (b) the associated entity is allowed a deduction for the taxable value of a fringe benefit provided or granted by the associated entity to the working person during the income year, and for the fringe benefit tax payable on the fringe benefit.

Reduction of attributable income for distributions

- (4) For the purposes of calculating the associated entity's net income for the corresponding tax year in the application of subsection (1), the amount of net income of the associated entity for the corresponding tax year is reduced by—
 - (a) in the case of a trustee of a trust, the amount of beneficiary income derived by the working person from the trust in the income year:
 - (b) in the case of a partnership, the share of profits allocated by the partnership to the working person:
 - (c) in the case of a company, a dividend paid—
 - (i) by the associated entity to the working person during the income year or before the end of 6 months after the end of the income year; and
 - (ii) from income derived in the income year.

Attribution reduced by market value of administrative services

- (5) If the associated entity is a partnership that receives administrative services from another person related to their income from personal services and has not paid for the administrative services, the amount to be attributed to the working person is reduced by the market value of the administrative services provided by the other person.

Reduction of beneficiary income when rule results in trust having tax loss

- (6) If the associated entity is a trustee and the amount attributable would cause the associated entity to have a tax loss for the corresponding tax year, for the purposes of this Act,—
 - (a) beneficiary income from the trust for the income year must be reduced to the extent to which the associated entity's taxable income for the corresponding tax year is zero; and
 - (b) the reduction in beneficiary income must be divided among the beneficiaries other than the working person—
 - (i) according to proportions determined by the trust's trustees:
 - (ii) if the trustees do not make the determination, according to the proportion that each beneficiary's beneficiary income bears to the total beneficiary income from the trust for the income year.

Attribution to more than 1 working person

- (7) If the amount attributable is to be attributed to more than 1 working person, the share attributed to each working person must reflect the respective value of the services personally performed by each working person.

Defined in this Act: beneficiary income, company, deduction, dividend, fringe benefit, fringe benefit tax, income, income year, look-through company, net income, taxpayer, tax loss, tax year, trustee

Arrangements involving restrictive covenants

GB 30 Arrangements to avoid taxation of restrictive covenant payments

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies if a person enters into an arrangement that has an effect of avoiding section CE 9 (Restrictive covenants).

Treatment as restrictive covenant payment

- (2) The Commissioner may treat—
- (a) an amount provided under the arrangement as an amount to which section CE 9(2) applies; and
 - (b) a person affected by the arrangement as the person who gave the undertaking referred to in section CE 9(1).

Example

- (3) An example of an arrangement that may be subject to this section is an arrangement that involves a collateral arrangement to dispose of property.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, Commissioner

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 14F

Arrangements involving fringe benefit tax

GB 31 FBT arrangements: general

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—

- (a) 2 or more persons enter into an arrangement; and
- (b) a purpose or effect of the arrangement is to defeat the intent and application of any of the FBT rules; and
- (c) the purpose or effect is not merely incidental.

FBT rules treated as applying

- (2) For the purposes of the FBT rules, the Commissioner may treat—
- (a) a party to the arrangement (the provider) as the employer of a person (the recipient) of whom the Commissioner notifies the provider:
 - (b) the recipient as the employee of the provider:
 - (c) a benefit as being provided by the provider to the recipient through the employment of the recipient.

Actual or likely benefit

- (3) The Commissioner may apply subsection (2)(c) only in the case of a benefit that,—
- (a) is in fact provided by the provider to the recipient; or
 - (b) had the arrangement not occurred, the recipient—
 - (i) would have obtained; or
 - (ii) would in all likelihood have obtained; or
 - (iii) might be expected to have obtained.

Arrangements to reduce motor vehicle costs

- (4) Schedule 5, clause 4(c) (Fringe benefit values for motor vehicles) may apply to treat the cost of a motor vehicle as equal to its market value.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, Commissioner, employee, employer, employment, FBT rules, notify

GB 32 Benefits provided to employee's associates

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a benefit is provided to a person who is associated with an employee of an employer; and
 - (b) the benefit would be a fringe benefit if provided to the employee; and
 - (c) the benefit is provided either by the employer or by another person under an arrangement with the employer for providing the benefit; and
 - (d) the exemptions in subsections (2) and (2B) do not apply.

Exemption for shareholder-employees and corporate associates

- (2) Subsection (3) does not apply when—
- (a) the benefit is provided by an employer that is a company; and
 - (b) the employee is a shareholder in the company; and
 - (c) the person associated with the employee is a company; and
 - (d) the benefit is not provided under an arrangement that has a purpose of providing the benefit either—
 - (i) in place of employment income; or
 - (ii) free from fringe benefit tax.

Exemption for LTCs and partnerships

- (2B) Subsection (3) does not apply when—
- (a) the benefit is provided by an employer that is—
 - (i) a look-through company (an LTC):
 - (ii) a partnership or limited partnership; and
 - (b) the person associated with the employee, described in subsection (1)(a), is—
 - (i) an owner of the relevant LTC:
 - (ii) a partner of the relevant partnership or limited partnership.

Benefit treated as provided to employee

- (3) For the purposes of the FBT rules, the benefit is treated as provided by the employer to the employee.

Application of section CX 18

- (4) Section CX 18 (Benefits provided to associates of both employees and shareholders) applies to determine when a benefit provided to an associate of both an employee and a shareholder is treated as a fringe benefit and not a dividend.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, associated person, company, dividend, employee, employer, employment income, FBT rules, fringe benefit, fringe benefit tax, limited partnership, LTC, partner, partnership

GB 35 Imputation arrangements to obtain tax advantage

When section GB 36 applies

- (1) Section GB 36 applies if an arrangement to obtain a tax advantage arises as described in either subsection (2) or (3).

Share disposal or issue arrangements

- (2) An arrangement is an arrangement to obtain a tax advantage if—
- (a) the arrangement is for the disposal or issue of shares; and
 - (b) a party to the arrangement might reasonably have expected that a dividend would be paid in relation to the shares with an imputation credit attached; and
 - (c) a party might reasonably have expected that a party will, or will not, be able to obtain a tax advantage from the credit; and
 - (d) a purpose of the arrangement is that a party will obtain a tax advantage; and
 - (e) the purpose is not a merely incidental one.

Dividend or credit streaming arrangements

- (3) An arrangement is an arrangement to obtain a tax advantage if—
- (a) the arrangement relates to 1 or more distributions by a company, including bonus issues, during 1 or more tax years; and
 - (b) under the arrangement, the company streams—
 - (i) the payment of dividends; or
 - (ii) the attachment of imputation credits; and
 - (c) the streaming will give a higher credit value to a person who will obtain a tax advantage from the higher credit value than to a person who will not or may reasonably be expected to obtain a lesser benefit.

Meaning of higher credit value

- (4) For the purposes of subsection (3)(c), a dividend has a higher credit value than another dividend if 1 or both of the following applies:
- (a) the dividend has an attached imputation credit and the other dividend does not:

- (b) the imputation ratio of the dividend is higher than that of the other dividend.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, dividend, higher credit value, imputation credit, imputation ratio, share, tax advantage

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 22(1), (2)

Section GB 35(2)(b): amended, on 1 April 2017, by section 119(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

GB 36 Reconstruction of imputation arrangements to obtain tax advantage

Reconstruction of either type of arrangement

- (1) In the case of a share disposal or issue arrangement described in section GB 35(2), or a streaming arrangement described in section GB 35(3), if the Commissioner decides this subsection should apply, the following paragraphs apply:
- (a) a person who would get a tax credit advantage from the arrangement is denied it:
- (b) a company that would get an account advantage from the arrangement has a debit to its imputation credit account in the tax year in which the arrangement began.

Reconstruction of streaming arrangement

- (2) In the case of a streaming arrangement described in section GB 35(3) in which the company is the only party, or if the Commissioner decides this subsection should apply, the company has a debit to its imputation credit account in the tax year in which the arrangement began. Subsection (1) does not apply to the extent to which this subsection applies to the arrangement.

Amount of adjustment

- (3) The amount of the credit or refund denied under subsection (1)(a) and the debit arising under subsection (1)(b) or (2) is in each case the amount of the imputation credit that the Commissioner determines is subject to the arrangement.

Commissioner's powers of determination

- (4) The Commissioner may make determinations for the purposes of this section under section 90AF of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Some definitions

- (5) In this section and section 90AF of the Tax Administration Act 1994,—
- account advantage means a credit arising to an imputation credit account under sections OB 4 to OB 29 (which relate to credits arising to imputation credit accounts)
- tax credit advantage means a tax credit allowed under section LE 1 (Tax credits for imputation credits).

Defined in this Act: account advantage, arrangement, Commissioner, company, imputation credit, imputation credit account, notice, tax credit advantage, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 22(4), (5), (9)

Section GB 36(1)(b): amended, on 1 April 2017, by section 120(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section GB 36 list of defined terms FDP account: repealed, on 1 April 2017, by section 120(5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section GB 36 list of defined terms FDP credit: repealed, on 1 April 2017, by section 120(5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

GB 37 Arrangements for payment of dividend by other companies

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) an arrangement is entered into in relation to a company (the first company) and a shareholder in the first company; and
- (b) the arrangement has a purpose of allowing a dividend to be paid by another company to any of the following parties (the payee):
- (i) the shareholder;
- (ii) if the shareholder is a trustee in relation to the shareholding, a beneficiary of the trust;
- (iii) an associated person of the shareholder;
- (iv) an associated person of a beneficiary of the trust.

Direct or indirect payments

- (2) The arrangement may include—

- (a) the payee acquiring shares in the other company;
- (b) a form of indirect payment of a dividend from the other company.

Dividend treated as paid by first company

- (3) For the purposes of the imputation rules, the dividend is treated as if it were paid by the first company.

No imputation credit

- (4) Any imputation credit attached to the dividend paid by the other company—
 - (a) is not included in the amount of the dividend derived by the payee; and
 - (b) is not treated as an imputation credit for the purposes of section LE 1 (Tax credits for imputation credits); and
 - (c) is a debit under section OB 30 (ICA payment of dividend) of the first company.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, associated person, company, dividend, imputation credit, imputation credit account, share, shareholder, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 23

GB 38 When sections GB 35 to GB 37 apply to consolidated groups

Tax advantage arrangements

- (1) Sections GB 35 and GB 36 apply, with the necessary modifications, in a case that involves accounts of a consolidated group as if—
 - (a) the consolidated group were a single company; and
 - (b) references to provisions of this Act were references to the equivalent provisions applicable to the equivalent accounts.

Arrangement for dividend from another company

- (2) If a company is treated by section GB 37(3) as having paid a dividend, and is at the time of payment a member of a consolidated group, section GB 37 applies as if the reference to section OB 30 (ICA payment of dividend) were a reference to section OP 28 (Consolidated ICA payment of dividend).

Defined in this Act: company, consolidated group, dividend

Arrangements involving Maori authority credits

GB 42 Maori authority credit arrangements to obtain tax advantage

When section GB 43 applies

- (1) Section GB 43 applies if an arrangement to obtain a tax advantage arises as described in either subsection (2) or (3).

Arrangements for share disposal or issue

- (2) An arrangement is an arrangement to obtain a tax advantage if—
- (a) the arrangement is for the disposal or issue of a share in a Maori authority that is a company; and
 - (b) a party to the arrangement might reasonably have expected that a taxable Maori authority distribution would be paid in relation to the share with a Maori authority credit attached; and
 - (c) a party might reasonably have expected that a party will or will not be able to obtain a tax advantage from the credit; and
 - (d) a purpose of the arrangement is that a party will obtain a tax advantage; and
 - (e) the purpose is not a merely incidental one.

Distribution or credit streaming arrangements

- (3) An arrangement is an arrangement to obtain a tax advantage if—
- (a) the arrangement is in relation to 1 or more taxable Maori authority distributions by a Maori authority during 1 or more tax years; and
 - (b) under the arrangement, the Maori authority streams—
 - (i) the distributions; or
 - (ii) the attachment of Maori authority credits; and
 - (c) the streaming will give a higher credit value to a member who will obtain a tax advantage from the higher credit value than to a member who will not or may reasonably be expected to obtain a lesser benefit.

Meaning of higher credit value

- (4) A taxable Maori authority distribution has a higher credit value than another distribution if either of the following applies:
- (a) the distribution has a Maori authority credit and the other distribution does not:
 - (b) the Maori authority credit ratio under section OK 19(2) (Maori authority credits attached to distributions) of the distribution is higher than that of the other distribution.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, Maori authority, Maori authority credit, member, share, tax advantage, taxable Maori authority distribution

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GC 27A(1)–(3)

GB 43 Reconstruction of Maori authority credit arrangements to obtain tax advantage

Reconstruction of either type of arrangement

- (1) In the case of an arrangement for a share disposal or issue as described in section GB 42(2) or a streaming arrangement as described in section GB 42(3), if the Commissioner decides this subsection should apply, the following paragraphs apply:
- (a) a member who would get a tax credit advantage from the arrangement is denied it:
 - (b) a Maori authority that would get both a tax credit advantage and an account advantage from the arrangement has a debit to its Maori authority credit account in the tax year in which the arrangement began.

Reconstruction of streaming arrangement

- (2) In the case of a streaming arrangement as described in section GB 42(3) in which the Maori authority is the only party, or if the Commissioner decides this subsection should apply, the Maori authority has a debit to its Maori authority credit account in the tax year in which the arrangement began. Subsection (1) does not apply to the extent to which this subsection applies to the arrangement.

Amount of adjustment

- (3) The amount of the credit denied under subsection (1)(a) and the debit arising under subsection (1)(b) or (2) is in each case the amount of the Maori authority credit that the Commissioner determines is subject to the arrangement.

Commissioner's powers of determination

- (4) The Commissioner may make determinations for the purposes of this section under section 90AG of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Some definitions

- (5) In this section and section 90AG of the Tax Administration Act 1994,— account advantage means a credit arising to a Maori authority credit account under sections OK 2 to OK 9 (which relate to credits arising to Maori authority credit accounts) tax credit advantage means a tax credit allowed under section LO 1 (Tax credits for Maori authority credits).

Defined in this Act: account advantage, arrangement, Commissioner, Maori authority, Maori authority credit, Maori authority credit account, member, notice, tax credit advantage, tax year

Arrangements involving money not at risk

GB 45 Arrangements involving money not at risk

Application of section GB 46

- (1) Section GB 46 can apply to an arrangement when—
 - (a) a person sells or issues, or promotes the selling or issuing of, the arrangement, whether or not for remuneration; and

- (b) a person (the participant) who is a party to the arrangement or affected by it, considered together with their affected associates, has for an assessment period a total amount of deductions from the arrangement that is more than their total amount of assessable income from the arrangement, having regard to the rules in subsection (2); and
- (c) as part of or for the purposes of the arrangement, the participant or an affected associate borrows a limited-recourse amount under a limited-recourse loan; and
- (d) on the relevant balance date, the total of the limited-recourse amounts of the limited-recourse loans of the participant and affected associates is more than half of the total cost of their arrangement property on the relevant balance date; and
- (e) on the relevant balance date, the total cost of their arrangement property is more than 142.85% of the total cost of the part of the property that is acceptable property.

Certain deductions or income disregarded

- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1)(b), the following amounts are disregarded:
 - (a) a deduction under section GB 46:
 - (b) [Repealed]
 - (c) an amount of income under section GB 46.

Some definitions

- (3) In this section,—
 - acceptable property is—
 - (a) land:
 - (b) buildings:
 - (c) plant:
 - (d) machinery:
 - (e) shares in a listed company that in total represent a direct voting interest of 10% or less in the listed company:
 - (f) a share and an option that are acquired or created with an intention that the share or option will produce income that is employment income of a participant under section CE 1(1)(d) (Amounts derived in connection with employment):
 - (g) a share in a foreign company, if the proceeds of a disposal of the share would not be assessable income of the holder other than under the FIF rules arrangement property means property held as part of the arrangement by the participant and affected associates assessment period is any of—

- (a) the earliest income year (the first income year) in which an interest in the arrangement was acquired by the participant or an affected associate of the participant:
- (b) the first income year and the next income year:
- (c) the first income year and the next 2 income years

relevant balance date means the balance date, or the latest balance date, of the participant and affected associates that ends the assessment period.

Defined in this Act: acceptable property, affected associate, arrangement, arrangement property, assessable income, assessment period, deduction, direct voting interest, dispose, employment income, FIF rules, foreign company, income, income year, limited-recourse amount, limited-recourse loan, relevant balance date, share, shareholder, tax loss component

GB 46 Deferral of surplus deductions from arrangements

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) an arrangement of the type described in section GB 45 is made; and
 - (b) a person (the participant) is a party to the arrangement or affected by it; and
 - (c) [Repealed]
 - (d) the participant has, for an income year, a total amount of deductions from the arrangement that is more than their total amount of assessable income from the arrangement, having regard to the rules in subsection (6); and
 - (e) the participant considered together with their affected associates has for the income year a total amount of deductions from the arrangement that is more than their total amount of assessable income from the arrangement, having regard to the rules in subsection (6); and
 - (f) on the balance date, or the latest balance date, of the participant and affected associates for the income year, the arrangement involves a limited-recourse loan in relation to which the participant or an affected associate of the participant is a borrower.

Income for participant

- (2) The participant is treated as deriving in the income year an amount of assessable income calculated using the formula—

(participant's excess deductions ÷ total individual excess deductions)
× total ineligible amount.

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) participant's excess deductions is the amount of excess deductions of the participant for the income year described in subsection (1)(d):
 - (b) total individual excess deductions is the amount, for the income year, by which the total deductions from the arrangement are more than the total assessable income from the arrangement, having regard to the rules in subsection (6), for the group that consists of—
 - (i) the participant; and
 - (ii) each affected associate of the participant who has, for the income year, a total amount of deductions from the arrangement that is more than their total assessable income from the arrangement, having regard to the rules in subsection (6):
 - (c) total ineligible amount is the lesser of—
 - (i) the total individual excess deductions for the group and the income year as described in subsection (1)(e); and
 - (ii) the total limited-recourse amount that, on the balance date or the latest balance date of the participant and the affected associates, the participant and the affected associates have an undischarged obligation to repay as part of or for the purposes of the arrangement.

Matching deduction in following year

- (4) A participant who has an amount of assessable income for an income year under subsection (2) has a deduction of an equal amount for the following income year.

Obligation to repay limited-recourse amount not discharged

- (5) For the purposes of subsections (1) and (3)(c)(ii), an obligation to repay a limited recourse amount is not discharged by a transaction to the extent to which the transaction—
- (a) involves, as part of the arrangement, the use of—
 - (i) a put or call option that is not a contract for the sale for future delivery of goods at market value;
 - (ii) a contract of insurance or guarantee; and
 - (b) does not give rise to assessable income for the person who is the borrower of the limited-recourse amount under the limited-recourse loan.

Some deductions included, some income excluded

- (6) For the purposes of subsections (1)(d) and (e) and (3)(b),—

- (a) a deduction of a person includes—
 - (i) a deduction under subsection (4); and
 - (ii) [Repealed]
- (b) income of a person excludes an amount of income arising under subsection (2).

GB 47 Calculation rules for sections GB 45 and GB 46

Consolidation of assessable income and deductions, and cost of property

- (1) The deductions and assessable income from an arrangement for each person in a group of persons, and the cost of property that is held by each person in the group as part of the arrangement, are calculated on a basis of consolidation for the elimination of intra-group balances in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice.

Calculation of assessable income and deductions, and cost of property

- (2) The deductions and assessable income from an arrangement for each person in a group of persons, and the cost of property that is held by each person in the group as part of the arrangement, are calculated using the proportionate method in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice for partnerships, if the group is any of—
 - (a) persons who are a partnership and the partners in a partnership:
 - (b) a joint venture and the partners in the joint venture.
 - (c) [Repealed]

Defined in this Act: arrangement, assessable income, deduction, generally accepted accounting practice, shareholder

GB 48 Defined terms for sections GB 45 and GB 46*Affected associate*

- (1) For an arrangement, a person is an affected associate of another person if each person is a party to the arrangement or is affected by the arrangement, and—
- (a) [Repealed]
 - (b) the persons are associated persons.

Limited-recourse amount

- (2) A limited-recourse amount, for a limited-recourse loan, means the total for the limited-recourse loan of the amounts for which the obligations of a borrower are affected in a way that is described in subsection (3)(c).

Limited-recourse loan

- (3) A limited recourse loan means a financial arrangement that meets each of the following requirements:
- (a) it is not an excepted financial arrangement;
 - (b) it involves the provision of money by a person (the lender) to another person (the borrower);
 - (c) it has 1 or more of the following effects, or an effect which is substantially similar:
 - (i) relieving the borrower from the obligation to repay all or some of the money, whether the relief is contingent or not;
 - (ii) requiring the borrower to make no repayment for a period of 10 or more years from the date on which the loan is made, other than repayments for the purpose of defeating the intent and application of section GB 46;
 - (iii) providing that the repayment of the money is in substance secured solely against assets that are employed in the arrangement;
 - (d) if the lender is not an associated person of the borrower, the lender provides the money on terms that are not arm's length and the lender is either—
 - (i) not a person who regularly provides money to persons on arm's length terms under arrangements that do not meet the requirements of paragraphs (a) to (c); or
 - (ii) a person who is neither a New Zealand resident nor carrying on business in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand;

- (e) if the lender is an associated person of the borrower, the lender obtains the money under an arrangement that meets the requirements of paragraphs (a) to (c).

Defined in this Act: affected associate, arrangement, associated person, excepted financial arrangement, financial arrangement, fixed establishment, limited-recourse amount, limited-recourse loan, listed company, money, resident in New Zealand

GB 51 Proportionality between amount of debt and ownership interests

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a person has ownership interests in a company or a trustee who is a linked trustee for the person under section FE 4 (Some definitions) has ownership interests in the company; and
 - (b) an arrangement affects the relationship between the level of an ownership interest in the company relating to the person and the company's debt relating to the person; and
 - (c) the arrangement has an effect of defeating the intent and application of subpart FE (Interest apportionment on thin capitalisation).

Arrangement disregarded

- (2) The effect of the arrangement on the proportionality between the level of an ownership interest in the company relating to the person and the company's debt relating to the person is disregarded for the purposes of subpart FE.

Defined in this Act: company, ownership interest

Section GB 51: inserted, on 1 April 2015, by section 120 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Arrangements involving residential land

Heading: inserted (with effect on 1 October 2015), on 16 November 2015, by section 18 of the Taxation (Bright-line Test for Residential Land) Act 2015 (2015 No 111).

GB 52 Arrangements involving residential land: companies' shares

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a company owns residential land directly or indirectly for which the relevant date in sections CB 6A(1)(a) or (b) (Disposal within 2 years: bright-line test for residential land) is within 2 years of a disposal of shares that paragraph (c) of this section applies to (company residential land); and
 - (b) residential land owned directly or indirectly by the company makes up 50% or more, by market value, of the assets of the company; and
 - (c) 50% or more of the shares in the company, by market value, are disposed of within a 12-month period, with a purpose or effect of defeating the intent and application of section CB 6A.

Disposal at cost, reacquisition at market

- (2) The company is treated as disposing of the relevant shareholder portion of company residential land to the relevant shareholder for an amount of consideration equal to the total cost to the company of the portion, and the shareholder is treated as acquiring the portion for that total cost and then disposing of it, back to the company, for an amount of consideration equal to the market value of the portion. The company is treated as reacquiring the portion for the market value.

A definition

- (3) In this section, shareholder portion means the proportion that the market value of the shares disposed of by a shareholder bears to the total market value of the shares in the company.

Defined in this Act: company, dispose, residential land, share, shareholder

Section GB 52: inserted (with effect on 1 October 2015), on 16 November 2015, by section 18 of the Taxation (Bright-line Test for Residential Land) Act 2015 (2015 No 111).

Disposals of trading stock or similar property

GC 1 Disposals of trading stock at below market value

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person disposes of trading stock for—
 - (a) no consideration:
 - (b) an amount that is less than the market value of the trading stock at the time of disposal.

Market value consideration

- (2) The person is treated as deriving an amount equal to the market value of the trading stock at the time of disposal.

Market value expenditure

- (3) If the person disposes of the trading stock to another person, an amount equal to the market value of the trading stock at the time of disposal is treated as expenditure incurred by the other person in acquiring the trading stock.

Shares in trading stock

- (4) In this section, trading stock includes an interest in trading stock.

Exclusions

- (5) This section does not apply to a disposal of trading stock—
 - (a) under a relationship agreement:
 - (b) by the person to another person who is not associated with them, for use by the other person in a farming, agricultural, or fishing business that is affected by a self-assessed adverse event:

- (c) under a share-lending arrangement, by a share user to a share supplier or by a share supplier to a share user.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, business, relationship agreement, self-assessed adverse event, share, share-lending arrangement, share supplier, share user, trading stock

GC 2 Disposals of timber rights or standing timber

When section GC 1 applies

- (1) Section GC 1 applies to each of the following disposals as if it were a disposal of trading stock—
- (a) a grant of a right to take timber, other than in favour of the grantor:
 - (b) a disposal of standing timber as part of the disposal of the land on which it stands, other than a disposal subject to a right in favour of the seller to take timber.

Exclusion

- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to a disposal of land with standing timber if the disposal is within 1 of the exclusions in section CB 25(2) (Disposal of land with standing timber).

Limitation

- (3) Section GC 1(4) does not apply if the disposal is of land with standing timber subject to a right to take timber.

Defined in this Act: timber, trading stock

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GD 1(2), (3A)

Section GC 2(3): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 7 September 2010 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 55(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

GC 3 Disposals by life insurers

Section GC 1 applies to a life insurer that disposes of any property, other than a financial arrangement, in the course of their business of life insurance, as if the property were trading stock.

Defined in this Act: financial arrangement, life insurance, life insurer, property, trading stock

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GD 7

GC 3B Disposals of emissions units

When section GC 1 applies

- (1) Section GC 1 applies to a disposal of an emissions unit as if the emissions unit were trading stock.

Exclusions

- (2) Section GC 1 does not apply to a disposal of an emissions unit if the disposal is—
 - (a) the surrender of the unit under the Climate Change Response Act 2002;
 - (b) the transfer of the unit to the Crown under a forest sink covenant under section 67Y of the Forests Act 1949;
 - (c) the transfer of a forest land emissions unit—
 - (i) from the person (the transferor) who receives the unit from the Crown; and
 - (ii) to a person (the transferee) as a party to a forestry rights agreement as defined in the Forestry Rights Registration Act 1983; and
 - (iii) as required by a provision of the forestry rights agreement relating to the allocation of income or emissions units between the transferor and the transferee.

Defined in this Act: dispose, emissions unit, trading stock

Section GC 3B: inserted (with effect on 26 September 2008), on 7 September 2010 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 56(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Trans-Tasman Savings Portability, KiwiSaver, and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 109).

Section GC 3B list of defined terms disposal: repealed, on 24 February 2016, by section 243 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

GC 4 Disposals and acquisitions of FIF attributing interests

When subsection (2) applies

- (1) Subsection (2) applies if—
 - (a) a person disposes of an attributing interest in a foreign investment fund (FIF); and

- (b) they calculate their FIF income or loss from the interest for the period ending with the disposal using the comparative value method, deemed rate of return method, the fair dividend rate method, or the cost method; and
- (c) the consideration, if any, for the disposal is below the market value of the interest at the time.

Disposal treated as at market value

- (2) The person is treated as having disposed of the interest for an amount equal to its market value at the time.

When subsection (4) applies

- (3) Subsection (4) applies if—
 - (a) a person acquires an attributing interest in a FIF; and
 - (b) they calculate their FIF income or loss from the interest for the period after the acquisition using the comparative value method, deemed rate of return method, the fair dividend rate method, or the cost method; and
 - (c) the consideration, if any, for the acquisition is not equal to the market value of the interest at the time.

Acquisition treated as at market value

- (4) The person is treated as having acquired the interest for an amount equal to its market value at the time.

Defined in this Act: attributing interest, comparative value method, cost method, deemed rate of return method, fair dividend rate method, FIF, FIF income, FIF loss

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GD 14

GC 4B Disposals of ETS units at below market value

[Repealed]

Transfer pricing arrangements

GC 6 Purpose of rules and nature of arrangements

Purpose of rules

- (1) The purpose of this section and sections GC 7 to GC 14 is to substitute an arm's length consideration in the calculation of a person's net income if the person's net income is reduced by the terms of a cross-border arrangement with an associated person for the acquisition or supply of goods, services, or anything else.

What is a transfer pricing arrangement?

- (2) An arrangement is a transfer pricing arrangement if—
 - (a) the arrangement involves the supply and acquisition of goods, services, money, other intangible property, or anything else; and
 - (b) the supplier and acquirer are associated persons; and
 - (c) the arrangement is a cross-border arrangement under subsection (3).

When arrangement is cross-border arrangement

- (3) An arrangement is a cross-border arrangement if the requirements of any of the following paragraphs is met:
 - (a) the supplier and acquirer are a New Zealand resident and non-resident, unless the requirements of both of the following subparagraphs are met:
 - (i) the non-resident enters into the arrangement for the purposes of a business carried on by the non-resident in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand;
 - (ii) the New Zealand resident has not entered into the arrangement for the purposes of a business carried on by the New Zealand resident outside New Zealand;
 - (b) the supplier and acquirer are 2 New Zealand residents and either or both enter into the arrangement for the purposes of a business carried on by the person outside New Zealand:

- (c) the supplier and acquirer are 2 non-residents, unless each enters into the arrangement for the purposes of a business carried on by the person in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand.

Application of sections

- (4) Section GC 7, GC 8, GC 9, or GC 10 can apply to an arrangement under section GB 2 (Arrangements involving transfer pricing).

Defined in this Act: acquisition, arrangement, associated person, fixed establishment, net income, New Zealand, New Zealand resident, non-resident, supply, transfer pricing arrangement

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GD 13(1), (2)

GC 7 Excess amount payable by person

If the amount of consideration payable by a person (the taxpayer) under a transfer pricing arrangement is more than an arm's length amount, an amount equal to the arm's length amount is treated as the amount payable by the taxpayer for the purposes of the calculation of their income tax liability for a tax year.

Defined in this Act: amount, arrangement, income tax liability, tax year, taxpayer, transfer pricing arrangement

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GD 13(3)

GC 8 Insufficient amount receivable by person

Amount receivable

- (1) If the amount of consideration receivable by a person (the taxpayer) under a transfer pricing arrangement is less than an arm's length amount, an amount equal to the arm's length amount is treated as the amount receivable by the taxpayer for each of the following purposes:

- (a) the calculation of their income tax liability for a tax year;
- (b) [Repealed]
- (c) the determination of the obligation of another person to withhold under Part R (General collection rules) from the amount.

Non-resident's exemption: deduction to payer

- (2) This section does not apply when—
- (a) the taxpayer is neither resident in New Zealand nor entering into the arrangement for the purposes of a business carried on in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand; and
- (b) the amount receivable is a deduction of the other party or, in the case of an interest-free loan, would be a deduction but for the application of subpart FE (Interest apportionment on thin capitalisation) if an arm's length amount of interest were substituted; and

- (c) the amount receivable is interest, royalties, or an insurance premium to which section YD 8 (Apportionment of premiums derived by non-resident general insurers) applies.

Non-resident's exemption: fixed-rate share dividend

- (3) This section does not apply if both of the following requirements are met:
 - (a) the taxpayer is neither resident in New Zealand nor entering into the arrangement for the purposes of a business carried on in New Zealand through a fixed establishment in New Zealand;
 - (b) the amount is a dividend receivable on a fixed-rate share.

Defined in this Act: amount, arrangement, deduction, dividend, fixed establishment, fixed-rate share, income tax liability, interest, resident in New Zealand, royalty, tax year, taxpayer, transfer pricing arrangement

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GD 13(4), (5)

Section GC 8(1)(b): repealed (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 246(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

GC 9 Compensating arrangement: person paying less than arm's length amount

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a person (the taxpayer) is a party to a transfer pricing arrangement with another person; and
 - (b) an adjustment is made for an income year under either—
 - (i) section GC 7 to an amount payable by the taxpayer under the transfer pricing arrangement; or
 - (ii) section GC 8 to an amount receivable by the taxpayer under the transfer pricing arrangement; and
 - (c) an amount of consideration payable by the taxpayer in the same income year, or in the preceding or next income year, for an acquisition (the compensating acquisition arrangement) from the same person is less than an arm's length amount; and
 - (d) either—
 - (i) the transfer pricing arrangement involves goods, services, money, other intangible property, or anything else of the same type as that acquired in the compensating acquisition arrangement; or
 - (ii) the amount of consideration actually payable or receivable in the transfer pricing arrangement is set having regard to the amount of consideration payable under the compensating acquisition arrangement.

Paying arm's length amount

- (2) For the purposes of calculating the taxpayer's income tax liability, the amount paid by them in the compensating acquisition arrangement is treated for the corresponding tax year as an amount equal to the arm's length amount determined under section GC 13.

Defined in this Act: acquisition, amount, arrangement, income tax liability, tax year, transfer pricing arrangement

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GD 13(10)

GC 10 Compensating arrangement: person receiving more than arm's length amount

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
 - (a) a person (the taxpayer) is a party to a transfer pricing arrangement with another person; and
 - (b) an adjustment is made for a tax year under either—
 - (i) section GC 7 to an amount payable by the taxpayer under the transfer pricing arrangement; or
 - (ii) section GC 8 to an amount receivable by the taxpayer under the transfer pricing arrangement;
 - (c) an amount of consideration receivable by the taxpayer in the same tax year, or the preceding or next tax year, for a supply (the compensating supply arrangement) to the same person is more than an arm's length amount;
 - (d) either—
 - (i) the transfer pricing arrangement involves goods, services, money, other intangible property, or anything else of the same type as that acquired in the compensating supply arrangement; or
 - (ii) the amount of consideration actually payable or receivable in the transfer pricing arrangement is set having regard to the amount of consideration receivable under the compensating supply arrangement.

Receiving arm's length amount

- (2) The amount received by the taxpayer in the compensating supply arrangement is treated as being an amount equal to the arm's length amount determined under section GC 13, for each of the following purposes:
 - (a) the calculation of their income tax liability for a tax year;
 - (b) [Repealed]
 - (c) the determination of the obligation of another person to withhold under Part R (General collection rules) from the amount.

Defined in this Act: amount, arrangement, income tax liability, supply, tax year, transfer pricing arrangement

Compare: 2004 No 35 s GD 13(10)

Section GC 10(2)(b): repealed (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 247(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

GC 11 Applications for matching treatment

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) an arm's length amount of consideration is substituted under section GC 7 or GC 8 in relation to a transfer pricing arrangement entered into by a person (the taxpayer); and
 - (b) the other party to the arrangement or, if the other party is a controlled foreign company (CFC), a person with an income interest in the CFC, applies to the Commissioner within 6 months after an assessment is made for the taxpayer which reflects the substitution; and
 - (c) the Commissioner considers it is fair and reasonable to apply subsection (2), having regard to an adjustment made under a double tax agreement or any other matter; and
 - (d) the Commissioner has notified the other party.

Substitution applying for other party

- (2) The substitution applies for the purposes of the application of this Act to the other party—
- (a) excluding the determination of the extent to which the other party has derived or been paid a dividend; and
 - (b) including, when the other party is a CFC, the calculation of net attributable CFC income or net attributable CFC loss in relation to the other party, and the resultant calculation of the attributed CFC income or an attributed CFC loss or attributed CFC net loss of a person.

Defined in this Act: amount, apply, arrangement, assessment, attributed CFC income, attributed CFC loss, attributed CFC net loss, CFC, Commissioner, dividend, double tax agreement, income interest, net attributable CFC income, net attributable CFC loss, notify, taxpayer, transfer pricing arrangement

GC 12 Effect on person's withholding obligations

An adjustment under any of sections GC 7 to GC 10 has no effect on an obligation of the taxpayer to withhold under Part R (General collection rules) in relation to the amount other than to the extent to which section GC 11(2) applies.

Defined in this Act: amount

Section GC 12: substituted (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 249(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

GC 13 Calculation of arm's length amounts

Use of most reliable measure

- (1) An arm's length amount of consideration must be determined by applying whichever 1 or a combination of the methods listed in subsection (2) produces the most reliable measure of the amount that completely independent parties would have agreed upon after real and fully adequate bargaining.

Five available methods

- (2) The arm's length amount of consideration must be calculated under any 1 or a combination of—
 - (a) the comparable uncontrolled price method:
 - (b) the resale price method:
 - (c) the cost plus method:
 - (d) the profit split method:
 - (e) the comparable profits methods.

Criteria for choice and application of method

- (3) The choice and application of a method or methods must be made having regard to each of the following factors:
 - (a) the degree of comparability between the uncontrolled transactions used for comparison and the controlled transactions of the taxpayer:
 - (b) the completeness and accuracy of the data relied on:
 - (c) the reliability of all assumptions:

- (d) the sensitivity of a result to possible deficiencies in the data and assumptions.

Initial determination by the taxpayer

- (4) The arm's length amount of consideration is determined by the taxpayer under subsections (1) to (3), and the amount determined is the arm's length amount for the purposes of sections GC 7 to GC 11, unless either—
- (a) the Commissioner can demonstrate that another amount is a more reliable measure of the arm's length amount; or
- (b) the taxpayer has not co-operated with the Commissioner in the Commissioner's administration of sections GC 6 to GC 14 in relation to the taxpayer, and the non-co-operation has materially affected the Commissioner in that administration.

Commissioner's determination

- (5) If subsection (4)(a) or (b) applies, the Commissioner determines the amount under subsections (1) to (3) for the purposes of sections GC 7 to GC 11.

Defined in this Act: amount, Commissioner

Section HA 4 list of defined terms LAQC: repealed, on 17 July 2013, by section 172 of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

Qualifying company statusHA 5 Elections to become qualifying company

Making elections

- (1) A company that meets the requirements of sections HA 6 to HA 9 may be a qualifying company only if all the directors of the company and every shareholder in the company with legal capacity, choose, before the start of the grandparenting income year, that the company is to become a qualifying company. Every director and every shareholder with legal capacity must sign a notice of election and give it to the Commissioner.

Extension of time in some cases

- (1B) An election is treated as made before the start of the grandparenting income year for the purposes of subsection (1), if the relevant persons choose before the end of the time allowed by section 37 of the Tax Administration Act 1994 for providing a return for the company's first income year, and—
- (a) that income year is—
 - (i) the grandparenting income year; and
 - (ii) nominated under section HA 30(3); and
 - (b) the company has not previously been required to provide a return of income.

Elections remaining in effect

- (2) The elections referred to in subsection (1) must remain in effect and must not have been revoked before the end of the relevant income year.

Director at time

- (3) For the purposes of an election, a person is considered a director of a company if they hold the office at the time the notice is provided.

Elections

- (4) The elections referred to in this section are dealt with in sections HA 28 to HA 39.

Meaning of grandparenting income year

- (5) In this section, grandparenting income year means the income year before the first income year that starts on or after 1 April 2011.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, director, grandparenting income year, income year, notice, qualifying company, shareholder

HA 6 Corporate requirements

Requirements

- (1) A qualifying company must, in an income year,—
- (a) have 5 or fewer shareholders who meet the requirements of section HA 7; or
 - (b) be a flat-owning company.

Exclusions

- (2) A company is not eligible to be a qualifying company if, at any time in an income year, it is—
- (a) a company that is not resident in New Zealand; or
 - (b) a company that is resident in New Zealand but is treated under and for the purposes of a double tax agreement, as not resident in New Zealand; or
 - (c) [Repealed]

Exclusion: loss of continuity

- (3) A company is not eligible to be a qualifying company unless, at all times in an income year, a group of persons holds for the QC continuity period, minimum QC interests in the company that add up to at least 50%.

Exception for close relatives

- (4) For the purposes of subsection (3), a share transferred by a transferor to a close relative is treated as being held by a single notional person for the company from the time that the transferor acquired the share. A share subsequently transferred to a close relative of a subsequent transferor is similarly treated as held by the same single notional person.

Some definitions

- (5) In this section—
- minimum QC interest, for a person and the QC continuity period, means the lowest voting interest or market value interest they have in the company during the QC continuity period

Natural persons, certain trustees, and qualifying companies

- (1) A shareholder in a qualifying company must be 1 of the following:
 - (a) a natural person other than a trustee; or

- (b) a trustee of a trust, but only if subsection (2) applies in relation to dividends derived by the trustee; or
- (c) another qualifying company.

Dividends derived by trustees

- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1)(b), all dividends that the trustee of a trust derives from a qualifying company in an income year must be beneficiary income of 1 or more persons who are not trustees or companies other than qualifying companies. However, this subsection does not apply to non-cash dividends other than taxable bonus issues.

Special shareholding rules

- (3) When the shares in a qualifying company that has 5 or fewer shareholders are held by relatives, other companies, and trustees, the following special rules apply:
- (a) if a shareholder in a qualifying company is connected within the first degree of relationship to another shareholder in the company by either blood relationship, marriage, civil union or de facto relationship, or adoption, they are treated as a single shareholder, and this treatment continues while they remain a shareholder in the company despite any later death or dissolution:
 - (b) shares in a qualifying company that are held by another company are treated as held by the shareholders in that other company:
 - (c) if a shareholder in a qualifying company is a trustee, the shareholders are counted, without the trustee, as the larger of the following:
 - (i) the group who signed the election as shareholder; or
 - (ii) the group who derived beneficiary income from dividends from the qualifying company in the period between the first day of the 1991–92 income year and the time of counting.

Shareholder continuity requirements

- (4) For the application of shareholder continuity requirements to the memorandum accounts of qualifying companies, see section OA 8(3B) (Shareholder continuity requirements).

Defined in this Act: beneficiary income, company, dividend, income year, memorandum account, non-cash dividend, qualifying company, relative, share, shareholder, taxable bonus issue, trustee

HA 8 Shareholders' personal liability

Agreement required for election

- (1) A person making an election as shareholder as described in section HA 5 must agree for each income year in which the election is in effect, to take personal liability on the basis of their effective interest in the company—
 - (a) for their share of the company's income tax liability for the income year; and
 - (b) if the company has made an election as shareholder in another company, for any income tax payable in relation to that other company for the income year.

Trustee shareholders

- (2) A person making an election as trustee under section HA 28 must agree to take personal liability under subsection (1), modified as follows:
 - (a) the trustee together with 1 or more beneficiaries who have legal capacity must make the election; and
 - (b) the personal liability as trustee is limited to the extent of the net assets of the trust; and
 - (c) if the election is made for a majority shareholding under section HA 29, the personal liability includes the effective interests of the minority shareholding.

Majority shareholders

- (3) One or more persons whose effective interests in a company at a particular time add up to 50% or more, may make an election under section HA 29, agreeing to take personal liability described in subsection (1) in relation to the effective interests in the company of the minority shareholding.

Beneficiaries

- (4) In subsection (1), the person includes a beneficiary who makes an election under section HA 28 or a person who assumes liability on their behalf.

Nature of liability

- (5) In sections HA 13 to HA 27, when more than 1 person agrees to take personal liability as described in subsection (3) for a percentage of an income tax liability or for income tax payable in an income year, the liability is joint and several.

Defined in this Act: company, effective interest, income tax, income tax liability, income year, pay, shareholder, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 4(1)–(3)

HA 8B No CFC income interests or FIF direct income interests of 10% or more

A qualifying company must not have—

HA 9 Limit on foreign non-dividend income*Dollar limit*

- (1) The foreign non-dividend income of a qualifying company in an income year must be no more than $10,000 after subtracting the lesser of—
- (a) any income under section CC 3 (Financial arrangements); or
(b) 10% of the gross income of the company for the income year.

Change in threshold

- (2) The Governor-General may make an Order in Council increasing the sum set out in subsection (1). The order may apply—
- (a) from the start of the income year in which it is made; or
(b) to amounts of income derived after the date on which the order is made.

Defined in this Act: amount, foreign non-dividend income, gross, income, income year, qualifying company

Compare: 2004 No 35 s OB 3(1)(d), (4)

Section HA 9(2): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 253(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

HA 10 Nature of LAQC shares

[Repealed]

Section HA 10: repealed, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011), by section 74(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

HA 11 When requirements no longer met: qualifying companies

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when, through changed circumstances, a qualifying company no longer meets the requirements of sections HA 5 to HA 9.

Status at end

- (2) The company's status as a qualifying company is ended, whether or not it is, or could be, known at the time the circumstances arise that the company no longer meets the requirements.

Qualifying companies

- (3) The company's status as a qualifying company is treated as ended from the start of the income year in which the change of circumstances occurs. Subsection (6) overrides this subsection.

LAQCs

[Repealed]

- (4) [Repealed]

Distribution of dividends

- (5) Despite subsection (1), a company's status as a qualifying company is not ended merely because it does not comply with section HA 7(2) when—
 - (a) all dividends that can, under general law, be distributed by the trustee are beneficiary income of a beneficiary other than—
 - (i) a trustee beneficiary; or
 - (ii) a beneficiary that is a company other than a qualifying company; and
 - (b) some of the dividends derived by the trustee from the qualifying company have vested or have been distributed as beneficiary income of a beneficiary other than—
 - (i) a trustee beneficiary; or
 - (ii) a beneficiary that is a company other than a qualifying company.

Deferring date

- (6) On an application by a qualifying company, the Commissioner may defer the date on which the company's status ends to the start of a later income year if—
 - (a) the company did not know, and could not reasonably be expected to have known, at the time the circumstances arose that it no longer met the requirements; and

- (b) in the circumstances, it would be an unduly harsh or inappropriate outcome.

Examples for subsection (6)(a)

- (7) Examples of the circumstances that may apply for the purposes of subsection (6)(a) are a reasonable expectation or belief that—
- (a) the company would continue to meet the requirements through an extension under section HA 34, HA 35, or HA 37; or
 - (b) an amount of foreign non-dividend income that the company derives would not breach the threshold in section HA 9; or
 - (c) the dividends referred to in section HA 7(2) would be distributed as beneficiary income.

Examples for subsection (6)(b)

- (8) Examples of the circumstances that may apply for the purposes of subsection (6)(b) are—
- (a) the length of time between the start of the income year and the date of the change in circumstances:
 - (b) the length of time between the date of the change in circumstances and the date when the company knew, or could reasonably be expected to have known, that the requirements were not met:
 - (c) the kinds of transactions that the company made during the periods of time described in paragraphs (a) and (b).

Defined in this Act: amount, apply, beneficiary income, Commissioner, company, dividend, foreign non-dividend income, income year, qualifying company, trustee

Treatment of profits, dividends, and tax losses

HA 13 Qualifying companies' distributions

A distribution that is a transfer of value to a shareholder of a qualifying company must be treated in the way set out in sections HA 14 to HA 18.

Defined in this Act: qualifying company, shareholder, transfer of value

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 1(c)

HA 14 Dividends paid by qualifying companies

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a qualifying company pays a dividend to a person resident in New Zealand.

General treatment

- (2) The dividend is exempt income of the person under section CW 15 (Dividends paid by qualifying companies) to the extent to which it is more than a fully imputed distribution.

When shareholder has non-standard balance date

- (3) If the person has a non-standard balance date and the dividend is derived after the end of the tax year but before their balance date, the dividend is allocated to the day after the balance date.

No resident passive income

- (4) The dividend does not constitute resident passive income.

Defined in this Act: dividend, exempt income, fully imputed, non-standard balance date, pay, qualifying company, resident in New Zealand, resident passive income, shareholder, tax year

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss HG 9(1), HG 13(1)

Section HA 14(2): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 255(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section HA 14 list of defined terms fully imputed: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 255(2) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

HA 15 Fully imputed distributions*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a qualifying company with an imputation credit account pays a dividend. However, this section does not apply to a non-cash dividend other than a taxable bonus issue.

Calculating amount of fully imputed distribution

- (2) The amount of a fully imputed distribution is calculated using the formula—

$$\text{attached imputation credit} \div \text{tax rate}.$$

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula in subsection (2),—
- (a) attached imputation credit is the amount determined under subsection (4), and the amount is zero if no imputation credit is attached:
 - (b) [Repealed]
 - (c) tax rate is the basic rate of income tax set out in schedule 1, part A, clause 2 (Basic tax rates: income tax, ESCT, RSCT, RWT, and attributed fringe benefits) at the time the shareholder derives the dividend, modified as applicable by section OZ 14 (Dividends from qualifying companies).

ICA companies

- (4) A qualifying company that is an imputation credit account (ICA) company is treated as having attached an imputation credit to the dividend. The amount of the imputation credit is the lesser of—
- (a) the maximum imputation credit that may be attached to the dividend under section OA 18 (Calculation of maximum permitted ratios) modified as applicable by section OZ 14; and
 - (b) an amount calculated using the formula in subsection (6).

FDPA companies[Repealed]

- (5) [Repealed]

Formula

- (6) The formula referred to in subsection (4) is—

$$\text{attached credits} \times \text{amount of dividend} \div \text{amount paid before credits attached}.$$

Definition of items in formula

- (7) In the formula in subsection (6),—
- (a) attached credits is the balance in the company's imputation credit account on the last day of the tax year in which the dividend is paid before a debit is made for any imputation credits that are attached:

- (b) amount of the dividend is the amount before any imputation credits are attached:
- (c) amount paid before credits attached is the total amount of dividends, excluding non-cash dividends other than taxable bonus issues, paid by the company during the tax year before any imputation credits are attached.

Relationship with imputation rules

- (8) An imputation credit may not be attached to a dividend by a qualifying company except under this section.

Relationship with sections HA 14 and HA 16

- (9) If part of the dividend is exempt income under sections HA 14 and HA 16, an imputation credit is treated as attached to the part that is not exempt income.

Defined in this Act: amount, dividend, exempt income, ICA company, imputation credit, imputation credit account, imputation rules, income tax, income year, non-cash dividend, pay, qualifying company, resident in New Zealand, shareholder, taxable bonus issue, tax year

HA 16 Dividends paid by qualifying companies to trustee shareholders

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a dividend referred to in section HA 14(2) is derived by a trustee to the extent to which the dividend is exempt income of the trustee under section CW 15(1) (Dividends paid by qualifying companies).

Exempt income

- (2) To the extent to which the dividend is also beneficiary income of a beneficiary resident in New Zealand, the dividend is exempt income of the beneficiary under section CW 15(2).

Defined in this Act: dividend, exempt income, resident in New Zealand, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 13(1)(a)(i), (1A)

Section HA 16: substituted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 257(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

HA 17 Dividends derived by qualifying companies

What this section applies to

- (1) This section applies to a dividend—
 - (a) that is derived by a qualifying company; and
 - (b) to which section CW 10 (Dividend within New Zealand wholly-owned group) applies.

Dividend not exempt income

- (2) The dividend is not exempt income under section CW 10, except to the extent to which section CW 9 (Dividend derived by company from overseas) applies to it.

Defined in this Act: company, dividend, exempt income, qualifying company

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss HG 10(a), HG 13(1)(aa)

Section HA 17(1)(a): amended, on 30 March 2017 (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 125(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section HA 17(1)(b): amended (with effect on 1 July 2011 and applying for income years beginning on or after that date), on 7 May 2012, by section 74(1) of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

Section HA 17(2): amended (with effect on 1 July 2011 and applying for income years beginning on or after that date), on 7 May 2012, by section 74(2) of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

HA 18 Treatment of dividends when qualifying company status ends

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a company's status as a qualifying company ends under section HA 11(1).

Dividends distributed in tax year

- (2) Section HA 15 applies to a dividend distributed in the period of a tax year from the first day to the day before the date on which the status ends. References in that section to a tax year should be read as references to that period of the year.

Group companies: imputation credit accounts

- (3) On the day before the date on which the status ends, the company's imputation credit account is debited under section OB 41 (ICA debit for loss of shareholder continuity) by the lesser of—
- (a) the balance of the credit account on that day after any credits are attached under section HA 15; and
 - (b) the largest debit to the credit account that would have arisen before that day if section OB 41 had applied.

HA 19 Credit accounts and dividend statements

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a qualifying company pays a dividend that is treated either as a fully imputed distribution under section HA 15 or as exempt income under sections HA 14 and HA 16.

Credit accounts

- (2) For the purposes of sections OB 30 to OB 59 (which relate to imputation debits), if an imputation credit is attached to the dividend, the amount of the credit is debited to the company's imputation account. The debit arises on the day the company pays the dividend.

Dividend statements

- (3) For all dividends, whether or not credits have been attached, the company must complete the following statements detailing the extent to which the dividends are assessable income or exempt income:
 - (a) a company dividend statement under section 67(1) of the Tax Administration Act 1994; and
 - (b) a shareholder dividend statement under section 29 of that Act.

Date for completing statements

- (4) The company must complete the statements in subsection (3) by 31 May after the end of the tax year in which the dividends were paid.

Non-cash dividends

- (5) In addition to the information required in a shareholder dividend statement, if a shareholder asks the company to include in the statement the amount of a non-cash dividend that the company has paid them in the tax year, the company must provide the information.

Defined in this Act: amount, ask, assessable income, company dividend statement, dividend, exempt income, fully imputed, imputation credit, imputation credit account, non-cash dividend, pay, qualifying company, shareholder, shareholder dividend statement, tax year

HA 20 Attribution of tax losses

[Repealed]

Section HA 20: repealed, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011), by section 74(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

HA 21 Loss balances not carried forward

In an income year in which a company that is not a qualifying company becomes a qualifying company, subparts IA (General rules for tax losses) and IQ (Attributed controlled foreign company net losses and foreign investment fund net losses) do not apply to carry forward a loss balance of the company to the income year or to later income years.

Defined in this Act: company, income year, loss balance, qualifying company

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 11(3)

Section HA 21: amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 7 December 2009, by section 42 of the Taxation (Consequential Rate Alignment and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 63).

HA 22 Group companies using tax losses

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies if a qualifying company is in the same group of companies as a company with a tax loss (company A).

When tax losses available

- (2) The amount of company A's tax loss is available to the qualifying company to use under section IA 3(2) (Using tax losses in tax year) only if—
 - (a) company A is also a qualifying company; and
 - (b) the requirements of section IC 5 (Company B using company A's tax loss) are met.

Defined in this Act: amount, company, group of companies, qualifying company, tax loss

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 10(b)

HA 23 Treatment of tax losses on amalgamation

If a company that is not a qualifying company amalgamates with a qualifying company and ends its existence on the amalgamation, subpart IA (General rules for tax losses) does not apply to carry forward the amalgamating company's loss balance from earlier income years either to the income year of the amalgamation or to later income years.

Defined in this Act: amalgamating company, amalgamation, company, income year, loss balance, qualifying company, tax loss

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 11(3A)

Elections: qualifying companies

HA 28 Elections by trustee shareholders

If a shareholder referred to in section HA 5 is acting as trustee, they must make an election together with—

- (a) 1 or more beneficiaries of the trust who are natural persons with legal capacity; or
- (b) if no beneficiary has legal capacity, a natural person, who may also be the trustee, who assumes liability on behalf of beneficiaries.

Defined in this Act: shareholder, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 4(2)(a)

HA 29 Elections by majority shareholders

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when 1 or more shareholders (the majority) in a company have, at the time of making an election, effective interests in the company of 50% or more, and the effective interest of 1 or more other shareholders (the minority) is less than 50%.

Majority assuming minority's liability

- (2) The majority may sign a notice of election advising the Commissioner that the company is to become a qualifying company. The notice has effect only if the majority agree to an extension of their personal liability under section HA 8(3).

Minority treated as making election

- (3) The minority is treated as having made an election under section HA 5 in relation to their shareholding in the company at the time the election is made.

Election additional

- (4) An election under this section may be made in addition to any other election a shareholder may make or have made under section HA 5.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, effective interest, notice, qualifying company, shareholder

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 4(3)

HA 30 When elections take effect

When election takes effect

- (1) In a notice of election made under section HA 5, an income year later than the year of notice may be nominated as the year in which the election is to take effect and, if so, the election takes effect at the start of that income year. If no income year is nominated in the notice, the election takes effect at the start of the income year after the year of notice.

Shareholder's election after company becomes qualifying company

- (2) If a shareholder makes an election when the company is already a qualifying company, the election takes effect when the Commissioner receives it.

Company's first income year

- (3) Despite subsection (1), if the company has not previously been required to provide a return of income, the first income year of the company may be nominated as the year in which the election is to take effect, subject to section

HA 5(1B). The Commissioner must be advised of this decision in the notice of election to be received within the time allowed by section 37 of the Tax Administration Act 1994 for providing a return for the company's first income year.

Election in effect until revoked

- (4) An election remains in effect until revoked.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, income year, notice, qualifying company, return of income, shareholder

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss HG 3(2), (3), HG 4(4)

Section HA 30(3): amended (with effect on 1 April 2010), on 21 December 2010 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2010), by section 75(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

HA 31 Revocation of directors' elections

Revoking election

- (1) An election by directors under section HA 5 may be revoked only by a resolution of the board of directors. The board must advise the Commissioner of the resolution by providing a notice of revocation.

When revocation takes effect

- (2) The revocation of an election takes effect at the later of—
- (a) the start of the income year that the board nominates in the notice of registration; or
 - (b) the start of the income year in which the notice of revocation is received by the Commissioner.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, director, income year, notice

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 3(4), (5)

Section HA 31(2): replaced (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 30 June 2014, by section 121(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

HA 32 Revocation of shareholders' elections: by notice

Notice

- (1) A person who, as a shareholder in a company, has made an election under section HA 5, may revoke it by notifying both the company and the Commissioner.

When revocation takes effect

- (2) In the notice, the person may nominate an income year later than the year of notice as the income year in which revocation takes effect, and the revocation takes effect at the start of that income year. If no income year is nominated, it takes effect at the start of the income year in which the Commissioner receives the notice.

Measuring effective interests

- (3) For measuring the effective interest in the company, as defined in section HA 43 and measured under section HA 44, of the person revoking the election, the revocation takes effect—
- (a) when both the company and the Commissioner have received the notice; or
 - (b) on a later date nominated in the notice.

Periods of grace and Commissioner's power to defer

- (4) Sections HA 11(6) and HA 34 to HA 37 override this section.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, effective interest, income year, notice, notify, shareholder

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 5(1)

HA 33 Revocation of shareholders' elections: by event

Event

- (1) An election by a person as shareholder under section HA 5 is revoked if an event described in the following paragraphs occurs:
- (a) the person dies;
 - (b) the person disposes of all of their shares, unless they dispose of them to an existing shareholder in the company for whom an election exists;
 - (c) if section HA 28(b) applies, or section HA 29 applies and the election is made in accordance with section HA 28(b), a beneficiary acquires legal capacity;
 - (d) if section HA 29 applies,—
 - (i) the effective interests of a minority shareholder increase to 50% or more; or
 - (ii) the total effective interests of the majority shareholder or shareholders fall below 50%;
 - (e) for an election made jointly by 2 or more persons, 1 person revokes the election or is treated as having revoked the election.

When revocation by event takes effect

- (2) The revocation of an election under this section takes effect at the start of the income year in which the event occurred.

Periods of grace and Commissioner's power to defer

- (3) Sections HA 11(6) and HA 34 to HA 37 override this section.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, effective interest, income year, share, shareholder

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 5(2)

Section HA 33(1)(c): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 17 July 2013, by section 60(1) of the Taxation (Livestock Valuation, Assets Expenditure, and Remedial Matters) Act 2013 (2013 No 52).

HA 33B Transitional rules for look-through companies, partnerships, and sole traderships*LTC election*

- (1) All elections by shareholders under section HA 5 are revoked if, for the company and the relevant shareholders, a LTC election has been received by the Commissioner under section HB 13(3)(c) and (4) (LTC elections) for the first or second income year that starts on or after 1 April 2011.

When revocation takes effect

- (2) The revocation of the elections under subsection (1) takes effect at the beginning of the relevant income year.

Notice of intention

- (3) All elections by shareholders under section HA 5 are revoked if, for the company and the relevant shareholders, a notice of intention has been received by the Commissioner for the first or second income year that starts on or after 1 April 2011 under section HZ 4B(7)(a) or HZ 4D(4)(a) (which relate to transitions to partnerships and sole traderships).

When revocation takes effect

- (4) The revocation of the elections under subsection (3) takes effect at the beginning of the relevant income year.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, income year, notice, shareholder

Section HA 33B: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011), by section 76(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

Section HA 33B list of defined terms notice: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 74 of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

HA 34 Period of grace following death of shareholder*12-month period*

- (1) Despite section HA 33(1)(a), a company's status as a qualifying company does not end because a shareholder or another person has died if, within 12 months of the death of the person, the company meets the requirements of sections HA 5 to HA 9.

Extension of time

- (2) The Commissioner may extend the 12-month period referred to in subsection (1) on the application of the company, the personal representative of the deceased person, or a person who is entitled as a shareholder to make an election under section HA 5.

Defined in this Act: apply, Commissioner, company, qualifying company, shareholder

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 6(1)

Section HA 34 list of defined terms apply: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 74 of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

HA 35 Period of grace following revocation of election

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a company has been a qualifying company but no longer meets the requirement of section HA 5 through revocation of a shareholder's election under section HA 32 or HA 33. But this section does not apply when—
- (a) the revocation is brought about by the death of a person; or
 - (b) a joint election is revoked.

Revocation by notice

- (2) When section HA 32 applies, the company's status as a qualifying company does not end if, within 63 days of the date on which the company received the notice of revocation, a person other than the shareholder who revoked the election makes an election relating to the whole of the relevant shareholding.

Revocation by event

- (3) When section HA 33 applies, the company's status as a qualifying company does not end if, within 63 days of the date when the event that gave rise to the revocation occurred, an election relating to the whole of the relevant shareholding is made or is in effect.

Extension of time

- (4) In subsections (2) and (3), the Commissioner may extend the 63-day period on the application of the company or a person who is entitled to make an election under section HA 5.

Defined in this Act: apply, Commissioner, company, notice, qualifying company, shareholder

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 6(2)(a), (b)

Section HA 35 list of defined terms apply: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 74 of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

HA 36 Period of grace following revocation of joint election

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a company has been a qualifying company, but an election that shareholders have made jointly has been revoked through an event described in section HA 33.

Cause of revocation

- (2) The company's status as a qualifying company does not end if, within the relevant period in section HA 34(1) or HA 35(2) and (3), an election relating to the whole of the relevant shareholding is made.

Defined in this Act: company, qualifying company, shareholder

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 6(2)(c)

HA 37 Period of grace for new shareholder

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a company has been a qualifying company but fails to meet the requirement of section HA 5 when—
 - (a) a person other than an existing shareholder acquires shares in the company; or
 - (b) an existing shareholder acquires legal capacity.

Period for making election

- (2) The company's status as a qualifying company does not end if, within 63 days of the date on which either the shares were acquired or the shareholder acquired legal capacity, an election relating to the whole of the relevant shareholding is made.

Extension of time

- (3) The Commissioner may extend the 63-day period in subsection (2) on the application of the company, the new shareholder, the existing shareholder, or a person who is entitled to make an election as shareholder under section HA 5.

Defined in this Act: apply, Commissioner, company, qualifying company, share, shareholder

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 6(3)

Section HA 37 list of defined terms apply: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 74 of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

[Repealed]

Section HA 39: repealed, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011), by section 77(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

Qualifying company election tax

HA 40 Liability for qualifying company election tax

Payment of tax

- (1) A company that becomes a qualifying company must pay a qualifying company election tax in relation to the change in status, of an amount calculated under section HA 41. The date for payment is set out in section HA 42.

Payment on amalgamation

- (2) If a company that is not a qualifying company amalgamates with a qualifying company and ends its existence on the amalgamation, the amalgamated company must pay a qualifying company election tax under subsection (1).

Defined in this Act: amalgamated company, amalgamation, amount, company, pay, qualifying company, qualifying company election tax

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 11(1), (1A)

HA 41 Calculating qualifying company election tax

Formula

- (1) The amount of qualifying company election tax that a company must pay under section HA 40 is calculated using the formula—

$(\text{dividends} + \text{balances} - \text{assessable income} - (\text{balances} \div \text{tax rate})) \times \text{tax rate}$.

Definition of items in formula

- (2) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (3) to (6).

Dividends

- (3) Dividends is the sum of the amounts that would be dividends if the company—
- (a) disposed of all its property, other than cash, to an unrelated person at market value for cash; and
 - (b) met all its liabilities at market value, excluding income tax payable through disposing of the property or meeting the liabilities; and
 - (c) was liquidated, with the amount of cash remaining being distributed to its shareholders without imputation credits attached.

Balances

- (4) Balances is the sum of the following amounts:
- (a) the balance in the company's imputation credit account;
 - (b) [Repealed]
 - (c) an amount of income tax payable for an earlier income year but not paid before the relevant date, less refunds due for the earlier income year but paid after the relevant date.
 - (d) [Repealed]

Assessable income

- (5) Assessable income is the total assessable income that the company would derive by taking the actions described in subsection (3)(a) and (b) less the amount of any deduction that the company would have for taking those actions.

Tax rate

- (6) Tax rate is the basic rate of income tax set out in schedule 1, part A, clause 2 (Basic tax rates: income tax, ESCT, RSCT, RWT, and attributed fringe benefits) for the relevant income year of the company.

Relevant date

- (7) In subsections (3) to (5), the relevant date for measuring items in the formula is the date just before the company became a qualifying company or, as applicable, at the time the company ended its existence.

Income tax and refund

- (8) For the purposes of subsection (4)(c),—
- (a) income tax payable is income tax that would, when paid, give rise to a credit in the company's imputation credit account under sections OB 4 to OB 29 (which relate to imputation credits):
 - (b) a refund of income tax due is the amount that would, when paid, give rise to a debit to the company's imputation credit account under section OB 30 to OB 59 (which relate to imputation debits):
 - (c) if the company pays income tax with a purpose or intention of reducing the amount of election tax, the amount of credit in the imputation credit account is reduced by the amount of the credit arising from the company's action, unless that purpose is merely incidental.

Defined in this Act: amount, assessable income, company, deduction, dividend, imputation credit, imputation credit account, income tax, income year, liquidation, pay, qualifying company, qualifying company election tax, shareholder

HA 42 Paying qualifying company election tax

A company must pay a qualifying company election tax under section HA 40 to the Commissioner no later than the company's terminal tax date for the tax year corresponding to the income year in which the company chooses to become a qualifying company.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, income year, pay, qualifying company, qualifying company election tax, terminal tax date

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 12

Effective interests in qualifying companies

HA 43 Meaning of effective interest

What this section does

- (1) This section defines an effective interest in a company, which is the measure of a person's liability under section HA 8.

Effective interest

- (2) Effective interest for a person and a company, at a particular time or for an income year, means—
- (a) the person's voting interest in the company at the time or for the income year, unless paragraph (b) applies:
 - (b) if there is a market value circumstance for the company at the time or at some time during the income year, the average of—
 - (i) the person's voting interest in the company at the time or for the income year; and
 - (ii) the person's market value interest in the company at the time or for the income year.

Defined in this Act: company, effective interest, income year, market value circumstance, market value interest, voting interest

Compare: 2004 No 35 s OB 1 "effective interest"

HA 44 Measuring effective interests

Subpart YC

- (1) A person's voting interest and market value interest in a company is measured under subpart YC (Measurement of company ownership). If the person is a company, the voting interest and market value interest are measured at a particular time or for an income year under those sections as if—

- (a) the person were not a company; and
- (b) sections YC 4 and YC 6 (which relate to corporate shareholders and certain excluded securities) did not apply.

If interests vary during income year

- (2) If a person's voting interest or market value interest varies during an income year, the measure of their effective interest is the weighted average of their voting interest or market value interest, as applicable, for the income year.

If election made during income year

- (3) If a shareholder makes an election under section HA 5 after the start of the income year, their voting interest and market value interest is measured from the earliest day in the income year when they became a shareholder in the company, even if the day is earlier than the date of the election.

Shareholders' interests after revocation

- (4) A person who revokes an election under section HA 32 or HA 33 is treated as having no voting interest and no market value interest for the period of the income year after the revocation takes effect unless they make a later election for the same income year. In this subsection, the person is a trustee when an election is made under section HA 28 by a person other than the trustee.

When majority shareholders' liabilities excluded

- (5) If a majority shareholder has made an election and agreed under sections HA 8 and HA 29 to take personal liability to the extent of a minority shareholder's effective interest in the company, any effective interest for which the minority shareholder has agreed to be personally liable under section HA 8 is excluded in measuring the majority shareholder's effective interest.

Minority shareholder's liability after revocation

- (6) If a majority shareholder's election is revoked under section HA 32(1) or HA 33(1)(d), the effective interest of the minority shareholder for which the majority shareholder is liable is treated as zero for the part of the income year that follows the day on which the revocation takes effect.

Defined in this Act: company, effective interest, income year, market value interest, shareholder, trustee, voting interest

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HG 2

Section HA 44(1): amended, on 2 November 2012, by section 77 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

Subpart HB—Look-through companies

Subpart HB: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011, and for the purposes of the Commissioner receiving LTC elections, on and after 21 December 2010), by section 78(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

HB 1 Look-through companies are transparent

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of this Act, other than the PAYE rules, the FBT rules, the NRWT rules, the RWT rules, the ESCT rules, and the RSCT rules, for a person in their capacity of owner of an effective look-through interest for a look-through company (the LTC), for an income year, if—
 - (a) for the LTC, an LTC election described in section HB 13(1) and (2) has been received by the Commissioner under section HB 13(3) and (4) for the income year; and
 - (b) the LTC meets the requirements in the definition of look-through company at all times in the income year; and
 - (c) the election has not been revoked for the income year by an owner of a look-through interest for the LTC by notice received by the Commissioner before the start of the income year.

When this section applies: Commissioner's discretion as to revocation

- (2) A revocation notice that is received by the Commissioner after the start of the income year is treated as received before the start of the income year if the Commissioner decides that exceptional circumstances are the sole cause of the lateness.

When this section applies: revocation ignored

- (3) An owner's revocation notice for the income year is ignored for the purposes of this section and section HB 13(4)(a) if the owner stops having a look-through interest in the LTC and the new owner reverses the revocation notice before the start of the income year by notice to the Commissioner.

Look-through for effective look-through interest

- (4) For a person, unless the context requires otherwise,—
- (a) the person is treated as carrying on an activity carried on by the LTC, and having a status, intention, and purpose of the LTC, and the LTC is treated as not carrying on the activity or having the status, intention, or purpose:
 - (b) the person is treated as holding property that the LTC holds, in proportion to the person's effective look-through interest, and the LTC is treated as not holding the property:
 - (c) the person is treated as being party to an arrangement to which the LTC is a party, in proportion to the person's effective look-through interest, and the LTC is treated as not being a party to the arrangement:
 - (d) the person is treated as doing a thing and being entitled to a thing that the LTC does or is entitled to, in proportion to the person's effective look-through interest, and the LTC is treated as not doing the thing or being entitled to the thing.

Effective look-through interest

- (5) For the purposes of this section, effective look-through interest means for a person and an LTC, treating the LTC as a company for the purposes of this subsection,—
- (a) a person's average daily look-through interest for the company for the income year, if there is no market value circumstance for the LTC and paragraph (b) does not apply:
 - (b) a person's look-through interest for the relevant time of look-through under subsection (4), if there is no market value circumstance for the LTC, and—
 - (i) the assessable income of the LTC, ignoring this subpart, is or will be $3,000,000 or more in a 12-month period including the relevant time of look-through, and the Commissioner has notified the LTC that look-through interests for the relevant time of look-through under subsection (4) must be used under this section:
 - (ii) all persons with look-through interests have agreed to use their look-through interests for the relevant time of look-through:
 - (c) if there is a market value circumstance for the LTC and paragraph (d) does not apply, the average of the following 2 amounts:
 - (i) a person's average daily look-through interest for the income year:
 - (ii) a person's average daily market value interest for the income year:

- (d) if there is a market value circumstance for the LTC, and the assessable income and notification requirements described in paragraph (b)(i) are met, the average of the following 2 amounts:
- (i) a person's look-through interest for the time of look-through under subsection (4):
 - (ii) a person's market value interest for the time of look-through under subsection (4).

Elections and methods

- (6) Inland Revenue Act elections and methods relating to an LTC are chosen by the company ignoring subsection (4), and then subsection (4) applies so that the elections and methods are those of an owner of an effective look-through interest for the look-through company.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, assessable income, Commissioner, company, effective look-through interest, ESCT rules, FBT rules, income year, look-through company, look-through interest, market value circumstance, market value interest, notice, notify, NRWT rules, PAYE rules, RSCT rules, RWT rules

Section HB 1: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011, and for the purposes of the Commissioner receiving LTC elections, on and after 21 December 2010), by section 78(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

Section HB 1(6) heading: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2011), on 2 November 2012, by section 78 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

Section HB 1(6): inserted (with effect on 1 April 2011), on 2 November 2012, by section 78 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

Section HB 1 list of defined terms notice: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 74 of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

Section HB 1 list of defined terms notify: inserted, on 2 June 2016, by section 74 of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

HB 2 Previous income and expenditure or loss

Despite a person who has an effective look-through interest for a look-through company (the LTC) not having an interest at the relevant time, the person may be treated as deriving income or incurring an expenditure or loss which the LTC derived or incurred ignoring section HB 1, or would have derived or incurred ignoring section HB 1 if it had not ceased to exist. This section does not allow 2 deductions for 1 expenditure or loss, and may apply to income derived before the LTC becomes a look-through company.

Defined in this Act: effective look-through interest, income, income year, look-through company

Section HB 2: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011, and for the purposes of the Commissioner receiving LTC elections, on and after 21 December 2010), by section 78(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

HB 3 Loss balances extinguished

Despite sections HB 1 and HB 2, a loss balance under Part I (Treatment of tax losses) is cancelled if the loss balance arose in relation to an income year when a company was not a look-through company, or when a company that amalgamates with a look-through company was not a look-through company.

Defined in this Act: amalgamation, company, income year, look-through company, loss balance

Section HB 3: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011, and for the purposes of the Commissioner receiving LTC elections, on and after 21 December 2010), by section 78(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

HB 4 General provisions relating to disposals

Relationship between disposal under this section, disposal safe harbours, and subpart FB

- (1) This section overrides sections HB 5 to HB 9. This section does not apply, and sections HB 5 to HB 9 do not apply, for disposals of owners' interests under transactions to which subpart FB (Transfers of relationship property) applies or is treated as applying.

Election for specified livestock disposed of to new owner

- (2) Section HB 10 applies for an entering owner if the entering owner furnishes a return of income that applies the section.

Permanent cessation

- (3) A person is treated as disposing of all of their owner's interests for a look-through company to a single third party for a payment equal to the interests' market value, if the look-through company ceases to exist as an entity through liquidation, court order, or otherwise.

Capital reduction

- (4) A person is treated as disposing of all of their owner's interests for a look-through company to a single third party for a payment equal to the interests' market value to the extent to which an owner's capital is reduced by a cancellation or a buy-back by the look-through company that is not pro rata for all owners.

Receipt upon permanent cessation

- (5) Anything received by an owner in relation to permanent cessation or capital reduction, as described in subsection (3) or (4), is ignored.

Cessation due to revocation or otherwise

- (6) A person is treated as disposing of all of their owner's interests for a look-through company to a single third party for a payment equal to the interests' market value, if the look-through company ceases to be a look-through company because of a revocation or otherwise, but excluding cessation as described in subsection (3). The company is treated as acquiring all of the person's interests immediately after the cessation, from the third party, for a payment equal to the interests' market value, and for the purposes of section CB 15 (Transactions between associated persons), the person disposing of, and the company acquiring, the interests are treated as associated persons.

Market value of debts owed

- (7) In this section the market value of an owner's interest in a financial arrangement as debtor must take into account the amount of any adjustment for credit impairment.

Defined in this Act: associated person, dispose, financial arrangement, look-through company, owner's interests, pay, return of income

Section HB 4: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011, and for the purposes of the Commissioner receiving LTC elections, on and after 21 December 2010), by section 78(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

Section HB 4(7) heading: inserted, on 1 April 2017, by section 130(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section HB 4(7): inserted, on 1 April 2017, by section 130(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section HB 4 list of defined terms financial arrangement: inserted, on 1 April 2017, by section 130(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

HB 5 Disposal of owner's interests

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person (the exiting owner) disposes of some or all of their owner's interests (the current interests) for a look-through company, if the amount calculated using the formula is less than zero—

$$\begin{aligned} & \text{disposal payment} + \text{previous payments} \\ & - (\text{gross tax value} - \text{liabilities}) - $50,000. \end{aligned}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (2) In the formula,—
- (a) disposal payment is the total amount of consideration paid or payable to the exiting owner for the current interests:
- (b) previous payments is the total amount of consideration paid or payable to the exiting owner for other disposals of some or all of their owner's interests (the other interests) that have occurred in the year before the disposal of the current interests:
- (c) gross tax value is the total of—
- (i) the value under this Act of the current interests and other interests at the time the relevant interest is disposed of, to the extent to which the interests are revenue account property or depreciable property or financial arrangements:
- (ii) the market value of the current interests and other interests at the time the relevant interest is disposed of, to the extent to which the interests are not revenue account property or depreciable property or financial arrangements:

- (d) liabilities is the amount of liabilities under generally accepted accounting practice at the time the relevant interest is disposed of, calculated by reference to the exiting owner's ownership share for the relevant interest.

Exiting owner: excluded payment

- (3) The disposal payment described in subsection (2)(a) is excluded income of the exiting owner.

Exiting owner: no deduction

- (4) The exiting owner is denied a deduction in relation to the current interests for the income year in which the disposal of the interests occurs and later income years to the extent to which the entering owner is allowed a deduction because of subsection (6).

Entering owner: no deduction

- (5) An entering owner is denied a deduction for the disposal payment described in subsection (2)(a).

Entering owner: stepping in

- (6) For the purposes of calculating the income and deductions of an entering owner for the part of the income year after the disposal of the interests occurs and later income years (the post-disposal periods), the entering owner is treated for the post-disposal periods as if they had originally acquired and held the current interests, not the exiting owner. However, this subsection does not apply to a deduction carried forward under section HB 12.

Relationship with section HB 4

- (7) Section HB 4 overrides this section.

Defined in this Act: deduction, depreciable property, dispose, entering owner, excluded income, financial arrangement, income tax liability, look-through company, owner's interests, pay, return of income, revenue account property, year

Section HB 5: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011, and for the purposes of the Commissioner receiving LTC elections, on and after 21 December 2010), by section 78(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

HB 6 Disposal of trading stock

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person (the exiting owner) disposes of some or all of their owner's interests for a look-through company, to the extent to which those interests include trading stock that is not livestock, and, for the income year of disposal, the total turnover of the look-through company, ignoring section HB 1, is $3,000,000 or less.

Exiting owner: excluded payment

- (2) The amount of consideration paid or payable to the exiting owner for the trading stock is excluded income of the exiting owner.

Exiting owner: no deduction

- (3) The exiting owner is denied a deduction in relation to the trading stock for the income year in which the disposal of the trading stock occurs and later income years, to the extent to which the entering owner is allowed a deduction because of subsection (5).

Entering owner: no deduction

- (4) The entering owner is denied a deduction for the amount of consideration paid or payable to the exiting owner for the trading stock.

Entering owner: stepping in

- (5) For the purposes of calculating the income tax liability of an entering owner, the entering owner is treated as if they had acquired and held the trading stock, not the exiting owner.

Relationship with section HB 4

- (6) Section HB 4 overrides this section.

Defined in this Act: deduction, dispose, entering owner, excluded income, income tax liability, income year, look-through company, owner's interests, pay, trading stock, turnover

Section HB 6: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011, and for the purposes of the Commissioner receiving LTC elections, on and after 21 December 2010), by section 78(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

HB 7 Disposal of depreciable property

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person (the exiting owner) disposes of some or all of their owner's interests for a look-through company, to the extent to which those interests include an item of depreciable property that is not depreciable intangible property, and the total cost of the item when it was first acquired by the look-through company (whether or not it was at that time a look-through company) is $200,000 or less.

Exiting owner: excluded payment

- (2) The amount of consideration paid or payable to the exiting owner for the depreciable property is excluded income of the exiting owner.

Exiting owner: no deduction

- (3) The exiting owner is denied a deduction in relation to the depreciable property for the income year in which the disposal of the depreciable property occurs and later income years, to the extent to which the entering owner is allowed a deduction because of subsection (5).

Entering owner: no deduction

- (4) The entering owner is denied a deduction for the amount of consideration paid or payable to the exiting owner for the depreciable property.

Entering owner: stepping in

- (5) For the purposes of calculating the income tax liability of an entering owner for the part of the income year after the disposal of the depreciable property occurs and later income years (the post-disposal periods), the entering owner is treated for the post-disposal periods as if they had originally acquired and held the depreciable property, not the exiting owner.

Relationship with section HB 4

- (6) Section HB 4 overrides this section.

Defined in this Act: acquire, amount, deduction, depreciable intangible property, depreciable property, dispose, entering owner, excluded income, income tax liability, income year, look-through company, owner's interests, pay

Section HB 7: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011, and for the purposes of the Commissioner receiving LTC elections, on and after 21 December 2010), by section 78(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

HB 8 Disposal of financial arrangements and certain excepted financial arrangements*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a person (the exiting owner) disposes of some or all of their owner's interests for a look-through company, to the extent to which those interests include a financial arrangement or an excepted financial arrangement described in section EW 5(10) (What is an excepted financial arrangement?) and, ignoring section HB 1,—
- (a) the purpose for which the financial arrangement or excepted financial arrangement was entered into was necessary and incidental to the business of the look-through company; and
- (b) the look-through company does not have a business of holding financial arrangements.

Exiting owner: excluded payment

- (2) The amount of consideration paid or payable to the exiting owner for the relevant financial arrangement or excepted financial arrangement is excluded income of the exiting owner. The exiting owner is, for the relevant financial arrangement, a party that is not required to calculate a base price adjustment, despite section EW 29 (When calculation of base price adjustment required).

Exiting owner: no deduction

- (3) The exiting owner is denied a deduction in relation to the relevant financial arrangement or excepted financial arrangement for the income year in which the disposal of the financial arrangement or excepted financial arrangement occurs and later income years.

Entering owner: no deduction

- (4) The entering owner is denied a deduction for the amount of consideration paid or payable to the exiting owner for the relevant financial arrangement or excepted financial arrangement.

Entering owner: stepping in

- (5) For the purposes of calculating the income tax liability of an entering owner for the part of the income year after the disposal of the relevant financial arrangement or excepted financial arrangement occurs and later income years (the post-disposal periods), the entering owner is treated for the post-disposal periods as if they had acquired and held the financial arrangement or excepted financial arrangement, not the exiting owner.

Relationship with section HB 4

- (6) Section HB 4 overrides this section.

Defined in this Act: business, deduction, dispose, entering owner, excepted financial arrangement, excluded income, financial arrangement, income tax liability, income year, look-through company, owner's interests, pay

Section HB 8: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011, and for the purposes of the Commissioner receiving LTC elections, on and after 21 December 2010), by section 78(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

Section HB 8(1)(b): amended (with effect on 1 April 2011), on 2 November 2012, by section 79 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

HB 9 Disposal of short-term agreements for sale and purchase

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person (the exiting owner) disposes of some or all of their owner's interests for a look-through company, to the extent to which those interests include a short-term agreement for sale and purchase.

Exiting owner: excluded payment

- (2) The amount of consideration paid or payable to the exiting owner for the short-term agreement for sale and purchase is excluded income of the exiting owner.

Exiting owner: no deduction

- (3) The exiting owner is denied a deduction in relation to the short-term agreement for sale and purchase, to the extent to which the entering owner is allowed a deduction because of subsection (5).

Entering owner: no deduction

- (4) The entering owner is denied a deduction for the amount of consideration paid or payable to the exiting owner for the short-term agreement for sale and purchase.

Entering owner: stepping in

- (5) For the purposes of calculating the income tax liability of an entering owner for the part of the income year after the disposal of the short-term agreement for sale and purchase occurs and later income years (the post-disposal periods), the entering owner is treated for the post-disposal periods as if they had originally acquired and held the short-term agreement for sale and purchase, not the exiting owner.

Relationship with section HB 4

- (6) Section HB 4 overrides this section.

Defined in this Act: deduction, dispose, entering owner, excluded income, income tax liability, income year, look-through company, owner's interests, pay, short-term agreement for sale and purchase

Section HB 9: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011, and for the purposes of the Commissioner receiving LTC elections, on and after 21 December 2010), by section 78(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

HB 10 Disposal of livestock

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person disposes of some or all of their owner's interests to an entering owner and section HB 4(2) applies, to the extent to which those interests include specified livestock and that specified livestock includes female breeding livestock and, for the income year, the owners use—
- (a) the national standard cost scheme for specified livestock, described in section EC 22 (National standard cost scheme); or
 - (b) the cost price method for specified livestock, described in section EC 25 (Cost price, replacement price, or market value).

Entering owner's cost base

- (2) Section EC 26B (Entering partners' cost base) may apply to the entering owner for the purposes of determining the value of the specified livestock at the end of an income year for the purposes of section EC 2 (Valuation of livestock), treating the entering owner as an entering partner and making other necessary modifications to section EC 26B to give effect to the purpose of this section (for example, references in section EC 26B to "partners" should be modified to references to "owners" and references to "section HG 10" should be modified to references to "section HB 10").

Defined in this Act: amount, cost price, dispose, entering owner, entering partner, income year, look-through company, national standard cost scheme, owner's interests, specified livestock

Section HB 10: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011, and for the purposes of the Commissioner receiving LTC elections, on and after 21 December 2010), by section 78(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

HB 11 Limitation on deductions by persons with interests in look-through companies

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for a look-through company (the LTC) and an income year when,—

- (a) but for this section, a deduction by virtue of section HB 1 or HB 12(2) or (3) would be allowed to a person who has an effective look-through interest for the LTC; and
- (b) the LTC is a partner in a partnership that includes another look-through company, or the LTC is a member of a joint venture described in section HG 1 (Joint venturers) that includes another LTC.

No deduction

- (2) The person is denied the deduction for an income year to the extent to which their look-through company deduction for the income year is greater than the amount (the owner's basis) calculated using the formula in subsection (3) at the end of the income year.

Owner's basis

- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2), the amount that is the owner's basis is calculated using the following formula:

investments – distributions + income – deductions – disallowed amount.

Definition of items in formula

- (4) The items in the formula are defined in subsections (5) to (9).

Investments

- (5) Investments is the total of—
 - (a) the market value of a person's shares in the LTC at the time that the person acquires or subscribes for them;
 - (b) amounts that the LTC is debtor for in relation to the person, including a loan to the LTC and a credit balance in a current account;
 - (c) the secured amounts, if not accounted for under paragraph (b) by the person or another person.

Distributions

- (6) Distributions is the market value of distributions to the person from the LTC, including loans made to the person from the LTC and payments to which section DC 3B (Payments to working owners) does not apply.

Income

- (7) Income is the total of—
 - (a) income that the person has by virtue of section HB 1 in the income year and previous income years;
 - (ab) if the person has FIF income or a FIF loss, an amount under subsection (7B);
 - (b) capital gain amounts under section CD 44(7)(a) (Available capital distribution amount) that the person would have by virtue of section HB 1 in the income year and previous income years, if the person were treated as a company for the purposes of section CD 44(7)(a), unless the gain is accounted for under paragraph (a):

- (c) assessable income that the person has in previous income years from goods and services they contributed to the LTC, if the income is not accounted for under subsection (5) or paragraph (a) or (b) of this subsection.

Formula

- (7B) The amount described in subsection (7)(ab) is given by the following formula, but if the calculation returns a negative number, the amount is zero:

$$\text{dividend} - \text{FIF amount.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (7C) In the formula,—
 - (a) dividend is the amount that would, under section HB 1, be the person's proportion of the dividend paid by a FIF to the LTC, if section CD 36(1) were ignored:
 - (b) FIF amount is—
 - (i) zero, if subparagraph (ii) does not apply:
 - (ii) the amount that is the person's FIF income, for the relevant income year and FIF, if the person has such an amount.

Deductions

- (8) Deductions is the total of—
 - (a) expenditure or loss in previous income years, to the extent to which the expenditure or loss is incurred by virtue of section HB 1 in the person deriving income by virtue of section HB 1, excluding any deductions denied in those previous years under this section:
 - (b) capital loss amounts under section CD 44(9) that the person would have by virtue of section HB 1 in the income year and previous income years, if the person is treated as a company for the purposes of section CD 44(9), unless the loss is accounted for under paragraph (a):
 - (c) deductions that the person is allowed in previous income years in relation to assessable income described in subsection (7)(c), if the deduction is not accounted for under subsection (6) or paragraph (a) or (b) of this subsection.

Disallowed amount

- (9) Disallowed amount is the amount of investments, as defined in subsection (5), made by the person within 60 days of the end of the income year, if those investments are or will be distributed or reduced within 60 days of the end of the income year, but an amount of investment made by the person within 60 days of the end of the income year is not a disallowed amount if the total amount distributed or reduced within 60 days of the end of the income year is $10,000 or less.

Exclusion

- (10) This section does not deny a person (the exiting person) a deduction that is equal to or less than the amount of net income that the exiting person has for the amount paid or payable to the exiting person for the disposal of their owner's interests, ignoring other transactions.

Relationship with subject matter

- (11) This section is modified by section HZ 4C (Qualifying companies: transition into look-through companies).

Some definitions

- (12) In this section,—

guarantor means—

- (a) a person (person A) who has an effective look-through interest for the LTC, if—
- (i) person A, ignoring section HB 1, secures the relevant debt by guarantee or indemnity:
 - (ii) an owner's associate of person A secures the relevant debt by guarantee or indemnity:
- (b) a person who is not described in paragraph (a)(i) and (ii) but who secures the relevant debt by guarantee or indemnity, if person A or an owner's associate also secures the relevant debt as described in paragraph (a)(i) or (ii)

look-through company deduction means, for the person and the income year, the amount of the deductions that the person would be allowed if they were treated as having only income and deductions arising from the application of this subpart owner's associate means a person who does not have an effective look-through interest for the LTC and who is—

- (a) a relative of a person who has an effective look-through interest for the LTC:
- (b) a trustee who is associated in their capacity of trustee, with a person who has an effective look-through interest for the LTC recourse property means property to which a creditor has recourse, to enforce a guarantee or indemnity for the relevant debt, if the guarantee or indemnity expressly provides recourse to only that property secured amounts means, for the person, the lesser of the following applicable amounts:

- (a) the amount of the look-through company's debt ignoring section HB 1 (the secured debt) for which the person is a guarantor, divided by the total number of guarantors for the secured debt:
- (b) the market value of the recourse property for the secured debt to the extent of the interest that the person and their owner's associates have in it, net of higher-ranking calls whether actual, future or contingent, divided by the total number of guarantors described in paragraph (a) of the definition of guarantor who have an interest in the recourse property or have an owner's associate with an interest in the recourse property.

Defined in this Act: amount, assessable income, associated person, company, deduction, dispose, dividend, effective look-through interest, FIF, FIF income, FIF loss, guarantor, income, income year, loan, look-through company, look-through company deduction, loss, net income, net loss, owner's associate, owner's interests, partner, partnership, pay, recourse property, secured amounts, share

HB 12 Limitation on deductions by owners of look-through companies: carry-forward

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when, for an income year, a person is denied a deduction under section HB 11.

Carry-forward: conditional on continued existence of look-through company and holding of effective look-through interest

- (2) The person is allowed a deduction, for an amount for which the person is denied a deduction under section HB 11, for the income year (the later year) after the income year for which it is denied under section HB 11, unless—
 - (a) the look-through company ceases to be a look-through company in the later year:
 - (b) the person ceases to have an effective look-through interest in the later year.

Carry-forward: resumption

- (3) If a person would have been allowed a deduction for an amount but for the application of subsection (2)(a) or (b) for the later year, they are allowed a deduction for the amount for the first income year after the later year in which either they resume an effective look-through interest for the look-through company, or the relevant company resumes being a look-through company. However, the amount of that deduction is reduced by the total amount allowed as a deduction under subsections (4) and (5).

Exception for deductions against continuing company dividends

- (4) Despite subsection (2), the person is allowed a deduction for the later year for an amount (the protected amount) for which they would have been allowed a deduction but for the application of subsection (2)(a) or (b) for the later year to the extent to which the protected amount is equal to or lesser than the dividends received by the person from the company for the later year.

Further deductions against continuing company dividends

- (5) For an income year after the later year, an amount equal to the protected amount reduced by the total of deductions allowed in income years before the income year under subsection (4) and this subsection, is allowed as a deduction for the person to the extent to which the amount is equal to or less than the dividends received by the person from the company for the income year.

Relationship with subject matter

- (6) A deduction allowed under this section, other than under subsection (4) or (5), is subject to section HB 11, to the extent to which that section applies to the deduction and the relevant person.

Defined in this Act: amount, deduction, dividend, effective look-through interest, income year, look-through company

Section HB 12: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011, and for the purposes of the Commissioner receiving LTC elections, on and after 21 December 2010), by section 78(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

HB 13 LTC elections*LTC elections*

- (1) For the purposes of section HB 1, an LTC election (the election) is a notice that—
- (a) is signed and dated by a director of the company that becomes a look-through company (the LTC) or other agent with appropriate authority; and
 - (b) is in the form prescribed by the Commissioner; and
 - (c) specifies an income year beginning on or after 1 April 2011 for which it may first operate; and
 - (d) has attached to it notices—
 - (i) signed and dated by all persons who, on the date of signing the election, own look-through interests in the LTC; and
 - (ii) evidence unanimous agreement of the owners in choosing to apply section HB 1.

Legal incapacities

- (2) If a person owns a look-through interest in the LTC, and either they are under 18 years old with a guardian or a contract they enter into could be unenforceable, cancelled, void, or voidable due to any legal incapacity other than age, the notice requirement in subsection (1)(d) is modified so as to require a guardian, person with power of attorney, or other legal representative to sign and date the notice, instead of the person.

Time of receipt of LTC elections

- (3) For the purposes of section HB 1, the election—

- (a) must be received by the Commissioner before the start of the income year specified in the election; or
- (b) in the case of a company that has not previously been required to file a return of income for a year before the income year specified in the election, must be received by the Commissioner before the last day for filing the return of income required by section 42B of the Tax Administration Act 1994 for the year specified in the election; or
- (c) in the case of a company that was a qualifying company that first becomes a look-through company for the first or second income year that starts on or after 1 April 2011, must be received by the Commissioner within 6 months of the start of the relevant transitional income year described in section HZ 4C(1) (Qualifying companies: transition into look-through companies).

Income year for which LTC elections are treated as received

- (4) For the purposes of section HB 1, the election is treated as received for the first relevant income year described in subsection (3) and for each income year after that one, except it is treated as not received by the Commissioner for an income year (the income year) and subsequent income years if—
 - (a) the election has been revoked for the income year under section HB 1:
 - (b) the LTC does not meet the requirements in the definition of look-through company at all times in the income year:
 - (c) the income year is 1 of the 2 income years straight after an income year for which either the LTC ceases to be a look-through company or the relevant election for the LTC is revoked.

Commissioner's discretion as to LTC elections

- (5) An election that is late or does not have each person signing and dating as required by subsection (1)(a) and (d) is treated as an election that has been received by the Commissioner for the income year under subsection (3) but subject to subsection (4), if all relevant persons sign and date it during the income year it may first operate, and the Commissioner decides that exceptional circumstances are the sole cause of the lateness or failure to sign and date.

Valuation transfer

- (6) An entity that ceases to be a company upon becoming an LTC is treated as having, as an LTC, the same status, intention, purpose, and tax book values it had as a company for its assets, liabilities, and associated legal rights and obligations.

Defined in this Act: Commissioner, company, director, income year, look-through company, look-through interest, notice, qualifying company, return of income

Section HB 13: inserted, on 1 April 2011 (applying for income years beginning on or after 1 April 2011, and for the purposes of the Commissioner receiving LTC elections, on and after 21 December 2010), by section 78(1) of the Taxation (GST and Remedial Matters) Act 2010 (2010 No 130).

Section HB 13(2): amended, on 2 June 2016, by section 48 of the Taxation (Transformation: First Phase Simplification and Other Measures) Act 2016 (2016 No 27).

Section HB 13(5): amended (with effect on 1 April 2011), on 2 November 2012, by section 81 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

Section HB 13(6) heading: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2011), on 30 March 2017, by section 132 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Section HB 13(6): inserted (with effect on 1 April 2011), on 30 March 2017, by section 132 of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2016–17, Closely Held Companies, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 14).

Introductory provisions

HC 1 What this subpart does

What this subpart does

- (1) This subpart, together with the trust rules,—
 - (a) provides for the taxation of distributions from trusts, for this purpose defining—
 - (i) beneficiary income:
 - (ii) a taxable distribution:
 - (b) provides for the taxation of trustee income:
 - (c) classifies trusts into the following 3 categories for the purposes of determining the treatment of distributions that are not beneficiary income:
 - (i) complying trusts:
 - (ii) foreign trusts:
 - (iii) non-complying trusts:

- (d) determines who is a settlor, and sets out their income tax liability:
- (e) sets out the treatment of trusts settled by persons becoming resident in New Zealand.

Excluded: certain funds and distributions

- (2) The trust rules do not apply to—
 - (a) a unit trust:
 - (b) a group investment fund to the extent to which it is treated as a company under this Act:
 - (c) a Maori authority:
 - (d) a distribution under section HZ 1 (Distributions from trusts of pre-1989 tax reserves).

Disclosure requirements: non-resident trustees

- (3) Section 59 of the Tax Administration Act 1994 requires the disclosure of a settlement on a trust with a non-resident trustee.

Avoidance arrangements

- (4) Section GB 22 (Arrangements involving trust beneficiary income) may apply to treat a beneficiary as receiving property, or enjoying services or benefits, in fact received, or enjoyed, by another person.

Superannuation funds entering trust rules

- (5) A superannuation scheme that is treated as a company because it is a unit trust and then becomes a superannuation fund is treated as—
 - (a) liquidated under section CD 12 (Superannuation schemes entering trust rules) immediately before the date on which it becomes a superannuation fund; and
 - (b) no longer a company.

Defined in this Act: arrangement, beneficiary income, company, complying trust, distribution, foreign trust, group investment fund, income tax liability, liquidation, Maori authority, non-complying trust, non-resident, resident in New Zealand, settlement, settlor, superannuation fund, superannuation scheme, taxable distribution, trust rules, trustee, trustee income, unit trust

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss GC 14, HH 1(8), (9), HH 3(6), HH 4(8), Income Tax Amendment Act 1988 (No 5) s 9

HC 2 Obligations of joint trustees for calculating income and providing returns

What this section applies to

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of the obligations imposed by section BB 2 (Main obligations) on 2 or more persons who derive income jointly as trustees of a trust.

Single person

- (2) The trustees of the trust are treated in that capacity as if they were a notional single person, and are jointly and severally liable to satisfy the income tax liability of the notional single person. They must—
- (a) calculate the trust's taxable income for a tax year; and
 - (b) for that tax year, provide a joint return of income for the trust under section 42(1)(a) of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Defined in this Act: income, income tax liability, return of income, tax year, taxable income, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HD 1(1)(a)

HC 3 Multiple settlements

For the purposes of this subpart, if a settlement is made on a trust and further settlements are made on the same terms, a trustee of the trust may treat all the settlements as 1 trust.

Defined in this Act: settlement, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HH 1A

HC 4 Corpus of trust

Meaning

- (1) In the trust rules, corpus means an amount that is equal to the market value of a settlement of property on the trust measured at the date of the settlement. Subsection (2) overrides this subsection.

Settlements excluded from corpus

- (2) Corpus does not include an amount equal to the market value of the property settlements described in subsections (3) to (5).

Settlements on other trusts

- (3) A property settlement by a trustee of another trust is excluded from corpus to the extent to which, if the property were distributed to a beneficiary of the other trust, and the beneficiary was resident in New Zealand, the distribution would be beneficiary income or a taxable distribution to that beneficiary.

Deductions

- (4) A property settlement for which the settlor is allowed a deduction is excluded from corpus.

Income or dividend

- (5) A property settlement is excluded from corpus if, but for the fact of the settlement,—
- (a) it would be income of the settlor; or
 - (b) [Repealed]

- (c) it would fall under paragraph (a) if the settlor were resident in New Zealand at the time of the settlement.

Defined in this Act: amount, beneficiary income, corpus, deduction, distribution, dividend, income, resident in New Zealand, settlement, settlor, taxable distribution, trust rules, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s OB 1 “corpus”

Section HC 4(5)(b): repealed (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 260(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section HC 4(5)(c): substituted (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 260(2) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section HC 4 list of defined terms FDP: repealed (with effect on 30 June 2009), on 6 October 2009, by section 260(3) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Trust income

HC 5 Amounts derived by trustees

Either beneficiary or trustee income

- (1) An amount of income derived in an income year by a trustee of a trust is either—
- beneficiary income under section HC 6; or
 - trustee income under section HC 7.

Statutory amounts treated as derived

- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1) and sections HC 6 and HC 7, if the trustee is treated as having an amount of income in the income year under a provision in this Act and the amount is not derived under ordinary concepts, then the amount is treated as derived in the income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, beneficiary income, income, income year, trustee, trustee income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s OB 1 “beneficiary income”, “trustee income”

HC 6 Beneficiary income

Meaning

- (1) An amount of income derived in an income year by a trustee of a trust is beneficiary income to the extent to which—
- it vests absolutely in interest in a beneficiary of the trust in the income year; or
 - it is paid to a beneficiary of the trust in the income year or by the date after the end of the income year referred to in subsection (1B).

Date by which income must be allocated

- (1B) The date referred to in subsection (1)(b) is the later of the following:
- a date that falls within 6 months of the end of the income year; or
 - the earlier of—

- (i) the date on which the trustee files the return of income for the income year; or
- (ii) the date by which the trustee must file a return for the income year under section 37 of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Exclusions

- (2) Beneficiary income does not include—
 - (a) an amount of income derived by a trustee of a trust in an income year in which the trust is a superannuation fund; or
 - (b) an amount of income derived by a trustee that is income to which sections CC 3(2) (Financial arrangements) and EW 50 (Income when debt forgiven to trustee) apply.

Deriving beneficiary income in same year

- (3) When an amount derived by a trustee in an income year is also beneficiary income, the beneficiary is treated as having derived the income in the same tax year as that corresponding to the trustee's income year.

Deriving beneficiary income in same year as trustee

[Repealed]

- (4) [Repealed]

Defined in this Act: amount, beneficiary income, income, income year, pay, return of income, superannuation fund, tax year, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss OB 1 “beneficiary income”, OF 2(3)

Section HC 6(1)(b): substituted (with effect on 1 April 2009), on 7 December 2009, by section 43(1) of the Taxation (Consequential Rate Alignment and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 63).

Section HC 6(1B) heading: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2009), on 7 December 2009, by section 43(2) of the Taxation (Consequential Rate Alignment and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 63).

HC 7 Trustee income*Meaning*

- (1) To the extent to which it is not beneficiary income, an amount of income derived by a trustee of a trust is trustee income.

Minors' beneficiary income

- (2) An amount of beneficiary income to which section HC 35 applies that is derived in an income year by a person who is a minor is treated as if it were trustee income for the purposes of—
- (a) determining the tax rate that applies; and
 - (b) paying the tax; and
 - (c) providing returns of income.

Exclusions from corpus

- (3) The amount that is the market value of a property settlement referred to in section HC 4(3) to (5) is treated as trustee income of the trustee of the recipient trust derived in the income year of settlement.

Defined in this Act: amount, beneficiary income, corpus, income, income year, minor, pay, return of income, settlement, trustee, trustee income

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss HH 1(7), HH 3A(1)(a), OB 1 “trustee income”

Section HC 7(2): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 261(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

HC 8 Amounts received after person's death*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when a trustee of an estate of a deceased person receives an amount in an income year that is not income that the person derived during their lifetime, but would have been included in the person's income had they been alive when it was received.

Income

- (2) The amount is treated under section CV 12 (Trustees: amounts received after person's death) as income derived by the trustee in the income year.

Defined in this Act: amount, income, income year, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HH 8

Classification of trustsHC 9 Classifying trusts

A trust is classified at the time it makes a distribution as—

- (a) a complying trust under section HC 10:
- (b) a foreign trust under section HC 11:

(c) a non-complying trust under section HC 12.

Defined in this Act: complying trust, distribution, foreign trust, non-complying trust

HC 10 Complying trusts

Requirements for complying trusts

- (1) A trust is a complying trust in relation to a distribution if—
- (a) the following requirements are met for the life of the trust up to the time of distribution:
 - (i) no trustee income derived includes an amount of non-resident passive income, or non-residents' foreign-sourced income, or exempt income under section CW 54 (Foreign-sourced amounts derived by trustees); and
 - (ii) the tax obligations relating to the trustee's income tax liability have been satisfied for every tax year; or
 - (ab) the following requirements are met:
 - (i) a person makes an election under section HC 33; and
 - (ii) for the life of the trust up to the time of distribution, the tax obligations relating to the trustee's income tax liability for the trustee income are satisfied for each tax year; or
 - (b) it is a superannuation fund.

Foreign trust choosing to become complying trust

- (2) A foreign trust may become a complying trust to the extent set out in section HC 30 by—
- (a) an election being made under section HC 30(2)—
 - (i) before the time of distribution; and
 - (ii) within 12 months of the date on which the settlor referred to in section HC 30(1) becomes resident in New Zealand; and
 - (b) the requirements of subsection (1)(a) are met for trustee income derived after the election date.

Life of trust

- (3) The life of the trust referred to in subsection (1)(a) and (ab) includes every income year from the start of the income year in which a settlement was first made on the trust up to the time of the distribution.

Complying trusts: meeting requirements

- (4) For the purposes of subsection (1)(a) and (ab), section HC 29(6) does not apply in determining whether the requirements are met.

Defined in this Act: amount, complying trust, distribution, exempt income, foreign-sourced amount, foreign trust, income tax liability, income year, non-resident passive income, non-residents' foreign-sourced income, resident in New Zealand, settlement, settlor, superannuation fund, tax year, trustee, trustee income

Section HC 10(3): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 185(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section HC 10(4): replaced (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 185(3) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

HC 11 Foreign trusts

A trust is a foreign trust at a moment in time if no settlor is resident in New Zealand at any time in the period that—

- (a) starts on the later of 17 December 1987 and the date on which a settlement was first made on the trust; and
- (b) ends with the moment in time.

Defined in this Act: foreign trust, resident in New Zealand, settlement, settlor

Compare: 2004 No 35 s OB 1 “foreign trust”

Section HC 11: amended, on 21 February 2017, by section 5(a) of the Taxation (Business Tax, Exchange of Information, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 3).

Section HC 11(b): amended, on 21 February 2017, by section 5(b) of the Taxation (Business Tax, Exchange of Information, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 3).

HC 12 Non-complying trusts

A trust is a non-complying trust in relation to a distribution if it is neither a complying trust nor a foreign trust.

Defined in this Act: complying trust, distribution, foreign trust, non-complying trust

Compare: 2004 No 35 s OB 1 “non-qualifying trust”

HC 13 Charitable trusts

In the trust rules, a trust is a charitable trust in an income year if—

- (a) all income derived or accumulated by the trustee in that or in any earlier income year is held for charitable purposes; and
- (b) any income derived by the trustee in the income year is exempt income under either section CW 41(1) (Charities: non-business income) or CW 42(1) (Charities: business income).

Defined in this Act: charitable purpose, charitable trust, exempt income, income, income year, trust rules, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HH 1(5), (6)

Distributions from trusts

HC 14 Distributions from trusts

Transfers of value

- (1) A trustee makes a distribution when the trustee transfers value to a person because the person is a beneficiary of the trust.

Transfers to other trusts included

- (2) Despite subsection (1), a settlement for the benefit of a beneficiary is treated as a transfer of value only—
- (a) if the amount or the property being settled would have been beneficiary income of, or a taxable distribution to, a beneficiary, had it been distributed at the time to a beneficiary resident in New Zealand; or
 - (b) when sections EW 50 or EZ 39 (which relate to forgiveness of debt) applies, if the property being settled is an amount forgiven and treated as paid as described in section EW 44(1) or (2) (Consideration when debt forgiven for natural love and affection) or EZ 39(1).

When distribution made

- (3) A distribution is made when what is transferred—
- (a) vests absolutely in interest in the person; or
 - (b) is paid to the person.

Manner of distribution

- (4) A distribution may be made directly or indirectly, or by 1 transaction or a number of transactions, whether related, connected, or otherwise.

Nil value of beneficiary relationship

- (5) The fact that a person is, or will become, a beneficiary of a trust does not constitute the giving or receiving of value.

Defined in this Act: amount, beneficiary income, distribution, pay, resident in New Zealand, settlement, taxable distribution, transfer of value, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s OB 1 “distribution”

HC 15 Taxable distributions from non-complying and foreign trusts

When subsection (2) applies

- (1) Subsection (2) applies for a trust that is a non-complying trust at the time a distribution to a beneficiary is made.

Taxable distributions: non-complying trusts

- (2) The distribution is a taxable distribution to the extent to which it is not a distribution of—
- (a) beneficiary income; or
 - (b) a part of the corpus of the trust; or

- (c) a payment or a transaction that represents a distribution of the corpus of the trust.

When subsection (4) applies

- (3) Subsection (4) applies for a trust that is a foreign trust at the time a distribution to a beneficiary is made.

Taxable distributions: foreign trusts

- (4) The distribution is a taxable distribution to the extent to which it is not a distribution of—
 - (a) beneficiary income; or
 - (b) a part of the corpus of the trust; or
 - (c) a profit from the realisation of a capital asset or another capital gain; or
 - (cb) a foreign superannuation withdrawal; or
 - (cc) a pension; or
 - (d) a payment or a transaction that represents a distribution of either the corpus of the trust referred to in paragraph (b) or a capital gain referred to in paragraph (c).

Determining amount of gain

- (5) For the purposes of subsection (4)(c),—
 - (a) the profit does not include—
 - (i) a gain that must be taken into account for the purposes of determining an income tax liability; or
 - (ii) a capital gain derived by the trustee through a transaction or series of transactions between the trustee and a person associated with them;
 - (b) the amount of the profit is determined after subtracting any capital loss that the trustee incurs in the income year in which the amount was derived.

Amounts not subject to ordering rule

- (6) To the extent to which a distribution is made from a trust that is not a complying trust by disposing of property at less than market value or providing services to a beneficiary at less than market value, the distribution is a taxable distribution and is not subject to the ordering rule in section HC 16.

Inadequate records

- (7) If the records of a trust that is not a complying trust do not allow an accurate determination of the elements of a distribution under section HC 16, the distribution is a taxable distribution.

Defined in this Act: amount, associated person, beneficiary income, complying trust, corpus, distribution, foreign superannuation withdrawal, foreign trust, income tax liability, income year, non-complying trust, pay, superannuation fund, taxable distribution, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss HH 6(2)(c), (3), OB 1 “taxable distribution”

Section HC 15 list of defined terms 1990 version provisions: repealed, on 1 April 2010, by section 594 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section HC 15 list of defined terms foreign superannuation withdrawal: inserted, on 1 April 2014, by section 83(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Foreign Superannuation, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 4).

HC 16 Ordering rule for distributions from non-complying and foreign trusts

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of the trust rules when a trustee of a non-complying trust or a foreign trust makes a distribution in an income year to a beneficiary. Subsections (6) and (7) override this subsection.

Order of elements of distribution

- (2) The distribution is treated as consisting of the following elements in the following order:
- (a) first, an amount of income that the trustee derives in the income year:
 - (b) second, an amount of income, other than beneficiary income, that the trustee has derived in an earlier income year:
 - (c) third, an amount that the trustee derives in the income year from the realisation of a capital asset of the trust or another capital gain:
 - (d) fourth, an amount that the trustee has derived in an earlier income year from the realisation of a capital asset of the trust or another capital gain:
 - (e) last, the corpus of the trust.

Order and elements

- (3) In subsection (2),—
- (a) an amount must not be treated as included in the distribution if the amount has been treated under this section as being included in an earlier or contemporaneous distribution from the trust;
 - (b) the paragraphs are applied in order, and the next paragraph applies only to the extent to which the amount of the distribution is more than the cumulative amounts described in that paragraph and the preceding paragraphs.

Deductions and capital losses subtracted

- (4) For the purposes of subsection (2),—
- (a) in paragraphs (a) and (b), the amount of income is determined after subtracting the amount of a deduction that is taken into account in the income year in the calculation of net or taxable income for the corresponding tax year;
 - (b) in paragraphs (c) and (d), the amount is determined after subtracting the amount of a capital loss that the trustee incurs in the income year.

Transactions that are not genuine

- (5) In the determination of the elements of a distribution to a beneficiary (beneficiary A), no amount of income or capital gain derived by the trustee of the trust is treated as distributed to another beneficiary of the trust (beneficiary B) if the effect is that some or all of the distribution to beneficiary A would be treated as not being a taxable distribution, unless the distribution to beneficiary B meets all the following requirements:
- (a) it is a genuine transaction entered into and carried out in good faith; and
 - (b) it places the amount beyond the possession and control of the trustee in their capacity as trustee; and
 - (c) it does not itself constitute a settlement.

Exclusions: terms of trust

- (6) This section does not apply to the following distributions which are instead treated as consisting of the amount that reflects the terms of the trust or the terms of the exercise of the trustee's discretion:
- (a) a distribution by the trustee of a complying trust which is treated as exempt income under section CW 53 (Distributions from complying trusts), unless an election to pay income tax on trustee income has been made for the purposes of section HZ 2 (Trusts that may become complying trusts); or
 - (b) a distribution from a non-discretionary trust—
 - (i) created by will or codicil, or by an order of court varying or modifying the provisions of a will or codicil; or

- (ii) created on an intestacy or partial intestacy; or
- (iii) on which no settlement has been made after 17 December 1987;
or
- (c) a distribution from a trust other than a non-complying trust that is settled by a natural person who makes an election under section HC 30(2).

Exclusions: taxable distributions

- (7) This section does not apply to a distribution described in section HC 15(6).

Meaning of non-discretionary trust

- (8) In this section, a non-discretionary trust is a trust in relation to which the trustee has no discretion as to the source, nature, and amount of distributions to beneficiaries, including but not limited to the classification of trust property as capital or income.

Defined in this Act: amount, beneficiary income, complying trust, corpus, deduction, distribution, exempt income, foreign trust, income, income tax, income year, net income, New Zealand resident, non-complying trust, non-discretionary trust, settlement, tax year, taxable distribution, taxable income, trust rules, trustee, trustee income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HH 6(1), (2), (4)

Tax treatment of amounts that beneficiaries derive from trusts

HC 17 Amounts derived as beneficiary income

Non-minor beneficiaries

- (1) An amount that a person derives in an income year as beneficiary income is income of the person under section CV 13(a) (Amounts derived from trusts), except to the extent to which it is beneficiary income to which section HC 35 applies.

Minor beneficiaries

- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to beneficiary income derived by a minor. The beneficiary income is excluded income of the minor, and treated as trustee income under sections CX 58 (Amounts derived by minors from trusts) and HC 35.

Defined in this Act: amount, beneficiary income, excluded income, income year, minor, trustee income

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss HH 3(1), HH 3A(1)(b)

HC 18 Taxable distributions from foreign trusts

An amount that a person derives in an income year as a taxable distribution from a foreign trust is income of the person under section CV 13(c) (Amounts derived from trusts).

Defined in this Act: amount, foreign trust, income, income year, taxable distribution

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HH 3(1)

Section HC 18: amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 2 November 2012 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 82(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

HC 19 Taxable distributions from non-complying trusts

Excluded income

- (1) An amount that a person derives in an income year as a taxable distribution from a non-complying trust is excluded income of the person under section CX 59 (Taxable distributions from non-complying trusts).

Relationship with other provisions

- (2) Despite subsection (1), section BF 1(b) (Other obligations) applies to impose income tax on the amount of the taxable distribution. Section HC 22 may apply to reduce the amount of the taxable distribution, and section HC 34 sets the rate of tax for the purposes of section BF 1(b).

Defined in this Act: amount, excluded income, income tax, income year, non-complying trust, taxable distribution

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HH 3(1), (4)

HC 20 Distributions from complying trusts

An amount that a person derives in an income year is exempt income of the person under section CW 53 (Distributions from complying trusts) if—

- (a) the amount is a distribution from a complying trust other than a community trust; and
- (b) the amount is not beneficiary income.

Defined in this Act: amount, beneficiary income, community trust, complying trust, distribution, exempt income, income year

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HH 3(5)

HC 21 Distributions from community trusts

What this section applies to

- (1) This section applies when a community trust distributes an amount other than beneficiary income to a person.

Exclusion

- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to the extent to which the amount represents—
 - (a) income derived by the trustee in or before the 2003–04 income year;
 - (b) corpus of the trust;
 - (c) a capital gain of the trust;
 - (d) a distribution, settlement, or dividend made or paid to the trust in the 2004–05 or 2005–06 income year on the winding up of a trust or company, if—

- (i) the community trust provided the corpus of the trust and the trust would have been run for charitable purposes but for the distribution, settlement, or dividend:
- (ii) the company is wholly-owned by the community trust and would have been established and run exclusively for charitable purposes but for the distribution, settlement, or dividend.

Income

- (3) Despite sections HC 15 and HC 20, the amount is income of the person under section CV 14 (Distributions from community trusts).

Defined in this Act: amount, beneficiary income, charitable purpose, community trust, company, corpus, distribution, dividend, income, income year, pay, settlement, trustee, trustee income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HH 3(5A)

Section HC 21(3): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 263(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

HC 22 Use of tax losses to reduce taxable distributions from non-complying trusts

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies in an income year when a person—
- (a) has, for the corresponding tax year, a tax loss component or loss balance to which sections IA 2 to IA 10 (which relate to the use of tax losses) apply; and
 - (b) derives a taxable distribution from a non-complying trust to which section HC 19 applies.

Reducing taxable distribution

- (2) The person may reduce the amount of the taxable distribution by an amount calculated using the formula—

$$\text{tax loss} \times \text{tax rate} \div \text{distribution rate.}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (3) In the formula,—
- (a) tax loss is the amount of a tax loss component or loss balance that the person chooses to use:
 - (b) tax rate is the basic rate of income tax set out in schedule 1, part A, clause 3 (Basic tax rates: income tax, ESCT, RSCT, RWT, and attributed fringe benefits):
 - (c) distribution rate is the basic rate of income tax set out in schedule 1, part A, clause 4.

Loss no longer available

- (4) If a person takes an amount of a tax loss or a loss balance into account under this section, the amount cannot be subtracted from their net income for the corresponding tax year for the purposes of section IA 2(2) (Tax losses).

Defined in this Act: amount, income tax, income year, loss balance, net income, non-complying trust, tax loss, tax loss component, tax year, taxable distribution

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HH 3(4)

Section HC 22(3)(b): amended, on 1 April 2008, by section 562 of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

HC 23 Temporary absences of beneficiaries*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) a person who is a beneficiary of a trust and who is resident in New Zealand stops being resident; and
 - (b) within a period of 5 years from the date of the end of their residence, they become resident in New Zealand again.

Income derived during the period

- (2) The person is treated as deriving income under section CV 15 (Amounts derived from trusts while person absent from New Zealand) to the extent to which they would have been treated as deriving an amount of beneficiary income or a taxable distribution from a foreign trust or a non-complying trust if they had remained in New Zealand for the period of their absence.

Allocation

- (3) The amount is treated as derived on the day on which the person becomes resident in New Zealand again.

Defined in this Act: amount, beneficiary income, foreign trust, income, non-complying trust, resident in New Zealand, taxable distribution

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HH 3(3)

Tax treatment of trustee incomeHC 24 Trustees' obligationsLiability as individual for trustee income*

- (1) A trustee must satisfy the income tax liability for their taxable income as if they were an individual beneficially entitled to the trustee income.

No tax credits

- (2) In determining the income tax liability, the trustee is not entitled to have a tax credit under subparts LC and LD (which relate to tax credits for natural persons and for certain gifts).

Beneficiary income of minors

- (3) Section HC 35 applies to treat beneficiary income derived by a minor as if it were trustee income.

Calculating trustees' deductions

- (4) Section DV 9(2) (Trusts) applies for the purposes of calculating a trustee's deductions.

Superannuation funds

- (5) Sections CX 40, and DV 1 to DV 4 (which relate to superannuation funds) override this section.

Defined in this Act: beneficiary income, cash basis person, deduction, income tax liability, minor, tax credit, taxable income, trustee, trustee income

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss DV 9(2), HH 4(1), (2)

Section HC 24(2) heading: replaced (with effect on 1 April 2009), on 2 November 2012 (applying for the 2009–10 and later income years), by section 83(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

Section HC 24(2): replaced (with effect on 1 April 2009), on 2 November 2012 (applying for the 2009–10 and later income years), by section 83(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

HC 25 Foreign-sourced amounts: non-resident trustees

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a non-resident trustee derives, as trustee income, in an income year a foreign-sourced amount that would be assessable income if derived by a person resident in New Zealand.

Trustee income

- (2) Despite section BD 1(4)(a), (b), and (5)(c) (Income, exempt income, excluded income, non-residents' foreign-sourced income, and assessable income), the amount is assessable income of the trustee if, at any time in the income year,—
- (a) a settlor of the trust is a New Zealand resident who is not a transitional resident; or
 - (b) the trust is a superannuation fund; or
 - (c) the trust is a testamentary trust or an inter vivos trust, of which—
 - (i) a trustee is resident in New Zealand; and
 - (ii) a settlor died resident in New Zealand (whether or not they died in the income year).

First exception

- (3) Subsection (2) does not apply if—
- (a) the trustee is resident outside New Zealand at all times in the income year; and

- (b) no settlement has been made on the trust after 17 December 1987 and, if an election has been made under section HZ 2 (Trusts that may become complying trusts), the election has not been made by the trustee.

Second exception

- (4) Subsection (2) does not apply if—
 - (a) the trustee is resident outside New Zealand at all times in the income year; and
 - (b) when a settlement has been made on the trust after 17 December 1987, it was made only by a settlor who is not resident in New Zealand—
 - (i) at the date of the settlement; and
 - (ii) at any time between 17 December 1987 and the date of settlement.

Extent to which subsections (3) and (4) apply

- (5) Subsections (3) and (4) do not—
 - (a) affect a settlor's income tax liability under the trust rules:
 - (b) apply to determine whether the tax obligations in relation to the trustee's income tax liability are met for the purposes of section HC 10(1)(a)(ii) and meeting the requirements for a complying trust.

Treatment of non-resident trustee in other provisions

- (6) For the purpose only of calculating the taxable income of a trustee referred to in subsection (2), and not otherwise, the trustee is treated as resident in New Zealand for the purposes of—
 - (a) sections EW 9 and EW 11 (which relate to financial arrangements):
 - (b) section LJ 2 (Tax credits for foreign income tax):
 - (c) section OE 1 (General rules for persons with branch equivalent tax accounts):
 - (d) the international tax rules.

Defined in this Act: amount, assessable income, complying trust, foreign-sourced amount, income, income tax liability, income year, international tax rules, New Zealand, New Zealand resident, non-resident, resident in New Zealand, settlement, settlor, superannuation fund, taxable income, transitional resident, trust rules, trustee

Section HC 25(6)(c): replaced, on 1 July 2012 (applying for income years beginning on or after that date), by section 75(1) of the Taxation (International Investment and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 34).

Section HC 25(1): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 2 November 2012 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 84(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Returns Filing, and Remedial Matters) Act 2012 (2012 No 88).

HC 26 Foreign-sourced amounts: resident trustees

Exempt income

- (1) A foreign-sourced amount that a New Zealand resident trustee derives in an income year is exempt income under section CW 54 (Foreign-sourced amounts derived by trustees) if—
- (a) no settlor of the trust is at any time in the income year a New Zealand resident who is not a transitional resident; and
 - (b) the trust is not—
 - (i) a superannuation fund; or
 - (ii) a testamentary trust or an inter vivos trust of which a settlor died resident in New Zealand (whether or not they died in the income year); and
 - (c) for a foreign trust for which a resident trustee applies for registration within the period (the application period) given by section 59C of the Tax Administration Act 1994 and that is registered by the end of the income year (the post-deadline year) beginning next after the end of the application period,—
 - (i) the trust has a trust deed; and
 - (ii) the income year ends after the day on which the Taxation (Business Tax, Exchange of Information, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 receives the Royal assent; and
 - (iii) for an income year that includes part of the application period or is the post-deadline year, the trust is registered before the end of the post-deadline year and is not deregistered before the foreign-sourced amount is derived; and
 - (iv) for an income year beginning after the end of the post-deadline year, the trust is registered when the foreign-sourced amount is derived; and
 - (v) the trustee complies with the requirements under sections 22, 59B, 59C, and 59D of the Tax Administration Act 1994 that the trustee must meet during the income year; and
 - (d) for a foreign trust to which paragraph (c) does not apply,—
 - (i) the trust has a trust deed; and
 - (ii) the trust is registered at the beginning of the income year; and
 - (iii) the trust is registered when the foreign-sourced amount is derived; and
 - (iv) the trustee complies with the requirements under sections 22, 59B, 59C, and 59D of the Tax Administration Act 1994 that the trustee must meet during the income year.

Time for compliance with requirements

- (1B) For a trustee to satisfy subsection (1)(c)(v) or (d)(iv) for an income year, the trustee must—
- (a) comply in the income year with the requirements referred to in the subparagraph:
 - (b) satisfy the Commissioner that the trustee made reasonable efforts in the income year to comply with the requirements referred to in the subparagraph and corrected the failure to comply within a reasonable period of time after the trustee became aware of the failure.

Settlors and their liabilities

HC 27 Who is a settlor?

When this section applies

[Repealed]

(1) [Repealed]

Meaning of settlor

(2) A settlor of a trust is a person who, at any time,—

(a) transfers value—

(i) to the trust; or

(ii) for the benefit of the trust; or

(iii) on terms of the trust;

(b) provides financial assistance to the trust or for the benefit of the trust with an obligation to pay on demand, and the right to demand is not exercised or is deferred;

(c) is treated as a settlor under section HC 28.

Trusts for retirement benefits for employees

(3) Despite subsection (2), a person resident in New Zealand who makes a settlement on a trust as an employer for the benefit of 1 or more employees is not a settlor of the trust if the following circumstances apply:

(a) the trust is established or created mainly to provide retirement benefits to natural persons; and

(b) the trust is neither a foreign superannuation scheme nor a superannuation fund.

Employee share purchase agreements

(3B) Despite subsection (2), an employer is not a settlor for the purposes of the trust rules in relation to a payment made by them to the trustee of an employee share purchase agreement if—

(a) some or all of the payment is used by the trustee to acquire shares under the terms of the employee share purchase agreement; and

(b) an amount that is less than or equal to the payment used by the trustee would be income of an employee under section CE 1(1)(d) (Amounts derived in connection with employment).

Contributions to foreign superannuation scheme

(3C) Despite subsection (2), a person who makes a contribution to a trust that is a foreign superannuation scheme is not a settlor of the trust.

Indirect settlement

- (4) A person may make the transfer or provision in subsection (2) directly or indirectly, or by 1 transaction or a number of transactions, whether connected or otherwise.

Nil value of beneficiary relationship

- (5) The fact that a person is, or will become, a beneficiary of a trust does not constitute the giving or receiving of value.

Defined in this Act: amount, assessable income, Commissioner, employee, employer, foreign superannuation scheme, income, pay, resident in New Zealand, settlor, share, share purchase agreement, superannuation fund, transfer of value, trust rules, trustee

HC 28 Activities treated as those of settlor

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of the trust rules to describe certain activities of a person that result in the person being treated as a settlor.

Avoidance

- (2) A person is treated as a settlor if, in relation to a trust,—
 - (a) they act, refrain from acting, or enter into a transaction or a series of transactions; and
 - (b) what is done or not done has the effect of defeating the intent and application of the trust rules.

Shareholders in controlled foreign companies

- (3) A person is treated as a settlor of a trust if a controlled foreign company (CFC) settles an amount on a trust, and the person has a control interest of 10% or more in the CFC.

Shareholders in companies

- (4) A person is treated as a settlor of a trust if—
 - (a) a company settles an amount on the trust; and
 - (b) the company would have been a CFC at the date of settlement if it had been a foreign company at the time; and
 - (c) the person would be treated as having a control interest of 10% or more in the company, if the company had been a foreign company.

Second trusts

- (5) A person is treated as a settlor of a trust (the sub-trust) if—
 - (a) they are a settlor of a trust (the head-trust); and
 - (b) a trustee of the head-trust settles an amount on the subtrust, or makes a distribution to, or on terms of the subtrust.

Control over trustee or settlor

- (6) A person is treated as a settlor of a trust if—
 - (a) they acquire, directly or indirectly, rights or powers in relation to a trustee or a settlor of the trust; and

- (b) the acquisition has the purpose or effect of enabling them to require the trustee to treat them, or a nominee, as a beneficiary of the trust.

Defined in this Act: amount, business, CFC, company, control interest, distribution, foreign company, nominee, settlement, settlor, shareholder, trust rules, trustee

HC 29 Settlers’ liability to income tax

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies to a person who makes a settlement to or for the benefit of a trust after 17 December 1987, and the settlor is resident in New Zealand in an income year. It applies whether or not they settled property on the trust on or before that date. Subsections (3) and (4) override this subsection.

Liable as agent

- (2) If a trustee of the trust derives trustee income in the income year, the settlor is liable as agent of the trustee for income tax payable by the trustee. For a trust with more than 1 settlor, the liability is joint and several. However, this subsection does not apply to income tax that the trustee is liable for as agent under section HC 32.

Exclusion: resident trustee

- (3) This section does not apply if the trust has a resident trustee for the full income year or, if the first settlement on the terms of the trust is made during the income year, from the day on which the settlement is made to the end of the income year.

Exclusion: trust types

- (4) This section does not apply to the settlor of—
- (a) a charitable trust; or
 - (b) a superannuation fund; or
 - (c) a trust to the extent to which trustee income is derived from the settlor’s remitting an amount under a financial arrangement to which section EW 31 or EZ 38 (which relate to base price adjustments) applies.

Exclusion: settlor not resident at time of settlement

- (5) This section does not apply if the settlor is a natural person who, unless they make an election under section HC 33,—
- (a) is not resident in New Zealand at the time of any settlement on the trust; and
 - (b) had not after 17 December 1987 previously been resident in New Zealand.

Exclusion: other settlor more appropriately liable

- (6) This section does not apply to the extent to which the settlor establishes, through full disclosure to the Commissioner of the settlements made, that another person who has settled property on the trust should be liable, having regard to the respective settlements made.

Limited effect of disclosure

- (7) Subsection (6) does not apply to determine whether the tax obligations in relation to the trustee's income tax liability are met for the purposes of section HC 10(1)(a) and (ab) and meeting the requirements for a complying trust.

Defined in this Act: agent, amount, charitable trust, Commissioner, complying trust, financial arrangement, income tax, income tax liability, income year, pay, resident in New Zealand, settlement, settlor, superannuation fund, trustee, trustee income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HH 4(4), (5)

Section HC 29(7): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008 and applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), on 24 February 2016, by section 187(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Treatment of transition situations

HC 30 Treatment of foreign trusts when settlor becomes resident

What this section applies to

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of section HC 15 and the definition of taxable distribution when—
- (a) a settlor of a trust is a natural person who on a day (the transition date)—
- (i) becomes resident in New Zealand and is not a transitional resident;
- (ii) stops being a transitional resident and continues to be a New Zealand resident; and
- (b) the trust would be a foreign trust in relation to a distribution if a distribution were made immediately before the settlor became resident.

Choosing to satisfy tax liability

- (2) A settlor, trustee, or beneficiary of the trust may choose to satisfy the income tax liability of the trustee under section HC 33. They must make the election by the election expiry date.

Tax consequences of making election

- (3) If an election under subsection (2) is made, the trust is treated as follows:
- (a) as a foreign trust to the extent to which the distribution consists of an amount derived by the trustee before the date of the election;
- (b) as a complying trust to the extent to which the distribution consists of an amount derived by the trustee on or after the date on which the election is made, if the requirements of section HC 10(1)(a) are met for the trustee income derived after the date of the election:

- (c) as a non-complying trust if the election is made but the requirements of section HC 10(1)(a) are not met, for any distribution not within paragraph (a).

Tax consequences when no election made

- (4) If an election under subsection (2) is not made, the trust is treated as follows:
- (a) as a foreign trust to the extent to which the distribution consists of an amount derived by the trustee before the election expiry date:
- (b) as a non-complying trust to the extent to which a distribution consists of an amount derived by the trustee on or after the election expiry date.

Election expiry date

- (5) In this section, the election expiry date is the day that is the first anniversary of the transition date.

Calculating income derived before election or election expiry date

- (6) For the purposes of subsections (3) and (4), the amount derived in the part of the income year before the person makes the election, or before the election expiry date, as applicable, is at the option of the person either—
- (a) the amount actually derived in the part year; or
- (b) an amount calculated using the formula—

$$\frac{\text{amount derived in income year of election}}{\times \text{days before election date or election expiry date}} \div 365.$$

Defined in this Act: amount, complying trust, distribution, election expiry date, foreign trust, income tax liability, income year, non-complying trust, resident in New Zealand, settlor, taxable distribution, transitional resident, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HH 2

Section HC 30(4)(a): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 30 June 2014, by section 123 of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Valuation of property, trading stock, and financial arrangements

HC 31 When existing trusts come into tax base

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies if, through a change in circumstances, an amount derived by a trustee of a trust on a day in an income year is assessable income when it would not have been assessable income had it been derived before that day. Examples of a change in circumstances are—
- (a) a non-resident settlor becomes resident in New Zealand, see section HC 30.
- (b) [Repealed]

When this section does not apply

- (1B) This section does not apply if the relevant change in circumstances is a charitable trust failing to meet the requirements to derive exempt income under section CW 41 or CW 42 (which relate to charities). Instead, see sections HR 11 and HR 12 (which relate to non-exempt charities).

Person able to make choice

- (2) The choice given in subsections (3) and (4) is to be made by the person who is liable to satisfy the income tax liability of the trustee.

Establishing cost of trust property

- (3) For the purposes of this Act, the cost of premises, plant, equipment, and trading stock of the trust at the date of the change in circumstances is either—
- (a) the historical cost of the property or trading stock less accumulated depreciation loss, or other value, no higher than market value, that the trustee used at that date for income tax purposes in a country or territory in which the trustee is liable to pay income tax on trustee income; or
 - (b) the value that would be used at that date under this Act, calculated as if the trustee income derived by the trustee had always been assessable income.

Consideration for financial arrangements

- (4) For the purposes of this Act, the consideration for a financial arrangement of the trust at the date of the change in circumstances is either—
- (a) the market value of the financial arrangement on that date; or
 - (b) the value calculated using the formula—
$$\begin{aligned} &\text{consideration paid to person} + \text{expenditure} \\ &- \text{consideration paid by person} - \text{income.} \end{aligned}$$

Definition of items in formula

- (5) In the formula,—
- (a) consideration paid to person is the consideration that is paid to the person before the date:
 - (b) expenditure is the expenditure that would have been incurred under the financial arrangements rules before the date:
 - (c) consideration paid by person is the consideration that is paid by the person before the date:
 - (d) income is the income that would have been derived under the financial arrangements rules before the date.

Non-resident passive income

- (6) For the purposes of subsections (1) and (3)(b), assessable income does not include an amount derived only as non-resident passive income.

Defined in this Act: amount, assessable income, business, charitable trust, consideration, depreciation loss, financial arrangement, financial arrangements rules, income, income tax, income tax liability, income year, non-resident, non-resident passive income, pay, resident in New Zealand, settlor, trading stock, trustee, trustee income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HH 5

Section HC 31(1)(a): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 29 August 2011 (applying for the 2008–09 and later income years), by section 140(1) of the Taxation (Tax Administration and Remedial Matters) Act 2011 (2011 No 63).

Section HC 31(1)(b): repealed (with effect on 14 April 2014), on 30 June 2014, by section 124(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section HC 31(1B) heading: inserted (with effect on 14 April 2014), on 30 June 2014, by section 124(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section HC 31(1B): inserted (with effect on 14 April 2014), on 30 June 2014, by section 124(2) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Rate and payment of income taxHC 32 Liability of trustee as agentWhen this section applies*

- (1) This section applies in an income year when a beneficiary of a trust derives an amount of beneficiary income or a taxable distribution.

Exclusion

- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to a person who derives an amount from a community trust.

Agency

- (3) In their capacity as agent, the trustee must satisfy the income tax liability of the beneficiary for their beneficiary income and taxable distributions derived.

Relationship to other provisions

- (4) Section HD 4(b) (Treatment of principals) overrides this section.

Defined in this Act: agent, amount, beneficiary income, community trust, income tax liability, income year, taxable distribution, trustee

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss HH 3(2), HK 3(1A)

Section HC 32(2): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 265(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

HC 33 Choosing to satisfy income tax liability of trustee*Election to satisfy tax liability*

- (1) A person who is a trustee, settlor, or beneficiary of a trust as described in subsection (2) may choose to satisfy the income tax liability of the trustee of the trust as described in subsection (2).

Trustee treated as making election

- (1B) A trustee is treated as making an election under subsection (1), ignoring the requirement in subsection (4), if—
- (a) for the period beginning at the start of the income year in which a settlement is first made on the trust and ending before the date on which the trust ceases to be a complying trust as described in paragraph (b), the trust is a complying trust under section HC 10(1)(a); and
 - (b) the trust ceases to be a complying trust under section HC 10(1)(a) because the trust does not meet the requirement in section HC 10(1)(a)(i); and
 - (c) the trustee indicates that the trust is a complying trust in the return of income for each income year ending after the trust ceases to be a complying trust, as described in paragraph (b), and before the distribution referred to in section HC 10(1).

Liability of person making election

- (2) The person making the election—
- (a) must satisfy the income tax liability that the trustee would have if the trust had a New Zealand resident as settlor and the trustee were a New Zealand resident; and
 - (b) is not required to satisfy the income tax liability of the beneficiary that the trustee must satisfy as agent under section HC 32.

Application of election

- (3) The election under subsection (1) applies—
- (a) for the purposes of section HC 30(3), from the date that it is made;
 - (b) for the purposes of sections HC 10(1)(ab) and HC 29(5), for an election arising under subsection (1B), on and after the start of the income year in which the trust ceases to be a complying trust, as described in subsection (1B)(b), and ending on the date of the distribution referred to in section HC 10(1).

Time of providing election

- (4) The person must notify the Commissioner of an election under subsection (1) within the time allowed for filing a return of income for the income year. If section HC 30 applies, they must give notification by the election expiry date.

Defined in this Act: agent, Commissioner, complying trust, distribution, election expiry date, income tax, income tax liability, income year, New Zealand resident, notify, pay, return of income, settlor, trustee

Section HC 33 list of defined terms distribution: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 24 February 2016, by section 188(5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

Section HC 33 list of defined terms New Zealand resident: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 24 February 2016, by section 188(5) of the Taxation (Annual Rates for 2015–16, Research and Development, and Remedial Matters) Act 2016 (2016 No 1).

HC 34 Taxable distributions from non-complying trusts

Rate of tax

- (1) Income tax is imposed on a taxable distribution derived by a person in an income year from a non-complying trust under section BF 1(b) (Other obligations) at the basic rate set out in schedule 1, part A, clause 4 (Basic tax rates: income tax, ESCT, RSCT, RWT, and attributed fringe benefits).

Due date

- (2) The income tax is payable on the person's payment date for terminal tax under section RA 13 (Payment dates for terminal tax) for the corresponding tax year.

Defined in this Act: income tax, income year, non-complying trust, pay, taxable distribution, terminal tax

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HH 3(4)

Section HC 34(1): amended, on 1 April 2008, by section 562 of the Taxation (Business Taxation and Remedial Matters) Act 2007 (2007 No 109).

HC 35 Beneficiary income of minors

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when a person who is a minor derives an amount of beneficiary income from a trust in an income year. Subsection (4) and sections HC 36 and HC 37 override this subsection.

Treatment of amount derived

- (2) The amount is—

- (a) excluded income of the minor under section CX 58 (Amounts derived by minors from trusts):
- (b) treated as trustee income for the purposes of determining the rate of tax that applies, who pays the relevant tax, and who provides the return of income.

Meaning of minor

- (3) For the purposes of this section, and sections HC 36, HC 37, LE 4, and LF 2 (which relate to the treatment of tax credits of beneficiary minors), a minor is a natural person resident in New Zealand who is under 16 years of age on the trust's balance date for the income year.

Exclusions

- (4) This section does not apply—
 - (a) if the total amount of beneficiary income that the minor derives from the trust in the income year is $1,000 or less; or
 - (b) to beneficiary income derived—
 - (i) from a trust settled in the way described in section HC 36:
 - (ii) from a testamentary trust described in section HC 37:
 - (iii) from a Maori authority:
 - (iv) directly from a group investment fund:
 - (v) by a person for whom a child disability allowance is paid under the Social Security Act 1964.

Relationship with other provisions

- (5) This section overrides sections HC 5, HC 18 to HC 20, HC 22, HC 23, and HC 32.

Defined in this Act: amount, beneficiary income, excluded income, group investment fund, income year, Maori authority, minor, pay, resident in New Zealand, return of income, settlement, trustee, trustee income

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss HH 3A–HH 3C, HH 3E, HH 3F(2), (2A)

Section HC 35(4)(a): amended (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 266(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

HC 36 Trusts and minor beneficiary rule

Trusts excluded from application of minor beneficiary rule

- (1) Section HC 35(2) does not apply to an amount of beneficiary income derived by a minor if all settlements on the trust were made by—
 - (a) a person who is neither a relative or a guardian of the minor, nor a person associated with a relative or a guardian; or
 - (b) a person who is a relative, guardian, or a person associated with a relative or guardian, if—

- (i) the settlor is acting as agent of the minor and has received the property from a person other than a relative, guardian, or their associate:
- (ii) the settlor is required by a court order to pay damages or compensation to the minor:
- (iii) the minor is a protected person, as defined in section 2 of the Domestic Violence Act 1995, in relation to a protection order, and the settlement, whether made jointly with another person or not, is made before the protection order is made or during the time the order is in force.

When some settlements do not meet requirements

- (2) Subsection (3) applies when more than 1 settlement is made on a trust, and 1 or more but not all settlements meet the requirements of subsection (1) or section HC 37(1).

Small additional settlements permitted

- (3) Section HC 35(2) does not apply to an amount of beneficiary income derived by a minor if the only settlements that do not meet the requirements are made through—
 - (a) the disposal for less than market value of property whose total value is no more than $5,000 at the end of the trust's income year, valuing each settlement at the date of settlement; or
 - (b) providing financial assistance for less than market value in the form of a loan whose total value is no more than $1,000 on any day in the trust's income year.

Exclusion if significant services provided to trust

- (4) Subsection (3) does not apply if services are provided to the trust by a relative, guardian, or associated person, unless those services are incidental to the operation of the trust. Examples of incidental services are bookkeeping, accounting, or trustee services.

Some definitions

- (5) In this section,—
 - associated person or person associated does not include a person associated only under sections YB 4 and YB 5 (which relate to relatives who are treated as associated persons)
 - financial assistance may include assistance through a loan, guarantee, security, or in another way, and financial assistance is treated as having been provided to, or for the benefit of, a trust for less than market value if—
 - (a) the assistance is provided at below market rates; or
 - (b) an amount payable for the assistance is payable on demand and the right to demand is not exercised or is deferred

guardian has the meaning set out in section 15 of the Care of Children Act 2004, and persons are connected by guardianship if 1 is the guardian of the other, but guardian does not include a guardian appointed under—

- (a) section 110(1)(a) to (d) of the Oranga Tamariki Act 1989; or
- (b) section 31 of the Care of Children Act 2004; or
- (c) section 53 of the Public Trust Office Act 1957 by a court order; or
- (d) section 7(4) of the Adoption Act 1955

relative means a person referred to in paragraph (a) of the definition of relative in section YA 1 (Definitions) extended to include being in a marriage, civil union, or de facto relationship with a person connected to the other through adoption, as described in paragraph (a)(iv), or guardianship.

Defined in this Act: agent, amount, associated person, beneficiary income, financial assistance, guardian, income year, loan, minor, pay, relative, settlement, settlor

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss HH 3C(1)(a)–(d), (2), (3), HH 3D, HH 3F(1), (2A)–(4)

Section HC 36(5) associated person or person associated: substituted, on 1 April 2010 (applying for the 2010–11 and later income years), by section 267(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section HC 36(5) guardian paragraph (a): amended, on 14 July 2017, by section 149 of the Children, Young Persons, and Their Families (Oranga Tamariki) Legislation Act 2017 (2017 No 31).

Section HC 36(5) relative: amended, on 1 April 2010 (applying for the 2010–11 and later income years), by section 267(2) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

HC 37 Testamentary trusts and minor beneficiary rule

Testamentary trusts not subject to minor beneficiary rule

- (1) Section HC 35(2) does not apply to an amount of beneficiary income derived by a minor if all the settlements on the trust were made under a will, codicil, intestacy, or court variation and—
 - (a) the minor is alive within 12 months of the date of the settlor’s death; or
 - (b) the minor has a brother, sister, half-brother, or half-sister alive within 12 months of the date of the settlor’s death.

Small additional settlements permitted

- (2) Section HC 36(3) may apply to extend the application of this exemption.

Defined in this Act: amount, beneficiary income, minor, settlement, settlor

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HH 3C(1)(e)

Introductory provisions

HD 1 What this subpart does

When this subpart applies

- (1) This subpart sets out the circumstances in which a person is treated for the purposes of this Act and the Tax Administration Act 1994 as an agent of another person in relation to the tax obligations of that other person.

Provisions relating to agents

- (2) The following provisions in other subparts of this Act set up certain agency relationships for income tax purposes, or provide certain tax consequences and requirements of an agency relationship:
- (a) section EY 49(5) (Non-resident life insurer becoming resident):
 - (b) sections FM 34(2) (Nominated companies):
 - (c) sections FN 6(3) (Nominated companies):
 - (d) section HA 8 (Shareholders' personal liability):
 - (e) section HC 29(3) (Settlors' liability to income tax):
 - (f) section HC 32 (Liability of trustee as agent):
 - (g) section LB 2 (Tax credits for provisional tax payments):
 - (h) section RA 9 (Treatment of amounts withheld as received):
 - (i) sections RE 4, RE 5, and RE 7 to RE 9 (which relate to requirements for agents or trustees to pay RWT):
 - (j) section RE 22 (When payment treated as non-resident passive income):
 - (k) section RF 4 (Non-resident passive income received by agents and others):
 - (l) section YA 1 (Definitions), the definition of offered or entered into in New Zealand.

Defined in this Act: agent, income tax, offered or entered into in New Zealand, tax
Compare: 2004 No 35 s HK 1(1)

HD 2 Joint liability of principal and agent for tax obligations

A principal and an agent are jointly and severally liable for the tax obligations relating to the agency, and the Commissioner may issue an assessment for the same tax to both an agent and their principal. The liability of 1 remains despite an assessment of the other.

Defined in this Act: agent, assessment, Commissioner, tax
Compare: 2004 No 35 ss HK 3(2), HK 7(1)

HD 3 Agents' duties and liabilities

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of sections HD 8 to HD 27 in relation to all income derived by a principal through an agent.

Assessments, returns, and payment of tax

- (2) The agent must—
- (a) make the assessments that their principal is required to make; and
 - (b) provide all returns required of their principal under the Tax Administration Act 1994; and

(c) satisfy their principal's income tax liability.

Joint and several liability

- (3) If 2 or more persons are liable as agents in relation to the same tax, the liability is joint and several.

Agent as separate person

- (4) The agent is treated in that capacity as a separate person, and may claim in relation to the agency income only those tax credits or exemptions to which the principal is entitled.

Defined in this Act: agent, assessment, income, income tax liability, return of income, tax, tax credit
Compare: 2004 No 35 ss HK 1, HK 3(3), HK 7(1)

Section HD 3(1): amended, on 21 February 2017, by section 81(1) of the Taxation (Business Tax, Exchange of Information, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 3).

Section HD 3 list of defined terms business: repealed, on 21 February 2017, by section 81(2) of the Taxation (Business Tax, Exchange of Information, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 3).

Section HD 3 list of defined terms New Zealand: repealed, on 21 February 2017, by section 81(2) of the Taxation (Business Tax, Exchange of Information, and Remedial Matters) Act 2017 (2017 No 3).

HD 4 Treatment of principals

Despite section HD 3,—

- (a) a principal remains liable for their tax obligations, and is not released from them merely through the existence of the agency; and
- (b) if the Commissioner agrees, the principal and the agent may decide that the principal is to undertake the duties set out in section HD 3(2).

Defined in this Act: agent, Commissioner, tax
Compare: 2004 No 35 s HK 3(1), (1A)

HD 5 Matters between principals and agents

Assessment as authority

- (1) The Commissioner's assessment is, as between principal and agent, sufficient authority for the payment of tax by the agent.

Recovering payment

- (2) On paying tax, an agent is entitled to be reimbursed by the principal, and may—
- (a) recover the amount from the principal; or
- (b) subtract the amount from money held by the agent that belongs or is payable to the principal.

Retaining funds

- (3) For the purposes of paying tax in relation to which an agent is or may become liable, the agent may retain from money that belongs or is payable to the principal an amount that is reasonably sufficient to pay the tax. This subsection applies at a time in an income year in which the tax is due or in a later income year.

Hardship

- (4) The Commissioner may set a new due date for an agent to pay a tax liability if—
- (a) the agent—
 - (i) is unable to pay the tax liability out of money that the agent holds that belongs to the principal; and
 - (ii) has not paid away an amount after being assessed in relation to the agency; and
 - (b) the enforcement of payment would cause hardship to the agent.

Defined in this Act: agent, amount, assessment, Commissioner, income year, pay, tax

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss HK 4–HK 6, HK 7(2)

HD 6 When relationship effectively that of principal and agent

If a person who is carrying on business in New Zealand is sufficiently under the control of another person in business, whether in New Zealand or elsewhere, so that the relationship between them is effectively that of principal and agent, the Commissioner may treat the first business as the principal's business carried on by the agent on behalf of the principal.

Defined in this Act: agent, business, Commissioner, New Zealand

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HK 8

Section HD 6 list of defined terms control: repealed, on 1 April 2010, by section 594 of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

HD 7 Rate and amount of tax

The rate of tax used to calculate an agent's income tax liability is determined by reference to the taxable income of the principal. The amount of income tax payable is the amount determined by the amount of agency income as a proportion of the taxable income of the principal.

Defined in this Act: agent, amount, income tax, income tax liability, pay, taxable income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HK 2

Particular cases

HD 8 Circumstances giving rise to agency

For the purposes of this Act and the Tax Administration Act 1994, a person is treated as an agent in relation to the income of another person to the extent described in the circumstances set out in sections HD 9 to HD 15.

Defined in this Act: agent, income

HD 9 Guardians

A person (person A) is treated as an agent of another person (person B) if, as guardian, manager, or otherwise, person A receives, controls, or disposes of income that person B derives while under a legal disability.

Defined in this Act: agent, income

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HK 9

HD 10 Mortgagees in possession

A person (person A) is treated as an agent of another person (person B) if, as mortgagee in possession of land or other property, person A derives income from the land or property on behalf or for the benefit of person B as mortgagor.

Defined in this Act: agent, income, land

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HK 10

HD 11 Nominated companies

Consolidated groups

- (1) A nominated company is treated under section FM 34(2) (Nominated companies) as the agent of a consolidated group, and of each company that is at the time a member of that group.

Imputation groups

- (2) A nominated company is treated under section FN 6(3) (Nominated companies) as the agent of an imputation group, and of each company that is at the time a member of that group.

Defined in this Act: agent, company, consolidated group, imputation group, nominated company

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss FD 6(1), FDA 5(3)

HD 12 Trusts

Beneficiary income and taxable distributions

- (1) If a beneficiary of a trust, other than a beneficiary of a community trust, derives an amount of beneficiary income or taxable distribution in a tax year, the trustee of the trust is treated under section HC 32 (Liability of trustee as agent) as the agent of the beneficiary.

Settlors

- (2) If a trustee of a trust, other than a charitable trust, derives trustee income in a tax year, and a settlor of the trust is resident in New Zealand in the tax year, the settlor is treated under section HC 29 (Settlors' liability to income tax) as the agent of the trustee for income tax payable by the trustee (but not for income tax that the trustee is liable for as agent).

Defined in this Act: agent, amount, beneficiary income, charitable trust, community trust, income tax, pay, resident in New Zealand, settlor, tax year, taxable distribution, trustee, trustee income

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss HH 3(2), HH 3A(2), HH 4(4)

HD 13 Unit trusts

A trustee of a unit trust is treated as an agent of the unit trust in relation to income derived by the unit trust.

Defined in this Act: agent, income, trustee, unit trust

Compare: 2004 No 35 s HE 1

HD 14 Companies issuing debentures

Agency

- (1) A company is treated as an agent of a person if—
 - (a) the company has issued a debenture; and
 - (b) the person, as a debenture holder, derives income from the debenture.

Excluded debentures

- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to a debenture if—
 - (a) it is a profit-related debenture to which section FA 2 (Recharacterisation of certain debentures) applies or a stapled debt security to which section FA 2B (Stapled debt securities) applies; or
 - (b) it is issued to a New Zealand resident, and the company provides the Commissioner with a certified list containing particulars of the debentures, the name and details of each person to whom a debenture has been issued, and details of the interest payments before an assessment is made in a tax year of the debenture holder.

Liability of persons named

- (3) A person named as a debenture holder in the list referred to in subsection (2)(b) is liable for income tax on income derived from the debenture. Subsection (4) overrides this subsection.

Continuing liability until notification

- (4) Despite section BB 2 (Main obligations), if a debenture holder disposes of a debenture, they remain liable for income tax unless they notify the Commissioner of the disposal before an assessment is made in a tax year that takes into account the income derived from the debentures. On notification, the subsequent holder is liable in relation to the debentures, and the liability of the transferor is ended.

Recovery of tax paid

- (5) If a person who formerly held a debenture pays income tax on taxable income that takes into account income derived by a subsequent holder, the income tax is treated as paid on behalf of the subsequent holder to the extent of the liability of the subsequent holder, and the person may recover that amount from them.

Matters not taken into account

- (6) For the purposes of subsection (1), it does not matter whether the debenture is charged on the company's property, nor whether a debenture holder is an absentee.

Defined in this Act: absentee, agent, assessment, Commissioner, company, debenture, debenture holder, income, income tax, interest, New Zealand resident, notify, pay, profit-related debenture, stapled debt security, tax, tax year, taxable income

Compare: 2004 No 35 ss HK 12, HK 13

Section HD 14(2)(a): substituted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 268(1) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

Section HD 14(2)(a): amended, on 1 April 2015 (not applying, for an income year, to a debenture that a person is party to, if the debenture is issued under an arrangement entered into before 22 November 2013; and a binding ruling on the application of section FA 2(5) was issued to the person in relation to the arrangement; and the binding ruling would continue to apply but for the repeal of the substituting debenture rule by the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (the Act); and for the whole of the income year, the total amount and the term of all debentures issued under the arrangement are not more than those disclosed in the application for the binding ruling; and the person makes an irrevocable election in writing, received by the Commissioner on or before 31 July 2014, that the repeal of the substituting debenture rule in the Act does not apply to their debenture), by section 125(1) of the Taxation (Annual Rates, Employee Allowances, and Remedial Matters) Act 2014 (2014 No 39).

Section HD 14 list of defined terms stapled debt security: inserted (with effect on 1 April 2008), on 6 October 2009, by section 268(2) of the Taxation (International Taxation, Life Insurance, and Remedial Matters) Act 2009 (2009 No 34).

HD 15 Asset stripping of companies*When this section applies*

- (1) This section applies when—
- (a) an arrangement has been entered into in relation to a company; and
 - (b) an effect of the arrangement is that the company cannot meet a tax liability (the tax obligation) whether existing at the time of the arrangement or arising after that time, for—
 - (i) income tax;
 - (ii) a civil penalty, as defined in section 3(1) of the Tax Administration Act 1994;
 - (iii) an amount payable under Part 7 of that Act; and
 - (c) it is reasonable to conclude that—
 - (i) a purpose of the arrangement is to have the effect described in paragraph (b); and
 - (ii) if a director of the company at the time of the arrangement made reasonable inquiries, they could have anticipated at the time that the income tax liability would, or would likely, be required to be met.

When this section does not apply

- (2) This section does not apply to an arrangement if—
- (a) the Commissioner is a party to the arrangement;
 - (b) the tax obligation is no more than an amount of income tax that arises as a direct result of the performance of the arrangement, and that obligation has been met;
 - (c) at the time of the arrangement, the company was under statutory management under the Reserve Bank of New Zealand Act 1989 or the Corporations (Investigation and Management) Act 1989.

Director's liability

- (3) All persons who are directors of the company at the time the arrangement is entered into are treated as agents of the company in relation to the tax obligation, and the liability is joint and several. But a director has no liability if—
- (a) they do not derive a benefit from the arrangement, and at the first reasonable opportunity after becoming aware of the arrangement, or the aspects of the arrangement that cause this section to apply to it, they record formally their dissent in relation to the arrangement with the company and with the Commissioner; or
 - (b) they were not at the relevant time involved in the executive management of the company and had no knowledge of the arrangement, or the aspects of the arrangement that cause this section to apply to it.

Shareholder's liability

- (4) A person who is a controlling shareholder or an interested shareholder at the time of the arrangement is treated as an agent of the company in relation to the tax obligation other than penalties and interest but, despite section HD 3(2), the liability is limited to the greater of—
- (a) the market value of the person's direct and indirect shareholding in the company at the time of the arrangement; and
 - (b) the value of the benefit that the person derives from the arrangement.

Shareholder's liability for penalties and interest

- (5) A person who is a controlling shareholder or an interested shareholder at the time of the arrangement is treated as an agent of the company in relation to penalties and interest in proportion to their liability for the tax obligation under subsection (4).

Company liquidations

- (6) In order to give effect to this section, if a company has been liquidated, the Commissioner may at any time after the liquidation make an assessment of a company for an income tax liability of the company as if it had not been liquidated. The time bar applies, but this subsection overrides other provisions in this Act and the Tax Administration Act 1994.

Agents for purposes of notification or objection procedures

- (7) In making an assessment under subsection (6), the Commissioner must nominate 1 or more persons as having the tax obligation set out in the assessment. The nominated person or persons are treated as agents of the company in relation to any notification or objection procedure concerning the assessment.

When liability does not arise

- (8) No liability arises under this section for a tax year in relation to which—
- (a) a company has provided returns within the time allowed by section 37 of the Tax Administration Act 1994 for providing returns for the tax year in which the company is liquidated; and
 - (b) the Commissioner has not issued a notice of assessment of the company for the tax year before the end of 4 years following the end of the tax year in which the company is liquidated.

Some definitions

- (9) In this section,—

controlling shareholder, for a company, means—

- (a) a person whose voting interest or market value interest in the company at the time of the arrangement, together with any interests of an associated person, is 50% or more; and
- (b) if the person or associated person is a company, the voting interest or market value interest of the person or associated person is calculated as if they were not a company and as if sections YC 4 (Look-through rule for corporate shareholders) and YC 6 (Disregarding certain securities) did not apply director means,—

- (a) a person who occupies the position of director, whether or not the position has that title;
- (b) for an entity that is treated as a company under this Act, a person who acts in the same or similar way as a director would if the entity were a company incorporated in New Zealand under the Companies Act 1993 interested shareholder means a person who, at the time the arrangement is entered into, has a voting interest or market value interest in the company, calculated in either case if the person is a company as if the person were not a company, and because of the size of the benefit that the person derives from the arrangement, it is reasonable to conclude that the person is a party to the arrangement penalties and interest means a civil penalty or amount payable under Part 7 of the Tax Administration Act 1994 that is part of the tax obligation.

Defined in this Act: agent, amount, arrangement, assessment, associated person, Commissioner, company, controlling shareholder, director, income tax, income tax liability, interested shareholder, liquidation, market value, market value interest, New Zealand, notice, notify, penalties and interest, return of income, tax, tax year, time bar, voting interest

HD 16 Non-resident general insurers

When this section applies

- (1) This section applies when an insurer derives income under section CR 3 (Income of non-resident general insurer) to determine who is liable to provide a return of income and pay income tax on the income.

Insurer

- (2) To the extent to which the insurer provides the return and pays the income tax, no other person described in this section is liable to do so.

Person acting on insurer's behalf

- (3) To the extent to which a person on behalf of the insurer, including a broker or other agent who pays a premium on behalf of another person, provides the return and pays the income tax, no agent described in any of subsections (4) to (6) is liable to do so.

Agent paying premium or providing funds

- (4) The person liable in the first place as an agent is—
